Tax Assessor, Three Teachers Resign From Local Schools

In a special meeting, the school trustees accepted resignations from staff members and adopted a salary schedule for the 1976-77 school year.

Resignations were accepted from Carroll King, Edwina Braden, Dorene Mitchell and L.G. Smith.

King has been tax assessor-collector for the past six years and Smith taught special education in the elementary school. Mrs. Braden and Mrs. Mitchell taught speech and math in the high school.

In its continuing efforts to improve the school program, the board adopted a salary schedule that will attract and hold good qualified teachers. The 1976 salary schedule will be $1,200.00 above the state minimum, and hospitalization insurance will be provided. Some of the neighboring schools, such as Big Lake, Iraan, and McCamey, pay from $1,100.00 to $1,500.00 above the state minimum.

The board encouraged the teachers to continue their educational training toward a higher degree or to take additional courses related to their teaching fields. As an incentive for teachers to take new courses in teaching methods, materials, and techniques, the district will reimburse the teachers at the rate of $25.00 per semester hour for courses approved by the principal and superintendent.

Incumbent Mayor Norman Rousselot is seeking re-election to that position. Although he has no opponent in the race, Rousselot has asked for the support of the voters and expressed in a release to the newspaper, his pleasure in having the opportunity to again be mayor of the city.

Of the seven seeking positions as aldermen, Doyle Morgan is the only incumbent. Serving one term on the board, he states that he will make every effort to serve to the best of his ability.

Jim Beresky, a relative newcomer to Sonora, is an employee of Dowell where he is a district sales engineer. Likely the youngest of the seven seeking election, beneficial to the council.

Candidates Anticipate Election Day - Saturday

Julie Pollard, one of the three women seeking election to the commission, says she feels she is a fair, unbiased individual who wants to have a part in Sonora's future.

The other two candidates for city aldermen, Rebecca P. Chavez and Billie Wright Taylor, have made no statement to the news as to their qualifications or reasons for desiring the job.

Places 3 and 4 on the school board expire this year and both incumbents, James T. Hunt and W.L. (Bud) Whitehead, are asking for re-election.

Hunt in place three in seeking his second term, says operating our school is a very large and complex business and feels that it takes a full year to become acquainted with and understand the finances and policies involved. Vying for that place on that board is Max L. Martin and V.L. Chavez.

Chavez, who was defeated in last year's race by the incumbent candidate, states that since there was 42 percent enrollment of Mexican-American students in the public schools in 1975, he feels the need for a person of Mexican-American descent who understands the language and cultural heritage of students, is of utmost importance.

Martin, another newcomer to Sonora, works as a drilling foreman for Amoco and says this will offer him the means of contributing to the community. He and his family have resided in Sonora for the past year and a half.

Whitehead, candidate for place 4; is also seeking his second term, and says he believes that a strong school system needs a good parent-faculty relationship and pledges the time to discuss school matters whenever the need arises.

Vying with Whitehead for that position is Mrs. Lou McMillon. Mrs. McMillon is employed by the city police department and states that having children in school makes her very interested in the education of every child and in the growth of Sonora. She also states her belief in varied representation on the school board.

Polls in both races will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The city election will be held at the city hall. Voters in the school board election will cast ballots at the county courthouse.

Little Dribblers' All Stars will travel to Plains April 8 where they will compete against Denver City. Game time is scheduled for 2:15 p.m. Coaches for the team are Jack Lawson and Clay Hicks. All Stars are Terry Moorehead, Allen Stewart, Scott Savell, John Blankenship, John Pollard, Randy Mounce, Rick Powers, Perry Don Draper, Micheal McMillon and Tommy Bland.

Little Dribblers' Results

In last week's action of the Little Dribbler's teams of girls the B team defeated the A team by a mere one point ...14-13. Julie Stewart was high scorer for the B team with five points and Tammy Williams scored 10 points for the A team.

The second game of the night saw team C defeat team D by a close score of 24-22. Sabrina Allison scored 16 points for team C with Jessica Robledo high point scorer for team D with 14 points.

The boys' team saw action Monday night and team C was victorious over team A by a score of 22-15. Randy Mounce scored 9 points for team A and John Blankenship scored 14 points for team C. Team D won over team E

May 1 Primary Absentee Voting Starts April 12

Absentee voting in the May 1 primary election will begin April 12 and continue through April 27.

