

Sonora Scouts Lose First Aid Meet By Fourteen Points

First Council-Wide Contests Bring Many Boys and Men of West Texas Here Saturday

Not always winners but always giving a good account of themselves, Boy Scouts of Troop 19, Sonora, Saturday retained that reputation by earning third place in First Aid contests taken part in by eleven teams from Concho Valley Council troops.

Troop 7, Explorers, from San Angelo won first place with Crystal City and Crane teams tying for second. Crane gained second place recognition by winning a coin toss. San Angelo team members who won were Bob Baldwin, Winston Welch, J. C. Andrews, Frank Herrington and J. M. Huling.

Former Sonora Boy Winner

Huling is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Huling, former Sonora residents. He is a relative of several Sonora people.

Points won by the teams in the contests, held on the courthouse lawn from ten o'clock until mid-afternoon, were:

San Angelo, Explorers, 577; Crystal City and Crane, each 568; Sonora, 563; Iraan, 560; No. 70, Del Rio, 556; Texon, 555; No. 76, Del Rio, 553; Brady, 547; No. 7, San Angelo, 538; Eagle Pass, 506.

Six problems were given the boys—three in the morning and three that afternoon. A runner from each team reported to headquarters, received the problem and read it to his mates. One minute was allowed for discussion before the boys could start to work on the "patient." Sunstroke, asphyxiation by monoxide gas, and various types of wounds and fractures were described to the boys in their problems.

Lions Club Luncheon Host

At noon sixty-nine boys and thirty-three Scouters and other Scout-interested men marched to the Baptist Church where a barbecue dinner was served by the Lions Club. Judge Joe Montague spoke briefly to the boys afterward.

C. H. Janeway, Scout Executive, Concho Valley Council, Malcolm Rogers, field executive, and John Eaton were in general charge during the day. Sergeant J. B. Walling and Fred Johnson of the State Highway Patrol, were chief judges. A large number of Sonora men and others from out of town judged the work done by the boys and assisted in various ways in the handling of the all-day event.

After the contests Mr. Janeway and several of the officials spoke to the boys and told them of the work they had done throughout the day. Splints were applied by the boys to a goat's leg.

Tribute Paid Sonora Leader

Before dismissal the boys and men marched to the home of Roy E. Aldwell, national council representative and long time Boy Scout leader here. Mr. Aldwell greeted the boys and congratulated them on their work. Judge J. A. Whitten commended Mr. Aldwell for his work with Boy Scouts and expressed best wishes of himself and all of the Scouts and Scouters.

By their victory Saturday the San Angelo boys earned the right to compete in Sweetwater April 16 when winners from Councils of West Texas will be contestants. Winners in that sectional event may compete in Dallas April 30 in a regional First Aid Meet.

Sonora boys, trained by Mr. Eaton, who represented Troop 19 Saturday were James D. Trainer, A. W. Awalt, Robert Kelley, Rex Hutcherson and Willie B. Ory.

WAREHOUSE BUILDING BEING USED BY OWNER

Completed last week, the warehouse building erected by J. T. Penick, beer distributor, adds to the appearance of that portion of the Sonora business district that is near Lowrey Draw.

The building of tile and stucco has large doors in two sides. This will permit a large truck to be driven into the building, unloaded and driven out the door on the other side of the building. More than 2,100 square feet of space is provided in the new building.

TWELVE VOTED FOR LAST SATURDAY AS TRUSTEES

Returned to office as trustees of the Sonora Independent School District Saturday were Bryan Hunt, Mrs. M. G. Shurley and Joe F. Logan, all of whom are members of the board at present.

Official canvass of the votes cast was to be made by the board sometime this week. Voting was done at the courthouse where Mrs. P. J. Taylor and Miss Ada Steen were in charge of the balloting.

Mrs. Shurley received thirty-one votes, Mr. Logan twenty-five and Mr. Hunt thirty-two. Others who received votes were:

A. B. Shoemaker 1, H. L. Taylor 1, W. R. Cusenbary 1, W. E. Glasscock 1, H. C. Atchison 2, G. P. Hill 1, Mrs. Maysie Brown 1, Tom Bond 1, Mrs. Tom Driskell 2. Vote tabulations are unofficial.

Term of Five Years Given One of Two Youths Saturday

Jury Out About Twenty-four Hours After Hearing Last Case of Court Session

A jury of Sutton county men late Saturday afternoon reported to Judge Joe Montague that Ramon Herrerra should spend five years in the penitentiary and that his brother, Juan, should be released.

