WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

For three quarters of a nationally-televised college football game Thanksgiving Day, we had a months-ago-made prediction coming true.

After Texas University's Longhorns, now the number one team in the nation, defeated the Texas Tech Red Raiders by a heavy margin early in the season, we wrote in this space sympathy for Red Raider fans and told them not to worry--that the Fightin' Texas Aggies would take care of those mean, old Steers come Thanksgiving Day.

After the prediction was made, Tech then outscored the Aggies in an ill-fated game at Lubbock and our prediction appeared to have about as much chance of coming true as a 12-trailer cotton farmer has of getting through the harvest season without having a flat on one of his trailers.

But finally Thanksgiving Day did come and the Aggies, who had won only two games all season, batted the nation's Number 1 team around pretty good for three quarters.

Just about the time the Aggies were going to clinch the truth in this department's prediction, the Steers got luckier than a four-bale cotton farmer and overcame A&M's 13-3 lead and went ahead, 15-13, with only 1:19 left to play in the game.

As it turned out, that wasn't enough time for the Aggies, who by that time were having to battle not only the top college football team in the nation but that aforementioned luck, too. Neutral fans who watched the game commented afterwards, "It would have been a shame for Texas to have been beaten and that Number One rating lost for our area."

Try as we might, we couldn't work up any sympathy for people with that outlook. The Southwest Conference already has a reputation for beating itself, so to speak, and thereby hurting its national rating.

We'd rather add to that reputation than have the nation's Number One team in the conference.

At least, that was our thinking last Thursday.

Frankly, we had hoped everyone had forgotten that prediction we made back in September--or maybe it was early October--but when it came within three points and a minute and 19 seconds of being true, we thought we'd better dust it off and bring it to light again.

Our predictions on football games aren't as accurate as Weatherman Willie's are about what the weather's going to do. So, when we get reasonably close, we don't want to miss an opportunity to make public note of it.

Nonetheless, Texas U. supporters got their scare of the season in that game.

We've been trying to take consolation in that...

And that's pretty good, but a win would have been a bunch better.

We've heard a rumor that some New Mexico men have been fined heavily for killing Parmer County pheasants.

Source of the rumor hasn't been verified so we don't know if there's any basis to it.

The part about the heavy fine is good, however, and we're glad the fine was heavy, extra heavy, whether we're dealing with truth or fiction.

We think that strict enforcement of game laws will be necessary to ever have the area adequately stocked with pheasants. Without this enforcement, the pheasants possibly won't have even a fighting chance to get a good start in the area. And while we've never wasted a lot of time hunting birds, we'd like, as much as anyone, to see the pheasant population here large enough to have an exciting season.

When there's enough birds, and therefore enough interest, that is a lot of fun, even for onlookers.

Business, as well as interest, can be created.

We definitely favor an increase in the pheasant population and a decrease in the thickness of wallets of hunters who

Bovina Christmas Card Project Now Underway

Bovina's first Project Christmas Card was kicked off Monday.

The project began as several people in the community deposited the amount of money they usually spend for Christmas cards, envelopes and stamps in a special account in First National Bank.

The money will be used for a worthwhile project for the community.

Bovina Woman's Study Club is sponsoring the project. This is the first year for it to be in existence here.

Names of those who contribute to the fund will be published in a half-page "Christmas Card" in Christmas issue of The Blade. This will replace the sending of Christmas cards locally if a majority of people in the community participate. Mrs. Earl Stevenson, chairwoman of the Christmas card project committee for the Study Club, says.

Mrs. Stevenson reminds donors to the fund to inform the teller at the bank exactly how they want their names and those of other members of their family listed in the community Christmas card.

"We're not asking anyone to participate in the project who is not in favor of it," Mrs. Stevenson says, "but we want to make it available for those who think it's a good idea. The money collected from the project will be used for the benefit of the entire community."

Deadline for contributing to the fund and having names published in Christmas issue of The Blade is noon Thursday, December 19.

People who contribute after that time will have to be omitted from the list of names in the community Christmas card, Mrs. Stevenson says.

Details about the project are in an advertisement in this issue.

CHRISTMAS CARD PROJECT COOPERATORS -- Bovina's first Christmas Card Project was launched Monday morning at First National Bank. Mayor Boyd Gilreath, left, had just deposited his check to the fund and is displaying a card which says "We Are Cooperating With Community Christmas Card Project." Earren Embree, bank president, is receiving donations to the fund in teller's window. Waiting in line to make their contributions are, left to right, Mrs. Buck Ellison, Buck Ellison, Mrs. Roy Dodson, Mrs. I. W. Quickel, Mrs. Warren Morton, president of Bovina Woman's Study Club which is sponsoring the project, Rouel Barron, A. M. Wilson, and A. L. Glasscock.

Band Concert Set Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 3 is time for Bovina Mustang Bands to present their first concert, Band Director Joe Wayne Harper announces.

The program, which will be in school auditorium, will feature both the high school and junior high bands.

An advance sale of tickets has been conducted during past week by band members and by members of Band Parents organization.

Admission charges are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

School Out December 20 For Christmas

Counting a double set of weekends, Bovina Schools will have a 12-day Christmas - New Year's break.

Classes are slated to be dismissed at 2:45 -- an hour earlier than normal -- Friday afternoon, December 20.

School will begin again at regular time Thursday, January 2, Superintendent Warren Morton says.

The early dismissal time of the 20th will allow students to be downtown when Santa Claus makes his annual December visit here.

Santa will visit with youngsters and will distribute candy to all children on hand.

Firemen To Three Fires

"A lot of calls but not much fire," was the report this week from Bill Denney, chief of Bovina Volunteer Fire Department.

Thanksgiving night about 8, firemen were called to Gene Boatwright's farm seven miles northwest of town to snuff out flames in a stack of bundled feed.

The fire originated from an electric fence coming in contact with the feed. Water and fire damage to the bundles were extensive, Denney says.

Saturday at mid-morning firemen rushed to a minor fire in a cotton burr track two miles south of town on Oklahoma Lane road.

Then Saturday shortly after noon, the department was called to a minor grassfire at Jack McCracken's place a mile north of town. This fire was extinguished when firemen arrived.

BY COUNTY AND STATE --

4-Laning Of Hwy. 60 Planning Underway

Announcement was received last week from the Texas Highway Department authorizing Parmer County to begin plans to purchase right of way along U. S. Highway 60, first step toward eventual four-lane construction on the road.

The Texas Highway Commission also set aside $50,000 to help the right of way fund get started. The state was asked a few weeks ago by the county commissioner's court for permission to begin purchasing right of way, and for state cooperation on a 50-50 basis for the project.

The state announced the authorization of $50,000 "to begin purchase of right of way from the New Mexico state line to the Castro County line."

"Additional funds will be made available for right of way and construction in future work programs, as the need develops and as available funds permit," the Commission said.

