Suits for Confiscation of 1,732,311 Barrels of "Hot" Oil Filed By McCraw Today

SAYS AMOUNT WAS IN EXCESS OF THE COMM. ALLOWABLE

150 Defendants Are Named for Trial Of Charges

TERRELL IS AIDE

Issues Statement Along With The Atty. Gen.

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP)—Attorney General McCraw filed suits for confiscation of 1,732,311 barrels of oil allegedly produced in East Texas in excess of allowances fixed by the railroad commission.

McCraw said the suits were the result of information from commission agents concerning alleged excess crude stored in Gregg, Smith, Rusk and Upshur counties; adding that approximately 150 defendants had been named.

McCraw and C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, issued a joint statement that the suits place "virtually all hot oil in East Texas under jurisdiction of court, thus preventing litigation, instituted by claimants of the oil trying to move it."

The attorney general said that if appeals to court uphold the constitutionality of the hot oil confiscation law through cases pending that the state would be able to retain custody of the oil until it is sold for the benefit of the general fund.

President Roosevelt has asked Congress to pass a law providing that when a federal judge who has been a judge 10 years or more reaches the age of 70 and does not retire within six months thereafter, the president shall appoint an additional judge to his court. This law, under present conditions, would require the president to add six justices to the United States Supreme Court.

HISTORIAN FINDS COURT PLAN NEAT REMEDY FOR ILLS FRONTING COUNTRY

By CHARLES A. BEARD
Eminent Historian and Educator

CAN anything new be said about the supreme court and the constitution? Perhaps the answer is "No." But one thing ought to be said, even though it is old. It is that the whole business is as complicated as Einstein's theory of relativity—even more complicated because it includes both physics and humanity.

The business of the supreme court and the constitution is as complicated as the movement of ideas and interests in the United States, which is American civilization in development. The constitution in operation involves both ideas and interests. The supreme court in making decisions expresses ideas, reflects interests, and affects interests. That has been true since the foundation of the federal government. It is still true, this very moment.

It follows then that no simple device, however contrived, for dealing with the composition and powers of the court can be guaranteed to work out as expected. No simple device will forever guarantee in itself the sure-fire adjustment of human liberty, which we all desire, to the need for enlightened and progressive legislation in the orderly development of American society.

For example, consider President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the supreme court by the appointment of new judges up to the number of 15. Everything depends for the present upon the kind of new judges the president nominates.

NO COUNTING ON DECISIONS
Presumably, like all other presidents, Roosevelt will choose men whose views are fairly well known to him, and they will, as a rule, vote to support New Deal laws challenged before the court. Some of them may and some of them may not. Judges have a way of defying their creators. They have in the past.

Further light on President Roosevelt's proposal to revamp the U. S. Supreme Court is shed by the accompanying article by Charles A. Beard, historian, author and eminent authority on political science. Heated debate continues throughout the nation as the Reporter-Telegram completes its poll on the question, in co-operation with 700 other U. S. newspapers served by NEA Service, Inc.

Suppose, however, that the immediate effect of appointing new judges will be the validation of New Deal laws, what of the more distant future? It is safe to assume that New Deal legislation will not round out and perfect American society, and that there will be newer deals in 1941 or 1945 or 1949.

These newer deals may be even more disturbing to the survivors of the present New Deal than the New Deal has been to the survivors of Mark Hanna's age of enlightenment. What then? President Roosevelt's supple young men will then feel their arteries hardening, and apply their present predilections to the newer deals.

The chances are that they will knock the newer deals into a cocked hat. At least judging by history, reading the future in the light of experience, the probabilities are that this is exactly what they will do.

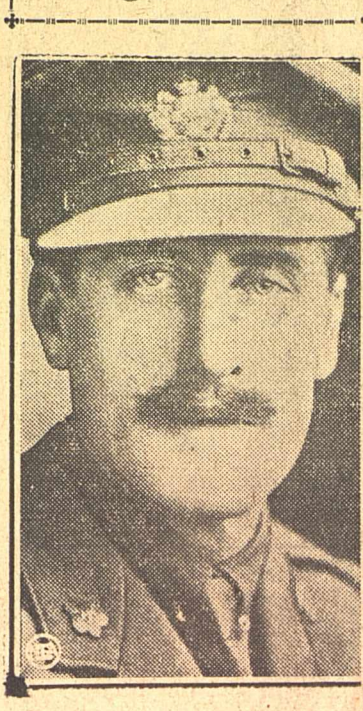

LEGAL SOPHISTRY VENTILATED

Hence there is no positive guarantee in the president's clever and amusing device, however praiseworthy it may be with respect to immediate emergencies. This is not to say that his device is without merits. It certainly is a genial and ironical answer to the platitudes, ruses, subterfuges, and artful dodges to which lawyers and judges resort in reading their ideas into the constitution and carrying their wills into effect.

Moreover, besides leading out professional tearers of hair into tearing their hair again, the president's message lets a gust of fresh air into dusty and stale atmosphere of legal sophistry.

For instance, it ventilates the most preposterous of all legal sophistries, namely, that the judges of the supreme court never express any opinions or predilections of their own, but merely, simply, and truly say just exactly what the constitution is. It is the almost universal prin-

Taxes Imposed by Social Security Act Explained

H. C. Broadus, deputy collector of the Internal Revenue, second district of Texas, is in Midland today to assist local residents in filing their income tax returns for the year.