The two young men, charged with the murder of Dionicio Lara, went on trial Friday morning and the case was given to the jury late that afternoon. Jurors who heard the case were:

L. H. McGhee, J. C. Norris, A. B. Shoemaker, Fred Swails, Tom McKee, Fred Simmons, Dock Friend, Henry Decker, C. E. Stites, Roy Valliant, Joe Lancaster, Perry Mittel.

The Herrerras were alleged to have killed Lara during an altercation in front of the Mexico Cafe several months ago. Lara was said to have failed to pay for several bottles of beer and to have cursed the young men when payment was asked.

Attorneys for the defense included Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, L. W. Elliott and Willie B. Wilson, son of Mrs. Nannie Wilson of Sonora. Mr. Wilson, a recent graduate of the University of Texas law school, is a lawyer in San Angelo. Weaver Baker, district, and George Wynn, county attorney, represented the state.

The defense contended that the Mexican youths killed without malicious intent and that their lives were in real or apparent danger. The state stressed the point of Lara's being unarmed and that it was possible that Lara was intending to pay for the beer when he came across the street to the location of the altercation.

Theo Virgen, employer and relative of the Herrerras, said Saturday night that it was unlikely that the sentence given Ramon would be appealed to a higher court.

The money earned will be used for buying chairs for the Sunday School classroom. Boys of another class are to be Indians in the play, the scene of which is in the fall of 1692, in Massachusetts, during the time of witchcraft.

Children in the play are: Nancy Christie, Betty Lou Shoemaker, Lora Dell Ory, Betty Gene Rankhorn, Charline Perry, Opal Randle, Irma Lea Newton, Geraldine Meckel, Kathleen Brinkley, Elizabeth Taylor, Marjorie Crowell, Lois Morris, Georgia B. Kisselburg, and a host of villagers.

Episcopal Services Sunday

Church services at St. John's Episcopal Church will be conducted Sunday. The Rev. Frederic M. Brasier, rector, will be here from Kerrville to deliver the morning sermon. Although Sunday School services are held each Sunday church services are conducted at the church only once a month.

O. S. T. Secretary Tells Lions of Recent Promotional Work

A word picture of the possibilities of profit by well-planned and persistent promotion of the Old Spanish Trail, through Sonora from coast to coast, was painted for Lions Club members Tuesday noon by W. L. Rammel, secretary, National Old Spanish Trail Association.

Mr. Rammel has opened headquarters in San Antonio and is making plans for the National Old Spanish Trail Association meeting there the week of April 17.

Tourist Dollar Traveler Also

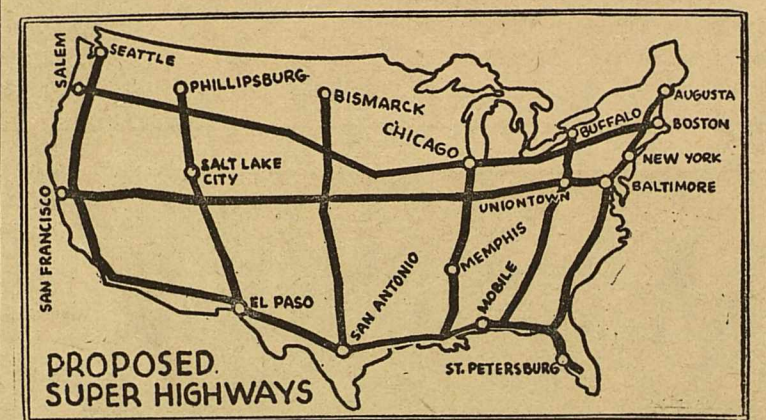

One authority, quoted by Mr. Rammel, declares that 37 million people who traveled in 1932 spent 5 billion dollars. The tourist's dollar, Mr. Rammel stated, benefits the entire community instead of only a few people as many believe. The money put into circulation by the traveler circulates in various ways so that all benefit. Last year $12,000 was raised in

Antonio school children will be given 35,000 cards which will permit the holders to attend the lectures. Parents of the children will be asked to write on the card where they will spend their vacation this year.

Twenty-seven years a resident of Germany and for twenty-seven years a United States resident, Bartholomew H. Schleifer, spoke of his native land and of the superior advantages of America. Mr. Schleifer, a naturalized American, studied at the University of Berlin at the time Albert Einstein, famous scientist, was a professor there.

Blind Work To Be Helped

Lions Club members Tuesday noon will contribute $1 each to the Lions Club Blind Foundation in Texas. Money that is lacking in making the club 100 per cent in membership for the state work will be supplied by the club.

