World's Fair Trip Is Fine Vacation Says "Al" Tune

"There is one opportunity that I hope none of the motorists of this city will miss—a vacation visit to the World's Fair—because it is the chance of a lifetime," says A. L. Tune, Firestone dealer.

"The Firestone factory and exhibition building—one of the greatest attractions of the Fair—is both fascinating and educational," Mr. Tune continued.

"You will see the crude rubber being prepared in the huge 35-ton miking machine, the Firestone high-stretch cords being gum-dipped in the spectacular Firestone gum-dipping machine, the component parts of the tire being assembled, the tire being formed and then being cured in the automatic vulcanizing molds.

"You will be delighted with the dynamic displays of all Firestone products, and the scientific rubber displays in the great Hall of Science, where Firestone has been chosen to represent the rubber industry."

"Upon arrival at the Firestone factory and exhibition building—conveniently situated at the 23rd Street entrance—you will receive a 36-page book showing with pictures the story of tire manufacture, together with many other interesting facts about rubber and our exhibits there.

Pretty Little Party For Three Year Old

Mrs. J. Frank Sparks entertained a lovely little group of children from three to four years of age, on the lawn of the Sparks residence Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the third all important birthday of their son, Dickie.

Charming games were led by Mrs. Sparks, and the children were served from three small tables, set on the lawn.

Each table had white covers and gay paper napkins, and refreshments were ice cream and small cakes.

The children were seated in wee kindergarten chairs, for the "party" and resembled a circle of flowers. Those present: Kathleen Colie, Sue Bender, Annette Bender, Bobby King, Jimmy Crossley, Dan Colie, Joe H. Jones Jr., P. L. Crossley Jr., Junior Brown, wee Stanley Joe Stephen.

Mrs. Sparks was assisted by her daughter Patsy and son Ben; mothers present were Mrs. P. L. Crossley and Mrs. Joe C. Stephen.

Informal Luncheon

Mrs. James H. Cheatham Jr., has as her guest for informal noon family luncheon, Thursday, Mrs. T. F. McManus of Iowa City, Iowa who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor, and Mrs. P. G. Russell.

Building Permits Show An Increase

AUSTIN.—So enthusiastic has been the recovery in business activity during recent weeks that the more realization of a normal seasonal gain no longer causes any stir, according to the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. It takes an increase far beyond the fondest expectations to draw any attention whatsoever from business.

Just such an increase occurred in the building industry in Texas during the month of June. To say that the total amount of building permits awarded in the 38 cities reporting to the Bureau of Business Research reached $1,897,447 is really not doing full justice to the record for the month, because that total is with only one exception the lowest on record for June since 1926.

But it should be pointed out that the June total represented a gain of 41.6 per cent over that for May when ordinarily (on the basis of experience since 1926) there is a drop of about 23 per cent between those two months, that for the first time in 44 months since the fateful October, 1929, the current month shows a gain as compared with the corresponding month a year earlier (in this case 42.2 per cent) and that gains as compared with either May, or June a year ago, were well distributed over the entire state. The building industry in Texas is at least not still declining.

Most notable among the gains recorded was that for the city of Fort Worth, where building permits totaling $796,110 were awarded during June. Houston had a total of $273,420, Dallas $247,244, and Austin and San Antonio completed the group having building permits of over $100,000 with $157,684 and $117,214 respectively.

Building material prices showed no change during June, according to the Annalist index of wholesale commodity prices. At 107.0, the building materials part of this index stood at approximately the same level as in May (106.7) and in June last year (107.2). This index is based on the average for 1913 as equal to 100.

Fires Brought Santa Claus to Children

WASHINGTON.—Two thousand children of two Maine towns, Ellsworth and Auburn, recently were the recipients of gifts of thousands of toys of all kinds, given them by the National Junior Red Cross.

The towns both were destroyed by fire last month, and relief for the hundreds of families, who lost all their possessions, was provided by the National Red Cross.

The junior organization, however, realized that the younger children would be badly in need of something with which to occupy themselves until the cities were rebuilt and normal life resumed. Hence a drive was started to gather all the toys possible.

Junior Red Cross societies of Washington, D. C.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Portland, Me., Middleboro, and Boston, Mass.; Concord, N. H.; New York, White Plains and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and Norfolk, Va., supplied the playthings. In addition to these, some organizations sent money with which to purchase other articles.

The toys were distributed at special parties held in Auburn and Ellsworth by the Junior Red Cross.

Idaho Farmers See Short Potato Crop

BOISE, Idaho.—While wheat prices soared to new highs of several months, Idaho farmers reported possibilities of the shortest crop in several years. G. T. Tudson, marketing specialist, said following a tour of wheat districts.

Extreme cold killed most of the winter wheat and hot, dry winds have caused heavy damage to spring wheat, Hudson said. In the southeastern section of the state, crops that averaged a total production of 30 million bushels in recent years, will be approximately 20,000,000 bushels.

Unwashed Inmates Cause Prison Protest

TUCSON, Ariz.—Inmates of the Pima county jail here are particular, according to Deputy Sheriff Frank Murphy, who was called to quell a disturbance when prisoners objected to the presence of two unwashed itinerants.

The prisoners protested the lack of daintiness of the pair, Murphy reported. In their effort to rid the bastle of the two men, the other inmates protested to Justice C. V. Budlong with the following note:

"... they are the filthiest pair that ever broke into this place and we don't care to associate with them."

HEN DENTED 14 ... Hen Dented Radiator And Broke Fan Belt

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill.—Dr. C. H. Diehl, returning recently from an emergency call into the country noticed the engine of his automobile was running a high temperature.

He stopped for a diagnosis. A faulty metabolism, he mused. He found the fan-belt broken and his radiator badly dented. Searching for the cause he found it lodged between the radiator and license plate—a hen, done to a turn.

Drunkenness Shows Decline at Dallas

DALLAS.—It may be the heat, it may be anticipation of legalized beer—whatever the reason, the fact remains that drunkenness is on the decline here.

Police record for June showed only 386 arrests for drunkenness, whereas in May there were 576.

1701 LOG UNCOVERED

SARONA, Wis.—A log believed to have been cut 232 years ago and bearing the date 1701 carved deeply upon it, was uncovered in a peat bog near here by Howard Parker and Von West. The portion of the log beneath the three-foot layer of peat was well preserved. Peat is known to accumulate at the rate of about one foot per century. Parker and West believe the log was cut and dated by an early Wisconsin explorer. Historians state that the first white men came to the state in 1660.

KINGS CITY, Calif.—A sign recovered from a local bootlegger has been used with excellent results by a local judge. The sign brought in by the raiding officers and posted by the judge reads "No Se Fia." In English it means "No credit" and when Mexicans ask for time to pay fines, the judge merely points to the sign.

Automotive Men Over State Talk On Industry Code

The significance to the automotive industry of President Roosevelt's action in placing rayon, silk and cotton twine industries under the industrial code of the textile industry was a major subject of joint discussion between members of the north delegation that recently attended a statewide meeting at San Antonio.