County Judge Loyde Brewer said that the announcement was "good news" for the county, but said that it might be some time before any actual right of way purchasing can begin.

"First, a contract has to be entered into between the county and state, for participation on a 50-50 basis for purchasing right of way. A survey of the road would then be necessary to determine its possible route when widened. Then deeds would have to be drawn, and an appraiser would have to appraise land along the road to determine its value," Brewer stated.

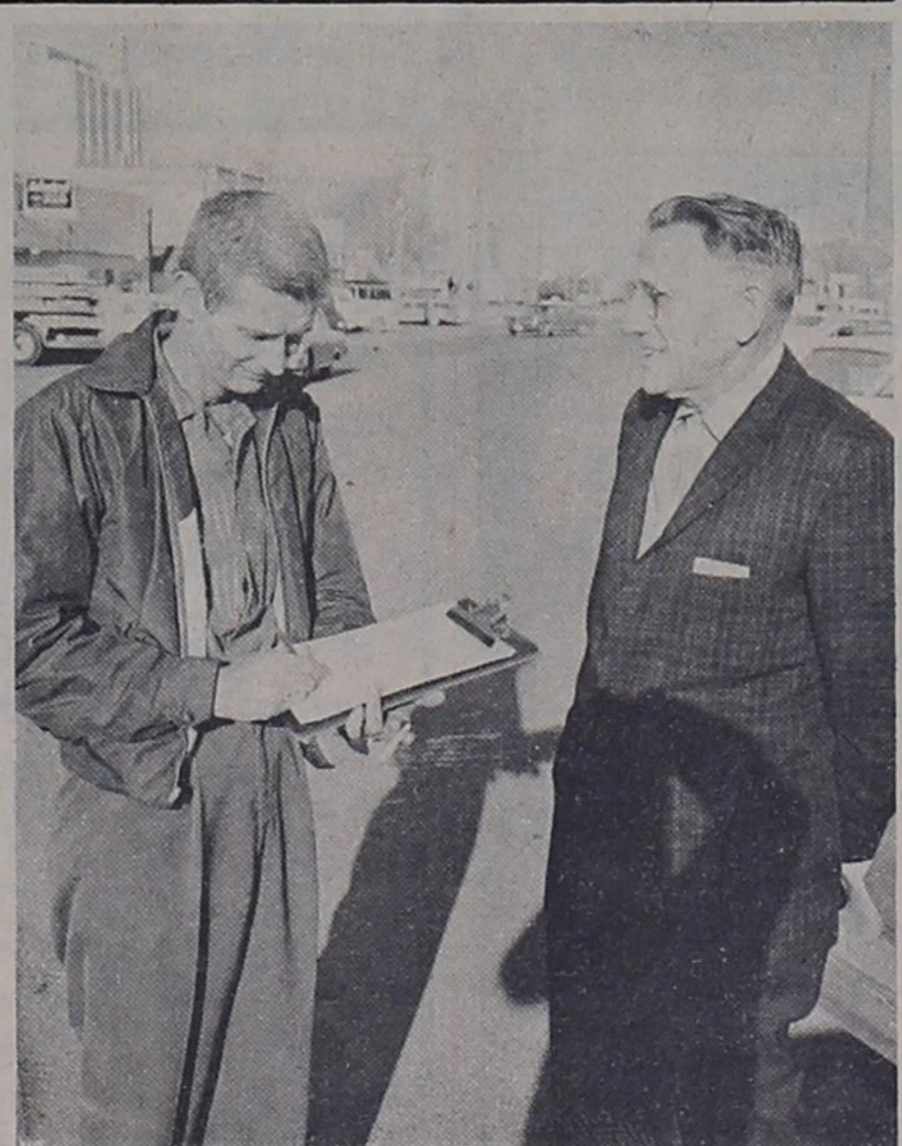

But Brewer noted that the county has taken a giant step toward protecting its interests in the four-lane road. The county can more or less direct the developments along the road from Farwell to northeast of Black.

"Now if something comes up along the road so that we need to purchase right of way, we can buy it and share the cost with the state," Brewer said.

On October 24, Judge Brewer and members of the court appeared before the Highway Commission in Austin. "The Commissioner's Court realizes that it will be some time before any construction can be started, but also believes that it would be a great saving to the county to start buying as soon as possible, out of our current revenues," they told the commission.

"Due to the great increase in land prices, as well as development and building along the road, the State now estimates that right of way for the 37 miles at $750,000. This figure may reach the million-dollar mark in a few years," Brewer told the group.

He also explained that the court believes the county could afford to buy and pay for a part of the right of way at present, and perhaps by the time the state is ready to build a four-lane highway, the county might have all or a part of the right-of-way purchased and paid for.

CABLE TV SIGN-UP -- Mayor Boyd Gilreath was one of the first in Bovina to sign-up for Cable TV service here. Joe Shields of Bovina Clearview Co. looks on at right. Shields says that installation of the service here is continuing on schedule and barring unforeseen difficulties, the company will be ready to tie-on subscribers before first of the year. Tie-on fee is $50. Monthly charge for the service is $7.50 plus tax.

Bovina Businesses 1963 Cotton Bowl Football Contest ended in a two-way tie between Paul Jones and Mrs. Pat Whitecotton.

Jones was declared the winner on the basis of tiebreaker scores throughout the season. The top two contestants had totals of 88 going into the final week (last week) of the contest and both named seven of 10 winners to leave the race in a deadlock at 95 each.

The number of points each contestant missed the tiebreaker score each of the 13 weeks of the contest were added, Jones had the smaller total of the two and was declared the winner.

Jones missed the tiebreaker scores by a total of 184 points as compared with Mrs. Whitecotton's total of 270.

For his winning effort Jones will receive two tickets to Cotton Bowl in Dallas January 1, paid hotel reservations and $55 in expense money.

The eventual winner led the contest or was tied for the lead 11 of the 13 weeks. Mrs. Whitecotton was tied with him five weeks.

He and Mrs. Whitecotton had a winning percentage of .746 which was slightly under the .753 Emmett Tabor won with a year ago.

Jones becomes the fourth winner in the four-year history of the contest. Other winners were Neil Smith in '60, Erith Hawkins in '61 and Tabor.

This is first time the contest has ended in a tie.

BEATS PAT WHITECOTTON ON TIEBREAKERS --

Paul Jones Takes '63 Football Contest

In race for weekly prize money last week, Hallie Gee and J. W. Wright tied for first place and divided $5 first place money. A. M. Wilson took second place and $3 and Jack McCracken was third, winning $1.

Each of those named nine of 10 winners correctly as did three others, Mrs. Gene Ezell, Mrs. Bobbie McFarland and Billy Whitecotton. The tiebreaker score was used to determine the placings.

In addition to the seven who had nine right, three named eight correctly, 15 had seven right, eight picked six winners, nine had five and five picked four.

A total of 47 entered the last week of the contest, but the average number of entries during the 13-week period was 108--three more than last year's average.

