If we were planning a sermon rather than an editorial, we would likely tell you that all things work together for the good of those that love the Lord. And we would be right, for such is truth. Many times things work for good for those who do not love the Lord, but this might be described as a mere sample of His Grace and Lovingkindness. Just a gentle reminder that we seek the better things in this life and that life which is to come.

At the moment we are at peace with the world. Most everything we have worked for has granted—even down to politics. And right here we would say that we might get along better economically and otherwise if our politics might be elevated to a little higher realm.

There is nothing very religious, or maybe we should say, Christ-like, in politics. If there was we would not have 57 varieties of Democrats, and half a dozen or so kinds of Republicans. We think we are a Jeffersonian Democrat, and if he were here today he would likely blush at some of the goings-on. The Civil War is history, whether good or bad, it is history, and has no place in modern day life. Why open a new wound and start the bleeding anew? There is nothing to be gained, and much to be lost. People who are struggling to survive the hectic days we are passing through are not responsible for the errors of their grandfathers, if they made errors, and we presume they did.

We are trying to live today, and these sob stories and funeral dirges seem so uncalled for. We had two grandfathers in that war. Both were of the South. One lived to return and lead a useful life; the other was buried without the aid of flowers or clergy. "War is hell," Sherman was right. So let's try and forget it. Let us live and work together as Americans, and all together for God.

We are not complaining or criticizing—just passing on a thought that might well be heeded by all of us.

Regardless of who is finally chosen President, we will still live together, work together and finally die together. Politics and party affiliations will give us no comfort when we are asked to pass through that valley of the shadow of death. Most of us hope to spend eternity in that home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Mr. Democrat you are going to find Republicans up there, Mr. Republican you must know that your party will not have a monopoly in heaven. Let us strive to get along, one with the other, here, so we may feel more at home when we arrive in the glory land.

We need our two political parties. History teaches us that no one group can or will carry on a dictatorship, and we have to have another party to do house cleaning. Both of our major parties have served as leaders, and both have served as house cleaners. For this reason good men and good women from both parties are joining hands at this time to select a group of house cleaners.

We have stated on many occasions that in all probability we will vote for Gen. Eisenhower. We are not voting for him because he is running under the Republican banner, nor because we feel he is the greatest man of our nation. He, in truth, is not our first choice, but the support will be given because we feel he is one man who can poll enough votes to short-circuit that putrid political machine in Washington that is so desperately in need of a thorough cleaning.

May the Good Lord see that it gets prompt action.

Vacation Jobs For Youngsters Of Concern To Labor Officials

FT. WORTH, May 8—Vacation jobs for minors, already beckoning to boys and girls soon to leave their classrooms, are a matter of concern for Uncle Sam again this year.

Field Office Supervisor Ben W. Ferrell of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage-Hour office here, points out that although having a summer job is worthwhile, the far-reaching effects of an education, which boys and girls should continue when schools re-open in September, "far outweigh the money earned on a summer job."

Both laws restrict the employment of child labor—the first in interstate commerce, and the second on work connected with U. S. government contracts. The accompanying chart tells the story.

Child labor provisions in the Fair Labor Standards Act apply to any employer who employs any minor in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for commerce—and to any producer, manufacturer, or dealer who ships goods or delivers goods for shipment in interstate or foreign commerce. Generally the minimum age for such employment is 16 years; however, there are 10 so-called hazardous types of jobs for which a minimum age of 18 years has been set.

The Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act applies to manufacturers or dealers contracting to make or supply materials valued in excess of $10,000 for the U. S. Government. On such work, the minimum age for boys is 16 years and the minimum age for girls is 18 years.

Mr. Ferrell would also like for youngsters to know about the type of age certificates needed for employment. For employers who wish to protect themselves from unintentional violation of the child labor provisions of these Federal laws will require boys and girls to obtain age certificates before they start to work.

