SOME MORE INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT HEDLEY'S COMMUNITY FAIR AND BARBECUE

Here's what some of the visitors said about our Fair:

M. B. Oates, Agricultural Agt for F. W. & D. Ry.: "Best community fair I ever saw."

Miss Bess Edwards, District Home Demonstrator: "The Hedley Fair was better than many county fairs."

A traveling man, whose name escapes us, said: "Best all round affair of its kind I have ever attended."

Some visitors from East Texas said: "It looks like prosperity. You people should be proud of your country."

It seemed to be the general opinion that the exhibits in all departments were excellent, that the barbecue was an outstanding success from every standpoint, and that the amusements were all clean and without objectional features.

Summing it all up, it clearly shows what a united people can do when they have the community's interest at heart. It was a real achievement, well worth the price we all paid.

One of the main features of the Fair was the Ladies' Booth, with exhibits of all kinds of fancy work. There were 152 entries in needle work, 26 in the flower department, and 15 in the cooking class. The exhibits drew large crowds and were the object of much favorable comment from everybody.

The American Legion booth was one of the most popular places at the Fair. Post Commander Perrine and other of our Ex Service Men arranged a large and interesting display, including all kinds of pictures, arms and souvenirs from the foreign battle fields.

The Giles community exhibit was a great showing of farm and home products, tastefully arranged. As shown here, this exhibit was unbeatable, except as to quantity. The quality and arrangement were perfect. And their flower bordered banner, with the words "Giles, 1921" spelled with thousands of grains of corn, was an artistic piece of work and attracted much attention. Wishing to know who made it, the editor inquired of several men. T. C. Johnson, O. L. Allan, Jack McCants and Jno Lemmon all plead guilty; while E. H. Watt, Arthur Ranson and C. O. Thaxton claimed the ladies of Giles were mainly responsible, but each admitted that he was an accomplice. And there you are anyway, it was a fine and dandy banner.

The poultry department made a good showing, with about 60 or 70 fine birds on display.

Several cages of pet rabbits were on exhibit and interested the children particularly.

Orville Doherty's fine Duroc hogs attracted much attention. We unintentionally omitted them in the swine write up last week. They took all the blue ribbons in the Duroc classes.

We know of two or three men who had some splendid stuff at the Fair, and who could probably have walked off with highest honors if they had put in sufficient time with their exhibits. However, they neglected their personal affairs to work for the general good of the Fair. We would name them were it not for the fear that we would omit one, or more, of whom we are not aware. Anyway, all our people know who they are, and greatly appreciate their intelligent and unselfish efforts. It is this kind of men and women who do the really worth while things in every community.

With most of us, the outstanding feature was the barbecue and picnic dinner Wednesday. There was plenty for all—which is not always the case at barbecues. Plates did not hold out, however; only 2500 had been provided—at least 1,000 less than were needed. Besides, many guests were entertained in private homes, and the hotels, restaurants, and two stands on the fair grounds did flourishing business feeding those who, for reasons of their own, did not join the barbecue crowd. And yet, some outside statisticians (who were not here) give out the information that there were "probably 2500 people present." Yes, there probably were.

Everybody in and near Hedley was pleased with the Fair and the Barbecue. Fair enough!

A GOOD SHOW

West Bros' Show, "A TEXAS RANGER," is to be in Hedley next Thursday, October 6th.

From the appearance of the advertising on the billboards, etc., one might judge it a very good show. The performance, which takes place in a big tent, lasts more than two hours.

Music is furnished by the Cowboy Band carried by the show. The prices are 25c for children and 55c for adults, according to the announcement in the advertising columns of this issue of the Informer.

The show comes well recommended from other towns where they have been.

GOOD WORK IS DONE ON THE ROADS HERE

Tuesday morning, in answer to the call of Commissioner Joo B. Pickett, a large number of men all over this end of the county gathered with teams and tools and put in the day working the roads.