Broadus annually comes to Midland and gives all assistance possible to those filing returns. He is at the Scharbauer Hotel at present and those desiring his help are requested to call him there.

The Social Security Act imposed two taxes, one upon employers of eight or more individuals, under Title IX, within the meaning of the Act, the other, upon the employee and the employer, under Title VIII however, certain services performed by an individual are exempted.

An employer may be an individual, a corporation, a partnership, a trust, or estate, a joint-stock company, an association, or a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, group, or entity.

An employee, within the meaning of the Act, is an individual.

The tax imposed by Title XI is an excise tax imposed upon the employer, if he (or it) employs eight or more individuals on each of some twenty days during the calendar year, each such day being in a different calendar week. The tax imposed, covers wages paid or payable for services performed during the taxable period. The first taxable period is for the calendar year 1936 and the time for filing the return and payment of the tax has been extended to April 1, 1937. The return must be in the Collector's office at Dallas, Texas on or before April 1, 1937 or such return will be delinquent. Mailing the return on April 1, 1937 will not meet the requirement of the law. The form used in filing this return is Form 940 and such form may be procured from the Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas.

Regulations 90 relate to the Excise Tax, imposed by Title IX of the Social Security Act and a copy of same may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., the price is ten cents.

The tax imposed by Title VIII is upon the employee and the employer. The employer shall withhold one percent of the wages paid (within the meaning of the law) to the employee and shall pay tax in a like amount. The effective date of this tax was January 1, 1937 and the first taxable period is for the month of January 1937. This tax is payable monthly and may be paid on or before the last day of the subsequent month, following the taxable period. The return must be in the Collector's office, Dallas, Texas, on or before the last day of the month, subsequent to the taxable period or the See (SOCIAL SECURITY) Page 2

DUST STORM OVER MOST OF STATE IS RECORDED TODAY

Oklahoma Schools Reopen After Shutdown

TO GET WARMER

Temperatures of 38 Degrees Felt Here Wednesday Night

(By Associated Press)
A dust fog of varying intensity extended from Dallas west to Wink and from the middle Panhandle south to San Antonio today. The Dallas weather bureau reported visibility as low as a quarter mile some places in the Panhandle but the dust was thinning.

In Oklahoma, the air cleared slightly over the Panhandle, allowing Guyton school to re-open after a shut-down yesterday. The remainder of the state was practically free from dust.

Temperatures in Midland dropped to near freezing last night, 38 degrees being recorded. The mercury had climbed back to 62 degrees today at 1 p. m. with still warmer weather forecast.

Dust continued to swirl and hang over the city, reducing visibility to 5 miles, half the maximum figure Wednesday. At 8 o'clock this morning visibility was only one-quarter of a mile, the lowest recorded recently.

SENATE TAKES UP CONTINUANCE OF PRORATION LAWS

House Favors No Tax On 'Fraternal' Insurance

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP)—The senate ordered consideration today of the bill, already passed by the house, to extend the oil and gas proration laws to September 1, 1939.

The house heard testimony in a contest brought for the Cleburne seat, and passed a bill exempting fraternal associations from insurance taxes.

WARNS AGAINST 6-HOUR DAY BILL

Ollie Webb Addresses Rotary Club Today At Luncheon

Ollie B. Webb of New Orleans was the principal speaker at Thursday's Rotary club luncheon at the Scharbauer Hotel. Mr. Webb is Assistant to President J. L. Lancaster of the Texas and Pacific Ry., and well known in Midland.

Attacking the Six-Hour-Day bill railway brotherhood leaders have declared their intention of putting through Congress as a move "not to provide more jobs for railway workers as they claim but bankruptcy and Government ownership and operation for the railways." Webb said the brotherhood leaders knew it wouldn't put more men to work, but that on the contrary, it would be bound to knock a lot of railroad men, now working, out of their jobs.

He said the immediate effect would be to sharply increase the pay of those now employed, by giving them their present eight hours pay for only six hours work, and by providing for overtime at time and one-half to begin at end of six hours work instead of at end of eight, as now; but that this increase of practically one-third in the railways wage bill would force the abandonment of branch lines, curtailment of service at many points, cutting off of jobs now barely paying their way, and installation of additional labor-saving machines and services, in which always means reduction in men employed. "Not only that," he said, "but our competitors on the highways work their men long hours, for wages that are but a fraction of those we now pay our men. The tremendous increase in railway employees' pay, if the six-hour day were made law, would widen still further the gap between wage-costs of the two types of transportation, giving trucks just that much more margin with which to take traffic from the railroads and jobs from railroad men."

To show what railroad men, particularly in train and engine service, now earn, it was stated that under the dual basis of hours or miles, 100 miles or less, or hours or miles, either yields the employe the greater return constitutes a days work; that a man making a 100-mile run in say four hours, receive a full days pay; one making a 150-mile run in six hours receives one and one-half days pay, although only on duty five days pay; while a local crew using 10 hours to make a 100-mile run receives a full days pay plus two hours overtime, or three hours extra pay; and that under the proposed six-hour day a man making a 100-mile run in 10 hours would receive a full days pay plus four

WOULD SERVE AS BUFFER AGAINST CROP FAILURES

Storage System For Surpluses Also Advocated

COSTLY PROGRAM

Estimate 100 Million Would Be Needed For Start

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today the adoption of a crop insurance system to provide farmers with a buffer against disastrous failures.

