When the Bovina School on jeopardy of non-renewal of law, kept private, at least and convened for their their contracts for next year. some of the non-renewal notices were issued because of lack of certification to teach in Texas.

At the Monday meeting, the first order of business by the board was to extend a term contract to Shelly, which was approved by the board to the delight of the attendees.

After a presentation of an award to Bovina band student Jose Vela by board president Justin Brozek, the board asked those present to leave while the board members went into executive session.

When the board came out of the executive session, there were still people present to monitor the meeting. Some confusion was sorted out as people did not understand that they were required to have been listed on the agenda prior to the meeting in order to speak.

Several people signed up to be on the forum agenda at the next meeting May 9.

Following Monday's executive session, the board extended one-year conditional probationary contracts to the teachers that had previously received non-renewal notices.

Those teachers are Kayla

Cowen, Bryan Jones, Tanya Moroney, Michelle McGillis, Doug Schwartz, Jarrod Sowder, James Barnard, Linda Douglas, Wayne Richardson, and Susan Southerland.

The board heard brief reports from the principals, then voted to accept the resignation of high school principal K'Dawn Scroggins.

Jose Vela Receives All-State Band Recognition

Here is the text of the message read by president Justin Brozek at the Monday, April 8, school board meeting to honor Jose Vela:

The Bovina High School band has received many first time honors in the past few years but none of them are as outstanding an individual achievement as Mr. Jose Vela becoming the first Bovina high student to be a member of a Texas All-State Band.

Jose started his quest on December 8 at ATSSB All-Region tryouts where he was one of four tuba players qualified to move to area tryouts January 5.

There were two tuba players chosen from the 24 auditioning to attend the ATSSB All-State Band in San Antonio, Texas, in connection with Texas Music Educators' annual convention.

There were 20 Texas tuba players chosen in the state. Jose was once again auditioned for placement in one of the two bands. He spent four days working under the direction of Mr. Robert Smith, a well known composer and conductor.

These four days culminated in a concert before a full house of Music Educators and parents on Saturday, February 23.

In recognition of All-State musician Jose Juan Vela, I would like to present him this plaque and certificate for selection to the 2002 ATSSB All-State Band.

ADVANCING TO REGIONAL UIL in Levelland will be Chris Ortiz in current events and Kelcey Scroggins in journalism.

THEN AND NOW...Current publisher and owner of Star/Bovina Blade, Bill Ellis, the Friona congratulates onetime owner and publisher of the two newspapers, W.H. "Hop" Graham, after Graham was inducted into the Panhandle Press' Hall of Fame at the PPA convention April 5.

CAROL AND I attended the Bull Town Panhandle Press Assn.'s Hall of Fame banquet last Friday at Amarillo's Ambassador

Hotel. Ye Editor was honored at the event last year, and we were especially interested in going back this year, because a former editor and publisher Bill Ellis of the Friona Star and Bill Ellis

Bovina Blade, W.H. (Hop) Graham, now of Lovington, N.M., was installed into the PPA's Hall of Fame. We had felt for years that Graham deserved to be in the

Bulletins

Press Assn.'s "elite group." The main reason W.H. Graham, Jr. deserved the H.O.F. honor was that he, along with Friona native Joe Osborn, were the driving force behind the establishment of the first offset printing plant between Dallas and Denver, Colorado.

Graham, who was publisher of the State Line Tribune at the time, joined with Osborn to purchase the Friona Star in 1956. A year earlier, Graham backed Dolph Moten in establishing the Bovina Blade.

About that time, Graham read about a newspaper publisher in the Dallas area who had devised the first offset press in Texas, and was printing his newspaper by the new method, which was much more affordable than the old method, which used "hot type' (the old bulky linotype machine) and presses which had not improved much since the Gutenberg era.

Graham and Osborn purchased the third press that the new company produced, and built a new plant, named Plains Publishers, located at Sixth Street and Euclid Ave. in Friona (now the location of the Friona American Legion and the Parmer County VFW organizations).