All absentee voting in the election will be done at the office of the county clerk in the courthouse during regular working hours, 8 a.m., through 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

in the second game. The score was 29-23 with Allen Stewart being high point man for team D with 19 points. Perry Don Draper held high points for team E scoring 12 of their 23 points.

James A. Blockinger, assistant chief Border Patrol agent of Del Rio, awards T.C. McCutchen a medal commemorating his 25 years with the Border Patrol. Also receiving awards were Clifford Green, 5 years, and Robert Mooney, 15 years.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

A Way To Restore Faith
In Government?....Maybe

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River takes a wry look at politicians this week, and maybe the rest of us too.

Dear Editor:
It is generally admitted that a feeling of distrust, if not disgust, toward government has spread across the land.

It's not just the result of Watergate, which revealed that skulduggery and criminality had reached the top, but is also the result of a widespread and growing feeling that too many politicians fit the description recently given one: "He's just an average, chuckle-headed Congressman trying to improve his net worth."

Too many politicians accepted illegal contributions, and if they didn't their campaign managers, some of whom are now in jail, did. Too many politicians use their influence to help themselves or their friends or brothers-in-law financially. Even if you're the President with an image of honesty and decency and select a campaign manager, you never know what you're getting.

Now this all amounts to a grave problem and everybody should be thinking about what we can do to restore trust and confidence in government, from the state legislature in Austin to Washington. What we can do about foreign policy will have to wait till later, along with television programs, high utility rates, and the postal service.

Therefore I have given considerable thought to the big problem and have concluded that we'll never have decency in government till the newspapers stop investigating politicians.

It's this constant digging, this turning up of unsavory doings by government officials, however embarrassingly true, that's destroying the people's confidence in government.

Don't the newspaper and television reporters know that practically none of us can stand a real close scrutiny? That if you dig long enough, hard enough and far back enough you'll find something?

The solution to the problem is to limit reporters to investigating no more than 10 percent of the people at any given time. That gives the rest of us 90 percent chance of not being found out.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

FOR SALE: Garbage collection system. System presently serving approximately 1500 customers, most of whom feel over-charged and under-served. Fantastic potential for cash erosion and operating losses! Present system losing more than $2,000 per month with expected losses in the future even better. Additional cash outflows can be expected due to high injury rate of collection personnel as they attempt to handle 55 gallon drums filled with heavy solid waste. Collection system includes a very marginal landfill site for disposal of collected solid wastes. Landfill site considered by neighboring residents, the Air Pollution Control Board, and the Texas State Department of Health to be poorly located, inadequate, and an eyesore, but site is attractive investment because of additional $1,000 per month loss to be incurred for capital costs and landfill maintenance expenses.

It is unlikely that an advertisement of this nature would bring potential buyers flocking to City Hall. Unfortunately, the situation outlined above is an extremely accurate description of the City's Sanitation Department. The City does not really intend to sell the sanitation operation but it is time to look closely at this operation and identify where inefficiencies exist, and determine what must be done to keep the system viable now and in the future.

The City Council will be asked in the meeting to be held April 5 to examine data relating to the sanitation department operation in hopes that corrective measures may be instituted. The Council will be asked to review the existing rate schedules; route design; alternative collection techniques; landfill operation and location; optimum garbage container size; and long range operational needs. The City should not make a profit on garbage collection, but neither should it sustain a $36,000 per year net loss on operations. The City Council must determine the level of service people want (which they are willing to pay for), and how to provide that level of service at the least possible cost.

Centennial Week at A&M

"Agriculture in a Century of Change" is the theme of Agricultural Centennial Week, April 5-9, a special feature of the Texas A&M University Centennial observance, notes Clint Langford, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The public is invited to the week's activities.

The April 5 program will be a salute to youth, with spokesmen representing 4-H, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America scheduled to address Texas A&M University faculty and students on "Youth Speaks To Agriculture."

Career exploration will keynote the afternoon session on April 5, with career seminars in agriculture planned to accommodate more than 1,000 off-campus high school students, Langford adds.

