West Texas Chamber of Commerce has issued the copy of their new magazine, "This is West Texas."

For some time the official publication of WTCC has been a "house organ"; a magazine dedicated to the internal workings of the organization. The new magazine is a colorful departure from that field.

Featured in the new magazine will be articles on industry, culture, tourist attractions, history and scenery of the true West Texas. The publication will be bi-monthly. The first issue featured articles on the new Guadalupe National Park, reconstruction of old Fort Davis, the anti-bellum homes of Waco and the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra.

For personal copies, subscribers may send their name and address to "This is West Texas", P. O. Box 1561, Abilene, 79604. Cost for the publication is $2.50 a year.

Eight teams participated in the meet.

Safecrackers Hit Lumber Company

A safe in the office of Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company was broken into Thursday, April 6, according to manager, W. J. Thompson.

Thompson said the safecrackers apparently entered the lumber yard through a hole they had cut in the fence bordering the draw behind the yard. After they entered the yard, Thompson said, they apparently forced a side door to gain entrance to the office.

The large double-doored safe had a 15 inch by 18 inch section cut out of one of the doors with an acetylene cutting torch. Evidence indicated that the safecrackers had first tried to use a pipe wrench to twist off the handles of the safe doors.

Thompson said that a "substantial amount" of cash and checks had been taken. He indicated that the thieves had not taken anything but cash and checks.

The case has been investigated by Sutton County Sheriff Herman Moore and a San Angelo detective and an FBI agent. No fingerprints were found during the investigation but findings indicated the safecrackers wore gloves.

Thompson said a "substantial" amount of money had been taken.

SAFECRACKERS cut this 15 inch hole in the safe belonging to Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company Thursday, April 6. Manager, W. J.

Incentive Payments Mailed to Producers

Total payments to Sutton County wool and mohair producers by the U. S. Department of Agriculture have amounted to $437,551.74 in incentive payments according to Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell, office manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Net wool and unshorn lamb payments were $139,076.48 and mohair payments amounted to a net of $298,475.26.

Sales in the county of the two commodities were 1,062,477 pounds of shorn wool and 1,228,028 pounds of mohair.

The shorn wool incentive price of 65 cents a pound for the 1965 marketing year is a 3 cent per pound increase over the present support level.

The support price for mohair, announced at the same time, was 75.8 cents a pound or 3.8 cents more than the present support price.

The wool payment program was first authorized in 1954 as a means of encouraging the domestic production of wool. The lamb payments are made under the wool program to encourage the normal marketing of lambs with wool on and to prevent unusual shearing of lambs.

Payments on unshorn lambs are determined on the basis of the shorn wool incentive payment which is the average weight of the wool per hundred pounds of lambs and value of the lamb wool in relation to the shorn wool.

A new method of establishing the incentive price level will be used starting with the 1966 marketing year. A formula based on change in the U. S. Department of Agriculture parity index will automatically set the incentive level.

The index is calculated from information on the prices farmers pay for commodities and service including, interest, taxes and farm wage rates. With this method growers will know the price level in advance because it will be automatically set based on parity index trends, Mrs. Aldwell said.

The wool program is carried out through annual incentive payments based on the percentage increase over the national average price received by producers for wool that will bring the average price up to national average incentive level. The use of a percentage method to set the payment rate encourages each producer to do a good job of marketing their wool and takes into account the relative value of the various grades of wool.

Prior to 1955, stocks of wool were acquired under previous price support programs totaling 150 million pounds. Stocks were then sold by the government mostly through competitive bid sales over a two-year period to prevent any effect on the domestic wool market. Under the present program no wool is acquired by the government because all domestic production is allowed to flow into consumption.

A percentage of incentive payments, through cooperation of the government and the individual growers, are deducted for promotion and advertising of wool products.

This program is carried out by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., which represents wool growers throughout the nation.

Promotion for wool products was approved in several referenda by wool growers in the nation under the provisions of the National Wool Act of 1954.

JP Court Tries 67 Cases In March

During the month of March, 67 cases were tried in Sutton County by Justice of the Peace, Alfred Cooper.

Of the 67 offenses, traffic violations were the most numerous. Many of the charges were made against truckers carrying overweight loads.

Eight cases involving driving without a license were tried.

Other offenses included affray, disturbing the peace, six cases of minors in possession of alcoholic beverages, one theft, one forgery and several throwing trash on the highway.

Fines for the month total $1,369 and $68 in sheriff's fees.

City Wide Clean-up Starts Here Monday

Beginning April 17, Sonora will take on its new look with the annual city-wide clean-up campaign. The annual project will begin April 17 and continue through April 23, according to Bob Johnson, chamber of commerce manager.