American newspaper readers in the last few weeks have heard much of the proposal that a few north-south and east-west "super highways" be built as recovery projects for the nation. This map shows the routes that have been mentioned most frequently. The southern route mentioned most frequently is that of the Old Spanish Trail, "snow-free route across the nation," which extends 2768.6 miles from St. Augustine, Fla., to San Diego, Cal., by way of Sonora. The bills proposing such highway construction call for an expenditure of eight billion dollars in constructing the 4-lane highways (17,000 miles).

Louisiana and Texas for the promotion of the southern coast-to-coast highway as "the snow-free route across the nation." Newspaper advertising was used and $3,000 spent for poster boards at strategic points telling of the importance of "the O. S. T." as a practical route to travel. Mr. Rammel said that the route has been copyrighted and cannot be changed. W. C. Gilmore, George H. Neill and George E. Smith spoke briefly of the O. S. T. and its history.

Spring Meeting Plans Made

As a part of the San Antonio meeting a series of lectures will be offered people in San Antonio. The chief writer of the Works Progress Administration Writers' Project in each of the states through which the Old Spanish Trail passes will tell of his particular state. San

"Any live thing," was the way W. J. Fields, Jr., described the merchandise that the Lions Club will sell at a public auction in Sonora during the 4-H Club Wool Show June 16-17.

Mr. Fields expressed the opinion that the auction sale might grow to such proportions that it would be the only special effort needed by the club to carry on its work through the year. Nelson Johnson, well known auctioneer, has offered to come here to "cry the sale." All sales money will go to the Lions Club treasury.

It is believed that Sutton county people and others will gladly contribute goats, chickens, sheep, pigs, horses and other animals to be sold. Mr. Fields said that at the next meeting of the club, he would appoint workers to develop the sales proposition and to carry it to a successful conclusion.

NEW LIGHTING EFFECTS AT R. L. HALLUM STATION

In a school of journalism students are taught that the word "colorful" is sadly overworked and should be used only when the occasion demands it.

Such an occasion is the one at present when the R. L. Hallum service station may best be described as being the most "colorful" in Sutton county.

Recently Neon lighting has been added on the canopy of the station with the roof edge outlined in red and the word "Humble" in bright green. The word appears on both sides of the canopy so that the traveler from either direction will be attracted by the sign.

Construction Work On Building For 2 Businesses Begun

Sam Hull, Owner, Will Operate Service Station As Unit of Motor Company

Building work is well under way on service station-sandwich shop property being erected next to the Piggly Wiggly store by Sam Hull, Sonora business man who owns the corner property.

The station and sandwich shop, the latter of which will be in a room with 12-foot frontage directly next to the grocery store, will be of modernistic type of architecture. Tile, brick and stucco will be used with a great deal of glass playing an important part in the creation of the building. Concrete driveways will be built.

The station will have a large canopy and individual rooms for washing and lubricating of automobiles. The building site is fifty-five feet by one hundred feet with practically all of the space being utilized.

G. L. Fleming, who does a great deal of construction work for the Magnolia Petroleum Co., is supervising construction. It is believed that the building will be completed in five or six weeks.

Mr. Hull said this week that Magnolia products would be sold at the station, which will be operated by Sonora Motor Co. He said that he could not make a statement at present regarding the operation of the sandwich shop. Mr. Hull is also owner of the building occupied by Piggly Wiggly store. It was built in 1936.

Easter Period Play at Sunday Service

Seven Schoolgirls Will Act in Drama at Methodist Church

Seven of Sonora's high school girls will have parts in an Easter play Sunday night when "The Challenge of the Cross" is presented at the Methodist Church at 7:45.

Miss Leeta Mae Garrett, Sonora teacher, is directing the following players:

Evangel, Serena Trainer; Disciples—Robby Jo Wyatt, Jimmie Langford, Louise Briscoe, Katha Lea Keene, Margaret Schwiening, Marjorie Davis.

At times during the play the choir will sing. The church will be decorated with a lighted cross and other emblems symbolic of the Easter period in Biblical history. There will not be an admission charge and the program will not last more than one hour, the Reverend Mr. Davis said this week.

"Jesus' Last Week On Earth" will be the morning sermon subject Sunday at 10:50. The Reverend Mr. Davis' thought this week as to Sunday School attendance was expressed in this manner:

"Parents ought not to send their children to Sunday School. The should BRING them. If the parents do not bring the children the children should bring their parents."

Students in Austin This Week
Rena Glen Shurley and Elizabeth Elliott left this morning with the Sawyer family to spend the week-end in Austin.

