DEFENSE OBJECTS TO MAGAZINE ARTICLES

EVIDENCE IN CASE

IT IS ARGUED THAT THEY DO NOT CONNECT HAYWOOD WITH MURDER.

ADMISSION OF ENMITY

Against Steunenberg on the Part of Miners Officials made by Richardson.

Idaho, June 19.—When the trial of Haywood was resumed this morning, Senator Borah specially named the articles in various numbers of the Miners' Magazine, which he offered as evidence. To the introduction of these exhibits the defense made the general objection that the evidence failed to connect the defendant with the murder of Steunenberg and stated that they would present specific objections to such exhibits. The articles will be read to the jury if the court admits them as evidence. W. F. Richardson made the argument for the defense against the admission of the magazine articles. He read at length the evidence in the Shires case to show that the Miners' Magazine articles did not compare in tone with the evidence alleged to have been used by John Most in writing to Shires with anarchists' revolutionary writings. Richardson admitted Haywood's prejudice against Steunenberg, but said that hundreds of thousands of people likewise condemned the course adopted by Steunenberg and they should not be held responsible for the governor's murder.

ADMITTED IMPERATE TONE.

Richardson admitted that some of the Miners' Magazine articles were imperate in tone, but claimed they were nothing more than ordinary newspaper abuse. Senator Borah argued that the articles should be admitted as was done in the Shires case and that they showed the enmity of the organizations of which the defendant was an officer to Steunenberg and admitted violence. Richardson closed the argument. He asserted that in no case contained in the magazine was the use of arms, except in self-defense, advocated. Judge Wood took the question under advisement and court adjourned at 11 o'clock until 2.

FREIGHT HANDLERS GET AN INCREASE.

St. Paul Gives Men 7 Per Cent Advance—Other Roads Will Follow.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., June 19.—Five thousand freight handlers in Chicago probably will receive advances in wages amounting to $250,000 annually within a few days. The St. Paul offered its men a seven per cent increase which they accepted though they had been asking twelve per cent and other roads are expected to follow their example.

VERDICT AGAINST TUCKER.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 19.—The jury in the case of the Uncle Sam Oil Company, in which H. H. Tucker, Jr., sought to have the receiver appointed by the State Supreme Court removed, returned a verdict today finding against Tucker. The verdict was written by Judge Amidon in the United States District Court, and was accepted by the jury upon the judge's instructions.

A LEADER ARRESTED

PROMINENT FIGURE IN FRENCH WINE GROWERS' REVOLT SEIZED BY THE SOLDIERS.

RESISTANCE THREATENED

Marceline Albert Has Fled and the Troops Patrol the Country.

Paris, France, June 19.—M. Ferroul, the striking Mayor of Narbonne and next to Marceline Albert, the most prominent figure in the Wine Growers' revolt in South France was arrested at his residence at Narbonne early today and hurried away to Montpellier. Before daybreak all roads leading to M. Ferroul's house were held by Cuirassiers in strong force. His body guard of wine growers, among whom were many women, which had been nightly watching over the safety of their leaders was on duty as usual, but when the wine growers found themselves surrounded by the armed forces of the government they did not attempt any resistance. When M. Ferroul appeared in custody of the police commissary the crowd momentarily threatened to resist, but the Mayor begged that there be no conflict with the troops, and he was placed in a carriage and escorted by 150 Cuirassiers, taken to the railroad station at Narbonne, where a special train was awaiting, and started immediately for Montpellier. Intense excitement prevailed at Narbonne but the people thus far have been over-awed by the military display. At Argelliers the state and police authorities escorted by an imposing military force raided the headquarters of the central committee of the wine growers organization at daybreak with warrants for the arrest of Marceline Albert and the members of the central committee, but they found that the leader of the movement and several of his lieutenants had already fled. Only three committeemen were captured. They were sent to Montpellier. Strong forces of troops are scouring the country, hunting the fugitives. Their escape is facilitated by the fact that the people burned the bridge at the entrance to Argelliers last evening, making a long detour necessary and delaying the arrival of the government representatives.