Such age certificates are needed for minors under 18 in general employment and by those who are 18 and 19 if they work in occupations declared to be hazardous. Minor girls of 18 and 19 will need

Little Items Of Local Interest

J. E. Temple Peters of Cisco, who taught school in Eastland in 1897, when Eastland's Schools only had four teachers was one of the delegates Cisco sent to the Eastland County Democratic Convention held in the 91st district court room Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Mr. Peters, a former teacher of Hardin Simmons, when it was just Simmons College of Abilene, said Oscar Lyerla was one of his former pupils, all of which brought forth the remark that Mr. Peters "was certainly a young looking fellow for his age."

New Officials For Local Unit Salvation Army

Officers for the coming year for the Eastland Salvation Army Service Unit were chosen at a meeting at the Christian Church Wednesday. They are as follows: Rev. Otto F. Marshall, chairman; Ray B. McCorkle, secretary; Guy Parker, treasurer. Case workers include a committee composed of Chief-of-police Ray Laney, Clyde Young, Stanley Webb, Carl Johnson, and George Fox.

This group is to care for needy individuals who may from time to time ask aid.

The annual drive for funds is being waged this week and Eastland has been asked to raise $900. One third of this amount remains in the city to be used by the local committee for needy charitable cases. Should a serious emergency arise, additional funds may be obtained from the Dallas office.

When you subscribe to the Salvation Army Fund you are caring for local charity at the same time, and it will be administered by your friends, right here at home. Give, and you'll be happy.

Turks To Tour County Orchards Friday, May 20

Seven Turks will be in Eastland County on Friday, June 20 for an inspection tour of orchards and orchard management practices according to word at the County Agent's office.

J. M. Cooper, County Agricultural Agent has been asked to arrange for an all day orchard tour so that the Turks may learn first hand something about our orchard cover crops, varieties of fruit, thinning, fertilization, cultivation, spraying and marketing.

The group will have their own interpreter and mode of transportation so Cooper has been informed and will be ready to leave from Eastland at 9 o'clock that morning. A tentative itinerary has already been arranged with lunch for the group at Rising Star.

The Turks are all connected in some way with horticultural activities in their native land. Eastland County and other portions of this state are very similar to Turkey in soil and climates it is reported. The group is to spend more than a month in Texas.

Sick Nebraskan Held In Jail For Three Days

SAN ANTONIO, May 8 (UP)—Bexar County Sheriff Owen Kilday is trying to find out why a Nebraskan man was arrested and held in jail three days without medical attention.

The man, 57-year-old James Brinn of Lincoln, Neb., a metallurgist, was arrested by a San Antonio policeman on a city bus after he was found mumbling incoherently.

Brinn is a business representative for the Northwestern Metal Company of Lincoln, Neb.

Kilday says he was released from jail when a private physician examined him and reported Brinn is suffering from exhaustion and overwork. When he was jailed Saturday, he was supposed to be examined by the county health officer but the officer was out of town and Brinn was held in jail until Tuesday.

John Nix Will Not Make Race

To The Voters of Precinct 1: I am sorry to announce that I failed to file my application in time to get my name on the ticket.

I was busy getting the work done on the farm, so I would have time to make the campaign. I did not learn until Tuesday, that Monday was the last day to file.

After I learned that I went to see the County Chairman, and found there was nothing I could do about it.

I wish to thank the people who had assured me of their support. —John H. Nix

Oil Strike Critical; Rationing Possible

Lift On Credit Ban Initiates Buying Spree

The signs are up across the country— "No down payment, months to pay."

And consumers are flocking to stores and showrooms, on a buying spree.

Under the new government order, there is no credit limit on automobiles, television sets, and such things as refrigerators and stoves.

In Atlanta, Georgia, buyers at car lots are offering as little as 100 dollars down payment on late model cars.

One dealer says he signed more orders in the first few hours after the restriction was taken off than he could fill in the "forceable future."

It's the same story in Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles, and other cities and towns across the country. The magic words "no down payment" are drawing shoppers into stores.

