

BY BILL ELLIS

ONE OF THE BIGGEST "White Elephant" projects that has come along in our congress in the past several years is the controversial senate office complex, which was begun in 1972 at an estimated cost of $48 million.

The project is now stalled, waiting additional funding. The latest cost estimate is $200 million. There is open division among senate members as to the actual need for such a building.

In senate debate last week, Senator Charles Chaffe argued that there was little in the new senate "palace" that the senators actually needed.

For one thing, there will be a new rooftop restaurant with 100 seats. The senate already has two restaurants with 250 seats. Chaffe pointed out that the new addition would provide restaurant service to the senators, or 3.5 seats per senator.

They are also building a new gym, which is twice the size of the two gyms the senators already have. Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin said he could not imagine a more galling symbol of congressional arrogance than the new gym.

The Wisconsin senator pointed out that he knew that the senate's present gym was used only by two or three senators, otherwise it stands idle all the time.

Senator John Danforth of Missouri points out that IBM is building a major office building in the middle of New York City. It will be at least 40 stories high, and will cost around 75 million dollars. By contrast, the new senate building, and its estimated cost of $150 to $200 million, is only five or six stories tall.

"We are building around the wildest dreams of anyone in the business world or anyone out there in the country. It is a palace that we are building," Senator Danforth said.

The Missouri senator, stating that the only argument advanced by proponents of the new office building is the crowded conditions presently imposed on members of the senate staff. Maybe what they should consider doing is cutting down on the staff, one congressman suggested.

For example, the capitol police department consists of 1,186 officers, hired to protect 535 members of congress, and an estimated 17,000 staff employees. By contrast, Kansas City, Missouri, with a population of over 500,000, has a police force of around 1,200. Sen. Danforth further stated that Hannibal, Missouri, with about the same population as Capitol Hill, manages with only 42 police officers.

The latest action by the senate found the body voting 45-29 against stopping work on the building, and then voting 65-13 to impose a $135 million ceiling on its construction and "initial furnishing."

However, on August 17, the House of Representatives, which also has to pass on the financial portion, voted against providing more than the original funds, so the senate's "White Elephant" remains a big steel skeleton in the middle of Washington, D.C.

Congressmen, we believe, should have to exist on taxpayers' budgets. In fact, they should be taxpayers themselves. If they were, perhaps they would never launch such a foolhardy project.

Ponies Add Scrimmage

A scrimmage for the 1978 Bovina Mustangs has been scheduled for Friday, August 25 at Sudan, it was announced this week by Coach Monte Barnes.

The scrimmage session is at Sudan, and will begin at 7:30 p.m. The Mustangs are completing their second week of workouts this week, and have been working out in pads.

Bovina Booster Club will meet at Ridgelea Elementary School on Tuesday, August 29, beginning at 8 p.m.

Foul Play Seen In McKay Death

Funeral services were held here Sunday for Dannie Lynn McKay, 22, whose charred body was found in a burned pickup last Thursday on a paved county road 20 miles west and ten north of Seminole.

The sheriff's department in Gaines County is suspecting foul play in the young man's death, and has launched an investigation. The department says they are treating the death as a homicide.

McKay was last seen by members of his family about 12 hours before his body was found. He left his parent's home in Bovina Wednesday afternoon, August 16, and was to drive to Dallas to pick up a load of furniture there, return to Bovina, and then start his sophomore year at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

McKay had spent the summer working as a sheet metal worker in Dallas.

McKay's father, Elmer McKay, said his son had stayed out of college in order to make enough money to go back to school. He says he cannot guess why his son would have been on a road near Seminole, which would have put him around 200 miles out of the way in his trip to Dallas. McKay's body was found by a Gaines County farmer at about 6:55 a.m. Thursday on the road, which is near the Texas-New Mexico line between Hobbs, N.M. and Seminole.

"The body was burned so bad we were unable to determine if there were wounds," said a spokesman for the Gaines County Sheriff's Department. "We don't have anything saying what kind of fire it was, other than it was a hot fire," the deputy continued.