The city of Sonora will have trash trucks on call and cruising the streets during that time to pick up trash which has been cleaned out of lots and yards.

By calling city hall at 387-2881, all trash, with the exception of large rocks and scrap metal, will be picked up.

Johnson said that the city's trash pick up program would give property owners a good chance to rid their property of unwanted out building and other unsightly structures. Johnson emphasized, however that the primary purpose of the campaign is not simply a trash collection program. He said, "This campaign is only a small part of the larger 'Operation Sparkle' being carried out in 132 West Texas towns in cooperation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce."

The main purpose, Johnson said, is an overall attempt to make the cities of West Texas more attractive to tourists.

"When a tourist passes through a nice, clean town, his present environment influences his attitude. If we can produce a clean city we can influence the attitudes of the tourists about our town", he concluded.

Traffic Safety Law Being Considered By State Congress

The Texas legislature is now considering 2 bills designed to put into effect Governor Connally's Highway Safety Program.

The proposed legislation would provide for universal driver education for all teenagers; strengthen the vehicle inspection program; raise the minimum driver's license age to 16 with driver education and 18 for those teenagers who have not taken driver education.

The penalty for conviction of driving while a license is suspended or revoked would be increased under the new laws and rehabilitation schools to train problem drivers would be established by the Department of Public Safety. All drivers would be required to take a road test in the type of vehicle they will be licensed to operate.

Traffic Courts of Record would be established if the pending legislation is passed. Motorcycle operators and passengers would be required to wear protective headgear and commercial driver schools and driver training instructors would be licensed.

"The Texas legislature has with in its power to take a giant step forward and help save the lives of many of our State's motorists," Robert F. Miller, President, Texans for traffic safety, said in commenting upon the bills being considered.

"We need the protection that is afforded by up-to-date and sound traffic laws. I have talked to hundreds of people about traffic safety and there is no doubt in my mind that motorists will support strict but fair traffic laws. I hope that the legislature will give us the traffic safety laws we need", Miller concluded.

Optometry Practice

Two bills before the Texas Legislature would permit firms with trade names to continue the practice of optometry. At stake is an old feud between the individual optometrist practicing under his own name and the optometric firm practicing under a firm name. The State Board of Optometry adopted a rule unfavorable to the firms, and the Supreme Court upheld the board.

The News believes that these firms should be allowed to continue their practice, as they have in the past—as long as their practitioners are qualified. And certainly they must be qualified, by examination, before presenting themselves to the public.

In the last 30 years, millions of eye examinations have been made by licensed optometrists practicing under trade names in optometric offices throughout the state—and under laws passed by the Legislature. The quality of eye-care service has not been impaired; on the contrary, the trade-name firms have adopted practices which have held down the cost of eye examinations and spectacles, thus permitting thousands in lower-income brackets to have more efficient sight.

Passage of the two bills now before the Legislature will not change the situation which has existed for 30 years. The bills merely affirm the intent of the legislative body to permit practice of optometry in one or more offices and under a trade name if so desired.

Rio Grande Catfish Studied at Angelo

Fishery biologists placed 19 Rio Grande blue catfish in the fish hatchery in San Angelo, according to Project Leader Larry Campbell of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The Rio Grande blue catfish is a variety of blue catfish, native to the Rio Grande and tributaries. It is spotted like the channel catfish, where the ordinary blue catfish adults lose their spots as they grow larger.

Ordinary blue catfish can reach more than 120 pounds and are highly prized as game fish, but at present are found only in limited numbers in some Texas larger streams and reservoirs.

Biologists hope to rear the Rio Grande blues in hatchery ponds to learn more about their reproductive secrets. The blues very appropriately will occupy hatchery maternity ponds.

Crime is a Young People's Problem

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River looks at the crime situation this week.

Dear editor:
According to a copy of a newspaper I pulled off my front gate yesterday before it broke it down-my gate is sort of like my financial situation, so delicately balanced the slightest additional load could collapse it -- 53 percent of the crime in this country is committed by youths 19 years or younger, mostly by 15 and 16-year-olds.

Since the figures came from a national crime study committee I suppose they are accurate, although I know of very few bankers 19 years old or less who have been convicted and you rarely hear of a 17-year old politician caught misappropriating funds.

At any rate, in the same paper there was an article saying the bulk of the working and spending force in America is now under 30 years of age. There are older people working and spending of course, but the majority is under 30, and any company wanting to sell big has to reach that group, and any politician wanting to win an election has to get that vote.