It was at first announced that all Hedley business houses would be closed that day, but for some reason this plan was later abandoned. However, a number of our business men were among the workers, and others secured men to go in their places.

Roads in all directions from town came in for attention at the hands of this band of patriots, and we are told that our highways are immensely improved as a result.

We must have good roads, and the community owes at least a "vote of thanks" to all those who took active part.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Acord left one day the past week for Dallas, where Mr. Acord will likely undergo a surgical operation at the Baptist Sanitarium. His many friends here are hoping that the results will be entirely satisfactory.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. Walker

GOOD MANNERS.

A WISE Italian says that you can tell how civilized people are by the way that they behave in the street. He adds that if a man is considerate of his neighbor it shows that he has a proper respect for himself.

If a French peasant brushes against a stranger in the street or on the road, he touches his hat in apology. This sensitiveness to the rights of others is not found everywhere else in the world.

In fact, the tendency to hustle and bustle, to push others out of the way, has been growing of late nearly everywhere.

Gilbert Francheu, the novelist, is so irritated by what he calls the bad manners of the day that he regrets the good old days when everybody carried some sort of weapon and was ready to use it, if offended.

Undoubtedly a man with a sword who was not inclined to fight would be careful about knocking against another who was similarly armed.

The Chinese have a proverb that "The fear of death is the beginning of discipline."

If this is true, there must be something in the theory that when people gave up wearing rapiers and pistols, they became undisciplined and careless.

In the same way, though the use of arms tended to cheapen human life and to encourage bragging and bullying, dueling and brawling, it also had an effect on manners.

In the wild Western "movies" politeness and "guns" go together and.

"What's in a Name?"

By MILDRED MARSHALL

REBECCA.

OF GOOD old Biblical stock is Rebecca, which is translated "nosed cord." It is said to come from the Hebrew word rabak—at least that was the origin of the first Rebecca, a name which seems to have been coined especially to be bestowed upon the wife of Isaac, of Biblical fame.

The Rebecas of the world should make excellent wives, since the word Ribka, a later rendition of rabak, which means a cord with a noose, is given to convey the firmness of the marriage cord. The Septuagint and the Latin both give evidence of the name Rebecca in very early times. Another version, said to be the authorized one, makes her Rebekah. This latter form seems to be the one affected today by every young miss who is called by the name of the good old Biblical heroine.

Despite the religious significance which history has given to the name, Rebecca has been a great favorite with writers, who have employed her in more or less frivolous romances. Two Rebecas who will never be forgotten by present-day readers are the

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

The foundation of education consists in training a child to work, to love work, to put the energy of his entire being into work, to do that work which develops his body, mind and soul; to do that work most needed for the elevation of mankind.—Parker.

SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS.

NOW is the time for the thrifty housewife to gather her stores for winter. Pickles of various kinds may be put up a few at a time without too much of a burden to the cook.

Cucumber Pickles.

Take one gallon of vinegar, one pound of good mustard, one cupful of salt, one-half cupful of sugar, mix well and add the fresh cucumbers each day as they are picked fresh from the vines. Cover and put away for winter use. Mixed spices and an onion or two may be added for flavoring, if desired.

Watermelon Marbles.

Cut out with a potato scoop from the center of a firm but ripe watermelon enough pink balls to fill a quart can. Prepare a heavy sirup, adding a slice or two of lemon and a piece of ginger root, drop in the melon marbles and cook until well scalded. Drop the balls into a can and pour over the sirup and seal. These are delicious preserves to use as pudding garnish or for ice creams.

Yellow Tomato Preserves.

Make a sirup of one-half pound of sugar and one lemon, juice and rind and enough water to dissolve the sugar. Add one pound of tomatoes and cook until well scalded through, as a row is settled offhand, without waiting for the sheriff, with his star, everybody is very careful not to "start anything."

If a man may be insolent, selfish or unchivalrous without running any personal risk, there is a chance that he may go through life like a bull in a china shop.

