"Giving is contagious, why not start an epidemic." Give generously to your United Fund. Make sure, if we have a disaster, we will be prepared.

The different things that can happen to a freshman girl, in four days, is unbelievable.

To make oneself glamorous, from the every day's effects of being a tom-boy, is task within itself, every curl in place, dressed in your first formal gown, in the color chosen, that mother thinks, looks best on you, and participate in the annual beauty contest. One experience you shall never forget, if you lived to be a hundred.

Next on the schedule is the freshmen initiation. All the stories and rumors that is heard in the weeks preceding an initiation could never describe the actual scene. You seem to have been in on all conversations on everything else, but some how, someone forgot to tell you just what a kid looks like afterwards.

This kid that left home only a few hours earlier, now stands out side your door. You are wondering, is this the same little darling that looked so pretty at the contest held earlier?

The way this kid looks is astonishing, but the smell, it was either discirable or could it be classified with anything you had ever smelt before.

To a mother, this is one of those times you are eternally grateful for that wonderful stuff, soap and water. You think to yourself, if it wouldn't come off, they surely wouldn't have put it on.

In the mean time all you can hear from this kid that has no idea what a mess she is really, "Mother, I had a Ball."

Margaret Gilliland and Madge Bearden visited in Lubbock this week end with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Don Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Gilliland, Gary Gilliland, and Tommy Bearden.

They gathered around the radio for the broadcast of the Texas Tech - Texas football game. After five years of defeat, the Tech Red Raiders took the victory by a score of 19-13.

Immediately after the game, the Gilliland boys decided to inform their Uncle Judson Atchison, the fate of his old Almatrater, the University of Texas.

Now, Judson lives in Hawaii, and it's not what you call cheap, when you talk over the wires to the land of sunshine.

Well he did accept the collect call from the two nephews, and of course the first thing that came over the line was that Texas Tech had beat UT 19-13.

You could say that you will pay for your kidding and bragging, it cost Judson Atchison 32.50 for five years of his.

Plum trees blooming in September? You may see for yourself in the yard of Mrs. Alex Bruce, 602 Race Street in Baird.

Mrs. Bruce says they started blooming in the middle of September.

Pack up your articles and take them to the First Baptist Church in Baird, in order that they may be sent to the disaster area in South Texas. Canned foods, clothes, linens, quilts, anything of no use to you, would certainly be of use to these people in need.

Tally Windham Picked Fighting Indian Of The Week At McMurry

Tally Windham, 5-11, 230 pound junior at McMurry College in Abilene, was the unanimous selection of the McMurry football coaches for this week's Fighting Indian award.

In earning this award, Windham hit the practice field last Monday night week with a determination of containing the passing attack of ACC's quarterback David Fuller, and according to Coach Buddy Fornes, "Tally did an outstanding job against ACC from his defensive end position. He made 10 unassisted tackles and six assisted tackles. The ACC backs were not able to get outside of Tally all night long, nor were they able to run inside of him."

Coach Hershel Kimbrell said, "Tally's play at defensive end is very deceiving -- he looks like he couldn't move at all -- but he is as quick as anyone on the team for the first few yards."

Coach Kimbrell continued, "We had talked to Tally at the first of last week and told him he must do a better job to contain the ACC backs, and I feel like he did his job better than we anticipated."

Tally is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Windham of Baird and a 1965 graduate of Baird High School. He was a three-year football letterman at Baird High School and was named on the All-District team and All-Area team in 10-A his senior year.

Collection For Disaster Areas

The First Baptist Church of Baird are continuing their drive to collect household goods, canned goods and clothing for the disaster areas in South Texas. If you are interested in giving, please bring the articles to the First Baptist Church. The collection center at the church is through the north door, by the pastor's study.

It would be best if all clothing and linens are clean and in good shape. Have it boxed up and ready for shipment when left at the church.

BAIRD BEARS SUFFER 18-24 LOSS TO CROSS PLAINS BUFFALOES

The Baird Bears dug in and held the Cross Plains Buffs in the first half of the football game played in the Bears Den Friday night. Half time score stood with the Bears out from 12-8.

The fourth quarter held the upset for the Bears as the Cross Plains Buffs pulled out front to end the hard fought game by a score of 24-18.

Baird scored first in the game on a three yard take over by Franklyn Alexander. The Buffs layed on 6 points from a long run of 80 yards by Jerry Strickland.

Alexander tallied Baird ahead again from 6 yards out over left tackle. Donnie Rowe scored the third TD and lit up the score board after a 90 yard punt return.

The fourth quarter proved fatal for the Bears as Randy Montgomery picked up six yards from a 20 yard toss and scored for the Buffs. Another clincher, put the final score of 24-18 on the board for the Cross Plains team, when a pass and run dispoed from 72 yards out froze the final score and the victory.

