Behind Cruelty There Is Fear

Nearly always it is true that people are cruel because they are afraid. The strong, secure person, confident in his situation and ability to deal with it, is seldom cruel. It is the person within whom lurks a hidden weakness and a panicky fear who stoops to savage deeds of cruelty.

Close to 300 people have been shot to death by the Nazi or their henchmen in countries occupied by their troops. In most cases the charges against them of conspiracy or violent acts are sheer window-dressing.

This is a cruel, an inhuman thing to do. To justify it by saying that soldiers doing their duty had been shot in the back is simply to invite the counter-question, "Who said it was their duty to be lording it over other people's homes and cities?"

The truth is that the German troops of occupation are jittery, as well they may be. The long-feared outbreaks of stealthy violence against them have come at last. Any commander charged with responsibility for those troops' safety must necessarily take the harshest measures to protect them.

It is no good to moralize on the heartless inhumanity of shooting random helpless hostages. It is cruel and inhuman as all war is cruel and inhuman; it results from war, and it results specifically from the kind of war which presumed that a continent could be conquered and held under the Nazi heel.

Again, smothering natural human indignation, will it work? Probably not. Every innocent thus shot has friends and relatives, sons perhaps. Every such shooting is a stone dropped into a pool, and from it waves of hatred will spread outward in widening, ever-widening circles.

This is the season to take a tip from apple cider—lots of it is working hard.

Cotton stockings, say manufacturers, will be made so attractive the gals won't miss silk. Sheer hooley!

Many people who pass for optimists are just too lazy to kick.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

IT WAS NO TIME TO duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try. Instead we said—these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car—certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One we could be proud of. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Bulldogs Win Easily Over Clyde Thursday

LONG RUNS IN EARLY STAGES ARE FEATURES

Elder, White and Floyd Make All Touchdowns For Local Gridders.

The Ranger Bulldogs had little trouble defeating Clyde High School's Bulldogs Thursday night by a score of 37 to 0 in a game that featured long runs for touchdowns, both from scrimmage and on punt returns.

After getting off to an early lead, in which 13 points were scored in the first few minutes of play, the Ranger team play looked ragged at times, even though it was keeping well ahead of its opponent.

Ranger kicked off to Clyde and recovered the ball on a fumble on the Clyde 11-yard line after two plays from scrimmage. Four plays netted but two yards and Clyde took over on the 9 and immediately kicked out to the 40, where Floyd ran the ball back for a touchdown.

Two plays after the next Clyde punt Elder broke off over his right tackle, cut back toward the sideline and headed goalward. An attempt was made to tackle him on the 20, but he shook off his tackler and continued on his way to score. Mitchell added the only extra point of the game to bring to 13 the Ranger points scored few plays.

The next Ranger score was made on a 50-yard punt return by White, who outraced his opponents, behind good blocking, to score standing up. This play came early in the second quarter and brought the Ranger total to 19 points.

made it 25 points in the third quarter on a 52-yard drive with Elder doing most of the ball carrying and going over to score. Elder accounted for advances on three tries to reach the goal line.

Elder scored the hard way in the same quarter when he plunged over from the three yard line on the second crack at the line, after blackwell had put the ball in scoring position on a 14-yard jaunt, and White scored the last touchdown on a 21-yard gallop around his right end, with good blocking, in the final quarter.

Tackling, passing and tries for extra points were the weakest departments of the Ranger offense and defense, while penalties for infractions of the rules were few, Ranger drawing 15 yards in penalties and Clyde 10.

Clyde boasted a fast and shifty back in Roberson, with Young and Norwood also doing some neat ground gaining at times, though the net yardage gained by Clyde on running plays was but 13 yards. With good tackling, however, the Clyde total would have been on the minus side for the evening.

Next Friday night the Bulldogs play Stephenville at Bulldog Stadium in the first conference game of the season.

PUPS DEFEAT CISCO B TEAM BY 12-0 SCORE

The Ranger High School Pups won their second game of the season Thursday afternoon from the Cisco Reserves by a score of 12 to 0. They had previously defeated the Eastland B team at Eastland 26 to 0 last week.

Wynn scored both touchdowns for the Pups against Cisco in the second quarter when he drove off tackle for 30 yards to score the first touchdown and plunged through center for the one-yard line to score again in the fourth. Offensively Hamner, Black and Wynn were outstanding and defensively Black, Williams and Hagar showed up well.

Next week the Pups go to Breckenridge to play the Little Buckies there.

The Pup starting lineup consisted of Harbin and Brewer, ends; Hagar and Oyler, tackles; Williams and Edwards, guards; Phillips, center; Black, Renleria, Hamner and Wynn, backs.