McKay had lived in Bovina for 12 years. He is a 1974 graduate of

Dannie McKay

Bovina High School, where he played football and basketball. The elder McKay said his youngest son "got along with everybody, never had any troubles with anybody that I know of, in school or out."

McKay and Mary Lou, his wife of two years, had been visiting with his parents in Bovina for a week as he prepared to move to the Portales campus.

Graveside services for McKay were conducted Sunday afternoon at Bovina Cemetery, with Rev. Jerry Rockwell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home of Friona.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Lou, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McKay of Bovina, his sister, Wanda Headlee of Lubbock, three brothers, Jerry and Bennie, both of Dimmitt, and Larry of New Boston.

ROYALTY...The Bull Town Days Queen and her court are shown above shortly after the announcement was made as to the winner. Debbie Whitecotton, center, was crowned as queen. Wendy Sherrill,

Bovinitians Enjoy 15th BTD Program

Bovina's 15th annual Bull Town Days Celebration was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and once again, a full schedule of activities was enjoyed by residents of the area.

The busiest day on the schedule was Friday, with no less than seven events on the schedule.

Friday began with the annual Chuck Wagon breakfast. The event was attended by some 100 people, who enjoyed the old-style breakfast at the City Park.

Seventy-two persons registered for the Old Timers Reunion and Luncheon held during Bull Town Days this year.

They came from as far away as California and from as long ago as 1902.

Mr. V.A. Cunning from Corona, Calif., was the person who traveled the farthest and was also the oldest settler first coming to Bovina in 1902.

People came from the surrounding area, Amarillo, Borger, Valley Mills, Austin, Odell and Arkansas, just to name a few places.

The meal was of the most excellent cuisine, as this reporter personally sampled most of it.

OLD TIMER...V.A. Cunning of Corona, California, won the prize for being the oldest old timer and also for coming the farthest for the annual Old Timers Reunion at Bovina's 15th Annual Bull Town Days celebration. Cuning had first come to the Bovina area in 1902.

Miss Debbie Whitecotton was named as the 1978 Bull Town Days Queen last Friday evening. Miss Whitecotton, a senior at Bovina High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Whitecotton.

Miss Wendy Sherrill, a freshman, was first runner-up. Wendy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Sherrill.

Miss Karen Schilling, a sophomore, was named as the second runner-up. Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schilling.

Among Miss Whitecotton's duties as Queen, was to reign over this year's festivities. Miss Whitecotton will take part in special Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture functions and special Lion's Club activities.

Debbie will also be eligible to compete in the District 2-T1 Queen's Contest and activities.

There were a total of ten contestants in this year's "For The Good Times" Queen Contest, which was co-sponsored by the Chamber and Lions Club. They were: Joan Carson, Donna Beth Lide, Kathy Falkenberg, Pam Rhodes, Sandi Sides, Carol Ware and Kathy Williams.

Butch McCain was the Master of Ceremonies for the event. Butch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les McCain.

Mrs. Nancy Mitchell Sudderth, the 1968 BTQ Queen, Bonny Jones Sorenson, the 1971 BTQ Queen, and Pam Rhodes, the 1977 BTQ Queen were also in attendance.

Harry J. Charles was the holder of the lucky ticket that proved to be the winning ticket for the 1954 Ford Fire pickup.

The drawing was held Friday

CHOW LINE...Bovina residents are shown lining up for the barbecue last Friday afternoon during the Bull

Town Days celebration. The turnout at the barbecue was over 1150 people, and was considered good.

The event was held in hot, sunny weather.

Area Gets Nice Rain

The Bovina area was blessed with another good rain Saturday night, August 19. Reports range from six-tenths to three and one-half inches.

According to Greg Hromas, Bovina received two and one-half inches here in town.

Three and one-half inches were reported at the Reagan Looney farm west of Bovina.

The Rhea Elevator reported receiving six tenths and three inches were reported to have fallen in Farwell.

