Primary election results introduce little change to local political landscape

The Primary Election on March 2, did little to change the look of the political landscape in Kinney County.

The unofficial returns for the Democratic Party in the county all favored the incumbents. Diana Gutierrez was elected as County Treasurer with 473 votes over challenger Nancy Mendoza with 239 votes. Gutierrez is a long-time county employee who was appointed to the Treasurer's position after Janis Floyd retired in December, 2008.

Joe Montalvo once again secured his position as County Commissioner, Precinct 2, with 166 votes. Montalvo was opposed by Rose Mary Slubar with 33 votes and Ponce Padron with 81 votes. Montalvo does not currently have a Republican challenger in General Election in November, but could face a write-in candidate if filings are made in August.

Pat Melancon was also victorious in his Primary bid for reelection as County Commissioner, Precinct 4 with 97 votes. Melancon defeated Ricky Alvarado who garnered 63 votes. Precinct 4 has the most registered voters, but turn-out for the Primary was considered to be light. Melancon will have to face Republican challenger David Tinney in November.

Incumbent Justice of the Peace Narce Villarreal took the position again with 550 votes over Michael Wimberley with 157 votes. Villarreal does not have a Republican challenger for the General Election. County Judge Tim Ward, running on the Republican ticket, will face Democrat Joe N. Garza, Jr. in the General Election. Ward replaced the late Johnny Fritter nearly two years ago.

Registered Voters By Precinct:

Pct. 1: 530
Pct. 2: 532
Pct. 3: 471
Pct. 4: 761

Rio Grande Electric Co-op Student Essay Contest

Brackettville - Eligible students ages 14-18 could win a new computer system, if selected as one of the two winning entries in the 2010 RGEC Essay Contest.

To be eligible, a student's parent or legal guardian must be a member of Rio Grande Electric Cooperative (RGEC). This means they must have an active Co-op electric account in their name.

Students must submit an original essay on CD, containing 500-700 words, entitled "The Cooperative Advantage". While it may seem like a lot of writing, that's only about 1 1/2 pages! The essay should describe how and why the cooperative business model is preferable. (Word count will be according to Microsoft Word.) Entry Deadline: April 23, 2010.

Parents, don't let your child

miss this great opportunity! Encourage them to enter the contest! A previous winner related that it took her only about 4 hours of work, including research time, to construct her winning essay. Rio Grande conducts these contests annually in order to bring about awareness of "the cooperative way" among the Co-op leaders of tomorrow.

For complete rules and entry forms, visit the Rio Grande Electric Co-op web site at www.riogrande.coop and click on the News & Information tab. This information was distributed to area school districts in January, is also available at each RGEC area office in Alpine, Brackettville, Carrizo Springs, Dell City, and Fort Stockton, or by calling 1-800-749-1509, ext. 1182 and requesting a packet be mailed.

Our Redeemer installs new church council officers

By Barbara Williams

ORLC Council Secretary
Our Redeemer Lutheran Church installed the coming year church council officers and council members in early February during their Sunday morning service.

The new council president will be Frank Taylor. The new vice president will be Dick Reinap; Bruce Trautwein will serve as treasurer and secretary will be Barb Williams. Dianna Daniels, Les Meyer and Pastor

Nathan Lafrenz make up the rest of the council.

At the 13th Annual Congregational Meeting in January, Cindy and Gerald Anderson were awarded the Jerry O'Brien Award for their endless, undaunted time and talent services rendered to the church.

Most recently, the Lutheran members held their 16th Annual Brat Fry. More than 200 meals were sold and the funds raised were applied to the church's General Fund.

A moment in the sun

By Katie Brown
The Brackett News

The chilly temps and blustery winds on February 25, did not seem to daunt the film crews from Minneapolis, Dallas, Austin and Los Angeles, here to film a commercial for Scheels, a sporting goods company with twenty three stores in eight Midwest states. According to Vice President and Director of Marketing, Jason Loney, an associate from the their Eau Claire, WI store was competing in a bass fishing tournament on Falcon Lake and they decided to take the opportunity to film several different sports segments here in south Texas. Fort Clark Springs Golf Course was chosen for its aesthetics.