I won't argue with these statistics, but I got to thinking. If a majority of the money and the votes is in the hands of people under 30, and most of the crime is committed by people under 19, what have the rest of us got to worry about?

If there's a crime wave in this country, let the youngsters take care of it. They've got the money and the political power, let them take care of the teenagers. I wash my hands of the whole thing.

Speaking of crime, some people are saying the increase is due to the Supreme Court's recent decisions, but I have my doubts. I just don't know of very many 15 and 16-year-olds who are very well posted on the Supreme Court's rulings. It would be handy to put the blame there, but I'm afraid there's very little connection between a missing hubcap or a shot-out school window and the Supreme Court.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SPRING CHECKLIST

With spring in the air, it's time to spring into action on fire hazards. Whether your home stays free from dangerous and destructive fire this year may very well depend on what steps you take right now, the National Fire Protection Association points out.

Here's a five-point program guaranteed to remove most of the common causes of fires in homes.

1. Clean out any stacks of newspapers and magazines, discarded clothing, mattresses, old furniture and lamp shades, draperies — all the clutter that collects in attics, basements and closets.
2. Do the same clean-up job in the home workshop, too — shavings, scraps, oily rags, old paints must go.
3. Don't forget about the trash accumulating in the garage, and get rid of dead grass and brush around and near the house.
4. Repair defective electrical cords and plugs, check over appliances and call a competent electrician if they need attention.
5. Have your furnace, chimney and stoves inspected and cleaned. Fire danger lurks in every one of these spots, says the NFPA.

Cattish Feathers Proved Genuine

An estimated 500 ducks killed by hail on a Concho County pond didn't go to waste completely.

San Angelo hatchery superintendent, A. E. Pettit was catching some large cattish out of the pond for brood stock when he noticed feathers in their mouths!!

Investigation revealed duck feathers and duck gizzards in several cattish stomachs. Pettit learned how the ducks had been so tragically killed and could only muse that the foraging brood cats had salvaged at least something from the incident.

Teen Scene

by Margaret Bundy

This last week was filled with UIL contests. On Friday, the track boys went to Ozona to compete in the district meet. Sonora had quite a few kids that placed in the contest.

Laney Cook placed first in the 120-yard high hurdles, first in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, and second in the broad jump.

Ed Lee Renfro placed second in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles and Mike Richardson placed sixth in the same event. Manuel Sanchez placed third in the 880-yard run. Sonora had two winners in the high jump.

Dennis Schmidt took third place; J. V. Cook won fourth. Bill Green won fourth place in the discus, and Bert Bloodworth won fourth in the shot put. Sonora placed second in the mile relay, and gathered enough points to rank second in the meet.

The literary events started Saturday morning in Sonora. SHS did well in this contest, too, and had a winner in almost every division. In persuasive speaking, both Mike Richardson and Debbie Galbreath ranked second in their groups. Cindy Lambert placed third and Mark Jacoby placed second in prose reading.

In poetry interpretation, Margaret Bundy placed third and Tom Trainer placed second. Vicki Hodges ranked second and Dick Hamilton placed third in informative speaking.

In ready-writing, Margaret Bundy won second place and Ceevee Johnson won third. At the end of this long list is Jim Fish, who won second in number sense.

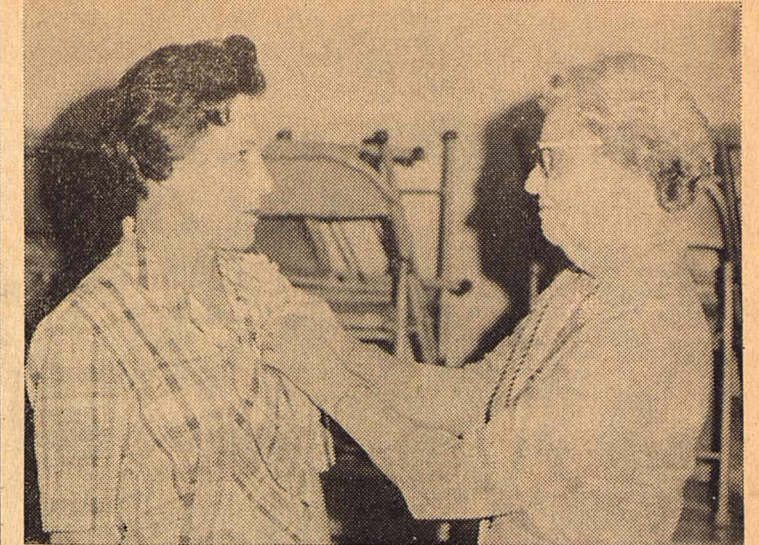

The golf team left Monday for their district competition in Big Lake. The members of the team are Lee Bloodworth, David Wuest, Jimmy Trainer, Dick Hamilton, Steve Thorp, Jesso Cook, Chris Berger and Gary Hardgrave. I hope they had a lot of luck!

