

Shivers To Campaign For Eisenhower

Eastland Telegram AND WEEKLY CHRONICLE

VOLUME TWENTY-FOUR No. 98

EASTLAND, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1952

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag Elected County Chairman Of Red Cross

Mrs. E. E. Freyschlag of Eastland was elected by the board of directors of the Eastland County Chapter of Red Cross to serve as county chairman.

Mrs. Freyschlag has been a Red Cross volunteer worker for many years and is familiar with Red Cross policies. During World War II, she was very active in many phases of Red Cross work in the county.

Under her leadership the directors are now making plans for a more active program of service to the entire county.

The board of directors, the executive committee, and the service chairman and their committees all serve in a voluntary capacity to carry out the responsibilities as delegated by the Congressional Charter.

Their responsibilities are to furnish voluntary aid to sick and wounded in time of war; to act as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and its armed forces; to continue to carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace.

Suggestions For Fire Prevention

Prevent home fires — avoid carelessness.

Never smoke in bed—use safety type ash trays. Smoking is a pleasure—dying is not.

Clean out cellar and attic—tomorrow may be too late.

Replace frayed electric cords—don't overload wire.

Keep matches away from children—preferably in tins.

Use cleaning fluid that will not explode.

Do not hunt gas leaks with matches.

Don't use pennies in back of fuses.

Your house will burn only once, so be careful and do not gamble with fire, for the odds are against you.

Dogies Crush DeLeon Cubs; Score 20 to 0

Coach Brock's Dogies took a game from DeLeon Cubs Thursday night to a tune of 20 to 0 in Eastland's favor. Every boy on the Dogie team saw action. At the close of the 3rd when victory seemed to be assured, the little fellows were given a chance to demonstrate, and they proved themselves capable.

It was a good game well played by members of both teams. "The DeLeon Cubs is composed of a clean, but hard working group, and they really played ball last night," Mr. Brock said.

The Dogies will play a return game at Gorman next Thursday night and most anything may happen. The Dogies are good and they know it, but they also know that the Gorman group is also good. However, if they can win from Gorman next week it seems that the worst they can hope for is 2nd place in the Oilbelt Conference.

On the 28th Eastland goes to Dublin, where Dogies hope for the best. Then on November 13, they are to play the Cisco Midgits in Cisco. This will very likely be the hottest game of the season, for the winner will have won first place in the Oilbelt Conference.

No injuries were reported at last night's game.

Rev. Seymour To Visit Desdemona

Rev. Leslie Seymour of Cisco, Superintendent of the Cisco District, will preach in the Desdemona Methodist Church on Sunday, October 14th at the 11 o'clock hour.

Rev. Seymour is a good preacher, well versed in denominational affairs, and the public, especially Methodists, are invited to hear him.

BEE BAIT — Marjorie Barbera and her friends think it's just too, too sweet that she has been named 'Miss Wild Honey' in Hollywood.

New Car Dealers To Take Voters To Polls Nov. 4

As a public service new car dealers in Eastland will offer free transportation to the polls on election day.

They have undertaken this program because they feel as strongly about the duty and privilege of the ballot as do others, therefore the very generous offer. "We are close enough to the people of Eastland to believe that if we offer free transportation, we'll make this election day a record-breaking one," stated one dealer.

Every car and all personnel will be made available on November 4, to make transportation to the polls a real community service.

The dealers say they have no intention of trying to influence a single man. They want you to vote as you please, but please VOTE.

Dealers cooperating include McGraw Motor Co., Osborne Motor Co., King Motors, Blevins Motor Co., Paul Daniel Motor Co. and Muirhead Motor Co.

Special Picture Be At Majestic

"Lure of the Wilderness," Twentieth Century-Fox's new technical outdoor adventure film photographer in Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp and starring Jean Peters, Jeffrey Hunter, Constantine Smith and Walter Brennan, arrives here at the Majestic Theatre.

Pased on a story by the late Vereen Bell, who gave his life as a Naval officer off the Philippines in 1944, "Lure of the Wilderness" narrates the tale of a young girl forced to live with her fugitive father in the treacherous swamp for eight years and is suddenly faced with the bewilderment of returning to civilization. Almost completely primitive, she is more at ease romping with the alligator-infested swamp with a bow and arrow than facing the outside world. How her father and a young Georgian who falls in love with her bring her back to civilization provides the drama and suspense of the story.