Terrin Hicks, the golf expert at the Reno, Nevada Scheels store, was the focus of attention for the golf segment scheduled to air in the Scheels viewing area on March 15. With her winning smile and competitive nature she was fun to watch as she patiently hit the same shots over and over as the film crew worked to get the lighting and angles just right.

Domingo Villarreal, FCS Golf Maintenance Supervisor, stood by, ready to have his crew mow the tee box or blow leaves off the green; whatever the film crew requested in order to achieve the perfect shot. Although it was Couples Day at the golf course, no one seemed to mind skipping two holes in order to accommodate the shoot and to give our golf course its moment in the sun.

Let The Pros Do It

LETTER to the Editor

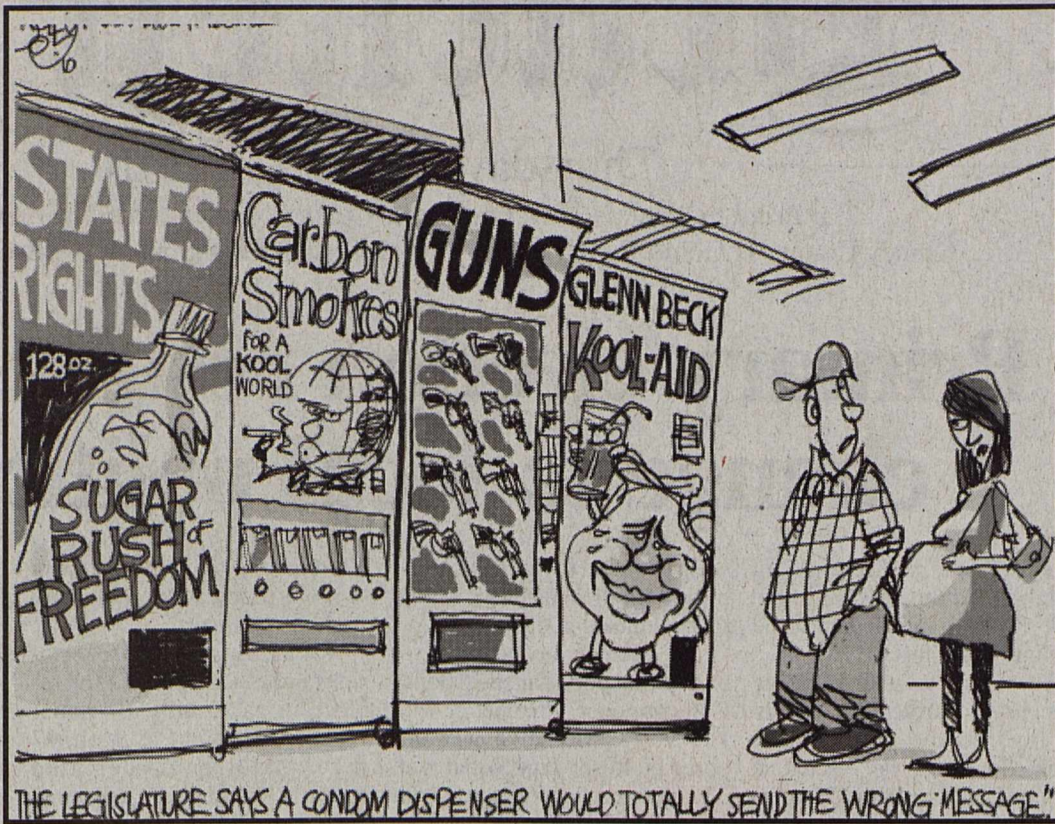

RE: Letter to the Editor by Jerry Lawson,
Published February 25, 2010

I am writing in response to the letter to the editor, by Jerry Lawson, published in the February 25, 2010 edition of The Brackett News. When Rio Grande Electric Cooperative announces a rate increase, there are laws that must be followed. The public notice must contain certain information that can not be omitted. To ensure our public notice comported with Texas law, I had our attorney draft the notice of rate increase.