Ralph Voges reported receiving one and two-tenths at his farm north of Bovina.

J.B. Caldwell reported that he received three and one-half inches on his farm.

The rain was welcomed by most of the area farmers, but it may hurt the vegetable crops that are still in the fields, especially the cantaloupes, which were in the process of being harvested.

AND U.S. CONSTITUTION

Writer Sees Conflict In Aims

By PAM THOMPSON
 "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

When Jimmy Carter took the above oath of office, he swore allegiance to the Constitution of the United States. It is my belief that President Carter has broken faith with the citizens of this country by placing the interests of international agencies above our national interests. It is my contention that when he took the oath of office as President, Carter, who promised never to lie to us, told the biggest lie of all.

"We will have world government, whether you like it or not, by conquest or consent." (Statement by James Warburg before the United States Foreign Relations Committee)

"The management of foreign relations appears to be the most susceptible of abuse of all the trusts committed to a Government...." James Madison 1798.

The Trilateral Commission, an elite group of some 250 individuals from the United States, Western Europe and Japan, was established in 1973 by David Rockefeller (who is also the primary source of funding for the Commission.) Its stated purpose is, among other things, to meet semiannually to discuss topics relating to global problems, especially those dealing with economics and politics.

On October 19, 1977, a Paul Scott report revealed the real purpose of the Commission is "to influence or take over all the key policy-making positions in the governments of the United States, Western Europe and Japan." The objective is "permanent coordination of the entire free world and eventually the establishment of a loosely knitted socialistic world government." (Henry Kissinger, who holds dual membership in the Council on Foreign Relations and the Trilateral Commission, has stated he believes that a "loosely knit world government can become a reality by the 1980's.")

Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale are both "former" members of the Trilateral Commission, as are about 25 other members of the Carter Administration. (Commission members serving in the Executive branch are designated as "inactive" or "former" members.)

A notable Trilateralist is Z. Brzezinski, the first director of the Commission, and who is now Carter's number one foreign policy adviser. Brzezinski's book, "Between Two Ages," formed the concept for "a community of developed nations" that would direct the world to new levels of freedom, human rights and economic progress. Or, as the Rockefeller document states, "Some of the problems of governance in the United States today stem from an 'excess of democracy'... (In the Trilateralists opinion, our Constitution allows us too many rights; we would be more easily controlled if we had less freedom). The report recommended limits on freedom of the press, such as 'prior restraint' of what newspapers may publish and, should this not control the press sufficiently, the 'alternate could well be regulation by the government.'" (In other words, a government-controlled press)

President Carter was in attendance at the Commission meeting in Japan in 1975 when this report was presented to the full membership. One must believe Carter agreed with the report's recommendations since he made no protest to them in the debate that followed.

It was at this same meeting Brzezinski, speaking from the dais, praised Carter's candidacy (for President) before all the Commissioners. Every member there knew Carter was Rockefeller's (and the Trilateral's) candidate for President. A full year before he became nationally known in the United States, it was known by the "elites" in the Commission that Carter could most likely be our next President.

And here is a tidbit of news about some domestic policy. Executive Orders No. 11921 and No. 11490 can be used to establish a federal dictatorship whenever the President deems it expedient. Should he and the Congress lock horns on an issue the President feels is of vital importance, he can declare by a signed proclamation that a national emergency exists, and from the moment the proclamation is published in the Federal Register, it has the force of law. And under these orders, all food, money, credit, transportation, communications, public utilities, energy and all other facets of the lives of every citizen would be under complete control of the Federal cabinets and agencies.