47,000 Men Due To Be Drafted During December

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UP)—The Defense Department Thursday asked Selective Service to draft 47,000 men in December for the Army.

The draft call is the same as for October and November.

The Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force do not intend to place draft calls for December.

Selective Service was requested to deliver the December draft quota in the first two weeks of the month to let a maximum number of Army personnel take advantage of Christmas leave, the department said.

Editor, Leader New Ike Group, Veteran Demo

By GROVER LEE

"We have all supported, loved and labored for the Democratic Party. We still love it and all it truly stands for. We don't want to leave it, and will not leave it, but we are disgusted and have lost confidence in its leadership of today."

Those new words, packed with emotion—and sincerity—came this morning from the lips of deep-voiced, bespectacled Ray B. McCorkle, 64-year-old veteran newspaperman and editor of the Eastland Daily Telegram, who heads Eastland County's newly-formed "Democrats for Eisenhower" group organized at Eastland Wednesday night.

The white-thatched newsman, a life-long Democrat, charged that "the national Democratic party is not controlled by Democrats, but by a group which is trying to change to federalism or socialism—principles entirely unacceptable to those of us who cling to the ideals of the Democratic Party of Thomas Jefferson."

"Demo 'Swaps Horses'" And so McCorkle, like a growing number of Texas party leaders, loyal administration backers who went down the line for two epoch-making decades with Franklin D. Roosevelt, his New Deal and his stormy third and fourth term White House conquests, and President Harry Truman's Fair Deal, has swapped horses.

His daily column, "Around the Square," a front page feature of the Telegram, has been strongly pro-Eisenhower for several months.

And so his election to the chairmanship of the new county "Democrats for Eisenhower" came as no surprise whatever.

McCorkle urges his fellow Democrats to vote a split ticket in the coming Nov. 4 general election. "By law and by principle," he says, "we can vote this way and still be good Democrats."

Split Voting Is Legal "You are not signing your rights away when you support Eisenhower and Nixon," the newspaperman declared. "You have taken no party pledge to support any candidate for national office, rumors notwithstanding."

McCorkle, assisted by vice-chairman Virgil Seaberry, is planning to launch an intensive drive to reach into every Eastland County precinct to "get out the vote" for GOP presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower and his running mate, U. S. Senator Richard Nixon, vice presidential aspirant.

Precinct units of the county "Democrats for Eisenhower" group are due to be set up within the next few days, Chairman McCorkle said.

"The issues are simple," The Telegram editor pointed out. "The Eisenhower-Nixon platform meets with the approval of Texas Democrats while that of Gov. Stevenson and Sparkman does not."

Assails Tideland's Crab "Eisenhower is for Texas ownership of the Tideland while Stevenson declares he'll follow Truman and carry out the Federal government's grab of Texas' oil-rich coastal areas."

McCorkle lashed the "socialistic doctrine" of the present Democratic administration, rapped "extravagance, waste and corruption" in Washington.

"Democrats cannot support a candidate who professes to be in accord with the flagrant Federal steal of our Texas schools' merged oil lands," the Eastland County pro-Eisenhower Democrat declared. "Neither can they support a candidate (referring to Gov. Adlai Stevenson) who bears the stamp of Trumanism, with all that the stamp implies—a foreign policy that brings on, but cannot win, a terrible undeclared war in Korea."

Singing, Dinner On Ground, Set For Next Sunday

The Eastland County Singing Convention will convene at 8 o'clock Saturday night, at the Mangum Baptist Church. There will be singing Saturday night and Sunday, with the Sunday service beginning at 11 a.m.

Many special singers from Eastland and adjoining communities are expected to attend. Quartets expected to be there include Kendrick's Quartet from Cisco, the Girl's Quartet from the Church of God in Eastland, Men's Quartet from Dublin, and the Gospel Airs from Eastland.

Other special singers included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Webb of Cisco, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gray of DeLeon, and Judge R. L. Rust of Eastland.

This is a Gospel Singing and everyone is invited to attend. All Eastland residents are requested to bring a basket for Sunday noon.