After a conference of north Texas independent automotive men Monday a joint statement was made by the heads of the federated automotive associations to the effect that "the action of Gen. Hugh Johnson in asking the automobile manufacturers to make separate codes of manufacturing and of services after marketing cars to users, constitutes a safeguard for the little man and the little business that is in the majority in the 'after market' automotive field, if he will respond to the administration's request to study and submit code suggestions before the basic automotive code is adopted. But, if the 13,565 independent and authorized service stations, constituting 87 per cent of the outlets, should withhold their suggestions by the date of Gen. Johnson's appeal until the car manufacturers' outlets, numbering 13 per cent of the after-market industry, offers an acceptable code, then the powers in the act for the president to set up a code for the silent sub-divisions and the precedent in placing rayon, silk and cotton thread industries under the textile code may be duplicated in the automotive after-market industry."

Blanks and forms for aiding local supply maintenance and replacement groups and individuals to make code recommendations are being mailed from the federation in the Dallas Chamber of Commerce building for the entire state. The replies of the groups or individual automotive men are to be forwarded to Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas or other nearest supply, maintenance of automotive federation organization, whose heads will constitute a state executive committee for consolidating the code suggestions, according to C. C. Hayley, Dallas secretary, acting temporarily as clearing house of the automotive recovery information.

OAK GROVE

OAK GROVE, July 21.—The drought of near 45 days duration was temporarily broken here last Saturday morning by a slow rain continuing nearly four hours. Sufficient moisture fell to be very beneficial to growing crops, but not enough to put out any stock water.

The thermometer registered a temperature of 110 degrees in the shade here last Friday, the hottest weather this community has witnessed in many years. Man and beast suffered alike with the intense heat as did the growing crops. Insects that prey on young corn and feed such as grain sorghums seems to have been destroyed by the intense heat in such numbers as to relieve these crops of the burden of support of the insects and together with the recent rains have taken on new life, and give promise of goodly yield this fall.

Master J. C. O'Brien of Carbon is spending the week with his uncle, Mr. C. P. Hastings in this community.

Ray Welsh of Carbon was an evening visitor in this community last Monday. Mrs. J. D. Cannaday and her mother, Mrs. M. E. Haslett are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hastings in the Pleasant Hill community.

Claude Cobb sprained his ankle very badly one day last week. He was carrying a sack of potatoes on his shoulder and when he stepped out of the barn door his foot turned and was unable to stand the combined weight of his body and the sack of potatoes. It was thought at first it might be broken but he is able to limp around on it at this writing.

Another light rain fell here Tuesday which has helped to cool the air and will be very beneficial to growing crops.

New Type Motor Car Is Designed

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—A new type motor car, radically different from any on the market, has been designed here by W. Sterling Burgess, yacht builder, and soon will be put on the road for tests.

Burgess, a former lieutenant commander in the navy, has designed the car much after the models of the class C dirigibles, which he developed. Wind resistance is cut 80 per cent, compared with the present models, he says, and the chassis is mounted on three wheels instead of the conventional four.

The cars are bullet shaped and come to a point in the rear. They are built to seat four people. The single wheel, at the rear, is used for steering. The front wheels drive the car, which is powered with an eight-cylinder motor.

Thirty Virginians have demanded of Governor Pollard the right to vote on repeal. We presume the state's wets, if victorious at the polls, intend to celebrate with the Virginia reel.

BLIND STREET NO OBSTACLE WICHITA, Kan.—Blind streets mean nothing to the Wichita fire department. Recently a truckload of fire fighters was speeding to a fire. A new driver steered the truck into a blind street. Whipping the machine over into plowed ground with the ladder wagon and equipment bouncing along, the driver quickly arrived at a crossroad and proceeded to the fire.

MAN TO SAIL OWN YACHT KENOSHA, Wis.—Captain Tony Pfarr, veteran Kenosha yacht pilot, this summer will take his first cruise in the 35-foot Nancy, which he built in his spare time during six months. Captain Pfarr's daughter, Nancy, for whom the yacht was named, broke a bottle of wine over the craft at the launching ceremonies. It is the third yacht the captain has built.

CITIZENS MUST EXAMINE WALKS SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—City employees who do not speak to their friends while walking on the streets will now have a good excuse. They have just been notified that they must examine sidewalks as they walk along and report any defects. The order resulted after a citizen won a damage suit from the city on a sidewalk defect.

We don't know how that newspaper debate over "Should Honey-moons Be Abolished?" is going to end up, but it is with breathless anxiety that we await the vote of the Niagara Falls hotel keepers.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE LORD IS GOOD: O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.—Psalm 34: 8.

MILLIONS FOR FEDERAL HIGHWAY BUILDING

Uncle Sam will hand out about $600,000,000 into industrial and labor coffers "by the states and federal government joining in a gigantic highway construction program to spread employment and to increase purchasing power." Uncle Sam, through congress and the president, has made available to the states $400,000,000 for the construction of roads in the federal highway system and on secondary roads.

According to a survey made by the Associated Press many states will add about $200,000,000 to that sum. Missouri is expected to spend $40,000,000; Illinois about $88,000,000, and Texas about $19,000,000. Half a dozen states will spend no money for roads except the federal funds allotted them. Unbalanced budgets or highway department deficits were principal causes of their decision. Five American commonwealths, including California, do not know how much they will spend for highways during the year because of pending legislation, funds in closed banks, reorganization of highways departments and new budget systems.

Texas appears to be all right. Texans are digging their way out.

Federal tax collections in the last fiscal year nearly doubled those of the preceding year. Indeed, first official figures of the internal revenue bureau disclosed the cheering information. Get the figures: Total income corporations and miscellaneous federal taxes collected in the Lone Star state during the year ended June 30, $34,051,348.12. In the previous 12-month period the total was $18,303,288.35. According to a Washington correspondent "in contrast with the nearly doubling Texas tax collections was the increase of only $58,595,366 in collections for the entire country." This was almost negligible percentage increase as total payments were $1,616,223,408.78." There are jobless men awaiting jobs. Building of real highways represent solid investment in permanent improvement. It is for the state highway commissioners to act.

COTTON TEXTILE APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt has approved the cotton textile code of the industrial recovery program. In giving his approval the chief magistrate declared the abolishment of child labor in the industry, provided by the agreement which sets up a $12 and a $13 minimum wage in the South and the North, respectively, and a 40-hour maximum week, AS ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING POINTS IN A NEW ERA OF AMERICAN BUSINESS. Furthermore, he said, "Many significant circumstances attend this result. Child labor in this industry is here abolished. After years of fruitless efforts and discussion this ancient atrocity went out in a day, because this law permits employes to do by agreement that which none of them could separately and live in competition." All of this is a reminder that the textile program for the first time in history provides a minimum wage for workers in the industry and a maximum of 40 hours a week work for each employe. More than 77 per cent of the industry subscribed to the code, and the president insisted that the other 23 per cent be given opportunity to be heard. Is this old world jogging along? Yes, it is more than jogging along. It is flying!

"OUR GREAT MARKETS IN THE YEARS AHEAD"

For all that is of a startling nature in a news sense from London and its world economic congress turn to the telegraphic pages of the press. For the highlights and side-lights of the falling of the curtain on the busiest session in history of the American congress, turn to the same pages.

