WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY ROGER SHAW

Fundamental Strategy of War Undergoes Major Alterations; Presidential Race Warms Up

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

This map graphically shows the many points of attack on the British Isles open to Hitler's air raiders.

GERMAN WAR: Strategy

It is about time that we examined the fundamental strategy of the German war, at this point. For the whole situation has changed, in England, in Germany, and in the United States.

The German aim was a simple one. It was to attack England by land, sea, and air, without wasting much time or effort in other theaters of war, which were trifling, anyway. Italy was expected to take Malta, and Spain was expected to enter the war and take Gibraltar, with the possibility that Japan might take Hongkong, but all these were side issues as compared with the basic battle of Britain. Here the preliminary German air bombardment proved highly effective, and English Portsmouth and Welsh Cardiff were believed already to be gutted. Edward VIII, duke of Windsor, was called a fifth columnist by some Englishmen, and hailed as the next monarch by others.

Churchill Plan

The English war plan was this: to hold out, like a besieged fortress, if possible for two or three months. Then, late fall would put an end to German operations against the island fortress. At this point, the English would swing into offensive action in the following way: by an intensified sea blockade that would bring famine to the entire continent of Europe. There have been crop shortages, and failures, on the continent, and another war-winter might bring untold horrors to the Dutch, Belgians, French, Norse, Danes, etc.—and even to the Germans. This was exactly what Winston Churchill was counting on.

There was one hitch in this plan. What food there was on the continent, would go (1) to the German army, (2) to the German home folks, and (3) to the Dutch, Belgians, French, etc., etc. Thereby, the British would make the Dutch and French suffer for Hitler's wrongdoings. But this was only the beginning of the repercussions. It was expected that this plan—the "Churchill plan," they called it—would have the following astounding effect in the United States: it would turn the isolationists into interventionists, and the interventionists into isolationists. The reason for this was as follows: the humane isolationists could not stand the continental starvation, and would want to intervene

NAMES

... in the news

New York city's Mayor LaGuardia strongly advocated universal military service.

President Manuel Quezon of the Philippines told American high-commissioner Francis Sayre (Woodrow Wilson's son-in-law): "We must do our own thinking and learn lessons from contemporary history—or bust!"

Claude Dornier Jr., son of Germany's outstanding aircraft designer, was in New York, and planned to enter an American university in the autumn. Dornier bombers were being massed for the battle of Britain: all-metal monoplanes.

Gen. Eugene Mittelhauser's famous Near Eastern French army was reported, at last, ready for final disbandment, under the direction of an Italian war mission. Mittelhauser succeeded Gen. Max Weygand when the latter went to France to wind up the war and help reorganize the government.

to break the British blockade and feed the starving French, Dutch, and Belgians, with American food-stuffs (of which we would have a surplus). This would make the isolationists take an interventionist position. Meanwhile, the interventionists would cry "hands off" the British blockade, and would want the continent to stew in its own juice, which would turn them into isolationists. This, then, was the keynote to the European war situation as a whole. Meanwhile, Hitler liberated the Belgian war prisoners and sent them home, having long since done the same by the Norwegian and Dutch soldier-captives. The French were expected to be next on the parole list. Not so, the "tough-and-ready" Poles, of whom there were more than a million in German military hands.

CAMPAIGN: Up-Warming

The 1940 presidential campaign race was busy up-warming. It was, in fact, getting warmer and warmer. The third term attempt, by Mr. Roosevelt brought forth many dire predictions from newspaper editorial writers. One excellent quip went the rounds. A lady said to a gent: "But a third term's unprecedented!" To which the gent replied, "So was General Washington's first term."

Some thoughtful students of political science believed that the third term phenomenon was a pale American reflection of totalitarian dictatorships abroad. . . . just as our Civil war of 1861 was a pale reflection of "civil 1848" in Europe. Henry Wallace was put up as Democratic vice president in order to match the Republican McNary, for both were agricultural experts of the very first water. The choice of Wallace brought out that this New Dealer was an ex-Republican, and Mr. Roosevelt had passed over a number of regulation machine Democrats.