Pemberton Gets Two Years For Graham Slaying

GRAHAM, Tex., Oct. 10 (UP)—A 90th district court jury Friday found John Pemberton, 59, guilty of murdering Carl Matchen, 60-year-old Young county farmer last May 13 and recommended he be sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The defense counsel, attorneys Tom M. Miller of Graham and A. E. Zellers of Weatherford, announced they would appeal the case and filed a motion for a new trial.

The case went to the jury Thursday. At 10:40 p.m. the jury reported it had not reached a verdict and it was locked up for the night.

The jury reconvened at 9 a.m. Friday.

Pemberton testified he shot Carl Matchen, 60, in self defense after Matchen "picked on me" and dared him to fight on five different occasions.

Matchen died the day after he was shot.

Testimony by prosecution witnesses was that Pemberton entered Frankie and Johnny's Cafe and began shooting wildly, with three bullets hitting a wall, one grazing a waitress' hand and two others hitting Matchen in the stomach.

The defense maintained Pemberton and Matchen grappled after Matchen drew a knife and threatened to cut Pemberton's throat "from ear to ear."

Ruse As Dec Fails For Girl

METZ, France, Oct. 10 (UP)—Fretty Marie Travers, 24, was brought here from Germany Friday to stand trial for impersonating an Army doctor while visiting her boy friend in a French Army hospital near Baden Baden.

Authorities said Marie entered an Army billet, donned a lieutenant's shirt, a sergeant's trousers, a major's coat and took a stethoscope.

She then "expertly examined" a group of stripped soldiers before visiting her boy friend before she was apprehended.

Texas Governor Will Introduce General Tuesday

AUSTIN, Oct. 10 (UP)—Democratic Gov. Allan Shivers announced Thursday he will introduce Dwight D. Eisenhower when Eisenhower speaks in front of the Alamo at San Antonio next Tuesday.

The Alamo is Texas' most historic shrine.

A spokesman said the governor was acting as Eisenhower's invitation.

"He had a telegram from Eisenhower," the spokesman said, "asking him to meet with him at San Antonio on his (Eisenhower's) birthday."

Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive in San Antonio at 5:15 p.m. and leave by train at 11:59 that night.

The governor cancelled a scheduled speech at a chamber of commerce banquet in Port Arthur to arrange his meeting with the GOP nominee.

He will attend a reception prior to the dinner, a spokesman said, and then fly to San Antonio where he will introduce Eisenhower in Alamo Plaza.

At a press conference a few minutes earlier, Shivers had expressed "hope" he might meet with Eisenhower.

MEET WITH DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE 'STRICTLY UP TO ADLAI, SAYS SHIVERS

However, the Democratic governor of Texas said that if he sees Adlai Stevenson, it will be strictly up to the Democratic presidential candidate.

Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive in Texas for two days of speaking on Oct. 14. Stevenson begins a two day tour of the state three days later on Oct. 17.

He said any meeting with the Democratic nominee would be "up to Stevenson or some of his people."

"I think it would be a little presumptuous" to initiate the action himself, the governor said.

Ike Gains In Texas Shivers broke with Stevenson, bolted the national Democratic ticket and announced he would vote for Eisenhower after the Illinois governor announced his opposition to state ownership of the tidelands.

The governor told reporters in his opinion "Eisenhower is gaining in Texas... that's my view."

STATE CHIEF DECLARES HE'LL 'PROBABLY' MAKE SPEECHES FOR IKE

Shivers said Thursday he will "probably make one or two other speeches" for Dwight D. Eisenhower before the Nov. 4 presidential election.

RJC Crew Hopes For Ram Upset Saturday Night

Coach Boone Yarbrough and his Purple & White warriors of Ranger Junior College, still stunned from their unexpected 12-0 loss to Navarro here last Saturday night, were bolstering their hopes today as they awaited crucial Pioneer Conference battle time—little more than 24 hours away.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock out at San Angelo, Coach Yarbrough and his Rangers tangle with the highly touted San Angelo Rams in the spotlighted Pioneer Conference title scramble opener of what promises to be a spectacular, thrill-packed junior college '52 pigskin campaign.

The Rams, of course, are favorites to win the important encounter. But Coach Yarbrough is hoping—even hoping desperately—for an upset.

No. 1 in Nation The RJC mentor says the San Angelo junior collegians are the nation's No. 1-rated junior college machine. He's hoping that rating may make the Rams over-confident.

