Administration Building, S. F. Austin Teachers' College.

A. W. BIRDWELL
 President Stephen F. Austin Teachers' College

THE COLLEGE

The Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College is going to open on September 18, 1923. With the dash of youth it is going to set up shop and start the process of education. The Board of Regents has decreed that it shall be so. The president of the college has been on the job a year. His task has been multifarious, but he has had twenty-four hours a day in which to accomplish it. There are, it is true, many obstacles in the way, but the obstacles are now fewer than they once were. There has been assembled a faculty of men and women in the prime of life. It is a fighting faculty, and they are on the field looking for trouble. Furthermore, while the college building is being completed, temporary accommodations for classes are to be had on the high school grounds. Books and equipment are here, and still coming. Stated simply the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College has an organization, a president and a faculty; it has a place to operate; it has equipment; and it is going to have a student body. Nacogdoches is ready to go. In other words, the college is going to open on September 18, 1923.

Now that we have the college started with something resembling a bang, it is well to explain what the institution has to offer. In accordance with the general plan of Texas colleges for teachers, this college will offer course groups designed to prepare the student for teaching in the primary grades, the grammar grades, the high school, the rural school; and students will be given courses in accordance with their plans as teachers. On the whole, the college is prepared to take care of those who can qualify for work of tenth and eleventh grade and of college rank. The conditions of entrance to the various classes are uniform for all the colleges for teachers.

The college invites students who are high-minded ladies and gentlemen. It desires to help them in every wholesome way in securing an education and in preparing themselves for service in the social world. It has a frank and open aversion for improprieties. It has a sympathetic interest in all good work and effort. Students who enter the Stephen F. Austin Teachers' College this year have an opportunity that no other body of its students will ever have. The traditions of the college are largely in their hands. What they accomplish in the way of constructive organizations, varied student activities, will set the precedent for the years to come. This opportunity and responsibility will challenge the best thought, the firmest courage, the noblest sentiment of the student body, the faculty, and the community.

To the end that students may go away better fit physically for the work of the world, the college will encourage wholesome athletics—football, baseball, tennis, track, and the rest. It is not laboring under the delusion that for the first year or two it will rank with established colleges in athletics, but its ultimate aim is supremacy in its classes. Competent coaches and physical directors for both men and women are here, and the material equipment will be provided as fast as possible.

Nacogdoches is noted for her hospitable citizenship. Nacogdoches will do what it can to provide comfortable living quarters for college students. The expenses of matriculation, and so on—the student will pay to the college a total of $12.00 per quarter—are the same for all the Texas colleges for teachers. Expenses of board and incidentals will not exceed those in the average college town.

The Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College is a full-grown organization. It will be seasoned with age and experience, but it today has a man's task and responsibility. It came into being by the same process as its sister institutions in the state of Texas—by legislative action. It has its destined field of service. It has its mission to fulfill. So far as it is given vision and wisdom, it will start right, for it has a long way to go. The machinery is set. A few more days, and it will be put in motion. Let every responsible person put his shoulder to the wheel.

WHY RENTS ARE HIGHER

Houston Post.

Discussing the question of rents, the Galveston News declares that "too great a proportion of the average person's income goes for a place to live."

There was a time when the always interesting actuaries, who tell earners how to parcel out their money for the necessities and incidents of living, estimated 20 percent of the family income as a fair allotment for rent.

The toll of the landlord now, however, is not determined by one's income, but rather by some new and inexorable conditions which are not pointing in the direction of cheaper rents.

The tenant of the cities is not apt to consider himself a taxpayer, but that is just exactly what he is, and he is the very person that taxation hits hardest.

When assessments are increased to the landlord, he proceeds immediately to pass it on to the tenant.

When the landlord settles with the tax collector, he pays from the rent he has received from his tenant.

When the tenant goes to the polls and votes for bond issues, he need not think he is passing the buck to somebody else. He might as well say with his ballot: "This bond issue for which I vote means additional taxes on the home that I am renting and I will have to pay it." For that is exactly what he will have to do.

Taxes on business property are included in the rents, and then the shopkeeper must include them in his costs of doing business and pass them on to his customers.

Every home or apartment tenant pays the taxes on the property that he inhabits.

Rents have increased because taxes have risen to levels never reached before, and when higher taxes are assessed upon property the tenant must pay or vacate, regardless of what percentage of his income they may be.

Then another cause of high rents is the unprecedented cost of building. Mechanics' wages ranging from $10 to $15 a day make the cost of building much higher than formerly. That means that the house involves a much greater investment of the owner's capital. Therefore, when he fixes the rental, he counts the investment in the house upon which he must receive a reasonable return, plus taxes, repairs, insurance, etc.

As a rule, landlords are not earning half the net returns from their investments in property that people think they do. The rent seems high, but the government is steadily increasing its demand upon the owner, and the owner must increase his exaction of the tenant or have the property sold for taxes.

The only relief for the tenant is to build his own home, else scrutinize more carefully all proposed bond issues, and to make himself heard when choosing public servants who are invested with the authority to assess and collect taxes.

Keep in mind: The tenant pays the taxes on the home he inhabits; the customer pays the taxes on the store at which he trades. Both tenant and customer are paying the wages prevalent in the building trades.

There are some people who do not class tenants among the real taxpayers, but the home tenants are the real taxpayers, so far as the homes they inhabit are concerned. Their landlords are merely deputy tax collectors for the State, county, city, school district and navigation district.

OPERA IN GEORGIA

Shreveport Journal.

It is difficult to see just what Georgia expects to gain by voting a heavy tax on all opera companies appearing within its borders. Its house of representatives has lately passed an amendment to the tax act, providing that opera companies appearing in all cities of over 100,000 population shall be taxed $2,500 per contract, and in cities of less size, $1,000 per contract. The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York gives a short season yearly in Atlanta, and a tax of this nature, voted two years ago, had to be paid by its guarantors.

Smaller companies, heard with delight in other states, will doubtless find themselves marching through Georgia without pause, as they are seldom fortunate enough to have wealthy guarantors. As a means of securing money for the state, this source would not seem to be very fruitful; but as a method of discouraging the enjoyment of opera at present and the development in that direction in the future, the tax may be only too effective.

THE CHALLENGE OF SUFFERING

Houston Chronicle.

Across the sea there are great cities in ruins, with thousands of dead and millions in distress.

What matters it if the people are small and brown, or speak a different language?

Had it occurred on our coasts, and the day may come when it will, the result would have been the same.

Nature is ruthlessly democratic in her attitude. She makes no distinction among the races, the creeds, the nations.

When she snaps her fingers we humans die like rats, whether white or black, Christian or Pagan, in the East or the West.

What man can live longer than another beneath the water, or when great buildings come crashing over his head?

In Pompeii, in St. Pierre, in Lisbon and in Tokio, it is the same sad story.

We are brothers when it comes to battling for existence, and the battle for existence is quite enough.

To win a victory over the ruthless, death-dealing processes of nature is a triumph, indeed, a greater triumph and more worth while than any man can win over men.

To have crushed the smallpox is by far a more splendid achievement than any victorious army ever attained.

To make the world safe for natural, normal life, is by far the most splendid ideal.

To guard children against the ravages of disease and grown people against the caprices of a whimsical heaven and a still more whimsical earth, is the most noble purpose we can serve.

It is a purpose that will eliminate much of our quarreling and fighting over unimportant differences, that will draw us closer together, that will make us understand how much bigger humanity is than any of our divisions.

Let the fleets of iron and steel be on their way. Let them belch smoke and crowd their engines as in time of war. Let the people give to save their fellowman as liberally as they have given to slay them. Let there be no more hoarding of personal possessions in this mission of peace than there was in the mission of war.

If we cannot sacrifice a little to save and assist Japan in her hour of misery, what has it profited us to sacrifice so much for the crushing of Germany in her hour of pride?

This terrible disaster comes to the world as a direct challenge. It presents an opportunity for the world to show how much it is ready to do for that humanity it claimed to be fighting for on the battlefields of France.

We were willing to go without sugar to reach Berlin. Are we willing to go without less to reach Tokio?

Our ideals, our aims, our principles are on trial, not before the tribunals of men, but before the tribunals of God. We have demonstrated that we were willing to undergo what we were willing to undertake in the interest of death and destruction. Now the clock strikes the hour for us to show what we are willing to undertake in the interest of life and replacement.

We went far to salvage the race with shot and shell, with bloodshed and strife. Are we willing to go half as far, or even one-tenth as far, to salvage it with wheat, and beef, and building material?

Mussolini is proving how quickly, how forcefully, how expensively one government is ready to strike to avenge the death of five human beings. It is the privilege of the United States to prove how quickly, how helpfully, how generously another government can act to save the lives of as many hundreds of thousands human beings.

RELIEF FOR JAPAN

Have you made your contribution for the relief of stricken Japan? Nacogdoches has been asked by headquarters to contribute at least three hundred dollars. The money is needed at once. A dollar now will be worth more than two later on. This may also be an opportunity to help dispel the growing friction between our country and Japan. Nacogdoches should be especially interested in this disaster because of some of our local people being located within the stricken district. Hand your contribution to Mr. Culberson Denman at once that it may be forwarded each day and thus afford that much immediate relief to the suffering people.

