Payton appointed to school board

by Storie Sharp

The Sonora School Board met in special session on Monday, July 27, 1998 at 6:30pm.

The first order of business was the swearing in of Mr. Tom Payton to fill the spot on the board left vacant by Mrs. Peanut Scott. Payton will fill the position until the May election.

The selection of student and football insurance was discussed, but the subject was tabled until more information about actual coverage and benefits could be obtained for the board to go over.

Superintendent William Harlan began the discussion on the budget by thanking everyone that has worked so hard on making the necessary cuts and revisions that had to be made. Dr. Harlan claimed that it had been tough, especially with the tax base down and the costs of everything else up. Dr. Harlan informed the board that a lot had been saved by current administrators absorbing vacant positions, instead of having to bring in someone new. Another place Dr. Harlan pointed out that significant cuts had been made was that of meals at athletic events. The amount of meals provided has been cut to 2 meals per student, per sport, per semester, with the exception of Basketball, which will get 4 meals. Dr. Harlan also explained that Tina Weaver would be taking over the paperwork in the cafeteria and would be working very hard to balance the deficit in this area. Dr. Harlan went on to say that balancing this budget has not been easy but that everyone has worked hard to make sure that the money is spent to the benefit of the students. Dr. Harlan then made three suggested tax increases that he felt would have to be made to ensure that the administrators get the salaries that are deserved. The figures above state base would be as follows: 1500. above base, a 1.5 cent increase on the current tax rate; for 2000. above base it would be a 2.55 cent increase and for 2500. above base a 3.66 cent increase. Dr. Harlan explained that he didn't know of any districts that aren't increasing and that $1.32 is low compared to other areas in the state. Dr. Harlan went on to say that he would challenge the board and teachers to be supportive of the increase, because basically the budget can be balanced and salaries stay as they are or taxes can be raised.

Diane Jacoby explained to the board that the cost of the renovation of the tennis courts and track were no longer in the proposed budget because they are going to be completed within the current budget time period. The roofing repairs that were needed because of hail storms would also be completed this week, and therefore were no longer in the budget proposal for the upcoming year. The new budget also no longer included a new bus and technology had been cut because of the grants Donnie Weaver had applied for. Jacoby expressed that there were still some areas that would need to be rectified because she had not yet been in touch with the band director or all the coaches to see how many were on each team. Board member John Barker stated that basically no money has been cut from areas that enhance student performance. Barker did question exactly how the cafeteria deficit was going to be focused on more closely. Dr. Harlan explained that more measures would be taken to be sure that all who qualified were indeed signed up for the free and reduced meals program, thus bringing in a bigger reimbursement from the state.

Board member Clay Cade expressed his concern over the amount of money being spent for travel to conventions. After a discussion over what travel was mandated, how some travel was necessary for professional growth, and how some travel could be cut because of the technology that is being brought to the district via the internet, Dr. Harlan expressed his opinion that the individual principals would use their best judgement in deciding what travel was of the most benefit. After asking if there were any more questions for Mrs. Jacoby or Dr. Harlan the board went into executive session.

The musical group WAYANAY INKA will be performing Thursday, July 30th at the Sutton County National Bank 2nd Annual Community Fiesta. The musical group WAYANAY INKA comes from Peru, heart of the Inka culture in South America. Originating in 1984, they have established an international reputation as being among the finest and most exciting exponents of Andean music.

They perform vibrant, pulsating and sensual music delighting all the senses with sights and sounds that will captivate you. They play the zamponas or sikus, cane panpipes made of bamboo reeds tied together, with each reed tuned to a specific note. The queñas, vertical-notched reed flutes originally made from animal bones or bamboo. The charango, a ten-string native guitar-like instrument made from the shell of an armadillo or wood. The Spanish guitar, integrated and developed as part of the folk music. The bombo, a tree trunk drum that anchors the rhythm with patient and echoing beats. The cha'jchas, a per-ussion instrument made from sheep's hooves dried in the sun, oiled and sewn into a wrist cloth.