Marceline Albert Arrested.

By Associated Press. Montpellier, France, June 19.—Marceline Albert, the leader of the Wine Growers' movement, was arrested and brought here in custody today.

PACKED CONVENTION

HEATED CONTROVERSY MARKS OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS CONVENTION.

COLORADO'S DELEGATES

Seek to Override Representatives of Other States and the Trouble Starts at Once.

Denver, Colo., June 19.—At the opening of the Public Lands convention today it was announced that the work of the credentials committee had been handicapped by the indiscriminate issuing of delegates' tickets, and it was impossible to separate the accredited delegates from others holding tickets who were not entitled to them. In order to avoid suspicion that the convention was inimical to the administration, the general committee entrusted to Mark Woodruff, head of the Pike's Peak forest reserve force, the duty of receiving the credentials and issuing the tickets and by innuendo he was accused of having "packed" the convention for securing support for the administration's land policies. The final report of the committee on credentials precipitated a lively debate, when it was discovered that the committee had given Colorado one vote for every delegate present and one for every delegate accredited, making a total of 496, while for other states only those present were given votes. President Murdo McKenzie of the American National Live Stock Association, led the attack on the report. Senator Warren of Wyoming seconded Mackenzie. He demanded to know whether the convention was a meeting of the Colorado people or of the people of the entire west. This report was referred back to the committee with instructions to bring in a report in accordance with the call. There was a discussion led by Congressman R. W. Bonyne of Colorado on the "Public Land Policy." Bonyne claimed that if the plans of the administration were carried out it would have the effect of withdrawing five-sixths of the public lands from entry.

C. P. Arnold of Wyoming made a sarcastic speech on the work of the forestry service in his state.

THE GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP

Preliminary Events in Big Tournament at Chicago Opens Today.

Chicago, June 19.—Two events will be decided today in the grand American handicap tournament. The preliminary handicap to the grand American will be called at 9 o'clock. There are over 300 entries for this event and each contestant will try at 100 targets. The handicap allowed in the big event Thursday governing all the shooters in the preliminary. The other event is for the state championship, teams of five men from each state contesting at 100 targets for each man. Each man will shoot under the same handicap in this contest as on Thursday.

THREE WERE KILLED

By Explosion of Locomotive Boiler at Florence, Colorado.

Florence, Colo., June 19.—Engineer Thomas Ewing, fireman O'Brien and brakeman Gooch, all of Pueblo, were instantly killed this morning by the explosion of the boiler of the engine drawing an extra west bound freight No. 11, forty miles east of here this morning. The cause of the explosion is not known.

A BLOODY BATTLE

MUTINY IN RUSSIAN TROOPS AT KIEV SUPPRESSED WITH A GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.

SEVENTY MEN ARE KILLED

Those Who Escaped are Hiding in the City—Mutiny Breaks Out at Other Points.

By Associated Press. St. Petersburg, Russia, June 19.—The details of the mutiny at Kiev show that it was suppressed only after a bloody engagement at midnight on June 17th between the mutineers and the loyal troops, in which about seventy men were killed or wounded. Two hundred and fifty mutineers were captured and will be tried by court martial, but 193 escaped and are hid in the city. Trouble has also broken out among the troops at Kaluga, but accurate information is not obtainable, owing to the censorship.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

OPERATORS OF THE WESTERN UNION AND POSTAL COMPANIES MAY GO OUT.

AN APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT

Is made by the Denver Chamber of Commerce—Arbitration May Yet Settle Trouble.

By Associated Press.

New York, June 19.—The general executive board of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union has approved the strike against either or both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies. This announcement was made today by Deputy President Konen Kamp of the union. The date of the beginning of the strike was left to Mr. Small, but the first move is expected to take place within the next week or ten days.

Mr. Konenkamp said that a tax of one day's pay a week had been levied against all members of the union.

Developments Expected Soon.

