CHANGE OF VENUE.

Important Murder Case to be Transferred to Nacogdoches.

The case of the State against Sylvester Berg, charged with the murder of J. L. Caynor, will be transferred to Nacogdoches county upon the return of Judge Pope from Richmond, Va., next month. Such is the statement coming from the court house yesterday, it having been agreed between counsel to permit the change of venue.

Only a few weeks ago the Berg case was set for trial before Judge Pope, but was again continued. A large number of witnesses reside in the northern portion of the state, several of them being residents of Waco. At each time the case has been set for trial, witnesses have come to the city, and on two or more occasions found that the trial had been put over to the next term.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Stoker, May 27.—The big rain that fell here last night did a great deal of damage for the farmers of this section.

The crops are looking fine in spite of the big rains.

The health of our section is good at this writing.

COMMENCEMENT SERMON.

An Interesting Program for the Exercises Tonight.

The auditorium of the High school building was filled to its capacity Sunday morning with the friends and patrons of the city schools.

The audience had assembled to hear the commencement sermon by Rev. J. W. Mills, pastor of the First Methodist church. Every one present expected a treat, and not one was disappointed.

Mr. Mills preached from the text:—And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, Jesus of Nazareth the King of the Jews. This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city; and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin." John xix, 19-20.

The theme of the discourse was the necessity for men of education in all the walks of life—men with clear heads, warm hearts and willing hands.

The sermon was a masterpiece of eloquence and polished diction, and Bro. Mills was the recipient of many congratulatory handshakes at its close.

A special musical program had been prepared for the occasion, which was very much enjoyed.

IMPORTANT RULING.

Only One Set of Trustees in each School District.

The following letter has been received by Hon. R. W. Tillery, county superintendent, which is published for the information of all concerned:

Supt. R. W. Tillery, Nacogdoches, Texas:

Austin, May 15.—In answer to your letter of May 14, you are advised that the new trustees law limits the control and management of the schools in a district to one board of school trustees and that said law becomes effective July 11, 1907. You are therefore advised to qualify only one board of school trustees for the control and management of the schools in each district of your county for the next scholastic year.

Yours respectfully,

R. B. Cousins,

State Superintendent.

A Cutting Stroke.

Henry Rhodes, colored, was seriously and perhaps fatally cut late yesterday afternoon by Meek Aldridge, also colored. The cutting occurred about a mile west of town and Rhodes came near bleeding to death before he could be brought to a doctor.

He received seven severe cuts on the head, arms and body, and it took the surgeon about five hours to patch up the wounds. One cut penetrated to the brain over the left temple, and this wound may cause Rhodes' death.

Aldridge was arrested and jailed last night by Sheriff Blackburn and his Deputy Horace Wilson. He says that he was drunk.

Henry R. Mast of Melroe returned this morning from Galveston, where he has been for several months attending the state medical college.

The Two Hundred Mark.

Last night Liberty Elm camp No. 210, Woodmen of the World, received its two hundred member by initiation. Since January 1, 1907, the camp has received 40 new members, and still there are several applications on the table. The growth of the camp is phenomenal, and the popularity of the order in Nacogdoches is increasing every day.

It is the intention of the Woodmen to hold their annual memorial and decoration exercises at the cemetery next Sunday afternoon if the rains do not prevent.

It is economy to buy from B. M. Hall & Son because you only want the best and they have it, you want it for less and they sell that way. Try them and see. 1w one of them may sur- though there is plenty of room in the journalistic graveyard.

THE editor of the Beaumont Enterprise is evidently a candidate for poet laureate of the Texas press association, since he asserts that the "poet lariat" is supposed to rope the rhymes in any old way.

THE meeting of the commercial secretaries of Texas and Louisiana will be held in Beaumont June 13 and 14, the meeting of the executive committee of the Inland Waterways Association being held there at the same time. A splendid program has been arranged and Governors Campbell and Blanchard will be there.

THE Jacksonville Reformer says town killers are classified in seven different bunches, as follows: "First, those who go out of town to do their shopping; second, those who want a quiet town instead of push and business; third, those who imagine they own the town; fourth, those who deride public-spirited men; sixth, those who oppose everything that does not originate within themselves; seventh, those who seek to injure the credit and reputation of an individual." If you are one of these, for goodness sake quit it.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact that Texas is the largest pecan producing state in the Union. The Birmingham, Alabama, Herald, in calling attention to this fact, says: "Last year Texas shipped away more than two million dollars worth of pecans, and that state has at last come to a full appreciation of the toothsome little brown nuts of commerce. She has long been the chief pecan state of the Union, but she proposes hereafter to outdo all her previous records in that direction. Not only is every native pecan being preserved, but nurserymen are actively engaged in pecan propagation." In this connection The Sentinel will state that several thousand grafted pecan trees have recently been purchased by orchardmen in the Nacogdoches fruit belt, which would indicate the interest that is being taken in pecan culture in this section of the state.