During the contest, a total of 230 participated one or more times.

Final standings of leading contestants are as follows: Paul Jones, 95; Pat Whitecotton, 95;

C. R. Brandon, 93; Mrs. Gene Ezell, 90; Allen Cumpton, 92; Mary-Jane Wilson, 91; Ellen Smith, 91; Catherine Gee, 90; Larry Webb, 90; Neil Smith, 89; Lynn Looney, 88; Emmett Tabor, 88; Malcolm Kennedy, 87; Jewell Tabor, 87; John Wilson, 86; Billy Whitecotton, 85; A. M. Wilson, 85; Patsy Sherrill, 85; Flossie Rhinehart, 85; Gene Ezell, 85; Bill Read, 84 and Hallie Gee, 83.

The contest and its prizes were made possible through the cooperation of 10 businesses, Three-Free Chemical, Bovina Dairy Freeze, Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc., Charles Oil Co., Bovina Gin Co., Cicero Smith Lumber Co., Sherley Grain Co., Parmer County Farm Supply and Bonds Oil Co.

All results of this year's contest will be available for public inspection through December 11.

Jones says he plans to leave for Dallas December 31, the day before the game, and return the following day.

FOR AREA HOMES --

Lions Will Sponsor Decoration Contest

A total of $50 in prize money will be awarded to area homes decorated for Christmas.

Bovina Lions Club is again sponsoring Home Christmas Decoration Contest in the area. Prize money of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded to the top three homes.

Judging will be done by an anonymous committee sometime between December 16 and 18.

People who enter the contest are requested to have their lights on until at least 10:30 on each of those nights, Warren Morton, Lions Club president, announces.

An entry blank which accompanies this story is to be used for entering the contest. Deadline for submitting the entry blank is Monday, December 16.

Contest winners last year were Mrs. Paul Jones, first; Mrs. A. M. Wilson, second; and Mrs. Buck Wilson, third.

Prize money checks will be awarded by Christmas Eve.

"Every home in the area is eligible to be entered in the contest and the more entries we have, the better contest we will have," Morton says.

There are no boundary lines for the contest as such, but Boovina's trade territory is generally considered the area for which it is intended.

Christmas decorations will be in Bovina this holiday season courtesy Bovina Volunteer Fire Department. Fire Chief Otho Hammonds announced this week that the firemen were completing plans to install ornaments of North (main) Street.
 For its third place finish in the Littlefield District FFA leadership quiz contest, the Bovina chapter was awarded a banner at the district banquet in Littlefield Tuesday night.

Members of the team which won the award are Larry Webb, Roger Ezell, Jackie Turner and Don Caldwell.
 Deadline for entries in the Bovina Jaycee-sponsored Christmas decoration contest is Wednesday, December 18, Roy M. Crawford, Jaycee president reminded this week.

A representative of West Texas Construction Co., which was awarded the contract for Bovina's proposed paving program, was in town Monday and talked with city officials.
 In an October meeting with the city commission, an attorney for the company said "signing-up" would begin within a "week or 10 days" after mid-November. That time, of course, has already passed.

are caught killing them illegally.

Best of four Bovina Business Cotton Bowl Football Contests has ended.

Allen Cumpston, who's always in the running for the top spot but hasn't won it yet, says he hates for it to end. "I believe I could have caught up in another couple of weeks," he allows.
 On the other hand, Pat Whitecotton, who battled for the Dallas trip right down to the wire with Paul Jones and then lost on the basis of tiebreakers all season long, says seriously, "I'm glad it's over; it was worrying me."

We're proud, naturally, of the tremendous amount of interest in the contest here. Seems to us, however, that interest could be even greater if some of the contestants weren't so faint-hearted.

What we're trying to say is that some people give up too easily and quickly. The secret to winning the grand prize and/or the weekly prize money is consistency. You have to keep plugging away.

Some contestants get a few points behind early in the contest and decide to "wait'll next year." That's good High Plains farming spirit, but it isn't the best course as far as the contest is concerned.

There are a few exceptions, like Earl Richards, for example, but for the most part, the people who win the prize money, and certainly those who win the trip, are those who play consistently week after week and refuse to become discouraged by an upset-filled week of football games.

Understand, we can afford to give advice because we judge the contest and don't participate as a contestant.

Bovina Roping Club is not, we understand, planning to have a repeat of its farm machinery auction sale of a year ago.

This might leave an opening for some enthusiastic, hard-working organization to add to its treasury.
 From here, it appears that auctions of this type are a natural fund-raiser for this time of year. They take a lot of planning and work, though.

You, I say did He make alive together with Him, having forgiven us all our trespasses. — (Col. 2:13).

It is wonderful to realize that by His words and deeds Jesus Christ set us free and that His love that is ever with us to sustain us in freedom.

This is the manufacturing portion of Gifford-Hill Western's new concrete irrigation tile plant in Farwell, which will be open to the public this Saturday. Pipe-making in the new plant is highly mechanized. The equipment that stands above the building conveys the raw ingredients of sand and gravel and cement from bulk delivery outside.

Gifford-Hill Western Open House Saturday

Open house for Gifford-Hill Western's new plant in Farwell will be Saturday, December 7, announces Buck Clarke, manager of the Parmer County industrial firm.

Gifford-Hill has manufactured concrete pipe in their plant in Farwell since July of 1955, but they have just completed a move into new facilities and are expanding their operations.

To spur attendance at the open house, the company is offering a prize of $1000 worth of concrete irrigation pipe line. Some lucky farmer will win it.

The new facilities include office space for the manager, bookkeeper and receptionist, dispatcher, office clerk and an inventory clerk; the plant which is equipped to manufacture not only the old mortar-type concrete pipe but the newer "Lock-Seal" pipe, and a shop where fabrication work and equipment maintenance is done.
 The plant sprawls over 24.2

acres between the Amarillo and Lubbock branches of the Santa Fe Railroad.

The operation has expanded until at this time three salesmen are employed to cover most of a five-county area and additional offices are maintained in Hereford, Muleshoe and Portales. Other key men in the operation are a plant foreman, two foremen of the installation crews and a dozer operator, with plans calling for a second with the completion of the new plant, in addition to the office personnel.

At the present time a crew of approximately 55 men is employed during the slack season with an additional 30 men employed during the busy season, November through May.

Other Gifford-Hill Western Co. plants are located in Plainview and Lubbock in Texas and in Roswell. Main office for the company is in Lubbock.

The Gifford-Hill company has plants which cover a five-state area, including Kansas, Texas,

New Mexico, Nebraska and Colorado which manufacture other types of pipe and construction needs.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS
By VERN SANFORD

It may be too early to know what the water fowl situation in the Central Flyway will be this year, but it is not too soon to learn about ducks.

Just issued by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is a 25¢ bulletin titled "DUCKS AT A DISTANCE."