All notices for rate increase are published using system average numbers. This is done for one obvious reason; to do anything else would require a utility to publish a notice that lists all of its accounts. Although it is not altogether clear, it seems this may be the source of Mr. Lawson's concern about the "lack of concise information".

During the meeting held February 18, 2010, I placed on the screen a worksheet that allowed members to input their own usage and see what the impact of the rate increase would be on them individually. A copy of the worksheet was made available on compact disc to everyone who wanted it so they could examine the impact of the change. In addition, the worksheet is on our web site and can be accessed by anyone desiring to evaluate the Cooperative's rates. The average residential consumer on Rio Grande's system consumes 860 kwhs per month. When the Cooperative sends out bills under the new rates May 5, an average consumer, using 860 kwhs, will receive a 10% increase, which amounts to forty two (42) cents a day. If, conversely, a member uses on average 250 kwhs per month, the daily increase is fifty two (52) cents a day. I apologize to those attending the February 18 meeting if I confused you. If anyone is still unclear about the impact of the increase, please come by the office there are a number of employees that can sit down and go over everything with you. Of course, if you would like to speak to me, I will make time for you. I give you my personal assurance the rate increase is designed to collect the costs associated with each class of service and nothing more.

Sincerely,
Daniel G. Laws

Don't be an "Opposite Say" investor

Emily Cooper
Edward Jones in Del Rio

On Jan. 25, some of us celebrate Opposite Day. Its origins are murky and even its exact date is in some dispute, but Opposite Day has proved to be a source of fun for many people, especially children, who choose to eat breakfast at suppertime and otherwise do things in reverse. However, you may find that acting in an "oppositional" manner is not so harmless at other times in your life such as when you're investing. What types of "oppositional" moves should you avoid? Consider the following:

Buying when prices are high When the financial markets keep rising, many people continue buying more shares in the mistaken belief that "up" is the only direction their investments can go. But while it may be human nature to want to continue racking up gains, it's not necessarily smart investing. The higher an investment has gone, the more likely it becomes that it will plateau or potentially even drop in value. Of course, an investment may one day rise again, but for the near term, its "upside potential" may be limited, so you might do better by finding other opportunities.

Selling because prices are low Just as some investors keep buying when prices are rising, others will sell when prices have dropped, just so they can "cut their losses." This may be a mistake. If the investment still plays a role in your balanced portfolio, and you believe its prospects are still good, you may want to hold on to it despite its price. Furthermore, if your investment's decline is due more to an overall drop in the market than a change in its own fundamentals, it may bounce back when the market recovers. Generally speaking, you should sell an investment if your goals or risk tolerance have changed, if you need to rebalance your portfolio or if the investment itself has undergone some type of shift that no longer makes it compatible with your needs.

Investing too conservatively Given the volatility we've seen in the last couple of years, it's probably not too surprising that many investors have "pulled back" from the market and put a lot of money in certificates of deposit and other fixed-rate, low-return investments. While there is a place for these vehicles in your portfolio, you won't want them to become too dominant because you still need to invest for growth if you're going to achieve your long-term goals, such as a comfortable retirement. The amount of growth-oriented investments you own will depend on your risk tolerance and time horizon, but there's no point in your life even your retirement years when you won't need some growth potential.

Failing to diversify It is important to diversify your dollars among stocks, bonds, government securities and other investments. Even within these broad classes, you should diversify for example, you should consider owning stocks representing different industries and bonds with a variety of issuers and maturities. While diversification, by itself, cannot guarantee a profit or protect against loss, it can help reduce the effects of volatility on your portfolio.