And he's also hoping—quietly naturally—that his Purple & White charges, although badly hit by the old injury jinx, will somehow turn the trick, play an evening of flawless football, and wind up with an after-the-gun triumph.

Scores of Ranger backers of the local college grid machine are planning to make the journey to San Angelo tomorrow to witness the Ram-Rangers clash.

As play in the Pioneer Conference turns into the fifth week, the Arlington State College Rebels who share with San Angelo the distinction among league clubs of being undefeated and untied this season lead in total offense with a net gain of 1404 yards in four games, reports the Pioneer Conference publicity department at Arlington.

The Ranger Junior College Rangers lead in running with a net gain of 968 yards in four contests, but the San Angelo Rams with a running gain of 868 yards in three contests have the best running average—289 yards per game.

Arlington State is on top in the passing department with 491 yds. Turler State is second with 372 yards in three games.

Gene Henderson, San Angelo's fine quarterback, has replaced Freddie Sanders of Ranger as the league's leading runner. Henderson in three games has carried 24 times for a total of 280 yards, an average of 11.75 per carry. He is closely trailed by Sanders and Bud Hamrick of Ranger each of whom has gained more than 260 yards.

Loop's best passer so far is Sam Howard, Arlington State's towering quarterback who has completed 24 of 57 tosses for 459 yards, an average of 19.1 per completion.

Leading receiver is Kenneth Vavra, Arlington State halfback who has caught 6 for 179 yards, an average of 29.8 per catch.

Bud Hamrick of Ranger is the leading punter with 19 booms for 658 yards, an average of 34.1. Johnny Cozart, speedy Arlington State halfback, continues to lead in punt returns, 8 for 221 yards. Leading kick-off returner is Turler State's Frank Earney, 2 for 69 yards.

Vavra of ASC is the loop's leading scorer with four touchdowns and 15 conversions for 39 points.

PLEASANT WEEKEND IS SEEN FOR COUNTY, BUT NO RAIN

The weatherman checked his records, noted instrument readings, and took a gander skyward this morning, but—

No rain.

So Eastland County weather was fair and mild Friday and the warming rays of the sun appeared to have chased the last remnants of the week's "chill wave" out of the region.

The weatherman said that Eastland County, Texas and the seven state area from Wyoming to the Rio Grande would remain clear over the week end with little change in temperature.

Today's mercury readings in the Eastland County area are scheduled to be several notches above yesterday's levels.

Ideal Football Weather Conditions were expected to be ideal for the fall schedule of football games slated for the weekend.

The giant State Fair of Texas also looked forward to big crowds because the mild weather encourages visitors to stroll leisurely over the fair grounds. Fair officials reported that attendance was running slightly above that last year as the gates opened Friday.

Bad News for Hunters Hunters got some bad news connected with the weather, however, when the Texas Game and Fish Commission warned that the prolonged drought might increase the botulism death toll among the state's geese and ducks.

The commission said the disease resulted from the birds drinking water poisoned by decaying vegetation and said botulism was usually more prevalent during drought because "the decaying vegetation poisons shallow waters which recede to subnormal depths."

Bloody Fighting Rages As Reds Storm Mountain

By Robert Udick

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 10 (UP)—Chinese Communists, using "human sea" tactics, overran the crest of White Horse Mountain at dusk Friday and forced its hard-fighting South Korean defenders down the southern slopes with bayonets and grenades.

Cursing and swinging their fists, some 700 Chinese stormed White Horse in waves four and one-half hours after Ninth division Republic of Korea soldiers had swept the Reds completely off the northern approaches.

An American officer said the Chinese were using "human sea" tactics in most of their battalion-sized attacks on the bloody hill.

The Chinese attack began at 5:30 p.m. 2:30 a.m. est after Red artillery and mortar fired 500 rounds into Korean positions in less than 20 minutes.

The South Koreans withdrew to the base of the hill at 6:50 p.m.

Then A Fight Back However, by 7:30 p.m., the South Koreans had fought their way back to within 100 yards of the crest and built a defense line across one of the approaches to the summit.

Little Items Of Local Interest

Lester Clark, county attorney from Breckenridge, was a visitor here Wednesday evening, and attended the first meeting of the "Democrats for Eisenhower." Mr. Clark is District Chairman of the organization, of which Eastland County is a unit.