You can get this bulletin by sending a quarter to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

If your local club wants to buy them in lots of 100 or more, there is a 25 percent discount.

This is an exciting little booklet.

It's in full color and illustrated by noted wildlife artist Bob Hines. Furthermore, it carries illustrations of all the major species of ducks and geese.

Unlike other field guides which show mating colors, "Ducks at a Distance" offers invaluable identification clues for students, hunters and everyone who enjoys the study of birds, or just a walk along the shore.

Booklet contains 24 pages. It reveals the shapes, colors, voices, flight patterns, rising views and flock formations of these fascinating fowl.

Because of an anticipated heavy demand, a delivery delay of at least six weeks is expected. So send your order as early as possible.

There is increasing necessity for such a book among hunters. Bag limitations on certain species now make it a requirement to know your ducks. For the average hunter, who gets out after waterfowl only two or three times a year, this identification is no easy job. Especially where the duck supply is limited!

Most men know a mallard at a glance. They'll recognize a spoon bill or a teal. But they have difficulty in identifying a canvas back, sprig or other species.

Same is true of geese. If you see them every day, or if you hunt a good many times each year, it soon becomes easy to know the species. But when the laws say you can't kill but certain species and perhaps only one or two, at that, then it becomes very important to every hunter to know the difference.

I have been told many times about hunters in the rice fields of south Texas finding dead birds stashed away in straw stacks where hunters have hidden them. Such a bird doesn't do anyone any good.

Sometimes we wonder at the manner in which biologists reach their conclusions about bag limits.

Most of them will tell you that legal gun pressure will not deplete the birds. Then they will put a limit on them that is so impractical it results not only in violation, but worse still, in loss of the game entirely.

Same can be applied to turkeys.

In Texas we have an all-gobbler law. Yet in the field every year there are hundreds of hens killed and left in the woods. Occasionally one winds up in the pot, but most of them are wasted.

No sportsman will shoot a hen intentionally. In fact it is seldom that a hen is killed by a sportsman accidentally.

Usually he knows the difference between a hen and a gobbler. And in hunting season the two seldom run together, unless it is a young tom not yet broken away from the mother hen.

Basically there is no reason for a hunter to kill a hen. But when one is killed, it is a shame that its meat has to spoil. Perhaps a longer look at the system might improve this. Other states have.

Anyway, if you really want to learn how to identify ducks, get off your order right now for one of these new books, "DUCKS AT A DISTANCE."

Blade Sawdust by SUE MOTEN

With Thanksgiving over, it is time to return to orange juice, black coffee and unbuttered toast for at least three weeks until it is time to stuff for Christmas.

It seems ironic that at the beginning of a Thanksgiving dinner it is the turkey who is stuffed and at the end the turkey looks demolished and the people resemble the once fat turkey.

The school paper put out by students certainly deserves a compliment.

These students put out a lot of work and are doing a real fine job.

The Nag Tribune, as it is called, also has another feature of interest which is usually a drawing on the cover. We inquired as to who the artist was and it turned out to be our exchange student, Heidi Jonas-dottir.

The Hootenanny has caught on like wildfire it seems. The ones we have watched on TV depict college campus groups in a huge auditorium listening to, and some times joining in, folk music. We even heard "Jimmy Crack Corn" the other afternoon and hadn't realized that this was considered folk music.

I'm sure that the groups still dance the U-2, the monkey, the mashed potato and the twist but to see them sitting here in a trance-like state for approximately two hours certainly shows a new side of student activity we weren't acquainted with.

We read recently that they are trying to abolish the siesta in Saigon, now this seems a bit backward to us since we have been trying to promote it here for the past year or two.

We have also noticed that they are trying to cut the work week again so it looks like the more practical thing would be to introduce the two hour siesta each work day and therefore continue to work the same amount of days but reduce the hours with a siesta.

Cooley, Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harrison, Pattie and Mike, Mrs. Dub Dipprey and Lina, Mr. and Mrs. Lavin Carthel, Pricilla, Wayland, Sue and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carthel and Shari, Miss Sherry Carthel, Mr. and Mrs. Aron Carthel, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carthel and Cindy, Mr. and

Mrs. Carl Turner, Judy, Terry and Tracy, all of Lockney, Misses Rhonda and Vanda Carthel of Floydada, Dwayne Davis, Miss Brenda Williams and Miss Brenda Steen of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Ritchey and Anna Bell, Miss Ora Dee Ritchey and Vernon Ritchey of

Make Gifts of Fruited Fudge

Home-made chocolate fudge makes a VERY special gift especially when it is crunchy with walnuts and candied fruits. Make several batches of this smooth-textured candy; pack the luscious squares in gay boxes, or in a candy dish that will be useful now and later, too.

- NUT-FRUIT FUDGE
- 2 1/2 cups evaporated milk
  - 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
  - 1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows
  - 1 1/2 cups glazed chocolate chips
  - 1 teaspoon pure vanilla
  - 1/2 cup chopped California walnuts
  - 1/2 cup chopped mixed candied fruits
- Combine evaporated milk, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add remaining ingredients and stir just until marshmallows are melted and mixture is well blended. Pour into a buttered 8-inch square pan. When cool, cut into squares. Makes about 24 pieces.

DRIVER MUST HEED SAFETY RULES

Even in a car that is mechanically perfect, the driver also must heed the rules of safe driving - especially in winter. The Texas Safety Association urges you to reduce speed, allow more distance between moving vehicles, and make your starts and stops gradually, and signal turning intentions.

PEDESTRIANS SHOULD WEAR LIGHT CLOTHING

The Texas Safety Association urges all pedestrians to wear something white or light in color so they may be seen better at night, and if it is necessary to walk in the street or roadway -- walk FACING traffic.

SEAT BELTS SAVE LIVES

Seat belts are a year-around protection for sudden stops or in case of a traffic accident. The Texas Safety Association reports that the occupant of a car who can remain in his seat in an emergency situation stands a better chance of survival than if he is thrown forward or out.

Business Backs 4-H Clubs Nation-Wide

Incentives Help Make Best Better

U.S. business firms contributed $125 million in 1963 toward recognition and encouragement of the nation's 2,225,000 4-H Club members, the director of the National 4-H Service Committee has announced.

Norman C. Mindrum, director of the committee, said the record figure made possible awarding of college scholarships and fellowships valued at $145,000. They were presented this year to 275 of the nation's most outstanding 4-H youths and to young adults who once were 4-H'ers.

The financial support also was used for more than 180,000 other awards to members of the nation's more than 94,000 local 4-H Clubs. The clubs are in about 3,100 counties in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

The national committee, headquartered in Chicago, utilizes the funds to assist the Cooperative Extension Service advance the 4-H program.

Awards Since 1900

"Awards are an integral part of 4-H," Mindrum said. "and have been provided as incentives and recognition for young people since the early 1900s."

Help from 57 business firms now backing 4-H dates back in some cases to the 1920s. The average tenure for all donors is 18 years.