The president said that the insurance, coupled with a storage system for crop surpluses in good years, "would assist in providing a more nearly even flow of farm supplies, stabilizing farm buying power and contributing to security of business and employment."

Under the program an insured farm would be protected against natural hazards to 75 percent of the normal yield.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, chairman of the committee which planned the program, said "it would have the effect of storing reserves of wheat in years of large crops and releasing them on the market in years of failure."

Federal officers estimated over $100,000,000 would be needed to set up the plan.

The president recommended that insurance be extended to wheat for the crop year 1938 and advocated legislation authorizing similar programs to other commodities.

The Midland high school band will compete with those of ten towns in the parade and contest.

MIDLAND MAN IS HI-JACKED NEAR FORSAN THURSDAY

Driver of Truck Is Robbed of Cash, Belongings

Held up at the point of a pistol, Chat A. Pierce, driver of a Verne Holdaway truck, was robbed of cash and personal effects at a point four miles north of Forsan last night. Howard county officers were at work on the case today but had announced no arrests.

Pierce who lives at Midland and is employed by his brother-in-law, Holdaway, telephoned to the Holdaway home here last night, advising them of the robbery. He had been to Forsan and was en route to Coahoma. He had noticed a car trailing his truck. When he reached a section of rough road, the car pulled up behind him and one of the two occupants pointed to the rear of Pierce's truck.

Thinking he was losing some of the merchandise, he stopped and climbed out. As he did so, the other car halted and two men got out, one holding a pistol on him and commanding him to hand over his money, watch and personal belongings. He had not checked the money but was carrying two days receipts.

Pierce furnished officers with a good description of one of the men but said the other, well hidden in the darkness, apparently was masked. One of them, he thought, was "drunk."

hours overtime, or two full days pay for ten hours work.

As showing possibilities under the dual basis, cases were cited from T&P payrolls where passenger conductors, working equivalent to 20 8-hour days, received $370.42 per month, or $2.30 per hour, and would have received $472.24 per month, and would have received $656.88 under a six-hour day; where a negro train porter, working a fraction less than 20 8-hour days, received $200.80 or $1.25 per hour, etc. As to effect a six-hour day would have on the railroads, the speaker said that for the year ending Aug. 31st, 1936, because of improving business conditions and increased tonnage, the railroads earned a net income of $96,000,000. "Had the six-hour day been in effect and the same tonnage handled the same man-hours worked (SIX HOUR BILL) Page 8

AFL EXECUTIVE COUNCIL BACKS COURT REVISION

Endorsement Given Proposal by The President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor gave official endorsement Wednesday to President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization proposal.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, announced:

"It was the opinion of the executive council that the sincere and earnest desire of labor for judicial reform and for realization of social and economic advancement could be promoted better through the acceptance and application of the president's recommendation, rather than through the slow, tedious process of a constitutional amendment."

"The council fully believes that labor throughout the United States, as represented by the American Federation of Labor, will rally to the support of the president in the recommendation which he made."

Green said an intensive campaign is planned to acquaint the members of congress with the desires of labor and labor's friends for favorable action on the president's recommendation at the earliest possible date.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The administration's five-billion-dollar public works program, in its function as something to be used quickly against any future depression emergency, comes as a relief to many economists here who are none too sure that the next depression is a long way off.

Predominant administration policy is now based on the gamble that the upward swing in business activity will continue for the next two or three years. The budget-balancing, Federal Reserve, taxation and relief phases of the policy all tie in with that gamble.

Economists here differ in their speculations and predictions, but their charts and tables show that if the present upturn continues more than three or four months longer it will break the previous longevity records.

The two big previous upturns were that of 1861-65 which lasted 46 months, and that of 1915-18, which continued 44 months. We figured in each instance. The present steady rise in business activity is now in its 48th month.

Records—which of course do not govern the future—show that a business expansion period usually lasts about one-seventh longer than the preceding contraction period, which in the 1929-33 period lasted for 45 months.

Two Guesses

Roughly speaking, administration policymakers tend to divide into two groups at this time.

One is a fiscal group which bets on steady increasing production, bigger profits and rising federal revenue. Leaning toward or already in this school are Secretary Morgenthau, Reserve Board Governor Eccles, Donald Richberg, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Draper and W. Averell Harriman, head of the administration-sponsored Business Advisory and Planning Council.

The other group, including many of the more liberal New Deal economists, believes that mass purchasing power has been and still is the key to recovery, and fears that the rising price level, spurred by the profit urge and made possible by accelerated business activity, is now endangering purchasing power and hence the upswing of business recovery.

Economic forecasters in the Treasury are guessing that business activity, which increased 14 per cent in 1936, will increase 19 per cent this year over last year—thus reach a figure above 1935.

More than 2,000,000 persons went back to work last year and the gamble (on which Harry Hopkins proposes to cut 600,000 from WPA rolls in the next few months) is that 1937 will see an equal increase in employment.

How It Adds Up

Big profits are necessary to carry the budget, the fiscal group figures. It also believes that with expansion of the capital goods industry, a forecast of 60 per cent more building this year and other favorable factors, federal expenditures for stimulation of industry may now practically stop.

Various government policies are conditioned by the fiscal group's theories. One postulate is that government should be careful to do nothing to interfere with the continuing upturn — "Don't rock the boat!"