State and national leaders will explore the future of Texas agriculture on April 6-7. "A real challenge of Texas agriculture is to identify future trends and directions as we move toward a new century," the county agent says. Theme for the two-day symposium is "Maintaining Agriculture's Momentum in the Century Ahead."

A number of special awards will be presented during the week. The "Award of Merit" will be recognized during the Centennial Agricultural Convocation the evening of April 5. Climaxing the program will be a special "Centennial Family" award.

Several special Centennial awards for distinguished service to Texas agriculture will be made during a luncheon on April 6.

Concluding Agricultural Centennial Week activities will be the annual Texas Animal Agriculture Conference April 8-9. "Environmental Management and the Private Landowner" will be the theme of the first session. Separate short courses will follow for producers interested in beef cattle, dairy, horses, swine, pastures and forages, range and wildlife, adds Langford.

I ride to work with a fellow worker. If an accident occurred, how could we both be best protected against liability?

From the driver's viewpoint... if an accident occurred and you were injured, only the court could decide if the driver was liable. If found liable and he was properly insured, both would be protected by his insurance. It is advisable to carry Medical Payments coverage which can be added to an Automobile Liability Policy for a minimum fee. This will pay medical payments, up to designated limits, of passengers who may be injured, regardless of liability. As a passenger, your standard Automobile Policy with Medical Payments Coverage would pay your medical costs regardless of other coverage. As in all cases coverage falls first with the automobile being used and your primary protection would come from the policy covering the vehicle.

Double Ring Rites Unite Rachael Shurley, Gary Nixon

Wedding ceremonies held March 20 in the First United Methodist Church of Marfa united Miss Rachael Riffe Shurley of Marfa and Mr. Gary Gene Nixon of Eldorado. The Rev. Carl Crouch performed the double ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Riffe Shurley of Marfa and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hanson Nixon Jr., of Eldorado. Old fashioned crystal oil lamps decorated either side of the cross that entered the sanctuary of the church. The piano and organ were framed by greenery. The chancel and choir rail were entwined with garlands of plumosus greenery and white satin bows. The kneeling bench pillow was made of white eyelet embroidery and lace by the bridegroom's mother. The pews were decorated with white satin bows and greenery as was the foyer and table which also held an amber glass oil lamp.

The bride's cousin, Mr. Bill Montanden of Austin, provided organ music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an empire style gown of white satin organza embroidered with alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls. The sleeves were pleated sheer organza, bloused at the wrist with alencon lace and pearls. The same sheer pleats adorned the hemline of the gown, flowing into alencon lace to the cathedral length train. Her veil, brought from Belgium by her grandfather, the late M.D. Bryant of San Angelo, was of cathedral length Brussels lace and silk. She carried a basket of white silk spring flowers worked with white satin ribbon and streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Patricia Shurley of Dallas. Bridesmaids were Misses Danna Ward of Monahans, Cindy Rogers of Marfa, Beth Ann Wright of Menard, Debbie Mitchell of Marfa and Mrs. Eulan Armour of Petrolia. Miss Allison Gail Bosch of Springfield, Va., served her cousin as flower girl.

Attendants wore empire styled dresses of ivory cotton batiste with small apricot rose print covering the entire bodice. The square neck and shoulders were trimmed with apricot ribbon and cotton lace. Head pieces were apricot silk flowers with satin streamers and small silk flowers attached at the end of each streamer. Bridesmaids carried baskets of spring apricot silk flowers and greenery worked with satin ribbon. The flower girl was dressed in a floor length pink batiste gown, accented by a white dotted swiss pinafore. She carried a miniature basket matching that of the bridesmaids. Best man to the bridegroom was his brother, Archie Nixon of Las Alamos, New Mexico. Groomsman were James Holly, Matt Giles, Forey Henderson, Dale Harral and Mickey Nixon, all of Eldorado. Serving as ushers were the bride's brother, Michael Shurley of Salvador, Brazil, and Mark Thornton and Jay Holly of Eldorado. The bridegroom and his attendants wore western cut tuxedos and boots with the traditional one spur on the left foot. After a wedding trip to Colorado the couple will make their home in Eldorado where he is employed by a drilling company. Mrs. Nixon is a graduate of Marfa High School and is presently a student at Angelo State University. Mr. Nixon graduated from Eldorado High School and attended Sul Ross State University in Alpine.