Dance Time Again For Sam Hull, Host

It's a yearly habit—this "motor company dance"—of Sam Hull's and Sutton county people and a host of others like the habit the Sonora motor car dealer has gotten into in the many years he has been in business.

Mr. Hull said Thursday that Joe Buzze and his men will furnish the rhythm for his annual "motor company dance" Monday night, April 25.

The dance will be in the firm's place of business as in other years. Mr. Hull wired Mr. Buzze Wednesday and received confirmation of the desired April 25 date.

PROOF... What Owners All Over West Texas Say...

HAVE you been wondering if you could "afford" a new refrigerator? When you can operate a Servel Electrolux—the Gas, or Kerosene Refrigerator—for the cost of a daily paper or less, can you afford NOT to own one—NOW? Servel Electrolux operates here for as little as 2 or 3 cents per day!

But that's only part of the story. How much food do you throw away? How many bargain "specials" do you pass up because you can't keep the food until you're ready for it? Owners say that savings more than pay for their Servel Electrolux Refrigerators.

There are two reasons why this is true:

- (1) Servel Electrolux costs so little to operate.
- (2) Its freezing unit has no moving parts.

That is what makes it the different refrigerator—different from all others. No moving parts to wear, to give trouble, to make noise. It is as silent as Nature freezing ice. A tiny gas or kerosene flame takes the place of all machinery.

And that's why you don't "buy" a Servel Electrolux — it's an investment. One that actually pays you dividends, throughout the years. A small down payment will put it in your home—why not TODAY?

Do I think my Servel Electrolux is an investment? I think it is the best investment I have ever made, and I don't see how I ever got along before I purchased it. I am sure that I have already saved more than the purchase price of the refrigerator.

Food, that either had to be disposed of daily, or had deteriorated, making it unfit for use, now keeps perfectly safe until used. Of course this is due to the fact that Servel Electrolux can be depended upon to keep food safe in an unvaried temperature. Food and vegetables retain their fresh crispness and can be bought in quantities, which certainly is a saving. The operating cost is the least I know of in a mechanical operated refrigerator. The fact that the mechanism is silent makes Electrolux "tops" with me. So I think my investment is paying big dividends when I think of the food I save, and at the same time am safeguarding the health of my family by saving food perfectly preserved by my Servel Electrolux.

MRS. FRANK COX, Antelope, Texas.

When you buy an Electrolux your problem of keeping food is over, also your worries as the cost of operation is so small compared with old time ice bills... An Electrolux makes life worth living... Of all things bought for the home for convenience, I prize my Electrolux most highly.

Women Out-Talked by Men, Professor Finds

Minneapolis.—Men folks who read this are going to talk about it more than women!

This paradox—women talking less than men—was revealed by Dr. Franklin H. Knower, assistant professor of speech at the University of Minnesota, who conducted a survey among 400 university and high school students.

Men, he found, like to talk more than women do. At least, they responded, in a list of 165 questions, to speech situations more readily than women. Both, he found, are more at ease discussing sports than books, religion than business, and subjects about which they are uncertain than those about which they are uninformed.

Trend Downward in Livestock Prices Since April 1st

Easter Lamb Market—Opened Monday—Increased Demand in Small Way

By FRANK REEVES, JR. (Special to the NEWS)

Fort Worth, April 6.—The downward trend in livestock prices at Fort Worth for the first week in April was just opposite marketing conditions for the first of March. At that time practically all grades and classes were in very good demand and mid-month sales reached the highest levels since last fall.

Starting the last week of March, values began to chart a downward course which became more acute after the first of April. Salesmen, in attempting to retard the declines, prolonged trading during the past week and on some sessions a complete clearance of supplies was not made until midafternoon or later.

Cattle Prices Drop

Today's cattle prices, compared with values for the same day of last week, showed a loss of 50 cents in sales of fed cattle, 35 cents for medium grade steers and yearlings and about 25 cents lower levels on plain kinds. All grades of cows were off 25 cents with some of the best fat offerings and canner cows carrying more decline.

Calf salesmen were able to retain prices about steady with mid-March values, due to a broad outside demand. A good many offerings moved out to replacement buyers, that ordinarily would have gone into beef channels.

Monday was the opening day of this year's Easter lamb market. As a consequence, receipts were considerably larger than usual. Shippers paid slightly higher prices for some of the best offerings but the bulk of the receipts for the first three days of this week were purchased at unchanged levels. Last week the market was uneven and a lower undertone was very noticeable.