MULHATTAN'S GHOST.

Poor old Nacogdoches. Another fire has played havoc in her midst. From last accounts, the tree to which Santa Anna was tied is still unscorched. — San Antonio Light.

The wise young man who wrote the paragraph above is almost as ignorant of Texas history as he is of the facts concerning the recent fires in Nacogdoches. While it is true that fires play havoc, the recent fires here could have been much more disastrous and still not have justified the reports sent out to some of the sensational newspapers. Only four residences have been burned within as many months, and they were located in different portions of the city, and were destroyed at different times. As "the tree to which Santa Anna was tied" is not located within many miles of Nacogdoches, and is under the protection of the state of Texas, it is not in near so much danger of being scorched as are the newspaper Ananiases who have slandered—lied—about the recent fires in Nacogdoches.

THE News believes great good would come of a fixed and faithful determination on the part of the people of Texas to send to the next Legislature no man who is not willing, eager and determined to get through in thirty days. Who will second a motion to that effect?—Galveston-Dallas News.

The Sentinel hastens to second that motion heartily—emphatically. All the legislative work—the real, beneficial work—of the 30th legislature was accomplished in about thirty days time, yet 120 days were consumed in accomplishing it. The sessions have heretofore been too long and too expensive.

THE Woodville Messenger calls attention to a condition that immigration agencies and real estate dealers would do well to consider. The Messenger says: "When the foreigner comes to America he seeks the cities instead of the country, as the class that usually comes are not accustomed to farming. The farms need labor now more than any business. If authorities at the ports of entry would direct the new arrivals to the sections where the need is greatest it seems that they might do more good than to allow them to fill up our large cities and live in wretchedness, as a large percentage of them are doing. Of course they know little about farming, but it would not take them long to learn to work under the farmer's direction, and they would be hired at a much lower wage than farmers are now finding it necessary to pay."

THE contract for rebuilding of East Texas College at Commerce, Texas, has been let. Size of building 128x70 feet; wings, 43 feet in width; brick with concrete foundations; steel lintels and girders; cast columns; metal ceilings; gravel roof; steam or hot air heating; electric fixtures; to cost about $30,000. The buildings of this college were destroyed by fire a few months ago, and an effort was made by the citizens of Denison to secure the removal of the school to that town by offering a bonus of $50,000. The people of Commerce knew too well the value of the college to their town and refused to permit its removal. To accomplish this desire they are now replacing the burned buildings with better ones without any expense to the owners of the college. That is the kind of public spirit that builds towns and establishes colleges. Commerce is a much smaller town than Nacogdoches, and has not one tenth the wealth.

THE Texas Press Association visited three towns last week, were the guests of the business clubs in each city, and were entertained royally by all three, but not one of them offered to take the editors to the breweries. How things do move. A few years ago this was a big stunt, and usually made a big hit with the newspaper men. But it is different now.—Palestine Herald.

Times have changed and men have changed. When breweries were a new industry in Texas the citizens of the city possessing one were eager to exhibit it, and have the fact published to the world. Now sentiment has changed. It is the product of the breweries they extol in these days. Such is the effect of competition.

In answer to inquiries from various county clerks over the state, the attorney general has made a ruling regarding the qualifying notaries public. The attorney general holds that the county clerk is the only person before whom a notary can qualify, and the county clerk shall receive a fee of 50 cents for approving a notarial bond, administering oath 50 cents, to the state for commission $1, to the county clerk for approving bond 50 cents. The attorney general further rules that there is no statute in this state which requires that official bonds shall be acknowledged, and such acknowledgement is not necessary to admit it to record, and it is the duty of the county clerk to record such bond, although it has not been acknowledged and a notary public can not be required to pay a fee therefor.

Consul H. S. Culver of Cork reports that the British Board of Trade returns furnish an interesting comparison of the amount of weekly wages paid to agricultural laborers in England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland. It appears that in England the highest average wage is $5.32, paid in Durham, and the lowest $3.48, in Oxfordshire; in Wales the highest is $5.10 in Glamorgan, and the lowest $3.75, in Cardigan; in Scotland the highest is $5.32, in Renfrow, and the lowest $3.26, in Shetland, Orkney and Caithness, while in Ireland the highest is $3.12, in Down, and the lowest $2.19, in Mayo. The highest wage in Ireland is 14 cents lower than the lowest in Scotland, 36 cents lower than the lowest in England, and 60 cents lower than the lowest in Wales.—Galveston News.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Many Routes May be Discontinued in the South.

The Postmaster's Advocate, the official journal of the United States postal service, in discussing the recent decision of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw concerning the discontinuance of rural mail routes where they are not supported by those living along these routes, sounds a timely warning to the people of the South.