The scholarships, nearly all for $500 each, were awarded Dec. 1-5 during the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, attended by more than 1,500 delegates. Their expense-paid trips, considered both educational and cultural, were awarded by more than 30 of these firms.

"Each donor has an interest in boys and girls, an appreciation of the need for youth development and a feeling that the organization can serve 4-H in a wholesome manner with limited self-gain," Mindrum said.

Diversified Support

Among the business firms supporting 4-H in 1963 are American Food Products In-

Research Foundation Presses Study Of Midge

Delbert Langford, agronomist for the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, reports that a long-term research study of the overwintering habits of midge has been set into motion at the Foundation.

On November 16, Delbert made selections of heads of grain sorghum that contained larva and pupa of midge. Some of the heads will be put into cold storage at temperatures ranging from above freezing to below freezing, as well as field conditions.

The purpose of the study is to find at what stage or stages midge can over-winter under field and experimental conditions. Delbert said that this study will help to determine the time of hatching after overwintering occurs, and thus will be able to get an idea of the size of the population of midge for the next year.

Langford reports that this project will give information as to how long midge can live and at what temperatures the insect will survive or die. This will give research information for further studies of control measures. From this, predictions can also be made as to how far north the midge can live as well as midge movement in other areas. This report will aid in the prediction of the possible seriousness of the midge problem for the next growing season. Dr. Earl H. Collister, director of the High Plains Research Foundation, said, "This research on midge is something that the area must have

Mrs. Meryle Massie Homemaker Of Week

Chosen as homemaker of the week by the Farm and Home staff is Mrs. Meryle Massie, a member of the Northside HD Club at Friona.

She is serving for the second consecutive year as president of the club and has held the same office on another occasion as well as having filled most of the other local club offices. In addition to serving in the local club as an officer she has also been a member of the County HD Council.

She explains that the Northside club is the old Green Acres Club with most of the present members of the organization members of that club when HD work was begun in Parmer County.

Mrs. Massie, who was born in Dickens County, first came to Parmer County and the Friona area in 1946. She met her husband, Meryle, while she was attending Texas Tech in Lubbock and he was stationed with the air force in that city.

Following their marriage she chose to leave school and travel with her husband as he was moved from bases in Georgia, Kentucky, other parts of Texas and New York.

Following his discharge from the armed services they returned to Friona to make their home on a farm north of town.

The Massie family had been residents of the area since 1914 and "we simply came home," she explains. Mr. and Mrs. Massie now operate a 1700 acre farm and ranch northeast of

now. If some control measures are not found soon that can successfully eradicate this insect, the economy of the entire state of Texas will be seriously affected."

Friona. The Massies are parents of three daughters, Marca Lynn, 18, a senior; Merylene, 17, a junior; and Jayn, 11, a fifth grade student.

In addition Negriz Yazgan, a 16 year old Turkish girl, who is attending school at Friona as an exchange student, is making her home with the family.

Negriz, who arrived in the United States in August, will leave Friona in June following the close of school. She is doing senior work although her classification would be different in her home country. She is part of the family and does her share of the chores along with the Massie trio.

Three years ago Anni Jensen, an exchange student from Denmark, made her home with the Massies while attending school in Friona.

Questioned as to how the girls came to live with them, Mrs. Massie replied, "One makes application to the American Field Service for a student and if he is lucky the student will be assigned to his home."

She thinks her family gains much from the exchange students living with them as ideas are exchanged and customs of other countries are learned by close contact with the students.

She adds that the two students who have lived with them have been quite different, with Anni Jensen, the Danish girl, quickly copying the American mode of dress and manner of speech.

Negriz has not been so quick to adopt the American ways although she likes life in America quite well.

Anni, says Mrs. Massie, could hardly wait to have her hair styled in the American "duck tail," while Negriz chooses to keep her hair in the shoulder-length style to which she is accustomed. Only on rare occasions does she curl the ends of the long straight hair.

Young people are one of the hobbies of Mrs. Massie. They are always welcome to come to the Massie home after dates for a snack, which can be cooked by the individuals themselves or by Mrs. Massie ahead of time if she knows they are coming.

Like any proud mother, Mrs. Massie related that one of her daughters had been chosen Miss Friendship and FFA Plowgirl in the Friona School this year. "We are especially proud of our family," she says.

Mrs. Massie, who worked as a secretary during the summers while she was attending college and while her husband was in the armed services, is a busy person with her club work, Girl Scout work and church activities. She has served as a girl scout leader for the past ten years and at the present time is neighborhood chairman for the group. She especially likes to camp out with the girls and Cotton farmers will go to the polls this coming Tuesday and cast the vote that will decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for 1964 crop cotton. It is felt that each eligible voter should be fully informed about the allotment-quota program, so that the outcome of the referendum will represent the opinion of all voters, says Prentice Mills, ASCS manager.

The facts relative to the referendum are as follows:

1. This is not a question of whether allotments will be in effect. Allotments will be in effect regardless of a favorable or unfavorable vote.

2. The question to be decided in the referendum Tuesday are

(A) quotas or no quotas, and (B) the level of price support (guaranteed price or loan rate) to be available for the 1964 upland cotton crop.

3. If the vote is favorable, quotas will be in effect for the crop -- with penalties on any cotton produced on "excess" acreage on the farm, and price support will be offered to growers who comply with their farm allotments at a level of from 65 to 90 percent of parity.

4. If the vote is not favorable, there will be no quotas or penalties applicable to the coming year's cotton crop, and price support to growers (who stay within their allotment) will be at 50 percent of parity.

5. Persons eligible to cast ballots are all those (including wives in Texas) engaged in the production of the upland cotton crop in 1963. This would include landlords as well as farm operators and tenants.

Cotton acreage allotment notices were mailed to Parmer County cotton producers on this past Monday.

The polls will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Polling places are located as follows:

Bovina Gin Co., Chester-Fleming Gin Inc., Clay's Corner Gin Co., Parmer County ASCS Office, Country Club Gin, Fleming & Son Gin, Friona Farmers Co-op Gin, Lariat Gin Inc.,

Lewis Gin Co., McBride Gin, Rhea Elevators, North Lazbudie Gin Co., Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, Parmer County Gin (Smith Bros.), Black Grain Co., West Hub Gin Co.

Parmer County cotton growers have led the state for the past several years in "turning out the vote" in these referendums and it is hoped that this year will be the biggest of all. All eligible voters are urged to be sure to cast their ballot this coming Tuesday.

Any person having a question concerning the referendum are urged to contact the ASCS office.

Hats, shoes, undergarments --even furniture upholstery -- may soon be made of a single piece of cotton fabric that has been permanently molded into shape. The new process which makes this possible comes from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A typical scene in the Massey home is Mrs. Massey busily engaged in preparing a meal for guests.