Wallace, Ickes, Stimson, Knox, Hopkins, Miss Perkins: none of them had had a Democratic background. But then, of course, the ex-Democrat Willkie had only been a Republican for but two scant years. Hoover, too, was a former Democrat, while it was expected that Al Smith would continue to take a walk. It looked as though the old party divisions were breaking down all along the line, and the terms New Deal and Old Guard were increasingly taking the place of the Republican and Democratic tags. The loss of Jim Farley, the political genius who managed the party machinery for Roosevelt, was a heavy blow to many of the Democrats.

More of It

While a good many Democrats were muttering about the III term, Wallace, and Farley, Willkie stressed his own humble origin, and inferred artfully that Roosevelt's path had been a lot softer. Willkie said, furthermore, that he was making no sacrifice, but that he really wanted to run—which was certainly obvious to almost anybody.

OIL, OIL, OIL: Petroleum

Large shipments of oil have been going through to Spain, from American Texas, and also from South American Venezuela and Colombia. Something like 2½ million barrels had been sent from the United States in eight months of the war. Was Hitler getting much of it? Probably, they thought in Washington.

Some, in fact, believed that Germany had been getting far more oil from America, than from Russia.

Landlubbers Will Be U. S. Ensigns Bye and Bye

Landlubbers from colleges all over the United States (above left) are lined up in civilian clothes in New York city as they prepare to participate in a program of training 600 young men for naval reserve ensign commissions. A boatload of reservists (center) shown on their way out to the U. S. S. Wyoming, the training ship. Right, Robert Morgenthau, son of the secretary of the treasury, is pictured in formation with other reservists after donning the uniform of an apprentice seaman.

Australians Turning Out Guns for the Empire

Straining every nerve to aid the mother country in her hour of need, Australian factory workers are toiling day and night turning out tanks, planes, guns and ammunition that will be used in the defense of Great Britain. Above is a scene in a Melbourne factory where gun parts are manufactured for shipment by sea to ports in the United Kingdom where they will be assembled and turned over to the defending British army.

They're Ready to Learn American Ways

Safe from the horrors of war are these three children of Maj. Arthur Lockhart of the British army who landed in New York city recently. They were members of another band of refugee British children seeking a haven in the United States. Their father is an officer in the King's Hussars, now fighting for England against the Axis powers. The young refugees are being cared for by relatives in America.

Even the Experts Spill Sometimes

Proving that even the most expert of experts will spill once in a while, Ed Stanley takes a header during a practice run for the annual Catalina-Hermosa-Manhattan beach aquaplane race at Hermosa beach, Calif. Still upright and riding high is Bob Brown, who won the race three years ago. The event draws the champion aquaplanists of the Pacific coast each year.

Cleared by FBI

Carl Byoir, New York public relations counsel who was cleared of charges made by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas that he had engaged in un-American activities. The department of justice declared that an FBI investigation "disclosed no evidence whatever" to support the allegation.

Literary Exile

His long hair put up in a net, Maurice Maeterlinck, famous Belgian author of "The Bluebird," is shown soon after his arrival in the United States as a war refugee, following the German triumph.

It's Easy to Make And Easy to Wear

MAKE it in a few hours, and wear it day after day after day. You can see, from the small diagram sketch, how easy this dress is to put together—merely five pieces, including the sleeves, and the only detailing consists of a few simple darts at the waistline. But you can't really tell until you get it on, how easy it is to wear and work in, how unhampering and becoming. The waistline looks slim but is completely unrestricting—nothing about the dress to catch you up short when reaching into the top shelf or dusting down the stairs. The front fastening makes it easy to get into. This is an easily tubable dress, too. Make up design No. 1966-B in seersucker, linen, percale or gingham. Even this simple pattern includes a detailed sew chart.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1966-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 14 (32) requires 3½ yards of 35-inch material without nap. Send order to:

DESKINS WELLS AND HIS FAMILY

Wells Thanks Voters

Deskins Wells, who led his nearest opponent by approximately 8 000 votes, in the first primary, today extended his thanks to the people of Donley county for their support.

"I am deeply grateful to the people of Donley county for the splendid vote you gave me. I appreciate the many courtesies shown me by the other candidates in the race. When I think of the loyalty, the confidence, and the hard work done in my behalf by friends in every county and community of the Panhandle I am very humble as well as very proud. My hope and firm determination is to so serve you when you when you send me to Washington that I will merit such support and such friend."