But when everybody attended to his own quarrels, it was overdone, and false standards of "honor" were set up as in the case of dueling customs of certain European armies.

It is probably better to rely on the policeman and the law when we suffer an injury.

On the other hand, it is pointed out by Mr. Francheu and the like that the law is a cannon that it takes many months to load.

Besides, the law does not bother about trifles, such as somebody's feelings. Actual injury must be shown. Good manners may be a trifle. But they have a lot to do with happiness. And happiness is no trifle.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE JOYS WE SHARE.

THIS makes the songs of night so sweet: They are not here before your feet But over yonder; over hills They hear the evening whip-poor-will Their notes melodious, their trills Repeat.

The unseen singers sweeter far Than caged companions always are: They do not sing for you, for me, They sing for all humanity— They are a part of grass, of tree, Of star.

And so in life, the pleasures there Are greatest common everywhere. We ask so much for our own ease, We seek so much so much to please Yet find our greatest joys in these We share.

We must tear down the selfish wall; Our song must be a comrade call. Alone no happiness is had— Each day will be increasing glad If something to the joy we add Of all.

DAIRY FACTS

FEED KEEPS UP MILK YIELD

Ordinary Rations Are Likely to Be Deficient in Principal Bone-Building Elements.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Feeding cows for several years, according to the commonly accepted standard with little or no additional pasture, reduced the milk yield much below the optimum, it was found by experiments at the government farm at Beltsville, Md. This condition may be corrected by giving the animal a dry period of two months, and feeding during that period a ration containing legume hay and grain with a high phosphorus content, with three or four times the amount of protein required for maintenance, and two or three times the total nutriment. The milk yield in the subsequent lactation period may sometimes be doubled by this treatment. The results of the experiments are given in Bulletin 945, "The Influence of Calcium and Phosphorus in the Food on the Milk Yield of Dairy Cows."

Cows Thrive on Rich Pastures.

In the case of cows of which the milk yield has been reduced by several years' standard feeding, as followed at Beltsville, a greatly increased yield can be brought about by feeding "alternated rations with phosphate" during the dry period. This is taken to mean that the ordinary rations are more likely to be deficient in one or both of the principal bone-building elements than in any other constituent.

Bulletin 945, "The Influence of Calcium and Phosphorus in the Food on the Milk Yield of Dairy Cows," may be had upon application to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture.

HELP WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Farmers in Vicinity of Grove City, Pa., Sign Requests to Have Herds Tested.

The community at Grove City, Pa., where the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture is carrying on community extension work, is active in tuberculosis eradication. The owners of several hundred herds signed requests to have their herds tested and accredited; in fact it appears that practically all the patrons of the Grove City Creamery soon will have their animals tested. This work originated with the bull associations operating in that vicinity; but it now extends throughout the county, and even to the two adjoining counties.

An interesting feature of the situation is the springing up of the Grove City Accredited Dairy-Cattle Show and Sales association, composed of owners of accredited herds who wish to take advantage of the fact that all their herds are clean, to co-operate in improvement, and sell all their stock on that basis. One member who has a clean herd says that after his herd was tested he sold some cows for $300 each, which, previously, he would have parted with for half that amount. He had actually offered them for $150 prior to the test.

MAKING FEED FROM SAWDUST

Wisconsin Cows Keeping Up Weight and Milk Yield and Show No Ill Effects From Diet.

Hydrolyzed sawdust as a part of a ration for cows is apparently giving satisfactory results in Wisconsin. The forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture reports that cows at the agricultural college of that state are doing as well on a ration consisting of one-third sawdust as they did when their feed was only one-fourth wood meal. That is to say, they are keeping up their weight and their milk production and show no ill effects from the diet.

