There has been a kind of "lull" in local politics, during the past week. It's to our advantage to keep these boys throwing their hats in the ring. Everytime we land a new candidate Dick slips us a bright, new dime, so you can see why we are so mercenary. One dime is not much, but a hundred dimes will buy a ten dollar bill, and if this drouth keeps progressing we may have a hundred candidates before the day set for final filing.

The national picture is far from encouraging. Truman may run again. Taft figures he should be elected simply because his dad was president one time. Eisenhower is not paying much attention to the campaign, and Warren lives so far west we can't hear his murmers. Stassen is milling around a little, and he might get the nomination and the election too. He hails from one of the best fishing sections in America, and to save us we can't see why a man would give up a good fishing hole, just to be president of these United States.

Fishing is real pleasure; being president is an awful "grind." And the sad thing is a good man on a creek bank is very apt to stay good, while if he moves to Washington he will likely get his morals slightly tainted.

Texas had a vice-president once, but when Washington got to smelling like a glue factory he quit and came home. He finds poker "playing" more profitable and pleasant than "playing" politics. And so far as we are concerned, the man may have had something. He took his bourbon straight, while in Washington the popular drink is vanilla-fizzlers, spiked with T.N.T. After one drink, if it doesn't knock your head completely off, you are so calloused and hard, you can steal the quarters out of a "dead man's eyes" and never flinch.

Politicians are not all crooks, for a few of them show signs of honesty and intelligence. Yet the gangs they "train" with force them to do things that might be described as un-American.

Politics is a habit, rather than an item. Some are good and some are bad. These "party lines" amount to much less than the average man thinks. The main difference between a Democrat and a Republican is the name. They are both patronized by good American citizens, and both are needed. With a one-party system we would be in a class with Russia, but with two we are safe. One party keeps the other toeing the mark. When it leaves the line, voters call in the other party and tell them to take over.

What do Republicans stand for? Identically the same thing — just like choosing up sides for a town ball game. Everybody is for his side, and rightfully so. But that does not mean he hates all the players on the opposing team—they are good fellows, too.

We are looking forward to the day when the best boys on both sides of our political parties, will join hands and clean out Washington. When the job is over, let them go on back to their own party and play ball again, just as though nothing had happened. That's putting Americanism before party-ism. Praise be.

So Called Rain Makers Do Not Make Rain, But Increase Fall, Is Statement Made By Hubbard

A group of farmers, ranchers and other interested parties, estimated at between 250 and 300, gathered in the high school auditorium Friday night to hear an address by Ford Hubbard, who discussed what might be termed "artificial" rain.

It seems that very few individuals know anything about this particular science, which is comparatively new in this section. In the North and East, it has gained considerable prominence.

Mr. Ford stated that at this time his company, in Houston has under contract the entire state of New Mexico, and large sections in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Contrary to the views held by most people, the company does not "make it rain." Only the Creator can do this. But after study and many experiments it has been found, he says, that rainfall may be increased.

Normally, rain clouds do not drop more than one per cent of their water, and then "rain men" enter the scene. Through chemical devices they "milk" the clouds and cause additional water to fall. Quite often, it is said, additional rain does fall. In plain English,

Sabrejet Crashes Near Ft. Worth; Pilot Killed

Fort Worth, Feb. 23—(UP)—An F-84 Sabrejet fighter crashed and disintegrated near here late last night, killing the pilot.

The pilot's name was withheld until next of kin were notified. The Sabrejet smashed into bits in a plowed field less than 12 miles from the end of its 1,400 journey from Patrick Air Force Base at Coco, Florida, to Carswell Air Force Base Northwest of here.

The pilot's body was clear of the wreckage and an opened parachute, ripped loose from the body, was lying about 25 feet away.

The crash occurred just 200 yards from U. S. Highway 81, on the farm of W. R. Ross.