A NEW ANGLE

During the recent campaign and election of Mangus Johnson as United States Senator in Minnesota, the public gained the impression that he is a radical. But Magnus Johnson is undoubtedly a different type of a man than that professional politician of the accepted radical type.

He is a hard worker, has raised a large family and his wife and children are his assistants in running the farm. A man who owns land, farms it himself, earns his money from the soil and wears real working clothes covered with dirt and grease accumulated during manly toil, must have good stuff in him.

Whether Johnson is a "destructive radical" remains to be seen. A "constructive" radical can exercise a far wider influence than a "hard-boiled conservative."

A New York paper recently contained the following article. If quotation is correct, Johnson has sounded a wise keynote and shown himself a student above the average:

Albert Lea, Minn., Aug. 4.—More charity between man and man and teaching of more consideration in schools, coupled with a "greater love" in churches, is the means which will equip the United States to withstand the onslaughts of radicalism, Senator-elect Magnus Johnson told celebrants at Freenborn county community picnic here today.

Mr. Johnson paid a tribute to the dead president before discussing economic problems. Good-fellowship and service among business and professional men and the farmer was the keynote of his talk.

"The press of the country has wronged me," said Mr. Johnson. "The papers say I am profane—I am rough and care naught for books. This is untrue. I have access to a wonderful library. I love books. I have read until my eyes are greatly impaired."

"I am sorry that the papers of the country, by their untruthful propaganda, are causing the people to lose confidence in what they have to say. The press should be truthful. The people are entitled to know the truth."

"If this country is to prosper and withstand the onslaughts of radicalism we must show more love in the churches, teach more consideration in our schools and show more charity between man and man."

IN AID OF DISABLED WOMEN VETERANS.

Houston Post. The war has been over nearly five years, but the doors of the national home for disabled volunteers, are just now being opened to women who served overseas, and who are entitled to benefits of the home by act of congress.

In view of the manifest duty of the government to provide for the disabled veterans in the women's activities connected with the army, the delay in extending the benefits to the women is inexcusable. Now that provision has at last been made prompt aid should be given to those in need.

The country has heard much about the failure to care adequately for the incapacitated soldiers, but little or nothing about the failure to provide for the incapacitated women who served with the troops. A discrimination has been made here which should long ago have been removed, and which should not be repeated.

The women surely played a very necessary part in the late war. In no previous war were they ever so active. Many of them served so near the front as to be in almost as much danger as the combatant forces. Their service as nurses and in other lines was indispensable. They not only permitted the release of men from such tasks for fighting, but they performed certain tasks better than men could have performed them.

Many of the women who went to the front in various branches of the service were essentially a part of the army, and the country is morally as much obligated to care for those women who suffered injury or contracted ailments from which they since suffered, as to care for the disabled soldiers who did the actual fighting.

The George Washington Masonic National Memorial to be erected at Alexandria, Va., will be the national shrine of all American Masons. The cornerstone of this imposing edifice, to cost $4,000,000, will be laid with impressive ceremonies on Thursday, November 1, 1923, amid the gathering of the largest number of Masons ever assembled at any one place. There are now 17,000 Blue Lodges in the United States and 3,000,000 members of the ancient order.—Ex.

It may be no crime to hold membership in the I. W. W., as a Western attorney contends, but it certainly is good ground for suspicion.

Italy is jealous of her dignity but a bit less speed in asserting it might be safer.

"IT'S YOUR FAIR—SO BE THERE"

WE CAN STAND THIS IF THE DOCTORS CAN

A school boy was required to write a composition, and given the subject: "The Editor and the Doctor." This is what he wrote:

"I don't know how come newspapers to be in the world, and I don't think God does, for he ain't got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the Editor is the missing link we read of, and stayed in the bushes after the flood and then came out and wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. If the editor makes mistakes he publishes them; but if the doctor makes any mistakes he buries them and they dissant say nothing, because doctors can read and write Latin. When the editor makes mistakes there is law suits and swearing and a big fuss, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anyone else knowing what it means, but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he charges the man for the visit, but if the editor should go he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make a doctor to order, but an editor has to be born."

TO HOLD A HUSBAND

Advice to a young girl about to get married as delivered by a member of the British nobility to a maiden of New York's Four Hundred in 1889 forms part of an interesting and intimate description of New York society by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman that is being printed serially in The Century Magazine.

In the October issue Mrs. Harriman tells of the advice of Sir Arthur Earle to her just before her marriage. "Sir Arthur," she writes, "was always full of advice, which he prefaced with, 'I being in the autumn of life and you in the spring, I venture—' 'One crumb of his advice deserves to be passed on. When by engagement to be married was announced, he said, 'I give you one recipe, my girl, for a happy life with your husband. Mutual consideration and a good cook.' 'My father's advice,' she continues, "was more worldly. He took me to lunch at Delmonico's and admonished me, 'If you want to hold your husband never nag him. And never ask him questions. Because if he wants you to know, he will tell you. And if he does not, perhaps he will lie.'"

Mrs. Harriman reports that she tried to follow the advice.

BLIND MASONS

From the antipodes comes the story of the raising to the Master Mason degree of William Alexander Blackett, late of the A. E. F., who was blinded by a German bomb at Ypres in 1916. The ceremony took place in Empire Lodge, No. 37, Tasmania Constitution.

A few years ago W. W. Drake of the Masonic Lodge of Killen, Texas, while acting as Master of his lodge, was stricken blind. He continued in the full discharge of his duties, however, repeatedly in a most efficient and impressive manner. He was several times re-elected Master of the lodge.—Ex.

With Cal Coolidge in the White House, there probably can be expected a movement to make the doughnut the national flower.

NOTHING LIKE IT ON EARTH

The new treatment for torn flesh, cuts, wounds, sores or lacerations that is doing such wonderful work in flesh healing is the Borozone liquid and powder combination treatment. The liquid Borozone is a powerful antiseptic that purifies the wound of all poisons and infectious germs, while the Borozone powder is the great healer. There is nothing like it on earth for speed, safety and efficiency. Price (liquid) 30c, 60c and $1.20. Powder 30c and 60c. Sold by SWIFT BROS. & SMITH

DOVE SEASON NOT OPEN UNTIL NOVEMBER FIRST

Many are of the opinion that the open season for doves starts with the first of September. This is an error with respect to this section of the state and county. The zone embracing this county states that the open season for shooting doves is from November 1 to December 15. In some sections of the State, Dallas county, for instance, or any part north of the I. & G. N. Railway, the season does not open September 1. The Champion prints this information for the general public and the information is authentic. These regulations are both a state and federal law. The game wardens of both governments state that they will enforce the law.—Center Champion.

A fact not generally known is that there is a closed season for squirrels in Nacogdoches county. This closed season extends from January 1 to August 1. It is a violation of the law to kill squirrels in this county between these dates.

SOMETHING WRONG

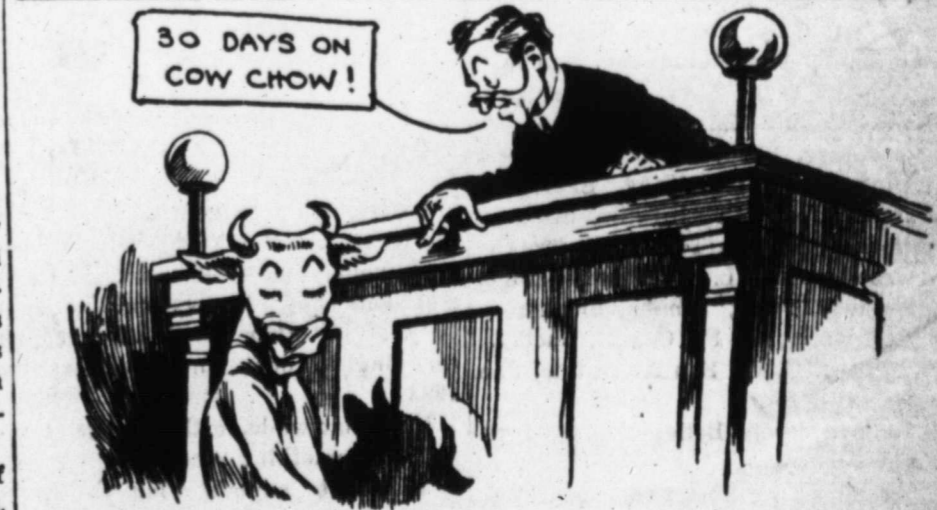

Marshall News.

The assessed values of Texas are a little more than $3,000,000,000, the tax rate is 75 cents or a limit under the constitution. Yet Texas can't meet her obligations. Her warrants are being hawked about in the broker shops and each creditor's necessities are determining how much discount will be accepted.

We used to run the state—only a few years ago at that—with a tax rate as low as 12 cents with a much lower assessed valuation than now. And we got along all right, the state functioned, the schools run more months than now and the state warrants were good at any bank in Texas.