Government economists had predicted there wouldn't be any buying spree. But store owners and dealers reported that the government was wrong.

K. of P's Confer Degrees On 7

There are 12 candidates for the rank of Knight, and these will be divided into two classes. The first class will have the rank of Knight conferred on them Tuesday night, May 13.

Grand Lodge will meet at College Station on May 18, and several Eastland Knights plan to attend.

W. W. (Bill) Tackett

Bill Tackett Is Candidate For County Sheriff

W. W. (Bill) Tackett, of Eastland, has requested that we announce to the voters in this county that he is a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Tackett is married and lives with his wife at 605 S. Dixie, in Eastland. He is a veteran of World War II, and spent five years in the service, three of which were in the South Pacific.

At this time and for the past 7 years he has been connected with the Lone Star Gas Company.

Mr. Tackett says that he has never held public office of any kind, but if elected will "endeavor to uphold the law to the very best of his ability." He is 29 years of age and has spent a major portion of his life in this county. He solicits your vote and influence.

Junior High Is Thrilled With High Averages

While Alice Joyce Cushman captured the honor of Class Valedictorian for Junior High, and Janis Little and Patsy Ann Atwood tied for Salutatorian, they will always know that competition of the right kind was close by.

This year's graduating class has an unusual number of excellent students who have high averages. In addition to the honor group the following students have made straight A's all this year: Helen Ruth Flowers, Virginia McCord, Don Smith, Helen Taylor, Billie Jo Trout, Annette Sherman, Leo Stambaugh and George Ann Bennett.

Several others have only one or two B's for the year.

HOSPITAL PERSONALITIES

By Mrs. Samuel Butler

Herbert Thomas Weaver, affectionately known to his friends as Herb, has been in Eastland nine years—he is co-owner, with Mr. Inzer of Eastland Drug Company. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver have two popular children in high school, Herbert Jr., 16, who graduates as salutatorian this year and Jana, 15, is a Junior.

After the mass meeting of the Eastland citizens was called to discuss the possibilities of building a much needed hospital Herb Weaver was one of the first who caught the hi-hope that it would be built. He knew how after helping other volunteer workers build the forms for the foundation and after hours upon hours pouring concrete for the same foundation. He then knew too that it was going to be a long weary job.

It has been eight months and during that time Herb Weaver, who is no amateur in building, having done much of the detail building in his own home, began work

WSB May Send Oil Strike To Mr. Truman

By United Press

The oil situation is critical... and may get even more so.

Defense transport administrator James Knudson says that if the oil strike continues, some form of restriction "on the use of oil products will have to be set up." He says general rationing would take too long to set up, but that the machinery is available to funnel necessary supplies to such essential users as railroads, bus lines and ship.

Only one settlement has been signed so far, between a local of the CIO oil workers and the Rock Island Refining Corporation at Zionsville, Indiana. The 150 workers got an 18-cent hourly wage increase and started back to their jobs. Local spokesmen say they hope the settlement will set a pattern for the industry.

However, the wage board failed to get the rest of the 90,000 oil workers to return to their jobs. Now the board is expected to toss the nine-day-old walkout into President Truman's lap.

The President, himself, is optimistic. He told his weekly news conference that the government is working very hard to get an agreement in the case.

He was asked about the possibility of invoking the Taft-Hartley labor act, but he said the situation has not yet reached that point.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

LAWYERS' DUTY TO PERSONS ACCUSED OF CRIME EXPLAINED.

People often misunderstand the reason a lawyer puts up the fight he does for a client who is accused of a crime. "It might be all right," they say, "if the man were innocent, but why put out so much effort defending him when everyone knows he is guilty?"

The obvious answer is that not everyone knows all the material facts. The accused is not a criminal in any legal sense until, by due process of law and under rules of evidence insuring equal justice, the court and jury arrive at the conclusion that he has committed a crime.

