TEXARKANA MENACED BY STORM'S DAMAGE

Texarkana, April 26.—Torrential rains last night and early today flooded 3,000 acres of land around Texarkana, damaged property estimated at more than $100,000 and put the city pumping station out of commission. The city is without fire protection or water for commercial and residential use.

Marshall in Bad Way

Marshall, Texas, April 26.—A 10.4 inches of torrential rainfall here throughout the night and continuing today caused enormous loss to railroads, highways and bridges. The city is without water as the result of the flooding of the engine rooms of the waterworks.

UNTARNISHED CHARACTER BETTER THAN OFFICE

Austin, Texas, April 26.—Governor Neff today said that he "would not exchange an untarnished character for the governor's office" in reply to a telegram from Frank B. Tiry, county attorney of McLennan county, notifying him that Mort M. Scholl had been fined $500 on his own plea of guilty to criminally libeling the governor during his campaign.

CLIPPED GIRLS' BRAIDS

Omaha, Neb., April 25.—Authorities here are anxious to apprehend a man who has been clipping the braids of hair from young girls.

Several complaints of the operations of the thief have reached the police during the past few weeks. One girl was on her way to take a music lesson when the robber clipped off her hair and escaped.

The same man is supposed to have been responsible for a fruitless attempt to steal the hair from another young girl in the residence of her parents. He was frightened away, however, by the girl's sister.

Two theories regarding the thefts are advanced. One is that the robber is demented, and the other is that he has been stealing the hair to sell.

STATE COURTS RESTRAINED

Washington, April 25.—The Supreme Court today granted the petition of the State of Texas for an order restraining the state courts from dismissing the injunction which has prevented the abandonment of the Eastern Texas Railroad with lines between Lufkin and Crockett. The order was issued so that the status quo might be retained pending a formal appeal. The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized the abandonment of the tracks, although this is forbidden by state law.

PEACE RESOLUTION

Washington, April 25.—The Knox peace resolution was reported favorably today by the senate foreign relations committee. The few democratic committee members voted against the measure and declared they would carry the fight to the floor of the senate.

21 YEARS IN PEN FOR ARKANSAS PLANTER

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 26.—W. D. Webb, white planter, of England, Ark., on trial for the murder of King Waters, white tenant, was found guilty of second degree murder, and his punishment fixed at 21 years in the state penitentiary by a jury reporting at 11 o'clock last night. Nick Webb, brother, charged with the same murder, will be tried this term at a date to be set. The penalty of 21 years is the limit for second degree murder.

AMERICAN AVIATOR ESCAPES FROM RUSSIA

Riga, April 26.—Captain Merion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., the Kosciuszko squadron flyer who was shot down on the Polish frontier and captured by the Russians last July, escaped from a prison camp near Moscow on April 12 and arrived at Riga today.

WOULD BE TOWN

Tulsa, Okla., April 26.—The town of Would Be, Oklahoma, owes its name to a dispute between a postoffice inspector and a postmaster.

This is the story as told by Emby Kaye, of Would Be. In 1917, about 400 persons comprising an oil camp five miles south of Billings, decided they wanted a postoffice. The postoffice department granted their request and a postal inspector arrived to christen the new community.

The postmaster, leading the discussion for the citizens, wanted the town named Mid-Co. The inspector objected. "It wouldn't do at all," he said. "When the oil's gone what would it be?"

"It would be a town, that's what it would be," answered the postmaster. "Well, then if it would be, it would be," the inspector retorted, and the postal station thereupon became Would Be.

TIGHTENING PROHIBITION

Washington, April 26.—A bill prohibiting doctors from prescribing beer as a medicine was introduced Monday by Chairman Volstead of the house judiciary committee.

The measure, designed to tighten up the Volstead law, in view of an opinion by Attorney General Palmer, would not prohibit the use of wine as a medicine, but reenacts in more specific language "that such prescription must be limited to actual needs for medicinal purposes."

Another provision would direct the prohibition commissioner to hold down the importation and manufacture of liquor to actual requirements of the people for non-beverage use and permit its importation and manufacture to supply current needs after the present liquor supply in the United States has been exhausted.

H. L. Petty, who has been suffering with blood poison for the past several days is reported improving, and hopes to be out within the next few days.

REPARATIONS PLANS STILL UNSETTLED

London, April 27.—The British government today requested its representatives in Berlin to inquire informally regarding the new German reparations offer for the purpose of clearing up ambiguity concerning the terms of years in which payment may be made under the offer.

Subject Before Reichstag

Berlin, April 27.—The German cabinet today faced a vote in the reichstag on the government's policy in the reparations move, including its appeal to President Harding for mediation, and the new reparations proposals just submitted to Washington. Approval of the policy was forecast in political quarters.

FIFTEEN DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI STORM

Jackson, Miss., April 27.—A tornado struck Braxton, about 18 miles from here, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, killing about 15 persons and wounding twice that number.

Every business house in the place was destroyed, and many of the residents either totally or partially wrecked.

The dead were taken to Dio, about three miles distant, and the wounded to Weathersby, five miles away. More than $100,000 worth of damage was done.

The wind lasted only a few minutes and was followed by a terrific rain, which has swollen the streams in that vicinity to overflowing, which will result in more damage to crops.

A party of five took refuge in a bank vault and escaped unhurt, while the president and cashier, who failed to take refuge, were killed.

Braxton is a town of about 500 inhabitants, in Simpson county on the Gulf and Ship Island railroad.

Troops in Charge

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 27.—Ditpatches today from Braxton, Miss., virtually wrecked by a storm yesterday, place the number of known dead at eight, with unverified reports of other deaths which may increase the number of fatalities to twice that number. Twenty-three persons are known to have been injured. Troops from Jackson arrived early today to take charge of the situation.

ESPIONAGE VIOLATORS BEGIN SENTENCES

Leavenworth, Kan., April 26.—Twenty of 47 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, convicted at Chicago of charges of violating the selective service and espionage act, and who have been ordered to report at the federal penitentiary here to serve out their sentences as a result of the United States supreme court's refusal to review their cases, had reported at the penitentiary last night.

According to officials, as many men are expected to arrive today. The first man in today was Stanley J. Clark, a lawyer who came from Fort Worth, Texas. Another early arrival was Ben Fletcher, a negro, who was active, according to officials, on the Pacific coast. Others to report, included Charles Ashlight, Oxford University graduate and newspaper man; Walter T. Neff, sentenced originally from Chicago to 20 years, and Ralph Chamberlain, known as an artist and poet. He is also a 20-year man.

Most of the men, prison officials said, would be put to breaking rocks.

Ten Chicagoans Entrain

Chicago, April 26.—Dispirited and leaderless, in the absence of William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, who automatically became a fugitive from justice, 10 Industrial Workers of the World members departed last night for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, to complete their sentences for obstructing the nation's war work. They are the Chicago contingent of 47 I. W. W. denied a new trial by the United States supreme court, and who were ordered back to prison for terms varying from five to 20 years after having been at liberty on bonds.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY

Washington, April 22.—President Harding today nominated Claudius H. Hutson of Tennessee to be assistant secretary of commerce.

GERMANY WILLING TO PAY ALLIES' DEBT

Berlin, April 26.—Germany is willing to assume the Allied obligations to the United States in the event the United States and the Allies so desire, according to the extent of her ability, says a clause in her counter-proposals, it was definitely learned here today. With this exception, the counter-proposals forwarded to Washington were virtually as forecast in yesterday's Associated Press dispatches from this city.

The Note Forwarded

Berlin, April 26.—The reparations note forwarded today from Berlin to Washington contains an arbitration proposal for determining the total amount due for reparations. A clause of the note says, "Germany suggests the appointment of an unbiased commission to fix the total sum of her war reparations, which she pledges to accept as binding and will carry out in good faith." The note adds that Germany would welcome any suggestions from the United States for further negotiations or changes in the present proposals. The reparations proposals declare the present proposals are only capable of execution if the system of penalties now in force is discontinued immediately. Germany also asks for freedom of trade.

France Means Business

Paris, April 26.—Premier Briand told the chamber of deputies today that "if on May 1st a satisfactory proposal, with acceptable guarantees, was not made by the German government the Ruhr district would be occupied."

Totally Unacceptable

Paris, April 26.—Germany's new reparations, as announced today, are considered as unacceptable even as a basis for discussion, according to well informed opinion close to the French Foreign Office.

Looks Bad For Germany

Paris, April 26.—The possibility of applying the penalties on Germany immediately after May 1st, despite whatever propositions Germany may make regarding reparations in general, is being seriously considered, according to well-informed French circles today.

Germany's Specific Offer

Berlin, April 26.—Germany offers to pay fifty billion gold marks of the present value, which would be converted into annuities, or a total of two hundred billion gold marks. Payments under the proposals would be made according to her ability to pay.

Dallas, Texas, April 26.—Mrs. Dora P. Hobby, mother of former Governor Hobby, died at her home here this afternoon. All the members of her family were with her. Funeral arrangements have not been announced. She will be buried at Dallas.

AMNESTY PROMISES ARE DENIED REBELS

Mexico City, April 27.—Rebel chiefs in future will receive no promises of amnesty from the Mexican government. Personal orders were sent yesterday to the military commanders of all districts by President Obregon that all rebels holding ranks higher than that of captain must surrender unconditionally. The order came as the result of indirect offers by Francisco Murguia through various agents to cease rebel activities if promised executive leniency. The order is considered in administration circles to indicate Obregon's confidence in the strength of the new government.