There is something wrong as sure as shooting.

Yesterday a traffic cop purchased a sack of popcorn, according to a story told The News. While the officer was busy eating the popcorn, somebody drove wrong—violated the city traffic laws. The party is said to have gotten away due to the inability of the cop to blow his whistle. The popcorn was eaten by the cop but the escaping traffic violator did not have the law popped to him, it seems.—Lufkin News, 6th.

"Thirty Days on Cow Chow"

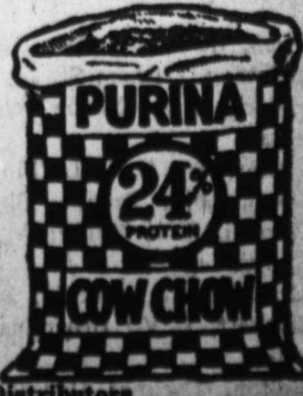

Is the verdict of the judge when a cow has been guilty of losing money during the summer months.

"Thirty days on Cow Chow" will be the Third Degree as to whether it will pay to keep or sell a cow.

If she can't make you a good profit on Cow Chow she can't make it on any ration.

Every pound of Cow Chow fed a good dairy cow will make her produce about three pounds more milk per day on grass—up to normal production.

Cow Chow lowers the per gallon cost of producing milk on pasture. And you can get more milk from fewer cows now. You will get more milk next winter. Don't lose winter profits by under production on pasture. Order today and start to putting the proof right in the milk pail. GOLDSBERRY BROS., Distributors

THE STATE EXPOSITION

Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—The plan of Travis county in assembling a county agricultural exhibit, which will be shown at both the Texas State Exposition at Austin and the State Fair at Dallas, by selecting the best articles from various community exhibits in the county is recommended by State Commissioner of Agriculture George B. Terrell. The nine communities in Travis county plan on holding community exhibits shortly before the opening day of the Texas State Exposition, here, October 1, and the best articles on display will be selected and grouped into a county exhibit at Austin. This exhibit will be sent to the State Fair and officials of the local fair hope to secure a portion of the prize money offered at the State Fair. "I believe that all of the counties in Central Texas should have enough pride and be willing to show enough co-operation to select a county agricultural exhibit and bring it to the fair at Austin," Mr. Terrell said. "Further, it will be an advantage to the county from which the exhibit is sent as it will advertise that county to Travis county, to the capital city of Austin and to the other counties in Central Texas. Such work also would have a good influence in causing these counties, and particularly the communities in the counties, to take an active interest in securing the best of all articles. "I hope that every county in Central Texas will have a county exhibit here, and that the best of these will be shown at the State Fair at Dallas."

IRELAND JOINS LEAGUE

Geneva, Sept. 10.—Ireland was unanimously elected to membership in the League of Nations by the assembly today.

MEXICAN RECOGNITION

Washington, Sept. 8.—Two conventions between the United States and Mexico, providing machinery for the settlement of pending claims between the two countries and their nationals, were signed today at the State Department. The signatures affixed to the conventions on behalf of the United States were those of Secretary Hughes, Charles Warren and John Barton Payne. Charge Tellez of the Mexican embassy signed for Mexico.

GINNING REPORT

Washington, Sept. 8.—Cotton ginned prior to September 1 amounted to 1,141,337 running bales, including 51,797 round bales counted as half bales. In Texas 1,088,072 bales had been ginned.

OPENING OF NACOGDOCHES PUBLIC SCHOOLS, 1923-24 TERM

The Nacogdoches Public Schools open Monday, September 10, 1923. The first week will be devoted to institute work and the organization of the students preparatory for real class-room duties which begin in earnest Monday, September 17. Heretofore two or three days at the beginning of the term has been devoted to organization, but this will be done during institute week this year. This will prevent our hindering the organization of the college classes which are to be taught on the high school campus. Children who will be in the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th or 6th grades will meet at the respective buildings Friday afternoon, September 14th, at 2 o'clock, where they will be classified and instructed as to what they will need in order to be ready for school Monday, September 17. Remember, this Friday afternoon meeting is not for high school or 7th grade students, but for those in the grades named above. It is desired that the parents or guardians of all children who will attend Nacogdoches schools this year will make it possible for the children to attend these meetings, for by so doing you will aid both the teachers of the public schools and the new college in preparation of the schedule and selecting studies for the term. The prospects for a successful year in the Nacogdoches schools are all that we may desire. We will be aided greatly by members of the college faculty, and other conditions are just right. The first day of the term should find every high school student in school ready to get an even start with his classmates. Many failures are due to getting a late start and being unable to catch up with the class. This is true especially in the high school. The importance of being with the class the FIRST DAY cannot be stressed too much. Visits and suggestions by patrons are always welcome. We may not be able to adopt all suggestions, but many may be and much good may result. By catching step with the new college, we hope to accomplish much, in an educational way, in our fine community this year. R. F. DAVIS, Superintendent. Following is a list of the teachers engaged for Nacogdoches Independent School District for the 1923-24 term: List of Teachers Mrs. W. E. Thomason, Mrs. R. H. Blackwell, Miss Allene Callaway, J. F. Bailey, Mrs. Hattie Parsons, Miss Mary Elkins, Miss Sallie Mae Mettauer, Miss Loraine Bass, Miss Thelma Herrington, Miss Octavia Wharton, Mrs. Cates Burrows, H. H. Hall, Miss Bernice Birdwell, Mrs. Eugene M. Newton, Miss Blanche Brown, Mrs. Ina Eddings, Miss Ruth Fouts, Miss Joy Turner, F. A. Beall, W. W. ST. L.-S. W. OFFICIALS KILLED IN DERAILMENT

Texarkana, Texas, Sept. 8.—A. E. McGraw, vice president and general superintendent of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway, and six other officials and employees of the road are in a hospital here today suffering from injuries, and two others, D. W. Bowker, superintendent of the northern division of the railway, and W. O. Sublett, roadmaster, are dead as the result of the derailment of an inspection car near Plaindealing, La., yesterday. In addition to McGraw, the injured include W. S. Handley, chief engineer, Tyler; C. B. Pettigrew, division engineer, Pine Bluff; John Post, motorman, Tyler; J. H. Peterson, pilot engineer, Tyler; and W. O. Montgomery.

WOMAN BURGLAR MAKES CHOICE OF WRONG ROOM

Corsicana, Texas, Sept. 10.—A well dressed young woman selected the wrong room to rob Sunday morning when she entered the room of Deputy Sheriff E. W. Warnell and started a systematic search of the officer's trousers, which were near his bed. The officer awoke. The stranger attempted to escape but the officer quickly had her handcuffed to the bed post, and a little later had her lodged in the county jail, facing a charge of burglary. The captive said she arrived from Waco Sunday morning.

WATCHMAN DROPS DEAD WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Hammond, Ind., Sept. 8.—William Wiggins, crossing watchman at Whiting, near here, dropped dead Thursday when a train struck an automobile at the crossing he tended, killing the driver of the machine. John Rosetar, Whiting park commissioner, the man killed, is said to have disregarded the watchman's warning, and the latter, after witnessing the crash, fell dead.

COTTON MARKET STRONG

New Orleans, Sept. 10.—The cotton market showed as much strength as ever today after an easy opening. All months in the contract market went to new high levels for the season. October rose almost 100 points, or $5 per bale, from the early low, first trading off to 26.80 cents per pound, then advancing to 27.75 cents. A private crop estimate of only 10,250,000 bales, including linters, was responsible for much of the buying.

60,000 BODIES RECOVERED IN JAPANESE DISASTER

Tokio, Sept. 10.—Sixty thousand bodies have been recovered in Tokio and Yokohama up to and including today, and police estimate that 500,000 persons have been treated for wounds and sickness as the result of the earthquake.

GEN. PERSHING IS RIGHT

General Pershing expressed a cardinal principle of American thought when he told the students at Camp Custer that the American army must always be one of defense and not of aggression. He said militarism could not grow in a land with an insignificant army and the backbone of its defense consisting of trained civilians. No man is less likely to become a militarist than the civilian who is thrust suddenly into the routine of a military camp. He may agree heartily that the training is a good thing, that the mental and physical invigoration is valuable, and that the camp occupies an important place in national life. But as he sinks his individual freedom and becomes a unit in a marching squad, he must, against his will, begin to dislike the discipline he knows is necessary. General Pershing knows a citizen soldier is efficient for purposes of defense when emergency arises. But he knows, too, that citizens who have learned soldiering will never be sufficiently enamored of the business to make the military profession a menace.

COTTON PRICE JUMPS

New York, Sept. 8.—Cotton jumped $4.50 a bale in the local market today, October selling up to 27.90. This was an advance of more than $30 a bale from the low price reached on the reaction last Tuesday. Prices for all deliveries made new high records for the season. PASSENGERS, CREW SAVED San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 10.—Captain Holland and all passengers and members of the crew of the Pacific Mail liner Cuba, wrecked Saturday, are safe and have been landed at Wilmington, according to word received at the office of the company here today.