The Canons of Ethics governing the lawyers of Texas say: "It is the right of a member (of the State Bar of Texas) to undertake the defense of a person accused of crime, regardless of his personal opinion as to the guilt of the accused; having undertaken such defense, the member is bound by all fair and honorable means, to present every defense that the law of the land permits, to be and that no person may be deprived of life liberty but by due process of law."

If this were not the case, innocent persons, victims only of suspicious circumstances, might be denied proper defense. Such legal defense is a basic principle of American justice. The rights of the accused to defend himself are nowhere as well guarded as in the British Commonwealth and the United States where government is based on the common law.

In France and other European countries a person accused of a crime is presumed to be guilty. If he is to escape the penalties of the law, he is obliged to prove that he is innocent. But in common law countries an accused person is presumed to be innocent until the state presents enough properly admissible evidence to convince an impartial jury that he is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

In serious cases, if the accused cannot afford to hire his own attorney, the court is required to appoint a lawyer to defend him without charge. The Canons of Ethics require the lawyer to defend such a man with the same vigor and skill as he would an ordinary client.

Corresponding to the Canon government lawyers who defend the accused, there is one for prosecuting attorney—the attorney retained by the government to present its case against the accused. The Canons of Ethics on this point say: "It should be the primary duty of a member engaged in public prosecution not to convict, but to see that justice is done."

How seriously the public, as well as lawyers, considers the rights of defendants accused of crime not only in indignation against government officers who violate these rights, but also against mobs which try to take the law into their own hands. If either officers or mobs can take over the law, then no one is safe and the basis of our type of civilization is gone. The law pertaining to criminal trials were made, not only to protect the rights of the accused, but to protect the rights of all persons.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Featherlite Gets Director, Vice-President

DALLAS — Harvey Hicks Allen, former assistant to the State Highway Engineer, has been named a director and vice president of the Featherlite Corporation, Jack Frost, president, announces.

The firm's plant is at Straun. Alex T. Mickie is executive vice president. The plant produces an expanded shale lightweight aggregate.

Allen, a native of San Angelo, will be in charge of sales, engineering and production.

After graduating at Texas University, Allen started his engineering career as assistant county engineer of Tom Green County. He was later with the Pure Oil Company in Ft. Worth.

Allen interrupted his engineering activities to spend six years as partner and manager of a 40,000-acre ranch in Reagan and Crockett Counties. He then joined the State Highway Department

Parents Told To Be Honest

A Toronto dentist has warned mothers against telling the kiddies how nice it is to go to the dentist.

Dr. Stewart McGregor told the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Dental Society that such advice only makes the child suspicious.

"Some parents are pseudo-psychologists," the dentist says, "and don't use common sense. All they do is transfer their fears to the child."

Eighth Grade Takes Trip Saturday Accompanied By Parents, Teachers

It was a happy group that assembled on the school hill Saturday morning at 6:30. Mothers, fathers, and teachers were on hand with cars to fill. Each car hostess was responsible for five or six boys and girls with lunches and iced drinks. The first stop was at the Chandler Gardens at Weatherford where Mrs. Chandor welcomed the group and they toured these unusual gardens. The early cool of the morning added to the beauty of this spot.

Again they boarded their cars and proceeded to the Public Library at Ft. Worth to visit the Art Gallery there. They were greeted by Mrs. Payne secretary of the Art Association in Ft. Worth, and escorted to the 2nd floor to view paintings, portraits, and displays of the Texas artists.

Then the group went to the Children's Museum where Miss Webb lectured to the girls, and her assistant directed the boys to all the many exhibits there, including the first piano owned in Ft. Worth and a photograph which played cylinder records, made by Edison. A doll collection was popular with the girls as well as the Oriental and South Pacific exhibit. The live animal room and the mounted birds attracted the attention of the boys, as well as a weasel which changed color with the seasons.

Climaxing this tour was a visit to their planetarium where Mr. Vann lectured and demonstrated the most modern manner of studying the astronomy. The darkened dome soon displayed the stars, planets, constellations of all kinds, and finally the sun. From here they went to Forest Park where a picnic lunch was spread with each car group eating together and then a visit to the zoo, and a ride on all the play apparatus furnished recreation for young and old.