They combine the skills and musical insights of four talented artists: Jose Alborno, Gerardo Tovar, Dante Montoya and Luis Tovar. They learned to play their instruments and the Andean music as a traditional transmission from their grandfathers.

WAYANAY INKA defines its mission this way: "our intention is to express through our song, not only

Bonilla announces Financial Relief for Texas Farmers

Congressman Henry Bonilla (R-TX-23), along with House Speaker Newt Gingrich and House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Smith, today introduced emergency legislation to help farmers suffering from record drought conditions in Texas and other southern states.

The legislation makes $5.5 billion available to farmers as much as one year early. It gives farmers the option of receiving all of their Agricultural Market Transition Act (AMTA) contract payments for Fiscal Year 1999 in October. Without this bill, farmers would be forced to wait for the much needed money until December or January, the normal payment time.

"The problems farmers face are two-fold," Bonilla said. "The drought in Texas in leaving farmers with dried out crops that won't sell, and low commodity prices are driving down the value of those crops that can be sold. Farmers in Texas and across the country are struggling to survive. This will make a big difference for some farmers on the brink of bankruptcy," said Bonilla.

"We need to continue to ensure that U.S. farmers are on a level of playing the field in the international market," Bonilla said. "Large foreign crops, low commodity prices and the drought have really put the squeeze on Texas producers."

Congressman Henry Bonilla (R-TX-23) speaks with House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Smith moments before announcing the Emergency Farm Financial Relief Act, Friday, July 17, 1998.

Bonilla also urged President Clinton to fulfill his promise to farmers that his Administration would use the Export Enhancement Program (EEP) to its maximum to secure foreign markets for U.S. agricultural products. The 1996 Farm Bill made over $1.5 billion available for EEP in 1996-1999, but to date the administration has used virtually nothing.

Recognizing that this legislation targets farmers, Bonilla said:

"This emergency farm legislation is an important starting point. We must also focus on providing relief as soon as possible to ranchers suffering from the extreme drought conditions. I will be working overtime to make sure Texas ranchers are provided the relief they need to help them make it through this hard time."

Bonilla serves on the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture.

Commissioners meet in special session

by Storie Sharp

On Monday, July 27, 1998 the Commissioners' Court met in special session. The examination and approval of Accounts Payable were approved. Commissioner Bill Keel informed the court that he had a couple of calls of complaint regarding the construction at Allison Park. A Mrs. Andrews and family are unhappy with the dredging of the river to make a swimming area. The Andrews' say that this process is causing rocks and debris to be pushed up onto their property and they want it stopped immediately. Oscar Jimenez reported that he had gone to Allison Park and saw to it that any and all areas of concern by Mrs. Andrews were corrected and at that time Mrs. Andrews seemed to be satisfied. Keel reported that in his opinion the park looked great and all the families that were camping in the area appeared to be having fun. Keel also said that any talk of selling or giving Allison Park away should be done away with. It was agreed by the Commissioners that a sign be posted claiming not responsible for accidents.

County Judge Carla Garner

informed the court that the summer help that had been hired to maintain the county park would be leaving earlier than planned. Judge Garner suggested that Tomas Ramon be hired since he has worked the area in the past and is aware of what needs to be done for the upkeep of the park.

Ram Perez presented the court with a presentation regarding the enactment of a city curfew. Perez quoted statistics of alcohol-related accidents involving the youth of Sonora. Perez said that he had done research and found that enforcing a curfew would not be an infringement of constitutional rights. Judge Garner informed Perez that it was her belief that the county commissioners did not have the power to enforce such an ordinance, but that she would research the matter further.

Judge Garner informed the court of an outdoor burning ban that she had signed a week ago. The Forest Service has a legislation that allows a County Judge to sign such a ban for one week and then it must be presented to and approved by the Commissioners Court. Such a ban takes place during a drought and must be ratified at every meeting of the Commissioner's Court until the drought is lifted. Since Sutton county had 5 fires, taking 381 1/2 man hours in one weeks time, Judge Garner strongly recommended that the court consider that burn ban. A motion was made and approved to enforce the outdoor burning ban.