For a real hint to Americans, at home or abroad, digest this bit of advice from a Colliers' Weekly editorial: "Our greatest markets in the years ahead are Canada, Latin-America and the Orient. What South America or the Chinese buy from us depends very largely among other things on the value of their currency."

In bygone years Great Britain demonetized silver, the money of the Orient, and brought about the debasement of the white metal. Now Great Britain has deserted the gold standard and the American dollar and the British pound are running a race for trade supremacy in the markets of the world.

RAIL ECONOMICS TO BE GIVEN A THOROUGH STUDY

Joseph B. Eastman of the Interstate Commerce Commission is the federal co-ordinator of transportation. A study of ways to economize on the handling of freight and passengers by American railroads to be started immediately under the railroad coordination plan. First, the freight rate proposition will be handled. Now the rail chiefs will be invited to submit their recommendations and go all the road in the game. Coming: A very busy fall and winter.

IT MIGHT BE A LITTLE CONFUSING AT FIRST

Ford Sales for June Ahead of June 1932

DETROIT, Mich.—Sales of Ford 8-cylinder cars and trucks in the United States for the month of June, just ended, exceeded those of June a year ago by 19.4 per cent. It was the biggest month in 8-cylinder car sales since the Ford Motor company began producing them over a year ago.

Another evidence of the growing popularity of the eight-cylinder car is reflected in the sales of Ford cars for the month of June in Wayne county, Mich. County registrations show that 2,555 Ford V-8's were delivered to customers during the month. This is an increase of 25 per cent over the May sales. It is more than the combined month's sales in the county of the two nearest other makes.

Movie Lost Suit For Alleged Cripple

SAN FRANCISCO.—For the first time in California criminal history a motion picture was used to testify against the defendant. And on the strength of the testimony he was found guilty.

George Visbach entered a damage suit for permanent injuries against the Cudahy Packing company. He claimed he could not bend his body from the waist, walk without limping, or conduct himself normally otherwise.

A small room adjoining the court was converted into a theatre and the picture was projected, showing Visbach backing his car out of a garage, neck craned, picnicking with his girl friend, vigorously rowing a boat.

The civil suit was thrown out, a charge of perjury entered, the defendant found guilty.

Mother Reunited With Son, Lost 21 Years

SWANTON, O.—An overjoyed mother here has been reunited with a son whom she mourned for dead for 21 years.

The mother is Mrs. Augusta Halstead, 81. Her son, K. D. Raker, 47, an electrical engineer in Oregon, returned here recently after many years of absence, during which her letters to him had been returned unclaimed.

Mrs. Halstead was informed many years ago that her son had died in a forest fire in Oregon.

Pheasant Flew Into Windshield

MODESTO, Calif.—Ralph Lundahl, Modesto Junior college student, wondered today whether the manner in which he bagged a pheasant out of season could be interpreted as a violation of the game laws.

The pheasant flew into Lundahl's windshield while he was en route to school. The windshield shattered and Lundahl went to a hospital for treatment of more than a score of facial lacerations.

INITIALED TURTLE CAME BACK

DENNIS, Mass.—Twenty years ago Earl Davidson, local merchant, found a turtle and carved his initials on its back. The other day the turtle showed up near Davidson's store, the initials still plainly visible.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

Modern business concerns will always keep up with the growth of the home city.

As the city grows they will develop in a business way, extending trade territory and keeping up with the times in stocks and selling methods.

They believe in courtesy, and the first courtesy is to show the people who they are where they are and what they have by newspaper advertising!

Every business needs plenty of friends.

Luxury Boosts Hospital Costs

WASHINGTON.—Although only one out of 45 hospitals has closed as a result of the depression, while other institutions have failed at a far greater rate, expensive hospital furniture and luxurious equipment have replaced simple hospital needs.

Surgeon General Cumming of the United States public health service points out in the current issue of "Modern Hospital," published today, "in our aim for perfection we have allowed certain unnecessary luxuries to become prevalent."

"There is a tendency to complain about cost," Cumming says, "and at the same time to insist on private rooms and special nurses, when small wards and group nursing insure acceptable and sometimes better care."

"Although 85 per cent of diseases are said to present no difficulties in diagnosis and yield readily to treatment, we are given to ceremonial uses of X-ray and other expensive laboratory procedures and are unduly committed to scientific rituals, some of which might be omitted."

Mint Had Busy Season For Money

PHILADELPHIA.—Lempiras and balboas, centimos and centavos, together with American coins ranging from the golden double eagles to one-cent pieces, rolled from the Philadelphia mint during the past year.

During the 12 months 22,309,500 American coins, valued at $27,560,220, were minted. In addition, 5,921,000 Latin-American pieces were struck.

Included in the list were 445,500 double eagles, and 1,754,000 eagles, 3,788,000 quarters and 16,322,000 pennies.

For Panama the mint produced 183,000 one-half balboa pieces, 246,000 one-quarter balboas, 250,000 one-tenth balboas, all of silver, and 332,800 nickel five-centesimo pieces.

Ancient English law, a writer informs us, recognized no less than 178 capital crimes. Had there been in those days, neighbors who operated noisy lawn mowers at 6:30 a. m., the number doubtless would have been 179.

To Satisfy—a cigarette has to be seasoned just right... You buy food—steak, flour, corn meal, or fruit—it is cooked and brought to the table and tastes just fine. While the same food, cooked by somebody else, may not taste right at all. That's the difference between cooks—knowing how to season food. It's somewhat like this with cigarettes. Many kinds of cigarettes have good tobaccos, but they are not mixed right; and then again they are not seasoned with the right amount of the right kind of Turkish Tobacco. Chesterfields are seasoned just right... they are milder and taste better... and that's why They Satisfy."

LONG PITCHES TWO HIT GAME FOR LONE STAR

Dan Long, southpaw twirler of the Lone Star team in the Twilight League, pitched perfect ball for six of the seven innings played against the Lions yesterday afternoon, allowing no hits, no walks and not a Lion reaching first base. In the seventh he was nicked for a triple by P. Adkins and a single by Killingsworth, while Landers was making the only error for the Lone Star, which accounted for the lone Lion tally. The final score was 19 to 1.

Three strikeouts were registered by Long in running his hitless innings to six.

Brown of the Lions turned in the most sensational play of the day, which brought cheers and applause from the fans. He raced in behind the rocks in left field to make a running, shoestring catch of a hard-hit fly that looked good for a double. He played well throughout the game, making several long runs for catches.

The Lone Star club got 19 hits off Killingsworth in scoring their 19 runs, while the Lions were making but four errors, though their play was ragged in spots.

Box Car Village—Where the Rent's $3 a Month

One of New York's most unique communities, not many minutes from Times Square, is the Box Car Village in upper Manhattan where 50 men are living happily paying $3 a month rent or $6 a week for board and shelter. The village, operated by two women, is shown in a general view above. The interior of a typical box car, which is equipped to sleep four men, is pictured below. At left the village chef, Frank Flaske, prepares supper for the inhabitants.