The parents and teachers accompanying the fifty five students were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Little, Mrs. Joe Williams, Miss Opal Hearn, and Mesdames: William Bennett, Russell Hill, J. H. Ewalt, Henry Sims, H. H. Hardeman Thomas, and Mrs. Joe Stephen.

They were complimented at each place we visited on the manner in which the boys and girls conducted themselves. It was indeed a pleasure to accompany such a fine group," said the adults. This was not a school project but merely a field trip on our own.

Wildlife Group Blames Congress For Loss Of Soil

The head of the National Wild and Biureucrats are to blame for this years disastrous flood.

Association President Claude Kelley of Atmore, Alabama, says the nation is having floods because, and we quote, "croplands are being over-farmed, grasslands overgrazed and forests are logged too much and burned too often." He goes on to say: — "Melting snow and falling rain run swiftly off land that has lost its natural cover and spongelike humus. The rushing water overflows streams whose channels have been clogged by eroding soil and narrowed by government engineers."

Kelley says the United States needs to reverse its flood control policies—to spend a lot more on the forest service and soil conservation service and realize that dams and levees can't prevent floods.

"They only treat the symptoms after the floods are a fact," he says.

"The real disease is on the land—a disease that is eating at the future of America, and the only possible cure is through soil conservation, reforestation and better farming."

TRAVELING MUSICIANS—The Hardin-Simmons University (Ablene, Tex.) a capella choir, has earned a niche in the music world comparable to that occupied by many professional groups. The choir will travel some 3,000 miles in May to present concerts in five states and 14 towns, including appearances before the Southern Baptist Convention in Miami, Fla., May 16-17. Director of the group is Prof. Euell Porter, chairman of the Hardin-Simmons vice department.

Important new experiments are to be made this year with systox, a new systemic insecticide for killing aphids and two-spotted mites in cotton fields.

Systox, originally discovered in Germany, is made by the Pittsburgh agricultural Chemical Company, and has proved useful in killing aphids and mites on fruits, vegetables, forage crops, flowers and tobacco as well as cotton. It kills insects by attacking their nerves and digestive system.

Household Hint

Here is today's household hint: To freshen stale rolls or bread, sprinkle water on the surface, place in a moderately hot oven, and heat for five to 10 minutes.

FLASHBACK

Sometimes it's a fleeting moment, sometimes week, months and years in the headlines—

Then they drop from sight—For instance, whatever happened to Bill Terry?

In the 1920's Bill Terry came up from Memphis to become one of the greatest first basemen of all time for the New York Giants, later, as manager, he lead the giants to three pennants.

Where is bill Terry now? Terry now has an automobile agency (Buick) in Jacksonville, Florida. He moved to Jacksonville after selling a successful automobile agency in West Memphis, Arkansas. He said at the time: "Kinda thought I'd like the warm breezes."

Flashback—A United Press spotcheck on the people who made yesterday's headlines.

Waleburgers Next On Menu

You've already heard of whale steak. Now get set for waleburgers, which will come to the housewife individually packaged, frozen and needing only the hamburger cooking method to serve.

The idea of the waleburger comes from the Norwegians, who say the meat tastes more like beef than fish.

Waleburgers were not dreamed up to use the less desirable cuts of whale. According to Walter Hecht, New York representative for a fleet of Norwegian whaling ships, one part of a whale is as tender as another and you can get four tons of tenderloin from each fin whale, one of the three edible varieties caught off the coast of Norway.

Site And Date Legion National Meeting Is Set

INDIANAPOLIS—The 1953 National Legion Convention will be held in St. Louis August 31st to September 3rd.

The Legion's convention commission says the sessions of this year's convention, slated for New York City August 24th to the 28th, will be held in Madison Square Garden.