Opposite Day comes but once a year. But making "oppositional" investment moves can have long-lasting and potentially harmful effects. So take the time to explore your investment decisions carefully.

Stress free start to your day

The Fly Lady Marla Cilley

Do you ever look at the clock and find yourself in a panic because you are not dressed yet? It doesn't matter if you are headed off to work in the morning, work from home or you are retired; that same panic tells you that once again that time has gotten away from you!

There is no worse feeling than to walk into the bathroom and be startled by what you see staring back at you. Well there is something that is worse; running to hide when your UPS man comes to the door with a package. Why do we wait to the last minute to get dressed?

I have heard every excuse in the world for not getting dressed, but the truth is we don't take the time. One minute we are having our coffee watching our favorite morning program and the next minute we need to be walking out the door. It slips up on us!

Even though getting dressed is something we do every day, most of us don't know how long it takes us to actually put our clothes on. This is because we get sidetracked; with ironing, getting kids ready, watching tv and everything else that gets thrown our way.

The ease of getting dressed in the morning starts before you ever go to bed. By picking out your clothes and getting them ready; you don't have to think! It is all laid out for you. That will help you put an end to your procrastination.

Unless you keep hitting the snooze button! This tells me that you are not going to bed and getting enough sleep! If getting up and getting moving is hard, then it is time to set your bedtime just a little earlier.

Our habit this month is to practice getting up and getting dressed to lace up shoes first thing in the morning! As soon as your feet hit the floor start getting ready. There are no more excuses! You can do this and you are going to be less stressed in the morning.

Stress free mornings make for a peaceful day! What have you got to lose; your nasty attitude and hateful words. Get up, get dressed and feel on top of the world. Then when you walk into your bathroom you will not scare yourself! You can get more done before you leave. You won't be hiding from a knock on your door! This one act of getting dressed to shoes has you ready for anything that comes your way!

Here are the tools to help you establish this empowering habit!

Pick out your clothes before you go to bed. Go to bed and get plenty of sleep. Get up 15 minutes before the rest of the family. Start getting dressed as soon as your feet hit the floor!

Then lace up your shoes! Your day is off to a peaceful start! That stress free morning sets the tone for the rest of your day!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New security regulation effective April 1, 2010 will require gate security personnel to scan the bar code on the ID cards of all persons entering Laughlin Air Force Base. Prior to then every retired commissioned or non-commissioned individual who plans to enter the Base to go to the commissary, clinic, or other place must have their ID card scanned and fingerprints taken by Base security. Doing this is not difficult. Upon entering through the Main Gate off of Highway 90, immediately turn right and enter the security trailer by the gate. Ask the security person on duty to scan your ID card and fingerprint you. After checking that your records are up to date the card will be returned to you. It should only take a few minutes. Your card will then be ready for inspection at the gate without being held up further. THANK YOU

Good morning Kinney County

My name is Michael G. Wimberly. To those whom voted for me in the Justice of the Peace Race GOD bless you. For those of you whom voted for Mrs. Villarreal GOD bless you to. If you look at the total numbers on the door of our court house, the JP race brought in more voters than anything else on the ballot. It has been a wonderful experience and honor to be involved in such an event. Excluding the Republicans, the remaining 2500+ people of Kinney County that did not vote SHAME on you and GOD bless you 1000 fold in a like many you voted. It is not just a privilege to vote, it is a duty to our community and our country to prepare a future not only for our selves but for our children which I do believe is our future. Let your voices be heard you do make a difference. It is a beautiful day here in Kinney County Texas today March 3, 2010 and I am grateful to be part of here in Brackettville with my family and the many of you I have the honor to call friend. To Mrs. Villarreal all I can say is BRAVO Lady BRAVO, if I can be of any help to you please do not hesitate to ask.