How to get to SLEEP

When you can't sleep, it's because your nerves won't let you. Don't waste time "counting sheep." Don't lose half your needed rest in reading. Take two tablets of Bayer Aspirin. drink a glass of water—and go to sleep.

This simple remedy is all that's needed to insure a night's rest. It's all you need to relieve a headache during the day—or to dispose of other pains. Get the genuine tablets of Bayer manufacture and you will get immediate relief.

Bayer Aspirin dissolves always immediately—gets to work without delay. This desirable speed is not dangerous; it does not depress the heart. Just be sure you get the genuine tablets stamped thus:

(MEDICINE SMELL)

New Way Ends Body Odor by Removing Cause, Stale Perspiration Curds, with Deep-Pore Cleansing

THERE are certain people who refuse to believe that a medicine is any good unless it is strong and bitter!

Perhaps you have thought this about remedies for Body Odor—that you could correct it only with a strong and evil-smelling soap...

Now happily the cause of body odor—Stale Perspiration Curds—has been discovered. And research chemists have developed a quick and odorless way to end it instantly.

Stale perspiration contains calcium, salt and particles of fat. The thick and sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with this waste material and set it free. Instead, it hardens into clogging curds!

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed to remove the objectionable curds—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely.

Try Kirk's Coco Castile today. Feel the invigorating effect of its deep-pore cleansing action. Experience the thrill of a clean, odorless body. The cake is half again larger, half again heavier than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. It is made by the largest soap makers in America. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

Manchoukuo Is a Puzzle to One Correspondent

By MILES W. VAUGHN
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1933 by United Press)

HSINKING, Manchukuo, July 19.—Japan already has succeeded in the first stage of her effort in Manchuria. Manchukuo is a real state—entitled to a place in the family of nations.

That is Japan's view of the present situation in Manchuria.

Manchukuo is a "puppet" of the Japanese army. Its officials are figureheads. As a state it rests purely on the sword and the bayonet.

That is the general Chinese view of Manchuria today.

Manchuria is in a state of flux. It will be years before any prediction as to the future of the state can be made.

That is the opinion of a small but highly intelligent group of Chinese, Japanese and Occidental observers.

It is all but impossible to get accurate information about the broader trends in Manchuria. Experts disagree, facts are in conflict.

In the temporary quarters of the Imperial Japanese embassy Field Marshal Nobuyoshi Muto, military and diplomatic representative of the emperor of Japan, pursues his way in the calm certainty of success.

In the headquarters of the Japanese Wwanung army lieutenant general, Kuniaki Koiso, chief of staff, performs prodigies of harr work as he prepares for what he admits will be a crucial summer.

In the calm of an ancient Chinese Yamen, Henry Pu Yi, one time boy emperor of China squares his shoulders and prays for strength to lead his Manchu banners to the glories they once enjoyed.

In the streets thousands of Chinese coolies work night and day hurrying the construction of new buildings, roads, a sanitary system and the other improvements which must be completed to make Hsinking wortsv of the name of "capital city of Manchukuo."

In government offices Japanese and European business men hunt for concessions and exhibit vast paper schemes for railways, gold mines, petroleum fields, and industrial establishments.

Hsinking is enormously active and confusing. But in the background General Koiso works endlessly, driving forward, he at least is sure of the foundations of Manchukuo.

Plan To Restore Sam Houston Home

By United Press
HUNTSVILLE, Texas.—Steamboat House, the strange dwelling which Gen. Sam Houston built and which was the scene of his death, may be restored and made a shrine of the Lone Star state.

J. E. Josey, publisher of the Houston Post and former resident of Huntsville, has started a movement to restore the historic home, which still stands on a hillside near the Huntsville business district.

Houston, liberator and first president of the Texas republic, built the house in the shape of an old-time steamboat—hence its name. Houston's favorite room was in the "Texas," or pilot-house.

The general died in the house shortly after the Civil war.

His only surviving son, Col. Andrew Jackson Houston of LaPorte, born in Steamboat House, is helping Josey with the plans.

Washington Faces Hard Repeal Battle

By United Press
OLYMPIA, Wash.—Hundreds sought to be among the first to file as candidates for the convention, Oct. 3, when the state will vote on the 22nd amendment.

The repeal election will be held here Aug. 29. Wets feel they face a harder fight here in comparison with most states. They pointed out that Washington will elect delegates by legislative districts and not by popular vote, as in most states. Thus the heaviest wet majorities in repeal counties would be useless in their fights in the dry counties.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

EVERY home-maker makes heavy demands on her refrigerator in hot weather. Not only must perishable foods be kept in good condition, but many chilled dishes are needed to tempt lagging appetites. Aside from this, maximum service from a refrigerator means much toward simplifying summer meals. Food can be prepared early in the morning and kept in perfect condition for later serving.

Fruit cocktails, fruit soups, and jellied soups make splendid first courses which should be prepared hours before serving and thoroughly chilled.

Allow Salads to Chill

The salad course can be almost completely prepared in the cool of the morning. All salad materials are much nicer if allowed to chill thoroughly before serving, while salad dressings keep a week on ice and are ready for immediate use.

Main dishes can be prepared, baked and kept in the refrigerator until wanted for reheating. Or choose a jellied meat loaf which can even be prepared the day before. Cold boiled tongue, boiled or baked ham, cold roasts such as lamb and beef are popular and can all be chilled over night to be served as "cold cuts."

These menus for refrigerator meals are simple but interesting and will undoubtedly suggest other menus to you.

Jellied Meat Loaf

MENU I: Jellied meat loaf, lattice potatoes, corn on the cob, cucumber and lettuce salad with Borgonoff cheese dressing, blackberry shortcake, milk, coffee.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Fresh plums, crisp broiled bacon with scrambled eggs, bran and raisins in muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Tired tomato bouillon, ham and potato salad, ad, toasted muffins, sliced peaches, coconut macaroons, milk, tea.

DINNER: Casserole of peas and eggs, broiled tomatoes, stuffed pepper salad, fruit gelatine, ice-box cookies, milk, coffee.

The meat loaf should be prepared the day before and kept in the ice-box. The potatoes can be made and stored in an air-tight box until wanted for reheating. Corn on the cob will cook in eight minutes after the water boils. The shortcake is made of baking powder-biscuit dough prepared for mixing with milk when needed for baking.

MENU II: Cold sliced meat, potatoes, melted cheese sauce, jellied cabbage salad, pineapple ice-box pudding, milk, coffee.

A cold roast of lamb or beef, cold boiled tongue, pressed corned beef, cold boiled ham or baked ham provide variety in cold sliced meats. Potatoes are boiled in their jackets and kept in the ice-box until wanted, when they are peeled and diced and reheated in a white sauce to which grated cheese has been added. Shredded cabbage, grated carrots and minced green peppers are added to a lime jelly and the mixture chilled all day in the refrigerator. Pineapple ice-box pudding is made early in the morning or the day before.