Steers Go at $8 to $8.75

Normal receipts on most days were a big aid to salesmen of fat cattle. Most of the good fed steers were purchased around $8 and $8.35 with occasional sales upward to $8.50 and $8.75. Medium grade and half fat kinds cleared around $7 to $7.65 and plain and common steers from $6 down.

The practical top on fed yearlings was considered around $8.85 with an occasional clearance in the $9 neighborhood. The most popular prices were from $8 to $8.50. Medium grades cashed around $7 to $7.75. The best heifers sold around $8 with some up to $8.50 and $8.60. Medium heifers drew bids around $7 and $7.25. COTTON
One of Texas' Great Assets

Cotton is the most valuable crop grown in Texas. The 1936 crop was valued at $217,018,000. The average Texas cotton crop covers about 12,000,000 acres, the greatest single crop grown in any one state, and provides a livelihood for more people than any other one Texas industry.

Using latest developments in science and sanitation to brew Texas' Own PEARL Beer has won for the San Antonio Brewing Association the reputation of being one of Texas' great assets. You'll enjoy that "extra something" which fifty-two years of constant brewing experience, plus finest ingredients, plus San Antonio's pure, world-famous water, give to Pearl. It's a real taste-thrill which, whenever you drink, makes you say, "Bottle of PEARL, please!" "THE REASON IS IN THE BOTTLE!"

Safety First and First Aid Work Hand in Hand

Sonora people are destined to become more "first aid conscious" and more keen to prevent accidents as a result of the observing of such events as the Boy Scouts' First Aid Meet here Saturday and enrollment in the 10-week First Aid course under way for several weeks.

About thirty-five adults are learning rudiments of emergency treatment of ill or injured persons each Wednesday night in the course sponsored by the state highway department for its employees but open to the public in general.

The Boy Scouts who were here Saturday surprised many by the knowledge they had at their command and by the efficient way in which they could use that knowledge.

Accident prevention in the home, in the store and on the highway... yes, anywhere at all for that matter... is an increasingly important thing. The fact that people are learning how to care for ill and injured persons should be a deterrent that is well worth while in emphasizing seriousness of accident.

Immediate, emergency treatment of hurt persons can be done, and successfully so, by a person who has had little but careful training in "what to do until the doctor gets there." Precious life may be saved by sensible action as soon as the accident or illness happens.

Those who successfully complete the 10-week course will be given American Red Cross First Aid certificates telling of the instruction they have received.

That certificate will be material proof that the recipient has learned rudiments of caring for hurt or ill persons and by having such knowledge will know both how to take care of distressed persons and also will realize the importance of preventing accidents that careless action may have caused.

U. S. LEADS WORLD IN RUBBER-MAKING

Only Germany, Russia Can Compare, Says Expert.

New York.—Research chemists in the United States are credited with putting this country in the lead in an international race for development of synthetic rubberlike materials.

Dr. H. L. Trumbull, writing in the Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering magazine, declared the competition among the world's major powers is heightened by the fact that every great industrial nation depends for its supplies of raw rubber on sources thousands of miles away.

While chemists in this country have been developing synthetic substances, scientists in other nations have been engaged in a scramble to produce similar materials, Dr. Trumbull said. He declared that only in Germany and Russia have there been any achievements which compare with those in the United States.

German Substitute Used.

"German chemists have produced a material known as 'Buna rubber' and this substance has for months been specified in place of natural rubber in goods purchased by the German government," Dr. Trumbull said.

"Buna has been made available in several grades, each of which in some respects is said to excel natural rubber. The imposition of an import duty of 1 1/4 marks per kilo on crude rubber is said to be for the purpose of raising money for additional factories for synthetic rubber production in Germany which the German government hopes within the year may attain a volume of 27,000 tons.

"The Russians are reported to be making synthetic rubber from alcohol. Published results show that their product is inferior to natural rubbers.

"In the United States, scientists have developed several rubberlike materials which are finding a wide variety of applications.

"A recent advance of importance is the production and fabrication of Koroseal, a novel, synthetic composition in many respects resembling cured rubber," according to Dr. Trumbull, who, as manager of the chemical laboratories of the E. F. Goodrich company, aided in its development.

Little Affected by Sun.

"It does not require vulcanization to give it elasticity. It withstands long exposure to ozone and oxygen, and is practically unchanged after two years in sunlight. It is more inert than rubber to the action of corrosive chemicals, even withstanding prolonged immersion in chromic or in concentrated nitric acid.

"Another synthetic material is known as Neoprene. In many ways this product, developed in the DuPont laboratories, resembles rubber more closely than other of the newer synthetics. It has found many interesting applications and serves the rubber industry as a raw material which may be used in compositions with or without rubber."