Strikes are considered bad medicine. Senate investigations which reveal labor espionage by big corporations and financial racketeering among the railroads are to be deplored. Tax law revisions to relieve certain alleged burdens on business are being urged. Federal action against investment trusts and sweatshops wouldn't be wise just now.

Wage and hour legislation also would be ill-advised, according to this view and the fiscal group, insisting on more and more production, fears "labor monopoly" and higher wage scales as possible recovery deterrents.

All of which adds up to more or less of an antithesis to the president's promises in his Madison Square Garden and inaugural addresses concerning legislation to curb monopoly, to raise wages and reduce hours, to protect consumers against unfair prices and so on.

Seeking The Balance

The other group is primarily anxious for action which will keep the cost of living curve on the economists' charts below the curve denoting average earnings of workers.

There has been a big price advance since last October; since election the former curve has come right

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

What you enjoy most is admiration... and the easiest way to win that is by looking lovely every moment of the day... Our experienced operators and modern equipment enable us to give you the best in Beauty work...

1. Need a woman remove her glove before shaking hands?
 2. It is the man's or the woman's place to say "I am glad to have met you" when the two part after having been introduced?
 3. Is it correct for a man to take a woman by the elbow?
 4. Should a girl take a man's arm in walking across a dance floor?
 5. Is it customary for women to keep on their hats during a luncheon?
- What would you do if—
You are offered a cocktail when everyone in the crowd is drinking and yet you never drink—
(a) Say, "No thank you, I don't drink."
(c) Acknowledge the proffer graciously and say, "No thank you."

ANSWERS

1. No, nor should she apologize for not doing so.
 2. The man's place. The woman says "Thank you."
 3. Only if he is assisting her where her footing is dangerous.
 4. No, only during a grand march or when going in to supper.
 5. Yes, unless in a small group of friends and the hostess suggests that the guests take off their hats.
- Best "What would you do?" solution—(c).

An article by Donald Moffat entitled "Mr. Pennyfeather Indulges in Platitude," was the basis for a discussion of present day "spinelessness" regarding civic injustice.

Under an amusing guise it struck deeply at the general lack of honor and courage amongst citizens in all walks of life, regarding legal rights and law enforcement.

Members attending were Mesdames H. C. Barnes, Elliott Cowden, J. M. DeArmond, Andrew Fasken, George Glass, M. R. Hill, O. B. Holt, John Perkins, W. T. Walsh, W. G. Whitehouse and the hostess, Mrs. John P. Butler.

At the Baptist annex Tuesday night, ten members were present. Important business was attended to. The next regular meeting will be held on March 2.

Any new members and the old members in town are cordially invited to attend.

The mules were matched up in spans of like color, size and age. W. M. Pyle bought one span and others were being sold today. The mules, according to the buyers, are ideal for hauling cake, or wood around a ranch headquarters, or for filling around water troughs and other work.

Several Midland people probably will go to Big Spring tonight for the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce. Lieut. Governor Walter Woodul will be the principal speaker.

Wermersen and Jennings, cattle firm with ranches in Iowa and South Dakota, bought several loads of steer yearlings here this week.

For early spring delivery. They bought 1,500 from Proctor and Fasken, 100 from C. P. Bennett, 150 from Pete Wheeler of Odessa, 150 from Jack and C. W. Edwards of Monahans, and fifty head of two year old steers from Ratliff and Hurt of Odessa. The steers will be divided equally between their Iowa and South Dakota pastures.

Hollywood Glamour Gals

BY PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18. — Della Lind has been in Hollywood 13 months without appearing in a single picture. But unlike so many newcomers who are given nothing to do and then are plopped back in to oblivion Miss Lind is neither neglected nor forgotten.

She has been in training for stardom. There will be no preparatory bit roles for this glamor-girl. Her studio expects her to attend her first premiere a virtual nonentity and emerge a celebrity.

That sounds like a pretty ambitious program, except that Miss Lind is by no means a nonentity on the stages of London, Vienna and Berlin, or in English pictures. She has demonstrated that she can act and that she can sing. As for her appearance, I can only refer you to a coterie of admirers who hang around the M-G-M projection rooms looking at the results of her tests. There are color tests, too. Peach-es-and-cream. Taffy colored hair with highlights, and it's her own. Dark brown eyes. Hands that set despondent sculptors to wielding hammers on their poor clay. Wide shoulders and slim hips. Pop her into a burlap sack and it would look like something with a Patou label. Her teeth—oh, well, you get the idea.

Della Lind

Surprises Studio

For the past seven months, Miss Lind has been losing her accent and orienting herself to the American way of picture-making. She is ready to go to work now.

Her initial role probably will be the first feminine lead, or maybe the second, in Metro's flicker glorification of Ziegfeld's "Rosalie." After that, she hears, there should be starring parts in such musicals and operettas as "The Chocolate Soldier" and "The Cat and the Fiddle." The studio owns a lot of them.

It was a little question of picture rights which cost her a trying six months in Hollywood when she first came here. She was about to sign a new contract in England when Paramount persuaded her that she was just the girl for a screening of Victor Herbert's "Mlle. Modiste."

She came here at a handsome wage reported to the studio, and waited. And waited. She had no friends here. She spoke scarcely any English. She got no attention at all, and finally she gave up going to the studio because she couldn't understand why the picture was being delayed. The answer was simple enough.