Shop For These Food Items

Biggest produce news this week is in citrus fruits, reports Texas A&M University consumer marketing specialists. Tangelos and tangerines have made their appearance in local markets, and quality of all citrus appears to be excellent. However, supplies are shorter than last year, so prices reflect this smaller supply.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clayatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, also suggests cranberries for holiday menus. Apples, grapes, bananas and pears are other good fruit choices, she adds.

The production of edible tree nuts is expected to break records this season, with the pecan crop likely to be the largest ever recorded, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Nut prices should be relatively low in comparison with past seasons, and homemakers may want to freeze some for later use, Mrs. Clayatt reminds.

Search Begins For Best Conservation Homemaker

The search for Texas' champion conservation homemaker for 1964 is getting underway, reminds Claudia G. Williams, Texas Agricultural Extension Service program specialist and state judging committee chairman.

Each county in a Texas Soil Conservation District may nominate one woman who lives on a conservation farm or ranch by submitting a record of her conservation accomplishments to the county home demonstration agent, Miss Williams explains. Records of all nominees should be ready for county judging committees by Feb. 1.

The top Texas homemaker will be selected, along with five regional winners, from among the outstanding district and regional candidates whose records are to be submitted to Mrs. Florence W. Low, assistant director for home economics with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The annual judging activity is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, in cooperation with Soil Conservation Districts, the Agricultural Extension Service and other groups. It offers recognition for achievements of Texas women in the area of conservation in the home and on the farm.

All homemakers -- whether they live in the city or in the country -- are land users in their own right if their home has a plot of land, and they have the opportunity and need to practice soil and water conservation, as well as conservation of time, energy and family finances. "Active attention to the care of your land may help to refresh your partnership with the nation's farmers and ranchers as stewards of the land," Miss Williams reminds homemakers.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

How Will We Find The Time?

The weak feet of many children need the wonderful exercise of running barefoot in sand. We often hear that doctors recommend this exercise in addition to corrective shoes or whatever therapy they prescribe but, when we mention it, the parents protest that they are too busy. Other parents promise but never get around to doing it.

It probably won't do much good but we suggest that if the child had a condition that required visits to the hospital three times a week time would be found.

Could it be that down through the years we have acquired the idea that remedies must be distasteful or expensive to be effective? Exercise is certainly not distasteful to children, bless 'em, and no amount of money can buy the strengthening of weak muscles.

Many Parmer County area farmers are plumb surprised--and downright proud--of their 1963 cotton crop which has made an amazing recovery after a slow, slow start this year. This field east of Farwell is producing over a bale-and-a-half per acre, according to the custom stripper. The field looks like it's every bit that good, too.

IN DALLAS --

4-H Club Congress Delegates Meet

Texas 4-H Club members will be represented at the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, December 1-5 by 35 of their most distinguished members, 19 girls and 16 boys.

The delegation will assemble in Dallas on November 29 and will be guests of the First National Bank in Dallas for a noon luncheon and a get acquainted meeting before boarding the train for Chicago and America's number one 4-H meeting. Their all-expense trips are provided by donors from business and industrial concerns and organizations in Texas and the nation.

The delegates first were named winners of the various award programs offered annually through the National 4-H

Service Committee in their home counties. Were later judged district winners and still later were named state winners, and they still have a chance for national honors. One of the group, Margie Lux of Comal County was only recently named a sectional trip winner in the dairy foods program.

Official chaperons for the delegation -- they will meet the group in Dallas -- include Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader, two assistant state leaders, Marshall Crouch and Margie Sellers and Miss Gena Brazeele, home demonstration agent in Hale County and Don Kachtk, assistant county agricultural agent in Hidalgo County. The two county Executive agents were selected on the basis of their county 4-H programs and both have members in the official delegation.

Texas 4-H Club members have participated in the 'blue ribbon' 4-H meeting almost from its beginning and few awards are more eagerly worked for by 4-H members than are the trips to Club Congress, the state 4-H leaders said. Almost every section of Texas will be represented by the delegation and they will join some 1,500 other state winners for an unforgettable five days of entertainment, educational experiences and fellowship. More than 200 will receive college scholarships and national recognition for their outstanding achievements.

December Foods Assure Ample Holiday Supplies

Ample food will be the least among problems for Texans, this December, as they plan festive get-togethers. Producers and processors, together, are keeping trade channels full of holiday grocery needs.

Seven foods are particularly abundant. They make up the U.S. Department of Agriculture's December plentiful foods list, points out the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Beef and pecans -- two important Texas products -- are featured on the list. Pork, turkeys and peanuts, also grown extensively in Texas, will be plentiful all month. Apples and cranberries complete the list for December.

Beef takes a top spot on the list because of its abundance and favorable prices for consumers.

The all-time record pecan crop of 297 million pounds for the nation is 66 per cent above the 1957-61 average; four times more than last year's small crop. Prices being paid to growers are lower, and therefore, more favorable for increased use by consumers.

Similar reasons stand behind the listing of pork, turkeys, peanuts, apples and cranberries. USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, that keeps in constant touch with available supplies of all farm-produced foods, says consumers will find it to their advantage to shop the "plentiful route." Food markets regularly promote these items with special prices and a wide choice of quality.

Research scientists with the U. S. Department of Agriculture have developed a new way to process jelled applesauce. The sauce holds its firmness at temperatures up to 120 degrees Fahrenheit, and can be served on the same plate with other foods, even warm foods, without spreading. Molded desserts or attractive salads can be made by heating the jelled applesauce to liquefy it and pouring it into a mold dish over pieces of fruit, berries, vegetables, nuts, raisins or meat.

Foods -- whether fresh, frozen or canned -- lose nutrients if not properly handled by the homemaker. Methods for conserving these nutritive values are described in a new bulletin, written by USDA nutritionists. Single copies are free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250. Ask for "Conserving the Nutritive Value of Foods," HG-90.

High Plains Prepares Against Boll Weevil

The dreaded boll weevil is a definite and ominous threat to the entire High Plains cotton industry and a million-dollar "diapause" control program has been recommended to prevent threat from becoming reality.

This conclusion and the recommendation came from some of the foremost experts in the field of entomology November 26 when they met with the 13-member High Plains Boll Weevil Steering Committee in Lubbock under the auspices of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. While it has not yet been determined that weevils hibernate on the High Plains, Technical Advisory Committee member Dr. J. C. Gaines, Head of Entomology Department at Texas A&M, said "The weevil is obviously a threat to the area. He was here in 1963 and will come again."

Dr. Gaines said he felt the "real program to knock the weevil off the High Plains is the diapause program." In further discussion it was generally agreed that such a program would not only set up a barrier to prevent the further westward encroachment of the weevil, but would also effectively deter weevil damage in those areas already infested.

The recommendation of the Advisory Committee was accepted by the Steering Committee, and will be discussed further at the first meeting of the Area-wide Boll Weevil Committee, scheduled in January. The Area-wide Committee is composed of one member from each of the 23 counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers. Current plans call for initiation of the diapause control program in the Fall of 1964.