"All changes toward a socialistic world government are to be brought about quietly with a law passed here in Congress, a treaty negotiated there." (W.S. McBirnie, Ph.D. in "The Trilateral Commission, America's New Secret Government")

Though the Trilateral Commission is no longer secret, the fact remains they are still accomplishing their document states, "The New World Order." "Because his foreign policy speeches are written by men assigned to him by David Rockefeller, Carter often uses the phrase 'New World Order.'" (Larry McDonald)

The New York Times says that, advised by Brzezinski, Jimmy Carter "has established a consistent theme in his foreign policy statements: 'We must replace balance of power politics with world order politics.'" Since Brzezinski holds that the "nation-state as a fundamental unit of man's organized life has ceased to be the principal creative force," what will replace it? He gives us a hint when he states: "International corporations are acting and planning in terms that are far in advance of the political concepts of the nation-state." You can see why David Rockefeller likes "Ziggy."

Cyrus Vance (Secretary of State), Harold Brown (Sec. of Defense) and Michael Blumenthal (Sec. of the Treasury) all hold dual memberships in the CFR and the Trilateral Commission. (Their Rockefeller and CFR connections are tied in closely with their business connections. Besides being Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation, Vance is press connected; he sits on the Board of the New York Times, the most influential newspaper in America.)

We have been told that Brzezinski will be the creative genius in foreign policy and that Vance will be the administrator. That doesn't leave much of a role for Carter to play, except as their spokesman.

Here is a bit of Foreign Policy maneuvering that perhaps you haven't heard about. Last fall, President Carter went to the United Nations in New York, in a very quiet visit, and signed two treaties, reversing 29 years of American foreign policy position.

These treaties, if ratified by the Senate, nullify your right to own private property. This is in complete disagreement with the Constitution which guarantees our right to private property (the 5th and 14th Amendments). This is the Constitution Carter swore to preserve, protect and defend.

A task force report titled "The Crisis of Democracy," written by Brzezinski and other Commission members, was issued in 1974. This goals. "They have kidded themselves by believing that they do represent the mainstream of the American people....The Commission has published some pamphlets, but the strategy continues secretly without debate in public....It's being carried out in spite of the wishes of the American people." (Jeremiah Novak in a radio interview).

Trilateral Commission members of special interest:

In the House of Representatives: John B. Anderson, John Brademas, William S. Cohen, Barker B. Conable, Jr., Thomas S. Foley, Donald M. Fraser.

In the Senate: Alan Cranston, John C. Culver, John C. Danforth, William Roth, Jr.

Others: I.W. Abel (United Steel Workers), J. Paul Austin (Coca-Cola), William F. Brock III (Chairman, Republican National Committee), George Bush, Hedley Donovan (Editor-In Chief, Time, Inc.), Thomas L. Hughes (Pres., Carnegie Endowment for Peace), Lane Kirkland (Sec. Treas. AFL-CIO), Sol Linowitz (Panama Canal Treaty negotiator), Lee L. Morgan (Caterpillar Tractor Co.)

Also, John D. Rockefeller IV (Governor of West Virginia), Mark Shepherd (Chairman of Texas Instruments), James R. Thompson (Governor of Illinois), Paul Volcker (Federal Reserve Bank of N.Y.), Glenn E. Watts (Communications Workers of America) and Arthur M. Wood (Sears, Roebuck & Co.). Besides, Lucy Wilson Benson, Michael Blumenthal, Robert Bowie, Harold Brown, Z. Brzezinski, William Christopher, Richard Cooper, Richard N. Gardner, Richard Holbrooke, Walter Mondale, Elliot Richardson, Anthony Solomon, Cyrus Vance, Paul Warnke and Andrew Young, all of the Carter administration.

"The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution."

The flexible liberal arts curriculum is designed for maximum ease of transfer to a four-year institution after two years at Cottey. The student body is made up of students from 38 states, Canada and eight foreign countries.

Since 1927, when the P.E.O.s accepted Cottey College as a gift from its founder, Virginia Alice Cottey, the campus has expanded to 76 acres, which includes a 33-acre wooded tract surrounding a recreation lodge located 10 blocks from the main campus. Ten buildings on campus include a library with 65,000 volumes; a sports center with an olympic-size pool and a double-size gymnasium; three dormitories; a new academic building for classes in the sciences, social sciences and humanities; an art building with studios and a gallery; an auditorium and music building; and Main Hall, the original structure built by the founder of the college.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

Congratulations to those of you who worked so hard to make our Bull Town Days the great success that it was. There is a lot of work and weeks of planning for those three days of activities and we had reports of good times and several complimented the fine barbeque and meal that was served to a large crowd Friday night.