Wells, 38 year old country editor who has been outstanding in his farm and civic work for 15 years, surprised even his most loyal supporters by the strength of his vote in every county in the district. His total of 16 640 was approximately double that of his nearest opponent, who received 8 865. Well's main strength came from the agricultural communities, with the exception of his home county where he received over 81 per cent of the total votes. Wells showed a uniform strength in every county in the district.

In expressing his deep thanks Wells declared that he would continue his down to midnight campaign with every ounce of energy at his command.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY ROBERT SHAW

Russian Drive Into Rumania Alters European War Picture; G. O. P. Picks Willkie, McNary

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

King Carol of Rumania is pictured here inspecting one of his army's tanks. This particular machine is one of a number made for Rumania in England while that country was still on the allied bandwagon. Now, harassed by Russia, Rumania has shifted her loyalty and has appealed to Berlin and Rome to keep Russia from "grabbing" more territory.

III RUSSIAN WAR: Bessarabia, etc.

This so-called World War is a peculiar affair—a war of in-and-outers. Russia, for instance, is always popping in and out of it. One never knows where she is. For example, the Soviets popped into the latter stages of the Polish campaign last September, and took most of the eastern half of what they used to call "Polonia Restituta." Then, at the beginning of December, and thereafter, Russia popped in again, and fought the Finns, picking up Finland's second city of Viborg (Viipur), the Finnish Mannerheim line and other bases and odd bits. Also, on and off, Russia has virtually annexed the three little Baltic states of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, which used to belong to the czar and his navy, prior to 1917.

Then came another Russian putsch, quite impersonal, like the others. This time it was Rumania, which had grabbed off a Russian province called Bessarabia, in 1918. The Soviets took it back, and also took handy bases at the mouth of the river Danube, and on the strategic Black sea coast. Comic King Carol, playboy of the western world, appealed to Germany and Italy as a matter of course, then took the Russians rather calmly. Rumania also "owed" territory to Hungary and Bulgaria (from 1918), and has treated her racial and religious minorities badly. Nobody wept much over comic King Carol, and his Merry Widow setup.

II GERMAN WAR: Mr. Shaw . . .

George Bernard Shaw made some really pertinent remarks on England, France and Germany, G.B.S. said that anybody who introduced 100 per cent military communism, a la Hitler, could not fail to beat anybody who didn't introduce it. He said that England, under Churchill, had gone through the motions of introducing military communism, too, but that it was, thank goodness, still merely a blueprint. He indicated that there were better things than military conquest: which is pretty obvious. Then, he got around to la belle France. He said that England should have declared war on France, when Pétain quit the war, just as England declared war on Russia, when Lenin quit the war, in 1917. He said that France was more dangerous to England as a phoney neutral, than as a militant foe.

NAMES . . . in the news

At its thirty-sixth annual convention in Chicago, the Advertising Federation of America selected as president Elton G. Borton, advertising director of La Salle Extension university, Chicago.

Mrs. Wendell Willkie's maiden name was Wilk. She comes from Indiana, too. To match that, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt was a Roosevelt, before her marriage.

Col. Thurston Hughes, U. S. A., was announced by the war department as chief of defense of the American Panama Canal Zone. The colonel has been adjutant general of the Panama canal department. He succeeds Gen. Jacob Devers, U. S. A.

G.B.S. added that he wished he was prime minister, in order to deal with the French in proper style. When he was asked why he didn't talk more these days, he hinted delicately that the U. K. police wouldn't let him. This appeared more than probable.

Mr. Balbo

In the hot summer days of 1933, your commentator stood on a Hudson river pier, and watched an Italian aerial squadron form and reform over his head. The squad was en route for the big doings at Chicago. It had flown in from "far-away" Europe, amid great eclat. At its head was a glamorous, bearded figure, Gen. Italo Balbo. Balbo, the great airman, was the No. 2 Fascist, after Mussolini. He had marched on Rome, and helped put Benito in power, in 1922.