In conclusion, I hope I can count on the continued support of those whom voted for me as I have thrown my hat in the running for Mayor of Brackettville, Texas. I do believe I will make a great public servant to the people. From my experience it appears our elected officials have come to expect the people to serve them and I think that is backwards. We are to serve the people and each other. I do not think CHRIST washed his disciples feet because he had a lack of power but to actually show them how to be of service. With continuous thought of others, GOD bless you and our country.

Thank you, Michael G. Wimberly

Heather Knox's review of
THE INVENTORS DAUGHTER OR HE MADE A GRAB FOR THE LAB

This Saturday and Sunday for Fort Clark Days, the Old Quarry Society is putting on the melodrama, THE INVENTORS DAUGHTER. Directed by Mrs. Lois Carlson, it is about a young girl, Charmain Winsome (Wendy Knox) and her mother Adora Winsome (Jewel Robinson) who are trying to pay off their debts. Their land lord, Gustav Guttermost (Pat Melancon) is a nasty man who shares a secret desire with Ima Fox (Leta Bishop) to cheat the Winsomes out of a potential fortune. Family friends Franky Fixit (Larry McNurlin) and Cashin DeVault (Brian Gresty) try to help keep Gustav at bay. I thought this play is hilarious and I think you will find it hard just to stop laughing. This play has many twists and turns that will keep you on your toes so watch out for your cues to cheer for the hero and boo the villain from little Ms. Morgan Knox. I totally recommend seeing this show. It will be held Saturday (7:30 PM) and Sunday (2:30 PM), March 6th & 7th at the Post theater for $5.00 for adults $3.00 for children.

Middle Level Education Month

The National Association of Secondary School Principals adopted a resolution recognizing March 2010 as Middle Level Education Month. The resolution proposes "that the public be afforded special opportunities to visit middle level schools and participate in programs that focus on the nature of young adolescents and celebrate the ways in which our nation's schools respond to their needs and to the needs of the nation."

Just what is meant by middle level schools? This phrasing refers to what we in Brackettville would recognize as the Intermediate and Junior High grades. Middle level schools serve children who are entering the life phase known as puberty and becoming known as adolescents. The range in age for children entering puberty (the phase in the human life cycle where the body is getting ready to be able to reproduce) is 8 to 13 years of age for girls, and 9.5 to 14 years of age for boys. This age range of 8 to 14 years is also referred to as a "tweener" as they are no longer a little child, but not quite a teenager. Adolescents (teenagers) are considered to be children who range in age from 13 to 18 years. Remember a television comedy - drama series called "The Wonder Years" that ran on ABC from 1988 through 1993? According to Wikipedia, the title of the series was taken from a Wonder

Bread commercial which urged parents to nourish their children by feeding them Wonder Bread through their adolescence, or "Wonder Years". These truly are "Wonder Years" if you consider the perspectives of adolescent children, their parents, their teachers, and the community concerning this phase of life. This month the "Wonder Years" of Life will be explored and, perhaps, will give each of us something to chew on and digest as we all endeavor to provide nourishment of various kinds to a remarkably special group of young individuals. Parents and community members are encouraged to visit our schools and take

-2- part in the various activities that occur at all school levels. Presently, seventh and eighth grade students have been, and will continue to be, involved with the Kuder Interest Inventory (www.kuder.com) to see what occupations they may want to pursue, and in the Get A Life program (www.getalife.tx.gov) from the Texas Comptroller's Office that helps students see the connection between level of education attained, salaries that can be made, occupations and what they pay, and what they can expect to have to make for the life style they want to live in a variety of Texas cities. Parents are encouraged to visit these web sites and talk about these subjects with their child.