"Investigation shows," says the Advocate, "that these routes are not being patronized in the south anything like as liberally as north of the Ohio river. In order to ascertain the cause of the trouble and to see just to what extent R. F. D. routes generally are being patronized, the postoffice department during the past few months instituted a careful inquiry—throughout the country. Special inspectors have been instructed to make investigation, and these reports recently submitted account for the department orders discontinuing quite a number of rural routes—more in the south than anywhere else.

"In the south it was found that while invariably the most up to date, progressive farmers are deeply interested in their R. F. D. service, a large percentage of the patrons living along the different routes pay but little attention to it, and seem to care very little whether or not the service is discontinued. It is such indifference as this that may result in the discontinuance of a great many southern routes, the liberal and progressive element paying the penalty for the lethargy of the indifferent and unprogressive residents living along the route.

"In some cases it has been found that where a route has been established upon the showing that there were as many as 125 homes to be served, not more than 50 of these homes would patronize the service after it was established—the other 75 not even manifesting enough interest to put up mail boxes. "In all cases of this kind routes will be discontinued. "It seems hard to realize that in this day and generation any family should be so far behind the times as not to manifest an interest in a daily mail service when they can get it for nothing.

"And yet throughout the south this remarkable lack of interest among many people may result in the discontinuance of many mail routes. In this event people living along these routes will have nobody to blame but themselves, for the postoffice department is not only willing but anxious to see the R. F. D. service grow. It will not, however, continue routes in communities that do not patronize the service."

For Women and Girls.

The Summer school at the college of Industrial Arts at Denton, from June 10 to July 6, affords to Texas women a fine opportunity for training in practical arts—for the home, the store and the school. Tuition is free, and cost of boarding low.

Expert instructors are employed by the state for this important work. A postal card addressed to the college will bring full information.

Dr. G. C. Chandler, the well known specialist of Shreveport, writes that he has just returned from New York and has resumed the practice of his specialty—diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

Gospel From the Shoulder.

Editor Jim Lowrey of the Honey Grove Signal is the author of this brief sermon: "Every town has a lot of lazy loafers. Every town has lot of lazy devils claiming to have such weak backs that if they undertook to split the wood it would lay them up for weeks. They allow their wives to take in boarders and do washing to keep the family, but they are willing to bet the drinks that they can shoulder a two-bushel bag of wheat standing in a half-bushel measure. But when one of these crackerbox statesmen passes in his checks his wife, instead of holding a jolification meeting, will weep over his worthless cadaver and spend a year's income on a funeral outfit that don't fit him when he deserves to be kicked into eternity in his shirt tail."

constitute Club, the which formed the the stone fort would room destroyed, and all save the memory of the old building would have been crumbled into dust. But thanks to noble womanhood, whose instinct is duty, courage and devotion, the historic old landmark is to be perpetuated and preserved, and the honor and credit of a thoughtless and careless citizenship is to be saved from the stigma of inexcusable desecration. These ladies whose zeal and energy have thus immortalized their names and their lives are Mrs. Ema B. Shindler, Mrs. E. M. Dotson, Mrs. W. F. Price and Mrs. E. C. Branch. To them all honor is due, and to them all honor is given.

It is said that over 4000 tickets were sold in Houston Sunday to excursion to Galveston. Besides many left the town the evening before, just before the lid went down.

It is an easy matter to fall into erroneous grooves on this tax rendition proposition. You are not required to render your property to the assessor at what you would take for it, but what you could get for it—not at forced sale. In other words, at a reasonable value.

THE widow of the late President McKinley died at her home in Canton, Ohio, Sunday. Mrs. McKinley was perhaps one of the most generally known and one of the most universally beloved women in the United States. One of her sweetest traits of character was her supreme devotion to her husband.

THE Hemphill Leader asserts that the commissioners court of Newton county have ignored the road law for Jasper, Newton and Sabine counties by failing at their last regular meeting to appoint a county road superintendent or calling upon the county officers charged with the duties to collect extra taxes. That is quite unfortunate for the people of Newton county. No people can be happy or prosperous without good roads, and every reasonable effort should be utilized to secure them.

NEW TAX LAWS.

Governor Campbell's Logical Reasoning in Their Favor.