Private advices received in Wichita Falls this afternoon from Dallas state that developments are expected within the next twenty-four hours and it is possible that the strike may take effect much sooner than the New York dispatch indicates.

It has been known for some time that the two telegraph companies named have been preparing to meet the strike by having in training a large number of new operators.

If the strike order goes into effect it is probable that Manager Pickell of the local Western Union office and his assistant will both go out.

Arbitration Talk.

Chicago, Ill., June 18.—Arbitration and the efforts of Charles P. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor, loomed up today as possible factors in a settlement of differences between the Commercial Telegraphers' Union and the Postal and Western Union Companies, that threaten to result in a strike of the key operators.

FOLK IS PLEASED

BELIEVES RAILROADS WILL NOT FIND 2-CENT FARE UNJUST.

ABOLITION OF PASSES

And Increased Travel Will Make Up Difference Between Fares.

By Associated Press. Kansas City, June 19.—Governor Folk of Missouri, who has been in active sympathy with the attitude of Attorney General Hadley in the two cent fare controversy in an interview here last night said: "I am glad to see that the two cent fare is to be tried and I believe the railroads will find after thorough test, that it is not unjust. If the passes are dispensed with and everyone made to pay fare, this with the increased travel incident to the reduced rate should more than make up the difference between the two and three cent rates."

OIL FIGHT BEGUN

BARNSDALE WILL WAGE WAR AGAINST STANDARD OIL.

COMPANY IS ORGANIZED

With a Capital of Ten Millions—Small Companies Will Be Consolidated.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 19.—The incorporation of the Barnsdall Oil Company a $10,000,000 concern, under the laws of Delaware, today caused a slight ripple in Pittsburg, where all those interested have their headquarters. Theodore N. Barnsdall, head of the new concern, which will fight the Standard in the West, is one of the biggest independent oil men of the country, being largely interested in gas and oil in Kansas, Indian Territory and Texas, and the Barnsdall Company, it is learned, tonight will mean the consolidation of all the small companies of the West and Southwest. It will be a Barnsdall affair from first to last, as W. B. Clingman, H. B. Kestor and J. T. Furlong, who appear as the incorporators at Dover, are all employees of the Barnsdall Company at Pittsburg.

Barnsdall in his time has swung more big deals than any man in Pittsburg, his deals in the last fifteen years aggregating $100,000,000. He is in St. Louis completing some arrangement for furthering his oil deal.

BY THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

She Writes the Report of the Fire for the Neodesha Sun.

The regular reporter was taking a vacation, according to the Neodesha Sun, and the editor was busy in the office, so when it was learned that on the previous evening there had been a fire in a remote part of the city the young lady who writes the society news was sent to bring in a report of it for the paper. She came into the office an hour later with the following very interesting account:

"Quite a number of people in this part of the city attended a fire last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Blank, on Thirteenth street. Some went in carriages and buggies, but a majority walked. The alarm was sounded about 9:30 and many who attended the fire, had just returned from the church, consequently they were dressed for the occasion.

"Mr. Blank was not at home, being out of the city on business, hence the affair will be quite a surprise to him when he returns. Mrs. Blank wore a light percale kimono and had her hair done up in kid curlers.

"The firemen responded readily and worked heroically to subdue the seething flames. Most of them were young and good looking. They were dressed in oil cloth coats cut short with trousers to match. Their hat rims were narrow in front and broad behind and sagged down in the rear. The chief's hat was ornamented with an octagonal brass spike that stuck up above his head like a horn, giving him the appearance of a unicorn.

"When the flames broke through the second story and cast a lurid hue over the surrounding buildings the view was one never to be forgotten.

At a late hour the sight seers went home and all felt that they had passed an evening full of interest and excitement."

We have just received another shipment of those fancy marshmallows, and are selling them at 25c a pound. Try them.

THE NEW ZEALAND IDEA.

Government Action Solves Rent Problem and Makes Many Home Owners.