DOES HIGHER EDUCATION PAY?

David Crockett wrote his now famous autobiography in 1834. In his preface he says, "I don't know of anything in my book to be criticised on by honourable men. Is it my spelling? That's not my trade. Is it on my grammar? I hadn't time to learn it, and make no pretensions to it. Is it on the order and arrangement of my book I never wrote one before, and never read very many; and, of course, know mighty little about that. Will it be on the authorship of the book? This I claim, and I'll hang onto it, like a wax plaster. I have had it hastily run over by a friend or so, and some little alterations have been made in the spelling and grammar; and I am not so sure that it is not the worse of even that, for I despise this way of spelling contrary to nature. And as for grammar, it's pretty much a thing of nothing at last, after all the fuss that's made about it." Though the point of discussion here is that of book writing, the reader knows that the immortal Crockett was tersely defiant of education. Crockett was a howling success. David Crockett went from Tennessee to Massachusetts by wagon and on foot. We don't do that now. Crockett spent the better part of his life hunting bears, driving back the Indians, and fighting for Texas independence. We can't do that now. Crockett canvassed for votes with a twist of tobacco in one pocket and a bottle of liquor in the other. We don't do that now. Crockett ignored an education. Can we afford to do that now?

One of the presidents of the United States, Johnson, perhaps, did not know his letters until his wife taught them to him. Abraham Lincoln is said to have had a meager education, having read what he could in youth by the light of an open fire. It is a simple matter to point back to these men and say, "Here are men who were eminently successful, but who had no education to speak of." In fact, we can point to many great men who have become great without an education, but most of them lived in unwholesome times. There are hundreds of living men who say that they are successful and uneducated. I know one man who with complacent self-assurance boasts of the personal discovery that the earth is flat. The world is about half full of self-made men, and most of them worship their maker. In other words, without pursuing the thought, the simplest way for one to be contented and happy, and therefore successful, is to argue himself into believing that he is so already. That is the policy of letting well enough alone. It is the policy that the Chinese are said to have followed successfully for four thousand years, or more.

All sorts of figures have been compiled to prove that an education pays in dollars and cents. Everybody feels reasonably sure that it pays. We do not need to be told; we merely need to be reminded. But it should not be the dollar-and-cents idea to concern us first. If that were the first concern, then an education, especially a higher education, would not pay. It costs too much. If an education were worth nothing but money, a man with money could buy his education and have it delivered by the drayman. But he cannot do that, and luckily; for thus education would be cheapened. An education of the first class, no matter what provision we make for it, is after all for the elect—men and women who have much intellect, energy and aspiration. They must have the intellect to master the work; they must have energy to bear up under persistent effort; they must have aspiration to enjoy the thing itself.

For the general, as Shakespeare would say, an education means capacity for living. It means expansion, properly pursued. For professional men and women of today, and even more surely of tomorrow, education means more than capacity for living. It means opportunity to get on in the world. Educated men and women stand at the top in all the professions—in law, medicine, teaching, and so on. And they are rapidly taking the lead in industry. These are facts which need no figures for proof. Everybody can see it for himself. For the profession of teaching, specifically, a college education is the first, and therefore the most immediate, need. There is no future to speak of for the teacher who does not have a college degree—the higher the better. If these be facts, let him who can deny them. The youth of the land should be urged to go to school. The slogan of those who wish to get on in the professions and become leaders of men must be. Go to college.

Speaking of pouring oil on troubled waters, it is generally supposed that the most of that poured on the "Red" was by the "Black" and the "White"...

FISH AND GAME LAWS

It is unlawful to sell fish in any county of the state without first procuring a license to do so and then paying a tax on all fish sold.

It is unlawful to take from the public fresh waters in the state white perch under 7 inches in length and bass under 11 inches.

Fish traps are unlawful. Nets and seines with mesh under three inches prohibited. Wire nets and seines of any character are unlawful.

The catching, taking or killing of fish in any of the salt or fresh waters, lakes or streams of the state by poison, lime, dynamite, nitroglycerine, giant powder or any other explosive or by the use of any drugs, substances or thing deleterious to fish life, is prohibited and punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200, and by confinement in the county jail not less than 30 nor more than 90 days.

Open season on Doves Nov. 1st to Dec. 15; bag limit 15 per day. Open season on quail December and January; bag limit 15 per day. Open season on wild turkeys November and December. May kill three gobblers in one season and no hens. Special law for Nacogdoches, Angelina and Cherokee counties: Allowed to kill only two wild turkeys during March and April of each year. Open season on squirrels in these counties is from August 1st to January 1; bag limit five in one day. Fine not exceeding $50 for violation of this day. Unlawful to hunt outside of the county of your residence without first procuring a license from the county clerk, or game warden.

The violations of the game laws of the state are punishable by heavy fines. Obey the laws and you will have more game and better sport. Tell your friends of the laws and help save the game for your own benefit. The department asks the co-operation of all in the enforcement of the laws, and I will gladly render any assistance possible if you call on me. Address me at Tenaha, Texas.

A. L. PINKSTON, District Deputy Game and Fish Commissioner.

THE WORLD IS ONE

As the disaster in Japan is drawing from the world sympathy for the distressed, it also serves as another reminder of the interdependence of peoples in a business way. Japan was the leader in the production of raw silk. The Silk Association of America has been called to meet in New York to consider the effect of the earthquake and tidal wave disaster on the raw silk supply of this country. One of the authorities on the subject expressed the view that the basic silk industry in Japan will be able to survive the disaster, but that months may elapse before it is able to send out further shipments.

A disaster that would affect the rubber producing countries also would be a blow to a great American industry. We have so many resources and so many specialties in manufacturing that every civilized people on the globe buys something from us.

This is to be kept in mind when tinkering with the tariff. We have to remember that we cannot forever sell and never buy. If we go too far toward shutting out the goods of other peoples they will have no means of buying what we have to sell. Nature has supplied enough for all, with each people having some particular products or articles to exchange for things it does not produce, and both intelligence and justice demands efforts—so far as humanity can control the conditions—to keep trade flowing smoothly.

Of course we cannot prevent convulsions of nature, but losses by them are comparatively small to those mankind brings upon itself by stupidity or selfishness, as in war, or in "unscientific tariffs" that hamper trade.

Ann Wallace, an old negro woman, was found dead Saturday morning in her home near the N. & S. E. station. She was last seen about the place Friday afternoon. Saturday morning it was observed by neighbors that she was not stirring about, and one of them went to the door and called her. She was lying on her bed, and it was supposed she was asleep, so the neighbors departed without making investigation. Some children later reported that she was still asleep, and some of the colored neighbors went to the house and found her dead. Judge Frank Huston held an inquest and returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Some folks' idea of politeness is to put "please" in front of "remit at once."

Edw Birkenhead thinks the United States constitution is a "dead" thing, and is not worth anything.

FIREWORKS ON THE PROGRAM OF STATE FAIR EVERY NIGHT

Elaborate Pyrotechnic Exhibit Will Feature Night Entertainment

Fireworks nightly is promised by the management for the eighteenth annual State Fair of Louisiana, October 18 to 28, inclusive.

But merely announcing that there will be a display of fireworks each night during the fair is not going far enough. An elaborate exhibition will be staged each time, and the great pyrotechnic program will be featured by a spectacular extravaganza known as "India." It is a gigantic spectacle and is declared to be even superior to the mammoth "Mystic China" production which was last year's fireworks feature at the State Fair at Shreveport.

An idea of the magnitude of "India" is gathered from the transportation arrangements. It required one 60-foot box car to handle the "Mystic China" show, but two cars, each 70 feet in length, are necessary to accommodate the "India" scenery and other paraphernalia used in staging the huge demonstration.

India is a country about which there is much mystery, also much that is known and very much yet to be learned by other countries of the world. It is the land of almost countless thousands, yes millions, of inhabitants, whose customs are far different from those of the "new world." The demonstration through fire works each night at the State Fair will teach much that is interesting about India. It will be educational, therefore, as well as entertaining. Two hundred or more persons are expected to be used in putting on the production, which will be presented in the infield of the grandstand.

SIX DAYS OF RUNNING RACES AT THE FAIR

Visitors to the eighteenth annual State Fair of Louisiana, which opens October 18 and runs through October 28, will have the opportunity of enjoying the "King of Sports," for there will be six days of horse racing. It is announced by the management.

The races will be confined to running events. No harness races will be held. The dates for the racing are: October 19, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

On Monday, October 22, there will be a special race when the drivers will be members of the Shreveport Bridle Club.

Another special event will be pulled off on Friday, October 26. It will be the Queen City Derby, with a purse of $600 and added money, part of which business interests have donated. Some of the fastest horses in the country are expected to compete for this purse.

Attractive money is offered for winners in the races at the State Fair track, a mile circuit, this year, and horses and jockeys from various localities are looked for. The inquiries indicate brisk interest.

Last year the horse racing program was omitted, but there was such a demand for its return that the management decided to give the visitors this year six days of this popular sport.