The Baptist Child and Family Services Health & Human Services agency is interested in providing the Families For A Future Program in our community beginning in March. This program will have workshop topics that emphasize parenting and themes for youth. Information is available through Mrs. Louisa Stone, BISD Secondary Counselor at 830-563-2491 extension 500. Agency contacts are Toni Elizondo or Marie Broadhead at 830-768-2755 or toll free 877-441-4188. Our school district truly believes that the education of our children is a partnership and a team effort between the school personnel, parents, community members, and students. Therefore, Brackett ISD has highly qualified teachers working with the students who put in many long hours in behalf of the students. We know that parents want the best for their children and put a great deal of effort into giving them the best they can. Our community benefits from having well-educated students involved in various activities and our community leaders/members/organizations strive to provide such opportunities for our young people. I believe it takes each and every one of us working together to accomplish what we all have as a common goal - the success of our children.

EXCAVATION

West Texas Gas, Inc. operates buried natural gas pipelines and facilities in the above Texas Counties. WTG has markers placed along the pipeline routes, but because of possible damage or vandalism, these markers (signs) may not be apparent at all points along the pipeline right-of-ways. Due to our concern for the safety of people and property along our pipeline routes, we request that all persons who anticipate digging, excavating, boring, drilling, or blasting in the vicinity of facilities call 1-888-334-4912.

A West Texas Gas employee will be available, free of charge to check your area, locate our facilities and mark a safe area.

In addition, state law requires each excavator to contact a one call locate service. This one call service will then notify each operator of buried utilities that you intend to dig in an area that may contain buried utilities (water, gas, electric, telephone, etc.). This service and call are free. Contact the Texas Excavation Safety Service at 1-800-334-8377.

Please notify West Texas Gas if the following situations occur in relation to a pipeline or other facilities we operate:

THE ESCAPE OF GAS FROM A PIPELINE - This may be detected by smell, hissing sound, or an unexplained area of dead vegetation in the vicinity of our facilities).

EMERGENCIAS In the event of an EMERGENCY involving a West Texas Gas facility: EVACUATE THE AREA IMMEDIATELY; NOTIFY LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT, FIRE DEPARTMENT AND WTG; DO NOT RETURN TO THE AREA UNTIL ADVISED BY OFFICIALS

AVISO PÚBLICO

La compañía West Texas Gas, Inc. (WTG) publica este aviso para informarles acerca de ciertas operaciones y edificaciones en los condados de Frio, Dimmit, Zavala, Uvalde, Maverick, Kinney, y Val Verde, en Texas.

La compañía mantiene canerías de gas y edificios en los condados de Texas nombrados aquí. La compañía WTG tiene marcadores a lo largo de las rutas de canerías de gas. Con el hecho que hay la posibilidad de dano o vandalismo a esos marcadores, quizás estos marcadores no estan como deben estar. Esto nos causa concernimiento a la gente y la propiedad de nuestra comunidad. Les pedimos que cualquier persona que tiene planes de cultivar, excavar, taladrar o usar polvora en la vecindad de nuestras edificaciones, llame al 1-888-334-4912.

Un representante de WTG estará disponible, sin cobro a usted, para examinar el area donde piensa trabajar y localizar nuestras canerías y amarrar una area sin peligro para usted.

Además la ley del estado de Texas requiere a cada excavador que haga una llamada a WTG para obtener nuestro servicio. La llamada nos permite notificar a cada operador de líneas enterradas de servicios (agua, gas, electricidad, telefónicas, etc.) Esta llamada es gratis. Llame a Texas Excavation Safety (Servicio de Seguridad Excavación en Texas) 1-800-344-8377.

Favor de avisar a WTG si las siguientes situaciones ocurren en relación a una canería o alguna edificación que nosotros mantenemos: El escape de gas de una canería. Esto se podrá notar por el olor de gas, un silbido parecido a una serpiente, una area en la vegetación que esta seca; Fuego o explosión; Vandalismo o robo de nuestros marcadores.

En caso de una EMERGENCIA, evacue el area inmediatamente. Avise a las autoridades de la ley (policía, bomberos o WTG). No regrese a el area, hasta que los oficiales le informen que no hay peligro y que puede usted regresar.