The following statement from Gov. Campbell with reference to the new tax laws was furnished The Sentinel by Judge C. D. Mims:

"It is said by many that the new laws will result in doubling the present or last years taxable values of the State for the year 1908. With probably $5,000,000,000 taxable values in the State and only about $1,225,000,000 on the tax rolls at present, it is probable that a full rendition will more than double values. But if only doubled, let us see what the result will be, taking the estimates under the new laws as reasonably accurate:

"If last years' taxable values of the State as shown by the tax rolls are doubled, they would amount to approximately $2,500,000,000. The amount to be expended by the State government for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1908, is already fixed by the appropriation bill passed by the Thirtieth Legislature at $3,578,671. It is practically certain that the laws passed by the Thirtieth Legislature, not including the intangible tax law, will increase the receipts of the State from sources other than ad valorem taxation for the year ending June 30, 1908, by $700,000 to $900,000, and the intangible ad valorem increase about $300,000 to the State's revenue, add the amount of such receipts from all sources other than ad valorem taxes, estimated for the current year ending June 30, 1907, which is $1,870,000 to $700,000, using that amount which is the lowest estimated increase, and we will have $2,570,000 as the amount approximately certain to be raised from sources other than ad valorem for the year ending June 30, 1908. That is to say that from charter fees, franchise tax, gross receipts tax, liquor tax, official fees, etc., the general revenue will receive $2,570,000. Deducting this sum from the amount to be expended for the succeeding fiscal year as above stated, leaves $1,008,671; 20 per cent to cover delinquent costs of assessing and collecting to be added to this as required by the automatic tax law, gives $1,210,405 as the total sum to be raised by ad valorem taxation, or taxes on property for the fiscal year 1908, or year after next, which it will be noted is only a little more than one-half the amount which was assessed and collected by the State as necessary for the current year under the old law.

"If the assessed valuations for next year amount to only $2,500,000,000, or about double those for the current year as above stated, then under the automatic tax bill for general revenue purposes for that year, the rate will be reduced to about six cents, or less on the $100, for the necessities of the fiscal year mentioned. Under the automatic bill the state school rate will be correspondingly reduced and the commissioners court will have power and it will be its duty after assessed valuations are in to reduce county taxes in proportion as valuations of taxable property have been increased. From this it will be seen that the effort will be to reduce the State rate for the fiscal year beginning September 1, 1908, to nearly one-third the rate fixed by law for the present year and to nearly one-fourth the rate fixed by law for last year, depending entirely upon the increase in the receipts from other sources. While there is now a deficiency, still the ad valorem rate for the present year is less than last year and can be further reduced in proportion as taxable values increase. This necessarily means that property owners whose property has been assessed at even one-fourth of its value for the current fiscal year will be increased who has been heretofore assessed at less than one-fourth of its actual value. While the great number of small home owners whose property has heretofore been assessed at a much larger proportion of its actual value will have their taxes considerably reduced and no hardships can possibly come to any one."

Texas From A to Z.

The facts contained in the little volume have been compiled with greatest care, and something will be found on every product of the great state of Texas, as well as handy information about her area, population, etc. Each subject is arranged in alphabetical order, and is printed in clear, bold type, which is restful to the eyes.

The booklets are principally for distribution outside the state, but on account of its handy form and valuable information, copies will be sent to business men and others throughout the state upon request.

The second regular meeting of the Texas Five Million Club will be held in Fort Worth on June 14 and 15. The railroads have announced an exceedingly low rate and large delegations will be present from every section of the state. Among other things, the Diamond Jubilee for 1911 will be discussed.

JUDGE EDWARDS RESPONDS.

Raised Subscription in El Paso to Rebuild Stone Fort.

El Paso Times.

Judge Peyton F. Edwards yesterday circulated a subscription which was headed as follows:

"El Paso, Texas, May 21, 1907.—Whereas, The ladies of Nacogdoches, Texas, organized as the Cum Concilio club, have preserved the stones with which the old stone fort, that stood for more than three hundred years on the north side of the plaza in Nacogdoches, was built, and which was lately torn down; and have acquired a site on which to rebuild and restore this historic monument to its original form;

"Now, therefore, we the undersigned native Texans, desiring to assist in this patriotic work, do hereby agree to pay to said club the amount set opposite our respective names for the purpose of aiding in reconstructing and restoring said building."

Judge Edwards explains that he has a letter from the secretary of the club stating that they had at last begun work on the re-erection of the old stone fort, and would lay the corner-stone about the last of this month, and he framed this subscription so as to include only native Texans, and it will be placed with the other documents in the cornerstone.

He raised about $90 yesterday, and is very anxious to increase it to over $100, and begs that any native Texan who feels interested in this patriotic work will call at this office in the Bronson block and subscribe, as he will retain this subscription some days before sending it to Nacogdoches.

The Fellow Feeling.

Judge Hugh B. Short has arranged to remove to Nacogdoches, where he will continue to practice law. He and Mrs. Short and the younger children will reside in the city of the stone fort, but the three elder children will remain in Center. Judge Short's professional reputation is well known in Texas and he enjoys a most lucrative law practice. Judge Short is an old time newspaper man, and aside from the social courtesies which impel us to extend our best wishes to himself and family, we desire to express the fellow feeling of one newspaper man for another in hoping for his continued welfare, professionally and personally.—Center Advocate.