WTCC BLASTS FEDERAL FUND GIVING FOR TEXAS HIGHWAYS

ABILENE, Feb. 22 — With string attached, the Federal government "granted" Texans this fiscal year two-thirds of the road money they paid in taxes to the U. S. treasury, according to an article that appeared recently in the Austin American - Statesman that is reproduced in the last issue of West Texas Today, the magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The Editor's Notebook" in the Austin newspaper contained the following:

"Several weeks ago the Texas Highway Department announced that the federal government has 'granted' Texas $26,681,000 for highway aid in the coming fiscal year.

"The state's program, including $15 million direct appropriation for lateral roads, regular state gasoline-tax supported work, and federal matching, runs a little over $100 million a year.

"But the point is that the federal government takes a great deal more than any $26 million out of Texas in road-use and motor vehicle taxes every year, and thus the state gets back a lot less than it contributes in taxes designed to support the highway program.

"Texas fared well in the generous federal 'grants,' with only New York getting more refunds of the money collected from citizens of a state.

"But the federal money comes back with a lot of strings. For one thing, no matter what the state's needs, nor its local road financing program, it is limited to $14,305,046 for construction of primary highways. It is required by a federal fiat to limit secondary and feeder roads to $9,577,321; and it is graciously permitted to ask the government to apply $2,799,612 to expressways and urban projects.

"To get any item of the federal grants, Texas must prepare plans according to federal specifications, award contracts and supervise construction, all subject to federal approval.

"The allotment itself was made in proportion to area, population and mileage of postal roads, miles.

UNDER THE AGREEMENT U. S. WOULD UNFREEZE DOLLAR AID

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 23—(UP)—The United States agreed today to help France fulfill a rearmament program which calls for 12 army divisions by the end of this year.

Under the agreement, the United States will unfreeze sufficient dollar aid already allocated to France, it was understood.

The agreement, which came after three days of argument, cleared the way for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council to approve an experts' report calling for about 50 divisions and more than 3,500 tactical war planes in Western Europe by the year end.

France said that unless additional American aid was given, it would have to scale down its rearmament goal to 10 divisions.

France originally intended to raise 14 divisions, and today's agreement constituted a compromise.

The French delegation to the N.A.T.O. conference said that if 12 divisions were raised the country would need $1,580,000,000 more than it could raise by taxation. If a goal of 12 divisions was set France would need $570,000,000 the delegation said. They asked the United States to release immediately more than $430,000,000 already allocated to France but not yet spent.

The American delegation said it could not do this because Congress had earmarked most of the allotted aid funds for specific purposes.

The French then raised their estimate of the amount they could raise by taxation and the American delegation promised to make plans for the immediate expenditure in France, directly and indirectly, of enough dollars to permit the rearmament program to be fulfilled.

Congress earmarked $600,000,000 in aid of France in November, but less than $200,000,000 has been spent. The French wanted the remaining $400,000,000 released.

Today's agreement came after Secretary of State Dean Acheson personally joined top American and French Cabinet Ministers in the aid negotiations.

Mrs. Carothers Will Head Local Red Cross Drive

Mrs. Jack Carothers has been named chairman for the annual Red Cross Roll Call, for the Eastland area.

The drive will be conducted between March 1 and 15.

The 1952 quota for Eastland is a little larger than it was last year, it is said, due to the heavy expenditures of the Red Cross in the spring floods in Kansas, and in the Korean War.

Complete organization of the 1952 drive was expected to be drafted over the weekend.

Garrison Commends Cut In Truck Overloads; Self-Policing Plan Reduces Weight Violations 85%

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., today expressed appreciation of an 85 per cent reduction in violations of the overloading law by Texas truck operators.

The Department of Public Safety director attributed greater law observance to co-operation on the part of Texas Motor Transportation Association, whose members last year set in motion an industry "self-policing" program.

"We appreciate the co-operation given by Mr. W. W. Callahan, chairman, and the other members of T.M.T.A. Policy Committee, in encouraging those in the trucking business to comply with the State's laws," Garrison said in a letter to Col. James E. Taylor, executive director of T.M.T.A., "and progress has been made."

Callan, a Waco truck operator, is chairman of the T.M.T.A. committee which is in charge of the self-policing program.

