RELIEF FOR INDEPENDENTS.

While the ways and means committee of the congressional house is vacillating in its consideration of a bill to place an embargo upon imports of petroleum and petroleum products, after having first voted to postpone action on all tariff and embargo measures because of "insufficient time" for their consideration, State Representative Bailey W. Hardy, of Breckenridge, has an oil bill pending in the Texas house. Hardy's bill proposes to aid the independent operators, refiners and retailers by making it illegal for a "corporation operating as a producer, transporter and refiner of petroleum and its products from operating also as a retailer of the products of petroleum."

He insists his bill simply eliminates the major producer, transporter and refiner from handling the retail end of the business. A reminder that in his closing term in the senate of the United States the late Joseph Weldon Bailey introduced a bill placing the pipelines of the nation in the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce committee for governmental control and rate making purposes. His bill was strangled. His political power and prestige waned. He was assailed by his enemies as a political pawn of the giants of the oil trade and he was marked for defeat on the other hand by the interests which he sought to regulate. He stepped aside and returned to private life after having served his commonwealth for almost a third of a century and the pipelines remain just as they were when Bailey introduced his regulatory measure which was strangled in committee room of the American senate.

MIAMI SAID TO BE SINK OF SATIN AND SIN.

Miami is the playground of wealthy Americans. It is the showplace city of Florida. Declaring it to be a sinkhole of Satan and sin, 100 women bearing the standards of Carrie Nation have organized to rid the winter resort "of vice and lawlessness." Members of the Greater Miami Ministerial association met and adopted a resolution declaring "deplorable conditions" in the Miami area. This was the ministerial indictment. They charged evidences on every side of gambling, bootlegging and prostitution and asserted "the conditions must measurably be known to those in authority."

OKLAHOMA IS ON THE WAY.

There are bills pending in the senate of Texas paving the way for the installation of county-city government machinery. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York is an ardent advocate of this plan. Well, the state senate of Oklahoma passed the state senate of Texas and Governor Roosevelt in the race for first place. With only two votes cast against it the county-manager bill passed the Oklahoma senate and was ready for action in the house. It makes it optional with counties as to whether they would desire the new form of government. Both the county commission and county manager types would be recognized. Citizens upon petition of 16 per cent of the voters might call a special election, or it might be called upon resolution of county commissioners.

Why duplication of efforts? Why duplication of officials? Why duplication of salaries? Why wastefulness of the money of the tax-payers? Why not get out of the costly ruts of the ancients? This is a new civilization. Why not do something for the people now on earth?

A SOUND POLICY.

A statement of policy which should govern utility operation recently made by John E. Zimmerman, president of the United Gas Improvement company, of Philadelphia, is so patently sound and reasonable that both the utility industry and the patron public should be able to recognize in it a basis for the adjustment of all problems concerning the relationship between these two factors. That the pronouncement comes from a high official in the industry places a stamp of integrity upon the character of men who are charged with the responsibility of its guidance.