Balbo's American flight made him too popular in Italy. There was only room for one man on the stage. So Mussolini sidetracked Italo to govern African Libya, where that tough gentleman did a good job. He stayed there seven full years, and built up the great empire, and threatened England's Egypt. Then the great airman was killed, out there, in a piddling airplane accident. Mussolini (perhaps) breathed easier.

WILKIE: McNary

The Republicans met at Philadelphia and nominated liberal, able Wendell Willkie on the sixth ballot. The chief rivals to Willkie were Dewey and Taft. The Willkies finally outvoted the Dewbirds and Taftists, amid a rather acrimonious row.

Moreover, Willkie did not differ much from Roosevelt on matters of foreign policy. The Republicans had adopted an elaborate "peace" plank in their platform, but Willkie's earlier war utterances did not check with it. It looked perhaps as though the Republican party watchdogs would have to watch Willkie.

Sen. Charles McNary of Oregon, farm progressive, got the Republican vice presidential nomination. It appeared that, somehow, many interventionists had attended the Republican convention, to cheer for Willkie, when logically they should be cheering for Roosevelt: for "peace" is the Republican issue, this time, of most significance.

F. D. R. & W. W.

Roosevelt was late to a press conference, and apologized by saying that somebody had turned off his elevator's electric power, and he hoped it didn't stem from Philadelphia—a crack at public-utility Willkie. Then Roosevelt said he would like to talk over foreign affairs with Willkie. The wary, wily Willkie replied that he would be delighted to discuss national defense with Roosevelt—if that was what Roosevelt meant by "foreign affairs." "I think one should be most courteous to his predecessor," said warrior Willkie, who can be an extremely meek talker. That meant that the 1940 campaign was on—with a bounce and a bang.

FORODDS & FORENDS:

The ailing League of Nations finally liquidated itself. The last 28 employees were given notice at Geneva, and Woodrow Wilson's ghost sighed from the treetops. Mr. Wilson, Sir Robert Cecil, and General Jan Smuts of South Africa, were the joint architects of the league edifice in 1919. Many people, throughout the world, including even brutal Germany, hoped that, phoenix-like, the league would rise again, from its 1940 ashes.

Japan's Birthday

Kensuke Horinouchi, Japan's ambassador to the U. S., cuts the ornate birthday cake during ceremonies in New York, which marked the 2600th anniversary of the founding of the Japanese empire. Sideline wis were wondering whether Japan is trying to cut her cake in China and still have it, too.

RUMORS: Believe or Not

There was increasing talk—despite denials—about Neville Chamberlain rising from the political grave, as a possible peace-maker. The great "appeaser" was still popular in conservative British circles, which did not altogether trust Premier-dictator Churchill and his totalitarian setup. Chamberlain has been better liked by the Germans than Churchill, and the rumor-mongers said Neville might be able to turn the peace trick, without incurring too much expense. The trade-unions disliked the "umbrella bearer," but old England is well over half female in population, and the ladies traditionally have preferred "Chambers" to "Church." They swung a very heavy, organized feminine vote. One critic observed that the far-flung dominions of the seven seas seemed more bellicose than the British Isles proper. The anti-French element in England, al-jays-strong, was pointing a finger, tipped with gall, at the "back-stabbing" Gallies across the narrow channel. In New York, opinion indicated some sort of peace by, at very latest, mid-August or September 1. As you know, your commentator likes to sidestep predictions.

THREATS & THRUSTS: Might of Mars

England was threatened by Germany. Rumania was more than threatened by Russia, and also by Bulgaria and Hungary. French Indo-China was threatened by Japan. French Morocco was threatened by Spanish Morocco. British Malta was threatened by Italy. Marshal Pétain was threatened by Winston Churchill. Uruguay was threatened by some Nazis. London threatened to conscript the humble Hindus. Hindu revolt threatened London. The French navy threatened to join England, to join Germany, to commit suicide. The southern Irish threatened the northern Irish, or vice versa. The Chinese threatened to make peace, and threatened to go on fighting. The so-called fifth column threatened America (so they said)—then subdivided into campaign Republicans and campaign Democrats, who threatened one another.

INDUSTRY: Change of Pace

Current reports of Federal Reserve banks plus other commercial indices reveal that a downward trend of industrial activity which has marked U. S. business since last December has now been reversed. Expanding production is noted in many key industries.