"WEEKLY MEDITATIONS"

Bible Thought: "If I have old you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things? And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but has come down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in Heaven."

Jesus had been discussing the New Birth, and how the Spirit work in it; how through the teaching of the Holy Spirit, that is, through one's obedience to the word revealed by the Holy Spirit, on purifies his soul, thus being born again (I Peter 1:22-23; Romans 1:16). But the word working in the mind can not be seen, only the results when one responds to it. So Jesus used the wind (John 3:8), as an example. How it blows and one is able to see the effects yet is unable to see the wind.

Now Nicodemus was unable to see the full picture and as a result Jesus began to point out that since He had used things with which he was familiar, that in the process of birth, and he could not understand, how would he understand the things that have a heavenly significance? In other words, how would he understand the incarnation of the Word? How would he understand Jesus' "Ye work in its real sense? How would he understand His death and the purpose of it? How would he understand the resurrection? How would he understand the spiritual kingdom (John 18:36), over which Jesus would reign? (I Corinthians 15:25-26; Colossians 1:13, 18). How would he understand how Jesus could reign from His throne beside the Father? (Hebrews 1:1-3; 12:1-2). How would he be able to transfer his thinking from a physical army to the spiritual army of the redeemed? How would he be able to push from his mind the idea of a material temple in order to entertain the great spiritual temple through which one offers up his spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through Jesus Christ? (I Peter 2:5). How would he understand a temple made of lively stones rather than being made of mortar and clay? How would he understand the offering of spiritual sacrifices rather than the offering of bulls and goats, or a spiritual priesthood rather than a physical one? (Hebrews 13:15-16; 9: 11-17; I Peter 2:9). So Jesus points out that if one has difficulty in these things, how will he understand the heavenly things that have no earthly analogy. Se Jesus came down from heaven in order to explain so that men might know and believe even in areas where he could not fully grasp with a physical mind.

Jesus points out in verse 13 that He is the only one who has been in heaven with the Father, and the only one who has been commissioned to descend. He is fully qualified to speak because of the fact that

He knew God personally and that He had direct access to the unrevealed of heaven. He had full right to speak because He was the WORD in the flesh (John 1:14).

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Although the primaries are not until next May, Texas politicians, here and there, already are beginning to get in and out of statewide races.

Big question still is whether Gov. John Connally will run for an unprecedented fourth term. He says he hasn't made up his mind.

If he doesn't run, it now appears that it will be at least a three-way race in the Democratic primary — between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who already has announced, Speaker Ben Barnes and former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

If Connally does run, Barnes and Carr will probably vie for lieutenant governor, though neither has as yet announced a definite decision.

In the state Supreme Court, both Associate Justice James R. Norvell and Meade F. Griffith say that they will not seek reelection in 1968. Woodrow Bean of El Paso and former state Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio are being mentioned as possible candidates for those two posts.

HIGHWAY OFFICIALS PROMOTED — On January first B. L. DeBerry, Dallas district highway engineer, will replace Assistant State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwell. Dingwell will replace State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer, who is retiring.

There will be four other administrative changes in the Highway Department:

Archie J. Sherrord, now district engineer in Odessa, will be promoted to chief engineer of maintenance operations.

John G. Keller, Beaumont district engineer, will succeed DeBerry.

Franklin Carter Young, district administrative engineer in San Antonio, will take over Keller's job.

Paul H. Coleman, assistant district engineer at Odessa, will replace Sherrord.

RESEARCH AWARD TO TEXAS — Texas Research League was presented the top research award of the Governmental Research Association for its report, "Metropolitan Texas: A Workable Approach to Its Problems."

Award was made in Boston, accepting were Alvin A. Burger, executive director of the League, and James W. McGrew, research director and head of the project.

League's report was made after an 18-month study requested by Governor Connally. It contained seven legislative recommendations, but only one of them passed the Legislature. That one provided $250,000 of state money for regional planning.

TEXAS TOURISM PUSHED — Texas official travel exhibit — pushing the state as a vacation land with a "World of Difference" — was seen by approximately 450,000 persons at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. So says Walt Warner, director of the programs for the Texas Tourist Development Agency, which sponsors the exhibit.

Warner regards Canada as an important but unexplored market for the Texas travel industry. "Many (Canadians) were unaware that Texas lay just 1,200 miles from Toronto's border," he said. "They seemed surprised to find a state so near that offered a warm, tropical climate during the winter months."

Texas' exhibit is being displayed in travel shows all over North America.

OIL PRODUCTION DOWN — Texas oil production was reduced by 109,071 barrels for October. Texas Railroad Commission cut the allowable after finding demand lower as the Middle East crisis eases off.

Commission was to have announced its decision immediately at its regular statewide prorotation hearing, but delayed it four days to see what effect Hurricane Beulah would have on production and refining.