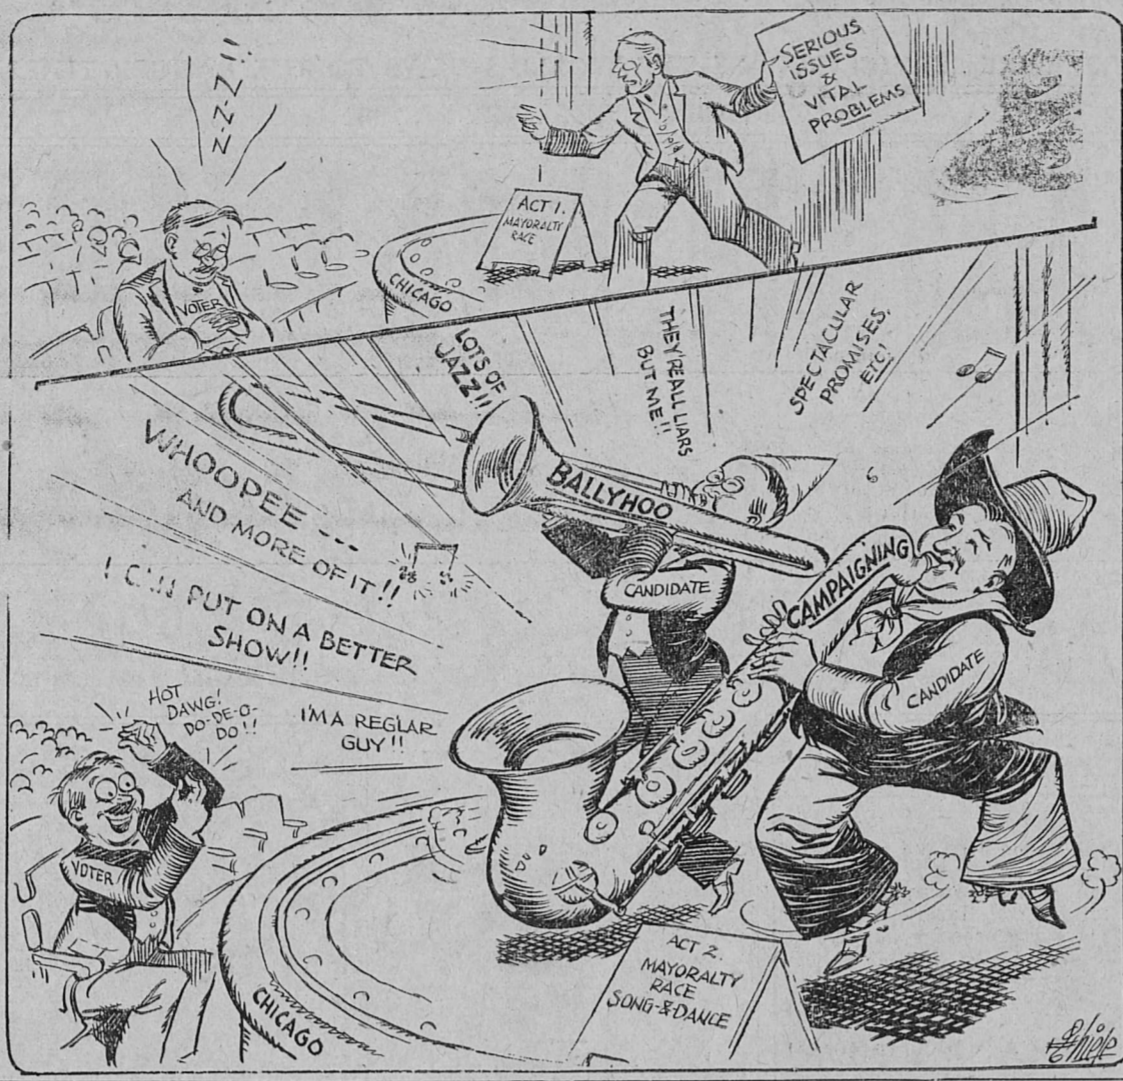

Says Mr. Zimmerman in effect: The interests of the public and the public utilities are best served by effective state regulation. Well-considered measures calculated to strengthen the confidence of the public in the regulation of public utilities receive the support of progressive leaders in the electric light, power and gas industries.

Rates should be adjusted so as to yield a fair and reasonable return on the value of the property devoted to the public use. This return should be sufficient at all times to attract new capital and to include a reward for efficient, enlightened and honest management. Economies resulting from efficient management and from mergers, consolidations, and interconnections should be shared with the consumer in reduction of rates.

Publicity in the financial affairs of a public utility inspires confidence on the part of the stockholder and the public. Public utilities therefore should issue at frequent intervals full statements of their earnings in sufficient detail to give their stockholders a thorough understanding of company affairs.

Holding companies are essential to the expansion and development of public utilities and must not be used to exploit either the consumers or the operating company. Full and complete disclosure should be made of all agreements between the holding company and its subsidiaries covering services rendered by the holding company for financing, managing, purchasing and construction, to insure that they are fair to the consumer, the operating company and the holding company.

Is It Coming to This?