THREATENED STRIKE BY MARINE WORKERS

Washington, April 27.—A sharp difference of opinion in regard to wage reductions between Chairman Benson of the shipping board and the spokesman for the marine workers developed today at the opening of the conference called by the chairman in effort to avert the threatened strike on American steamers on May 1st. Andrew Fuerth, president of the International Seamen's Union, and other spokesmen for the workers, asserted that the 15 percent wage reduction declared by Benson to be necessary was unacceptable to the unions.

STORM DEMORALIZES RAILROAD SERVICE

Fort Worth, Texas, April 27.—Trains due here early yesterday, but marooned by floods in East Texas, began arriving today. They made detours of hundreds of miles. Freight embargo shipments through East Texas, levied yesterday, were continued today. However, railroad officials said they expected it to be lifted tonight or tomorrow.

Vienna, April 25.—Residents of the province of Tyrol who took part yesterday in a "sentimental plebiscite" relative to the fusion of Tyrol with Germany voted overwhelmingly in favor of such a union, according to advices received here from Innsbruck. At least 95 percent of the people participated.

GERMANY SIDESTEPS THE ALLIES' DEBTS

Berlin, April 25.—Germany's counter-proposals on reparations refrain from proposing the assumption by Germany of the Allied debts to the United States, it was learned today.

The German government is refraining from announcing today its note to the United States in order to give President Harding an opportunity to consider and make inquiries concerning it, if he desires, before forwarding it to the Allies, it was explained.

WAGE CUT HELD UP

Dallas, Texas, April 25.—The proposed wage reductions affecting every employee of the Texas & Pacific railroad will not be made May 1st, as planned, it was officially announced today, but will remain unchanged pending the decision of the labor board.

NAMES PRISON COMMISSIONER

Austin, Texas, April 25.—Governor Neff today appointed W. H. Rand of Sulphur Springs a member of the board of prison commissioners to succeed Sam D. W. Low, who recently resigned because his policies were "not in harmony" with the governor's in regard to the administration of the prison system.

ARREST LIQUOR RUNNERS

Chicago, April 27.—Louis Rosenfeld, secretary-treasurer of the Sunny Brook Distillery Company, and F. W. Harrison, an employee at a branch office here, were arrested today upon request of the authorities at El Paso, where they were recently indicted for alleged conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. It is alleged they attempted to ship a thousand cases of whiskey into Mexico. Hearing of the proceedings to take the men to Texas is scheduled for May 6.

DEMOCRATS SELECTED FOR SHIPPING BOARD JOB

Washington, April 25.—Former Senator Chamberlain of Portland, Ore., and Frederick Thompson of Mobile, Ala., are understood to have been definitely selected by President Harding as members of the shipping board. Both are democrats. President Harding is said to be undecided in regard to the third democrat he is to name.

TWO HUNDRED BILLION NAMED BY GERMANY

Berlin, April 25.—The German proposal to the Allies offers the payment of two hundred billion gold marks for reparations, according to sources close to the government. The payments would be spread over a period of 30 to 42 years, or less, according to Germany's economic recovery. Economic pledges in the way of goods and participation in German industries are offered as a guarantee, it was stated. It is indicated that the offer inclines more toward the terms formulated by the Allies at Paris than to the offer made by Germany at the London conference, which the Allies summarily rejected.

EDITOR CONVICTED OF LIBELING GOVERNOR

Waco, Texas, April 25.—M. M. Scholl, editor of the Cooper Courier, pleaded guilty of libeling Pat Neff, governor of Texas, during the campaign last year. He was fined $500 in the county court today. He paid the fine.

BANDITS ROB BANK

Bowling Green, Ky., April 27.—Two bandits held up G. W. Davidson & Company, a private bank at Auburn, 18 miles west of here, yesterday and escaped with $9,000 in cash and $80,000 in Liberty bonds.

THE HERITAGE OF SAN JACINTO

The significance of the victory of Sam Houston and his handful of men on the field of San Jacinto 85 years ago today grows as history unfolds itself. Never before did its importance loom so clearly as now.

Primarily, it may be said, it settled the question of whether the great area embracing Texas should be Latin or Anglo-Saxon. To realize all that means it is only necessary to compare the Texas of today with the various states south of the Rio Grande. Such a contrast can not be drawn without enhancing the stature of Sam Houston as a world figure, as one whose achievements had a tremendous bearing upon the course of civilization.

We may also get a better understanding of what the victory of San Jacinto meant by glancing back at the history of the world war. The principle that Houston and his Texans fought for and established at San Jacinto was the same principle that three-fourths of the world combined in an alliance to perpetuate during the struggle with the Hohenzollern autocracy. The seed planted on this field at Houston's door has borne fruit around the world.

Again, we need only to look at Russia, where greed under another cloak extinguishes democratic institutions, to appreciate what those institutions the fathers set up in Texas means to us. Who can contrast Texas with Russia, without being overwhelmed with the spirit of reverence and admiration for those who made possible the splendid civilization we in this state enjoy today?

But while contrasting the conditions here in our own state with those in other parts of the world where liberty has not yet been dethroned, we need to be reminded that these blessings we enjoy were bought with a price. Shall we keep them? The answer is: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

We shall not if we permit selfishness, greed, love of ease and indifference to the public welfare to kill the spirit of reverence for free institutions. We shall not if we grow indifferent to the memory of such authors of freedom as Sam Houston and his Texas pioneers. The people of Texas will be in danger when they forget San Jacinto.

The recurrence of this anniversary is a call to the citizenry of the state to commune with the spirits of those who passed to them this heritage, and to renew the pledge of loyalty to those principles which have made us the most prosperous, the happiest and the most free people of the earth.—Houston Post.

THE NEWEST HOLIDAY

Another national holiday will probably be added to the roster. The League of Women Voters has decided to ask congress to proclaim August 26, the date of the enfranchisement of women, as a legal holiday.

August 26, 1920, marked the beginning of a great epoch in history. How great, nobody, not even the women themselves, can foretell, any more than, when citizenship in the American republic first became a possibility, anybody could foretell the splendid developments to come.

At the Women Voters' Convention in Cleveland, a prominent suffragist said of the early days of the struggle, "we knew in those old days we would do wonders, but we never dreamed that it would be all this." And "this," the work thus far accomplished, is only a beginning of what will be done as women become more impressed with the power of the vote.

The day which put that vote into their hands should be commemorated like other epochal dates in the life of the nation.

THOSE "QUEER" PEOPLE

Curiosity always has led and always will prompt people to do queer things. Hence folks occasionally go from Nacogdoches to Lufkin. But, then, morbid persons sometimes feel moved to attend a hanging.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

We always wondered why anyone lived at Nacogdoches, but didn't know that they "do queer things" until the Sentinel editor said so.—Lufkin News.

A REAL DEADBEAT

Washington Brown, colored, of Atlanta, wrote this letter to Sam Johnson of Macon: "Dear Sam, is you dead or is you alive? If you alive send me that $10 you owes me.—Wash."

A week later Washington received this reply: "Dear Wash—I is dead, and that $10 was used to help buy my coffin.—Sam"

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS

Many writers and other use the words, "Civil War" to express the same as others do by the terms, "War Between the States," "Confederate States War," and "War of Secession." The United States authorities at first denied that there was a real secession, contending that the "Southern states were in the union to stay, and could not secede." When the war ended the Southern states were counted out by the union, and had to be admitted back by red tape formalities styled reconstruction. This reconstruction method was begun by the United States placing provisional government over the Southern Confederacy and by disfranchising the white voters and enfranchising the negro, by adopting the 15th amendment to the constitution of the United States.

Disloyalty was expected over the South, and military authorities took up the duty of holding down rebellious conduct.

Military companies and officers were sent to Nacogdoches. The first body of soldiers sent here was encamped on the grounds now occupied by the freight depot of the H. E. & W. T. railroad. There were no houses then in the valley there on the west side of the Banita Bayou.

This was in 1867 and 1868. Another body of soldiers afterward occupied the ground around where L. S. Taylor's home is now located and has been for many years. There were about 100 men in each of these detachments of soldiers.

It would be a long story to relate the doings of these military commands. They were not noisy or turbulent; but were stern and firm in doing what they termed law and order. For instance, in cases of election by the civil authorities military guards stood at the polls to see that negroes were allowed to vote, while whites were prevented. This was quietly endured. There was not outbreak of resistance, even when negroes served on juries, and one negro held the office of county commissioner. This was Tom J. Finley, who afterwards moved to the Indian Territory, now Oklahoma. There was a great exodus of negroes from Texas to that section. A few of them returned later.

But big riotous rackets sprang up in town between the soldiers and civilians. They were fierce and stormy. They had reference to the arrogance of negroes. Some whites had to hide out. One of these was Billie Burrows. Uncle Ben Scogin was mixed up in one big fuss on the streets in town between the whites and the negroes. The fuss brought out the military in savage style. Bloodshed was averted except in a few minor affairs. A few arrests of civilians by the military were made. Rufe Bruton was imprisoned in the guard house down on the Banita and Jason Shanks was later imprisoned at the North street guard house. But gradually the rebels got less disloyal and the soldiers left.

This provisional government removed the local county officers and placed ex-soldiers in their stead. The county clerk was a Dr. M. J. Graham from the loyal North and the district clerk was James Clark. They behaved very nicely.