The MacDonald Hotel cleaning campaign is reported to have been a complete success. Under the supervision of Herman Moore, thirty-six kids met downtown Saturday to rearrange the dust at the old hotel.

Swimming weather has hit this part of the country again. Tom Trainer, Susan Prugel, Jane Sawyer and Gary Hardgrave all went swimming Sunday afternoon. Glenda Delrie and Mitch Trainer also went swimming, even though they didn't really want to!

The student body was entertained by a Methodist evangelist at an assembly Monday afternoon. The man was here for the Methodist revival.

Yvonne Young wants everybody

MRS. MYRTLE BRIDGES, right, pins a corsage on Mrs. Tommy Smith in recognition of her work in the Sonora Parent-Teacher Association. Newly installed P-TA officers stand before the organization as Mrs. James Baggett of Ozona, installation officer, addresses the organization. The new officers are Mrs. Bill Savell, president; Mrs. Jimmy Hugh Harris, first vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Bridges, second vice president; Mrs. George Stewart, secretary; Mrs. Joe Lane, treasurer; Mrs. Edwin Sawyer, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. W. Elliott, publicity chairman; and Mrs. J. W. Joy, historian.

This was a weekend for golf tournaments. We had golfers scattered out all over West Texas at various events and we managed to produce at least one winner at every one of them.

We're extra proud of our high school golf team. The boys attended the District 8-A Golf Meet in Big Lake Monday. Sonora's team won the meet with a team total of 306. The second place team was Iraan with a team total of 316.

Sonora's team was made up of Gary Hardgrave, who shot a 74, Jimmy Trainer, 75, Dick Hamilton, 78, Chris Berger, 79, and David Wuest, 82. The best four scores were used to determine the four-man team.

Entered in the singles was Jesso Cook with a 79, Steve Thorp, 83 and Lee Bloodworth, 98.

Looks like Sonora's crop of up and coming golfers is going to be pretty tough to beat.

Norm Rousselot and Jimmy Harris went to Midland and played in the District 1-A Lions Club Convention tournament. Norm came through like a champ and won not only medalist but the tournament.

As far as we can find out Jimmy was an "also ran" but bet he had lots of fun.

J. W. Neville and George Johnson played in the McCamee partnership. They both came home with a good looking set of woods for winning the First Flight.

With 120 players and 27 holes to play it was a little bit dark out before this one ended.

Sammie Espy and Pauline Thompson and Wanda Cahill and Ernestine Hext played in Ozona's women's partnership. Dorothy Ratliff of Edlorado and Lu Morgan played too but we don't know who their partners were.

Even though she's deserted us and gone over to the enemy side

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

by the Rev. Ross T. Welch
There are beauty spots in a number of places over town now that the blooming season is here. Dr. and Mrs. Howell's back yard is full of color, even though his rose garden is just coming into bloom.

The white, orchid-like iris in Ruby Stephen's yard have been very beautiful. The bluebonnet bed by the Sonora Wool and Mohair Warehouse has been about the prettiest we have seen. The cactus bed at the corner of the O. L. Richardson Jr. lot has had some beautiful blooms.

The bed of pale blue iris in the little park by the Post Office is striking in beauty. I suppose I inherit my love for flowers from my mother, who struggled against heavy odds to keep a West Texas ranch home surrounded by beauty.

We learned something new about Bill Drake—of the House of Drake—on a recent visit. He was born at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, but grew up in London. If he speaks with a slightly clipped accent, he has a right to do just that.

If you have neglected to attend the Revival at the Methodist Church, you still have an opportunity to get in on a good thing. There will be services tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. and one more breakfast meeting tomorrow (Friday) morning at 6:30 a.m. The evangelistic series will close with the morning worship Sunday.

I am always amazed at the amount of food that evangelists can consume and still keep going. They must burn lots of calories in their work. Week after week, they are fed the finest foods that Methodist women can prepare. I am sure I could not survive on so rich a diet.

According to the attendance records kept at the First Methodist Church from the beginning of the year to Easter, ten persons achieved perfect attendance records at morning worship. A number of others missed only one Sunday during the period. Most of those who achieved the record for attendance were ladies.