After studying that situation, it was decided that no major damage had been incurred, though there were temporary disruptions.

CAMINO DEL NORTE PROPOSED — A group of Midland citizens appeared before the Texas Highway Commission to request a study on the feasibility of an interstate highway stretching from the Big Bend County to Denver.

Dubbed "Camino Del Norte" by the applicants, the highway would begin at U. S. 90 near the Mexican border and would run through Midland, Lubbock, Amarillo and one to Denver.

Delegation presented the Commission with copies of a brochure outlining the proposed highway — examining the population, education, cultural, recreational, historic and national aspects of the project.

Commission took the request under advisement.

CITY SALES TAX FAVORED — Saturday midnight was an important hour in Austin, in so far as many Texas municipalities were concerned. That was the deadline date for reporting city sales tax elections results to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. . . If the tax is to go into effect January 1. Otherwise the cities would not go under the tax until April 1, 1968.

As of this writing, 12 of the 13 municipalities that have voted on whether or not to adopt the 1 per cent city sales tax, along the lines of the state's 2 per cent sales tax, have favored the proposal.

Voters in Electra, near Wichita Falls, turned it down.

Voters in the following cities adopted the new to Texas taxing device: Aransas Pass, Austin, Elgin, Orange Grove, Henrietta, Ingleside, Nacogdoches, El Paso, Port Aransas, Taylor, Texarkana and Wichita Falls.

SHORT SNORTS — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled that the State Textbook Committee is covered by the 1967 Open Meetings Bill, which requires that all meetings of most state and local agencies be open to the public.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Lots of us can't really tell how we got in this financial mess because we don't keep records. Every year Internal Revenue tries to verify thousands of tax returns where the taxpayer failed to keep records. The taxpayer ends up being embarrassed and the tax man saddened.

The Internal Revenue Service advises taxpayers to check over their records of deductions for the current year. It is always a good idea to make sure that you have a complete record of the additional income that you received. It is much easier to get your records straightened out in October before the end of the tax year than on April 15 — the day that too many taxpayers wait for.

Veterans Land Board To Purchase Land If Amendment Passes

The new Constitutional Amendment to be voted on November 11, 1967, will give the people of Texas on Veterans Day an opportunity to show their appreciation to the many veterans of Texas for the time spent in the service of their country. Veterans of Vietnam have not had an opportunity to take part in the Veterans Land Program, and this amendment would give them an opportunity to buy land in Texas, along with other veterans who fought in World War II and in Korean War.

It would include any veteran who served from Sept. 1940 to the date of formal withdrawal of troops from the present armed conflict in Vietnam.

All veterans who entered the service from Texas and are presently living in Texas would be permitted to purchase under the program. All those who have moved to Texas and have resided in Texas for at least five years prior to making application to purchase under the program would also be eligible.

If the Constitutional Amendment to be voted on November 11, is approved by the people of Texas, the Veterans Land Board will start purchasing land for the veterans of Vietnam and other wars.

Since Texas has never paid their veterans a cash bonus but has always followed the policy of making land available to them, this Constitutional Amendment follows a historic policy of the State of Texas and has proven beneficial to all people of this State.

Outdoors In Texas

By VERN SANFORD

A truly dedicated hunter will tell you there is much more to hunting than killing — much, much more.

There is the challenge of the chase, the suspense, and excitement.

Then there is the enjoyment of getting into the somber woods, away from the hustle and bustle of city life sharing experiences with companions. Of all I guess the best part is the companionship.

A congenial, understanding buddy who appreciates the little things that make up the delights of a hunt, who will congratulate you when your aim is true, or sympathize when turn any hunt into genuine pleasure, whether any thing is killed or not.

But a companion who ignores the rules of safe gun handling, who is careless with fire or the landowner's property, or who is continually griping about conditions or his own luck, can tarnish any hunting trip. This no matter how successful it might be from a shooting standpoint.

Being a good hunting buddy requires effort. It isn't a hazardous thing that should be taken for granted. Every hunter must go out of his way to make the hunt a pleasure for his companions. On such considerations, a lasting friendship is bonded.

It is easy enough to be a good hunting companion. All you must do is have full consideration for your gunning partner and practice gun safety and the every-day principles of ordinary courtesy.

Enter into the hunt enthusiastically. If you are the host, try to figure out what type or method will best please your guest. Ask him what's his pleasure. This immediately removes the threat of misunderstanding.

If you are the guest let the host dictate the order of the day, and do so enthusiastically, whether you approve or not. If you want to do something else, ask him in a polite way and undoubtedly he'll be pleased.

A successful hunting trip is two-way cooperation.

Have a well understood shooting procedure before you start out. Should you be deer hunting, let your companion have the first shot, out of courtesy. Don't try to show him up by killing the first deer or attempting to bag the biggest.