The rent problem has been solved in New Zealand by Government action by which a workman who formerly to their heels and skeddaddled; the shelter which bore no proportion to the accommodations afforded, is enabled to secure a home for his family at a reasonable rental.

Therefore, it was resolved by Parliament to pass legislation by means of which pleasant homes could be provided for the working class, with benefits not usually granted by private holders of property. Not only are fair rents to be charged, (about $2.50 per week), but sinking funds provided by which, if so desired, a portion of the rent received by the Government is set aside in order that after a few years the house and land may become the freehold property of the occupier.

In the larger cities, where pressure is most extreme, cottages have been built on fair-sized allotments, but are not to be let to persons having incomes exceeding $1,000 a year.

The cottages are being freely applied for, and the scheme promises not only to provide homes in which workmen can bring up their families in decency, and self-respect, but to relieve the congestion in crowded city streets, by reducing the competition for remaining houses.

The system thus sketched in outline was by no means the full extent or limit of the State attempt to provide workers with homes. The Government paid about one-third of his income for described in its preamble, which sets forth that it is "An act to enable the Government to assist workers in providing homes for themselves."

Its use is limited to persons employed in manual or clerical work and not in receipt of an income of more than $1,000 a year, nor owners of any other land except that on which it is intended to build. Such a person may obtain a loan from the Government having a maximum of $1,750, subject to certain regulations. The loan is to be for thirty-six and one-half years, at 5 per cent interest (less 1/4 of 1 per cent if paid within fourteen days of due date,) payable half-yearly; but by these payments the loan itself is extinguished in the time mentioned. Any sum greater than the interest named may be paid in if convenient, in order to hasten the acquittal of the capitalized debt.

If, then the worker does not care to obtain a house and land already provided, he has by this alternative scheme of a money advance an opportunity to make his home in a particular place and build his home in an independent or original manner.

YOURS TO PLEASE,

W. E. Skeen

Shortly after the first anniversary of his wedding Bob gave up his office with Randolph & Randolph and opened one for himself. He explained that he was giving up his commission business to devote all his time to personal trading. With the opening of his new office he again became the most active man on the floor. His trading was intermittent. For weeks he would not be seen at the Exchange or on "the Street." Then he would return and, after executing a series of brilliant trades, which were invariably successful, he would again disappear. He soon became known as the luckiest operator in Wall street, and the beginning of his every new deal was the signal for his fast-growing following to tag on.

From time to time I learned that Beulah Sands was making no real improvement, though in some details she had learned as a child learns. But there was no indication that she would ever regain her lost mind.

Strange stories of Bob's doings began to seep into my office. For long periods he would disappear. Neither the nurses in charge of his wife, nor his brother, mother, and sisters, for whom he had purchased a mansion a few blocks above his own, would hear a word from him. Then he would return as suddenly as he had disappeared, and his wild eyes and haggard face would tell of a prolonged and desperate soul struggle. He drank often now, a habit he had never before indulged in.

For ten days before the second anniversary of his marriage he had been missing. On the morning of the anniversary he appeared at the Exchange, wild-eyed and dare-devil reckless. The market had been advancing for weeks and was at a high level. Tom Reinhart and his branch of the "System" were working out a new feeding of the public in Union and Northern Pacific. At the strike of the gong Bob took possession of the Union Pacific pole and in 30 minutes had precipitated a panic by his mercurial selling. Our house was heavily interested in the Pacifics, although not in connection with Reinhart and his crowd. As soon as I got word that Bob was the cause of the slaughter, I rushed over to the Exchange and working my way into the crowd, I begged a word with him. He had broken both stocks over 50 points a share and the panic was raging through the room. He glared at me, but finally followed me out into the lobby. At first he would not heed my appeal, but finally he said, "Jim, it is too bad to set up. I had determined to rub this devilish institution off the map, but if it really is a case of injury to the house, it's my opportunity to do something for you who have done so much for me, so here goes." He threw himself into the Union Pacific crowd first giving an order to a group of his brokers, who jumped for a number of other poles. Almost instantly the panic was stayed and stocks were bounding upward two to five points at a leap. Bob continued buying Union Pacific and his brokers other stocks in unlimited quantities. Nothing like such a quick turn of the market had been seen before. His power to absorb stocks seemed to be boundless. It was estimated that personally and through his brokers he bought over a million shares before he joined me and left the Exchange.