Taylor expressed gratification at the vast improvement in law observance on the part of truck operators. Speaking for the motor transportation industry, he pledged continued efforts, not only to promote compliance with the weight law, but to encourage good courtesy and safety practices on the highways, and generally to give Texans the best possible kind of truck service.

Reports of the Department of Public Safety were quoted by Garrison to show how the motor carriers were improving their law observance record. He noted that:

During the period September 1 through December 31, 1950 there were 4,309 trucks found to be guilty of overloading out of a total of 40,157 inspected. For the same period in 1951 there were only 992 trucks in violation out of 63,322 inspected.

Percentage-wise, 10.7 per cent of the trucks inspected during the last quarter of 1950 were in violation of the load limit, while for the corresponding period last year (after T.M.T.A.'s "self-policing" program was initiated) the number of violators was only 1.6 per cent of all vehicles inspected. This is an 85 per cent reduction in the number of violations.

Stassen Invited To Testify About Howard McGrath

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—A House Judiciary Subcommittee investigating the Justice Department today invited Harold E. Stassen to submit any "credible evidence" that Attorney General J. Howard McGrath has become a millionaire while in public office.

Chairman Frank L. Chelf (D-Ky.) and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), senior GOP member of the subcommittee, telegraphed the invitation to Stassen, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Cal.), another member of the group, also asked Stassen for whatever information he has about McGrath's financial status.

Stassen told a Republican rally in Rochester, Minn., last night that the subcommittee should call McGrath, put him under oath, and thoroughly investigate his finances. The former Minnesota governor, now on leave as president of the University of Pennsylvania, said that officers of many police departments, including those in New York, Philadelphia and other cities, are required to show their source of income. "We ought to make the same thing apply to the chief enforcement officers of the United States," Stassen said, "particularly in an administration which has been shown to be shot through with corruption."

Reds Protest Koje Camp Riot Slaying Of 69

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Feb. 23 (UP)— Communist negotiators yielded to the Allies on troop rotation today, but injected a new issue into the truce talks with a bitter protest against the "massacre" of 69 Reds in the Koje Internment Camp.

Despite the agreement on troop rotation in the truce supervision meeting, the delegations still were divided on the number of ports through which the rotation would take place. The allies demanded six ports and the Communists refused to go above five.

Texas Firefighter Has Wild Gasser Under His Control

RENOVO, Pa., Feb. 23 (UP)—One brief operation remained today to tame the mammoth, unpredictable McGuire natural gas well, which flared into flame twice and defied experts for six days.

IRAQ (called Mesopotamia before World War I) is a land of strange paradoxes. It is a land of incredible wealth (oil and agriculture), but also a land of object poverty. Most of its 5,000,000 inhabitants are Moslems, many of them are roving herdsmen. Ancient Iraq is the cradle land of our Bible, between the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, and land of the Garden of Eden, but in the family of nations it is a comparative youngster. Carved from the Turkish empire after World War I, it was mandated to Britain in 1920. The present kingdom was established in 1921. It remained under mandate until 1932, when it became independent under King Feisal I. The present king, Feisal II, born in 1935, has been ruler in name (under regency of an uncle) since he was four. During World War II, Nazi intrigue threatened to get control of the country and the British occupied it to forestall the Germans. Our GI's remember Iraq as incredibly hot and dry, a nation of strange customs and many diseases, with its mosques and its women "off limits." They went there to help defend the strategic "land bridge" between Europe and Asia and keep open the Persian Gulf "back door" to our then-allies Russia. Now, Britain is responsible for keeping Iraq free of Soviet aggression, but in the wave of nationalism sweeping the Arab nations, Iraq, too, has recently given out rumblings that it wants to shake free of British influence. The world's eighth largest oil producer at its Mosul and Kirkuk fields, Iraq stands in greatest need of harnessing its rivers for power, irrigation and flood control.

"BIRDMAN" OF THE FUTURE—Marine Sgt. Daniel Murphy of Pittsburgh, Pa., shows the Navy's "hoppi-copter," a one-man helicopter which it is hoped will some day enable a fully-armed man to get about the battlefield more quickly. Engine and gas tank are strapped onto the Marine's back; his legs are the landing and takeoff "gear." Performance details of the flying machine are secret, but Navy spokesmen said this model did lift a man and hover over a field as early as 1947.