The bureau of animal industry is considering the proposal of the forest service laboratory to start feeding trials with dairy animals in which the wood product will form a part of the ration and the tests will extend for an entire year at least. The hydrolyzed-wood feed for these cows will be made at the laboratory. So far all the stock feed has been made from white-pine sawdust. Other soft woods, particularly the western species, will be tried in the future.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

"HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK"

Every "Four Corners" has its Home Town Week nowadays, but all the boys and girls who have wandered from the Township Center cannot get back to enjoy the loved surroundings. But all can subscribe to the Old Home Town Paper and thus keep well in touch with the little spot they once called home.

What joy to run over the school promotions and find that the tots of a few years ago are moving higher and higher in scholastic circles and eventually blossom forth as the "sweet girl graduates," or the clean strong boys discarding knickers.

Just watch the hardened old city coddler open up his home paper—it's the first thing he picks out of his mail—and what can he find there to interest him? Angus McGugan's horse died yesterday; Peter McGregor will run for the county clerkship; Horace Jell hopes to win the secretaryship of the Hilltown agricultural society; Lydia Mungler has opened a millinery store in one side of the printing office. Mrs. Brown lost her hand satchel in the butcher's; Dr. Dorland is attending Clara Brown who is down with a severe cold; Mrs. Plater broke her ankle and is in the county hospital.

Yet, though he smiles at the old time styles and expressions, he enjoys it all over and over again, for it takes his mind back home where his wonderful boyhood days—happy days—were spent.

See our "Home Town Paper Week" announcement elsewhere in this issue.

WHAT WILL BE

"Perhaps we would get along better," says an exchange, "if we had more appropriations for construction and fewer for destruction."

Brother, you said something. Smaller appropriations for the navy, and bigger ones for good roads.

Smaller appropriations for the army and bigger ones for public health and education.

Smaller appropriations for fortifications and bigger ones for public buildings where they are needed.

Smaller appropriations for destruction, and bigger ones for construction.

SUBSCRIBE FOR YOUR HOME TOWN PAPER

It is very rare that the average newspaper boasts its own business, but gives quantities of space in boosting the affairs of others.

Somebody suggested that it is time for the newspapers of the country to adopt a week in which their own business should be given precedence, and the Informer endorses the idea.

The date set is the second week in November, from 7th to 12th, including that great world event, Armistice Day.

The official title for the week is "Subscribe for your Home Town Paper Week."

Thousands of papers will join in this event, and our readers will hear more about it as time goes on.

The home town paper, large or small, is always ready to help any cause in the interest of a better community, better living conditions, and better government. We now ask the readers and advertisers of the Informer to turn in and lend a hand during "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," and boost for us.

LODGE ANNIVERSARY

Members of the Hedley Rebekah Lodge celebrated the 70th anniversary of that order last Friday evening at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Mrs. Dallas Milner, Mr. Frank Kendall, Mrs. Frank Kendall and Mrs. A. B. Cloninger were on the program, and responded with splendid talks that were instructive and entertaining. A number of other members made interesting short talks for the good of the order.

Delightful refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the large crowd present, and all united in declaring it a most enjoyable occasion.

Miss Annie Nell Richey left last Friday evening for Belton, where she will spend the coming year as a student in Baylor Female College.

Miss Laura Brinson left one evening last week for Nevada, Mo., where she will undergo treatment for an ailment of long standing. Quite a large crowd of her friends gathered at the depot to see her off and wish her the best of good fortune.

OZARK TRAIL MEN VISIT US

A party of Ozark Trail boosters, composed of W. F. Hearne, president, H. E. Oakes and Elmer Jessee, all of Mangum, Okla., and Geo. W. Briggs, of Granite, Okla., stopped in Hedley Wednesday afternoon, and held an enthusiastic meeting in the Guaranty

State Bank. Quite a number of local citizens attended.

These men came at this time as the result of a meeting held at Mangum last Monday night, when it was decided that the organization headed by them are to take charge of the road from Oklahoma City to Las Vegas, N.

Mex, mark it, and create more good roads sentiment along the route.

They went from here to Clarendon, Amarillo, and on west.

C. C. Phelps was in from his farm yesterday, visiting friends and relatives.