Less Drudgery... ... More Living

That's what retirement has meant to Fred and Frances. Of course, they spent close to forty years getting themselves ready.

They learned the richness of living . . . the adventures of believing and serving and sacrificing. They surrounded themselves with people who care, who are concerned, who like helping others. They based their lives on truths and ideals that do not change with every passing opportunity or disappointment. They found God.

Now they are prepared to enjoy the rest of life.
 Not the REST. Who looks forward to idleness?
 Rather THE REST . . . the years not yet lived . . . the unfolding culmination of our destiny as children of God.

In the lives of Fred and Frances, retirement has been one more Christian adventure. And a blessing to their church, their community and their family. They have more time now for things they ALWAYS valued most.

Chavez Gives Reasons For Seeking Election

My reasons for running for the school board are two: First is my interest in all children of the community and secondly I feel that there should be a Mexican-American on the school board. The importance of this lies in the fact that a member of that community-logically represents it best and seeing a Mexican-American on the board will give that community, both young and old, a sense of pride. Pride in themselves, therefore their language and culture, will enable a people to succeed in all areas of life. Models, be they educators, administrators or community people serving as leaders or decision makers, are needed for the Mexican-American child. Yes, I mention the Mexican-American child often because realistically speaking he is not represented on the board.

The issues as I see them are:

1) A Mexican-American bi-lingual counselor is needed in the school system.

2) More bi-lingual teachers, because we have seen the good that the present Mexican-American teachers have done: The children identify more easily with this type of model.

My platform is to represent all children's needs with special consideration for the Mexican-American who, again, does not realistically have a voice.

I don't promise things, I do them. If elected this will be my course of action. I am not doing this for publicity but for representation of the whole community. So for these reasons I ask you for your support the day of the election, April 3, 1976.

Hope you all consider my name on the ballot.

Thank you,

Eleven State Employees Presented Safety Awards

Cullen Luttrell, well-known "Bluebonnet man" of District 7, and Maintenance Construction Supervisor of State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Sonora office, called an awards ceremony meeting of his employees last week. Conducting the meeting and making the awards was Assistant District Safety Officer Charlene Carr of San Angelo.

Eleven local employees of Luttrell's section qualified for the Driver No-Accident awards which are presented annually to those persons who operate state vehicles in the performance of their duties. Rules governing the awards extend even to accidents caused by poor loads or mechanical failure, which helps to keep operators aware of vehicle maintenance and condition, and promotes safety-conscious teamwork throughout the Department.

Those receiving the awards were Robert G. Duran, 1 year; Ernest P. Carroll, 2 years; Pat G. Brown, William Radle, Jr., 3 years; Gildardo C. Favila, 5 years; Tidoro R. Chavez, 6 years; Louis Olenick, 7 years; Manuel V. Martinez, 10 years; Domingo L. Pina, 13 years; Alcadio G.

Escobar, 16 years; and Kenneth L. Duckworth, 22 years. A total of 88 years of accident-free driving and use of State vehicles are represented in this group of employees.

A.H.A. Fund Drive Successful

The quota set for Sutton County Division by the Texas affiliate of the American Heart Association, has been reached, according to the president Mrs. J.F. Howell, who is pleased to report that most workers have turned in their kits, together with the contributions received.

Approximately $2900 was raised together with memorials for the year 1976.

The Division is grateful to each and every person who contributed time in the solicitation of these funds and to each and every donor regardless of the amount given. There are always a few persons assigned special duties and to the following persons Mrs. Howell is especially grateful for their efforts: Mrs. Edwin Sawyer in charge of residential; Mrs. J.W. Neville, Mrs. Dick Black, and George Wallace, and Charles Graves, for working the business district; Mrs. W.L. Whitehead for rural communities; and to Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell for serving as headquarters memorial and chairman treasurer.

The next meeting will be the annual meeting where all officers and chairmen will give a report of the year's progress. Officers and directors will also be elected at this time. Anyone interested in the A.H.A. work is invited to attend April 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The God who gave life didn't put man alone on earth. "It is not good that the man should be alone," God said (Genesis 2:18). To be alone in the world is the denial of an essential part of human existence.