The price to the housewife is expected to be about 90 cents a pound, and if things go as the Norwegians plan, the Whalers expect Americans to be using 10-million pounds a year before very long.

Forecast Rain Fail To Come; Heat To Stay

Widely scattered rains that were forecast for West Texas yesterday failed to materialize and the hot weather continued unabated in the west and the rest of the state.

Weathermen say today will be a continuation of the same. The state forecast calls for continued high temperatures to continue through tomorrow at least, although the Dallas-Fort Worth forecast calls for weather "not quite so warm" for tomorrow. Weathermen again predict a possibility of widely scattered thunderstorms in the Panhandle tonight. They say the possibility of showers may move eastward across the northern part of Texas within the next 24 to 48 hours.

The highest temperature reported in Texas yesterday was 104 degrees at Fresno while the low maximum was 80 degrees at Galveston.

There were no reports of rain or dust, a pleasant condition offering much consolation to farmers in West Texas. Galveston and Brownsville reported the highest minimum during last night with 72 degrees. The coolest place in the state was at Dallhart which had an overnight low of 50 degrees.

Fire Damages Lumber Mill

TEXARKANA, May 8 (UP)—Fire has severely damaged a new mill shed at the Temple Builders Supply Company in Texarkana.

An estimated 50,000 feet of lumber went up in smoke and the fire also damaged a boiler house adjoining the mill and an empty dry kiln. And the mill foreman, F. E. Guthrie, says he is afraid that the mill's machinery has also been destroyed.

The fire is believed to have started in a shavings bin at the rear of the mill.

Senate Passes Mine Safety Law Wednesday

WASHINGTON, May 8 (UP)—The House Labor Committee seems to be in favor of drafting its own mine safety legislation, rather than accepting a bill passed by the Senate yesterday.

The Senate passed by voice vote a bill which would empower the Secretary of Interior to issue safety regulations for coal miners and make sure they are enforced. A mine operator who ignored a notice that a regulation was being violated would be subject to a maximum penalty of two-thousand dollars fine and six months in prison.

A federal inspector, under the Senate bill, could order a mine or an unsafe area closed if he found employees to be in "imminent danger."

A bill drafted by a House Labor Sub-Committee would not be as tough. It would allow closing of the mines only to avoid "imminent disaster" and these are spelled out in the House bill to apply to fire, explosion, flood or specified mechanical failure.

Wage Board Recommends Pay Raise

The Wage Stabilization Board has referred a copper industry labor dispute back to union and company negotiators, with a recommendation for an 11-cent hourly pay increase.

The increase would cover more than 19,000 workers in 10 copper and brass companies in Connecticut, Illinois and Michigan.

The board's action comes more than seven months after President Truman referred the dispute to the board after the threat of a major copper strike.

Wyatt (Buddy) Robertson

Wyatt (Buddy) Robertson, 37, was born in Mill Creek, Okla., March 4, 1915, the son of P. E. and Goldie Arnold Robertson, and died in a Lamesa, Texas, hospital Saturday morning May 3, following injuries sustained in a car crash earlier in the day.

According to investigating officers, he was in no way responsible for the wreck. Three Mexicans, two of whom were killed, were driving in the other car.

Buddy was of the happy, go-lucky type, who was everybody's friend. He never borrowed trouble. He was connected with the Green Hut Cafe in Lamesa for several years, but recently was employed at the Ranch House Cafe, Midland, and it was while driving to Lamesa from Midland to spend the week-end with his wife and three babies, the tragic accident occurred.

He was a graduate from Eastland High School in 1933, and there a number of people here who remember him. His mother passed away when he was small and he lived for a time, with his grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Arnold and Aunt Mrs. Otis Knox in Eastland.

Funeral services were conducted by Pastor Ball of First Baptist Church, Lamesa, who was assisted by two other Baptist ministers.