Ranger Junior College Has a Strong Faculty For the Coming Year

By H. S. VON ROEDER, Dean
"As the faculty, so the school," may well be taken as an educational axiom; for in the final analysis, the results achieved with pupils in a large measure characterize the teachers. The state department of education and the Association of Texas Colleges, as well as most other educational accrediting agencies have recognized this truth, in that they have set up certain very definite and rigid standards regarding faculty qualifications that a college must meet before it may be recognized as a first class college and before its credits are affiliated. Ranger Junior College has more than met these requirements and the standing of its faculty is somewhat above that of most junior colleges and also probably above the average of the teachers in the first two years of most senior colleges in the state. An unusually strong faculty has been selected for 1933-34.

R. F. Holloway, B. A., Texas Christian university, with graduate work at the University of Texas and University of Southern California, is continuing his graduate study in the University of Colorado this summer. In addition to his long years of experience as teacher of mathematics in high schools and in various administrative positions, he has taught mathematics in high schools and in various administrative positions, he has taught mathematics in the University of Texas summer school and has served as head of the mathematics department at John Tarleton college and at T. C. U., the latter having been founded by his father-in-law, Dr. Randolph Clark. He was president of Randolph college at Cisco before coming to Ranger, and he was largely responsible for the founding of Ranger Junior College in 1926, of which he has served as president since and as head of the department of mathematics in the past two years. Mr. Holloway was first vice president of the State Teachers association and is at present serving on the resolutions committee of that organization.

H. S. Von Roeder, B. S. in Ed., and M. A., University of Texas, with some work toward his Ph.D. from the same institution, is dean of the college and head of the department of education and psychology. His years of experience as principal of rural and city schools together with his excellent training in the field he is teaching qualify him thoroughly for his position. In his last two years at the University of Texas he was holder of the Peabody Fellowship in education, and during this time he was also vice president of Mu Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, men's national honorary educational fraternity. In his last year at the university, he was educational representative on the men's honor council and also president of the University Educational association. He is a life member of both the state and national educational associations, vice president of the committee on educational progress of the State Teachers association and also vice president of the Texas Association of Junior Colleges, and a member of the Oil Belt Educational association and of the North Texas Secondary School Research society.

C. C. Davis, who has been elected to take the place of O. G. Lanier, as registrar and head of the department of business administration, has a B. B. A. and an M. B. A. from the University of Texas. He has taught commercial work in the evening schools at Fort Worth, Texas, besides his experience in public school work, and he has had three years of experience as teacher in business administration in North Texas State Teachers college, and C. I. A., filling temporary vacancies left by the regular professors going on leaves of absence. He has also served as assistant to the registrar at North Texas State Teachers college. He comes to Ranger Junior college with the highest recommendations as teacher and registrar.

Mrs. Mae Healer, B. A., Abilene Christian college, and graduate work, University of Texas, is dean of Women and assistant registrar. Mrs. Healer is a woman of excellent training, strong personality, and great efficiency. She is also a life member of the National Educational association and a member of the Oil Belt Educational association and of the State Teachers association. Her work with girls and young women is an invaluable feature of Ranger high school and the junior college.

Miss Frances Burrage, B. A., Simmons university and B. S. in Lib. Sc., University of Illinois, is head librarian in the college. She has had thorough training in one of the leading schools of library science in the nation, and she has had experience in the Carnegie library of New York city. She is thoroughly qualified for her work in every respect.

Mrs. Gladys Hunter, B. A. and M. A., Baylor university, has served most efficiently during the past year as head of the department of English and speech. She was re-elected, but due to the board's ruling her contract was automatically cancelled upon marriage this summer, and she is now an applicant to succeed herself for the position she has held. Mrs. Hunter was student assistant in English at Baylor, and she has done research work in English in Louisiana Polytechnic institute and in Southwestern Louisiana institute. She has proven herself thoroughly efficient in her work as head of the English department and the past year Ranger Junior College, under her direction, won the district one-act play contest over such schools as Weatherford and John Tarleton junior colleges.

Mrs. A. Neill, B. A., graduate work in Colorado university and in Southern Methodist university, is instructor in American literature in Ranger High School and Junior College. She is a most proficient and popular teacher, especially in the field of American literature.

Mrs. Margaret Maddox, B. A. and M. A., Baylor university, head of the department of foreign languages, is a graduate with "highest honors" in languages from Baylor university for her M. A. from Baylor. She is a very popular and capable teacher of French, Spanish and Latin.

Miss Gladys E. Pinson, B. A., Arkansas Teachers college, M. A. Peabody college of Vanderbilt university, and post-graduate work in the University of Texas, is head of the department of social sciences. She has the distinction of having been in the Ranger school system longer than any other teacher, and she is a teacher who ranks far above the average in ability and efficiency as a college professor.

Mrs. T. E. Ward, B. S., Sam Houston State Teachers college, M. A., Columbia university, with post-graduate work at the University of California, is continuing her work toward the Ph. D. at Michigan university this summer. Mrs. Ward has been head of the department of natural sciences in the college since its organization, and she has thoroughly demonstrated her efficiency in her department by securing full affiliation in the sciences offered.

T. E. "Tricky" Ward, B. A., Texas Christian university, with graduate work in the University of California, is pursuing his graduate study at the University of Michigan this summer. Mr. Ward, director of physical education, established an enviable record as coach of the Junior College "Texas Rangers." During the past year the "Texas Rangers" beat some of the strongest junior college teams in the state.

R. L. Maddox, B. A., Baylor university, instructor in commercial work and musical director, has attained distinction in this section as director of the band and orchestra.

This review of the faculty reveals the fact that each of the members is a specialist in his or her line of work and that the faculty of Ranger Junior College is well qualified, very capable, and thoroughly efficient.

Vacant House Burns In Ranger Friday

A vacant house in the 800 block on Hague street, Ranger, burned to the ground early Friday morning.

The alarm was received at 2:45 by the fire department, but the exact location of the house was not given. After making a run to Young addition the fire was located but the house was almost burned to the ground.

The department remained on the scene until the fire was out and all danger to other property had passed, though it was impossible to save the burning structure.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

TENINO, WASHINGTON, GOT ITS NAME FROM AN OLD LOGGING LOCOMOTIVE, "NO. 1090," WHICH OPERATED FOR MANY YEARS IN THAT DISTRICT.

THE GREYBEARD PLANT, OF BRAZIL, NOT ONLY GROWS ON TREES, BUT ON TELEGRAPH WIRES AS WELL. BIRDS USE IT FOR NEST-MAKING, AND THE PLANT CONTINUES TO GROW, MAKING A LIVING FABRIC OF THE NEST.

THE GREYBEARD, known in Brazil as Barba de velco, has no roots, and its leaves are so small that they appear to be mere scales. The plant absorbs moisture from the air, and does not harm the object on which it grows, and is not a parasite. At certain times of the year the plant throws out tiny flowers.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Champion? ONE man who probably is getting a big kick out of the muddled three-year-old championship situation is Col. E. R. Bradley. The uncertainties of horse-racing are illustrated not only by the topsyturvy scramble for honors this year among a dozen horses, but by the experience of Bradley himself in that regard.