Response to the proposed summer recreation program has been tremendous. Wherever the idea has been presented, it has met with approval. The only—or major—problem at the moment seems to be finding the personnel to run the program.

Not only did the officials give their endorsement to a community summer, they seemed to think it would be a fine thing for our town every summer.

The drought situation is becoming increasingly desperate every day. (This is not news, but is recorded here for the benefit of posterity.) Cloudy skies and light traces of rain have given rise to some sincere hopes and prayers that rain would fall.

Someone remarked this week when mist was falling, "I guess it is raining about as hard as we are praying."

That made me wonder if a great many people have the idea that they are praying when they are only wishing real hard.

On a recent trip to Austin we saw at least a dozen dead deer on the highway. In most places there seems to be more grazing on the right-of-way than in the pastures and this attracts the deer at night. It makes night driving relatively hazardous.

School children who have grown up in a school with a school cafeteria do not realize how lucky they are. My three brothers and I carried our lunch in an old tin pail. We (the three older ones) took turns preparing lunches.

Generally speaking, we had to prepare lunches from what we grew on the farm. In fall and winter when the sausages were fresh and the hams were good, it was not too difficult to put together a good lunch.

But in the spring, we, having grown tired of hard-boiled eggs, and the pork, cured by rather primitive methods, having become a little rancid, it was sometimes rather difficult to prepare a tasty lunch.

This was especially true if one happened to sleep late and had no time to "devil" the eggs or prepare something special.

One morning, for some reason, I was determined that it was not my morning to prepare the lunches. My brothers were sure that it was my turn. At the last moment, under threat of mayhem, I rushed into the kitchen, took the few remaining cold biscuits left from breakfast, poked my finger into the side of each and filled the hole with syrup.

With no drink but water, and not much of that, you can imagine what a delicious lunch we had. When I see the school kids pushing back their spinach and carrots, I hope silently that they may never have their doctor say to them, "You have a slight curvature of the spine, because you did not get the vitamins you needed in your childhood."

My earliest memories are of a West Texas drought, that is one reason I have such a dread of drought. Vitamins indeed! I have heard my mother tell of saving the peels from today's potatoes to have potato soup for tomorrow.

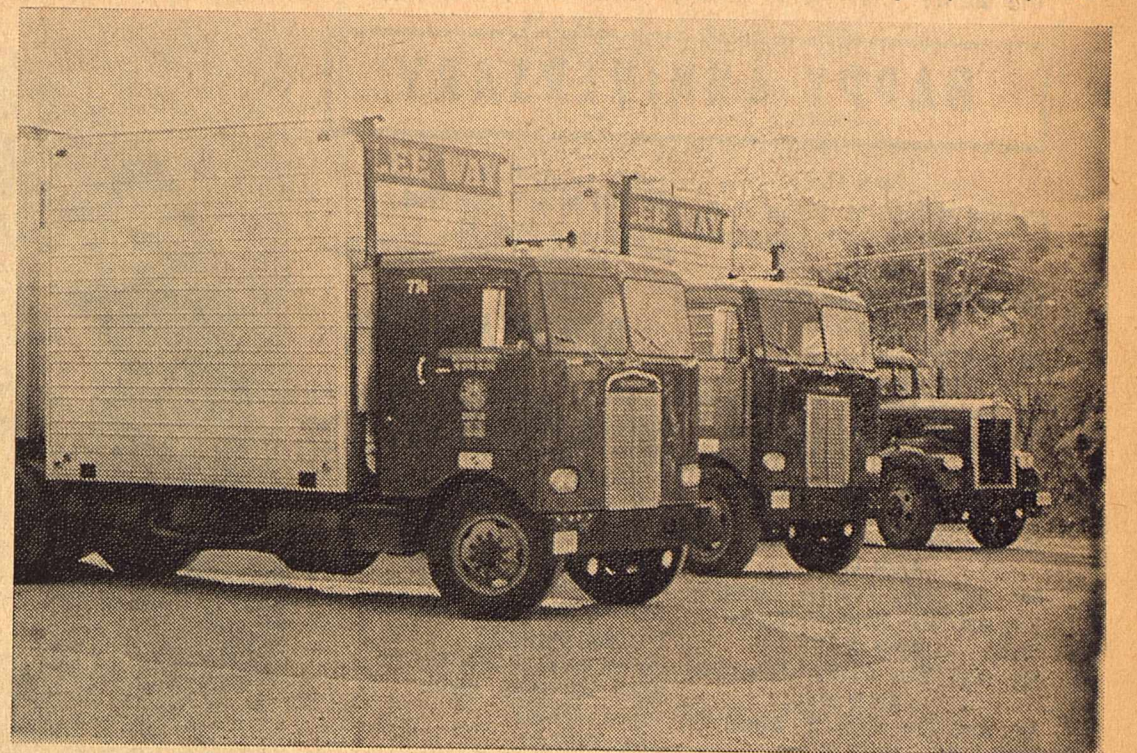

One day a neighbor came by when my mother was patching overalls. He told the story of an old woman who had been trying desperately hard to keep her family decent. One day a fairy godmother came to her and said "I'll grant any wish you make, what would you want more than anything else?"