The consideration of putting in conduits for phone lines at the Courthouse was discussed. County Auditor Charlie Graves that the mice were eating through the lines and GTE had suggested that the conduits be put in to keep the lines from being ruined. The Court agreed to look into the matter further.

The budget was again discussed at length. Judge Garner informed the court that it was up from last years about 10%, but to keep in mind that our values have decreased and several other overall cost have increased, including some large one time expenditures that need to be made this year. The Commissioners went through the budget page by page and discussed any questions they had concerning each section. After going through the preliminary budget the meeting was adjourned. The Commissioner's Court will meet again on August 10.

Teen Center: It's just a place to go

by Stayce Fox

A new idea has sparked in the minds of Paul Cornelius and the teens of the First Baptist Church's Youth Committee. It has been brought to the attention of all members of the community that there are no activities for the teens to do in this town. This has become a concern of both parents and youths of Sonora.

To help solve the problem of teenage boredom in Sonora they've come up with the idea of a teen center. This will be a place for teens to hang out and have fun. Some of the ideas for the center are to have a pool table, a quiet place to study, a couch and a television, a concession stand, ping-pong table, and futsal.

There are a few buildings being taken into consideration for the teen center. There have been no decisions made on the opening date or where the teen center will be located. There will be another update as soon as the Youth Committee of the First Baptist Church has another meeting.

The teen center will have a theme and name chosen by the teens of Sonora. There have been many suggestions, but the purpose of the teen center is to get teens of all types of backgrounds and ages involved in the preparations.

If you have any ideas for a theme or name for the teen center, send a letter to: First Baptist Church, c/o Teen Center Name/Theme Contest, P.O. Box 1116, Sonora, Texas 76950. The winner of the contest will receive a prize.

The more interest that is shown by the community the better off the teen center will be. There is a lot of work that needs to be done and the help of all interested teens is needed.

If you would like more information about the teen center contact Paul Cornelius at 387-2951.

Due to a knee injury I can no longer jog. I still enjoy walking but my lower back starts to feel tired and hurt after a while. What can I do about this?

The symptoms you describe can be caused by many conditions. One likely cause could be knee joint instability leading to an abnormal curve in your lower spine (lumbar lordosis). This is caused when the back attempts to compensate for the injured knee. An additional factor which could be aggravating this situation could be abdominal muscle weakness. A doctor of chiropractic might prescribe a regimen of non-weight bearing exercises such as underwater exercises.

My chiropractor has referred me to another chiropractor for my shoulder problem. Are there chiropractic "specialists"?

There are more than 15 different areas of specialization in which chiropractors can be certified. One such area is Sports Medicine. After completion of a regular chiropractic education (two years college prerequisites and four years chiropractic college) doctors who wish to specialize undergo additional training. These certifications call for anywhere from 160 to 300 hours of additional instruction and rigorous examinations. Your doctor is probably referring you to just such a specialist. You should ask about the doctor's area of specialization and credentials on your first visit.

My chiropractor says he will need to see me twice a week at first. This seems like a lot of visits. Is this really necessary?

The cause and treatment of injuries to the neuromusculoskeletal system are complex. Some injuries (such as Whiplash) can take up to a year to heal. Most injuries go through three stages: acute (the first 72 hours following injury); healing (the subsequent six weeks); and the rehabilitative phase (of up to 12 months). Patients need to be seen at different frequencies during each of these phases and may often feel they are "all better" before complete healing has occurred. Patients who abandon treatment early risk reinjuring themselves and complicating further attempts to rehabilitate their injuries.