Kemp Certified As Breathalyzer Operator

Sonora Police Chief, Bill Webster announced today that the Sonora Police Department now has a Certified Breathalyzer Operator.

Officer Jerry Kemp received his certificate Friday after having completed a week of studies at East Texas State University in Commerce.

In announcing Officer Kemp's certification, Chief Webster says having a Certified Breathalyzer operator within the Police Department will enable him and his staff to perform their own tests on suspected drunk drivers rather than to impose on Troopers Crenwelge and Walick of the Texas Highway Patrol. Before, if one of our officers arrested a drunk driving suspect at two in the morning, we had to ask one of them to perform the testing. Chief Webster added that Officer Kemp's services were not limited to just the Police Department's arrests, but would be made available to any other agency within the county.

The school was made available through a grant funded by the Criminal Justice Council and consisted of classes in operation and techniques of the breathalyzer, criminal law, case reporting and the metric system.

Twelve officers from various parts of the state attended the week long session and were required to pass a written and practical examination before graduation.

To prevent bedsores, it was necessary for nurses to change position of patients every two hours or so. Now, a pad of visco-elastic gel, enclosed in plastic, is placed beneath the patient so that he can lie on it for as long as a day--without ill effect.

Bob Krueger's Weekly Report

When I was back in the district last weekend, I walked door-to-door in San Antonio to hear firsthand some of the concerns of the people I represent. I find that I have the opportunity to meet some people by speaking before various groups, but if I wish to get the broadest spectrum of views I need to seek out directly people who may not be members of service groups and other organizations that invite congressmen to speak.

One of the concerns I found frequently in my house-to-house visits was puzzlement and resentment over increasing utility costs. In particular, people are concerned by the fuel adjustment clause, which often is higher than the utility charge itself. I have been working since coming to Washington to promote fairness and equity in energy costs and to promote decisions that will address not only the immediate problem, but also the need for wise planning for the future.

First, I consider it essential that we require other states to pay as much for our energy as we pay ourselves. We have for some years in Texas been subsidizing these states, which buy our energy more cheaply than we can get it at home. Now that those states are beginning to run out of cheap supplies of energy, they wish to extend federal controls into our state in order to allocate the oil and gas produced in Texas among all states, producing and consuming. If they succeed in this (and, surprisingly, some people in Texas actually favor giving them such power) we will suffer shortages such as they do and our power to attract industry and jobs, and to meet our own needs, will be diminished. My deregulation bills would have made those states pay their fair share and would have increased their supplies and our own.

Second, the Energy and Power Subcommittee on which I serve is now going to begin hearings on electric utility legislation, and I hope that we will gain information allowing wise policy to be set regarding passthrough costs and siting regulations for new utilities.

Third, we will need, in future years, to cease relying on oil and gas to produce electricity and to rely instead on coal, or nuclear energy, or, many years later, on solar and other sources for our power. This will require large investments now in order to decrease energy costs in the future as we run out of domestic oil and gas.

We need the best possible estimate of our future size and energy needs in all parts of our state, and we need to try to even-out our consumption of electricity throughout each 24-hour period so that we are not required to build plants with the capacity to produce for "peak times" but which are nearly idle at other times. If we can even-out our use of electricity during the day, we can save vast amounts of money in the construction of new facilities. Today, many electrical generating plants have the capacity to produce twice the power normally being used just so they can meet the needs of "peak times." All consumers will save money if we can balance our electrical use.

I will discuss other problems and questions about utility costs in future columns as the work of our committee progresses. Meanwhile, it will help every community for its citizens to meet with their local officials to help plan as wisely as possible for the utility needs of tomorrow and of the next generation.

Elvira Holquin To Attend Seminar

Elvira Holquin, Sutton County senior citizen outreach worker, will attend the "Dynamic of Aging" seminar Thursday and Friday (April 1 and 2) at Angelo State University. The seminar is the third in a series sponsored by the Concho Valley Council of Governments Regional Office on Aging, the Center for Studies in Aging of North Texas State University and the ASU Division of Adult and Continuing Education. It is supported by a grant from the Governor's Committee on Aging.