The Hall Remedy Co., Dallas, Texas. Iowa, La., July 9, 1904.

Dear Sirs—I have tried a great many Chill remedies, but have found none equal to Hall's Chill Cure for Malaria. A few years past I had a severe attack of Chills and Fever and took many kinds of Chill cures, but they did no good and I just had to wear them out. They commenced on me last year the same way, but in a worse form. A friend recommended Hall's Chill Cure and I took it. It broke up the Chills and Fever and stopped them entirely. Whenever I hear of anyone having Chills or Malaria, I tell them Hall's Chill Cure will make them well if they will take it. I never can say enough for Hall's Chill Cure. Yours truly, MR. FRED LIGHTNER.

REBUILDING THE FORT.

History of the Effort to Preserve the Stone Fort.

Written by Request.

Having learned that the Old Stone Fort at Nacogdoches was doomed to destruction to give place to a modern building, on January 13, 1902, a petition was written and sent to "Mesdames R. C. Shindler, E. A. Blount and others," asking them to "Rescue the stones of the Old Stone Fort, either by purchase or gift, and have them moved to some suitable site where they might be used in some way commemorative of their historic past," etc., etc. This petition was signed by Cornelia Branch Stone, President Sydney Sherman Chapter, D. R. T.; Catherine Chambers Sturgis, Secretary. Mollie R. Macgill Rosenberg, President Veve Jefferson Davis Chapter, U. D. C.; Mrs. Valery Edward Austin, Secretary. Mrs. W. F. Beers, President Echo Club; Frances Kemison, Treasurer and Acting Secretary.

Knowing the lofty spirit that possessed the members of the Cum Concilio Club, of which I was a member, I immediately placed my letter before the club for consideration. The result was the arousing to enthusiasm the latent patriotism that dwells in every human breast, and the club accepted the petition of the Galveston ladies in the spirit in which it was offered. Immediate action was taken and a committee appointed composed of Mrs. E. C. Branch, Mrs. R. C. Shindler and Mrs. E. M. Dotson to wait upon Messrs. Perkins Bros. to see what could be accomplished in behalf of the Old Stone Fort. Mr. Charles Perkins met the committee most kindly and discussed the matter, the consultation resulting in his giving the stones to the Club with the understanding that they were to be moved by the 15th of March. On the 22nd of February the Club held a reception in the Old Stone Fort. It was to be the farewell to the old building as it then stood. The reception was advertised and the loan of relics asked for, and very many valuable relics were brought in from town and surrounding country, which made a very beautiful attraction. The reception was a grand success, holding open afternoon and night. No entrance fee was asked, but a free will offering resulted in a nice little sum, this together with contributions sent us from the Daughters of the Republic of Texas in Galveston and Houston, and other patriotic societies, was used in taking down the building and moving the stones to a vacant lot loaned to us by Mr. Jule Smith until we could obtain a lot whereon to rebuild.

On the following Sunday divine service was held within the grey old walls, a union service where Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal members worshiped together. It was a beautiful and inspiring service, and those who were present felt the hallowing influence, and the spirits of the brave men who in early times had sheltered there seemed to be near us again glorying in the work of redemption.

On the 2nd of March, 1904, the city council decided a lot on the Northwest corner of Washington square, (the square on which the beautiful high school building stands) to the Cum Concilio Club for the rebuilding of the Old Stone Fort. Since then the club has striven to procure means for the work, getting up entertainments and writing letters to prominent Texans interested in Texas History. Responses were received in many cases, but we have not yet sufficient funds for completing the work. Then, too, the work of rebuilding has been long delayed because of the inability to procure workmen at what we considered reasonable terms. Discouragements have beset us but an indomitable determination to "Save the Fort" inspired us to renewed exertion and at last we have been rewarded by seeing our wishes and hopes about to be fulfilled. In meantime, on account of frequent absence from home, Mrs. E. C. Branch withdrew from the committee, Mrs. R. C. Shindler being chairman with Mrs. E. M. Dotson and Mrs. W. F. Price as co-workers, this committee retaining Mrs. Branch's name as honorary member in acknowledgment of the good work accomplished by her as its former chairman.