"Can I have ANYTHING I want?" she asked in disbelief.

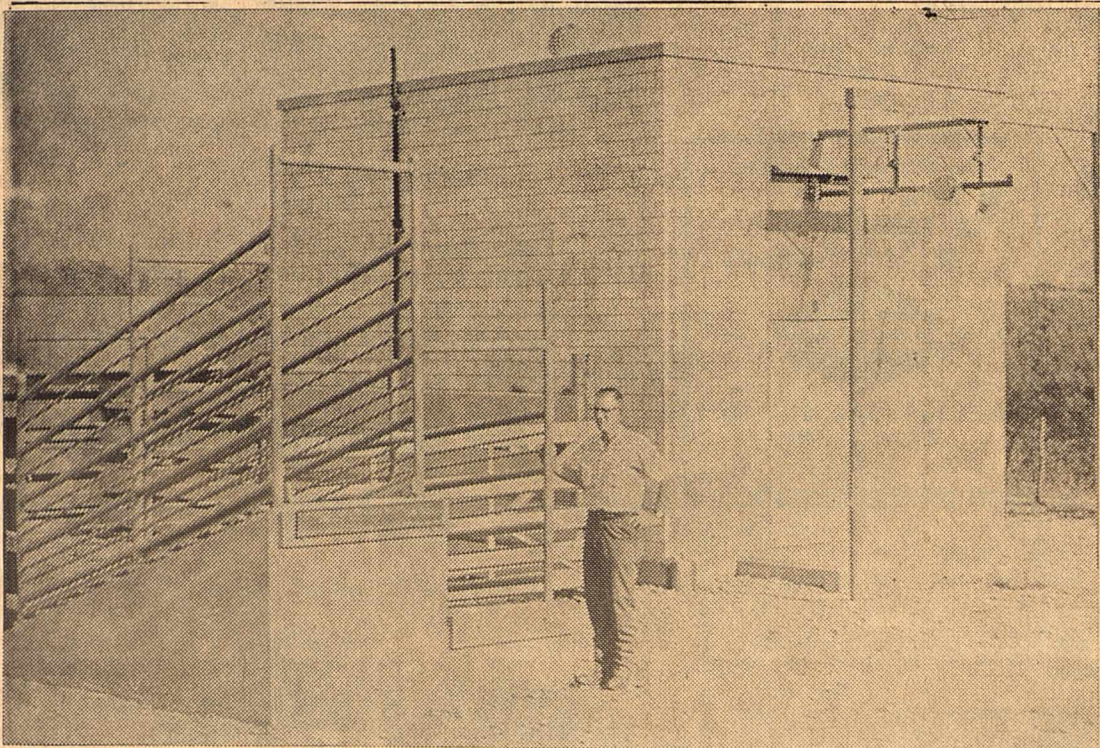

"Yes," came the reply, "anything in the world."

"Then I want a barrel of rags to do my patching with."

We hope it doesn't come to that—perhaps we should pray a little more earnestly.

IDLE TRUCKS belonging to Lee Way Motor Freight Inc., were parked at their local warehouse awaiting the end of the Teamsters Union lockout. A settlement was reached April 18. Freight service will be resumed this morning.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

EXAMPLE

Just as one picture is worth a thousand words, there is no substitute for parental example in the proper business of "bringing up" children.

Parents who often complain their children do nothing but "fuss and fight" overlook the fact that their own bickering sets the family pattern.

The children in a family must have respect for their parents before they are likely to have respect for one another. If parents are disagreeable, they create an unpleasant environment within the home.

Parents who do not maintain a certain amount of parental dignity suffer a loss of respect. Parents who are inconsistent in their attitude towards one another, and towards their children, will find their children becoming more quick to question their authority and the wisdom of their decisions.

Parents should evidence mutual respect and trust. Setting an example is accomplished through a course of action and there is no merit in saying, "Don't do as I do; do as I say do."

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS
BY VERN SANFORD

Surf fishing along the Texas Gulf Coast is fun... especially in balmy weather.