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON.—The Senate is very proud of its rules, which allow unlimited debate, and turns savagely upon anyone who urges that they be changed. It is one "forum of freedom" where any member can say whatever he likes, at any length, without intimidation or curtailment.

And, of course, it is also a place which has attracted some of the most borsome windbags any country has ever produced. Newspaper readers who are given fragments of the things that are said on the floors of Congress haven't the least idea of the tremendous volume of guff and dull detail which they are fortunate enough to miss.

Frequently, however, they miss something really snappy, such as the sparkling exchange of amenities between Caraway of Arkansas and Fess of Ohio the other day, when Fess held the chair as presiding officer. Everybody was talking about the bill to lend veterans more money on their bonus certificates and how soon it could be voted on. It went like this, to quote verbatim from the Congressional Record:

Mr. Caraway: Mr. President—The Presiding Officer: The Senator from Michigan. (Cousens.) Mr. Caraway: Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that I was on my feet before the senator from Michigan arose, and addressed the chair before the senator from Michigan arose. The Presiding Officer: The chair will state that the senator from Michigan tried to get the floor when the senator from Georgia was recognized. Mr. Cousens: Before the senator from Georgia did. I beg the senator's pardon; I was on my feet. Mr. Caraway: Let me ask if it is the rule, then, that if a senator addresses the chair and sits down or goes to lunch he is entitled to take the floor when he comes back. Mr. Cousens: I do not object to yielding to the senator if he wants to go on at this time. Mr. Caraway: That is not the point. I am objecting most serious-

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Okla.

That every city has two classes of people; the men who do things to build up the community and the men who do not. Be a builder!

The building of a city is a partnership business; every citizen is a partner and when a number of the partners refuse to lend their assistance there is just that much less chance for happiness and prosperity.

Optimism tempered with conversation always starts better business. Optimism and action always win. You cannot do much where there is distrust.

Everyone should face conditions squarely and go ahead. Every city should set a goal and work toward that goal. Most people are so intent on looking ahead, planning ahead and forging ahead that they seldom take time to look backward. Let by-gones be by-gones—forge ahead!

BY THE WAY

Brownwood has elected a new coach. "Dutch" Woodward, who was not an applicant for re-election, will be succeeded by Gene Taylor, at present the coach at Spur. The new Brownwood mentor is the brother of Harry Taylor, who will take over the coaching duties at San Angelo next season. Under the present lineup, San Angelo and Brownwood are in the same district. The clash of the two teams will, therefore, attract more than the customary attention.

Gene Taylor's team at Spur last fall was capable of holding its own with nearly any "A" team in Texas though it was a "B" aggregation. Only two defeats were chalked up against Spur—a 20-14 loss at the hands of Pampa, probably the most powerful club in the state, and a 20-0 loss to Cisco at a time when Connell and Ray were still in the Lobo lineup. The season before, Taylor's team lost only one game.

Brownwood's new coach formerly attended T. C. U. where he played in basketball and baseball. He has been coaching four years, having coached at Post before going to Spur.

He doubtless has the ability to give Brownwood a contender provided the city lends its encouragement for, without the intense backing of the town, even the most capable coach is severely handicapped. And Brownwood is a tough spot for high school football. The town is big enough to produce a winner but the enthusiasm there seems to be mainly for the two college teams.

The Big Spring Steers are the basketball champions of two districts (the territory embraced last year by the Oil Belt football district) and will carry West Texas colors into the state championship tournament. The Steers were victorious, 31 to 24, last night over the Breckenridge Buckaroos, winning the series in two straight games. The Steers came from behind in both games. Six hundred fans saw the battle last night.

Oil Belt coaches, in past summers, have attended the coaching schools—of Knute Rockne, Pop Warner and Zuppke. An opportunity to acquire new ideas from two of the finest coaches in the country will be offered when Wallace Wade, who created the Alabama system, and Jimmy Phelan, who gave Purdue a Big Ten championship in 1929, will hold a coaching school at Texas Tech.