On Wednesday, the 15th of this month, the Stone Fort Committee met with the workmen on Washington Square and staked off the ground for the rebuilding of the Fort. First dirt was broken by the committee with the happy assurance that the work was indeed begun, and on Friday, the 17th, eight members of the club, Mesdames Branch, Butt, Jackson, Meador, H. D. Garrison, Matthews, Dotson and Shindler, first repaired to the Stone Fort lot and laid the first stones with appropriate ceremonies. Mrs. Price being unavoidably absent, Mrs. Dotson laid a stone in her name. The corner stone will soon be ready for setting and the Cum Concilio Club will be proud of the accomplishment of the work undertaken a few years ago. The building when complete will resemble the former building as much as possible; the same shape, length and breadth being observed. One end will be the facsimile of the end of the old building. The doors and windows will necessarily be different in order to make it practicable for use. The East end will contain a room, 20 x 20 feet, which will be provided with suitable cases in the future for a museum. Already a few relics have been promised and we hope for a liberal donation to be devoted to History, as we know there are many such relics in the country.

A register will be one of our treasures and the name of every donor toward the "Stone Fort Fund" will be registered, individual, firm or club will thus be remembered and history will record to future ages the Rebuilders of the "Old Stone Fort."
Emma B. Shindler.

INTERESTING RETURN TRIP.

Texas Girls Away at School Visit Many Noted Historic Places.

These few sentences contain a brief account of the enviable trip, planned for the return of a party of school girls gathered from letters received from Miss Zuleta Matthews, who will be a member of the party, by her mother.

A few have received invitations from Miss Zuleta Matthews to the commencement exercises at Virginia Institute, which opens on Friday, May 24, to continue until May 29.

Immediately after the close of school the matron of the school and Prof. James will leave on a special V. I. car with a party of the Institute pupils for Jamestown Exposition, with stop-over privileges at all points of interest connected with historic Virginia.

The party will leave Bristol on May 30, go direct to Richmond and after visiting all points of interest in Richmond, the capital of the once confederate state, the party will take a steamer in the morning and enjoy a day light trip down the James river, going through Dutch Gap, passing Drewery's Bluff and Fort Powhatan. Along this route can be seen many stately old colonial homes. The handsome old home of Grant used as headquarters is now the home of Dr. Foss and can be seen from the river, also the ancestral home of General Robert E. Lee, whose mother, Anne Carter of Shirley, married "Light Horse" Harry Lee of Revolutionary fame. A light house at Jordan's Point marks the landing of the Blands, who settled there from Kippaks Park, England. Theodore Bland equipped at his own expense a regiment of cavalry which he commanded during the Revolutionary War. Westover, the home of Colonel William Byrd, father of Evelyn Byrd, the famous beauty who figures so prominently in romance and story of Colonial Days, still stands as it did in those early days, having resisted the was of the elements as well as those of the red and white men, and is rich in historic reminiscence. Thirty-three persons perished there in the massacre of 1622. During the Civil War it was occupied by General Pope and other Union officers. After spending a week in Jamestown the party will disband, each going their own way, chaperoned home by father, mother or some near relative or friend.

The Texas girls will come over the Iron & Crescent R. R., accompanied by the matron, Mrs. L. H. Fowler, who has been invited to stop over with the girls for a few days at Senator May's in Tennessee, from thence they will come direct home via Shreveport.

DECIDED SUCCESS.

Frances Last Night and Mass Meeting This Morning.

The Grammar School entertainment at the auditorium last night was witnessed by the largest audience that ever before assembled in the High School building. Notwithstanding the fact that an admission fee of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children was charged, standing room was at a premium and many had to stand in the hall at the head of the stairway.

The program as published in The Sentinel Monday afternoon was carried out without a hitch or a bobble, and to say that each one of the pupils who participated acquitted himself, or herself, with credit, is no exaggeration.

This morning at 10 o'clock a mass meeting of the patrons and pupils of the schools was held at the auditorium, when Superintendent Davis made a flattering report of the splendid work accomplished by the school during the year just closed.

President S. W. Blount of the school board also made a splendid talk on behalf of the trustees, and Messrs. V. E. Middlebrook, E. M. Dotson, D. K. Cason and June C. Harris spoke on behalf of the patrons of the school.

At the conclusion of the addresses by the gentlemen above named, the promotion cards were delivered to the pupils, and the hearts of many a child was made happy when presented with the credentials that notified them of their promotion to a higher grade.

Summer Meetings.

In answer to numerous inquiries I will take this method of announcing my summer meetings. I will begin at Saoul June 1, to run about 10 days.

At Mt. Horeb the night of June 16. I will begin here at night, because of the other appointment there at 11 a. m.

At Myrtle Springs on July 6 to 14.

At Nacogdoches for district camp meeting July 27 to 30. This camp meeting will be held on the Walker lot on East Main street and I will announce later just who will hold it. Will have a strong man.

Will be at Fairview to help in a union camp meeting to begin August 1, at night, to run as the Lord may lead. This meeting will be held at Mr. S. P. Smith's syrup mill; will stretch a tent by his mill shed, which will give plenty of room. If any one wants to camp at this meeting, Mr. Smith tells me they will be welcome to room to do so. This meeting will be in the hands of a committee of men from each church taking part in the meeting.