The floral offering was said to have been one of the most beautiful ever seen in that city. Visitors from many parts of the state were there for the funeral. The Ranch

Cafe at Midland, where he had been employed, closed, and all workers attended the funeral in a body.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Helen Robertson of Lamesa, three children, Linda (Penny), Wayne and Steve, his father, P. E. Robertson of Lubbock, a brother Pete, also of Lubbock, two grandmothers, Mrs. Mattie Arnold of Eastland and Mrs. Cebeil Hays of Ft. Worth, as well as a score of cousins, uncles and aunts. We Will Buy Your 1952 Peanut Production!

Don't let anyone tell you, that you can not sell your excess peanut production. There will be plenty of buyers. Insist on your PMA Committee to furnish you a marketing card for a SPECIFIC number pounds peanuts that can sell at support price, based upon your farm history, and your 1952 allotment. They have this information in their files.

HR 3546, passed by Congress (77th) and approved on April 3rd, 1941, provides for a penalty of 3c per pound upon EXCESS peanut acreage production. Why pay more? There is not any penalty applicable to allotted acreage production. Congress fixed the rate, and no one has authority to change it. If you want to keep some of your excess production for seed and feed, you should have a marketing card where in you could keep your own seed.

The only thing required of the Secretary, is to make available to you growers a support upon your allotted acreage production.

There is no other class of farmers, being abused, like the peanut grower. If your land is only suitable for peanuts; plant them—we will buy them. SEE US FOR YOUR SHELED SEED.

Increased Sale Savings Bonds Expected With New Features

DALLAS, May 7 (UP)—A substantial increase in the sale of United States Defense Bonds is expected as the result of new and more attractive features in these securities, Nathan Adams of Dallas, Defense Bond chairman for Texas, predicted.

Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder announced in Washington Tuesday (April 29) that interest rates on Series E bonds are being raised, that three types of new bonds will be offered, and that two types of old bonds will be discontinued. The changes took effect May 1.

The Series E Defense Bond, the most popular of the savings bonds with the masses, will have a 3 per cent interest rate, with a better return during the earlier years prior to maturity. The limit of these bonds any one person can buy during a year has been raised from $10,000 to $20,000.

The sale of Series F and G bonds is discontinued as of May 1, although persons having bought them prior to that date will be able to retain them.

Three new bonds—Series H, J and K—are substituted for Series F and G.

Series H is a current income bond, and holders of it will receive interest payments semi-annually by Treasury check. The semi-annual yield will vary according to the age of the bond, but the total interest will be at the rate of 3 per cent if held to maturity. Individuals may purchase up to $20,000 worth of Series H annually.

Series J is an appreciation bond, carrying a yield of 2.76 per cent compounded semi-annually if held 12 years to maturity. Issued in several denominations, its purchase price is 72 per cent of maturity value (example: purchase price $18, maturity value $25).

Series K is a current income bond, similar to the old Series G bond. It also will carry a 2.76 per cent interest rate for 12-year holding. It will have a higher yield during the earlier years of its life than did Series G. Interest will be paid semi-annually by Treasury check. It will be issued only in denominations of $500 or more.

Series J and K can be purchased by others than individuals. The annual purchase limit is $200,000 of either or a combination of both. The limit was $100,000 in the case of Series F and G.

of the Treasury Savings Bonds should help sales materially, by increasing their attractiveness to savers and investors," Mr. Adams said.

"When the Series E, F and G bonds were created, the interest rate and their other features were adequate, but with changing times the Treasury needed to 'modernize' its products if it continued offering Savings Bonds to the public. This the Treasury has now done.

"While these new interest rates may add somewhat to the cost of administering the public debt, the increase will be negligible in relation to the deterrent placed on inflation by the gain in sales that now may be expected for Savings Bonds.

"These improvements in the securities of the Savings Bonds program, now called Defense Bonds, continue to give to the American public one of the most practical and feasible thrift programs ever devised. Its importance as a thrift program is made all the more significant in the fact that the Payroll Savings Plan, which gives employees the opportunity of buying Defense Bonds on the time-payment plan where they work, will continue to be available."