I looked at him in wonderment. "Job, I cannot understand you," I said at last as we turned out of Broad street into Wall. "It seems as if you work with magic. Everything you touch turns to gold."

He wheeled on me. "Yes, Jim you are right. Gold, heartless, soulless gold. But what is the dross good for? What is it good for to me? To-day I suppose I have made the biggest one-man killing in the history of 'the Street.' I must be an easy twenty-five millions richer in gold than I was this morning, and I had enough then to dam the East river and a good section of the North. But tell me, Jim, tell me, what can I buy in this world that I have not got? I had health and happiness, perfect health, pure happiness, when I did not have a thousand all told. Now I have fifty millions, and I know how to get fifty or five hundred and fifty more any time I care to take them, and I have only physical and mental hell. No beggar in all the world is so poor in happiness as I. Tell me, tell me, Jim, in the name of God, if there is one— for already the game of gold is robbing me of my faith in God—where can I buy a little, just a little happiness with all this cursed yellow dirt?

what will it get me in the next world, Jim Randolph, what will it get me? If I had died when I was poor, I think you will agree with me that, if there is a heaven, I should have stood an even chance of getting there. Now on a day like to-day, when you see the results of my work, the results of my handling of unlimited gold, you must agree that if I were taken off I should stand more than an even show of landing in hell where the sulphur is thickest and the flames are hottest."

We were at the entrance of Randolph & Randolph's office as he poured out this terrible torrent of bitterness. He glared at me as a dungeon prisoner might glare at his keeper for his answer to "Where can I find liberty?" I had no words to answer him. As I noted the awful changes in every line of his face, the rigid hardness, the haunted, nervous look of desperation, which seemed a forerunner of madness, I could not see, either, where his millions brought any happiness. His hair, which once was smooth and orderly, hung over his forehead in an unparted mass of tangled curls, and here and there showed of white. Bob Brownley was still handsome, even more fascinating than before the mercury entered his soul, but it was that wild, awful beauty of the caged lion, lashing himself into madness with memories of his lost freedom.

"Jim," he went on, when he saw I could not answer, "I guess you don't know where I can swap the yellow mud for balm of Gilead. I won't bother you with my troubles any longer. I will go up-town and see the little girl whose happiness Tom Reinhart needed in his business. I will go up and show her the pictures in this week's Collier's of the fine hospital for incurables that Reinhart has so generously and nobly built at a cost of two and a half millions! The little girl may think better of Reinhart when she knows that her father's money was put to such good use. Who knows but the great finance king may dedicate it as the 'Judge Lee Sands Home' and carve over the entrance a bas-relief of her father, mother, and sister with Hope, Faith, and Charity coming from the mouths of their hanging severed heads?"

Bob Brownley laughed a horrible ringing laugh as he uttered these awful words. Then he beat his hand down on my shoulders as he said in a hoarse voice, "Jim, but for you I should have had crimps in that jackal philanthropist's soul by now and in the souls of his kind. But never mind. He will keep; he will surely keep until I get to him. Every day he lives he will be fitter for the crimping. Within the short two years since he finished grilling Judge Sands' soul, he has put himself in better form to appreciate his reward. I see by the press that at last his aristocratic wife has gold-cured Newport of its habit of dating back the name Reinhart to her scullionhood, and it has taken her into the high-instep circle. I read the other day of his daughter's marriage to some English nob, and of the discovery of the ancient Reinhart family tree and crest with the mailed hand and two-edged dirk and the vulture rampant, and the motto, 'Who strikes in the back strikes often.'"