Post Trader Keeps Cow North of Arctic Circle

Kotzebue, Alaska.—Kotzebue, far north of the Arctic circle, now has what local residents didn't think even Warren Ferguson could furnish—a fresh milk supply.

When Ferguson, proprietor of a chain of trading posts and the world's farthest north air service, pays a visit "outside," he is most enthusiastic about fresh milk.

Last summer in Seattle Ferguson suddenly decided: "I'm going to have a cow."

Physical difficulties were considerable, as winter temperatures at Kotzebue range about 50 degrees below zero. That would be disastrous to a cow's lactation system.

But Ferguson purchased a western Washington Jersey with a good production record, and shipped her to Kotzebue together with a large supply of alfalfa hay and dairy feeds.

In the late summer bossy grazed outside in the abundant grass, but at the first freeze Ferguson moved her into a specially built barn, where she'll wait until spring. Its walls are lined with bales of hay. And adjoining her stall is a glowing oil burner, to keep springlike temperatures inside. An airplane mechanic "services" her.

SAILING SHIPS IN ANNUAL GRAIN RACE

Fleet Sails for Australia to Get Wheat Cargo.

Sydney, N. S. W.—Nearly all the remaining square-rigged ships in the world are headed "down under" to Australia to participate in the famous annual "grain race."

Thirteen large sailing ships, "windjammers," have cleared European ports for the wheat-loading centers of South Australia. But not a one of them is flying the Union Jack or the Stars and Stripes. The honor for the fastest passage to Falmouth will be won either by a Finnish or Swedish ship this year.

All but two of the 13 ships belong to Capt. Gustav Erikson of Mariehamn in the Aaland islands, and they fly the Finnish flag. They are the four-masters Passat, Pommern, Parma, Olivebank, Lawhill, Viking, Mosholu and Archibald Russell, and the three-masters Killoran, Penang and Winterhude.

94-Day Trip Won in 1937.

The Passat and Pommern both made passages of 94 days last year, though the Pommern claimed victory by a few hours.

The other two square-riggers bound for Australia are both training ships, the Swedish Abraham Rydberg, and the German Admiral Karpfanger. The latter took part in last year's race as L'Avenir, but has since been sold by Captain Erikson to the Hamburg-American line and refitted as a training ship.

One veteran of many grain races will not be there this year, or ever again. She was the C. B. Pedersen, which was sunk in a collision off the Azores on her homeward voyage last year.

For the first time for many years most of the ships have obtained cargoes for the outward voyage to Australia this year.

Sailing Dates Vary.

The "windjammers" will load grain over several weeks' time. Sailings usually take place between February and April, the Southern Hemisphere's summer. The ships actually do not race each other, as sailing dates vary too greatly for that. The winner is determined by the elapsed time between Australia and the English channel. The vessels usually put in at Falmouth for orders. The winner's time depends greatly on the weather.

The Australia wheat trade profits from these "windjammer" races because the cost of transporting grain to Europe is comparatively low, as the ships have no fuel expense. The shipping cost per ton usually is under $10 and the vessels can carry from 4,000 to 6,000 tons of wheat.

Tests on Fleas as Clew to Longer Human Life

Providence, R. I.—Experiments with water fleas may point the way to lengthening the average life-span of man to 100 years, Brown university scientists said today.

"If conditions which affect the length of life in the lowly Daphnia longispina (the tiny water flea) carry over to man," Prof. Arthur M. Banta said, "persons who lead very frugal lives until past middle age and then have generous living may be expected to live longest."

In five years of experiments Professor Banta, assisted by Dr. Lester Ingle and H. Howard Dunham, found that limiting the water flea's food while young and then giving it a normal diet prolonged its vigor, growth and reproductive activity from a normal 29 days to about 45 days.

"Should we be able to prolong human life to a proportionate extent," Professor Banta said, "the average expectation of life for persons reaching twenty years of age would approach one hundred years, and humans might be reproductively active when seventy or eighty years of age."

Farm Income Shows Increase

Recession fears may be partly quieted by the quotation of farm income figures for January of this year, which showed a nine per cent increase of January of last year. In other words, the computed farm cash income of Texas for January, 1938, was $21,500,000 compared with $19,750,000 in 1937.

Yes, Sir! There is still some hope that the cigar store wooden Indian may stage a come-back! He surely is no more of a dummy than Charlie McCarthy.

LEGENDS OF HAWAII WORTHY OF GRIMM

Reflect Fantastic Imagination of the Natives.