Abilene has 35 boys out for track and field. Howard Green is counted on as the chief point-maker. He is proclaimed a "crack" sprinter at all distances up to 440 yards. An injury kept Green out of district and state contests last year but he is expected by Abilene fans to shine in those tournaments this spring. Jack Smith, star of the strong basketball team, is a high jumper and high hurdler. Relay prospects are also announced as good. Bud Dryden, Ralph Balanz, Green and J. C. Hardin or

Glenn Wyatt (the last-named being the former Sweetwater quarterback) are likely to compose the team.

San Angelo is plunging earnestly into track practice not only for the glory of winning but to develop speed for next season's football team, we read. This procedure worked out well with Ranger. In the spring of 1929, Ranger paid little attention to track—and that fall the Bulldog eleven was unusually slow. Last spring, Ranger went into track work enthusiastically—and the football team last fall was far faster than the 1929 edition. The hurdles and dashes should help produce another fast-stepping club—and speed is important on the gridiron not only on the part of the backfield men but linemen as well. Remember how Dick Murray, the tackle, used to get down under punts and do you recall how he outran the Breckenridge man and saved a touchdown on an intercepted pass? If the guards can come out of the line and get into the interference swiftly, the gains are more impressive. And of course fast ends who can dash deeply into enemy territory to receive passes are invaluable and if a center has a little speed he can get somewhere after plucking a hostile pass from the atmosphere.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Text: Luke 10:1-11, 17, 21, 22.
 After these things the Lord appointed other 70 also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

A DINING-ROOM TRAGEDY!

TABLES spread with delicious food... most of it soft, highly refined—lacking in the "bulk" and iron your body must have to keep well and strong.

This is the dining-room tragedy that occurs daily in millions of homes. No wonder most people suffer from constipation. No wonder headaches, backaches, and dull days are frequent!

Just add one delicious food to your table—and you will help correct all this suffering. Add Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in some form every day.

ALL-BRAN adds the necessary "bulk" or "roughage"—and iron—that is so often lacking in our diet today. This bulk is needed to prevent constipation—to sweep the system clean laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

Go your ways; behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.

And into whatsoever house ye shall enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the laborer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same and say,

Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us (to our feet), we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

And the 70 returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for it seemed good in thy sight.

All things are delivered to me of my Father; and no man knoweth who the Son is but the Father; and who the Father is but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

Gandhi's First Taste of Freedom

"I am happy to see the sunlight, to breathe the pure air" . . . And here, in this striking first picture of his release from Poona Prison, you see Mahatma Gandhi, India's bespectacled little Nationalist leader, as he quit his cell to take up anew the fight for independence from British rule. He now has called a conference of other Indian patriots to discuss a new constitution for India in accordance with the recent Round Table Conference in London. He was incarcerated for eight months for political disobedience.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 1, Jesus Sending Forth Missionaries. Luke 10:1-11, 17, 21, 22.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist. The method by which Jesus proclaimed his message and made it influential in the brief years of his ministry is set before us in the lesson that tells of the sending forth of 70 missionaries in addition to the inner circle of 12 disciples.

Possibly we are too apt to think that Jesus had no systematic method, that he depended simply upon casual contacts and free preaching from place to place as opportunity arose, as some parts of the New Testament story might suggest. If we had only the general record without the evidence of the training of the 12 and of the appointment of the 70 to go two and two through the land, we should have much warrant for assuming that Jesus had no method other than that of scattering the seeds of truth and leaving the spiritual results to the divine influence.

Here in our lesson, however, we have a clear insight into the work of Jesus, not only in preaching, but also in organizing preaching. Perhaps we should lay stress upon the fact that the organization that Jesus effected was an organization of preaching. He did not, apparently, establish an institution. He did not start first of all by building up a great organization. His methods and his organization were themselves closely related to spiritual ends.

Modern churches might stand aghast at the taking of relatively untrained men and sending them out to preach; for it would appear that Jesus did not subject the 70 whom he sent forth to anything like the long years of study and training which are regarded as necessary for a modern minister.