He left me with his laugh still ringing in my ears. I shuddered as I passed under the old black-and-gold sign my uncle and my father had nailed over the office entrance in an age now dead, an age when Wall street men talked of honor and gold, not gold and more gold.

In telling my wife of the day's happenings I could not refrain from giving vent to the feelings that consumed me. "Kate, Bob will surely do something awful one of these days. I can see no hope for him. He grows more and more the madman as he broods over his horrible situation. The whole thing seems incredible to me. Never was a human being in such perpetual living purgatory—unlimited, absolute power on the one hand, unfathomable, never-cool-down hell on the other."

"Jim, how does he do what he does? I cannot make out anything I have read or you have told me, how he creates those panics and makes all that money."

"No one has ever been able to figure it out," I answered. "I understand the stock business, but I cannot for the life of me see how he does it. He has none of the money powers in league with him, that's sure, for in the mood he has been in dur-

SEARCH FOR NEGRO MURDERER.

Fred Ford Wanted for Wife Murder at Frederick, Believed to be in Hiding Here.

Fred Ford, a negro, wanted at Frederick for the cold blooded and brutal murder of his wife in that city Sunday night, is thought to be in hiding near Wichita Falls. Ford is known by several of the negro population of Wichita, who have reported to the authorities that they have seen the murderer in the city. Acting upon this information, Marshal Gwinn, Sheriff Davis, Deputy Marshall Pickett and other officers organized a searching party yesterday and scoured the negro section of the town and the thickets east of the city, but failed to find any trace of their man.

Local officers are in possession of a very full and accurate description of the murderer and if he is still in hiding in this vicinity they hope yet to effect his capture.

The large crowd which attended the closing exercises of the Academy at Mary Immaculate at the Court House last night will no doubt, join with the Times in advocating the necessity of an opera house for Wichita Falls. The exercises were held in the District court room, but many were turned away at the door, and others who gained admission were forced to stand. The fact that there is no opera house here is embarrassing to every good citizen, who is asked by visitors and strangers to explain the reason for our not having such an essential and the only excuse that is usually made is that our promoters have neglected the smaller enterprises of a young and growing little city to go after the larger ones. In other words we have overlooked the fact that, in order to build a city, an opera house is just as necessary as good schools and fine churches.

The prohibition election at this place today is passing quietly. The general opinion now is that prohibition will carry, though some quiet work is being done and it is impossible to tell just how it will go.
A wagon load of the bad characters who were ordered to leave Wichita Falls last Friday arrived in this place this morning. Unless some official action is taken by the authorities they will remain tonight and possibly longer. They are not welcome visitors to the great majority of our people.
The band boys are to give an entertainment at the school building Friday night.

THE OPEAR ESTHER

PRESENTED BY THE PUPILS OF MARY IMMACULATE ACADEMY.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

At the Court House Attended by Large Crowd—The Opera Artistically Presented.

The program at the second annual commencement of the Academy of Mary Immaculate at the court house Tuesday night not only reflected great credit upon the pupils who participated and their instructors, but was a testimonial far more eloquent than words to the good work being done in that most worthy institution, one in which the citizens of Wichita Falls should feel a deep pride.

Long before the program started the court room was packed until scarcely another spectator could have found space in which to stand.

The commencement exercises proper and the presentation of the medals and diplomas preceded the presentation of the beautiful sacred opera "Esther."

This was the first public commencement ever held by the Academy. The class of 1907 contained three graduates: Miss Pick Hyer of this city; Miss Margaret Neville of Henrietta, and Miss Frances Elizabeth Snearly, also of Henrietta.

The presentation of the medals and diplomas were made by the Rev. Fathers Goessens of Henrietta and Dolje of this city.

The presentation of these medals and the diplomas and the crowning of the recipients with laurels made a pretty scene.

Miss Hyer, Miss Neville and Miss Snearly were each presented with gold medals and a gift book with leaves in blue and white, the class colors. Miss Glenn Massie of Vernon and Miss Virginia Winkler of Ennis were each presented with handsome hand-painted rose jars for having the neatest rooms in the dormitories.