DISPLAY OF SHEEP TO BE FEATURE AT FAIR

Interest in sheep raising is steadily growing in Louisiana and neighboring states, and the movement is being given increased encouragement by the State Fair of Louisiana, as shown by the premiums offered. At the eighteenth annual exposition, October 18 to 28, inclusive, $1,470 will be distributed in premiums.

J. P. Fullilove of Shreveport, who is among the best known planters of the Red River valley, and who among other things is engaged in sheep raising, is superintendent of this department.

The contest is open to the world, and from various sections of the country there will be fine specimens brought to Shreveport for exhibition. Accommodations of the highest order are assured for all sheep entered.

COLLECTION OF CATS TO BE SEEN AT FAIR

Something brand new in the way of exhibits at the State Fair of Louisiana this year will be a collection of cats, which have been given a special department in the Pet Stock division.

Only a comparatively few exhibits are expected the first year, but eventually the cat section, it is believed, will develop into a feature of great popularity.

Only ribbons will be awarded this year, but as the display is enlarged, probably next year, premiums, will be listed.

The cat show will open with the ushering in of the State Fair, October 18, running throughout the eleven days.

For further information, write W. A. Bush, Secretary-Manager, Shreveport, La.

IN NEED

Dallas News.

Japan is never so thoroughly admirable as when Japan is supremely tried by emergency. Facing now disaster of unmeasured and apparently immeasurable proportions, the Land of the Rising Sun stands out heroic amid crumbling and smoking ruin. Blood and sacrifice wrote the name of Japan high on the scroll of nations. Ashes and fortitude will write it there again.

Bulking thus bravely in the world's eye, Japan is nevertheless in need, desperately in need. Surely the hands that have been quick to applaud the courage of these stricken ones will be quick also to lend aid without which suffering will surely be multiplied yet more terribly and the ranks of the living decimated yet more pitilessly.

Occasions of this kind are opportunities to them that have to bind to themselves the gratitude and affections of them that have not. America could make no nobler gift than this to which she has now set herself. And yet the returns from it will surely outrank those from any commercial investment likely to present itself to our generation.

To obtain the good will of an individual is to obtain the good will of a people. Better will it serve America to earn a place in the heart of Japan today than to build a hundred men of war. Friendship when friendship is needed, extended in the quick compassion and friendship commands, does indeed prove a blessing to the giver even more than to the recipient of it. America has grown a bit suspicious and calculating, hardened with disappointments and disillusioned after reaches of high unselfishness to which once we scarcely dared to aspire. Here, in the catastrophe that bears down so grievously upon Japan, is an opportunity to us to find our better selves—our true selves, let us hope. We can not shut our eyes and stop our ears to this cry of the main Americans of that Asia who stands out before the world resplendent and generous to the kind.

A Boston paper advises republicans to read the LaFollette group out of the party. The difficulty appears to be that the voices capable of making themselves heard are on the other side.

MOORINGSPOUT BANK BANDIT SUICIDES AT MARSHALL

Marshall, Texas, Sept. 12.—Cornered by Sheriff Sanders in a lunchroom here this morning, a young man about 25 years old, believed by officers to have been the bandit who robbed a bank at Mooringsport, La., of approximately $5,000 yesterday, shot and killed himself. The driver of a delivery truck was forced to bring the young man to Marshall this morning from Scottsville, seven miles east of here, according to the police. It was through information given by the truck driver that the sheriff located the man in the lunchroom. The only clue to the identity of the man was a money order bearing the name of Frank Smith.

Dead Man Identified

Marshall, Texas, Sept. 12.—Charles Moorefield, cashier of the bank at Mooringsport, positively identified the body of the man who killed himself here today as the man who robbed the bank yesterday.

T. W. Weems, an old resident of South Fredonia Hill neighborhood, was stricken with paralysis about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, one side of the body being involved and he is practically helpless. His speech also is affected.

INVESTIGATE IN PERSON THE SCHOOL YOU ATTEND

In selecting a business school to attend you will select the one that offers the very best training for the money. This training depends not so much upon the cost of the course or the special inducements offered you before you attend, but it does depend upon the quality of training received while taking the course, therefore, you should investigate in person any school you attend before you make a permanent investment.

You should take into consideration the faculty, equipment, courses taught and the average time to complete the course, the manner in which they are taught, living expenses while taking the courses, commercial rating and the class of people who patronize the school, and the success of the school. The Tyler Commercial College invites such personal investigation. Students of this school are enrolled strictly on the merits of the school, and not on any special discount inducements that obligate you to enroll if you are not satisfied when you investigate the school in person.

Write for our free catalogue at once and investigate carefully the advantages they offer you in teaching you Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Administration and Finance, Cotton Cladding, Telegraphy, Radio, Penmanship and Civil Service. These courses are also taught by mail.

THE COLORED INSTITUTE

The Colored Teachers' Institute, composed of teachers of Nacogdoches and Angelina counties, met at 9 a. m. Monday in the colored school building. The meeting was called to order by M. B. Davis, who called upon E. J. Campbell to deliver the welcome address.

The program was interspersed with jubilee songs for which the colored race is noted.

Visiting teachers were introduced, most prominent among them being Prof. H. B. Pemberton of Marshall, a school man of broad experience, who is serving as special director of the institute.

Quite a deal of enthusiasm was aroused and each teacher was made to feel that the school is a place of great responsibilities, and that the teacher should be a person of great obligation, for each is charged with the task of helping to shape the character and destiny of the boys and girls of this generation. The subject, "Teaching vs. Talking" was discussed by A. L. Hooper.

Tuesday morning the Institute again assembled promptly at 9 o'clock.

The teaching departments are busily engaged in work with this motto: "Everybody At it All the Time." Miss Exier M. Lewis, county superintendent of public instruction, was introduced and made quite an interesting address.

Mrs. Emeline Carpenter conducted a class of beginners in reading. This work was highly commended by all present.

Chairman M. B. Davis appointed a number of committees.

H. C. Carpenter, Reporter.

A house on Fredonia Hill, owned by T. W. Weems and Lawrence Crawford, was totally destroyed by fire shortly after 12 o'clock Monday night. The building was vacant, the tenant who had occupied it moving out Monday.

The home of Hamp Rogers, in the southwestern part of the city, was destroyed by fire at noon Tuesday, together with practically all its contents. The firemen responded promptly, but were unable to fight the fire on account of absence of water, the main not extending only the residence of Robert Lindsey, on Virginia avenue. The amount of insurance was not learned.

OFFICIAL LIST OF AMERICANS DEAD IN QUAKE

Washington, Sept. 7.—The death list of Americans in the Tokio and Yokohama catastrophe officially reported to the state department today includes:

- Alex Kirjassoff, United States acting consul general at Yokohama.
 - Mrs. Kirjassoff, assistant commercial attaché of United States embassy, Tokio.
 - Mr. J. Babbitt, his daughter.
 - Consul Jenks, Yokohama.
 - Zembach, chief pharmacist, United States naval hospital.
 - Mrs. Zembach.
 - Pharmacist Paul E. Cannon and A. Ingolia, United States naval hospital, Yokohama.
 - Mrs. H. C. Burnell, San Francisco, at Yokohama.
 - H. W. Morse, International Banking Corporation, Yokohama.
 - Captain Stimson, of the steamship Steel Navigator, Yokohama.
- The list of the American dead was increased today by receipt at the state department of the following missing from Consul Dickover at Kobe:
- Kobe, Sept. 7.—Further list of the American dead in Yokohama disaster:
- Pharmacist Paul R. Connon, Pharmacist A. Ingolia, Mrs. H. C. Burnell of San Francisco, H. W. Morse of the International Banking Corporation, Capt. Stimson, of the steamship Steel Navigator, Robert Swain of Yokohama.
- Missing and probably dead:
- Mr. Sheely of Standard Oil Company, McHenry Holbrook of International Banking Corporation and Mrs. M. M. Mendelson of Princeton, N. J.

BERGDOLL PAYS TAX ON HIGH-POWERED AUTOS

Eberbach, Sept. 8.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, today paid the new state obligatory automobile tax inaugurated a month ago, to supply funds to aid the Germans carrying on passive resistance in the Ruhr. Bergdoll paid 2,500,000 marks on his two high-powered cars.

His latest automobile tour was through the Black Forest with his mother, who soon will return to her home in Philadelphia.

The authorities expect to begin trials of the Americans recently arrested in the attempt to abduct Bergdoll late in October.

FOREIGNERS DEAD IN QUAKE

Washington, Sept. 8.—Two hundred foreigners were killed at Yokohama, according to the Navy Department's first direct word from that port, received today in two messages from Admiral Anderson, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet. One hundred and thirty foreign refugees, most of them Americans and Englishmen, he reported, were at Hakone and others are arriving at Kobe.

Safety of Americans Told

Washington, Sept. 8.—The safety of additional Americans caught in the earthquake in Japan was established today in a message to the State Department from Consul Davis at Shanghai in transmitting reports gathered by Consul Dickover at Kobe.