Cold weather still prevails, with the lowest reading today showing 41 degrees—just nine degrees above freezing. Lowest reading for the week was 36 degrees Wednesday morning. Considerable frost and some sheet ice has been reported here.

NEW GOINGS-ON IN LADIES' REST ROOM

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (UP)—Police said they found William Basios, 38, and Albert Pelaske, 69, making book in the women's rest room of a filling station here. The judge freed the two men because the arresting officers barged in without a warrant.

DEPORTATION HALTED

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 10 (UP)—Immigration officials were halted Friday from deporting Andres Hernandez of Alamo, Tex., charged with voting in a Mexican election illegally during a period of residence in Mexico ending in 1944. Judge James V. Allred enjoined the immigration service from deporting Hernandez until further evidence is presented.

DESPITE CONTROVERSY OVER OIL-RICH TIDELANDS, DRILL BITS BUSY IN COASTAL STABS

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH WASHINGTON (UP) — Despite the squabble over control of the oil-rich tidelands, petroleum operations in the coastal areas are continuing and the government is collecting millions of dollars yearly in revenues from the output. But new drilling to develop the areas further is being held to a minimum pending a final decision in the feud between the federal and state governments over ownership of the submerged coastal lands.

Interior Department experts — don't like this. But they expect new drilling to remain low until the dispute is permanently settled. The Supreme Court decided in 1947 that the federal government has paramount rights to submerged lands off California. It issued a similar ruling on areas in the Gulf of Mexico in 1950.

Operations Underway In both cases operations that were underway when the decisions were handed down have been permitted to continue but the federal government now collects all revenues in a special fund.

A total of $30,720,297 has collected since 1950. Of that $17,544,586 has been collected from operations in areas off the coast of California, $12,882,506 from those off Louisiana and $293,205 from those off Texas.

California collected additional funds from 1947 until 1950 for the fund but officials here were unable to say how much.

Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman, meantime, has sought unsuccessfully to get Congress to lay down rules for him to administer the tidelands. He backed a bill to give his department interior control with the states getting a share of revenues.

However Congress passed a substitute bill to give title to the states. President Truman vetoed the measure and it died when Congress adjourned.

Operations Continue While the controversy goes on operators continued to take oil out of the tidelands. More than 1 million barrels are pumped out each month from areas off California and about half that from tidelands in the Gulf of Mexico. Some new wells are being drilled but the number is relatively small. Only about 30 have been sunk in the Gulf since 1950 and those were approved for conservation purposes or to protect the government's interest.

Some wells have been authorized on government leases when a nearby well was being operated and was draining petroleum away from the area controlled by the government.

A minimum of wells are being authorized in California under a special agreement between the state and the federal government. The agreement was needed because of a dispute over the border of the submerged lands which the government controls off California. The matter is still before the Supreme Court.

To Drill Well

One well authorized off California will be drilled by Monterey Oil Co., which is spending more than $1 million on a new technique to tap oil deposits that cannot be reached from the shore. The technique calls for building a man-made island about a mile offshore and drilling through it.

Part of the estimated 4 billion barrels of petroleum estimated to lie under the sea off California can be reached from shore by directional drilling. The largest portion cannot.

Monterey's plan is designed to tap those sections that can't be reached from shore. The island will consist of a steel structure about 75 feet in diameter filled with sand and clay. The drilling rig will be located over a hole in the island's center.

Appeals for Permit

Monterey applied for a drilling permit in 1947 to work on the idea but got approved from the federal and state governments only this year. It claims the delay was due to the federal-state controversy over the tidelands.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) allotted an extra 25,000 tons of casing and tubing to 157 oil and gas operators for delivery during December.

The agency said it took the action because production of oil-country tubular goods at some mills since the steel strike has exceeded expectations.

The Federal Power Commission reported electric utility power plants used a record of 104,965,791,000 cubic feet of gas during August. It was the first month consumption exceeded 1 billion cubic feet.

Refineries A bureau of mines study showed the number of U. S. refineries decreased from 357 to 350 during 1951. However capacity increased from 6,963,644 to 7,332,885 barrels a day.

PAD revoked its tetraethyl lead conservation order, the first order issued by the agency. Actually the revocation merely eliminated a requirement that petroleum refiners submit monthly reports on their use of tetraethyl lead in its use in automotive gasoline were removed April 1.