Letter To The Editor Concern with Juvenile Curfews

Dear Editor,

Juvenile curfews are, once again, being used, to address juvenile crime and to encourage parental responsibility. Juvenile curfew ordinances are premised on the belief that it is neither responsible, nor constitutionally right, for children to be out on the streets in the very late night hours. These are exactly the types of situations that maximize peer pressure and put children in harm's way. Juvenile curfews are intended to keep children from both perpetrating, as well as becoming victims of crime. It is hardly surprising that so many communities have concluded that the best place for children to be late at night is either at home, or under adult supervision. Communities have enacted juvenile curfews because they believe they have a responsibility to protect children and enforce parental responsibility when it is lacking. Juvenile curfews seek to reduce crime by and against minors, especially in those situations where parental oversight is lacking. Curfews also give law enforcement a tool to use when the need presents itself. Juvenile curfew ordinances merely require all persons under the age of 18 to refrain from loitering, wandering, or playing in public after a designated time in the evening. If minors need/want to be outside very late at night, juvenile curfews merely require that they be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Children can partake in lawful activity at any hour, but during the late hours of the night when the risk is high, adult supervision is required. Some of the positive effects that have been reported by communities after adopting curfews include: residents preceiving less noise at night, and parent comforted by the knowledge that their own children are home, alert and attentive in school, allowing them to achieve optimal scholastic performance. Juvenile curfews are not a cure for juvenile crimes and delinquency, they can be positive and effective step in the right direction at times when the communities are struggling to maintain security and civility.

Is it constitutional? Yes it is. If you think that curfews violate children's due process rights, freedom of speech, freedom of association, right to assemble, Fourth Amendment right to be free from unreasonable seizures, and right to interstate travel, they do not. It is important to keep in mind the constitutional rights of minors when discussing juvenile curfews because children do not have nearly the same constitutional rights as adults. The existence of rights depends upon the confidence that society has in an individual's maturity, experience, judgement, wisdom, and independence. There is no such thing as an autonomous child under the Constitution. Minors are more than susceptible to society's dangers, and they require greater protection than adults. This is the governmental interest that allows the passage of ordinances and regulations to restrict the free movement of minors. There are numerous prohibitions that specially apply to juveniles but which are inapplicable to adults.

In the liberty interest of minors, there is little to it, either in law or in logic. Simply, there is no constitutional right for a minor to be on the street in the middle of the night. Nothing in the Constitution suggests such a right. The reason education can be required is the same reason that curfews are constitutional: children do not have the right to go as they please, and the community can set requirements to ensure that children are properly nurtured, educated, and cared for. Just as a community can require children to be in school, they can insist upon late-night adult supervision.

The First Amendment of Freedom of Speech rights are not curtailed by ordinances which require that children be inside or accompanied by an adult during the late hours of the night. Ordinances as such are meant to regulate conduct, not speech. They merely prohibit certain activities in public after a designated hour in the evening. Curfews allow minors to associate at other hours, or under adult supervision at night.

Curfew ordinances also do not infringe on the due process rights of parents. The right of parents to direct the upbringing of their children is not absolute. Parents are not free to forego educating their children, or to use excessive force in disciplining them. Regardless of the judgement of particular parents, children may not buy alcohol or drugs. Parents rights must be balanced against the interest of the community. While the upbringing of children remains the primary responsibility of parents, the state can interfere by regulating family laws and set standards of supervision and conduct.

A juvenile curfew could very possibly strengthen parental authority by providing a much needed external control mechanism. Our own city and county statistics of juvenile-related crimes show the need of a curfew or the resurrecting of the existing laws that address juveniles. A meeting has been scheduled for August 4, 1998 at the City Hall starting at 7:00 p.m. There are forms at several businesses downtown, if you cannot attend the meeting, please fill out a form to express your concern. Lastly, if a curfew is indeed put into place, it should apply to ALL juveniles.

Sincerely,
Ramiro Perez

Fourth Annual Ye Ole Bed Race

It's time again. Time to grease up the ole bed and start limbering up the ole bones. The Fourth Annual Ye Ole Bed Race is planned to start at 11:30 on Saturday, August 22, as part of the Sutton County Days festivities. The Wild Bunch would like to extend an invitation to all those who want to have some laughs, be laughed at, raise money for a local charity and show the world that you can still do it, to join us for this time-honored event.