HUMILIATING TERMS

Paris, Sept. 8.—The proposals contained in the note which the Interallied Council of Ambassadors has sent to Greece are virtually identical to those in the original ultimatum dispatched to Athens by the Italian premier. All penalties the council would impose are in conformity with the Italian demands except that the Hellenic fleet shall salute the flags of three Allied nations instead of Italy's alone and the highest Greek military authority shall present the government's regrets for the Janina murders to three Allied representatives in Athens.

ITALIO-GREEK SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 8.—If Italy accepts yesterday's decision of the Interallied Council of Ambassadors, Greece will view her dispute with Italy as settled and will not push her request to the League of Nations to investigate the crisis, M. Politis, the Greek spokesman, told a correspondent today. He added, however, that acceptance by Greece was contingent upon whether the program for settlement reached at Paris included arrangements for Italian evacuation of Corfu and the other Greek islands seized by the naval forces of Italy.

EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA

London, Sept. 10.—Fifty persons were reported killed or injured in an earthquake which shook Calcutta today, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that British-Indian city. It was reported the casualties occurred in the district where

DOCTOR PAYS FOURTEEN BILLION MARKS FOR DOG

New York, Sept. 8.—A German pointer, costing 14,289,000,000 marks, was forwarded today from New York to Dr. Dale Wagner of Drumwright, Okla.

The dog, answering the name of "Hazard," cost $400 in Hamburg and freight and other charges amounted to $33.40. A draft for the amount translated into marks was forwarded to Hamburg yesterday.

DEATH LIST MOUNTING

As the story of the Japanese disaster is unfolded in the fragmentary messages from press association correspondents, Japanese newspapers and individuals, it is apparent that the magnitude of the catastrophe has not been overdrawn.

In only one dispatch has there been a suggestion that the death list will not reach the proportions already indicated. This was a message from the Radio Corporation of America in Japan which said the Japanese home office estimated the dead in Tokio at 100,000 and in Yokohama at 100,000.

On the other hand, Admiral Edwin A. Anderson, commanding the United States Asiatic fleet, says the latest unofficial reports give the casualties in the capital and Yokohama at 240,000 dead and 450,000 injured. A wireless message from Admiral Anderson to Rear Admiral Edward W. Eberle, chief of naval operations, conveying this information, was picked up in San Francisco. Naval officers in San Francisco believe that Admiral Anderson, who is speeding to Japan waters, obtained advices on conditions in Japan by radio before communicating with Rear Admiral Eberle.

Other Estimates Greater

Another estimate, this one coming from the Eastern News Agency, says that 320,000 persons have been killed in the entire stricken district.

Two hundred and sixteen distinct earth shocks were felt in Tokio last Saturday, followed by 87 on Sunday. The most severe tremor was of six minutes' duration.

Fire Raged 50 Hours

The flames that swept the capital burned for 50 hours, leaving Tokio and its environs in ruins and desolation. Fire and earth convulsions together have devastated an area 21 square miles in and about Tokio, demolishing 350,000 houses.

This offering of Yokohama, too, appears not to have been exaggerated. An official statement received by Uyama, the Japanese consul general in San Francisco, says that the great port itself and the Yokosuka naval station have been wiped out. This message, sent by a former Japanese consul general, who is now at Shanghai, added that more than half of Tokio has been destroyed.

From Osaka comes a dispatch asserting that a new volcano has broken into activity in the Chichibu range 50 miles northwest of Tokio.

QUAKE RELIEF FUND NEARLY FOUR MILLION

Washington, Sept. 10.—More than two-thirds of the $5,000,000 asked of the American nation for the stricken Japanese people has been raised.

With donations still pouring in, the American Red Cross executive committee announced that efforts would be made to swell the contributions to the maximum within the current week and to further speed up the purchase and shipment of supplies.

The third relief cargo to be sent from the United States is expected to get under way today and five additional ships are loading at various ports.

The total contributions received by noon Sunday were reported as follows: Washington division, $2,032,000. New England division, $242,100. Southern division, $61,000. Central division, $612,000. Southwestern division, $250,000. Pacific division, $200,300. Insular and foreign, $150,000. Totals, $3,547,900.

Rapidly Nearing Goal

Washington, Sept. 10.—The Red Cross Japanese fund is approaching the $5,000,000 goal. Subscriptions reported to the national headquarters now total $4,071,000.

WORLD'S COTTON SUPPLY

Washington, Sept. 10.—The total world supply of cotton on August 1 was 27,568,000 bales, compared with 29,602,000 bales on August 1, 1922, according to a survey made public today by the Department of Commerce.

World consumption of cotton for the year ending July 31 was given as 20,950,000 bales, as compared with 20,047,000 for the previous corresponding 12 months. Of American cotton the supplies in all countries August 1 amounted to 15,431,000 bales, against 17,460,000 bales for the year ending July 31, 1922. The production of American cotton on August 1 was estimated at 9,762,000 bales as against 7,954,000 bales last year.

CONSULATE BURNED

Rome, Sept. 8.—The Italian consulate at Petras, Greece, was burned by a mob during an anti-Italian demonstration today, according to a news dispatch received here.

A Providence woman shot down a man in the street and then discovered that she had shot the wrong person, but then everyone is likely to make a mistake.

BIG MASONIC EVENT ON NOVEMBER 1ST

Greatest of all memorials ever erected to any man will be the George Washington National Masonic Memorial, now being built at Alexandria, Va., just outside the national capital. The cornerstone of this beautiful and extensive structure, to cost $4,000,000, will be laid on Thursday, November 1st, and Masons of the United States are planning upon making this great occasion the most impressive in the history of the order. It is expected that every one of the 17,000 blue lodges in this country will have one of more representatives at the November 1st festivities. In addition, there will be pilgrimages from every state. Railroads already are preparing to handle the enormous number of travelers to Washington which is expected to reach into the hundred thousands. There are approximately 3,000,000 Masons in the United States and every one of them will want to be present at this momentous ceremony.

No Clue Found

So far not one well-authenticated clue to the slayers has been turned up; the four negroes under arrest are held pending a satisfactory explanation of their whereabouts on the night of the murder.

Even the elements seemed to conspire against the searchers Thursday. Three bloodhounds from the Holland prison farm at Sugar Land, brought to Beaumont by Sergeant "Buck" Ross, speedily lost the scent as the result of a drenching rain Thursday morning. They are being taken here and there in the neighborhood of the double-laying in an attempt to pick up another trail.

A theory that the double murder was not committed on the spot where the bodies were found was advanced by some officials Thursday, they holding that Rial was struck down when he stepped out of his automobile some distance away. The bodies were found on the Concord road, outside the city limits.

Rial did not die from the first blows—that has been fairly well proved. Instead, he fought his attackers viciously until rendered unconscious. Miss Carl probably was attacked after her escort had been beaten down, the investigators believed.

WORST MARINE DISASTER

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 10.—Twenty-three sailors dead, 15 injured and seven destroyers of the Pacific squadron of the battle fleet held between rocks off Point Arguello light, between San Francisco and Los Angeles, are the outstanding consequences today of a major marine disaster in Pacific waters. The warships went ashore while cruising from San Francisco to San Diego Saturday night in a dense fog. Mistake in position in relation to the coast line is believed to have caused the crash. The destroyers grounded were the Delphy, Young, Splee, Nicholas, Fuller, Chauncey and Woodbury.

INTENSIVE HUNT ON FOR GIRL'S MURDERER

Houston, Pa., 7th.

Arrest of four negroes by authorities at Beaumont.

Inauguration of statewide search for two men alleged to have been seen in the vicinity of the double murder; joining of forces by the police, sheriffs of surrounding counties and State troopers, to order more efficiently to handle the situation.

Attempts to track down the slayer, or slayers, by means of bloodhounds from the State prison farm at Sugar Land.

These developments marked the day Thursday at Beaumont, where the most intense manhunt the State ever saw is under way for the murderers of Perry Orrien Rial, 22-year-old Beaumont youth, and Bessie Carl, 16, of Houston.

Authorities early Thursday admitted that the crime was one of the most mysterious in the police annals of the state.

Jealous Suitor Suspected

Then—and here the various forces investigating the crime are a unit—the attacker, or attackers, carried the two bodies some distance from the scene, purposely disarranging their clothing in order to make it appear that a maniac did the killing. Police said Thursday they were working on the theory that a jealous suitor of the 16-year-old girl might have done the slaying.

A new light was thrown on the tragedy Thursday by Dr. J. S. Pate when he announced that Miss Carl died from exposure and not from fractured skull. He said the latter injury, undoubtedly would have caused death, but that exposure was the actual cause.

QUAKE CASUALTIES LESS THAN AT FIRST REPORTED

Shanghai, Sept. 7.—Today's reports from Japan indicate that the first estimate of the loss of life and damage from the earthquake, fire and tidal waves were much exaggerated. An Associated Press radiogram, intercepted here, estimated the casualties in Yokohama at 50,000. An Eastern News telegram said 30,000 had already been counted west of Tokio. A Reuters report said the banks were opening. The Bank of Japan is intact, according to the dispatch. It is difficult to get a correct picture of the situation in the ruined zone because of varying reports.