This war which lasted four years, 1861-1865, put the inhabitants in bad shape for a living. The homes were destitute of all ordinary comforts and even necessities of living. Farms were left to the weeds and bushes. Fences were down for lack of men to keep them up. Women did much of such work. Old men with ox wagons drove all the way to Brownsville, on the Rio Grande, and there got family supplies from Matamoros, across the river.

There were no mercantile houses operating in town. The public square was overgrown with weeds and grass. Footpaths extended from house to house. Men and women were clad in homespun and shod in leather from the home tanyards, in shoes or boots made at home with pegged soles. Flour, sugar and coffee were not to be had. Meat, too, was scarce, because livestock were neglected for lack of men to care for them. Hog meat was obtained from mast fed hogs in the river bottoms.

And law and order also was below par. Morals were low. Churches not in good shape. The country in general was in bad.

But everybody got busy quick. Stores were started. One among the first was G. B. Crain & Co., located where the Stripling drug store now stands. It became the leader and had other quarters. Money was in confusion. Coin was gone. Green backs were as low as $1.50 for $1.00. Confederate money was very dead. But some how things gradually came back to normal. And folks were soon employed in a contented spirit. The race question soon found its level. All's well that ends well.

Two Kinds of Women

WE know a woman, who when she needs to purchase necessary things for the home or the family puts on her shopping costume, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and sallies forth.

She shops here and there and down another hunting and h-u-n-t-i-n-g. When she gets home she is j^a z_z y and j-a-d-e-d. She feels all mussed up mentally and physically.

We know another who has learned the art of reading the advertisements before she starts out. She finds out what she wants and where to get it. Then she goes straight down town and right to the store that has IT.

In this way she saves time, money and effort and comes home fresh as a daisy and ready to get friend husband a good dinner instead of taking him to the cafeteria.

Which one are you?

WILSON'S GREAT HANDICAP

President Wilson undoubtedly had his disabilities. If it came to a horse-trade, Lloyd George could have undoubtedly "outjockeyed" him; but it seldom reached such a situation, because President Wilson, by his manifest sincerity and open candor, always saying precisely what he thought, would early disarm his opponents in argument.

President Wilson did not have a well organized secretarial staff. He did far too much of the work himself, studying until late at night papers and documents that he should have largely delegated to some discreet aides. He was, by all odds, the hardest worked man at the conference; but the failure to delegate more of his work was not due to any inherent distrust that he had of men—and certainly not to any desire to "run the whole show" himself—but simply to his lack of facility in knowing how to delegate work on a large scale. In execution we all have a blind spot in some part of our eye. President Wilson's was in his inability to use men; and inability, mind you, not a refusal. On the contrary, when any of us volunteered or insisted upon taking responsibility off his shoulders, he was delighted.—Thomas W. Lamont, in "What Really Happened at Paris." Scribners.

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED

Do not become discouraged over weather conditions, because for as many years as the world has been made, these same conditions have prevailed, without change of variability, when averaged over a short period. Recollect that East Texas is a country that never fails. With its nearly one hundred years in agricultural history there has never been a complete failure. The storms and floods may come, droughts may visit us, insects may pass over the land as in the days when Moses was negotiating with an obstinate king in Egypt about getting his people out of the country, but here in this particular section of the country the wise husbandman was never known to fail to produce a living. Faith is just as essential in making a living as it is in making salvation. However, we have poor faith in the ability of cotton feeding as many people as it has been known to feed in other days.

And cotton never did feed the people on everything they needed and held up on it long at a time.—Rusk County News.

McElroy of Kaufman had a daughter gone, whom he had not seen or heard from in seven years, at which time she was living in California and was still unmarried. He asked Mrs. Nye about her and was informed that she was married to a man named Smith and that she was working in a restaurant in San Antonio, giving the name and location of the restaurant.

DEATH CLAIMS HALF OF ROUMANIA'S CHILDHOOD

Every other child, one out of two, born in the country of Roumania, dies before it reaches the age of five years, and 20 children out of every 100 die before they are one year old, according to a statistical report just announced by the American Red Cross.

A large part of this devastating death rate is due to the lack of food and proper clothing, and Red Cross effort abroad are now being concentrated on supplying the children with garments and medical care, the adult problem being deemed too great for any single organization to assume.

Miss Margaret Brown was again successful at the district meet in Timpon last week in the junior declamation, being the second time she has won at the district meet. Miss Margaret has won the cup permanently for the High School, having won three consecutive times in the county meet. She will go to Austin to enter the state contest for the second attempt to win the state championship. This is a splendid record for the young lady and one that has not only put our High School in the forefront in the interscholastic work but a splendid recognition of the earnest and faithful work of Miss Margaret. Her many friends will learn of her success with a great deal of pleasure.—Rusk County News.

EVER BILIOUS?

Charleston, Miss.—Mrs. R. V. Heins, of this place, says: "I have never had to use very much medicine, because if I felt headache, dizziness, or colds, bad taste in the mouth, which comes from torpid liver, I would take a dose or more of Black-Draught, and it would straighten me out and make me feel as good as new. We have used in our family for years

Clarence Ousley, formerly assistant Secretary of Agriculture, will address a mass meeting of farmers at Nacogdoches, Monday, May 2; at Center, Tuesday, May 3; and at Carthage, Wednesday, May 4. The time of the meeting is set for 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

His speech will be an explanation of the Cotton Marketing plan of the Texas Farm Bureau. Colonel Ousley is known throughout Texas as a very effective speaker and is closely connected with agricultural affairs, both state and national. He has an insight into the cotton marketing problem possessed by few other men.

It is the purpose of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association to wage an active campaign for membership in Nacogdoches, Shelby and Panola counties immediately following the mass meeting addressed by Colonel Ousley. It is planned to sell a million bales of Texas cotton this fall through this organization. Oklahoma has already secured over 400,000 bales to be sold in a similar manner.

MORE NURSES ASSIGNED

Twenty-five additional public health nurses will be added to the staff of the Southwest Division, American Red Cross, in the immediate future, and will be assigned to as many counties for work as full-time community nurses, according to an announcement by Miss Ethel Pinder, director of nursing service. Of this number, seven will be placed in Oklahoma, five in Missouri, five in Texas, five in Kansas and three in Arkansas.

The additional nurses will bring the staff up to 241, distributed in Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. A number of chapters now on the waiting list for community nurses will be supplied as soon as suitable personnel can be obtained. Due to the shortage of nurses throughout the United States it has been difficult to take care of demands for nurses of proper training as rapidly as desired.

AT THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

The Sentinel man started out Sunday morning on a round which will include every Sunday-school in the city, his object being to comply with a demand for detailed information concerning the several schools. This plan is considered timely by reason of the deep religious awakening which is apparent here as a result of the revivals which have recently been held or which are now in progress or contemplated.

To make the story complete, it was arranged to publish the names of the officers and of teachers and pupils by classes. This is somewhat an arduous, but very pleasant task, which is undertaken in the firm belief that the reward will be entirely adequate.

"FANCIES AND FOLLIES" PROVE A GREAT SUCCESS

Friday night at the high school auditorium the room was packed to full capacity, all being there to hear what is being termed over the town "the most successful thing staged by local talent that has been in Nacogdoches in many a day." The promoters of the affair, Miss Mayo Provenance and Professor W. C. Ware, have expressed entire satisfaction with the way things turned out.

At 8 o'clock the high school orchestra opened the program with a triple number consisting of an overture, a waltz and a march, keeping excellent time in each composition with fine expression and spirit.

Since the program was so extended, mention can only be made of some of the most striking things rendered. Among these was the violin solo by Miss Louise Blount, who displayed such knowledge of technique and depth of feeling that the entire house was moved.

Another striking and impressive feature of the program was the pleasing effects of shading and tone color produced by Miss Pauline Buckner on her saxophone.

The fresh, sweet voices of Misses Marie Shirley and Jessie Cariker were well displayed with their respective solos.

The "Swing Song" was given by the Fancies chorus with fine rhythm and expression, the voices shining up well in the difficult passages of the song.

Wearing the blue and white jumpers and marching in lock step, the Glee Club made a real hit in "Strut, Miss Lizzie," Corna Nelson singing the solo with good effect.

August Rulfs and Roland Jones, with the Follies chorus in their dance, "I Never Knew," gave the audience a shock and a laugh, as Augusta Arthur.

Wearing an elegant gown and with hair half down in the latest fashion, "Spikes Rulfs" sang the solo and danced with abandon, Mr. Jones giving him fine support.

The final numbers, "Kentucky Blues" was sung with great spirit by the entire Symphony Club with James Hagan giving the pianologue part. The costumes massed on the stage presented a brilliant color effect.

The production was under the direction of Mr. W. C. Ware and Miss Mayo Provenance with the assistance of Miss Goodlow and Miss Grace Robertson of the domestic arts departments of the high school, the last named two supervising the costumes.

Mrs. Ben Taylor of Martinsville was in the city Saturday shopping.

A GOOD TONIC

Houston, Texas.—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomaine poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength, and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and bulidder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedies in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking the second bottle I found it was doing me a world of good. My strength returned rapidly, and I felt better in every way.

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that did me so much good."—Mrs. GERTRUDE SELL, 2117 Common St. All druggists—liquid or tablets.