After the celebration we received about two inches or so of rain and that, too, was alright!

Now for other news in our town...

The Senior Citizens want to announce that they will be meeting August 30, at 11:30 at the Spot for their regular meeting. They have asked that you bring a covered dish and ask someone to come with you.

The M.Y.F. will have a carwash Saturday behind the Methodist Church from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. It will cost $3.00 for your car, inside and out.

During this time they visited the girls uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Mills, Whitesborough, Texas, also Jo and Cecil Bunch at Sherman, Texas.

The highlight of the trip was to be with Polly's other daughter, Patti and their new little baby girl, Amber, who was born in the Tyler Hospital.

New Minister Is Named For City

Lee Clark is the new minister for Bovina Church of Christ. He will preach for the first time on Sunday, September 3.

Clark says he and his family are looking forward to moving to Bovina and working in the community.

Lee is a graduate of the Bear Valley School of Biblical Studies in Denver, Colorado. Prior to coming to Bovina he served churches of Christ in the Evergreen and Bayfield, Colorado areas for fourteen years.

He served as a member of the board of directors of the Four Corners Youth Encampment sponsored by the churches of Christ in the four corners area. He was also active in the "Quest for Truth" television series aired over KIVA T.V., Farmington, N.M.

Clark's evangelistic efforts have taken him into Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Colorado. He also served as farm manager for the Westview Boys' Home in Hollis, Oklahoma.

Lee and his wife Joan have one daughter, Karen, who is attending Oklahoma Christian College in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Some American Indians used to believe that an eclipse meant the sun was being extinguished, so they tried to rekindle it by shooting fire-arrows into the sky.

Motorists Reminded About School Zones

Motorists should pay special attention to the posted speed limits in Bovina, with the opening of school. City Marshal Jerry Atchley announced today that both the Texas Highway Patrol and he will make a concentrated effort to insure that all motorists comply with all traffic rules and regulations in Bovina.

Of special concern to city law enforcement officials are the school zones.

Bovina presently has six school zones. One school zone is located between Avenue D and Avenue F with a 25 mile-per-hour speed limit from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. school days.

Two other school zones are located on the west end of State Highway 86 near the Ridgelea Elementary School with a posted speed of 30 miles-per-hour from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. school days.

Marshal Atchley advises that if a motorist is not certain whether or not it is a school day to play it safe and slow down to the school zone speed.

There are three additional school zones within the City of Bovina that are 15 miles-per-hour school zones. All three zones are located near Bovina High School and the athletic field, is on 8th Street between Avenue C and Avenue G. One zone is located on Avenue D between Boyce and Eighth Streets, while the other zone is on Halsell Street between Avenue D and State Highway 86. Better markers will soon be provided so unreasonable driving around the high school will result in citations also.

In order to prevent serious injury to Bovina's school children motorists are asked to obey all traffic laws.

Yearbooks Are Ready

The 1978 Mustang yearbook has arrived, and we thank those who purchased yearbooks and want to remind everyone to be sure to reserve a 1979 Mustang. It's going to be special, and most of all, special to you.

Be sure to pick yours up from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on August 24 and 25 in the Bovina High School Library. You must have your receipt on hand to receive your yearbook. "We do have a small number of extra copies and plastic covers for those who wish to buy one. These will sell for $8.50," said a spokesman for the yearbook.