If quail is your game, shoot only at the birds on your side of the cover rise. Await your turn in shooting single birds. If duck hunting, don't spoil your companion's chances by firing too soon. Make sure he is ready and the birds are in range. And take those on your side of the blind only.

In dove hunting don't try to claim every bird that's downed. Should your companion say he got one, while inside you feel it was your shot that bagged the bird, let him have it. There's always another chance and to squabble over a bird only sours the hunt.

Everyone should be familiar with the rules of gun safety. Don't be careless. Treat every gun as if it were loaded and never point at anything you do not intend to shoot. Don't take a loaded gun into an automobile or truck.

A man careless with a gun soon finds his invitations to hunt are conspicuous by their absence.

If you're hunting upland game birds, don't try to handle your companion's dog. You are not familiar to the dog, your efforts might confuse him, and your companion is almost sure to resent it. Regardless of who killed the bird, let the dog retrieve it to his master if he desires.

When you go hunting with another gunner, never be a show-off. You may be a much better shot, but don't make him feel it.

Let it be a "we" and "our" hunting trip and he will be more than glad to go with you again.

More Than 140,000 Have VA Home Loans

More than 140,000 veterans who have served since the Korean Conflict have obtained VA-guaranteed home loans totaling almost $2.3 billion under the GI Bill, which became effective in March last year, it was reported by the Veterans Administration.

An additional 7,695 have obtained direct loans from the Veterans Administration totaling $92,488,000.

All figures are through July 1967.

Veterans eligible for this program include those who served at least 181 continuous days in the Armed Forces, with some part since February 1, 1955. Also eligible are persons still in the Armed Forces, provided they have had at least two years in active duty status.

The 1966 law, PL 89-358, permits the Veterans Administration to guarantee up to $7,500, or 50 percent of loans which eligible veterans may obtain from private lenders. The guarantee in many cases makes it possible for veterans to obtain home loans with a low down payment — or no payment at all.

VA also makes direct loans to veterans in certain isolated and rural areas where private lending facilities are not available. Under 1967 legislation, effective October 1, the limit was extended from $17,500 to $25,000.

Veterans planning to buy a home may obtain additional information and certificates of eligibility from any Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Zip-A-Lists Are Zipping

By the number of cards going through the local Post Office, Postmaster John Towler reported that many patrons are taking advantage of the kits recently delivered to each household in the area. These kits make it possible for all un-zipped addresses to be coded.

The process is simple:

- (1) Write the "un-zipped" address in the proper space.
- (2) Write your return address in the proper space.
- (3) Drop in any mail box. No postage necessary.

The Postmaster thanked all who have filled in their cards and mailed them. "We appreciate the cooperation of each patron and look forward to improved service by having all addresses coded," he said.

The Post Office Department wants you to know the Zip Code of any correspondents you may have. This is the Department's method in assisting the public in obtaining this information. "It is a fast, efficient process," Mr. Towler explained.

UNION USUALS AND UNUSUALS

BY VEDA YARBROUGH

Hi neighbors! The weather out here in Baird. Spending Saturday haven't had any rain since last Tuesday. Farmers are very busy plowing the ground again, getting ready to sow grain. Some have sowed wheat and oats.

Cotton is opening right along. Several said they saw some frost last Thursday morning and cotton leaves look like Old Jack Frost nibbled on them a little. I did not see any frost, I am not an early riser.

Bro. Larry Jordan and wife of Fort Worth had Sunday dinner with Mark and Ollie Burnam.

Visiting with Mark and Ollie Burnam Saturday were Gayle Isenhower and little son Steven of Baird. Spending Saturday night with the Burnam's was Lynn Tatom of Sweetwater.

Visiting with Burette and Johnny May Ramsey Thursday afternoon and having fish supper with them were Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer and Mrs. Tom Dooley of Fort Worth, Mr. Leonard Alvey.

John and Roma McIntyre visited with me a while Sunday afternoon.

Was glad to have Mrs. George Henry visit a while with me Saturday morning. She said they were enjoying their home very much. They live on the Jack Pippin Ranch, near Dothan, or rather what used to be Dothan.

Burette and Johnny May Ramsey were in Cisco Saturday. They visited a while with Fay and Emmett Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roberts. Fay and Emmett spent last Wednesday with me.

We are sorry to hear of Mr. Homer falling and hurting himself last week. We hope you soon get to feeling better, Mr. Homer.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the John Hurley family on the passing of their son, George. May God bless you all in this deep sorrow.

It seems the world is in so much sorrow and disappointment these days.

We are glad to say Lula Isenhower is slowly improving. We hope she continues to improve.

Guess I better get busy and work a while. Sure do hate to have to work today, as it is my birthday and I am still 49. Ha, how I wish I was. Be good and I hope to see you next week.