Other Advisory Committee members, all of whom concurred in Dr. Gaines' appraisal of the seriousness of the problem and with the recommendation for a diapause control program are: Dr. J. C. Gaines, Head, Entomology Department at Texas A&M; Dr. James Brazzel, Department of Entomology at State College, Mississippi; Dr. Sloan Jones, Head of the Insects Research Division, Agricultural Research Service; Dr. H. G. Johnston, Entomologist for the National Cotton Council; Dr. Gerald Thomas, Dean of Agriculture at Texas Tech; Dr. R. E. Patterson, Dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M; Welton N. Jones, Lubbock District Agent of TAES; Charles Fisher, Superintendent of TAES #8; Ralph Griffiths, Lubbock and Crosby County FHA Supervisor; D. H. Russell, U.S.D.A. Plant Pest Control Division, Lubbock; Gene Cupp, Texas Department of Agriculture; Charlie Scruggs of the Progressive Farmer Magazine; Walter Labay, District Superintendent of Vocational Agriculture Teachers; Byron Frierison, Manager of the Texas Prison Farm; Joe Ramsey, President of the Texas Aerial Applicators; Dr. Perry Adkisson, Texas A&M Department of Entomology; Dr. Theodore B. Davich, Director of the Federal Boll Weevil Research Laboratory at State College, Mississippi; and Dr. W. H. Cross, Staff Entomologist at the same laboratory.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By DERYL COKER
 County Agent

A great number of grain sorghum fields this year were infected with head smut. This is a serious disease, even though our losses have been fairly light. The seriousness of the disease lies in the outlook for its future and its potentially heavy losses which it may cause.

The black dust which you see on the smutted heads is a large number of spores of the fungus. These spores will be carried in the soil for up to ten years while retaining their viability. When susceptible plants, grain sorghum, corn, or sudangrass, are grown in the infected soil, the seedlings will be infected and will produce only smutted heads. Thus a trace of infection this year may multiply to 1 or 2 per cent next year and so on until a high degree of infection is reached.

The per cent of loss from the disease will equal the per cent of infection observed by counting infected plants in a row. The only control for this disease is the use of resistant hybrids. There will be some resistant hybrids released for commercial culture in 1964. Rotation of crops always helps in slowing down a disease, and we should rotate our crops when possible. There is no seed treatment for head smut that has proved effective.

If you notice any head smut in your grain sorghum while harvesting, now is the time to start to work, to keep it from multiplying on your farm.

In talking with ginners and farmers, I find that cotton yields are turning out better than we all thought they would. Of course this is due to the extremely good fall. There are still green leaves on trees in Farwell.

As the season for "giving" draws near there will be many shopping for small electric appliances.

Appliances are versatile, but they are only as useful as the place in which they are stored.

When considering another appliance be sure to think about how often it will be used, where it will be used and where will it be stored. Would the appliance cause more labor or would it really be a labor-saver?

The point of first use and size will help determine the home for each. How often do you use the appliances you now have? Before buying another small cooking appliance stop and think what can be done by those you have on hand. Take the electric sauce pan, it will cook: Pot roasts, bake beans, stews, soup and chili, deep fried foods, casserole combinations and puddings.

The fry pan can be used for cooking: Some baked foods, Pot roasts, deep fried foods, pancakes, casserole combinations, puddings, grilled meats and eggs.

The kind of cooking you do will help determine the appliances that you will need and use. Any appliance not used is expensive. How often will you use it? Other questions to consider are: Is the wiring in your home adequate? Do you have conveniently located outlets? You know some people think that if they have a lot of outlets in which to plug appliances that they have plenty of power--the wiring is sufficient. This is not necessarily true. An appliance circuit will carry only about 2300 watts. Many of our heating appliances, like the fry pan will use 1500 to 1800 watts.

Just another word about using appliances - never use an extension cord on an appliance, it decreases the efficiency of the appliance.

NEWS FROM THE ### FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"Economics in Our Times" is one of three books approved by the State Board of Education for use in economics classes in Texas Public Schools. We are glad to note that Herbert O. Willborn, state board member who lives in Amarillo, voted against retention of the book on the approved list. Critics say that it gives very little true information on the American Free Enterprise system, but leaves the impression that socialism may be the best of systems economically, for a nation to adopt for its citizens. We trust that local school book committees, who will be meeting soon, will not select Economics in Our Times for students of Farmer County Schools to study. Alternate books are Economics, and Understanding Our Free Enterprise, allegedly good, American type books.

We hope it's not out of line for us to mention that we're glad to see a Christian Book Store going in the old Bill Sheehan Office, Clovis or Amarillo have, until recently, been the closest places where purchase of such books and materials could be made.