This year we are going to change how the race is carried out. There will be two divisions; one for men and one for women. You can bring your own bed or you can use one provided by the Wild Bunch. Now, since we are going to have these two divisions, you folks are going to have to get out there and drum up your own competition. If you decide to have a co-ed team, then the sex that makes up the majority will be in the division you will compete in. Each division will have the opportunity to race for one of the most sought after trophies in Sutton County. The general rules are similar to last year with the exception that you can bring your own bed and the men will run separate from the women.

Teams should plan to gather at the corner of Main and Concho by 11:00 so we can get you registered.

Racing will begin around 11:30. For more information, contact Bruce Kerbow, James Benson, or Tom Payton.

Bed Specifications:

1. You can make your own bed or use one of the beds supplied by the Wild Bunch. All beds must be the size of an actual double bed; about 58 inches x 88 inches. They can be bigger if you wish. They must be equipped with springs and bedding. Don't try to flimflam us by using some sort of exotic vehicle.
2. Beds must have four (4) wheels, with at least one (1) on each corner. They can be of any size. We suggest that at least two (2) of the wheels be of the coaster type so that you can steer your bed and keep it in your lane. If you get out of your lane, we'll have to whup on you and disqualify your team.
3. Beds must be pushed only. No other forms of propulsion will be allowed.
4. Make your beds safe! We don't want anyone to crash and burn.

Team Rules:

1. Teams will consist of five (5) people. Four (4) pushers and one (1) screaming rider. You may have pit crew and other support personnel.
2. Team members must be dressed in night clothing. For example: night-shirts, long T-shirts, night caps, nightgowns, and union suits.

3. There will be a $5.00 per person pledge. IF YOU CAN GET MORE...THANK YOU! Money will be donated to a local charitable organization. The winner takes all and chooses the organization.

4. Racers will race against the clock. We can use an old, slow clock for old slow teams.

5. Participants must be at least sixteen (16) years old.

6. If a team consists of young athletes who have been working out, other teams reserve the right to boo, hiss, and complain about life being unfair.

THE MOST IMPORTANT RULE OF ALL. THE WILD BUNCH MADE THE RULES SO WE CAN CHANGE THEM, ESPECIALLY IF IT WILL HELP US! ALL OTHERS MUST ABIDE BY THEM.

Awards:

FIRST PLACE will be awarded "THE TROPHY", money to local charity, and the privilege of being winners. SECOND PLACE will receive "At-A-Boys", "Good Try", and "Pat on the Backs", or any other pieces of junk we might pick up to give to you. ## Draft Management Plan to be Considered Senate Bill 1 which was passed in the 75th Legislative Session, mandated that groundwater districts shall write a management plan by September 1, 1998 which must be certified by the Texas Water Development Board. Included in the criteria are estimates of total useable amount of groundwater, amount of groundwater used annually, projected water supply and demand, annual amount of recharge and additional recharge. The District will be subject to an annual state audit beginning one year from adoption of the plan.

The District has written a draft management objectives and performance standards to address specific goals outlined by Senate Bill 1. Once adopted by the Sutton County Underground Water Conservation District Board of Directors and certified by the Texas Water Development Board, the plan will be in effect for a ten year period. At this time the District is asking for public comment in order for the plan to better serve water users within the District. The Draft Management Plan is available to the public and may be picked up at the Sutton County Underground Water Conservation District Office, 222 Main, Suite 101, or by calling 387-2369. A public hearing will also be scheduled on August 10, 1998.

On July 22 at the Sutton County Library, the children who attend the Summer Reading Program celebrated National Ice Cream Day. Wednesday was also the programs "Tacky Day."

Concho District Banquet, and as a livestock leader for the Texas A&M Livestock Clinic.

Recipients of the FFA scholarship were selected by members of the State FFA Scholarship Selection Committee, which consists of agricultural science teachers from each FFA area, five representatives of the agricultural industry and two teacher educators appointed by the Texas Education Agency. The selected students all demonstrated academic excellence and strong leadership skills throughout their high school careers. All Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo FFA scholarship recipients must pursue a degree in agriculture or life sciences at a Texas college or university.