Other Pups to see service in the game were King, Arterburn and Dawn, ends; Lyman and Jay, tackles; Jewel Smith and Patterson, guards; Cox and Martin, backs.

The Pups' first home game will be played at Bulldog Stadium Thursday night, Oct. 16.

The Ranger Bulldogs, in defeating Clyde 37 to 0, looked pretty good in some departments and not so good in others, on which they evidently still need some work before they are ready to meet Stephenville here next Friday night. Or maybe we are wrong.

Their luftwaffe was shot out of the air. Their blitzkrieg functioned well, and the panzer attack could still be improved in spots—if you know what we mean. We don't.

The Bulldogs (Ranger) tried but one pass against the Bulldogs (Clyde) and it was intercepted neatly. Too neatly, in fact. The air defense of Clyde against passes was perfect last night, though it had but one chance to function.

The blitzkrieg—long runs for quick touchdowns and returning punts for long distances to score—worked well for Ranger, but they are always more or less in the fluke class, because they happen once in a while and always because of good timing, blocking, team play and speed, but it is more or less a fluke when all these factors enter into a play at the same time. The odds are against it.

And on points after touchdown the Bulldogs still are weak. They missed four against Gorman and connected for none, missed two out of six against Eastland and the four they made were by running plays, and then missed five out of six against Clyde. The percentage there is much too small.

This didn't start out as criticism, but merely to point out a few of the shortcomings as we saw them. The line play was good on offense at times, but sometimes was weak on defense, with tackling being more or less erratic.

Clyde lost almost as much ground as they gained, but should have lost more had it not been that several tackles that seemed sure were missed and 10 to 12 yard losses on several occasions went for gains of one or two yards, after at least three tackles had been missed and one finally clicked.

Clyde, it must be admitted, had a shifty little rabbit-type back who was hard to hold and was extra elusive. He got away for several nice gains when it appeared that he was swamped for long losses. Gains around the ends, with some tricky handling clicking at times, accounted for several gains, when play around the ends has been one of the easiest for the Bulldogs to stop in most of their games.

If there is hard work on these points, with some of the faults eliminated, then the Bulldogs may be ready for Stephenville by next Friday. At least we hope so.

Open House To Celebrate Re-Opening Of Bakery and Securing of Baker Who Introduced Vitamin B1 Bread

H. T. Schooley, who has recently re-opened the bakery at the corner of North Austin and Walnut Streets, announced today that he had secured the services of Burt Walker as head baker.

Walker was the baker who introduced the Vitamin B-1 Bread to Ranger recently, when the Ranger Baking Company took over the business. The bread created such a sensation in Ranger, and became so popular with the people of Ranger during the two weeks Walker was with the bakery that he has been employed to supervise all baking done in the future.

Walker has a reputation all through the state as being a good baker, with years of experience, and who has earned a reputation for turning out an excellent loaf of bread, in addition to his many other baking masterpieces.

In celebration of the re-opening of the bakery, and securing Walker as head baker, an open house will be held Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m. in order that everyone might inspect the remodeled bakery.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served during those hours to all who attend the open house.

Church To Observe World Communion Day This Sunday

The first Sunday in October has been designated as World-Wide Communion Sunday in all Presbyterian churches. On this Sunday all of the Presbyterian churches in the United States and those in the 16 foreign countries where missionary work has been conducted will observe the Communion of the Lord's Supper.

The First Presbyterian Church in Ranger will have services at 11 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Clarence C. Elrod, urges all members to be present. All other Christians are invited to attend this service.

"It is a most impressive thought," Mr. Elrod said, "to visualize the millions of Christians of all nationalities meeting as one christian body around the communion table. It is true that in Christ there is neither east nor west, but one body."

Fire Prevention Week Observation Scheduled Locally

Sunday, Oct. 5, will mark the opening of National Fire Prevention Week, which will be observed by the Ranger Fire Department and the Ranger Public Schools.

Fire Chief G. A. Murphy has urged that everyone take time during this week to inspect gas and electrical outlets and appliances to determine if they are ready for the heavy duty that will be imposed upon them during the winter months.

Talks upon fire prevention will be made in all the Ranger schools, and children are now busy making fire prevention posters as their contribution to the week's activities.

Chief Murphy pointed out that Ranger now enjoys a 20 per cent credit on fire insurance, because of the good fire record during the past five years, and urged that everyone cooperate in helping to keep the fire losses in that city low.

It was pointed out that the National Board of Fire Underwriters, in their convention in May, released figures that during the first three months of this year fire damage in the nation had amounted to $84,000,000, or enough to build 336 long-range bombers.