Steel production is now booming along at capacity speeds and new orders from foreign and domestic buyers which are currently pouring in should keep blast furnaces roaring for many months to come.

Automobile tire shipments have shown large increases and leading rubber companies say these more than offset a seasonal decline in sales to car manufacturers.

TASTY TRIFLES: Hysteria

A Wyoming crowd showed the current hysteria. They tarred and feathered a member of a harmless religious sect, who had been "distributed" pacifist literature, and who was against compulsory flag-saluting. The poor fellow did not know how to salute the flag—and accidentally gave what looked like a Nazi salute. Of course, as a pacifist, he detested Nazis. Nevertheless, he was a dangerous fifth-columnar.

Boston school children can split their infinitives to suit themselves, according to a sensible proposal by a school committeeman, named Joe Lee. There really is no such thing as correct English spelling, pronunciation, or punctuation, as George Washington was forever pointing out. "Language, obviously, is a tool, and not a musical instrument," as one linguistic cynic put it.

It was 6,000 airplane engines for England, to 3,000 for America, that revolted Henry Ford, although it did not seem to revolt Secretary Morgenthau.

WHO NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK—Some people don't know when they are well off. Karl Ulmanis was a milk man at Lincoln, Neb., for five years, and doing all right, before he went back to Latvia, to be president of the country and sit on a hot seat for 25 years thereafter. It was erroneously reported that he had fled, as the Russians moved in, but the news today is that he is still around, and has broadcast a message to his people to be nice to the invaders. Nobody knows the trouble he's seen. Considering that steady job he had, it looks like a score for the isolationists.

Anyone in Need Of Good Milk Wagon Driver?

In Lincoln, in 1909, he was Karl Ulmanis, not Ulmanis, former dirt farmer and country editor in Latvia. The dean of the state college of agriculture got him the milk route, so he could work his way through college. He was graduated in the allotted time. He was steady and dependable, and might have been mistaken for a Nebraska farmer.

One day, he discarded his bill overalls, appeared in a store suit and was seen no more in those parts. Everybody liked him and they were especially shocked by the fact that he owed about $1,000, which he had borrowed to start a cheese factory in Texas. Six years passed when A. L. Haacker, one of his creditors, had a letter from him, enclosing full payment of his debt. He explained that he had a nice job as president of Latvia and was glad to be able to pay what he owed. Other bank drafts followed. The $1,000 was paid in full.

As president and foreign minister of Latvia, he lived in an ancient, turreted castle and ruled in a medieval throne room. On the wall behind his desk, the medieval heraldic emblem of Latvia was crossed with the green pennant of the Nebraska State College of Agriculture. But he wasn't having a wonderful time.

The country was under czarist Russia when young Mr. Ulmanis ran his newspaper. An indiscreet editorial brought about his departure for Lincoln by devious routes. To stave off Nazi aggression, he made himself dictator in 1934.

THE possibility of South and Central American countries picking up empire salvage before the U. S. A. works out its hemisphere defense plans seems to have been but lightly regarded. However, here's little Guatemala reaching out for British Honduras, and Sir Samuel Hoare's mahogany forests and mills therein, according to news reports.

Gen. Jorge Ubico, dictator of Guatemala for the last nine years, brings forward in the files the tale of a British pirate who snatched British Honduras from his country 60 years ago. "Losers weepers, finders keepers." Whether that applies to the wreckage of empires seems not to have been covered in international law.

General Ubico is the only living ruler who looks like Napoleon. He often is called the "Little Napoleon of the Tropics." He was elected for his first one-year term as president. He survived two revolutions during this term, and then set aside the constitutional limitation against more than one term—and has had eight repeats, so far.

The general received a technical and military education in the United States and Europe, and rose to political power through various provincial and national offices. He entered the national assembly in 1918. He concentrates on road-building, sanitation, agriculture and vocational training for young people. He has been strongly pro-U. S. A., and reports from Washington are that our state department probably wouldn't make much of a fuss over his grabbing British Honduras—as long as Hitler doesn't get it.