INSANE MAN CAPTURED, ATTEMPTS TO KILL SELF

About 10 o'clock Monday morning Mr. George Blackburn phoned Deputy City Marshal Watson that a crazy man, barcheaded, was at a point two miles northeast of town, and in company with Deputy Sheriff R. E. Boothe and Mr. A. H. Goodson, he went out to investigate.

The man was found, and upon the approach of the officers he attempted to make a get-away, started off at top speed and leading the officers a lively chase for some distance. Seeing that he would be overhauled, and just as Mr. Boothe ran upon him, the man drew a knife, stabbed himself three times and slashed his throat in an attempt to commit suicide. He was seized and prevented from inflicting further injuries upon himself. Then the officers placed him in their car and brought him to town, lodging him in jail, where his hurts were attended. None of his wounds is necessarily fatal, though he is badly injured.

As far as can be learned the man's name is Billy Gibson and his age about 45 years. In his pocket was found a bottle of medicine purchased at Groveton, and papers on his person indicate that place as his home, temporarily, at least. His mind seems to be entirely gone.

J. T. POWER

Mr. J. T. Power, an old and respected citizen of Garrison, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lake Orton, in Nacogdoches, at 5 o'clock Monday morning after a brief illness. He was brought here Sunday for treatment in the hope that relief might be afforded, but the malady with which he was afflicted had progressed too far for medical skill to combat.

Mr. Power was born in Mississippi nearly 64 years ago and came to Nacogdoches county in his youth. He was twice married, and to each union two children were born. They are Mrs. Lake Orton of this city, Mrs. Claud Williams of Decoy, Mrs. Elva Bell Hornsby of Louisiana and Herman Power of Garrison.

The family of the deceased have the warmest sympathy of all the people of this community.

MYER HOME IN CYCLONE

The home of Mrs. Myer near Zion Hill church was blown around and badly damaged by the cyclone last Friday evening. Besides the Myer family, Mrs. Grover Welch and children were in the house as were Mrs. Hunt and her small son and her son Hardy Mayfield. Mrs. Hunt and Hardy Mayfield had stopped there out of the rain. Mayfield took his horse from the buggy and put him in a stable. The buggy was demolished and only a few pieces had been found. The Myer home was badly damaged, trees twisted off and things whirled around considerably, but all the people escaped uninjured.—Mt. Enterprise Progress, 21st.

FORD IS ACQUITTED

Ford Traweck arrived in the city at noon for a few days' visit with visit with his Lufkin friends. He resides at Graham, Texas, and came by way of Houston. No, he didn't bring the rain; it was raining when he stepped off the train.—Lufkin News.

Mr. T. Tilford of this city, author of "Buttermilk Jones," a novel that some few years ago attracted national attention, is now busy revising the old edition with the purpose of putting the book on the market again. The story is a fine one, and should be read by every Nacogdoches man and woman. It is understood that the story could be well adapted to the screen, and later it may be. "Many authors write one successful book, and then devote themselves to a lot of other unsuccessful volumes. I want the satisfaction of having put out just one successful book," Mr. Tilford says.

PASTOR CALLED

Reverend W. G. Higgins, pastor of the First Christian church at Belton has accepted a call extended by the Nacogdoches church and is preparing to leave for that place within a week.

Mrs. R. E. Stoker left Monday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. E. E. Stoker, who is making her home with his daughter at Goldthwaite. Mr. Stoker says he is seeking a country where the sunshine and rain are more evenly divided.

PASTOR'S HOUSE BURNED

A letter from Rev. Otto Zimmerman pastor at Hemphill bears the unwelcome news that while he and his wife were out on their circuit the house in which they were living was burned April 17th. He says:

"Yesterday morning the house that we were occupying was burned and all our temporal possessions, with very few exceptions, were destroyed. We were at McClelland when it happened. My library, with few exceptions, was a complete loss. All our clothing, except what we had on our bodies, was burned."

This is a very sad affliction to these good servants of the Master and calls for our assistance. I am going to send them some help and will gladly receive any friendly aid which anyone wishes to give, and convey it to them.

WAGES AND PRICES

There is criticism of the resistance offered by industrial workers to a reduction of wages. It is pointed out that a general lowering of the cost of living is impossible until wages are lowered, because labor is so large a factor in prices of all kinds. In some cases the criticism is plainly deserved. There are groups of very highly paid workers whose insistence on keeping their boom wages in a time of depression is unjust to every other economic group, and holds back the resumption of prosperity.

On the whole, however, employees are not greatly to blame for this attitude. Their situation is different from that of the employing class. They have less power to make sure that they shall not lose in the readjusting process.

Manufacturers who lower the prices of their products can usually make up the losses by lowering wages accordingly. Workmen who have their wages lowered have no such immediate resource by which to adjust the cost of living to their lower incomes. It is well known that, although price levels, as shown on the financial page, have sunk far below their war-time level, there has been, as yet, no corresponding effect on the wage level. The reductions are mostly in the manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices, not in the retailers'. If the general reduction as shown by comparative statistics is 40 percent from the peak of prices, it may be no more than 10 or 15 percent as reflected in a workman's present living expenses. The drop will doubtless come in time, but the workman feels that he cannot afford to take his wage cut on faith.

This is a fact that might be given more attention by manufacturing and commercial bodies. If it could be proved to any labor union that 80 percent of its present wages would buy as much of the necessities of life as 100 percent has been buying, it would probably agree readily enough to a 20 percent cut. The best agreement would be an actual reduction of retail prices wherever they are warranted.

THE CHILD AT THE WHEEL

As long as irresponsible children are allowed to drive automobiles the accident toll will be high.

In Chicago, in March, two cars collided. In one were two responsible citizens of mature years. One of them was killed, the other seriously injured. In the second car were a group of school children, one of whom was driving. The jury found that "the accident was due to the youth and inexperience of the driver, who was only 14 years of age." At the trial her father admitted that she had been driving for four years, that is, ever since she was 10.

Most states have laws forbidding the operation of cars by children under 15 or 16 years of age, which is plenty young enough. In most states the law is broken every day.

A young child can learn the mechanical process of operating the ordinary car. He has not, however, the judgment nor the presence of mind to warrant his being allowed to drive. If an accident happens, no matter what the circumstances, suspicion will be directed toward the youthful driver. For his own sake as well as for the public safety the child should be kept from the wheel.

EX-PRESIDENTIAL PENSIONS

Interest in pensions for ex-presidents has been aroused again by the introduction in the senate and house of bills for that purpose. The matter has fallen into disrepute in late years because of the demonstrated capacity of ex-presidents to take care of themselves financially. There is no question now of such capacity on the part of either Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson. There is also recognition of the fact that old standards have changed, and a retiring president is not expected to withdraw entirely from active life and content himself with the role of "sage."

It is not, however, merely a question of earning a living or continuing active in public and private life. Advocates of the pension idea point out that any man who has held the highest office in the United States occupies thereafter a special position of dignity and responsibility. He remains a public character, and cannot escape from that character. His voice and example carry weight in matters of national import. It is argued that the country should make such provision for him that he will neither be compelled nor tempted to undertake any kind of private employment which might interfere with his highest service to the country as a semi-official adviser in national affairs.

There are kinds of private activity, perfectly proper in themselves, which might conceivably interfere with that role. It is urged, therefore, that the country could well afford to pay any ex-president a good salary, under the guise of a pension, as a core of retaining fee.

The only serious criticism of the present proposal seems to be that $10,000 a year is too little—that the amount had better be $25,000. That is reasonable. If any pension is conferred at all, it should be one on which an ex-president could live in a comfortable position.

WHERE MAN IS BOSS

The position is taken that every married man should at least exercise supreme authority over at least some feature connected with the home, that his word should be the law, and that no one should seek to infringe upon such right. A prominent Lufkin business man has been found who enjoys this distinction, and has no fear that his one prerogative will ever be wrested from him. He says that he has absolute sway over the woodpile in his back yard, and that no one has ever sought to dispute his absolute control of this portion of the premises. It is here that he is monarch of all he surveys, nor things present, past nor yet to come can prevail against him.—Lufkin News.

A SPLENDID PROGRAM

Who makes a town? Is it you? Not the man who sells out-of-town ice cream.

Not the man or woman who orders out-of-town ice cream at the soda fountains.

Not you who order out-of-town mattresses.

Not you who order out-of-town creamery butter.

Not you who order out-of-town cotton seed meal.

Not you who order a suit from an out-of-town man.

Not you who order out-of-town meats.

Not you who order out-of-town hair tonic.

Not you who order out-of-town cigars.

Not you who order out-of-town brooms.

Not you who order out-of-town corn meal.

But it is the person who buys at home ice cream, mattresses, butter, cotton seed meal, suits of clothes, hair tonic, meats, cigars, brooms and meal and has the nerve to tell a customer that if he or she can't eat our town cream or our other productions to get out of town and the sooner you get out the sooner a real citizen will take your place. Go where your money goes; we don't want you here. We need more factories and more REAL citizens to co-operate with them.

Factories come and factories go. Chances come and chances go. We have chances to get more factories.

But we let them go. We can't use citizens who order out-of-town stuff. So let's let them go and keep the factories and make them go. Let's start something, if it's nothing but a fuss. Our neighbor towns make factories go; why can't we? So come along, real citizens, and let's make this town grow; it's never too late. Opportunities are knocking at our doors. Why not open the doors and let them in?