In his speech to students, Jim Bloodworth, president of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, stated that the leadership, responsibility and life skills developed through the FFA program have provided a foundation they can count on for the rest of their lives. He also said that the Show takes great pride in its financial contributions to this program. Since 1957, the Show has provided nearly $10 million in scholarships to Texas FFA members.

The 60 scholarships presented at this event were funded through net proceeds from the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, and are only a part of the Show's annual educational commitment. In addition to the FFA scholarships, the Show presented $600,000 in scholarships to 4-H members, $300,000 in Hispanic Scholarships, $1,290,000 in Metropolitan scholarships, $312,500 in Area Go Texan scholarships, as well as various other contributions to Texas colleges and universities. To date, the Show's 1998-99 educational commitment is in excess of $5 million.

Grant Writing Seminar to be held in Mason

Did you know that there are 2,000 private and community foundations located in Texas? And did you know that these foundations held over $13.5 billion in assets and gave away almost $710 million in grants in 1995.

These grants are available to schools, hospitals, museums, historical societies, EMS units, law enforcement, and Senior Service Centers to name just a few of the eligible organizations.

Knowing how to write an effective grant proposal will aid your organization to become more successful in obtaining funding for your project. Hill Country and Concho Valley RC&D's will be sponsoring a Grant Writing III Seminar in Mason on August 17th through 19th. The Seminar will be held at the Mason County Library. "The cost of the seminar will be $150.00 per registrant and will include grant writing materials," said Tony Resendez, Coordinator.

"The seminar will teach you the basic steps you needed for developing skills in structuring your written proposal for grant success," added Resendez. "There is a need for grant writers in your schools, hospitals, EMS units, volunteer fire department, cities, and community organizations and this is the perfect opportunity to attend a seminar like this close to home," he said.

The Seminar will be conducted by Dr. Don Udell. Dr. Udell has authored and published many articles and monographs. He has written and received funds for and directed over thirty federal, state, and philanthropic grants.

The deadline for registration has been set for August 12th and if you need more information on the seminar, contact Tori Dutton in Mason at 915-347-5749 or Tony Resendez in Brady at 915-597-1860.

Annual Sheep and Goat Field Day Slated

SAN ANGELO "Ideas for Profitable Ranching" is the theme for this year's Sheep and Goat Field Day Sept. 3 at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. The day's activities begin at 10 a.m. with a five-stop guided, walking tour.

Stops include a rancher's custom shearing facility made by Water Valley ranchers Wade and Craig Demere. The facility is designed to give smaller operators a means of getting their animals gathered and sheared on-site by a custom crew. The crew then skirts, classes and clear packs the fleece to help the owners realize top dollar for the wool.

"Effect of Goat Breeds on Carcass," features Dr. Dan Waldron, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station sheep and goat geneticist at San Angelo, speaking on what it takes to breed top money-making goats. Stuart Weiss with Continental Chevon of San Angelo joins Waldron at the stop. He'll explain his unique "farm out" strategy for securing goats to meet his buyer's quantity and quality demands.

Dr. Dan Hale, Texas Agricultural Extension Service meats specialist at College Station, will man a third stop. Hale will detail the finer points of selecting top goats for superior carcass quality.

Dr. Ed Huston, Experiment Station animal nutritionist at San Angelo, will unveil a new slatted floor feeding facility at his tour stop. Huston is investigating the practical aspects of using the floor to produce ultra-high quality wool and lamb products.

A final stop features new automated brush spraying equipment. San Angelo-based Dr. Allan McGinty, Extension range specialist, and Dr. Darrell Ueckert, Experiment Station rangeland management researcher, will demonstrate the newest brush control inventions being tested in a series of long-term Texas Department of Transportation studies.

Following a noon lunch and industry update, the formal program resumes in the Center's auditorium. The first two speakers and their topics are: "Pasture to Packer," Dr. Frank Craddock, Extension sheep and goat specialist at San Angelo, and "Ranchers Lamb Update," Dr. Brian May, secretary to the Ranchers Lamb of Texas Board at San Angelo.