Brilliantly educated, hard-boiled, and diligent, he has worked out in his small laboratory his own idea of an authoritarian state. Monopoly is the central idea. He grants exclusive concessions in basic goods and industries. To restrain grabbing and grafting, he establishes a probity department in his cabinet. Anyone working for the government or doing important business with it, has to file a complete inventory of his own and his family's possessions. If these goods and chattels increase too rapidly, the general's busy little gestapo is on the job.

Information of Gram's Old Buffet

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
YOU have heard quite a good deal in these articles about Grandmother, who is just "Gram" to her family. Also about her favorite grandson, Bill, and his and-coming bride, Marty—same for whom Gram made the stunning rag rug in Sewing Book 3. Then there is Bill's kid sister, Betsy, who streamlined the old iron bed illustrated in Book 3. You all know "Mom," too. She has become almost famous because of her curtains and slip-covers and "The Rug That Grew Up With the Family." And there is "Dad" who is handy with hammer, saw and screw driver.

Well, recently the family have "ganged-up" on Gram about her fancy out-of-date buffet. They think she deserves and can afford something new. Gram decided to get rid of the buffet, then Marty said that she wanted it! This sketch shows you one of the things she and Bill did with it. Watch next week for what became of the mirror and legs.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—The first World war tipped over 20 reigning princes and dukes, four emperors and seven kings, in addition to a scattering of small-fry royal names are now all but forgotten. European Royalty is heading our way in droves.

Carol of Rumania and George of Greece were the only kings who came back, and they aren't a good risk for Lloyd's—and perhaps Lloyd's isn't either.

If the Mayflower were still afloat, it could book a full passenger list of kings fleeing from commoners, seeking a haven in a new world—at any rate, kings and their consorts, their courtiers and others of princely rank.

It is understood that the Empress Zita of Austria will be in America before long. The word "former" is omitted here, in deference to a clever, purposeful woman, who has never admitted that she isn't still the empress. Of her son, Archduke Otto, now living in a two-room apartment in New York, she once said, "If the time ever comes when he has but one servant, that servant will call him 'your majesty.'"

In early-day San Francisco a stately old gentleman with a splendid, kindly uniform announced that he was "Emperor Norton," and was pleased to make San Francisco his royal domain. Nobody knew who he was or where he came from, but he looked and behaved like an emperor, so they took him up on his proposition. He held court, for years, received homage and issued decrees, and when he needed revenue levied on the stock exchange, finding a handful of $20 gold pieces always ready. He died sitting straight upright in his little cubby-hole room, wearing his full dress uniform. The city gave him a grand funeral. San Francisco was proud of her emperor. They never did learn anything about him.

This department was never particularly partial to kings, but in addition to child refugees it might be a nice idea for each city over here to adopt a king, or a prince or a duke. Hollywood, of course, would get Zog of Albania—now in London and fixing to sail for America, according to news reports—a "swinging king" who installed in his Graustarkian palace a 40-piece American jazz band and became one of the best hoofers in his kingdom.

Philadelphia probably would put in a bid for the Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg, a thrifty homebody, now in Quebec. The news is that, if England falls, she and her six children will come to the U. S. A. She knits; plays the piano; is a fluent linguist and rears her children beautifully. There might not be any bidders for old Ferdinand of Bulgaria, the butterfly collector. He has a knack for pageantry, however, which might interest New Orleans.

In case the above should appear to be a callous reference to tragic unhappiness, the main idea is that this democracy might well accord a certain respect to fugitive royalty because it appears to have something it really believes in.

AT MIAMI, FLA., IN October, 1934, John Dwight Sullivan, then commander of the New York department of the American Legion, urged the Legionnaires to concentrate less on more and bigger bonuses and to center their efforts on understanding and supporting the government in constructive undertakings. He emphasized the need for co-operation as citizens rather than activity as a pressure group. His was a scholarly essay on citizen ship.

Now Mr. Sullivan has placed before the convention of the New York County Legion a proposal, for a single, unified United States air force, in which all air arms of all services would be under a single command. Mr. Sullivan is chairman of the Legion's national aviation committee. He is a New York lawyer and an alumnus of Princeton university.

IT'S PICNIC TIME!
(Recipes Below)

Household News
By Eleanor Howe

Summertime is picnic time, and you pack up your troubles as you unpack your picnic kit. Perhaps one reason why a picnic is such a popular outdoor sport is because its preparations are so easy on the lady of the house... sandwiches, stuffed tomatoes (or just small whole tomatoes) with hard cooked eggs and a steaming cup of tea, are a traditional picnic lunch—and that's an easy meal if there ever was one!