Now, to the young people: Let's think when at the soda fountain and let's order a cream made at home. So soon the soda fountains will keep no other but home-made cream. If the home factory don't make a good ice cream, let's get together and call on him until he will make it good and sanitary. Let's get together and organize a strictly young men's commercial club and build a city for the young as well as the old. Get the trash out from under our noses, let's clean up, straighten up and build up and not wait for the older heads to take the lead, for your eyes can't see for the dust what a clean city would look like. Let's not organize in opposition to the chamber of commerce, but to co-operate with them in the building of our town. Let's have the traveling men talking about us. Let's do something. Now is the time of need. Let's get together if it is rainy or sun-shiny weather.

WHAT THE ASSOCIATION IS DOING FOR FARMERS

Dallas, Texas, April 27.—Now that the Oklahoma Cotton Marketing Association has its 300,000 bales of cotton signed up and is ready to get down to business, here are some of the things it is planning to do for its members, William Dee Little says in the Progressive Farmer:

It will grade, class, staple and weigh each bale; this will place a true value on the cotton in terms of quality. It will warehouse and store cotton wherever and whenever necessary; this will at once reduce the tremendous loss from "country damage". It will sell all of its cotton in even running lots, each grade, class, and staple within its own pool; this will insure a higher price than can be obtained in any other way. It will sell on its own samples and warehouse certificates; this will again reduce another heavy loss, known as the city crop. It will sell collectively and only when the market demands it; this will at once reduce speculation. It will sell its cotton as directly as possible; this will eliminate many present wasteful methods.

It will determine the cost of production of cotton; this will assist in asking a price which will be entirely satisfactory to both producer and consumer. It will encourage and develop co-operative production of uniform and standard varieties; this will assist still further in pool selling and in securing a better price. It will advise with the growers on production methods and problems; this will be essentially helpful and profitable.

The organization committee has said what it believes the plan means to the farmers.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the average amount of 'country damage' on cotton is about $6 a bale. In terms of Oklahoma's cotton crop of 1919 of 922,374 bales, this represents an annual loss of $5,954,244. The farmer pays this loss because in the long run it is taken out of the value of his crop. 'Country damage' can only be avoided through proper and speedy warehousing. To build warehouses is costly, and small groups of farmers often cannot do it. The statewide association with thousands of members can and will finance the building of warehouse in such a way that they can be paid entirely out of the savings which come thru this better system of marketing.

"All too often the grade of cotton is the smallest factor in the price, and the farmer who sold on a basis of grade only, did so at a price which made the profits obtained by the buyer beyond the sale of the law. Under the association plan the real value of this cotton will be paid to the farmer who grew the cotton, less the actual cost 4 percent of the value of the sale.

"The organization of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers Association is a movement from the ground up, for the sole purpose of curing the disease which now has as its principal symptom the lean pocketbook of the cotton farmer."

Our First Person Singular.

Is not English the only great language in which the pronoun of the first person singular is capitalized? How monumentally imposing is that upper case "I" if a writer is egotistic the capitals stretch across his page like a colossus. When he writes "we" he descends to the lower case. But this orthographic solipsism mark you, is shared by Americana, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders—all who use the English tongue. It is therefore not to be set down to insularity, but to individualism—a stark, ineradicable, valuable quality of these various folks whose thoughts and feelings have been nourished by the same language.—Henry Van Dyke in Scribner's Magazine.

METHODIST 5; BAPTIST 2

The Methodist and Baptist ball teams crossed bats Wednesday afternoon, with both teams working in fine form. As previously decided the struggle would last only five innings owing to the limited time to play. The game finally ended with the Baptist tallying the score to the Methodist tune of 5, to 2.

At five bells the ump, Neutie Davidson, called the game. The game was "called" but there was some confusion as to where the mask was and then it also had to be "called" two or three times, but the game finally started. The Baptists were first to try their strength at the tantalizing curves of Parmley, who was offering them. Munsell was transacting the business behind the bat for the Sprinklers. Parmley was putting all he had on 'em in lively fashion and owing to the stage fright of the Baptist boys they were unable "to get on". Up to this point it was a great game—as far as the Methodists could see it.

Clarence Thompson, the stiff-collar-and-necktie pitcher, started the game for the Baptists. His curves were old and sleepy, but the Methodists were only able to tally one time in this stanza. The Methodists had a good team with Smith, Burrows, Hale and Eiland doing first line duty and Henderson, Belser and Gaston pulling those few down that the Baptists knocked beyond the infield. But as the Baptists hit no hard ones in the second inning they did not make many errors. The Baptists had men on second and third, but failed to entertain the ball for a three-bagger or less. The Baptists were "home-ly", but could not reach home at this time.

Just at this stage of the game someone wanted a pill rolled, so Hagan relieved Thompson. Belser, the noted center fielder, wielded himself a score in this frame just ahead of Munsell when Eiland dry-cracked one for two sacks. The Baptists tightened and let the score-keeper catch up, and they liked it so well they did not let any more score this inning. Parmley began to wobble in the third frame and Martin made a nice hit and scored B. Shofner, the first and next to the last scratch for the Baptists.

The Methodists up to this time were disappointed in that they had not made more scores. They really were not able to figure the flingers for the Baptists, saying nothing of the stone-wall defense of Hill, E. Monk, Crawford and others. The Methodists had blood in their eyes and determination written on their foreheads, so Sullivan was put in the box to check their desire. The bases got full, though, and the bat went "bing." All went well until Gaston boneheaded and ran on third, forcing Eiland, thereby retiring the sides.

Munsell replaced Parmley. Hill was given three strikes with the consent of the umpire. Stripling got into the fray by making a good hit and then stealing to second, much to the surprise of some. He was unable to score, however.

Crawford, now twirling for the Baptists, and Horton on first and numerous other changes had taken place on the Baptist team. The feature of the game was right here: Parmley flew to Cleveland in left, who doubled Hale at first. That was really a league play and brought cheers from the thousand spectators who were at high pitch during the whole game.

As Chandler was pinch-hitting for the Baptists their gang got together and gave fifteen yells for him and also for each team. The Baptists registered again in this frame. The Methodists did not use their last half of the fifth because they were assured that they had the best team and had already done enough to the Baptists.

Everyone that played enjoyed it, and everyone that saw it also enjoyed the game, because it was a cheerful, congenial contest with plenty of the right kind of friendly rivalry. The affair was pleasant and is one of the "helps" that go with real building of Sunday-school interest, and each class should feel proud of its representation.

(Thursday Health Talk, No. 1). (By R. W. Zilar, D.C.)

When you get a feverish, aching soreness of the arm which seems to have deprived the muscles of power, the trouble is neuritis.

Neuritis is an inflammation of the nerve. Its blood vessels expand, there is excessive heat, and there is a discharge of serum into the cells which softens the muscles and degenerates the nerve. The cause is pressure at the spinal nerve opening, and the correction is Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. If attention is given in time, no serious results follow. The tendency of neuritis, unless the cause is removed, is to paralyze the part affected.

Complete Recovery

"I suffered for years with what was diagnosed as neuritis. It seemed as though my extremities were gradually becoming paralyzed. Headaches helped to make life miserable. Chiropractic was advised by a friend and after a series of adjustments I was completely cured."—J. Hyde, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 12,510.

FARMERS' GIFT CORN ON WAY TO EUROPE

Chicago, April 25.—The last car load of corn for the American Farm Bureau Federation's Gift-Corn project has been gathered. Four hundred and thirty-one earloads of shelled corn—over 600,000 bushels—contributed by American farmers to feed hunger stricken areas of Europe were shipped. It is estimated that the farmers free-will offering, if placed ear to ear would reach half way round the world. It will save the lives of thousands of children.

By states, the earload contributions were: Illinois 147; Ohio 67; Indiana 44; Minnesota 44; Iowa 36; South Dakota 31; Missouri 22; Nebraska 20; Kansas 16; Colorado 4.

WOMAN'S WORK TO BE MADE MORE AGREEABLE

Dallas, Texas, April 26.—Of twenty-two things suggested to make life more pleasant for them and their families more contented, Texas farm women voted that the one thing they wanted most is more regular markets for their butter, eggs and other home products, according to the results of a questionnaire conducted by the Women's Committee of the Texas.

The next most desirable things were: running water in the house, a light plant, an electric washer, a bath tub, a library, and a screened porch.

The Women's Committee that met here recently to further complete its program for activities among the rural women recommended that county farm bureaus give women a permanent place on the board of directors and that surveys of rural homes be taken in connection with the women's work of the county farm bureau organization.

LUFKIN, TOO!

A late news item from Nacogdoches says that nearly all of the $2,000 necessary for financing a ball team for that town has been raised, and the players are now being collected. TO THE PUBLIC

Hereafter I will not buy hand-skimmed cream at the Marigold Creamery. I would be glad to handle it if it were possible to make good butter out of it. To maintain the good standing of Marigold butter, we will have to put nothing but good, sweet cream in the butter, and to allow the cream to sour before it is taken from the milk it leaves a small part of the milk in the cream and is not good after it is brought to town.

Let's all get separators and milk cans and run a real creamery. It means better times to all of us.

Yours truly,

FLORIDA RABBIT A FIGHTER

Victor in Remarkable Combat With Dog, as Reported by "Honest and Upright Person."