Col. Bradley has had four winners in the Kentucky Derby since 1921, and twice he sent both winner and place-horse to the post. But of these six horses not one ever has been three-year-old champion.

The only three-year-old champion Bradley ever had was Blue Larkspur, and that one floundered badly in the Derby but went on to prove himself one of the greatest horses of all time.

Ups and Downs WINNING the Derby has seemed to bring bad luck to the Bradley horses. Behave Yourself and Black Servant ran one-two in 1921. There were some great horses on the track that year, and a horse named Grey Lag finally proved himself best of the lot.

Behave Yourself robbed a greater horse than himself (and a greater sire) of Derby victory and never won another race. Black Servant lost by a nose to Grey Lag that year in the Devonshire International.

Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage ran one-two in 1926. But Bradley's Boot to Boot, scratched from the Derby, went on to prove greater than either of those two and to win nearly as much money as both could earn. Crusader was three-year-old champion that year.

Breakdowns THE careers of Bubbling Over and Behave Yourself were brief. Unsoundness, blamed by many horsemen on over-caused preparation for the Derby, caused their retirement from the track.

Bradley's Burgoon King, winner of the 1932 Derby, and Broker's Tip, winner of this year's Blue Grass classic, suffered the same misfortune. A horse named Gust went on last year to win whatever three-year-old championship there was. And Broker's Tip, the Bradley Derby winner this year, popped a small bone in his foot and had to be removed from the tracks.

DID YOU KNOW THAT— THERE must be something in a Harvard education after all. Charley Devens is a shining example. . . . Charley came from the campus to the Yankees last year. . . . this year Manager McCarthy had to pare his squad. . . . so he sent Devens to Newark "for seasoning" . . . and kept the flashy Don Brennan. . . . but Devens didn't believe he was a Newark pitcher. . . . so he commuted daily to Jersey, maintaining an apartment home in New York City. . . . and waited for the news he was confident of receiving. . . . the summons back to the Yankees. . . . finally it came recently. . . . McCarthy called in Devens from the farm and sent Brennan back.

Albino Buffalo Is Born On Range

WASHINGTON.—An albino buffalo, one of the few examples of that particular freak of nature known to man, has been born of the national bison range, near Moiese, Mont., according to the bureau of biological survey of the department of agriculture, which maintains the buffalo sanctuary.

The last albino known to have existed was born in a hard at Pierre, S. D., some 30 years ago, according to the announcement. Dr. W. T. Hornaday, famous naturalist, says that "not over 10 or 11 white buffalo, or white buffalo skins, were ever seen by white men."

Indians always looked upon the albino buffalo with awe and reverence, says the bureau. They believed that it was a special gift from the gods, and shortly after the death of the animal the skin would be offered up as a sacrifice.

We haven't yet heard the outcome of a trial at Auburn, Me., where a husband and wife were chosen to sit on the same jury, but if the jury was able to agree it certainly should surprise a lot of people.

PICTURES OF SILVER

By BEULAH K. HICKS

Isaiah 5:8-12, 18-24.

Isaiah, of royal birth and a friend and associate of kings, was above all a prophet of God. His knowledge of world affairs, his faith and nearness to God, so that he could interpret God's purpose, made him a valuable counselor during these dark days.

The first seven verses in this chapter are a parable of the vineyard where he describes in words of beauty and strength, God's dealings with his chosen people.

He tries to get the attention of the people who have gone into drunkenness, which is the leader of nearly all sin, until, "They heed not the evident hand of Jehovah."

Isaiah's heart was heavy as he looked upon the national life of the people who outwardly were religious, offered sacrifices; brought great offerings; prayed much, yet their daily life was so evil that he called it the wild grape, which is an offensive and stinking fruit in that country.

Isaiah, then in words of strength, pictures the downfall of these people. Because of war, taxes, so great a burden had been laid on the people that the rich had gathered all the land into estates making the humbler class slaves to the nobles and grandees.

Isaiah said, "In mine ears said the Lord of Hosts, 'of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair without inhabitant.'" He then vividly describes the woe that shall come upon them that follow strong drink and tells them that, verse 14:

Therefore he hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory and their multitude, and their pomp and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it.

Then surely he must have seen many modern men of today as he describes minutely others who would descend into this enlarged hell.

He who "draws iniquity with cords of vanity; that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, that put bitter for sweet; wise in their own eyes, which justify the wicked for reward; and they who are mighty to drink wine their end shall be," therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness and their blossom shall go up as dust.

Isaiah's cry from the fourth verse in the parable should ring through our fair land today: "What could have been done more to my vineyard that I have not done in it? When I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes."

What more could God have given the inhabitants of this fair land? The great inventions, riches, honor, beauty, freedom, and are all here. Are they producing the beautiful grapes for enlarging God's vineyard where we can claim his promise?

Then I will give you rains in their season, and the land shall yield its increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit, Leviticus 26:4.

Are they on the other hand producing the stinking wild grapes in this vineyard where Isaiah pictures God as saying, "I will take away the hedge thereof and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof and it shall be trodden down?"

Picture the world without the hedge of God's protection.

Thos. L. Blanton To Be Dry Rally Speaker Sunday

ANSON, Texas, July 20.—Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from the 17th U. S. congressional district of Texas, will be the only speaker at a regional dry rally to be held at Throckmorton on Sunday night, July 23, to be attended by people from Haskell, Throckmorton and Shackelford counties. Pastors of all churches in these three counties will be asked to dismiss their Sunday night services and send big delegations to the Throckmorton rally. Dry forces in the neighboring 23rd district and in all the other counties of the 24th district are urged to attend this rally, according to Judge Otis Miller of Anson, chairman of the dry forces in the 24th senatorial district.

Judge Miller points out that this meeting will be a prohibition rally in the strictest sense, and that no collection will be taken up in any shape, form or fashion. The rally will be held on the courthouse lawn at Throckmorton and will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

BARGAIN BRIDE

by KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY
ELINOR STAFFORD, 20, falls in love with 35-year-old BARRITT COLVIN who has twice a name for himself as an archeologist. He is about to ask her to marry him when her jealous, scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, interferes and succeeds in breaking up the romance.

When Elinor's aunt, wealthy MISS ELLA SEXTON, dies she leaves her entire fortune to Barritt. Then drunken VANCE CARTER shoots BENTWELL STAFFORD, Elinor's father. Barritt, who does not want the Sexton fortune, tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his home for a year he will give the entire sum to her to divide among the relatives.

Knowing the money may save her father's life, Elinor agrees.

The marriage takes place next day. Barritt finds himself more in love with Elinor than ever. Then one day he sees her with BOB TELFARE and his suspicions that she is a heartless flirt are renewed.

The doctor orders a change of climate for Elinor's father and she goes to Alken with him.

Years before Barritt shielded his half-sister, MARCIA, when a youthful romance ended disastrously. Marcia had a son whom Barritt adopted. Barritt has a promised Marcia never tell anyone the truth about the boy.

Lida Stafford asks Barritt for $50,000. When he refuses she sets detectives on his trail and learns about his ward, GERALD MOORE. Lida concludes the boy is Barritt's son.