The film company couldn't obtain the screen rights to "Mlle. Modiste." So my contract was not renewed," said Miss Lind. "In fact, when I went for my last check they seemed very much surprised to find that I was still alive."

Night Clubbing Suffers She speaks precisely, and still has an accent. Her studio has decided that this is just the right tang for a continental glamor-specialist, although she still believes that her English is "very wrong." Her diction coaching will continue for a while, and of course her singing.

"The company brought my singing teacher to Hollywood," she said. "We work quite hard—lessons twice a day. I cannot smoke, or stay in a smoke-filled room. That is bad for my night clubbing. I used to like to go about. Now I sleep more, but I never can get enough sleep anyway. Almost every evening I go to a movie, then straight home."

Daytimes, Miss Lind has been making numerous tests—dramatic, singing and makeup. For three months the studio paid two tutors to improve her English. It also arranged for special showings of exceptional pictures which she was expected to study. She most admires Greta Garbo; her favorite actor is William Powell.

"English" in Three Weeks She was born in Vienna. As nearly as I can figure, she is 28, or will be on June 19. Her father was Leopold Natzler, actor, director and close friend of Franz Lehár. Natzler directed the first production of "The Merry Widow." Her mother, was an actress—Lilly Meissner. Both parents opposed their daughter's wish to go on the stage. They had plenty of money, and she was educated in private schools. She was given voice lessons too, and began singing, non-professionally, at 15.

The Nazis lost their fortune in the depression which preceded our own. The father fell ill. Without his knowledge Miss Lind became a mannequin to help support the family. Then she went into the theater. Soon she made a screen test and played a leading part with Richard Tauber in Berlin. In all, she has appeared in about 20 films and a dozen stage productions. Mostly dramatic roles.

Miss Lind first went to England for the play "Casanova." When she accepted the part she was unable to speak English, but in three weeks learned to parrot the lines so acceptably that the engagement lasted eight months. She used the same method in a couple of English pictures, and in an English translation of her own play, "Going Gay."

"The name of Lind I chose because my family is related very far away, and only by marriage, to Jenny Lind. It is a name people can pronounce."

Her real name, Natzler, Hollywood discovered to its horror, never would do at all. Sounds like a combination of "Nazi" and "Hitler."

Sh!—She's Married! For exercise, she likes fencing and riding. Once she studied toe and ballet dancing, but has danced only a little on the stage. In Europe she drove in automobile and motorboat races, but never has learned to fly. She's a competent pianist, studied painting under Robert Shiff, and has designed clothes. During her first six months in Hollywood, she corresponded for a newspaper in Vienna, but didn't write about the film colony because, she admits, she didn't know anything about it then. "It gave me something to do during an unhappy time," she recalled. "Now I do not write anymore."

It's bad business for a glamor-girl to be married. Nevertheless Miss Lind is the wife of Franz Steiniger, musician-composer whom she met in Vienna. She didn't like England, but is delighted with everything American. She would like to be in a Broadway show. Her favorite color is purple, and her diet is vegetarian. Won't even wear furs.

NEXT: How can anyone create a Glamor Gal when the sheet-actors just won't put on an act? Paul Harrison tells how Dorothy Lamour figures in this puzzling situation, in his fifth article on "Hollywood Glamour Gals."

Resume of Play Given by Mrs. Heath

A play in three acts by Maxwell Anderson.

Towering above the city of Haverrstraw and overlooking the Hudson River, stands a magnificent headland bearing the old celtic name of High Tor. A small cliff-like hill adjoins it. Both of these land marks have been well known to the river folk ever since Hendrick Hudson first called the "Half Moon" up the Topen Tee. Some years ago a trap rock company purchased the smaller part of it, and since that time the greater part of it has been removed, leaving only a false front facing the Hudson. The story of the play deals with the possibility that High Tor may meet with the same fate.

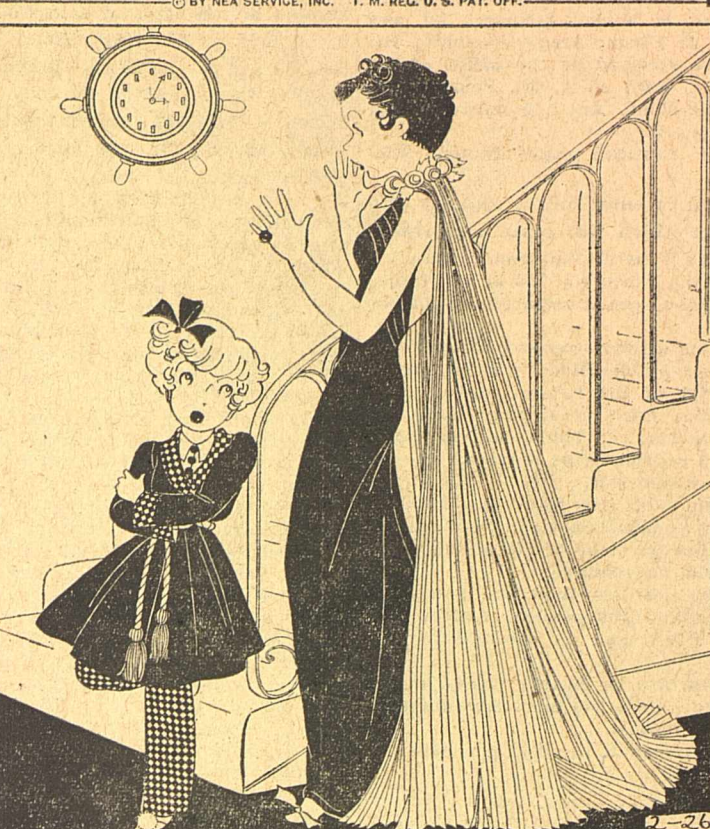

With this situation as a background, the author has fashioned the most whimsical and delightful play that has come from his pen since "Saturday's Children" was produced. The main character in the play is Van Doon, young heir to High Tor, who is about to lose his rights there to a double-dealing firm of rascally real-estate men.