Will go back to Saoul to begin again on August 24 for a 10 day's meeting. This will bring our summer meetings to a close. Every one in reach of these meetings will take notice and come. I have been asked for several other meetings but you will see from the above list of appointments that my time is full till September. A. B. Harrell.

CAUGHT A BURGLAR.

Peculiar Experience of a Nacogdoches Citizen Sunday Morning.

Mr. B. F. Amonette, the well known attorney, had an unusual experience early Sunday morning, and one that he will not soon forget.

His attention was attracted by the whining and peculiar action of a big yellow dog near his back gate. On investigation Mr. Amonette found that the canine had his head hung in a big rat trap—one of the kind made of wire and that resembles a fish trap. Some one had baited the trap the night before, but had forgotten to close the door in the front end of the little cage. The dog came along, scented the meat and bread temptingly placed there for the mice, and foolishly poked his head into the trap to get a breakfast. When the animal undertook to extricate his head he could not do it. The sharp pointed wires held him.

The poor animal had completely exhausted himself when found by Mr. Amonette, and seemed only too willing to have the trap removed.

Mr. Amonette was compelled to get a pair of wire nippers and cut all the wires that held the dog's head before he could give him relief.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Providing for the Creation of Improvement Districts in Certain Cities.

JOINT RESOLUTION amending Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the creation of improvement districts in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants, and charging the cost of certain improvements made therein against the abutting property.

SECTION 1. Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the taxes necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen cents to pay jurors, on the hundred dollars valuation, except for payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment September 25, A. D. 1883, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws.

In addition to the foregoing, cities of more than five thousand inhabitants may lay out within their corporate limits, improvement districts in which they, by and with the consent of a majority of the taxpayers owning real estate therein, may build sidewalks and charge the cost thereof against the abutting property, and may build sewers and pave streets and charge one-third of the cost thereof against the abutting property on either side of the streets upon which such improvements are made in such district, and the amount charged against all such abutting property shall be deemed and held to be a tax against and a lien upon such abutting property, and the Legislature is required to enact laws prescribing the means for ascertaining the amount properly chargeable against each parcel of abutting property, and providing for the enforcement of its collection.

Sec. 2. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to the Constitution to the qualified voters of the State of Texas, on the first Tuesday in August, A. D. 1907, at which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots: "For the amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution, permitting property owners in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants to create improvement districts, one-third the cost of which to be charged against abutting property on either side of the street." And the voters opposed to said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the following: "Against the amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution, permitting property owners in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants to create improvement districts, one-third the cost of which to be charged against abutting property on either side of the street."

L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Fixing the Salary of Members of the Legislature.

AN ACT to amend Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to the compensation of members of the Legislature.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 24. SECTION ONE SEVENTY.

Portion of Terrell Election Law Declared Invalid.

In an opinion handed down Wednesday by Presiding Judge Davidson of the court of criminal appeals, section 170 of the Terrell general election law was declared unconstitutional. It was in the case of Frank Solon, appellant, from McLennan county, which was reversed and dismissed by the court. Section 170 is the section which provides that "any person who loans or advances money to another knowingly to be used for paying the poll tax of such other person is guilty of a misdemeanor."

The facts in the case show that appellant, Solon, loaned A. J. Ray the sum of $1.75 for the purpose of paying his (Ray's) poll tax for the year 1906. Before Ray borrowed the money from appellant he informed him the purpose of borrowing it and what he intended to do with it, and he further swears that he did pay his poll tax. Ray was in all respects other than the payment of his poll tax a qualified elector under the laws of the state. In declaring this section of the Terrell election law unconstitutional the court holds that that section of the law is invalid in that it is an abridgement of the right of the voter to pay his poll tax and thereby qualify himself to exercise the right of suffrage.

Continuing, the court holds that the borrower had the right to take all legitimate means to qualify himself to exercise the power of franchise or right of suffrage, and it makes no difference whether the party lending the money knew the borrower's purpose or not. The constitution does not discriminate in favor of those who are liable to pay their taxes and those who are not, and to give this section of the Terrell election law the construction that that law seeks would prevent or tend to prevent the poorer citizenship of the country from voting or qualifying themselves to vote by reason of their poverty.

A Card.

To the Good People of Shelby County: Center, Texas, May 23, 1907—I am leaving this morning for Nacogdoches with a portion of my family with a view of making that place my home for a time. I am doing this in deference to the universal demands of my friends and in obedience to the dictates of my own judgment, believing that it is my duty under present conditions to pursue this course. While my brother, Carroll, has fallen a victim to the malice of our enemies, who are equally the enemies of law and order, and while these same enemies are seeking to take my life because I have uncovered the corruption existing in high places in Shelby county, yet I believe the good people of Shelby county will in the end justify the confidence which I have now and have always had in them, and will yet come to my rescue in my efforts to purify public conditions. I shall maintain my home, my office and my business here and shall continue to do my duty as I see it. The good people of Shelby county have always been my friends and in grateful recognition of that fact this note is written upon the eve of my departure. Yours truly, H. B. Short.