The diplomas were presented to the graduates with an appropriate little speech by Rev. Father Dolje.

Following the presentation of the diplomas and several musical numbers of rare excellence, the beautiful and spectacular sacred opera "Esther" was given by the pupils of the Academy.

Full justice to this splendid performance cannot be done in a written description. All the splendors and magnificence of Oriental conception were reproduced in the costumes and the stage settings, and the several scenes were both spectacular and beautiful. The characters interpreted their parts truly and exceptional talent was exhibited by more than one of those who took part. The chorus scenes were remarkable and the young voices blended in perfect harmony.

Altogether the performance was one of the most pleasing and charming ever seen in Wichita Falls and those who attended speak words of high praise for the participants and those who trained them.

The program of the evening's entertainment was as follows:

Why Do You Like COFFEE?

We take it for granted that you do, but it is very likely that you cannot tell off-hand why you like it, except that it is good.

Just why it is good may puzzle you somewhat, but to assist you in selecting the kind you want the following information may be of interest to you.

The looks of the coffee has very little to do with the quality of it, for it is not the bean itself that satisfies your Coffee appetite.

The bean is composed of a large number of little cells, invisible to the naked eye, but which contain the essential oil.

Before the Coffee is roasted these little cells are not worth anything, but they contain the oil, that after being roasted to a certain point produces the flavor which makes coffee a delightful drink. There are therefore, two things which must be watched in buying coffee:

1st. To get a blend of growths which shall contain just the right kind of oil, and second, to have that blend so roasted so as to make the rich mellow flavor which you like so well our Spurr's Concord is especially recommended to suit your taste, packed in 1 pound bags at 25 cents per pound. Or better still, Spurr's Revere Mocha and Java in two pound tins at 75c per can. All we ask is a trial of either, the coffee will do the rest.

TELEGRAPHER'S STRIKE HAS BEEN APPROVED

Wesley Russell, National secretary of the union, who is rated as one of the most conservative members of the organization, returned to Chicago from New York and readily admitted that all means for reaching a peaceable adjustment of the controversy have not yet been exhausted. While contending that the situation is most critical, he agreed that arbitration or Commissioner Neill's intervention may yet result in a satisfactory solution of the whole problem.

"The rules of our organization provide that a strike may be resorted to only as a last means of obtaining our rights," said Secretary Russell. "In other words, every honorable means must be resorted to in order to affect a peaceable settlement before a walkout can be ordered."

"Has arbitration been suggested by either side yet?" he was asked.

"It has not. The Commercial Telegraphers' Union is not an opponent of arbitration."

"Will arbitration be offered?"

"I cannot discuss that point at this time. It is necessarily one that must be acted upon by more than one official of the Union."

"Do you expect that Commissioner Neill will be able to bring about peace?"

"We have received no official communication as yet from him," replied Mr Russell.

E. M. Moore, chairman of the executive board of the Chicago union, was not so sanguine as to a peaceable settlement of the trouble. He said:

"The attitude of the companies indicates that a strike will be necessary. Because of that attitude I am authorized to state that a strike is not only necessary, but very probable. If we strike, we will strike hard."

Appeal Sent to Roosevelt.

Denver, Colo., June 19.—Secretary Williams of the Denver Chamber of Commerce, acting in the name of the organization last night sent telegrams to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and President Clowry of the Western Union Telegraph Company at New York urging them to use every effort to prevent the strike growing out of the demands of the telegraphers.

OLD SETTLER.

Patience is considered one of the cardinal virtues and that "he who controls himself is greater than he who conquers a city."

That is theoretically true, because there is no true standard except the one set up by Divine precept, and that is beyond the height attained by ordinary individuals.

That reminds me of a compositor on a large Texas daily before the days of linotypes.

This particular compositor was in love, in fact engaged to be married to a charming young lady. The day of the wedding drew nigh and as usual with compositors, he was short on cash. In order to meet the emergency he was working overtime.