But... sometimes even the hardiest surf fishermen want to cast beyond the surf without getting their feet wet. This time comes to all of us when the air and the water temperature both are too cold for wading out.

Ability to fire that lure or bait far beyond the seaward breakers rests not in the physical build of the fisherman but in the build of his tackle.

In good surf casting all the work of whipping out the lure is done by the rod. Like the little motor that starts your car engine the fisherman merely puts the casting act into operation.

Before the advent of glass rods, true surf rods were frequently seen in use along the Texas coast. Just about every rod was made from a calcutta pole and ranged in length from nine to 12 feet.

These calcutta rods had a lot of whip. Unfortunately, however, they had a bad tendency to take a set. And even the most beautifully wrapped calcutta was never a rod of true beauty in appearance.

Attractive glass rods simply knocked calcutta into oblivion. Except for fly-fishing, most glass rods were five to seven feet in length. They were ideally suited for general bay, pier and boat fishing. But not for surf casting—where a combination of a whippy rod and length is the answer to a long cast.

Fortunately, rod makers again are catching up with the specialized needs of fishermen today. A number of reputable companies now make good surf rods - glass ones - ranging from nine to 13 feet in length.

Man, when you hitch one of these rods to a heavy-duty spinning-reel, you can get casts out of this world. Or, like the old salt says: "You can chuck it out where the big ones are."

Conventional free-spool reels will cast nicely with a surf rod. But the casts will not be as long as those with the open-face salt-water spinning reel.

Another advantage of the spinning reel is that lighter line, smaller in diameter, can be used. You'll find there's much less current drag when using small diameter line. Due to this fact the sinker will hold the bait in place and virtually eliminate currents "rolling" the line back to the shore.

Today's glass surf rods are made in one piece or in several sections. One-piece rods are great... except for the problem of hauling around. If you buy one of these longies the best thing to do is to have some rubber rod-holders attached to the roof of your car. Then carry the long rod on top where it's less likely to be broken. One thing for sure, it's dangerous to drive around with one of these long rods sticking out a car window.

Two-piece surf rods solve the portage problem. They can be broken down to fit nicely inside the car. But, remember, the two-piece rod isn't without its drawbacks. It doesn't have as much spring-like action. And you have those metal ferrules to consider. They take a beating from the salt water.

Even the finest metal will corrode unless proper care is taken. So, after every trip take the rod apart and thoroughly clean the ferrules. Then coat the ferrules with a light film of oil.

But be sure to remove the oil before assembling the rod for use. Oiled ferrules will cause a "suction" when fitted together and such a "suction" is quite hard to break.

When a ferrule corrodes or begins to show specks of pitting, these corruptions can be removed by polishing away with Jewelers' Rouge. This is a fine polishing compound that will not scar or scratch.

While you're checking the ferrules, be sure to also check the rod guides and tip-top. Guides and tip-tops, especially on spinning rods take a beating since line pressure is applied directly to them.

A pitted or grooved guide or tip-top can result in your line breaking at a most embarrassing time.

INSIDE AND OUT

Spring Clean-Up isn't just an inside job!

Also clean up the grounds around your house, advises the National Fire Protection Association.

This is a common-sense fire safety measure because any stray spark in nearby weeds, dead grass, old wood or other quick-burning debris could easily start an outdoor fire - a fire that could just as easily spread to your house and to other property.

Look for fire-inviting conditions around your home and correct them promptly. This includes keeping all exterior surfaces of your house painted and in good repair, and replacing combustible wood shingle roofs with fire-resistant roofing.

If you dispose of trash by burning it outdoors, be sure to follow any local regulations regarding type, use and location of home incinerators.

About 550,000 U. S. homes are hit by fire each year, and over 6,000 persons - 33 percent of them children-die in these fires, National Fire Protection Association records show.

Contract Shearers Exempt in New Law

Sheep or goat shearers hired by the man-days worked by the employee of the sheep shearer would not be counted against the ranchman's number of man-days of hired labor under the new Minimum Wage and Hour Law, the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association has learned.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, chairman of the Senate sub committee on labor, forwarded the text of a letter from Charles Donahue, solicitor of labor, U. S. Department of Labor in Washington. It was in answer to a query from Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo, a past president of the TS&GRA. The letter stated:

"Applying the criteria of the Rutherford case (331 U. S. 772) which the legislative history said should be followed to the total factual situation in the normal sheep shearing operation described... the administration of the WHPC Division has concluded that the shearing operators are independent contractors engaged in a business of their own and that

TEXAS WOOL PRODUCTION

Texas sheep produced 38.8 million pounds of wool in 1966—down 6 percent from 1965. A total of 5,031,000 head of sheep were shorn and they produced an average of 7.7 pounds per fleece, according to figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Total value of wool produced was $19 million.