The two-day seminar will cover the rights and needs of the elderly, physical fitness activities, physiology, psychology, sociology, health practices and social policy for the aging population.

The seminar is free of charge and open to those who work with the elderly, the elderly themselves, or anyone interested in becoming better educated in the dynamics of aging. Registration begins at 9 a.m. Thursday in the ASU Houston Harte Center ballroom. The seminar hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days.

Easter Seal Support Urged

A further request for support of the Easter Seal Society of Crippled Children and Adults and its program of services to the handicapped was issued last week by Erma Lee Turner, who is the County Easter Seal Representative for Sutton County.

The Easter Seal Society of Texas helps support treatment facilities in Texas where crippled children and adults who are not eligible for help from any other source are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. A complete referral program to ensure equal rehabilitation services to every person in Texas is a major Easter Seal Society service. Physical, occupational and speech therapy and orthopedic equipment purchases are also offered to help the handicapped overcome their disabilities.

The Easter Seal Appeal continues through Easter Sunday, April 18 and full support by every citizen was urged.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Cost of Cooking Varies Widely Between Appliances

By Robert L. Haney
The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

Until recently, we bought cooking appliances based on such factors as time or labor saving, whether they heated or smoked up the kitchen, and whether we had handy gas or electrical connections.

But no more. Most everyone has grown increasingly conscious of utility bills. And they bring home, in a personal way, the need to save energy.

Of the total national energy consumption, about one-fifth is used in residential services and 11 percent of the residential energy is used for food preparation, according to Dr. Richard E. Wainerdi, Director of the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University.

So, sizeable amounts of both energy and money can be saved in home food preparation if the more efficient appliances are selected and used in the most economical ways.

The Consumer Research Center of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES), Texas A&M University, did a study to compare the energy utilization of various appliances using different cooking methods and food quantities.

As you know there is a growing, almost bewildering variety of home cooking appliances. But in considering them, you'll find they fall into three categories, according to energy sources: 1) electricity, 2) natural gas, and 3) liquid petroleum gas.

The electric appliances, besides the regular ranges, now include a variety of small appliances and the relatively new microwave oven.

Conventional ovens may be divided into three types: 1) ovens with no built-in cleaning feature, 2) continuous cleaning ovens cleaned by special catalysts and 3) self-cleaning ovens which are cleaned by pyrolysis (chemical change by heat).

To make a decision as to which is best, an individual must know the fuel source and which oven type is the most economical from the standpoint of fuel use or fuel cost," according to Dr. Ki Soon Rhee of the TAES Consumer Research Center.

"Once you have selected the cooking appliance, you then have to decide the best cooking method for each type of food you prepare, since fuel cost for cooking will vary not only according to fuel source, appliance performance and food item, but also according to cooking method and food quantity," Rhee points out.

"In our research, the ground beef patty was chosen as the food item due to the relative easiness of obtaining the same kind of samples," says Flowayne Drew, TAES nutritionist who collaborated with Rhee in this research.

The cooking procedures were established based upon desired internal temperature and sensory evaluation of the cooked products.

Four cooking methods tested were surface cooking (pan frying), broiling, baking and microwave cooking. For surface cooking and broiling of one or four patties, the cost for different fuels was cheapest for the natural gas; liquid petroleum gas was next; and electricity was highest. For baking, natural gas was much cheaper than both liquid petroleum gas and electricity, but the latter two were comparable.

As for the different cooking methods, surface cooking and microwave cooking were comparable and cost least, followed by broiling and baking, respectively. When single-serving cooking was compared to four-serving cooking, the percentage increase in fuel consumption from the former to the latter was highest for microwave cooking, followed by surface cooking and baking in that order; there was no change for broiling. For various sensory characteristics, such as flavor, tenderness, appearance and overall acceptability, surface-cooked patties ranked highest and microwave-cooked patties

Can you save fuel by not preheating ovens when you bake or roast meat dishes? According to this study, some savings, although small, can be achieved by non-preheated baking, without sacrificing the quality of cooked meat.

How about fuel cost differences in terms of oven cleaning features? It is generally said that baking cost is lower in self-cleaning ovens, due to better insulation, than in ovens with other cleaning features; however, this study indicated that such a generalization cannot be made without specifying the brand or design of the appliances. Certain brands of continuous-cleaning ovens cost less for baking than other brands of self-cleaning ovens.