The Bureau of Mines forecast market demand for crude petroleum during October at 6,450,000 barrels a day. That compared to a daily demand of 6,430,000 predicted for September.

The attacking Chinese, apparently brought in from a fresh division, crawled over the bodies of their own men littering the slopes of the hill to reach the peak. Only a few minutes before the attack, Maj. Gen. Kim Chong Oh, commander of the ROK ninth division, said, "The Chinese know and I know that whoever controls White Horse controls the Chorwon Valley."

The Chorwon Valley is used by both sides as a supply point. The vital Allied railway supply line runs through part of it. White Horse Mountain also guards the classic invasion route to Seoul.

"The Chinese have lost much face because we have beaten them back," Kim said after the South Koreans drove the Chinese off the crest in a wild bayonet charge.

"I think their general must be very angry. He will not stop trying until he has used up everything he has. But my division will continue to beat him back."

SHIVERS TO--

The governor revealed at the same time he had turned down invitations to speak in behalf of the GOP nominee from California, Florida, Alabama, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

In 'Texas Only' "My interest is in Texas," he said. "Any speaking I do," he added, "will be done in Texas." "If I make any other speeches it will be an explanation of the differences between the Texas view and the views of the national Democratic party, and a restatement of my own personal position." The governor, who bolted the national Democratic ticket because of Adlai Stevenson's opposition to state ownership of the tidelands, recently announced that he would vote for Eisenhower.

At the same time, political leaders long allied with his administration announced formation of "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower."

Sex Appeal Isn't Enough For Gals Who Push Career

By Jay Green
One of the nation's top business women has warned her feminine confederates that a girl has the best chance of getting an executive's chair if she keeps her stockings seam straight and never gives a male an order.

"Don't expect sex appeal to get you any more than an introduction to the man you want to see," blonde Tillie Lewis of New York added, "and another page from my notebooks would be to act always as though you know exactly what you want. Men don't believe a woman can ever make up her mind."

On the basis of the way she built a California tomato cannery into a multi-million dollar business Miss Lewis was named the perfect example of the American business woman. She's a pretty, blue-eyed, tomato, herself, who freely conceded that good looks can mean plenty in aiding a modern business woman.

It's Hard Facts That Count
"But it becomes a dreadful boomerang if a woman tries to get by on that," she added. "When a desk separates a man and a woman, he wants to hear hard facts, not see soft glances."

Miss Lewis started canning tomatoes some 10 years ago and had to learn tact in handling men right from the start, since she was president of the outfit. She recalled but wouldn't discuss in detail a few unhappy experiences which taught her a man's ego is as sensitive as a butterfly's antennae.

"When a plant manager went prima donna on me, a man who really was good at his job, I realized I was ignoring the time-honored method a successful wife uses on her husband," she said. "Thereafter, I just dropped careful hints so the men who worked for me thought what I wanted done was their own ideas."

Works Perfectly
The program worked like a charm and Tillie's bristly-chinned subordinates are frankly proud to be working for a gal. She used similar womanly wiles to introduce her newest product, Tast-Diet puddings and canned fruits. Chubby characters can gulp them as though the stuff were celery, but Miss Lewis never points this out to a fat man.

Miss Lewis is married and thoughtfully reports that her husband often remarks in social gatherings that she's boss at home as well as at the cannery. "But he really thinks I couldn't get along without him," she said, "and you can be darn sure I do nothing to change his mind."

NEW FIRE-FIGHTING JEEP IS DUE TO CUT NAVY DAMAGE

By Harman W. Nichols
WASHINGTON (UP) — The Navy is experimenting with a device that one day may save many lives and millions of dollars in equipment.

I witnessed the first demonstration of a new foam fire-fighting jeep. It is designed for use on the decks of our larger aircraft carriers.

The performance took place on a lot outside the Navy's research laboratory. A beat-up old torpedo bomber was set afire. Then the foam fire-fighter went to work. In 10 seconds flames were cut to a point where both the pilot and co-pilot could be rescued. In another two minutes, the fire was out altogether.

You Don't Need Much Advice—

... but it is valuable at least twice in your insurance experience. First is, when you get ready to buy insurance, don't select just any kind of an agent or any kind of policy. There's a big difference. Second is, when you have a loss would you rather have your friend at home with year's of insurance experience or some one living in Dallas, St. Louis or elsewhere, to handle your claim? There's another big difference.
