THE CITY OF BAIRD MOURNS AS DR. R. G. POWELL IS LAID TO REST

Dr. R. G. Powell died at the Griggs Hospital Wednesday night at 9 o'clock following a heart attack about 1 o'clock in the afternoon while sitting in the Quality Cafe. Dr. Powell has been in failing health for several months and for the past several weeks has been a patient in the hospital but he was able to be down on the street for a short time each day and his death came as a distinct shock to his family and his host of friends throughout this section, whose hearts are made sad by the passing of Dr. Powell, whom was truly Baird's most useful citizen. Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the hour of the funeral, which was held at the Methodist Church, all business was suspended and people from adjoining towns and communities joined the people of Baird in paying a final tribute of respect, love and veneration, to one who has played so great a part in shaping the destiny of Baird and Callahan county. The flag at the City Hall hung at half mast and the Fire Department on the fire trucks led the funeral procession, which was the largest ever seen in Baird, to the cemetery, where interment was made under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, of which Dr. Powell had long been an honored member, his last resting place being made by the side of his father and mother, who have been sleeping there for many years. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. S. Leveridge, pastor of the Methodist Church of which Dr. Powell was a member, assisted by Rev. Joe R. Mayes, pastor of the Baptist Church.

Pall bearers were: Gray Powell, Carleton Powell, W. J. Evans, A. M. Cooper, Horton Hornsby and Martin Barnhill. There were no honorary pall bearers because in life Dr. Powell made no distinction for he loved the humblest friend with the same devotion as the highest.

Dr. Powell was the son of Thomas and Ann Powell. He was born in Louisville, Kentucky, on August 1, 1857. He was educated in the public schools of Louisville and later studied medicine graduating from the medical college in that city. He came to this county in 1882 and settled at Belle Plaine, which at that time was the county seat of Callahan county and when the town of Baird was established and the county seat moved here, Dr. Powell came to Baird, where he has since made his home, and where he has devoted his life to the upbuilding of the town and county.

He was a successful physician. He was ever ready to answer the call of the sick and needy—never hesitating to go where his services were needed for fear that the bill would not be paid—and many of them were not—but he gave his services just as freely and he found much pleasure in giving cheer to the sick and distressed. He was very charitable and it was through his efforts the Goodfellows Club was organized here some few years ago. He was always interested in civic work. He was especially interested in beautifying Ross cemetery, and it was he who was instrumental in putting the hard surface on the road leading to the cemetery and on the drive through the cemetery and also in putting in the water service there. He never hesitated to help promulgate anything that would tend to build up Baird and Callahan county. He served the city of Baird as Mayor, also served as representative from this district in the State Legislature. He had confidence in his fellowman and his fellowman had confidence in him. We will remember him always for his kindly smile and his whole souled big heart.

Dr. Powell is survived by four brothers and two sisters: J. W. Powell of Ballinger; H. O. Powell, of Los Angeles California; T. E. Powell of Baird; H. F. Powell of Abilene; Mrs. A. M. Miller of San Antonio and Mrs. E. J. Nutter, of LaGrange, Ky. Dr. I. W. Powell, his eldest brother, died some years ago at his home in Missouri. He also survived by a number of nieces and nephews, on whom he had lavished his affection and who in return dearly loved him.

The floral offerings were many and most beautiful, silent tokens of the love and respect of him who had strewn flowers along life's pathway, for his fellowman.

Relatives who were here to attend the funeral were: Judge and Mrs. J. W. Powell and James Wear, of Ballinger; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Powell, son and daughter, of Abilene; Mrs. A. M. Miller, of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Powell, of Cross Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Gray Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Horton Hornsby, of Fort Worth. Many friends from out-of-town were here to attend the funeral.

Mrs. John Bowyer Dies At Abilene

Mrs. John Bowyer died in Abilene Sunday night following an illness of several months. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Heavenly Rest Episcopal Church by the Rev. Willis P. Gerhart, rector, reading the service.

Mrs. Bowyer, widow of Colonel John Bowyer, pioneer attorney of this section died at a local sanitarium in Abilene Sunday night, after six months of steady failing health. Her death followed that of her husband, last July, and comes less than a month after that of her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Bowyer Gillette, who died in Dallas March 24th.

Mrs. Bowyer leaves four sons, John and Robin Bowyer of Abilene, Hubert Bowyer of Dallas, and Courtney Bowyer. The only living sister, Miss Alice Berry, lives at 410 Grape street Abilene. Four surviving brothers are Will Berry, pioneer hardware merchant of Abilene, now living in Los Angeles, Cal.; Coats Berry, also of Los Angeles; George S. Berry, formerly a banker of Berkeley, now of Tulsa; and J. Taylor Bryr, lumber man of Cisco, who were present at the funeral. Judge and Mrs. Otis Bowyer, of Baird, and their son and daughter, Otis Bowyer, Jr., of Dallas and Maria Leache, of Fort Worth, attended the funeral.

