 A white Christmas is O. K. and they even write songs about

But snow is not really necessary for a happy Thanksgiving.

Each year, as Winter approaches, at least some longtime weather observers will predict, "This is going to be a rough one," Nine time out of 10, we'll guess, they're wrong as the Winter months pass with only the normal amount, more or less, of snow and below freezing temperatures.

This year, though, said weather prognosticators aren't getting any argument from us. With the start Winter has this time, this one could be the one they've been telling us about,

We're not saying it will. We're just saying that it's off to a good start. Our November weather has been, in places, like we could expect in January and February.

The moisture is good, though, even if it offers little consolation to farmers who still have part of their milo and all of their cotton out in the fields.

The Bovina Mustangs put the finishing wraps on the '72 season Friday night over at Hart. The 25-8 loss knocked the Bovina boys out of the right to has the New Deal Lions in the bi-district game and that made the defeat even more disappoint-

However, you can mark 1972 as a good year, comparatively, for the Maroons. In so saying, we don't mean to belittle the fact we came out on the short end of the count in the all-importale finale. Still, hadanyone told us back in the beginning of the season that the Ponies would finish in a tie for the championship flag, we would have been quick to "throw in with 'em.' In other words, given the opportunity, we would have been willing to settle for that and not take the chance of finishing another season down among the also-rans. The Hart loss, as bitter as it was, was some easier to take because the Longhorns are a fine football team; or at least they were last Friday night, and they have at least two outstanding individuals as parts of that team. The defeat didn't taste as sour to us as it would have had it come at the hands of a lesser ballclub or on a fluke play or because of questionable officiat-

The Season of '72 can be remembered as the one which saw the Bovina team crawl right up into the thick of the 3-A championship fight and as the stepping stone to continued football suc-

In short, we're saying that the season could have been a better one, but at the same time admitting that we've seen a heap worse!

* * * * * * Didn't the headlines in the dailies say last week that the reelected Republican administration was planning to make the farm program 25 per cent worse than it was this year?

That's not too good of a thank you for all the Nixon-Agnewmarked ballots we sent in, is it?

Before time moves the November 7 general election too far in the past, we'd best point out that write-in votes in the various offices were duly recorded and reported, according to Election Judge Jay Sherrill. We neglected to mention write-in votes in our news report of the election outcome and in so doing didn't mean to leave the impression that such Notes weren't cast.

The write-in vote, as much trouble as it is, has been a part of the American ballot up to now. We suspect that it probably won't be allowed much longer due to the use of voting machines and other election technicalities.

* * * * * * Last week's football contest was as rough as that stucco bathtub you've heard about. There were more upsets than we've seen in many a contest

Had the opportunity to see "The Godfather" recently and found it to be a compelling and powerful film. Having read the book, the violence didn't disturb us as much as it might have otherwise.

What was disturbing, to a great extent, was the burst of laughter from the mainly-teenage audience that greeted almost every cruel and violent scene. Read somewhere that our senses are being anesthetized by the violence we see almost nightly on the tube. May be something to that.

"The Godfather" supposedly portrays the underground world of organized crime (the Mafia) and maybe our youngsters haven't been taught much about that segment of our society. If they had, we don't believe they would have found the movie so "funny,"

If you are interested in art collections and things of that nature and have an hour or so to spare when you are in Lubbock, go by the First National Bank for a visit. Went with the Study Club women on their tour and it was a most enjoyable day. The bank's collection of art objects and paintings is probably unequaled in this part of Texas and the setting does the collection justice.

Every area of the bank, including offices, lobbies, dining rooms, lounges and even the vaults, have priceless objects on display with the decor in each area keyed around the paintings and sculpture.

Imagine having a Steuben crystal vase worth several thousand dollars setting around on the coffee table. In our house, the stamp store special never lasts very long.

Well, guess half a crown is better than none.

We know Friday night's loss to Hart was a major disappointment to our boys, but in our book, they are a great bunch of kids and we are justifiably proud of them. We believe their attitude, determination, spirit and, yes, even the way they took the defeat, is a tribute to Roger Ezell and his fine coaching staff. We're proud of the whole crew.

We don't know too many women who love the game of football any more than we do, but folks, from now on the situation just gets ridiculous.

Stop and count. For the last month or so we have had football from Thursday night through Monday night and that is five days and nights a week anyway you figure it. But just when the local season is over, the holiday football season begins and its worse than ever.

If your family resembles mine, your entire holiday period, from Thanksgiving through New Year's, is planned around the football schedule. For instance, our departures, arrivals and returns are synchronized with the football schedule at least a month in advance. Holiday meals are planned around the kickoff time and woe be unto the person who isn't quite through visiting when the whistle blows.

"I thought I was suffering from weakness of faith, but my doctor says it's a vitamin deficiency!"

LET US MASTER THE RIGHT THREE "R'S"!

The following paragraph was lifted from a recent bulletin that crossed my desk. The three "R's" used to stand for "Readin, Ritin, and Rithmetic." Today, it seems they stand for "Riot, Ruthlessness, and Rebellion," and if this continues they will stand for "Ruin, Rot and Regret." What we Isn't it interesting that everything in God's creation produces after its kind. "Bring up a child in the way he should go" is still true today. "Sew to the wind and reap the whirlwind" continues generation after generation. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man sows that shall really need is "Respect, Religion, and Responsibil-

he reap" is an axiom that will never change. Throughout the history of the Bible God has demonstrated time after time that "riots, ruthlessness and rebellion" produce "ruin, rot, and regret." Happiness, contentment, and full lives are always the result of respect for God, the religion of Jesus Christ, and responsibile, responsive living. Respect, responsibility and religion are qualities that man produces through the process of education. They are not the natural qualities of the human race. These qualities have been proved by usage from generation to generation, Each generation is given the task of instilling them in the hearts of lives of the next generation. When we fail, the result is always the same.

Parents, teachers, church leaders, and preachers -- letus rise to the noble and challenging prospect of producing a new generation who hold as necessary for their lives --Respect, Religion, and Responsibility.

they had hoped otherwise. The Mustangs did some impressive defensing of their own during the rest of the second quarter, as they had done in the first, and the teams took their half-time rest period with the 0-6 count.

Offensively, the Mustangs couldn't get in a consistent gear Here Thursday -as the Hart defense, led by Middle Linebacker Stan Dyer, who also pulled duty as a hard-running fullback, kept them bottled up and unable to put together a sustained drive.

In the second half, the Mustangs made an early break but were unable to capitalize on it. Kim Rundell, the kicker, recovered an onside kick beginning the second half at the Hart 49. Three plays, however, netted the Ponies just that many yards

Sweep Three Games

The junior high and junior varsity teams from Hart swept three games from their Bovina counterparts here Thursday night in the finale of the 1972

Hart's seventh grade team held their hosts scoreless to post a 40-0 win.

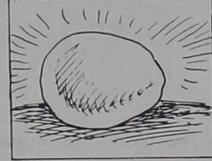

Tommy Serna went over for six points from 10 yards out for the only eighth grade TD in their 20-6 loss to Hart's eighth grade.

The defensive unit scored the only TD for the Mustang junior varsity as they closed the season with a 30-6 loss to Hart's jun-

Alton McCormick pounced on a Hart fumble in the end zone for Bovina's only score in a tilt played in near-freezing weather. The junior varsity finished the season with a 4-4 record.

"We didn't begin playing ball until the second half,' commented Coach Corky Criswell. They only scored eight points on us after halftime; if we had been playing ball like that in the first half, we might have won,' he commented.