The day's final speakers will address three facets of integrated management. Dr. Butch Taylor, Sonora Experiment Station superintendent, will speak on new findings in their quest to develop cedar-eating goats for brush control. Dr. Tom Thurow, Experiment Station watershed and agroforestry researcher at College Station, will share his work on the effects of cedar on range watersheds. Dr. Dale Rollins, Extension wildlife specialist at San Angelo, will round out the afternoon with an explanation of Brush Sculptors, the newest phase of the popular Brush Busters campaign. He'll explain how the program can allow producers to optimize both grazing and recreational value. The field day ends with an optional Brush Sculpting test plot tour.

For further information call the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at (915) 653-4576.

Wool & Mohair extend Helping Hand

A week ago Linda Rieck of Menard was visiting her parents in Florida when she saw a firefighter on TV say if anyone wanted to send them anything send them wool socks because they were the only ones that would keep their feet dry. Her husband, wool and mohair producer Bob Rieck, contacted the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association to see if there was a way to send the great wool and mohair blend socks which are made and sold in Texas to the firefighters.

TSGRA, in conjunction with the Mohair Council of America, contacted Dishman International of Uvalde, Sonora Mohair of Sonora and Producers Marketing Co-Op of San Angelo and had 244 pair of boot socks in the office the next day. The firms sold the socks at their cost, and the two organizations picked up the tab.

Ciero Heartsfield and Cindy Wolf coordinated the effort on the Florida end, and on Monday, July 13, Linda went to the Flagler County, Florida, firefighters camp at the Bunnell Fairgrounds to present the socks from the grateful citizens of Texas. "There but for the grace of God goes Texas," said Tim Turner, TSGRA president. "As hot and dry as it is in Texas, we could have been burning instead of Florida, and this is our small way of thanking the men and women who have put their lives on the line in Florida."

"These people were so tired and so hungry that they couldn't really relate to what I was saying until I told them if it had not been for their efforts my brother's family would not have had a home to come home to. Then they began to cheer and hoop and holler. They would have been delighted to have someone wash their own socks, and when they saw that people from Texas had sent them the very best socks they had to offer, they couldn't believe it."

When the Florida fire situation was declared a national emergency, firefighters from 44 states, as well as well as Russia, Puerto Rico and Canada, came to Florida to help. "These tired, tired men and women kept thanking me, and I told them this was the Texas wool and mohair industry's way of thanking them," said Rieck. "I was just sorry that we didn't have enough for every one of the 1,600 firefighters on the line."

Zane Willard, executive director of the Mohair Council of America, said, "This was a 'Hands Across America' effort. We could have involved our politicians and other dignitaries, but the Texas wool and mohair industry wanted to show their personal thanks to these people who have worked so hard under such terrible conditions. It could have been Texas just as easy as Florida, and everyone knows it NEVER rains in Texas!"

President Clinton announces Disaster Assistance for Drought-Stricken Texas

WASHINGTON, July 23, 1998—President Bill Clinton today announced that disaster assistance will be available throughout Texas for agriculture producers suffering losses because of this summer's drought. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman has designated the entire state of Texas as a disaster area due to drought and excessive heat.

The drought has damaged most Texas crops to the extent that many fields may not be worth harvesting. Crops adversely affected by the dry, hot conditions include cotton, sorghum, popcorn, forage, and corn. Many areas of Texas have received less than a third of their normal annual rainfall, and soil conditions in the entire state are classified as "severely" to "extremely dry." The National Weather Service predicts a high probability of continued drought throughout the rest of 1998 growing season.

"We can't make it rain, but we can extend help to farmers who are suffering losses through no fault of their own," said Clinton. "This administration will move as quickly as possible to get assistance to qualifying agricultural producers."

Under this designation, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) makes available low-interest loans to eligible farmers who have suffered a loss of 30 percent or more on any single crop. Qualifying producers must be creditworthy, unable to obtain credit elsewhere, and have adequate collateral to secure the loan.

USDA's Risk Management Agency estimates that more than 14 million acres of insured crops have been damaged by the drought, and that total insurance claims for crops covered by federal crop insurance should reach as high as $700 million.