We may assume too readily, however, that these 70 were untrained. The Jews had one of the greatest systems of schools and of teachers ever known prior to the development of popular education in the modern world. Every Jewish boy was trained in the law. We may assume that the entire 70 were of the type of devout and earnest people, trained in religion, who had been looking for the coming of the Messiah and whose background of religious life and teaching prepared them admirably for the task that Jesus assigned them.

A Simple Message. Moreover, if one could sense at all the message that these 70 had to proclaim, we should find that probably it was a very simple message, based rather directly upon their experience with Jesus and the reception into their own hearts and minds of the truth that he had to declare.

One wonders at times whether we do not make too much of preaching in the modern world in the sense of associating it with extensive and elaborate discourses. Great preaching has always been characteristic of great religious epochs. And it is impossible to dissociate the great and large expression of religion with the great and large experience of it in the souls of men.

One would not in any sense disparage the need or the power of preaching. But preaching is often apt to become formal and involved, making a mystery of simple things and departing from the vital realities of experience and the elemental values that all Christian preaching ought to maintain. The preacher and the teacher will always wish to bring his methods and his work to the test of New Testament simplicity and New Testament effectiveness.

That the preaching of the 70 was effective is evidenced in the record. So successful were the 70 in proclaiming their word of truth and in the exercise of their ministry that they were evidently immediately assailed with the temptation that too often comes to the successful preacher; namely, the temptation of magnifying his own powers.

Success even for the teacher or preacher brings its perils, and it is in the very hour of one's seeming triumph that he needs to commit himself anew to God in humility and in consecration, rejoicing not so much that devils are subject unto him as that his name is written in the Book of Life.

Must Carry on Mission. Out of these simple methods of the Master came ultimately a great organization, far greater and vaster than anything that he himself established, possibly greater and vaster than he contemplated. But whatever we may think of the Church and its organization, as found in our day, it is necessary that we should not depart from the simple methods by which the Church itself was brought into being.

When the Church ceases to preach and to make known the power of the Savior of Men, no enlargement of its method, no vastness of its organization, can keep it essentially Christian. It is the spirit of Christ and the fulfillment of the commission of Christ that makes the Church worth to be called by his name. In the sending forth of the 70 the Church may still study its commission for its most distinctive service.

3 things to stop a cold "Pape's" does them all!

Now, just a pleasant tablet and relief for your cold begins, instantly. And Pape's Cold Compound relieves all symptoms of colds. It does the three things any doctor will tell you are necessary to check a cold.

"Pape's" reduces irritation and swelling of the nasal lining. So breathing becomes easy; discharge stops; the head clears. "Pape's" encourages perspiration; banishes that aching, feverish, weak feeling which is due to inactivity of the pores. "Pape's" kills cold germs; opens the bowels; takes germs and the acid-wastes of colds right out of your system.

Next time a cold starts, try Pape's Cold Compound and learn the reason for its tremendous sale and popularity. Just remember the name "Pape's". All drug stores—35c.

SPLASHING WATER CRUELTY.
By United Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—If a husband splashes his wife with water to take the wave out of her hair, does it constitute cruel and abusive treatment? Judge John C. Leggat thought so and granted Mrs. Rose Gomes a divorce on those grounds.

Texas Mother's Lucky Find

WHEN we find that some slight adjustment makes a marvelous improvement in a child we wonder why we hadn't thought before to give the child this help.

A good example is the experience of Mrs. T. N. Atchley, 2204 N. Pearl St., Dallas. She says: "My little girl was doing fairly well but I noticed she didn't eat like she should and didn't seem to have much energy."
"I wanted to do something for her, and I heard a lot about California Fig Syrup, so I gave Imogene some. She improved so much I wonder why I didn't do something for her stomach and bowels before. It relieved her sluggishness, gave her a good appetite and plenty of energy."
To point up a child's appetite, increase energy and strength, assist digestion and assimilation, there's nothing more effective than pure vegetable California Fig Syrup. Doctors advise its use to open the bowels during colds and children's diseases, or whenever bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, listlessness, etc., warn of constipation.