Barritt goes to Alken without telling Elinor he is coming. He finds Bob Telfare there.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV

BOB rose. "Time for me to be getting on," he said. "I'm a fifth wheel—always have been and I've always known it."

Would that tell Colvin anything, Bob wondered. He didn't want him making Elinor unhappy. "Why, you're one of the best friends I've ever had!" Elinor protested warmly.

For a moment Barritt wondered. Her voice seemed sincere. Then he chilled, remembering Lida's art. The child was as clever an actress as her mother. That was all.

He rose, bowing stiffly, as Bob Telfare said his farewells.

"See you again, perhaps," said Bob. "If you're going to be down here for a time?"

"Perhaps," said Barritt. Driving his low, open car toward the inn where he was putting up, Bob decided that he'd better be off and give Elinor her full chance. Surely a man who was with her each day should know her! He couldn't believe Barritt Colvin was such a fool.

It was rather awkward, too, to try to show another man his wife's good qualities. Bob didn't see how he could do that. Lord, wouldn't Colvin freeze him if he should try such a thing? He could almost feel the congealing air.

Nevertheless Bob decided he would tell Colvin all he knew of Elinor if Colvin were hurting her by misunderstanding their friendship. He'd knock Colvin down, sit on his chest and tell him, if he had to. He'd give them a month, then nose around a bit and find out how things stood.

Maybe Bessie Thrope could help him out if help were needed. He was a peach and she did the most adroit tinkering with human maladjustments while a cleverer souls who would have batched the job spoke of her with affectionate amusement as dear good, bungling Bessie."

AFTER dinner and some telephoning to arrange north-bound reservations Bob did the worst thing he could have done. He left for New York. His own honesty made him see this as the best thing for all concerned. He did not for a moment imagine that Barritt Colvin would convert his departure into a confession of guilt.

Bob paid his hotel bill, left instructions for shipping his car and was driven to the station to board a hot, airless sleeping car. He lay awake most of the night, arguing out the situation with himself.

He could not forget the menace of Colvin's attitude because it menaced Elinor. She was a peach and she had had a rotten hard break. She had always been surrounded by the sort of life she loathed. Darn it, if he had to he would have it out with Colvin. He'd say, "Look here, you give Elinor my square deal or—" He planned on in the naive, blunt manner of a young man who knows more of blue ribbon mares, long distance swimming and golf trophies than of diplomacy.

Miss Hemmingway, the nurse, came to the terrace after Bobby had gone.

Miss Hemmingway was a compound of stiffly starched, rustling linen, smooth hair, pert, small cap and ready smile that told nothing with scientific reserve. Her smile the last few days had been as artificial as the stiffness of her raiment. She had been nursing for 12 years, but she still felt the oppression that comes from losing a patient. She always felt more when she had had the patient for a long while and she'd been on this case several months.

She had pitied Bentwell Stafford, at first, knowing him through Lida. Now, pity being akin to love, she really cared for him as a poor, broken human being who had led a horrible life with "that woman," and who had not enough reserve strength to make the fight to get well. Elinor she worshipped. And Elinor, she knew, was going to take what lay ahead with the keenest suffering.

ON the terrace she shook hands with Mr. Colvin after expressing mild surprise at seeing him. He was a wonderful looking man, she thought. It was seldom one saw two such fine looking people together.

Miss Hemmingway stood with cool, gentle fingers on Bentwell's thin wrist, eyes on her watch. Then she said "Well, I think we'll put you to bed for your dinner. You've had a full day with all these visitors."

Bentwell nodded. He knew he wasn't equal to much more effort.

Elinor murmured her disappointment and Barritt seconded it, half-ashamed. He could not be sorry that he was to dine alone with Elinor.

At eight they sat down at a cozy little table in a small, attractive dining room. Tall candles with flames dancing gently in the moving air and a low bowl of flowers made a frame for Elinor's face. She wore a primrose tunic of soft chiffon and her hair was dressed low as he liked it. She smiled at him and sighed. She was so happy! Tremulously unbelievably happy!

"It was so good of you to come!" she said.

"It's good to be here," he answered honestly. As always he was weakening under her spell. Nothing mattered now to him but the knowledge that she was near.

He gave her the message Higgins had sent—that the servants had missed her—and spoke of his interviews with Lida. That silenced her for several seconds.

Elinor asked about his work and he told her what he had been doing. He was surprised to find that she knew a good deal about it.

"I didn't know you were interested in that sort of thing," he said slowly.

"But it's your work—" she said, and laughed. "Since coming down here I've read everything you've written that I could lay my hands on. I think you write beautifully!"

"Why—my dear child—I can't write at all!"

"But you can!" she disputed firmly.

"I think you'd like expedition work," he said. He had never before considered taking her on a trip with him. If he could do that what a trip it would be!

"I've often dreamed about something of that sort," she said. "I only know one kind of life—and it's such a narrow kind. When I was little my happiest day dream was imagining I had been shipwrecked on a desert island where there were no bills and no debts—just honesty and congenial savages!"

"There ain't no such animals!" he said, laughing.

"I'd be glad to trade poisoned arrows for poisoned talk," she assured him. "I know I'd like them better!"

They had their coffee in the living room, a charmingly simple place of gay chintzes, softened in tone by the low light. French doors opened to the terrace and the soft night breeze crept in to stir the hangings, making the roses and lilacs nod in their vases.

Elinor sat on a low stool and Barritt in a deep chair, leaning forward toward her.