No dishes to wash afterward... paper cups and plates eliminate all such labor. Carry the tea in a thermos bottle, if you like, or brew it "fisherman style" over an open fire. One hot dish is important at a picnic; it might be stew, or chowder, baked beans, or a macaroni dish—but do have something hot!

There are picnic hints and menus that you'll like, in my cookbook, "Easy Entertaining"; there's a menu for a beach party, a hiking trip and a steak fry, too—with all the recipes you'll need for this simple form of entertaining.

Broiled Baked Bean Sandwiches.
Bread, sliced
Baked beans
Cheese, sliced or cut in strips
Bacon slices, cut in halves
Arrange bread on broiler. When bread is toasted on one side, turn. Then cover the untoasted sides of the slices of bread with baked beans. Place cheese over the beans and top each sandwich with one-half slice of bacon. Place under broiler and broil until bacon is crisp and brown and cheese is melted.

Ginger Creams.
(Makes 3 dozen 1½-inch squares)
½ cup shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
2 cups flour
¾ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 cup dark molasses
1 egg (separated)
1 cup boiling water

Cream shortening and sugar together. Sift flour, soda, salt and ginger, and blend with the creamed mixture, using a pastry blender or a fork. Add molasses and egg yolk, and beat well. Then add boiling water, gradually, and beat well. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg white. Spread batter in greased jelly roll pan (about 11 by 18 inches) and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for approximately 18 minutes. Cool, and frost with boiled icing or confectioners' sugar icing. Cut in squares.

Deviled Eggs.
4 eggs, hard cooked
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon butter, melted
½ teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Cut the hard-cooked eggs in halves crosswise. Remove yolks, mash, and add salt, pepper, melted butter, and prepared mustard. Refill whites with this mixture.

One-Dish Meal for a Picnic.
1 pound country style sausage
2 medium size onions (sliced)
1 can lima beans
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 teaspoon chili powder
Shape sausage into flat cakes and fry with the onions until the sausage is well done. Drain off all but ½ cup of the fat, add remaining ingredients, and simmer for 30 minutes.

Baked Macaroni—Creole Style.
(Serves 4)
½ package macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons onion (minced)
1 green pepper (chopped)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ pound country style sausage
½ cup soft bread crumbs (buttered)
Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water. Brown onion slightly in the

Remember the wonderful ice cream you used to love, as a child—the kind you had at parties and picnics and Sunday school socials, too? butter. Add green pepper, and tomatoes. Add sugar and salt and cook until the green pepper is tender. Make sausage into flat cakes. In a buttered baking dish place a layer of macaroni, then a layer of sausage cakes, and another layer of macaroni. Pour the tomato mixture over the macaroni and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 45 minutes.

Raisin Drop Cookies.
¼ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1½ cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup seedless raisins
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Add eggs, well beaten, and mix thoroughly. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk and vanilla, beginning with the flour mixture. Add raisins. Drop from a teaspoon on a greased baking sheet and place a raisin on the top of each one. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Crazy Cake.
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup cocoa
½ cup lard
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups flour (sifted)
½ cup boiling water

Place all of the ingredients in a bowl in the order given. Do not stir until boiling water is added. Then beat 3 minutes, using a rotary beater, or 2 minutes if an electric mixer is used. Place in greased 8-inch square pan and bake 35 to 40 minutes in a moderately hot oven (325 degrees).

Let "Better Baking" Solve Your Baking Problems.
True it is we all have baking problems. Yet, if solved correctly, we save time because fallen cakes don't have to be made over again and we save money—because the family simply won't eat tough, chewy pastry, heavy, soggy cakes, etc.

In fact, it is to avoid just such baking failures as these (and many more) that I have compiled this cookbook, "Better Baking." "Better Baking" brings to you a whole series of baking hints, as well as a compilation of many of my own favorite baking recipes, including such unusual good-to-eat ones as a frosted nut spice cake, gumdrop cake, chocolate fudge cake, quick apple cake, and even a maraschino cherry cake.