The genuine always bears the name California. So look for that when buying. At all drugstores.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT

PARIS.—Because dresses are very long for evening, and many of them so for afternoon with even daytime frocks 12 inches from the ground, stockings have grown increasingly important. Now that may not sound to you exactly as it should because you are probably thinking that because dresses are longer, hosiery will not show as much of itself and therefore will have less significance. But listen, that is the very reason for its importance. Because so little of the leg is exposed it is absolutely essential that "that little" be perfectly covered or it will mar the whole costume.
Stockings will, in general, match the dresses with which they are worn. In fact, shoes and stockings will match. Silk dyers have worked closely with the designers and have perfected color blends that, regardless of different types of materials, the exact shade is produced in leather, silk, wool, cotton and metal brocades. This is an achievement because it is something that has not been done before. Skin tints and sun tans will still be good for resort wear, and the newer weaves of smart last year, will have a vogue for sport purposes, leaving the webby silks in undisputed possession of Fashion's formal foot.

MENUS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

MANY of our pet superstitions about foods, cooking methods and digestibility are being shattered by scientific investigation and research. Some of the beliefs are based on prejudice and tradition, others on the unhappy experience of a few individuals with digestive peculiarities, and almost none on a sound knowledge of nutrition.

There are, of course, some people with whom certain foods "do not agree." When this is discovered, it is well to avoid those foods. One should be sure, however, that the idiosyncrasy is real and not fancied.

Persons who are in normal health, and who do not over-indulge in some specially liked and delicious food may enjoy almost any palatable combination with no misgivings.

One fallacy that is quite commonly encountered is the one that acid foods produce acidity in the system. The taste of food is no guide to its final reaction in the body, for it is only after the system has made use of its fuel that the nature of the ash can be determined. Some foods after being digested and utilized by the body, leave an acid reaction in the blood and others an alkaline reaction. Although lemons are sour to the taste because of the organic acids they contain, the effect of the lemon is the effect of its ash, which is basic, not acid. Apples, bananas, muskmelons, oranges and potatoes have been found experimentally to be very efficient in reducing body acidity.

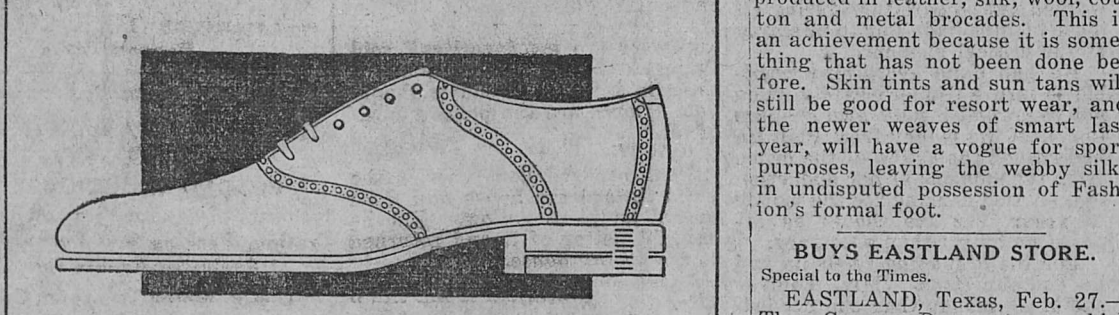

In order to maintain a balanced diet it is important that foods having an acid reaction are adequately offset by those having an alkaline reaction. Generally speaking, fruits, vegetables and milk leave an alkaline ash. Breadstuffs and cereals, meat, fish, eggs, peas, adequate substitute for potatoes. Pancakes, waffles, muffins, and breads of all sorts are not themselves unwholesome food, but they have a bad reputation with many people. In the first place they are usually eaten without proper mastication on account of their softness in structure. Second, they are usually served with much butter and a syrup of some variety, and the tendency is to eat largely of such combinations to the exclusion of other more essential foods. Third, they are very appetizing and cause most people to overeat.

Veal is no more indigestible than fish, chicken or beef. In France it is given to invalids as we given chicken in this country. The practice of pouring milk on cream or fruits was formerly considered a poor thing to do. Now we are told that the acid of the fruit hastens the digestion of the milk.