Honolulu.—A wrestler who could fly like a bird and a pig as tall as a mountain are prominent figures in the numberless legends of old Hawaii.

A people of fantastic imagination, the Hawaiians gave intelligence to the sun, the moon, the stars and heard the voices of their gods in the roar of the surf, the winds, the thunder and hundreds more of nature's expressions.

Every prominent tourist attraction, and numerous places the average tourist never sees and probably does not hear about, is surrounded with legends. The volcanoes, the sheer Nuuanu Pali (cliff), the City of Refuge in the Kona district, Diamond Head and Punchbowl craters—all have their imaginative legends.

The soaring wrestler—who would present a knotty referee's problem if he should take off and refuse to come down after being given a modern "airplane spin"—is given prominent mention in an outline of Hawaiian legends prepared by the Hawaiian Tourfax Annual.

Legend of Wrestlers.

According to the legend, Namaka of Kauai island, famed for his skill at wrestling and boxing, once went for a walk with Pakuanui, champion of Oahu island, along the windswept brink of the Nuuanu Pali.

Namaka apparently was unaware either of the fact that Pakuanui was a very jealous fellow or had slight regard for the rules of wrestling. As they strolled along admiring the beautiful scenery provided by the sea and mountains of the windward side of the island, Pakuanui suddenly grabbed Namaka and flipped him over the cliff.

It looked like a one-fall decision for Pakuanui, but to his great surprise Namaka suddenly spread his arms and flew like a big brown featherless eagle.

The Nuuanu Pali is more commonly known as the spot at which King Kamehameha I shoved over the forces of Kalinakapule in 1790 to become master of all the islands.

The incident of the extraordinary pig, according to legend, took place at Sacred Falls on the island of Oahu. It was here that Olopana, ruler of Oahu, finally succeeded in trapping Kamapuaa, known as a no-good rascal who always was stirring up trouble.

Saved by Huge Pig.

Things were going badly for Kamapuaa and his men when he suddenly assumed the form of a huge pig. He stood up on his hind legs with his back to the falls and his men escaped to the top of the cliff by clambering up his bristles.

A huge mark, which still is pointed out, was formed on the mountain where Kamapuaa's back rubbed against it.

There were Little People in Hawaii long ago. They were known as Menehunes and numbers of them are said to exist to this day. They are playful pixies and are blamed for a lot of things which probably are not their fault at all.

The Menehunes suffered at least one severe setback when they took to feuding with the owl god, Pueo, who lived in a temple at the head of Manca valley, beautiful Honolulu residential section.

Pueo's "Hey Rube!" call was a brisk beating of drums, and on one occasion when the Little People became too annoying he pounded his drums until the owls gathered in such numbers as to darken the sky and rout the Menehunes.

Any Hawaiian will tell you that the Menehunes like to fish. The phosphorescent glow which can be seen in the ocean off Waialua any dark, clear night, they say, is only the Menehunes fishing with their tiny torches.

Sonorans at 3-Day Company Session

Arthur Biard Welcomes Visitors in San Antonio Yesterday

The convention of agents of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company in San Antonio this week is being attended by John L. Nisbet and Mrs. Nisbet who left for San Antonio yesterday.

The meeting, thirty-fourth one in the history of the company, was opened yesterday morning by Harvey L. Hays of Abilene, president of the Southwestern Life Club, of which Mr. Nisbet is a member. Arthur E. Biard of San Antonio, known by many Sonorans as a result of his Lions Club activities, welcomed the visitors.

C. F. O'Donnell, president, stated that more than 500 Texans were attending the meeting as the guests of Southwestern Life Insurance Company, which gives the trips to agents who produce a specified volume of business during the year. Mr. O'Donnell told those present that the total life insurance written by them during 1937 was approximately twelve per cent greater than the amount produced by those in attendance at the last convention in Dallas.

The high light of the convention will be tonight when addresses will be made by R. L. Daniel, chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas, and Walter P. Napier, president of the Alamo National Bank of San Antonio.

The Nisbets and their daughter, Marjorie, will visit in the home of Mrs. Nisbet's sister, Mrs. T. A. Williams.

FATHER OF TWO SONORANS BURIED LAST SATURDAY

Funeral services for Herman Wilhelm Rosenthal, farmer in the Thorndale section, were attended Saturday by his daughters, Miss Ann Rosenthal, employee of Hotel McDonald, and Mrs. O. L. Carpenter of the Ranch Experiment Station.