The morning before the appointed day his fingers were fairly flying between the case and the stick. He had dumped the last stick of a column of brevier, when the future partner of his joys and sorrows appeared to consult him on some detail of the wedding.

Being the first time the young lady had seen type manipulated, she became very much interested and asked various and sundry questions. Finally spying the column of brevier in the galley, she exclaimed: "Oh, don't the little things look cute," and at the same time running her finger along the top of the column, piling about two-thirds of it.

Say, were you ever where the atmosphere grew tense and you knew something was going to happen? Then draw on your imagination. With his tongue between his teeth, the compositor took the young lady by the arm and firmly but gently led her to the door and pushed her outside, closed and locked it.

Then while the tears streamed down his cheeks, he jumped up and down the room, going through all kinds of gyrations, while his language can only be expressed by—!! H—!! Oh—!! B B BBB !!! —nation, while the air actually smelled of brimstone.

MISS HELEN GOULD'S TROUBLES.

People Think Her Sole Business is to Give Away Money.

New York, June 19.—According to a statement made public today, the requests for gifts sent to Miss Helen Gould aggregate near $2,000,000 a week. They range all the way from asking for $15 for a set of false teeth to $1,000,000 to start a colony in Cuba.

Miss Gould gave an itemized list of a week's requests recently to Franz Kaltenborn, the orchestra leader. A movement is on foot among the music lovers of this city to make Mr. Kaltenborn's orchestral music a permanent feature in New York. For this subscriptions from wealthy persons would be necessary. Miss Gould was one of those consulted. She encouraged Mr. Kaltenborn, but, incidentally, cited the fact that this was not the only thing she was asked to encourage. Then she gave him the list.

In the week referred to Miss Gould received 231 requests for money outright. Out of these, 195 left the amount to her good will and discretion. Miss Gould was asked in that week to $5,000,000 to help an anti-saloon league in Chicago. She received requests for aid for churches, 27 for educational institutions and 26 for libraries. More than thirty were for help for charitable institutions. Four persons, presumably young women, wanted Miss Gould to help them buy trousseaus. Eleven persons wanted pianos and twelve wanted Miss Gould to buy their inventions.

Following are some of the other wants: Bibles, bicycles, three cows, one invalid's chair, enough air pillows to supply a regiment, five sewing machines and fifteen railway tickets.

WANTED—Subscribers for the Daily Times!

Pen "Town Cow" Also "Town Hog."

The "town cow" nuisance has assumed proportions that are proving a detriment to the growth and progress of our city. Public sympathy has been aroused to an extent that will undoubtedly be the means of attracting the attention of the city council to this fact, which will result in the passing of an ordinance requiring all stock owners to pen same at night. The condition of our city streets under the present circumstances is deplorable in the extreme. The sidewalks are made to resemble a cowpen as a result of the nightly visits of our friend, the "town cow."

Visiting ladies during the summer season are annoyed in their evening strolls along the beach by numerous cows and other stock which make the beach and vicinity their sleeping quarters nightly. Untold good will follow the passing of the aforementioned ordinance, aside from the general benefits as regarding appearances. It will do away with the cheap longhorn and improve the day range for first class milk cows, to an extent that will be appreciated immediately by all the owners of good stock. Another point well worthy of consideration is the fact that with the proper management it will make possible in the near future the establishment of a first class creamery in this locality.

Our councilmen are all broadminded progressive men, with the welfare and progress of the town at heart: and under these favorable conditions the ordinance will no doubt be passed, as it should be, without a dissenting vote.

After succeeding in getting the "town cow" penned up, we hope the Enterprise will go hotfooted after the "town hog," the biped who wants everything from a town and will give nothing in return; will not even pay his poll tax so he may vote to eradicate evils he is grumbling about, or to make improvements he can not help seeing will make his town better for Rockport to first get rid of the "town hog," then the "town cow" would disappear. Undoubtedly the "town hogs" own the "town cows."—Rockport Enterprise.