"Based on the state's collection of gasoline taxes, the federal government took more than $37 million out of the state in gasoline sales tax levies alone; besides which it collected a lot of taxes on motor vehicles, tires, tubes, automobile accessories and parts. Texas will get back probably two-thirds the amount it paid, and that with strings attached.

"This is a perfect example of the type of thing the voters of Texas and the United States ought to wipe out next year, and they ought to be mighty sure that the votes they cast will be effective in that direction.

"It is no generous boon and benevolent grant to give back to Texas half the money taken away from it in road-use taxes.

"It is no benefit to Texas to support a horde of federal bureaucrats out of the money taken away from motorists in the form of federal taxes.

"It is no compliment to the intelligence of Texas road-builders, highway planners and construction supervisors to require them to come into some federal agency for approval on every phase of projects in which the state puts up money, in order to get federal matching from the money turned back to the state.

"Texas has a highway commission and department which have spent more than a billion dollars. Except for one politically-animated administration, this program has been administered without criticism or complaint, and the Texas highway program now for many years has been the emblem of efficient, honest administration and supervision.

"The point now is why should Texas be taxed $13 million to $15 million this year for the doubtful privilege of federal "approval" of its highway work. Why should a 50 per cent tribute in the name of bureaucracy be imposed, and then Texas be called upon to acknowledge in humble appreciation the generous "grant" by the federal government of only a part of the money taken away from its citizens for the ostensible purposes of highway construction?

"Federal "grants" with similar strings attached, and in almost every instance with the same factor of giving back a whole lot less than taken away from Texas taxpayers, run into other phases of governmental projects and operation.

New Color Tones Add Zest To Men's Spring Hat Styles

Color goes to your head this Spring in the most dashing array of shades you've ever seen. Brown, Cocoa, Mocha and toasty-toned straws are sparked with high-colored bands of paisley, shantung, India Madras, batik, tartan and Indo print.

There's no dearth of selection this Spring—for shapes are varied as the colors. It's for you to select the one that compliments your style and manner. There are telescope crowns with big pugs, milans with center crease crowns, narrow brims and tapered crowns.

But the spotlight shines on the tyrolean shape. This season it's set off with a braided pugree—in color! Who could ask for a hat with a more jaunty air.

And if the sailor straw is your favorite—it's back again and still going strong.

News for the outdoor man. Even the popular kepi-styled caps has a new angle. For those who like the sun, there's the shallow, round crown with a short visor. For those who prefer the shade, there's the deep-crowned kepi with an extended visor. And for casual wear, there's the tartan cotton cap.

Back in the fashion picture for men is the cap. Latest versions of this old favorite come in tweed, linen or cotton. The cap is light-wearing, stays on the head easily and packs neatly for vacation. Round-crown caps with generous-length visors dot the beaches as excellent sun protectors.

Never have men's hats been designed in a greater variety of styles, nor a more imaginative parade of colors! There's one that was just made for you.

A Good Crop Rotation Insures Against Total Crop Loss

Crop rotation, the systematic growing of a regular succession of different crops on the land, is one of the basic tools for keeping the soil productive and improving it.

In a good rotation, one crop, or series of crops, helps the next crop. For example, nitrogen—needed for plant growth—is added to the soil by legumes such as clover and alfalfa. These plants have the power to take nitrogen out of the air and through their roots store it in the soil. The nitrogen is available for growth by plants that do not have the power to fix nitrogen, such as corn, cotton, and potatoes.

A good crop rotation insures against total crop loss in any one year, replenishes organic matter, reduces erosion losses and plant diseases, and improves the physical condition of the soil.

Your Soil Conservation Service Technician or County Agent will be glad to help in selecting the best rotation for your land.

200 TB Patients Face Eviction If Base Reopened

WESLACO, Feb. 23 (UP)—South Texans puzzled today over what to do with 200 state tuberculosis patients when Moore Air Force Base is reactivated and "evicts" them in the interest of national defense.