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EDWARD GRIFFITH, who's producer and director of Paramount's "Virginia," drew a long breath of relief when Madeleine Carroll landed safely in New York. She'd said that she would be back in time to start work promptly, but it seemed unlikely that she would be able to keep her word, especially when nothing was known about her except that she was somewhere in France.

For her the trip was a disappointing one. She couldn't reach either her family or the orphans to whom she had turned over her chateau near Paris. She couldn't see her fiance, although she did succeed in learning that he was in Tunisia. Despite the harrowing experiences that she went through, she looked lovelier than ever when she returned; she spent a few days in New York, and then departed for Charlottesville, Va., and "Virginia."

Remember the girl who won a contest that was conducted over the radio, and got the name of "Alice Eden" and a part in a movie as a result? Her name was Rowena Cook, and she's taken it back again and gone on record as saying that the lot of a contest winner in Hollywood is certainly not an easy one.

She was thrilled over winning the contest and getting a role and a contract. Everybody was swell to her. She'd spent years studying dramatic art, and naturally thought she'd be considered an actress. But she learned that people just thought of her as a contest winner.

Her contract expired, and she was on her own. Instead of giving up hope, she decided that this was really her chance to make good. "I literally buried Alice Eden," she said the other day. "And started out to be just Rowena Cook."
And as Rowena she landed a part in Edward Small's "Kit Carson," and did so well that she's had a lot of other offers.

"Love Thy Neighbor" has been officially set as the title for the comedy in which Jack Benny and Fred Allen will share starring honors. Mary Martin will have the feminine lead, and Rochester, Virginia Dale and Theresa Harris will have supporting roles.

It takes only one good idea to make a successful radio program—Ralph Edwards had one a while ago, and his "Truth or Consequences" resulted. It's so good that on August 17 it will switch to the coast to coast NBC Red network—after starting out with only four stations!

An announcer of many a quiz program, Edwards got the idea that contestants would have more fun—and so would listeners—if they had to do something as well as say something. So he adapted the old parlor game, "Truth or Consequences"; if a contestant fails to answer a question, he must act out some humorous feat. For example, one contestant recently had to don a 10-gallon sombrero and sing "I'm an Old Cowhand," while riding a bucking electric horse and shooting a cap pistol.

The Merry Macs (you would hear them on Fred Allen's program, and now they're on Al Pearce's) are a curious combination—the three brothers improvise their own arrangements, can't read a note of music and seldom know what key they're singing in. They hired the fourth member of their group, Helen Carroll, because she'd been elected beauty queen at the University of Indiana—only after she'd begun singing with them did they learn that she's an accomplished musician.

ODDS AND ENDS

It's possible nowadays to make money by listening to "The Court of Missing Heirs"—a reward of fifty dollars is awarded for information leading to the discovery of heirs sought on the program.

Ray Milland has taken out a $2,000 insurance policy on two rubber trees he imported from Java for his garden.

Preston Foster has applied for a button in the swordfish club—after seven years of trying he finally landed a 275 pound fish, which entitles him to the coveted button.

When rag rugs are washed they should be rinsed thoroughly because soap left in them makes them catch dirt more easily.

To dice or cut marshmallows easily, dip a dry saw into powdered sugar.

Small size bath towels which are light in weight but firmly woven are easier for children to handle and are easier to launder.

To clear the living-room of stale tobacco smoke: Prepare a jar with a few drops of oil of lavender, on a lump of crystal ammonia. Pour on a little boiling water and leave the jar in the room. You will be pleased with the pleasant fresh scent it leaves behind.

Adamson Thanks Voters

In victory there is glory. In defeat there is solace in the thought of the large number of my supporters. Defeated by a narrow margin. I have no thought of bitterness. I shall continue to strive to merit your confidence and respect as one who tries to be a good citizen.

I am most grateful to those who voted for me two years ago, and those who supported me in the present campaign. To those who did not, I am fully aware that you are entitled to your choice, and I most assuredly would not question that right.
Neither do I harbor any ill will whatever against any of you
J. W Adamson

To the Voters of Donley Co.

ship of this county that I will try to merit the confidence placed in me, and to show my appreciation of that trust by giving in return therefor the very best services possible.