A Good Name Is To Be Chosen

A GOOD NAME IS RATHER TO BE CHOSEN THAN GREAT RICHES." (Prov. 22:1.) We associate certain beautiful places with certain names--certain ugly places with other names. Everything we do as individuals, everything we say to others, and all for which each of stands, is summed up in our names. What does my name--your name--stand for? Does it stand for that which is good, holy, pure and true? Let us do what is right, always. May you and I want to do that, and have the ability to do it. A good name is a most valuable asset. One of the most beautiful names in all the Bible is Esther. She was encouraged to use her efforts to save her people, and she accomplished a mighty thing. Each of us have a work of importance to do in God's plan. We may differ in natural ability and training, yet we are all needed. The problem confronting you, or me, today may be the very avenue through which we may find our place. No person should be happy until he has found a good name--and having found it, diligently set about fulfilling it. "A GOOD NAME IS RATHER TO BE CHOSEN THAN GREAT RICHES." (Prov. 22:1.) Let each of us accept the challenge! A good name is our most valuable asset!

CITIZENS URGED, INSTRUCTED ON WRITING TO CONGRESSMEN

AN OPEN LETTER TO AREA CITIZENS:

By extending the ratification time of the ERA, the House of Representatives established a dangerous precedent in the amending process of our Nation's Constitution. From this day forth any group who wants an amendment passed cannot be denied an extension time if this is allowed to stand....

The Constitution does not limit time for ratification, however the U.S. Supreme Court has held that the time allowed for ratification must be reasonable. The Court's purpose is to assure that there be a contemporaneous consensus—that is, that all the ratifications occur close enough together to show a consensus of three-fourths of the states.

The seven-year time limitation has been included in every constitutional amendment for the past 50 years. For every amendment in our history; seven years has been adequate to determine the will of the people. No amendment has ever taken more than four years.

Former Senator Sam Ervin, who is considered to be one of the nation's experts in constitutional law, said in an interview in "U.S. News and World Report" and a written statement to all members of the House Judiciary Committee, "It's totally unconstitutional to extend the deadline.—It is a perversion of the amendatory process as established by the Constitution." He cites Supreme Court decisions that support his reasoning. Professor Jules B. Gerard, another distinguished constitutional authority, says almost identically the same things regarding legality of the extension in his written statement to the House Judiciary Committee.

The idea of allowing states over ten years to change their minds from "No" to "Yes"—but denying them the right to change from "Yes" to "No"—runs contrary to the American concept of fairness. Yet that is the double standard of the ERA proponents. Rep. Billy Lee Evans, a Democrat from Georgia told his colleagues: "As a member of the Georgia legislature, I favored ERA. I oppose extension because I believe in equal rights for ALL women. This includes the rights of those women who oppose ERA. I disagree with those women who were satisfied seven years ago with the limitation and who now come back on the verge of defeat and want seven more years. The time for that was then. I cannot face those women who opposed ERA and now have victory in sight at the end of a long battle, and say I'm moving that victory beyond your grasp. Yet that is precisely the 'heads I win, tails you lose' kind of scheme that the House of Representatives has endorsed."

The extension is being considered in the Senate Judiciary Committee at this time. Pam Turner, Senator Tower's legislative aide, said that it is imperative to write members of this committee and express our opinions on this vitally important issue. Also write own state Senators. Here is what to ask these persons:

1. Vote NO on the ERA Time Extension Bill, because it is illegal.
2. Vote YES on an amendment to allow rescissions.
3. Require a 2-3 vote on any ERA Time Extension Bill. Article V. of the Constitution states: The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution—The Time Extension passed the House by a simple majority, which is in violation of our Constitution.

Once you have decided to sit down and write to your representatives, how do you proceed?

First, keep in mind that letters discussing current, pending legislation will receive more attention than general observations. Next, avoid any kind of form letter suggested by any organization, however well-meaning. You will note Common Cause does not use this technique, instead always asking members to compose their own letters, in their own words. This is because we are constantly informed by Congressional staffs on the Hill that form letters rank very low on the totem pole in influencing Congressmen and Congresswomen.

Here are some tips on writing to your representatives:

1. Write on personal or business letterhead (if you have it), and sign your name over your signature if you have typed the letter.
2. Put your return address on the letter. Envelopes get thrown away.
3. Identify your subject clearly, giving the name of the legislation you are writing about, and the bill number if you know it.
4. State your reason for writing. Your own personal experience is the best supporting evidence. Tell how the issue would affect you, your family, community, or livelihood — or the effect you believe it would have on your community or state, or on our country.