BROWN COW RECOGNIZED

Brad-Lou Della, a Brown Swiss cow owned by Fulcher and Terrell of Stephenville has a lifetime production to date of 114,560 pounds of milk and 4,254 pounds of butterfat in 2,431 days, reports the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association of Beloit, Wisc. This is enough milk to supply the recommended 3 glasses per day for the entire population of a town of 1,500 for over 6 weeks.

Don't gamble that your home is safe from fire, says the National Fire Protection Association. How about those oily rags in the kitchen closet - or those old clothes and papers in the attic? One tiny, stray spark and you're out of luck—and a home. Clean up!

Youth Horse Club Organized in County

A horse club has been organized for the school age people of Sutton County. The organization now consists of 25 members. Officers are Debbie Galbreath, president; Scott Shurley, vice president; and Kari Eustace, secretary-treasurer. The county 4-H Club is sponsoring the program and is being encouraged by county agent, Clint Langford, as a healthy form of recreation. Members will participate in the 4-H Club sponsored horse show scheduled for Saturday, April 15, at the Sonora Park Association race track. Later plans call for a county-wide horse show to be held during the summer months. The 4-H horse judging team, composed of club members, will compete in Odessa, April 22, in the district horse judging contest. The organization holds practice sessions each Sunday at 1 p.m., in the barrel racing, pole bending, reining and western pleasure events. Adult leaders for the organization are Allison Powers, Billie Galbreath, Betty Stewart, Bill Whitehead, Lin Hicks and Clay Cade. Gene Shurley, instrumental in the forming of the organization, will not continue due to illness.

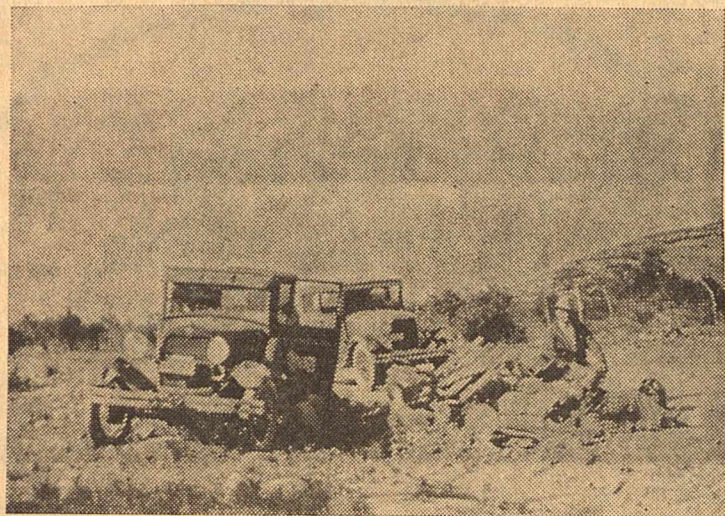

THE WINNING TEAM in the Hill Country Firemen's Association ladies' pumper race at the semi-annual convention in Coleman last week were Norma Radle and Mrs. Kyle Donaldson, sitting; Mrs. Darcy Carroll and Mrs. Louis Olenick, kneeling; and Mrs. E. L. Harrell and Mrs. Gene West, standing. Sonora's firemen also won the prize for the number of man-miles traveled to the event.

The winning team is composed of Norma Raddle, Mmes. Darcy Carroll, E. L. Harrell, Louis Olenick, Gene West and team captain, Mrs. Kyle Donaldson.

Nearly 300 members of the association participated in the competition. The association is now composed of 20 volunteer fire departments in the West Texas area.

In the business session of the organization, Darcy Carroll was elected first vice president. J. C. Luttrell is the outgoing president. Association members named Lee Ann Byer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Byer, as sweetheart and William Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Carroll, as mascot.

Sonora also won the award for the amount of man-miles traveled to the semi-annual event.

Recreation Council Makes Summer Plan

Officers elected included the Rev. Ross T. Welch, president; the Rev. George Stewart, vice president; Mrs. Ray Barlemann, secretary and Mrs. Warren Hemphill, treasurer. Others present included Dr. Charles Browne, D. C. Langford, Jimmy H. Harris, George Wallace, and Coach Jerry Hopkins. A director is yet to be named.

Plans are under way for a two-month program beginning the 15th of June. Specific details will be announced after a director is named.

The City Commissioners and County Commissioners have each pledged support of $750 each with the provision that a proper program can be worked out.