The Friona Star was the first newspaper printed by the newfangled press, and the Bovina Blade was the second. Within a few years, as many as 30 weekly newspapers, monthly publications, etc., were printed in Friona, and a payroll that included 20-30 full and part-time employees their family's income, worked at the printing plant. Many publishers were reluctant to print by the new method, but after Graham's newspapers (Friona-Bovina-Farwell) began to carry off virtually all of the top plaques in the Panhandle Press Assn., the West Texas Press Assn. and the Texas Press Assn., the trend toward offset printing, in a aided the local economy. Many housewives wanting to add to central location for several newspapers became the vogue. For one thing, the publishers no longer had to buy, or maintain, the "hot-type" presses and typesetting equipment themselves. Many of the Plains Publishers customers had the local printing plant set their type (news stories), make the "ads" and put the pages together. A lot of midnight oil was burned at the plant, especially on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

In 1963, Graham and Joe Osborn dissolved their partnership, with Graham keeping the printing plant, and Osborn retaining ownership of the Friona Star. A year earlier, Graham had hired Bill Ellis as news editor at Friona, and he was elevated to the position of managing editor by Osborn, who was a practicing attorney in Austin.

In 1968, Osborn sold the Star to Carol and Bill Ellis, and by a coincidence of timing, Graham decided to move the press and related equipment to Lovington, N.M., where he had bought the city's daily newspaper back in '63.

For more than six years, Graham had printed the Lovington Leader in Friona (a distance of 260 miles roundtrip), and put over 240,000 miles on each of two 1955 Ford cars he bought from Friona Motors. That would add up to over 480,000 miles, which is around the world almost 20 times. "We were lucky we never had a wreck on the road. A young guy I hired confessed that he drove "about 100 mph." he said.

"Hop" couldn't have been to hard on his young employee. We saw a photo in a 1960s issue of the Star, where Graham had hit a large hawk on the Friona-Lovington drive. The bird made a perfectly round hole in the windshield, barely missing him, and came to rest in the auto's back window.

In early 1963, Carol and I helped Graham start a 'paper in Hart, to be printed in Friona. The Hart Beat is still beating almost 40 years later.

We enjoyed our visit with the Grahams. "Hop" still writes his column, "From the Hopper." The Grahams' son John has served as publisher of the Leader for several years. The Grahams asked us to convey their best wishes to their former friends in Parmer County.

Faye Smith Submits Her Life Story For Printing

Every month a resident of Prairie Acres Nursing Home submits a story about his/her life's history to be submitted in the home's newsletter, "The Prairie Times," and for printing in this issue. This month we feature Fay E.

By FAYE E. SMITH

I was born Faye Elizabeth Lamb in Plaska (which no longer exists), Texas, in Hall County on May 21, 1920. My father, Jake Lamb, was a cotton farmer near the Red River. After graduating from high school, I traveled to Canyon, Texas, to attend college. I began dating Ralph Smith who farmed 15 miles north of Friona. We were married on July 21, 1939.

Ralph built a small house in Friona where we lived for a year. Then my parents, Jake and Minnie Lamb, sold their farm in Hall County and bought a farm in Deaf Smith County north of Friona. They moved to our

Our first daughter, Judy, was born at the clinic in Friona. Because products were restricted in World War II, when we moved to the farm, we built a small three room "chicken shack" with limited plumbing where we lived. Our second daughter, Janet, was born in Hereford. We had lots of fun in the country. Friends would come over for table games and croquet. Many more families then lived on their farms; so there were more people in rural areas.

Also, Ralph's two brothers, Hoyt and Lewis, their families and his parents, Lit and Otha Smith, and their daughter, Nola Faye (Vestal) lived five miles up the road.

After the war, we decided to move into Friona to be closer to the schools for our daughters. Ralph built a house at 612 Woodland. Other Friona men such as Glen Stevick ran concrete for the basement and worked on

FAYE E. SMITH

Throughout our marriage, both Ralph and I attended First Baptist Church. Our home was within a couple of blocks, a convenient distance.

Our other two daughters, Mary and Esther, were born after we moved to Friona. While Ralph farmed, I worked at Foster's Dry Goods part-time for several years.

to attend West Texas University to complete a college degree in elementary education. A long time had passed since I attended school. I had to learn to study and do assignments.
Finally, when I was about fifty years old, I graduated.
All my adult life I wanted to teach school.

Friona Independent School District gave me the opportunity with second grade children. I relished the next fifteen years I spent there. I enjoyed the time with the children and knowing their parents. It was really a pleasure to watch them grow up and mature into adults. One of the children I taught, Carol, now works at Prairie Acres. When I arrived, I was really pleased to see her.

For 58 years, Ralph and I enjoyed living in Friona and knowing the fine people here. On September 30, 1997, Ralph passed away from cancer. I came to Prairie Acres in February, 2001. I said that if I ever needed to be in a nursing home, that I felt Prairie Acres was the When my last two girls best-because I knew people were nearly grown, I began who lived and worked here.