5. Be as brief as you can without losing the message you want to convey.
6. Use your own words, and avoid stereotyped phrases that sound like form letters.
7. Be reasonable. Don't ask for the impossible or engage in threats.
8. Ask your legislators to state their positions on the issue in their replies. You are entitled to know.
9. Time the arrival of your letter so it reaches the Capitol before legislation is acted upon in the committee or on the floor. (See the section, "When To Write Your Representatives.")
10. Be sure to thank your legislators if they have done something you think is right on a particular issue.

Letters to your representatives have maximum impact when they concern pending legislation. To know when key legislation is coming up, watch for "Action Alerts" in your copies of the Common Cause publication, FrontLine. Here, you will also find background facts and the most up-to-date information on legislation. If you require additional information and there is sufficient time, write to Common Cause's headquarters in Washington, D.C. Otherwise, telephone us collect (202/833-1200) and ask for the person handling your state in the Washington Connection. Or, if that person is not in, ask for the manager of the Washington Connection.

WHO CARES IF YOUR ELECTRIC BILL IS HIGHER THIS SUMMER? YOU DO AND...

WE DO!

If your electric bill has jumped this summer, take a good look at that summer sun. Sure, we all like sunny days, but our friend the sun can be a villain in disguise. On these summer scorches, you'll need your air conditioning to run more. Sometimes running day... and night... all night. Well, that runs up your electric bill. Just when vacation and school expenses are here.

- Turn the thermostat to at least 78, or until you find the highest possible setting that feels reasonably comfortable to you. If you have window air conditioning units, run them only as much as is absolutely necessary.
- Check your insulation.
- When you buy major appliances, including air conditioners, be sure to check the EER (Energy Efficiency Rating). The higher the EER, the more energy and money you'll save.
- Clean and replace the filters regularly.
- Keep your drapes closed to block out direct sunlight.
- Weatherstrip around doors and windows.

We know you care about higher electric bills. And we want you to know that we care, too. We can't cool off the sun, but there are still time and ways to keep your bill from going much higher. Here are just a few:

At Southwestern Public Service, we care about you getting the most for your energy dollar. Call us for suggestions to help you change the size of your electric bill for the better.

FACTS

By John Ricci

Well, someone finally is trying to do something about the weather. Not change it, mind you, but at least trying to give the farmer and rancher a fighting chance to keep up with it. A national agricultural weather network is being set up, using the states' Extension Service personnel, who will practically hand carry weather information direct to the farm or ranch. The National Weather Service (NWS), Washington, D.C., is expected to get the weather information down to the grass roots level faster and more accurately than ever before. NWS also plans to set up 330 special weather radio stations to broadcast ag weather advisories. The whole radio network should be in operation within 3-4 years, not a minute too soon for most farmers either.

It is anticipated that the new rates will result in a 26.4% increase in Pioneer's gross revenues on its West Texas Distribution System, which increase is a "major change" as defined in Section 43(b) of Article 1446c, V.A.T.C.S. A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with each of the cities and towns (listed below) on or about August 11, 1978, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street.

NOTICE

Pioneer Natural Gas Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rates for residential and commercial type, small industrial and large gas air conditioning and/or electric generating gas service customers in the rural environs of the 63 cities and towns on its West Texas Distribution System, effective upon the date and to the extent that such rates are finally approved for the said cities and towns. It is anticipated that the new rates will result in a 1.7% increase in Pioneer's gross revenues on its West Texas Distribution System. The increase in Pioneer's aggregate revenues will not constitute a "major change" as defined in Section 43(b) of Article 1446c, V.A.T.C.S.

A Statement of Intent to change said rates was filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas about August 18, 1978, and is available for inspection at the Company's Amarillo office, 301 S. Taylor Street.