A native of Germany, Mr. Rosenthal had lived in the United States since he was a young man. He was a member of the Lutheran Church and of the Sons of Herman, fraternal organization. Besides Mrs. Rosenthal he is survived by the two daughters here, five other children and a brother, Fritz Rosenthal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Rosenthal accompanied Miss Rosenthal and Mrs. Carpenter to the services in Thorndale.

Just One Try Convincing

At an amateur show one budding star imitated a well known actor who had consented to appear at the performance. Afterward the amateur tackled the professional. "Would you mind telling me what you think of my abilities as shown by my impersonation of you?" he asked.

Texas Permits Increasing

"Building for the future" is a reality as well as a slogan in Texas, if the amount of building permits is a true indication. Not including public works, a total of $4,475,942 worth of permits were issued in January, 1938. The largest amount was in Houston, where $1,177,795 went into construction work. The next was in Dallas, with $965,543 worth of permits.

Watch a bird on the lawn. A few hops, then a pause. A few more hops, and he listens again. Then, triumphant, he pulls out a fat wriggling worm.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

New York is the best fed city in the world, according to Max Waterman, chairman of the committee on foodstuffs of the Merchants association. As proof, he has dug up figures which show that each year the individual consumption of food amounts to 162 pounds of meats, 22 pounds of live poultry, 21 pounds of dressed poultry, 50 pounds of fish, 24 pounds of butter, 6.5 pounds of cheese, 240 pounds of eggs and 506 pounds of fruits and vegetables. During the last year, 47,000 carloads—what a train that would make!—of "fine foods" came across the continent to the New York market. The South sends us more than 30,000 carloads a year of fruits and vegetables. More than five billion pounds of fruit and vegetables reach here each year. Twenty-four green and root vegetables are available at all seasons usually at prices within reach of the pocketbook of the average housewife.

Five reasons are given by Chairman Waterman as to why New Yorkers—those who can afford it—live so well. First, the development of exceptional transportation and refrigeration facilities permitting the city to receive in prime conditions foodstuffs grown in all the productive parts of the globe. Second, the size of the New York markets, producing a steady demand and inducing food shippers to supply it at all seasons of the year. Third, raising of dietary standards through the dissemination of educational material enabling those on limited budgets to feed themselves properly. Fourth, intensive competition, which produces prices comparing favorably with those in the country districts. Fifth, a system of food regulations, backed up by inspectors, which insure the sanitary and safe handling of all food products.

Speaking merely as a layman and not desiring to arouse competition, the Waterman statement in regard to prices comparing favorably with those in the country districts doesn't quite click with me. In the first place, there is the port authority statement made some time ago that it costs more to move a bag of potatoes eight miles in New York than it does to bring them here from the fields of Michigan 800 miles away. Then, too, I recall that last year while green corn was a dime an ear in New York, it was a dime a dozen back in my home town.

New York municipal marriage chapels have been losing business ever since the law requiring an interval of 72 hours between the issuing of the license and the performance of the ceremony went into effect. There was a time when happy couples went to the city clerk's office, got the necessary piece of paper and walked hand in hand over to the chapel where a deputy clerk performed the ceremony. The whole proceeding took only a few minutes and the result was that many couples who entered the building, which straddles Chambers street, single, came out double. In November, 1936, about 34 marriage ceremonies a day were performed in the chapel. During the month of November, 1937, the average was about 20 a day. In Brooklyn, the average dropped from 11 a day to six, with proportionate drops in other boroughs.

James Bell, deputy city clerk in charge of the marriage license office over in Brooklyn, has figured it out. The 72-hour law, he said, gives couples a chance to think things over. Many of the couples, so long as they have to wait, have the ceremonies performed in their own churches. Others have time to clear their heads after parties and decide that marriage is a serious thing instead of a lark. So he holds the law is a good measure. Oh, yes, one other matter. The new law has had little if any effect on the number of marriage licenses issued.

Food Capsule Believed to Be Key to Superman

San Francisco.—Food pills that may make possible the development of a race of "supermen" were described here by Milton Silverman, director of the science exhibit of the 1939 Golden Gate International exposition.

"Preliminary experiments have started, and, while it is too soon to make accurate predictions," he said, "it has led us to believe that the development of a 'laboratory man' is entirely within the realm of possibility."

Experiments have already been launched here with animals which are being fed chemically in capsule form.

Silverman pointed out: "Experiments so far with animals show that those fed chemically constructed foods in tablet and capsule form are healthier and happier than those fed normally."

The time is not far distant, he said, when it will be possible to manufacture in tablet and capsule form most of the foods necessary for human existence.