Van Doon has met Judith, who wants to leave High Tor and live in the city where his income will be more certain, but this he does not wish to do. Complications arise from a bank robbery at Nanuet and the appearance of the robbers on High Tor. This state of affairs is then further complicated by the introduction of the Dutch crew of Hendrick Hudson's last ship "Onrust" with the resulting dual of wits between the conflicting groups.

In this new play, written in the same verse as "Winterst" Mr. Anderson has displayed his unusual understanding and insights into the motives actuating the courses and decisions of the very human characters portrayed and has presented a rare study of character development as affected by the economic demands of present day conditions. Mrs. Wade Heath.

BOUNTY OFFERED FOR MOLES LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U.P.)—Counties in Arkansas may pay 10 cents per pair for the front paws of gophers and moles under a measure passed by the Arkansas Senate. Proponents of the bill stated that damage to crops necessitated an organized fight on the animals.

HADDOCK ONCE SHUNNED

BOSTON. (U.P.)—The Pilgrim Father used to throw away all the haddock they caught, considering the fish unfit for human consumption. Paradoxically, today, haddock is tops in New England's fish marts outselling all other varieties throughout the year.

It's Last Straw in Beach Modes

A fine straw to show which way the wind's blowing in beach modes is put on view by Doris Snary of Chicago, a visitor at Tahiti Beach, Miami. She calls it a sun suit, designed it herself and had it made of fabric woven from native straw.

McCORMICK-DEERING Kerosene Tractors Operate Perfectly on No. 1 FURNACE DISTILLATE

INVESTIGATION shows that the widely known oil companies now market a No. 1 Furnace Distillate which makes a very satisfactory fuel for McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors. The use of this clean, low-priced fuel results in a considerable saving over the cost of kerosene . . . For your guidance, specifications of a No. 1 Furnace Distillate suitable for use in McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors are included in this advertisement.

Tests prove that the number of cylinders in a tractor engine has nothing at all to do with the success or failure of furnace distillate as a fuel. Experience shows, however, that multi-cylinder engines produce a smooth flow of flexible power that lengthens tractor life, improves traction, and reduces driver fatigue. McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors have modern 4-cylinder, valve-in-head engines of the most efficient vertical type.

Specifications of No. 1 Furnace Distillate for McCormick-Deering Tractors:

U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says: "I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye

HON. GERALD P. NYE U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke. Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

Sportraits

J. Walter Morris, organizer of class-D baseball leagues deluxe, writes Bill Collins, temporary head of the proposed West Texas League, that he is letting no grass grow under his feet in his efforts to have final organization plans of the league completed in Carsbad Cavern.

In parts, he says: "I believe I can get both Judge Landis and Judge Braham at the affair. Also, J. Alvin Gardner will be there. If we can get the National Broadcasting Co. interested in putting it on the air we will receive more publicity free than any other league was ever able to buy."

Below you see Morris trying to slip a fast one past the broadcasting company:

Only one person contacted by this department has said they would not support a club here this year. Several have said they would do anything to help that they could. But that is going to mean little unless someone takes charge and tries to get the club here organized.

At the meeting scheduled Feb. 28 Midland is going to have to announce themselves ready and put up proof of it or the town is going without baseball this summer. And the league will be organized whether or not Midland is a member.

A group of Dallas men are reported to be interested in owning the Big Spring franchise. So interested, in fact, that they are coming out to the Howard county capital next Monday and try to make arrangements for a park site. If successful, they will then make application for league membership. Unless Midland is ready they are likely to be handed the place that was reserved for this city.

Several persons don't seem to like the idea of a pre-season drive for funds. It has to be this way unless someone will agree to underwrite the club.

This department suggests selling $10 shares equal to the amount needed to get started. Say, off-hand about $4,000. It will not take that much to get started but it is better to have a small surplus to begin with than to have to skimp to enter.

And, believe it or not, there is a possibility the stockholders would get most, if not all of their money back at the end of the season. Figures will be furnished the skeptical.

Whereas the old West Texas League Midland had a $5,500 payroll to meet each month, this year they will be bound by the rules of baseball not to pay their players more than $1,000.

Midland lost $12,000 in its last year of organized ball. Loy $4,000 per month off the payroll and there is more than enough saved to take care of that deficit. And attendance

Australian Davis Cup Choice

Phenomenal performances in the Australian championships earned Jack Bromwich, in the air returning an overhand smash in this remarkable action picture, a place on the Anzac Davis Cup team. Bromwich, who is only 17, recently repelled the veteran Jack Crawford, top flight player of the land down under.