Russell Thompson of Sarasota, a noted angler and dealer in fishing tackle, consequently a very honest and upright person, has submitted the following, with affidavit attached to the Florida Fisherman.

"Last Sunday morning I happened to be standing looking out the window. All at once Dr. Jack Halton's bird and hound dog came down the alley with his back feet over his neck (in the act of running) and Mayor Edwards' rabbit in the lead. The rabbit is a very large specimen of the rodent family and well able to care for himself, as well as the dog who happens to be a combination bird, rabbit, coon and anything else that happens to be in sight. Well, it was not long before the same pair came back, but the rabbit was not in the lead. Rube, the dog, and the rabbit played for about twenty minutes up and down the alley, in the back yards, and seemed to be having a wonderful time, when all of a sudden the rabbit, tiring of such amusement (please believe me), jumped and bit Dr. Jack Halton's dog under the neck, then, to do the job up right, kicked poor Major several times, thus ending the morning's exercise."

ONE HIGH SCHOOL A DAY

For Twenty-Eight Years That Has Been the Record This Country Has Made.

In a pamphlet on high schools in this country, issued by the federal bureau of education, it is stated that the total number of these schools in 1917-18 was 13,951. The mailing list of the bureau includes the names of 16,800 high schools. The number of these schools has increased over 452 per cent since 1890. This means that one high school has been established in this country each day in each calendar year since 1890—a high school a day for 28 years.

In 1890 60.8 per cent of the high schools were under public control, but in 1918 the public-controlled high schools were 87 per cent of the whole. The average size of a city high school is 653 students and of a rural school 59 students.

In 1890 only 312 persons in each 1,000 population were enrolled in public high schools. In 1918 the corresponding number was 15.6, or almost five times as great a proportion. California leads in high-school education, with 27 persons out of each 1,000 in the population. Kansas is a close second, with South Carolina at the bottom of the list, with 5.8 persons.

The Yellow World.

It is easy to see why China's imperial color is yellow, writes a correspondent from Yangste river. Her rivers are yellow, her long plains are yellow—especially in a famine year such as this, and as for her seas—the boundaries of her world—so desert-yellow is their color that a string of camels crossing them would look more in keeping than a string of junks. And so one can understand why the very heart of the heart of China, the Imperial city, should lie like a shimmering lake of golden tiles within her lotus-besieged walls. Even against the evidence of her own eyes I cannot believe that the Great Wall is built of solid ordinary stones laid one upon the other. Rather it seems moulded out of the stuff of which the mountains themselves were made, long ago when the world was plastic and empty of all save possibilities. There never was so sinuous a thing as the Great Wall built by men, I think, so sinuous and so aspiring.

Does Away With Long Climb.

Something unusual has been accomplished in the completion of the entrance to the Southwest museum, in Los Angeles. The building is situated on a high hill and until recently it has been necessary for pedestrians to make a long and laborious climb up the hill to reach the main entrance. Now, however, the climb has been obviated by an artistic as well as practical improvement. A tunnel, 224 feet long, was bored into the hill and ended in a large octagonal waiting room, on one side of which is a twelve-passenger electric elevator of the automatic type. The elevator makes a climb of 108 feet, delivering the passenger into the main hall of the museum.

Copper's Value as Alloy.

The use of a small proportion of copper in all iron and steel products exposed to air and moisture is advised by D. M. Huck, metallurgical engineer of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company. The use of 0.15 to 0.25 per cent, in normal open-hearth or Bessemer steel greatly lessens corrosion, but heretofore the use of copper steel has been chiefly confined to sheet metal. It is estimated that the life of the sheet metal is at least doubled by the addition. Copper melts at about 700 degrees F. below the average tapping temperature of the steel, and it diffuses readily through the metal without tendency to separate out afterward.

An ancient law exempting the homes of the working class and public employees from taxation has been revived in Rio de Janeiro in an effort to relieve the housing shortage.

American Gobs as Gondoliers.

American gobs are learning how to become gondoliers, and an American school has for the first time included gondoliering as a regular course. In Venice the Knights of Columbus operate a social service club on the banks of the Grand canal, and in connection with the club the Knights of Columbus maintain a well-equipped school, run on the lines of the Knights of Columbus free night schools in America. French, Italian, Turkish and other languages are taught in the school to the men of the American Mediterranean naval unit, as well as navigation and other technical courses.

Now gondoliering has been added, as the American sailors relish driving themselves and their Venetian friends around the gem of the Adriatic in gondolas. Some of the sailors are becoming expert in handling the picturesque craft, Knights of Columbus Commissioner Edward L. Hearn reports.

Only Natural.

The school principal had been busy all day selecting children from the various classes, to do some special work. She was very tired and also very much pre-occupied when the janitor entered her office. In response to her mechanical nod he began: "Miss M—, that crossing out there is dangerous. If they don't send us a traffic officer some of the children in this school are going to get killed."

She had not really heard his speech, for he was always complaining, so she made no answer. And then he repeated his assertion with some emphasis, adding: "They are going to get killed out there—some of our children."

She had caught the last phrase, and mechanically, after her day of classifying, said: "Then I had better pick out the ones I prefer for that."

And the janitor died.

Goat Disclosed Rich Mine.

A mountain goat recently was responsible for the discovery of what is believed to be one of the most valuable mines in British Columbia, which had been hunted by prospectors for years, after rich float ore had been found. A Finn was hunting mountain goats high above timber line. He had trailed an animal for miles when it came out on a glacier and stood in full view against the sky on a pinnacle of ice. Finn's rifle cracked and the goat fell dead down a steep precipice and rolled several hundred feet. Its body fetched up near the foot of the glacier and when Finn reached it he found it had dislodged a massive rock beneath which the long-searched-for vein lay exposed.

MEMBERS APPOINTED ON NORMAL BOARD

Austin, Texas, April 20.—Miss Margie Neel of Carthage and J. J. Bennett of Stephenville have been appointed members of the Normal Board.

(Signed) R. B. Walthall.

The above telegram was received late Wednesday afternoon, after the Sentinel had gone to press, but the information it contained will make everybody here feel as jubilant today as they would have felt yesterday. And this well-founded jubilation will continue till the normal is built and in operation.

Both these appointees are good friends of the Stephen F. Austin normal, an enterprise for which our people have wrought continuously and energetically since the plan to establish the school in Nacogdoches was first broached. Miss Neel, who was formerly editor of the East Texas Register of Carthage, may be confidently relied upon to use her influence as a member of the board in our behalf. She has fought tirelessly for every scheme favorable to higher education in the state, her paper always championing the cause of the children who must be trained in the schools.

Mr. Bennett, a banker and public spirited citizen of the town where the John Tarlington A. & M. College is located, also is our friend in this matter, and will likewise throw the weight of his influence toward our project.

The appointment of these two members practically assures a speedy development in the plans favorable to the normal. We congratulate the appointees and the people of Nacogdoches.

SPECTACULAR SELF-BAPTISM

Man Jumped From Train Into Trinity River

When the train pulled in from Houston today at noon, it was learned from Conductor Harris that he had been hauling one passenger quite different from the rest on board. This particular passenger, later giving his name as W. G. Sumner, leaped from a car window on the H. E. & W. T. train into the Trinity river as that stream was being crossed. Mr. Harris says that there happened to be a fisherman in a boat near when the man plunged into the water, who effected the rescue, it being found that the would-be suicide was no worse for the dive than a good drenching.

When asked by the conductor why he had decided to flirt with death in that manner, the fellow answered that "we all have to be baptized." As to his religious faith, he stated that he was a Baptist, and he had just read the 6th chapter of John before being immersed.

This is a new and novel experience for Conductor Harris, and hereafter, he may, if he notices a suspicious character on his train, especially one poring over the Bible, close all the windows in the car.—Lufkin News, 22d.

HAYWOOD ESCAPES

Chicago, April 21.—Federal officials today received confidential information that William D. Haywood ("Big Bill"), secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, who was scheduled to begin a sentence at Leavenworth this week, had fled to either Moscow or Riga. United States District Attorney Cline announced that a search had been started for Haywood. Otto Christensen, attorney for Haywood, said he had been informed Haywood sailed from New York about April 1st and landed at Riga on the 15th.

JUDGE IS CRITICIZED

Chicago, April 21.—A Railroad Labor Board decision ruled today that Federal Judge H. H. Hibley of Atlanta, Ga., acted in violation of the spirit and letter of the transportation act in authorizing the receivers for the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad to reduce the wages of employees. The board declared it was powerless to act in the case now, and suggested that the employees, most of whom are striking, hold another conference with the owners, and if an agreement is not reached to return the case to the labor board. The decision stated: "The duty to obey the decision of this board is not any less an obligation on the receivers of a road than on the owners."

NEW WEATHER MAN

Washington, April 22.—President Harding today nominated Charles F. Marvin to be chief of the weather bureau.

MISSISSIPPI SENATOR WHACKS AMBASSADOR

Washington, April 21.—Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, attacked George Harvey, the new American ambassador to Great Britain, today in the senate, declaring Harvey was a vindictive, self-appointed political accident. Harrison charged that the appointment of Harvey by President Harding was "the reward for his efforts" to discredit the Wilson administration.

Senator Harrison said he feared Col. Harvey's arrival in London would cause Great Britain and other nations to believe "he will use whatever influence he may possess and the power of his position in an attempt to destroy the League of Nations." "There is not a renowned statesman in this generation who has not been praised and abused, glorified and maligned, elevated and debased by Harvey."