Trawick is Growing. The town of Trawick, Texas, has increased in population in the last year; and now that place is one of the most prosperous and enterprising communities in that section of East Texas. Saw mills are still the order of the day, and the mills located there are shipping out large quantities of lumber. The E. W. Dunn Lumber Company has purchased the planer from Long & Plunket, and the machinery of the plant will be overhauled and other improvements made before resuming operations. Last but not least, W. T. Graves, of the Southern Mills Company, lives there. When Trawick begins to absorb Dallas boosters it will indeed grow.—Southern Industrial and Lumber Review.

Jesse Kinsey of Chireno was here today the guest of his brother, T. J. Kinsey. Married. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Yates 7 miles east of Nacogdoches, Mr. A. M. Orand was married to Miss Rosa B. Yates. Mr. Orand came from Fairfield to claim his fair bride, which place will be their future home. J. D. Cole of Douglass visited here today.

BAD BLOOD THE SOURCE OF ALL DISEASE

Every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength. When this life stream is flowing through the system in a state of purity and richness we are assured of perfect and uninterupted health; because pure blood is nature's safe-guard against disease. When, however, the body is fed on weak, impure or polluted blood, the system is deprived of its strength, disease germs collect, and the trouble is manifested in various ways. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the poison remains. These impurities and poisons find their way into the blood in various ways. Often a sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, leaves the refuse and waste matters to sour and form uric and other acids, which are taken up by the blood and distributed throughout the circulation. Coming in contact with contagious diseases is another cause for the poisoning of the blood, we also breathe the germs and microbes of Malaria into our lungs, and when these get into the blood in sufficient quantity it becomes a carrier of disease instead of health. Some are so unfortunate as to inherit bad blood, perhaps the dregs of some old constitutional disease of ancestors is handed down to them and they are constantly annoyed and troubled with it.—Bad blood is the source of all disease, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and purified the body is sure to suffer in some way. For blood troubles of any character S. S. S. is the best remedy ever discovered. It goes down into the circulation and removes any and all poisons, supplies the healthful properties it needs, and completely and permanently cures blood diseases of every kind.—The action of S. S. S. is so thorough that hereditary taints are removed and weak, diseased blood made strong and healthy so that disease cannot remain. It cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and does not leave the slightest trace of the trouble for future outbreaks. The whole volume of blood is renewed and cleansed after a course of S. S. S. It is also nature's greatest tonic, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is absolutely harmless to any part of the system.—S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores. Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

Garrison Cleanings.

Garrison, May 26.—As we write in our happy cottage home the long excursion train passes our door to Houston and Galveston, laden with men and women seeking life's pleasures and recreation. God has planted within the capacity and instinct for enjoyment, and we should make a covenant with ourselves, whatever we do to ask Him to seal it with His blessings.

Mrs. Della Simpson and daughter, Willie Eva, left last Thursday for Jacksonville to be in attendance at the commencement of the A. I. school, where her daughter, Lois, is a pupil and also in the exercises.

Tradition claims Friday as an unlucky day, but from the wonderful success last night the rule failed. A box supper was gotten up and managed by Mrs. Cordelia Griffith, a most excellent christian worker in the Home Mission society; the proceeds amounting to $23, which will be used in buying a nice silver communion set for the Methodist church South. The girls came with their well filled boxes and with their untiring energy had ice cream tables run in apposition, making a complete success. First table, kept by Lela Garrison and Beulah Kelley; second table, by Pearl Britten and Bessie Peterson; soda pop stand, by Rhorine Garrison and Gertrude Davidson; 3 boxes sold by Macie Cochran and Ada Cardell. After spending several hours socially together the gay crowd with much credit for their success repaired to their home.

Mrs. Della Stripling and children of Melrose are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

Little Virginia came with much welcome into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stalling on the 11th to remain permanently with them. We trust she will brighten every home she enters in life.

Mr. James Perkins of Rusk is visiting his sister, Mrs. Tom Summers.

The decorations and refreshments displayed the Senior class colors, purple and gold, and the class flowers, violets, very artistically. An interesting and amusing program, consisting of conundrums, whose answers required knowledge of Shakespeare plays, employed the guests until the refreshments were served.

A little after twelve the guests, happy and grateful for the pleasant evening, departed for their homes.

Mr. Russell Barron, foreman of the Plain Dealer composing room, is the proud father of a brand new printer boy, and he is laying off today with a sore throat.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They do not cost hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: E. J.