How much would you expect to pay for operating as many as five pilot lights in a natural gas or a liquid petroleum gas stove? One may have to pay as high as $2 per month for running pilot lights of one liquid petroleum gas range and $0.80 for those of a natural gas range (based on the September 1975 fuel rates in the Bryan-College Station area of Texas).

This research indicates that there are sizeable savings many consumers can make if they study how best to use the appliances they now own and if they shop carefully when buying new appliances.

Texas Department of Health Resources
Fratris L. Duff M.D., Director

Ask a dog, "Who is man's best friend?" and it might just take a bite out of your leg.

Animal bites, whether or not you can joke about them, are no laughing matter, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

More than 7,700 bites were tabulated during 1975 by the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health of the Department of Health Resources. These bite reports came from roughly a fifth of the state's population.

Animal bite incidents are reported regularly through a surveillance program operating through local health departments which cover an average human population of approximately 2.3 million persons per month.

The animal bite rate for 1975 was 336 per 100,000 population, a slight increase over the 1974 rate. Reports that year covered approximately 3.1 million people per month.

The surveillance report can put the finger on who is most likely to be bitten badly enough to report the injury.

Last year in Texas the most frequent victims were younger children. Of the 7,727 persons reported bitten in surveillance areas, 35 percent were less than 10 years of age. And, 60.5 percent were under 20 years old.

Man's best friend, the dog, was responsible for 83.2 percent of the bites, and cats were the villains in 11.6 percent of the bite cases. That leaves wild animals for the bulk of the remaining bites. These included three reports of fox bites and 18 by skunks. Rodents were responsible for 3.6 percent of bite cases during 1975.

How do you get close enough to a wild animal to be bitten? In most cases people come upon the critters unexpectedly, or run into them around barnyards. If an animal is rabid, it may lose all fear of humans. This could cause a bite victim to assume the animal is a lost pet and attempt to pet it, with disastrous results.

State health authorities point with concern to these biting incidents.

Rabies is a constant threat to domestic animals, especially in areas where pets may come in contact with wild animals.

Last year in Texas 329 animal rabies cases were confirmed, including 45 cases in pets—25 of them dogs. Twenty-one cases were confirmed in livestock and 263 rabies were confirmed in Texas wildlife. Skunks accounted for almost half of the wildlife total.

A study of vaccination records of the aggressive pets involved in biting episodes discloses an alarming fact. Of the 6,421 dogs and 895 cats involved, only 37.1 percent of the dogs and less than four

Green Up Your Lawn

About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner.

A turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start—scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.

"Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth," points out Dr. Richard Duble.

"Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing."

Duble also recommends keeping the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

"After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth," advises the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the fall."

For a dark green lawn, Duble suggests applying nitrogen every 60 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a healthy color in St. Augustine grass lawns.

To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from appearing, apply a preemergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal or bensulfide early in the spring," says Duble. "Combinations of herbicides with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but should only be used according to instructions on the label. Formulations containing atrazine should not be applied around trees or shrubs," he cautions.

"Proper maintenance is essential for a healthy lawn, and these practices will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn," notes Duble.

Alcohol/Drug Studies Slated At Angelo Univ.

Sonora Artist To Present Works At Fair

Sonora's Mrs. Anna Eustace, along with Mrs. Jean Campbell Stokes, together create an assemblage called "Nature Nacs by Jeanna." have been accepted to present their works at the Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair to be held in Kerrville May 29, 30 and 31.

The three day events will be held on the campus of Schreiner College and will in addition to arts and crafts, provide folk and bluegrass music and and oldtime fiddlers contest.

Nature Nacs by Jeanna, symbolize a love of nature, Americana, and life itself. Both artists were born in Campbellton, Texas, a town which was established by their grandfather, John Campbell.

Their love of the simple life is displayed in their works by the many hours they have spent collecting natural materials for each "one of a kind" creation. A wide variety of subject matter is covered by their assemblages, ranging from detailed ranch scenes to seascapes, thus capturing the beauty of our ecology and creating a beautiful impression.

Mrs. Stokes resides in Corpus Christi while Mrs. Eustace lives on a ranch near Sonora.