Natie Brown, Referee Both Hit Floor; Referee Able to Rise, Brown Not-So Joe Louis Gets Credit for A Knockout

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Although it ended with the flavor of a wrestling-match, Joe Louis, Detroit's negro boxing man, was credited with a fourth round knockout last night in his scheduled ten round duel with Natie Brown, Washington, D. C., heavyweight.

In the uproar with Referee Walter Bates, himself on the floor, it appeared to be a technical knockout but afterwards Bates said the count of ten had been completed by the official timekeeper while the befuddled Brown was on the floor from a crushing right.

To the roars of an estimated crowd of 14,000, noisy after three rather tame rounds, Louis methodically pummeled the Washington veteran with right and lefts in the first 40 seconds of the fourth. Brown, his pale face a puffy cushion, dropped to a sitting position. Seemingly a badly dazed man, Brown, who once before had gone ten full rounds with Louis, attempted to hoist himself to his feet by grasping referee Bates' leg.

Brown finally hoisted himself to his feet, staggering about like a man hit quite abruptly with a mallet. Bates, arose, rushed over to a neutral corner where Louis had strolled with the nonchalance of a stevedore returning for another bag of sugar after dumping one in a ship's hold, and held Louis' arm aloft.

The first two rounds were comparatively peaceful. Brown did what little leading was done. Louis, his face a mask of boredom, stalked his lighter foe.

Soon after the start of the third round the Detroit bomber began to connect with short choppy lefts and rights to the face which drove Brown to cover. As the round ended Brown was partially through the ropes, his left arm upraised in a pitiful effort at defense.

Louis went to work almost with the bell at the start of the fourth. No one punch teed up Brown for a knockout drive. Rather, it was a flurry of jolting rights and lefts to Brown's swollen features. Fifteen times the bomber landed without a return, and Brown collapsed more from the cumulative effects of the barrage rather than from any particular blow.

should be better than it was then. With the Shaughnessy play-off plan in effect a third, fourth or fifth place club will probably outdraw the league leaders.

The amount of advertising the city would get out of a club in the league is inestimable. For instance, The Sporting News, published in St. Louis, each week carries the standing of each league in organized ball. And its circulation extends into several countries. Midland could not hope to land for any amount of money the free advertising they would get from a club.

pal of educational liberty, and profoundly disturbs the well-administered schools of the District. This rider was jammed through by the congressional machine when a large number of members opposed to it were apparently asleep. Nobody who thinks that human liberty is of any value will want to leave everything he holds dear to the mercy of a mere majority of congress. So the business of the supreme court and the constitution, as I said in the beginning, is not simple. It is highly complicated. Devices, such as enlarging the court or amending the constitution, have merits and are useful. But the discussion of the fundamentals of government, the spread of knowledge, the explosion of legal sophistries, the development of compulsory self-restraint on the part of judges, and a resurgence to first principles by the people, may be even more useful in the orderly and progressive development of American institutions. Supporters of Plan To Retire Judges at Age of 70 Take Lead

Supporters of President Roosevelt plan to retire federal judges, including members of the supreme court, upon reaching 70 years of age pulled up ahead of opponents of the chief executive's proposal today as 11 additional ballots arrived at The Reporter-Telegram office. Twenty-three ballots have been cast for the proposal, 22 against.

It was the first time during the race that proponents of the proposal have been in the lead here. At this time yesterday opponents of the bill led 19-15 but 8 of the last 11 ballots to come in favored the plan.

LABOR LEADERS BEHIND PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. — The American Federation of Labor rallied behind President Roosevelt's court program today, simultaneously with Secretary Wallace's prediction that farmers generally would approve it.

William Green, federation president, said the executive council preferred the proposal to the "slow tedious process of a constitutional amendment."

Seek Compromise on Judiciary

The controversy aroused by President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization plan has resulted in more putting-heads-together than any measure in recent years. The Summers compromise proposal to retire Supreme Court justices over 70 years old with full pay was the result of this conference of members of the House of Representatives judiciary committee. Left to right are Representatives U. S. Guyer, Emanuel Celler and Chairman Hatton Summers.

Six Hour Bill-- ed, increase in the railroads wage bill would have been $387,000,000.00 wiping out their net income and leaving them with a deficit of $291,000,000.00. Only the Government, which can and does pass its deficit on to the taxpayers, could stand up under a load like that. And the brotherhood leaders know it. That's why I say this bill is just the opening gun in their campaign to bring about Government ownership and operation of the railroads, by driving them into bankruptcy. Webb said the people of this country, particularly the business men and farmers, on whom the tax burden would fall heaviest, don't want Government ownership of the railroads. "But the don't have to want it," he declared. "Switzerland is the only country in the world where the people voted for the Government to take over the railroads. In all the others the railroads went broke and the Government had to take them over, just as would be the case here should bills the brotherhood leaders are trying to pass become law."

Pointing to Canada as a perfect illustration of what this country could expect should the Government take over our railroads, the speaker said that country has two great railway systems; the Canadian Pacific, 17,000 miles, privately owned and operated, and the Canadian National 21,000 miles, government-owned and operated; both working under same rates, wage-scale etc. "During the last nine years" he said, "the Canadian Pacific, privately owned and operated, paid heavy taxes for support of the schools and government, just as the railroads in this country do and earned and paid to its stock and bond holders $41,000,000.00 in interest and dividends. During these same nine years the Canadian National, government-owned and operated, not only paid no taxes (no government pays taxes on its property) but failed to pay $456,000,000.00 to even earn the interest on the money the Government borrowed to buy the roads with when it took them over; and has piled up on the taxpayers backs a deficit of over 3 billion dollars, with which Canadian babies yet unborn will have to wrestle."