PREMIERS TO MEET IN SIGNIFICANT CONFERENCE

BOLSHEVIKI BACK OF SINN FEIN MOVE

London, April 22.—Dennis Henry, attorney general of Ireland, replying to a written question by Sir Williams Davidson in the house of commons today here, declared that evidence of connection between the bolshevik government of Russia and the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland had been found. He added that he hoped to place this evidence before the house soon.

BIG INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

District elimination contests now being held over the state under the University of Texas Interscholastic League organization, in preparation for the big annual state meet at Austin on May 5, 6 and 7, offer evidence that many previous records will be broken this year, and that the meet will be an assembly of the best high school athletics in the state. One exceptionally good record lately reported is that of Lawton Thomas of Electra, who in the fourth district meet held at Olney broke the state high school record for the 100-yard dash, making it in ten seconds flat, and took three other first places on the track. District winners already reported to state headquarters are:

In addition to the full track teams sent by the winners of the district meets in the two divisions, all individual winners of first, second and third places in the district meets are eligible for the state meet. More than two thousand out-of-town delegates are expected in Austin for the meet.

ROAD APPROPRIATION LARGELY INCREASED

Judge J. M. Marshall has returned from Austin, where he in company with Mr. Lamar Acker and Representative W. E. Thomason, had been to secure an increase in the appropriation for road work in Nacogdoches county. His mission was crowned with success to the extent that the State Highway Department granted an increase of $65,000, which, added to the $50,000 previously appropriated, gives the sum of $115,000 for Nacogdoches roads. Judge Marshall informs us that the increase came out of the federal road aid fund, which is expended through the State Highway Commission. The appropriation will enable the county to proceed smoothly with its road building plans.

SENATE'S SUPPORT OF ADMINISTRATION POLICY

Washington, April 21.—Expressions of gratification were general today in administration circles over what is regarded as a significant test of senate support of the administration's foreign policies in that body's ratification of the long-pending Colombian treaty Wednesday.

The house is prepared to resume debate on the immigration restriction bill, with the probability of reaching a final vote before adjournment. A safe majority for the measure is predicted.

The Knox peace resolution probably will be the next business in the senate. It will be taken up today in the Foreign Relations committee.

FAILED TO GET LOAN, CUDAHY A SUICIDE

Los Angeles, April 21.—John P. (Jack) Cudahy, son of the international packer of Kansas City and found dead yesterday in his bed room with his head shattered by a shotgun wound, committed suicide after failing to negotiate a $10,000 loan with a Chicago bank, Detective Sergeant McMahan said.

McMahan said Mrs. Cudahy, the widow, told him her husband received a letter Tuesday from an officer of the bank informing him the loan could not be carried unless "vouched for by another member of the Cudahy family." Today, according to McMahan, Cudahy received a telegram from the relative in question, declining to vouch for the loan.

Mrs. Cudahy also said, according to McMahan, that her husband had been despondent for some time. She was the first to reach the room in which the tragedy occurred, after the noise of the shot alarmed the household.

U. S. VIEWS ARE ACCEPTED

Washington, April 23.—Japan and France are understood to have accepted the American principles of distribution of the former German Atlantic and Pacific cable stations at a session of the international communication conference held Thursday.

While the details of the operation of the cable to be allocated have yet to be worked out, the acceptance by Japan and France of the American view is expected to make possible an early agreement.

BRECKENRIDGE AGAIN SUFFERS CONFLAGRATION

Breckenridge, Texas, April 23.—Another block in the heart of the business section was destroyed by fire here early Friday. About 20 frame structures, including four hotels, all filled with guests, were burned at a loss estimated at about $350,000. Although the registers in all the hotels were burned, it is believed all the guests escaped. It was the fifth serious blaze in this oil town recently.

REVOLUTION AGAINST SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Stockholm, April 23.—An organized rebellion against the Russian soviet government is growing with renewed force in the Ukraine, according to a telegram received here today from Petograd. The peasants engaged in the revolt have taken many towns between the Dnieper and the Dniester rivers, where the movement is most pronounced. They are reported to be engaged in operations intended to force the bolsheviki towards the left bank of the Dnieper.

HAD PLENTY OF "KICK"

Leavenworth, Kan., April 23.—While defending Dick Coppersmith in court here Friday on a charge of manufacturing home brew, B. F. Endres picked up a bottle of the alleged brew as he questioned an expert.

"Do you think you know home brew when you see it?" Endres asked. "I think I do," responded the witness.

"Now," the attorney continued, "would you call this—" There was a loud report as the bottle exploded. Flying glass cut the main artery in Endres' right wrist. Another piece broke one of the lenses in the attorney's glasses.

Judge H. J. Wenderff declared a recess and Endres was given first aid treatment.

The defense went into trial with the contention that the beverage did not contain sufficient "kick" to come within the state boundary statute.

Ablene, Texas, April 25.—District Judge Ely today said he had set the case of Albert Rowan, sent here from Dallas county on a charge of venue, for Monday, May 2. He ordered a special venire of 75 men for the case.

NEW ORGANIZATION TO PREPARE FOR WAR

Washington, April 21.—Secretary Weeks today announced the organization of a war staff, headed by General Pershing, to take charge of field operations of the armies of the United States in time of war. "Instant preparation in time of peace for active military operations" was given by the secretary as the duty of the new organization. The new organization will be entirely separate from the office of the chief of staff, Mr. Weeks said, which will continue to direct the assertion of military estimates in peace times. General Pershing will have a staff skeletonized corresponding with that of Chaumont during the World War and which will concern itself entirely with problems of strategy, tactics and war organization.

MEXICAN LIQUOR CAPTURED

Laredo, Texas, April 23.—Customs inspectors and Texas rangers early Friday captured two automobiles near Hiner, 24 miles up the Rio Grande from Laredo, with two men and 350 quarts of tequila. They were held under $1,000 bond Friday pending investigations, and gave San Antonio as their home. Federal authorities said it was one of the boldest attempts at liquor smuggling for some time past and they expected further developments.

OFFERS TO REBUILD DEVASTATED FRANCE

London, April 23.—Germany has sent a note to the British government reiterating her complete willingness to undertake the reconstruction of devastated France.

The note, which came from the German foreign office, was delivered by the German embassy to the British foreign office yesterday afternoon. It follows:

"Germany is absolutely persuaded that it is unavoidably necessary for the purpose of restoring economic peace throughout the world that the territories devastated throughout the war should be reconstructed and restored. Unless this is done there will be feeling of hate which will continue to exist among the nations concerned. Germany, therefore, declares herself once more to be entirely willing to cooperate in this reconstruction with all the means and strength at her disposal, and to take into account in regard thereto every individual case in which the power concerned is responsible as far as possible."

HANGED IN LOUISIANA

Shreveport, La., April 23.—Two white man and a negro were hanged in North Louisiana jails Friday. Early R. Holmes of Barton, Kansas, and John R. Parker of Logansport, La. were executed at Mansfield for the murder of Wilmer Roberts, a service car driver. Gus Bracey, a negro, was hanged at Leesville for attacking a white woman.

Holmes and Parker were put to death simultaneously from the same scaffold. Neither displayed any emotion, nor had a last statement to make. Hugh H. Roberts, father of the slain man, was among seven persons who witnessed the hanging.

Likewise, Bracey did not display any emotion. He exchanged trivial words with officers who led him to the gallows, and thanked them when they adjusted the cap on his head.

GOVERNOR HELPLESS IN ENFORCING LAWS

San Antonio, Texas, April 22.—Governor Neff said today that he had discovered the state had too many officials on its payroll and that they were not all earning their salaries, and the state has too much duplicating and overlapping machinery, in an address at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs here. He mentioned his "law-enforcement program," which he has announced he will submit again at the special session, pointing out that while the governor is charged with enforcing the laws of the state "he stands with but little authority and is practically helpless in the presence of the greatest crime wave of history." He said he also had discovered that the governor possesses no authority to remove inefficient officers, yet he is charged with the efficient administration of state affairs.

PREPARING TO ENFORCE NEW SANITARY LAWS

Austin, Texas, April 22.—The State Health Department is preparing to enforce the restaurant sanitary bill and other health measures passed by the legislature, according to State Health Officer Carrick. The Quinn bill, requiring that waiters and food handlers at public eating houses shall take examinations for infectious and contagious diseases, is receiving the department's attention at present. This bill becomes effective June 10. The department has prepared for an examination for those applicable to the bill to be held before that date. On June 11th representatives of the department will begin examinations of restaurants, cafes, hotels and all public eating houses, dairies, bakeries and meat markets to ascertain if employees can show examination certificates establishing their freedom from such diseases, Dr. Carrick said. He added that he was going to enforce to the limit, and places applicable to it must carry out its provisions.

MEDIATION REQUEST EXCITES RESENTMENT

London, April 23.—Germany has sent Washington a reply to the American note rejecting the role of arbitrator for the reparation question between Germany and the Allies, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin. The terms of the note sent President Harding had not been divulged to the party leaders up to noon today. The contents will not be announced until late today. Leading politicians are declared to have been angry because the members of the cabinet did not consult them before the original communication was sent to Washington.