TWO FLEETS AND ONE MORAL

Houston Chronicle.

Two great fleets are under steam. One, gathered from all quarters of the mighty Pacific, is ploughing its way toward Japan on an errand of mercy. The other has come out of the Adriatic to menace the islands and ports of Greece.

On which would you pin your faith for a brighter, better, happier world? And if they function as intended, and with the disparity of miles to be covered, it won't cost half as much to send the great fleet to Japan as it will to send the little fleet to Greece.

Tokio, Yokohama and all the towns of Japan could be rebuilt at a cheaper price than Athens could be destroyed.

The fleet in the Pacific represents a promise, albeit a silent and rather obscure promise, which does not make the mob yell and throw its hats in the air.

The noise is reserved for Mr. Mussolini and his kind. They appeal to the animalism which still remains to plague. When they paw the air and shout for blood, how we dance?

It seems like women's work to feed a prostrate fellow being with a spoon, while it makes us feel strong to knock him down while he is on his feet.

Still there is something to this idea of sitting up nights with the sick, of salvaging crippled children and of going to the rescue of stricken cities.

No waving of flags, to be sure, and no blare of trumpets, but in the end we like to look back on it. In the end, it makes one feel better to enjoy the gratitude and respect of another people than to inherit their hate.

We might have ground Mexico under our heel ten years ago, but who would prefer the resulting situation to the one we now face?

We might have been sending our battleships to Japan with their guns loaded and their decks cleared for action, but could they win us what they will in their present mission?

CONSTITUTION WEEK

There was a time last winter when nearly every week was devoted to some sort of public celebration or propaganda. These special observances came so frequently that people became rather tired of them and they lost much of their effectiveness as a method of teaching lessons and inculcating principles. The summer, however, has been largely free from calls to observe special weeks. Hence, the American Bar Association's appeal to the people of the United States to celebrate September 16 to 23 as Constitution Week will not go unheeded. Such an observance should do much good.

On the Sunday beginning the week ministers are requested to preach a sermon on the constitution, using as a text, "Remove not the ancient landmark which thy fathers have set." The second day is to be devoted to discussions of the setting and inspiration for the constitution, the Magna Charta, English Bill of Rights, Mayflower Compact, Declaration of Independence and Articles of Confederation. Each of the other days of the week is to be set aside for the consideration of some special subject related to the constitution. Patriotic, civic, educational, fraternal and commercial organizations of all kinds are being asked to take part in the observance.

The constitution being the foundation on which our government and laws rests, merits far more study than is given it by the American people, many of whom, it is to be feared, have only the sketchiest sort of acquaintance with the document.

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Bloom, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes.

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless.

"I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good, warm tea and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere. 184

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burrows left Thursday night for Alexandria, La. Mr. Burrows resigned his position here with Elmo Bright and has accepted a position there with the Kress firm. Their many friends regret to see them leave, and wish them much success.

Some time after midnight Thursday night the home of Mr. Arch Buchanan, two miles out on the Douglass road, was entirely destroyed by fire together with all household equipment except a few chairs and a cot Mr. Buchanan was occupying on the sleeping porch. The fire was said to have originated in the kitchen. Mr. Buchanan carried $1,200 insurance, which will not nearly cover the loss. The family have the sympathy of many friends in their misfortune.

The rain of Thursday afternoon was a heavy one in some spots. At the Experiment Station, a mile and a half east of the city, there was almost a cloudburst, five inches of rain falling in two hours. At Captain Cooper's home, west of the city on Irion Hill, there was a precipitation of only 0.31 of an inch. There is no way of measuring the rainfall in the city, but it was a plenty. The Angelina River is reported out of its banks and rising early Friday morning. The streams running through the city were bank full. The storm continued all of Friday morning, with the prospect of continuing through the afternoon.

Mr. V. K. Hrisikopoulos, who had been here for several days assisting in getting the Sugar Bowl started in the work of candy-making, left Wednesday night for his home at Beville, where he is doing a satisfactory business in the confectionery line. He is one of the best candy-makers that ever came to this section, and if the people of his home town know a good thing when they see it, he will not lack for patronage. We again wish him success.

Mrs. J. H. Ellington gave a dance at the City Pavilion Tuesday evening, August 28th, complimentary to her niece, Miss Exa Bell Sublett of Houston, who is visiting her. The following out of town guests were present: Messrs. Lawrence Bridges, Clarence Doggett and Ernest (Click) and Preston Miller of Center. Forty couples were present, punch was served throughout the evening. Music was by home talent and the young people spent a most delightful evening.—San Augustine Tribune, 6th.

'DOCHES COUNTY DESIGNATED FOR DETAIL SOIL SURVEY

An immediate detail soil survey of Nacogdoches County has been authorized by Dr. E. Youngblood, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, under whose direction the work is to be done in co-operation with the Bureau of Soils, United States Department of Agriculture. The soil survey specialists who are to do the field work, will begin the actual survey as soon as they have completed other surveys now nearing the final stages.

Fourteen numerous signed petitions were presented to Doctor Youngblood from the several communities in Nacogdoches County, setting forth the immediate need for an inventory of the soils of that county, particularly that the farmers might be able to approach their soil problems with more effectiveness. A small area in this county, in the vicinity of the experiment station, located near Nacogdoches, was surveyed some years ago. With this exception, one of the oldest settled farming regions of Texas has remained without this service until now.

It should be noted that with the present appropriations and facilities for making soil surveys in Texas, only about two counties per year can be surveyed in detail; and while Doctor Youngblood has on file some twenty-five applications desiring this service, it is obvious that a good many of these counties must patiently bide their time, however much they may need the service. The Federal appropriation for the entire United States is, at present, only about $155,000 per annum, about $10,000 of which is at present being used in Texas. The State appropriation for the ensuing year is only $7,000 per annum. If the immediate needs of a large number of important farming sections are to be served with soil surveys, it will be necessary to increase the State appropriation to at least $50,000 per annum. Whether this is to be done is a matter entirely between the people in need of this service and their representatives in the legislature. The soil survey forces are in position to push the work as rapidly as their facilities, in the way of expense money, will permit.

In addition to the need of farmers for soil survey, experimental scientists must have such an inventory of the soil to enable them to correctly gauge the significance of their findings from time to time. Homeseekers, through a study of the soil survey, may more correctly select a farm to their liking. Land banks and loan companies use the soil survey freely in estimating the value of a given tract of land as security. Real estate dealers are able to intelligently present the merits of lands which have had a complete soil survey. There are numerous benefits flowing from soil surveys and the work, when well done, need only be done once. The aim of the service is, therefore, to ultimately provide a complete survey of all the soils in the country. The work is being done generally by counties, in those sections where the need is most pressing. In some of the states of the Middle West the work has proceeded with a vim, due to more liberal state support than in Texas. This probably accounts, in part, for the higher real estate values in some of those sections.

MURPHY HANGED

Franklin (La.) Era-Leader. The final chapter in the Pierce-Crain killing last March was enacted in the parish jail here last Friday when John Murphy, who had confessed to the killings, was executed. His stoical composure up to the day of the hanging was marvelous and he seemed entirely indifferent and remained confident that the day of reckoning would be postponed.

As early as 9 o'clock Friday a curious crowd began to gather about the court yard, being constantly augmented by new arrivals, who stood for hours in the blazing sun waiting to catch sight of the prisoner and hear his last words.

Shortly after noon Murphy was allowed to address the crowd from a second story window of the jail. He spoke first of the fallacy of the making and handling of whiskey as a means for an easy livelihood and warned his hearers of the dangers attached to the traffic. He freely confessed to both killings, saying that after emptying his own gun at the deputies he walked over to where Wiley Pierce had fallen and securing Gideon Rester's gun from him again shot Wesley Crain, which accounted for the different sized bullets in Crain's body.

As he finished speaking and the black hood was being adjusted, Murphy collapsed and had to be helped to the gallows. He revived, however, in a few minutes and being questioned by Chief Deputy Stafford admitted he alone had killed both deputies. Sheriff J. E. Bateman pulled the trap at 12:39 and Murphy's body was shot to eternity, his neck being broken by the fall and 15 minutes later Coroner J. L. Brock announced that the prisoner's heart-beats had ceased.

The body was turned over to the relatives and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the burial took place in the Bouie Smith graveyard, about nine miles east of town. Rev. M. C. Thomas of Pine conducted the services.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Lourie L. Newsom by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Nacogdoches County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in November, A. D. 1923, the same being the 19th day of November, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of June, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1809, wherein Commercial Credit Co., Inc., a corporation, is plaintiff, and Lourie L. Newsom is defendant, and said petition alleging that Plaintiff is the owner of a certain promissory note executed by Defendant on the 25th day of November, 1922, payable to C. A. Pate of Angelina County, Texas, in the sum of $334.00 made payable in installments of $27.83 each per month except the last installment, which is for $27.87, the first being due on the 25th day of December, 1922, said note bearing interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from maturity and providing for 15 per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; which note was secured by a chattel mortgage of even date therewith upon the following personal property to-wit: "One Ford Truck, Motor No. 6761769, 1 Ton 1922 Model," That Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of the installments above mentioned are due and unpaid and that plaintiff exercises his option to declare the balance of said note due and that there is now due on said note the sum of $409.20 principal, interest and attorney's fee, and plaintiff prays for judgment for said amount and for foreclosure of said lien.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Nacogdoches, Texas, on this 29th day of August, A. D. 1923.