At the Rotary luncheon, Agent J. J. Hamlet of the Fort Worth lines here, was a guest of the club. Other guests included Dr. Hudson of Stamford, Claude Crane, Bill Collins and H. G. Bedford. E. H. Barron was in charge of the program, it being one of the series brought by past presidents of the club.

CAT WALKS ON FOREPAWS

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (U.P.) — Peter Vander Wyst owns a 9-months-old cat, Trixie that walks only on its forepaws. Born with the hind paws turned outward, Trixie learned to walk on two legs. The cat frequently outruns the neighbor's dogs to the nearest tree, Vander Wyst said.

600 PENNIES BUY LICENSE

FORT COLLINS, Col. (U.P.) — George Hardwick paid his 1937 auto license with 600 pennies saving during the last year and deposited in an ice cream container. When Hardwick presented the container at the county clerk's office it was nearly full and weighed four pounds.

feet from the discovery. It will be designated as Mason No. 3 Kyle. Up on the return of O. M. Mason, president of the company, from Connecticut, operations will be started at the offset.

The discovery well, 18 miles northwest of the Wheat pool in Loving county, has been flowing around 300 barrels of oil daily for the past several weeks. Tubing is on the rack, but will not be run until the well is connected with a pipe-line. The well is bottomed at 3,903. four feet in the Delaware sand, and has been shot with 120 quarts, flowing 347 barrels the first 24 hours after shot.

Crane-Cowden Extended Spread of the Crane-Cowden pool in southeastern Crane county a half mile farther west was assured by C. J. Dickson No. 1-C Ed S. Hughes, which is testing today on pump through 2-inch tubing with 2,100 feet of oil in the hole. Operators estimated the producer good for 300 to 350 barrels.

Pay in the No. 1 Hughes was topped at 2,390 feet, with natural production of 60 barrels a day on pump resulting. It was drilled to a total depth of 2,478 feet, and shot first with 40 quarts of nitro from 2,453 to bottom and later with 40 quarts from 2,390 to 2,410. After shot, it swabbed 58 barrels of oil in two hours, lowering fluid only 500 feet. Acid treatment of 1,000 gallons was also given the well.

The well is located 330 feet from the north and 1,076 feet from the west line of section 86, block X, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey on a 160-acre tract.

Woolforth 10,000 acres are being sold in tracts and will be plowed. Two tracts near Shallwater will be broken; S. E. O'Neil of Lubbock will farm five sections for the first time; and seven or eight sections owned by the Texas Land and Mortgage company will be improved and cultivated. Many farmers are adding from 25 to 400 acres to their cultivated land, the papers say.

H. D. Chipley placed 10,000 acres near Oasis, a townsite on the state line 10 miles west of Morton, Cochran county, on the market. He re-opened a townsite on the Bledsoe branch of the Santa Fe and plans to cultivate the surrounding acreage. The Campbell and C. C. Slaughter ranches are other large acres seeing the plow for the first time, the papers say.

The Resettlement Administration has an option on about 10,000 acres in Hockley and Cochran counties for additions to the Roosevelt colony. Sixty-seven lots of 120 acres each are to be added if the land is taken over. Several large owners in Lamb and Hockley counties are selling new land along with their cultivated farms, generally in tracts of 177 acres.

The famous Childress county school lands in Bailey county, in tax litigation several years, is being settled. D. C. Beebe has started 10 houses and sold a large number of tracts, the papers say. (Some irrigated land near Muleshoe is being sold. In Farmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, Hale, Swisher, and Floyd counties, much land went into wheat last fall.

Many farmers from nearby states, largely Oklahoma, who saved $500 or more from crops last year, have come here and made payments on quarter sections. They have tools, horses, livestock, and seed, and sufficient food until they make a crop, the papers say.

rights are still standing. Observers reported that pieces of anhydrite half as large as hen's eggs blown from the hole covered the ground near the well.

Roar of the blast can be heard several miles away.

The air was struck in sand at 1,460 feet. Analysis showed it to be 18 per cent oxygen and the rest nitrogen, practically the same proportions found in air. Instead of decreasing, the size of the blow appeared to be gaining force. Operators plan to let it exhaust naturally without trying to kill it since the well shows no signs of cratering.

Location of the Westbrook test is six miles east of Big Spring, 430 feet from the north and 290 feet from the west line of section 48, block 32, township 1 north, T. & P. survey.

Leaving Strike Offset

Location has been staked for a direct west offset to Mason Oil Company No. 2 Kyle, recent opener of the second West Texas pool producing from the Delaware. The new test is 2,310 feet from the north and west lines of section 20, block 55, township 1 T. & P. survey, 690

BOY SCOUT TOO AMBITIOUS

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U.P.) — Mrs. Clarence Henry decided that at least one Boy Scout was overly enthusiastic about doing his good turn. One boy among the 1,500 collecting clothing for flood refugees, saw a bundle on Mrs. Henry's porch and carried it to Red Cross headquarters. After a three-day search Mrs. Henry got her laundry back.

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.