The reply to the Reparations Commission's demand today, signed by Dr. Von Oertzen for the War Burden's Commission, it was pointed out that the removal of the Reichsbank gold would act as a further depreciation of German exchange, and, furthermore, that the gold reserve was not directly under the control of the Ministry of Finance, but was a private proposition. It was not contended that the transfer would serve as a reparations payment in ex-sulting would cause a general economic weakening of Germany.

POLITICALS TO BE BARRED

Washington, April 22.—By an overwhelming majority the house today rejected the amendment to the immigration restriction bill under which political refugees from a foreign country would have been permitted to enter the United States. The bill passed the house.

HAYWOOD BE CHIEF PROPAGANDA BUREAU

Chicago, April 23.—Federal officials said today they were informed that "Big Bill" Haywood, the I.W.W. chief, who is believed to be in Russia, had gone to that country to become the head of the propaganda bureau of the soviet government.

U. S. REFUSES TO ACT AS MEDIATOR

London, April 22.—The dramatic efforts of Germany to induce the United States to arbitrate the reparations question between Berlin and the Entente governments, and the refusal of the Washington government to sit as a judge on the merits of the vexing problem, have lent new interest to the conference at Lymene next Sunday between Premiers Briand and Lloyd George and the expressed desire of the United States that there may be an "immediate resumption of negotiations" brought a new element into the situation. It had been popularly supposed the two premiers would merely consider plans for further occupation of German territory and not a renewal of exchanges between London, Paris and Berlin.

Germans are Skeptical

Berlin, April 22.—The trend of local newspaper comment today on German's appeal to President Harding for mediation on the reparations question, written in the absence of any information as to what the American reply would be, was skeptical of any good coming from the move.

THINK HAYWOOD MAY BE STILL IN U. S.

Chicago, April 22.—Federal officers announced today that they are requesting an exhaustive examination of the headquarters of radicals in various cities of the country in the belief that "Big Bill" Haywood, I.W.W. chief, reported yesterday to have fled to Russia, is being concealed in this country in connection with alleged plans for May Day demonstrations.

The whiskey is said to have been shipped to Wichita Falls from Vancouver, British Columbia.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 2. Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this state one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which such person offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before offering to vote at any election in this state and hold was paid before the first day of February next preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he or she, as the case may be, shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths that such tax receipt has been lost. And all those opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, "Against the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this state, and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive receipt therefor, and permitting the legislature to authorize absentee voting."

HARDLY EVER FELT FIT, SAYS THOMAS

After Suffering 21 years Tanlac Puts Him in Splendid Health—Gains 18 Pounds

"Thanks to Tanlac, I am now in splendid health after twenty-one years of suffering and am eighteen pounds heavier than I ever was before," declared John W. Thomas, the well-known proprietor of Thomas' Meat Market and Grocery Store, located on Chestnut Street, Fort Gibson, Okla.

"If ever a man went through the rubbers, I did," said Mr. Thomas. "After a meal I would hardly get up from the table before my food was sour, I bloated up with gas and began to feel miserable. My nerves were shattered and I would roll and toss all through the night and got up with a sick stomach and a tired, worn out feeling. I had no appetite to speak of, and fell off in weight until I was almost a living skeleton and hardly fit for anything. No medicine I could find seemed to reach my troubles, and my condition went from bad to worse until I became seriously alarmed.

"Last year I started on Tanlac, and before I had finished the first bottle my appetite picked up and I began to take on new life and energy. I kept right on with Tanlac and now I am like a man made over. My appetite has come back in full force and what I eat agrees with me just fine. My friends all say they never saw anything to equal the way I have recovered my health. It's all due to Tanlac, and I will verify this statement personally to anyone who doubts it."

Tanlac is sold in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Company and Swift Bros. & Smith and in Garrison by the Dale Drug Company and all leading druggists.

SAPIRO AT TYLER

Aaron Sapiro, attorney for 14 commodity marketing associations in California and the most widely known marketing expert in the United States will speak at Tyler on Wednesday, May 4th at 1 p. m.

The subject of his address will be the Texas Cotton Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association. This organization is being promoted by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. The organization committee consists of 18 outstanding successful business men, professional men and farmers of Texas. Among these are John T. Orr of Dallas; S. A. Lindsey of Houston; Ed C. Lassater of Fairburn; J. B. Fortson of Rice; Joseph Hirsch of Corpus Christi; Dr. W. B. Bizzell of A. & M. College and twelve others of like standing and ability. The best business thought in Texas is embodied in this place. It is the most gigantic undertaking ever attempted by any group of producers.

Is the undertaking a sound business venture? If so, and it succeeds, will it be for the best interest of the South? Do we want to co-operate in such an enterprise?

To enable us to answer some or all of the above questions intelligently, we are organizing a group of business men and farmers to go to Tyler to hear Mr. Sapiro speak. The group will be headed by the board of directors of the County Farm Bureau.

Pres. N. T. Sisco will go, and will carry three others in his car. T. J. Maroney will have room for three in his car. B. K. King of Douglass will carry three in his car. W. B. Wortham writes me that he and Frank Garrison and Belton Lattimore will go from Garrison. Judge S. W. Blount has promised to go. L. L. Sturdevant will go in his car. Sam Stripling, Frank Sharpe, and W. F. Gintz each have agreed to go. Jim Thomas will go. M. V. Wynne or Jesse Millard will go to represent the Nacogdoches State Bank. Tom Summers will represent the Summers Lumber Company. S. B. Hayter will go or send a representative. Other firms will be represented as will other communities over the county. It is our purpose to have not less than forty men to make the trip. These men will represent every interest and every group of our citizenship.

Please communicate with me, by letter or by phone, stating definitely whether or not you will make the trip, and if so, whether you can furnish a car, and how many your car will carry.

Don't wait to be urged or "invited" to make the trip. Hear Sapiro!
H. L. McKnight.

STORM WREAKS DAMAGE

The storm of Tuesday night did considerable damage in the territory about six miles east of town, reports of which have just begun to trickle in.

Damage to timber is said to have been immense. Mr. Bob Smith reports about 200 trees blown down on his farm, and other places suffered as severely.

A barn on Mr. Frank Sisco's place was demolished. Mr. Frank Power suffered a like misfortune, in addition to which his auto top was smashed.

No personal injuries have been reported.

The storm was in the nature of a strong gale instead of a twister, else the damage might have been heavier.

After a long winter the system becomes filled with impurities caused by dry, strong winds. In hot weather these impurities cause sickness. Get Prickly Ash Bitters. It is the remedy that purifies the blood, liver and bowels and putting the body in shape for summer work. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Stripling, Haselwood & Co. Special Agents. pa

Being grandpa is getting to be a sort of habit with our friend, Joe Wolseifer. Yesterday, as noted in these columns, a son was born to his daughter, Mrs. Geldmier, at Appleby. Tuesday morning he received intelligence of the appearance of a fine boy at the home of another daughter, Mrs. C. E. Hanks, at Peason, La. Few men can boast of being a grandire two separate times in 24 hours. And Joe is putting on lots of "lugs" about it, too.

CLARENCE OUSLEY COMING

On Monday, May 2, at 2 p. m. Col. Clarence Ousley, representing the A. & M. College Extension Service and the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will address our farmers and business men at the district court room.

The subject of Colonel Ousley's address will be the marketing of cotton under the Farm Bureau plan. Briefly stated, the plan proposes a gigantic five-year pooling plan for not less than one million bales of cotton annually. The plan is based on what has come to be known as the "Commodity Plan" of selling farm products. This plan has been in successful use in California for more than 10 years.

Colonel Ousley is one of the best known cotton men in the South, and easily ranks among the ablest public speakers in Texas.

We urge our farmers to attend this meeting. It will be well worth your time and trouble.

There can be no successful farming where produce sells for less than cost of production. Lend your assistance in formulating a better marketing system by attending this meeting.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Has called a pastor, Bro. W. G. Higgins of the First Church of Belton, Texas. He will begin his work here the first Sunday in May. Bro. Higgins is a powerful preacher and a devout Christian. He and his wife come to Nacogdoches well recommended.

There will be the regular service next Sunday, Sunday-school at 9:45 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m. There will be no night service on account of the protracted meeting at the First Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Messrs. L. S. McDuffie, W. C. Lee and Carl May of Garrison were business visitors in the city Monday.

LADIES' REST ROOM

The long-talked-of ladies' rest room is now an established fact. The room was opened at the courthouse Saturday, and more than 20 visitors availed themselves of its comforts and conveniences. The room presents a very attractive appearance, inasmuch as it is very neat. It is equipped with chairs, small beds for the use of babies and children, and other conveniences will be added as time goes by.

One of the members of the rest room committee Monday said the rest room would present a very much more convenient appearance if some of the Nacogdoches merchants would furnish magazines and books for the mothers who go to the room to rest. This lady also suggested that the ice company should furnish ice daily for the room free of charge. She said she wanted the Nacogdoches women impressed with the fact that one lady's presence would be required once a month, or once every two months, according to the number of women who belong to the rest room organization.

Among the other things needed, it was pointed out, are some good pictures—strictly good pictures—probably a cradle, and little minor things which will be advertised for as they are required.

The Nacogdoches women want all the country women to know about the new room, and want them to take advantage of the opportunities it affords. The room is located in the court house, on the second floor, and is marked by a sign which tells its name.

To cleanse the blood, strengthen the kidneys and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, Prickly Ash Bitters is a remedy that has proved its worth. It promotes activity in body and brain. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Stripling, Haselwood & Co. Special Agents. pa