IMPORTANT INVENTIONS

Shreveport Journal.

What are the most important inventions and discoveries of the century just past—the most wonderful century in material achievement of all the ages? A prominent scientist gives this list:

The cast-iron plow, the cotton gin, the high-pressure steam engine, the screw propeller, the electro magnet, the telegraph, vulcanized rubber, the sewing machine, the electric locomotive, the airbrake, celluloid, the quadruplex telegraph, the telephone, the talking machine, the typewriter, the incandescent lamp, the trolley car, the automatic knot-tying harvester machine, electric furnace reduction, the transparent photograph film, electric welding, calcium carbide, carbonium, electrolytic alkali production, the motion picture machine, disc plows, high speed steel, the airplane, wireless telegraphy.

Any well-informed person might add a few items of his own. No two lists would be likely to agree, because human notions of what is important human notions of what is "important" differ so widely.

The idea back of the list printed above was "practical value to the race," and there can hardly be any criterion. On that basis, what 10 items should come first?

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon R. E. Levers and Company by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Second Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to Nacogdoches, to appear at the regular term Justice Court of Precinct No. 1, of Nacogdoches county, Texas, to be held at the Courthouse thereof in Nacogdoches, on the last Monday in September, 1923, the same being the 24th day of September, 1923, then and there to answer the suit of McLain-Adams Company, a partnership, doing business at Nacogdoches in Nacogdoches county, Texas, plaintiffs, against R. E. Levers & Company of Roswell, New Mexico, defendants, being No. 3864 on the docket of said court, plaintiffs, demand being for the sum of one hundred fifty-eight dollars due upon an account for overcharge on two hundred eighty-six bales of alfalfa hay, which plaintiffs bought of defendants on January 18th, 1923, and which overcharge was fifty cents per bale, being one hundred forty-three dollars overcharge on said hay, said hay being full of grass burrs and rotten, and not being worth more than the reasonable market value of fifty cents per bale less than plaintiffs paid therefor. Plaintiffs further allege that they have been forced to employ an attorney to bring this suit, and that they have agreed to pay him therefor the sum of fifteen dollars, which they allege is a reasonable and customary fee in said case.

Plaintiffs allege that said debt is just, due and unpaid, and although plaintiffs have often made demand upon defendants for said debt, they have as often failed and refused, and still refuse, to pay same to plaintiffs demand in the sum of $158.00. Herein fail not, but have before said court on the 24th day of September, A. D. 1923, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand, this 23rd day of August, A. D. 1923.

"SAVED"

Mr. W. U. Perkins on Friday morning received a cablegram from Japan containing the one word, "Saved." This means the escape of his daughter, Mrs. Jesse R. Wilson, from the terrible earthquake which killed so many people in that country Saturday. It was a small word to cause such heartfelt joy, but it brought peace and happiness to the Perkins family, ending nearly a week of gnawing suspense. We join all the friends of the family in congratulations for the escape of Mrs. Wilson and her husband.

"NOTHING LIKE STELLA VITAE"

Mrs. Ray is Restored to Health After Suffering a Complete Breakdown

"I thought I would never get free from my terrible sufferings, but Stella Vitae came to my relief and I have been well and strong ever since taking it," said Mrs. O. V. Ray, Hughes Spring, Texas.

"After my first child was born my health broke down completely. I was so weak and run down I couldn't do my housework. Headaches bothered me constantly, my appetite failed and I hardly ate enough to keep me going.

"My mother said there was nothing like Stella Vitae and she kept after me till I took two bottles. I grew stronger and more energetic, have a fine appetite and enjoy my food and sleep like a baby at night."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

HODGES-WASHBURN

Information reached the city Tuesday of the marriage in Shreveport at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon of Mr. O'Quinn Wayne Hodges and Miss Dorothy Washburn. It was stated the young couple would make a bridal trip to Alexandria and New Orleans, returning home the last of the week. They will make their home in the Stripling Apartments, their rooms having been already furnished and everything made ready for their occupancy.

Perhaps no marriage in years has called forth so many expressions of sincere and affectionate good-will as this. The bride and groom are both among our most popular and deserving young people, and the consensus of opinion is that the union is an ideal one, giving promise of happiness and usefulness in large measure.

The groom is connected with the popular drug firm of Swift Bros. & Smith, going with them the first of the year, after a long service with the equally popular firm of Stripling, Haselwood & Company, where he met with and made friends of all our people. He is one of the most deserving of our young men, and enjoys the confidence and esteem of all who have come in contact with him in a business or social way.

The bride, a daughter of D. A. Washburn, late agent here for the Southern Pacific Railway and one of the very best men Nacogdoches ever claimed as a citizen, is beloved by all who know her. Lovely in person, intelligent, gentle, kindly, considerate, a perfect "home body" and an ornament to any social circle, her friendships are limited only by the scope of her acquaintances and every one who has met her is her loyal friend.

The Sentinel wishes for the young couple every happiness they have hoped for, and that their beautiful love may aid them to meet and weather whatever storms may assail them upon life's sea.

God bless them. May peace and contentment and joy be theirs always.

AS OTHERS SEE OUR TOWN

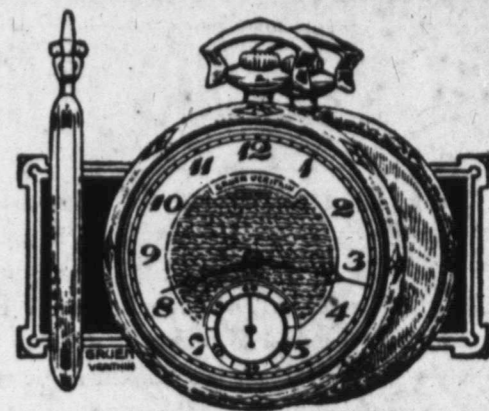

A prominent gentleman from one of the larger cities while visiting in our city recently on being taken for a drive over the town by one of the Boosters, stated:

"With the opening of the Stephen F. Austin Teachers' College here, I can see for Nacogdoches one of the greatest futures of any town of this section of the state, and with the extensive paving now under way by your town, with the already natural beauty afforded, it will make it one of the most beautiful and attractive cities in East Texas, as nothing adds to the civic beauty and upbuilding of a town more than well-paved streets, and the two types of paving being used in your city are among the best to be had."

On for a 100 per cent paving program for Nacogdoches.

The Rotarians' luncheon Wednesday was an unusually enjoyable one. The faculty of the teachers' college were guests, as were also Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, a member of the state board of normal regents, and her father, Mr. William Neal. Miss Neal made a splendid address in advocacy of co-operation in school work and in taking care of the school population of the city coming here to attend the college, without which success of the school will be doubtful. She might have gone further and said it would be impossible, a fact to which our people should give earnest thought. Addresses were made by others and the luncheon was declared a success by all in attendance.

NEW PASTOR COMING

Dr. A. Oscar Browne having some time ago accepted a call to the pastorate of the Main Street Presbyterian church, will arrive in the city Saturday to begin his labors among us, and will hold services at the above church Sunday, September 16, at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Browne is not a stranger to many of our people, and those who know him feel that the church is fortunate in securing a minister of such wide experience and that our city as a whole will be greatly benefited by his coming.

Dr. Browne is a gifted musician and vocalist, having sung all over the country as a member of the "Kentucky Colonels Quartette," of which he was the organizer. He was also an instructor in these departments at Vanderbilt University and at one time was director of a band in the United States army.

Dr. Browne's father, being a judge on the bench, educated his son as a lawyer, but the young man not being inclined to the law, finished his musical education. He later graduated as a physician and was practicing in Atlanta, Ga., when the call to the ministry, which had always been tugging away at his heart, became so strong that he dropped everything and went into the university and finished as a D. D. He has been located for the past ten years at New Orleans as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and leaves a magnificent plant there to the credit of his labors.

Let every one who can attend these services Sunday and give Dr. Browne a welcome to our city that will impress him with the fact that we appreciate his coming to us.

In a talk to the grand jury a few days ago Judge Guinn called attention to the laxity of physicians in reporting vital statistics and urged that they see to it that the law requiring the registration of births and deaths was complied with. This duty has been sadly neglected by many physicians who have laid themselves liable to indictment and prosecution. It is important. The settlement of an estate frequently hangs upon legal information which could only be definitely and unquestionably obtained through these statistics. It also is often the case that boys taken into custody escape punishment in the reform school by misstating their ages, or avoid the penitentiary when clearly guilty of the same process. Physicians are urged to comply with the law.