DISABLED VETERANS SCHEDULE MEETING

A meeting of the Disabled American Veterans will be held April 11 at St. Ann's Hall. Those persons who received membership cards when the DAV truck was here, are urged to attend. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m.

When driving, keep your head and torso upright, and don't bend in the direction in which you're turning. Only then can you be in the right balance to make sensitive driving judgments.

Local Land Bank Represented In Houston Meet

Frank Bond of Sonora, has just returned from Houston where he represented the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora at the annual stockholders meeting of The Federal Land Bank of Houston. The meeting held at the Houston Oaks Hotel, was attended by members of 66 Federal Land Bank Associations in Texas. There were about 550 persons in attendance. George W. Cunningham, President, in his annual report to stockholders, reported that the demand for new loans declined from the previous two years; however, 1975 was still the third largest year in the bank's history and also the third consecutive year that loan closings had exceeded $200 million. Dr. Phil Gramm, Economist on leave of absence from Texas A&M University and B.K. Johnson, a prominent South Texas rancher and director of the King Ranch Corporation, also addressed stockholders and guests during the meeting.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term loans on farms and ranches throughout Texas and currently has 35,000 loans for more than $1,145,000,000 outstanding.

Proclamation

The President of the United States, by direction of an Act of Congress, and the Governor of our State of Texas, have proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month.

The magnitude of the problem of cancer needs to be recognized here in our own community, for if present rates continue, one out of every four persons will be struck by cancer...almost every family in our city will have experience with the dread disease. Expanded research offers the prospect of new cures and possible new preventive measures, but increased voluntary support of American Cancer Society programs is needed to help save more lives today and to increase the prospect of eventually saving all lives from cancer.

In this coming month, our friends and associates here in Sonora will carry on the "Tell Your Neighbor" crusade, visiting you in your homes, and distributing information through pamphlets and discussions.

The funds you give as voluntary contributions collected and distributed by volunteer workers represent community spirit at work--citizens of our city joining forces with other Americans to combat and defeat cancer.

Therefore I urge the citizens of Sonora to participate in the activities of Cancer Control Month.

In official recognition whereof I hereby affix my signature this 31st day of March, 1976 Norman Rousselot, Mayor City of Sonora

Jaycees Deny Defeat By Coaching Staff

The high school coaching staff outscored the Jaycees 47-31 in their second annual basketball game Thursday night. The score would seem to indicate a victory by the coaches; however, this is flatly denied by the Jaycees.

Gil Trainer, Jaycee President, in a statement following Thursday night's game, expressed the Jaycee's view of the score. Trainer admitted that most people, especially the coaches, probably felt that because the Jaycees failed to outscore the coaches, they therefore lost the game. Trainer explained that, considering the coaches are professional athletes, and considering the Jaycees are more intellectual and artistic than muscle bound, the Jaycee's performance was not truly reflected by the score. "We felt if we could get 40 percent of the total points scored victory would be ours--and we achieved our objective," said Trainer.

Trainer suggested the coaches keep trying, that with enough practice they might be able to win next year.

Cancer Society To Hold Crusade Kick-Off Meet

The Sutton County unit of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc., will hold a meeting Wednesday, April 7 from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The meeting to be held at the Hull residence, 305 E. 2nd Street, will be the crusade "Kick off" and coffee and rolls will be served.

Junction Race Meet Scheduled

The third annual spring race meet, sponsored by the Hill Country Fair Association, will be held April 3 and 4 in Junction.

Eight races are scheduled for each day with post time at 2 p.m. A dance will be held April 3 from 9-1 at the Hill Country Pavilion with Diane Roberts and the Leisure Men providing music.

Police Reports

At 4:20 p.m., on March 22 a minor accident was investigated by Officer Dick Jones. The accident occurred in the parking lot of Dairy Mart and involved cars being driven by Leticia Longoria and Yvette D. Castaneda, both of Sonora.

Mobile home parks residents are still flooding the office of the police with calls regarding speeding cars and pickups in trailer parks over the city.

A Sonora resident was fined Monday for violating the city's leash law. Pet owners are reminded that the City of Sonora does have a law regarding animals not on a leash or penned.

A total of six citations were issued during the week.