Civic and medical leaders met for a three-hour discussion of the problem yesterday, but came up with no more than suggestions, one of which was for construction of a new state hospital.

Weaver H. Baker Hospital, which now houses the patients, is located on the north section of Moore Field. It has been reported unofficially that the World War II installation will be reactivated to train jet pilots.

Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., (D., Tex.) suggested that federal funds furnished the state for health services be used to establish a new hospital. He said the state has equipment worth about $300,000 which could be put in a new sanitarium.

Bentsen also said the federal government might reimburse the state for $900,000 worth of improvements at the base, and suggested a site be provided by Rio Grande Valley residents.

The executive director of the state board of hospitals and special schools, Larry O. Cox, declined direct comment on Bentsen's proposals. But he said most federal money allotted to Texas for health programs has gone to cities and counties, rather than to state medical services.

J. T. Ellis of Weslaco said in event the Air Force requires Moore Field, an interim hospital could be set up at the farm labor camp here until permanent provisions are made.

The session ended with a resolution asking the Valley Chamber of Commerce to pitch in and help find an answer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Christ Jesus understood that there is one Mind, who is God, and was thus enabled to do God's will, destroying evil of every nature, according to the Lesson-Sermon to be read at Christian Science services next Sunday. The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2): "Be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

The infinitude of Mind, God, is expressed in these words from the Bible (Romans 11:33, 34): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! for who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?" Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says this: "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite. We bury the sense of infinitude, when we admit that, although God is infinite, evil has a place in this infinity, for evil can have no place, when all space is filled with God" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 469).

Liberty Gardens Now Vital To Home Defense Program

Liberty Garden Poster for 1952.

A national Liberty Garden campaign for 1952 was formally launched with government sanction in a statement by Acting Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick, following a meeting of the National Garden and Food Preservation Committee in Washington, D. C.

Mr. McCormick called on all Department of Agriculture agencies to take all feasible steps to carry out a program recommended by the committee, which had met at the call of Secretary Charles F. Brannan. Civilian groups were urged to give full cooperation to the program. While total farm output this year is at a high level, he said food requirements were so high, it is essential that the nation make the best use of all sources of food.

A "blue print" for an expanded program in case of an all-out emergency was drawn up by the committee, and unanimously adopted. This calls for a widespread organization at national, state, county and community levels, to produce food in back yards and other available land areas, as insurance against shortages, to relieve transportation facilities, enlist voluntary labor in food production, and maintain health and morale values. On the local level, the all-out program provides for using all available means to arouse the whole population to the need for gardens, to teach novices how to make gardens, make suitable land available in city, town and suburban areas, plow the land and insure the availability of seed, plant food and equipment.

The Extension service of the department of agriculture will be entrusted with leadership of both the preparedness program, and the all-out program which is to be put into effect without delay in the event of an all-out emergency.

A 1952 Liberty Garden program is needed, the advisory committee decided. "Because a state of National Emergency continues and experience has shown that a garden and home food preservation program is essential to the success of any home defense program."

The name "Liberty Garden Program" was unanimously recommended by the committee and approved by Secretary Brannan, who addressed the committee, and declared it essential to be important in the present emergency. "We do not all understand exactly what kind of an emergency this is," he said. "Nevertheless it is an emergency about which we cannot be complacent. There must be many forms of preparation which are comparable to almost full wartime operations. And though the scope and magnitude and total volume of this operation may not be equal to a full wartime program, nevertheless I am personally convinced that the program is exceedingly important and has already made contributions both in the nutritional field and certainly in the food supply field."

A Safe Hog House

A truly safe individual hog house is something any farmer who ever has been attacked by a vicious sow will appreciate. Such a hog house has been designed for simple construction from durable materials. The hog house is an eight-foot square at the base, tapering on all four sides to a four-foot square at the top. The top opens upwards, enabling the farmer to walk erect through a door on one side. If attacked, escape is easy.

The house is built on three skids or runners. Its low height (3 1/2 feet) and small size conserve the heat from the sow. The entire structure is built by applying asbestos-cement board over a wood framework. Plans for building the safety hog house can be obtained free by writing the Asbestos Farm Service Bureau, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.