USDA expects a large number of requests for assistance under the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP). This program, which is administered by FSA, provides payments to growers of crops damaged by a natural disaster when crop insurance is not available. To help the heavy load of NAP requests, FSA has approved a Critical Loss Designation for Texas. The designation allows the agency's county office employees to carry out preliminary inspections to clear pending notices of loss under the program. Because such duties normally are performed only contractors, this will allow for quicker response times.

FSA also authorized emergency haying and grazing of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acreage in counties with significant losses in hay and pasture production. Producers cannot both hay and graze the same CRP land. USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is providing haying and grazing plans for producers.

Farmers and ranchers can request that the NRCS State Conservationist give them an emergency waiver for Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) cost share contract applications before they are approved by the FSA committee. This waiver will allow specific farmers to start their conservation practices such as livestock water pipelines, irrigation systems, etc. immediately to save crops or livestock, without becoming ineligible for the contract, if selected.

"We're going into action to make sure that Texas farmers have access to assistance as soon as possible," Glickman said. "USDA employees and all Administration officials will do everything they can to serve agricultural producers in Texas with speed and effectiveness."

Farmers and ranchers who have suffered damages are encouraged to contact their local USDA Service Centers or FSA county offices for further information. These are listed in telephone books under "U.S. Government, Department of Agriculture." Farmers who have crop losses should notify their crop insurance agent immediately.

Annual Girl Scout Race on the River set for August 8

One thousand ducks and one dozen canoes are expected to reach speeds as high as two miles an hour during the annual El Camino Girl Scout Council Race on the River in San Angelo on Saturday, August 8.

The race will begin at 9 a.m. on the Concho River near the Girl Scout Little House, 304 W. Ave. A in San Angelo. A barbecue lunch will follow.

The event is the Council Board of Directors' annual fund-raiser to benefit the 2,000-plus girls who participate in Girl Scouting in the council's 18-county area.

It offers individuals, businesses and organizations the opportunity to sponsor a canoe and to adopt any number of the little yellow rubber ducks that will be rocking their way towards dozen of dandy prizes, all for the benefit of area youth.

Ducks are offered for adoption at $5 each, with prizes on tap for various ducky feats.

People wanting to adopt a duck should contact a Girl Scout leader or a member of the board of directors.

Adoption papers also will be available in the Community Booth at Sunset Mall in San Angelo on Saturday, Aug. 1.

As the last duck gets to shore and the final paddling is posted, spectators, canoers, duck handlers and friends of Scouting will gather the river's edge for a traditional barbecue lunch.

Barbecue tickets, available at the Little House the day of the race, are $5 per person.

All proceeds from the race benefit girls in Scout Troops throughout the 18-county council area.

Businesses wishing to help underwrite the Race on the River to help the youth of our area invited to call the council office, (915)655-8961 for information.

The Council serves Girl Scouting in Concho, Crockett, Dimmit, Edwards, Irion, Kimble, Kinney, Mason, Maverick, Menard, Reagan, Real, Schleicher, Sutton, Tom Green, Uvalde, Val Verde and Zavala Counties.

Just Kidding

Hit The Books!

With summer winding down and school getting under way, tests and homework aren't far behind. Studying is probably not your favorite hobby, but it is very important to you and your future.

Here are some tips to help make your studying more beneficial and maybe even not such a drag.

- Set up a study area. Whether it's a table or desk, have space to spread out your papers. Find a comfortable chair and have good lighting.
- Decide on a time. Take time each day to study. This way, you won't have to "cram" when it's time for a test.
- Start assignments when they are given. This will pay off in the end when your project turns out better because you spent more time on it.
- Tackle your least favorite or most difficult subjects first. That way, they'll get the time they need, then you can go on to those you enjoy.
- Take notes and review them. This will help you remember information. When you repeat notes, you are even more likely to remember.
- Take breaks. A little time away from the books revives you.
- Use techniques. Find patterns in the information you are studying. If it's something hard to remember, make up a rhyme to help you. Or make an acronym—the first letter of each word makes a word—out of a list you have to remember.