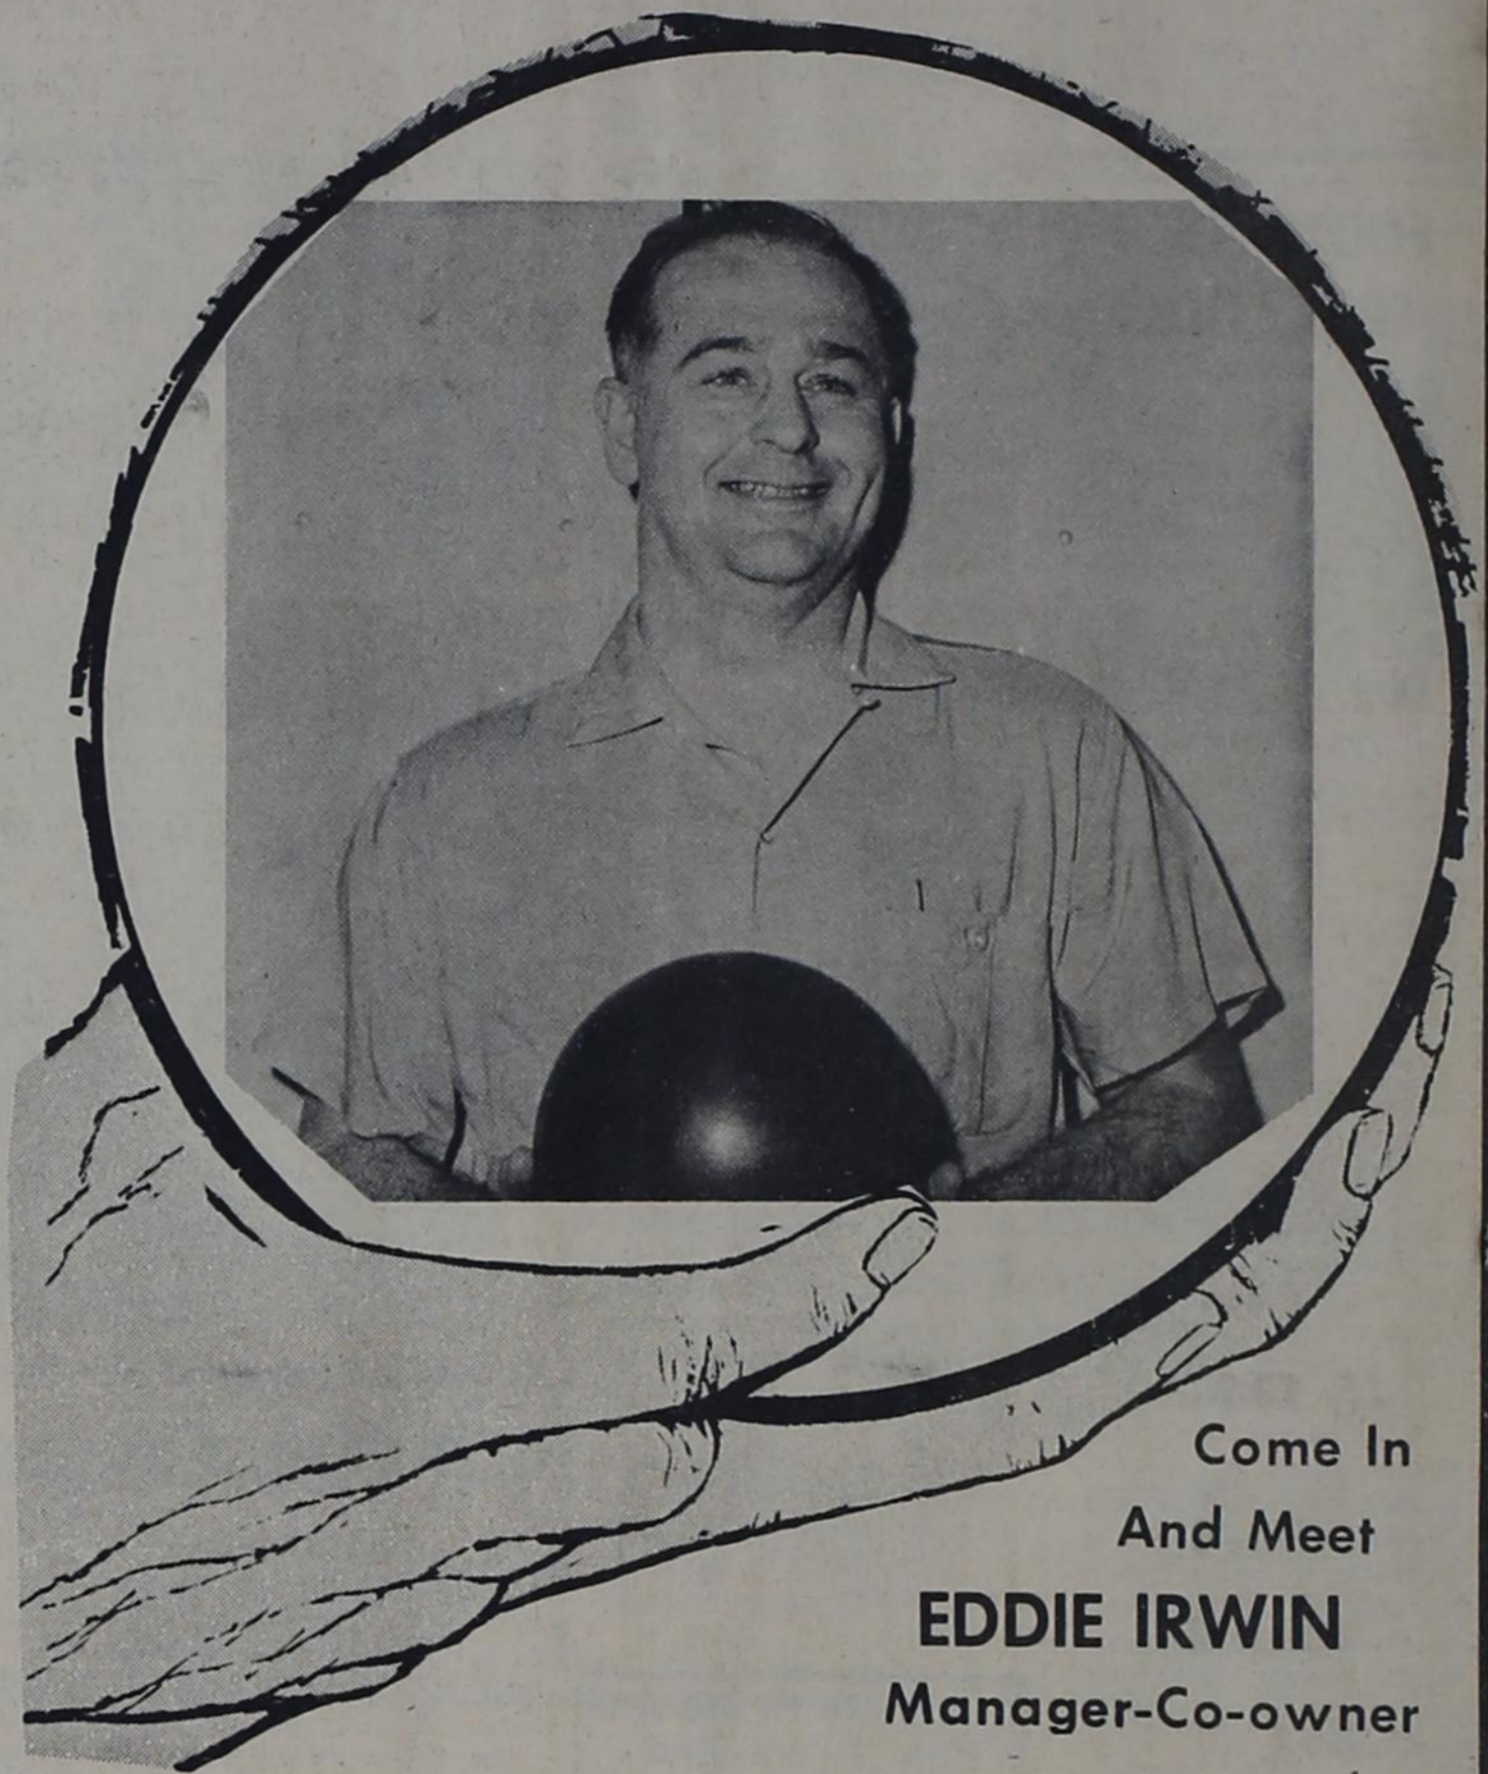

Cotton legislation is not really expected this year, although a lot of administration push is being given the bill to subsidize domestic mills to the same extent foreign mills are subsidized. This is a strange proposal in the minds of many people, some of whom call it a "double subsidy."

A few people are still coming in to file for state gas tax refund, if you have not filed in the last year, let us remind you to do it now and get the money for Christmas.

CONSIDER THIS: he that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor. Proverbs 22:9.