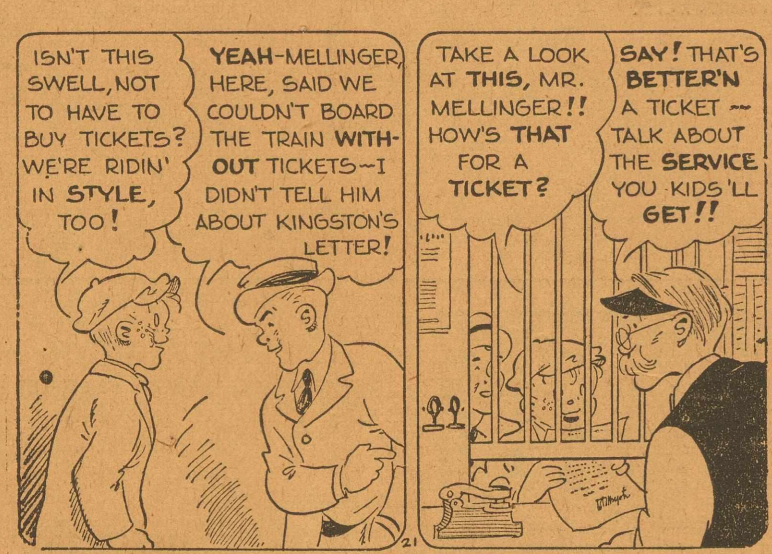

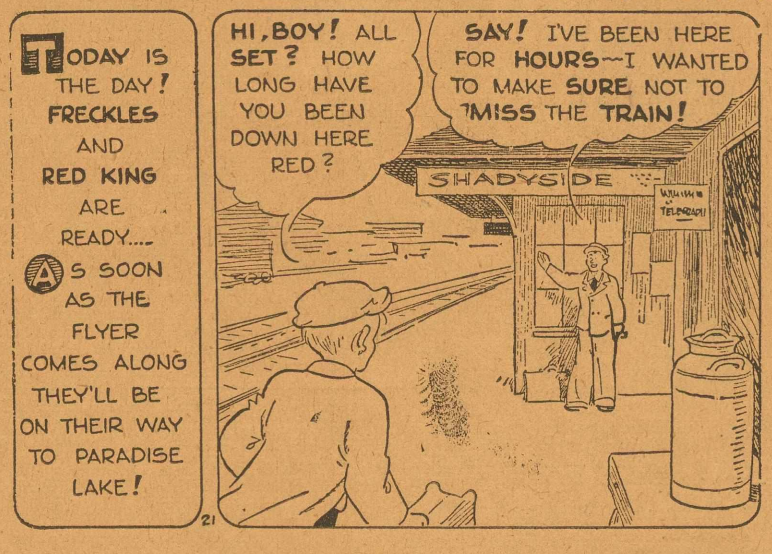

"I want to have a long talk with you," he said after the maid had left a coffee tray on the low table near Elinor.

"I want to talk to you, too," she confessed. She was going to tell him she could not endure much more of his "blowing hot and then cold." It must be one thing or the other continually, in order to make the rest of the time they were to spend together endurable.

He could soften her so utterly by being as he was now. Then when he grew cold again she suffered doubly. She would tell him that frankly, she had decided, admitting that she was happier when they were friends than she had ever been before.

to today's THREE GUESSES

The portrait is of ROALD AMUNDSEN, Norwegian explorer. An octahedron is an EIGHT-SIDED SOLID. The Big-horn Sheep is found in the ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

the bridesmaid, who was gowned in an orchid organdy and carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses. Billie Martin Brogdon, ringbearer, wore a white linen suit. Mary Frances Stubblefield and Virginia Pullig, flower girls, wore dainty little dresses of pink organdy. The bride wore a white Mause-line De Soie gown and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony. A three-tiered cake decorated with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. Mrs. G. T. Blackwell presided at the cake and Mmes. W. M. Chandler, L. E. Moake and Miss Myrtle Harris presided at the punch bowl.

After a wedding trip to Galveston and San Antonio the couple will be at home on West Roberts street. The bride traveled in a suit of brick brown waffle crepe, with matching accessories, and her hat was a Dione model.

Hollywood story says no sooner do newly-married movie stars begin to get really acquainted with each other than they want a divorce. Probably that explains it.

WHAT IS A VACATION?

Every year there is a break in the regular routine of daily work—this we call a vacation. To most of us it is a wonderful chance to "get away"—to rest—to relax and forget about the worries of everyday life—if you want that experience, if you want this vacation to be the most enjoyable and worthwhile you ever had, come this year to the

CRAZY WATER HOTEL

Mineral Wells, Texas

Incidentally, this year the rates are the lowest in history.

Please send me free of charge full particulars concerning a health vacation at the Crazy Water Hotel. It is understood that I will not be obligated by this request.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS—Hats shown with beach dresses are enormously wide of brim and are made of pique, Chantanel and linen. Those that have practically no crown are fixed to bandeaux that tie around the head.

We've mentioned red and white striped linen used to create a decorative effect when the stripes are gathered into two twists in front, following the lines of the figure for the small bodice which is nothing but a couple of shoulder straps at the back, and for the wide skirt. The bodice part of this dress is separate, and can be worn with a pair of dark blue wool jersey trousers.

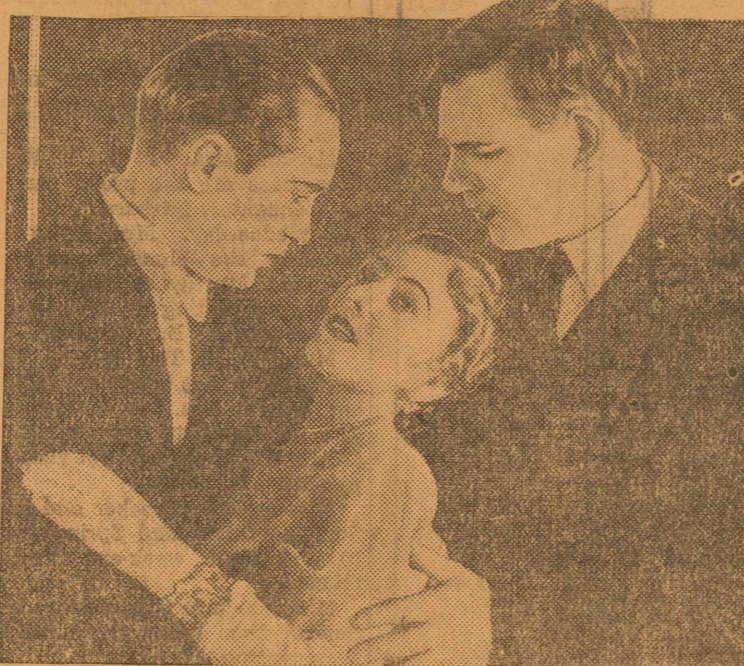

Red, white and blue still is a good and favorite combination, and summer materials show Chantuney, either plain or embroidered, pique Mousseline de soie printed with small designs, and the Chanel embroidered muslins as bell-ringers.

22,000-Volt Shock Did Not Kill Man

By United Press PONCHATOULA, La.—By all the rules, Oscar Vitour, local manager of the Louisiana Light & Power company, should be dead, but he isn't.

He was replacing some fuses when he contacted 22,000 volts of electricity, the shock knocking him to the floor, where a passerby found him unconscious. Doctors examined him, and found that aside from burns on the bottom of his feet and right arm he was unhurt.

A New Highway To Open Scenic Route

By United Press MISSOULA, Mont.—A new highly scenic and shorter route from this city to Portland, Ore., will be opened up with construction of a highway between Lolo and Kootenai, Idaho, according to plans announced here.

J. H. Stommer, Idaho state highway commissioner, was said to have agreed to devote Idaho's total appropriation of $4,652,000 under the federal public works bill for construction of roads thru national forests and public lands to completion of their route.

Known as the Lewis and Clark highway from the fact it follows a route taken by the early explorers, the road will shorten distance between Missoula and Portland some 75 miles. It will cost an estimated $4,000,000 to construct, since it passes through a heavily timbered, mountainous region.

OPAL, Wyo.—When a cold snap broken over the wide open spaces of Wyoming, Matt Bertagnoli, Opal sheep owner, had his herder run a band of sheep into a coal mine to escape the storm. Nearly 100 lambs were born in the mine during the storm and all of the sheep and lambs were saved.

SQUIRRELS SILENCED ORGAN

OAKDALE, Mass.—When the organ in the Methodist Episcopal Church remained silent under the touch of Mrs. Leon E. Travis, organist, church attaches opened the instrument and discovered that squirrels had got into the church and used the organ as a hiding place for acorns.