Mrs. Bowyer was 69 years of age. She had been a resident of Abilene since 1881, several months before the city of Abilene was founded by her father, Col. J. T. Berry.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Mrs. L. O. Meadows at the Marinello Beauty Parlor has added quite a lot of new equipment to her shop which will enable her to give her patrons first class service. The new equipment consists of a new hair dryer and a new water softener, which will enable them to have soft water through out the shop at all times. This new equipment was added at a cost of some $400.00. The water softer has a capacity of five times that of the equipment formerly used.

End Of The Federal Loan Time Near

Word has been received by county agent, A. M. Cooper, from the Secretary of Agriculture that all applications for seed, feed and fertilizer loans as well as loans for Agricultural Rehabilitation purposes must be mailed in time to reach the Farmers Seed Loan office not later than April 30, 1931.

Those who still desire to make application for loans should do so at once as it usually takes several days for the applications to pass through the hands of the committees in the county before they can be sent to the loan office.

Plenty of application blanks have been received and are now in the hands of the committees over the county for all who desire to apply for a loan.

JERRY KENT BEING TRIED FOR DEATH OF BOB ENSOR

The trial of Jerry Kent, Cross Plains youth, who is charged with the murder of his grand-uncle, Bob Ensor, is now in progress in a special session of district court, called by Judge M. S. Long, court having convened Wednesday morning. A special venire of 80 men had been summoned and a jury was completed late Wednesday evening.

Thirty-one men were examined before the first juror, J. E. Pruett, Putnam farmer, was chosen, early afternoon. Forty-eight men were summoned after the special venire of 80 was exhausted.

Other jurors are: Aaron McKee, Clyde farmer; I. H. Jones, Putnam oil worker; Buck Harris, Admiral farmer; M. A. Shelton, Clyde farmer; S. B. Miller, Putnam druggist; J. W. Hale, Putnam grocer; J. M. Cribbs, Putnam oil worker; G. T. Scott, Putnam, West Texas Utilities Company employee; J. F. Browning, Baird farmer; Roy Cutbirth, Baird automobile salesman.

Questioning of veniremen indicated the state will ask the death penalty for the defendant. Fifty-one men were excused by the court after having been challenged by attorneys. The majority of the number said they would not inflict the death penalty where the state relied for conviction upon circumstantial evidence.

When the case was called Wednesday morning, Kent's attorney, J. Lee Cearley, presented a motion for change of venue, contending his client could not get a fair trial in Callahan county at this time. The state resisted and taking of testimony on the motion had started when Cearley withdrew the application and announced ready for trial.

The defendant, 20 years of age, is accompanied in the courtroom by his father, Charles Kent, who lives on a farm adjoining the Ensor place.

Ensor, farmer and former deputy sheriff at Cross Plains, was shot and killed from ambush as he drove from town to his home. The state will present a circumstantial case against Kent, who has made no statement except to deny guilt of the killing. A 12-gauge shotgun, shells loaded with buckshot, a trench knife and testimony as to footprints will figure in the case.

Kent is represented by J. Lee Cearley, of Cisco. J. R. Black, 42nd district attorney, is being assisted in the prosecution by L. B. Lewis, Callahan county attorney.

Testimony in the case begun Thursday morning. A large number of witnesses have been summoned and the court room is crowded with spectators.

BAIRD COYOTES ORGANIZE

The Baird Coyotes met Wednesday night at the Fire Hall for the purpose of organizing the 1931 Base Ball team. C. D. Jones was elected manager and Joe McIntosh was elected captain.

The Coyotes held their first workout of the season Monday and there was a large crowd out to watch them. There was also a large number of ball players on hand.

Among the veterans of last year we have: R. Ray, H. Ray, Joe McIntosh, Young, Jessie McIntosh, Farmer, Ground, McQueen, E. Hall and Mitchell.

Jessie McIntosh and Walter Johnson will be the catchers of the 31 team, although McIntosh has not worked out with us he has been rounded into shape at home.

Raleigh Ray at first base needs no introduction. He is prancing around first base like a spring colt, catching everything that comes his way.

McQueen looks good at second, doing some neat fielding as well as batting.

Harold Ray, veteran of many battles, and star short-stop for the past five years, will be shifted to the outfield. He has been working-out in that department and showing some real fly shagging.

Farmer, who played second base last year will play short-stop this year and Bryan Bennett whom we all remember as a star pitcher of yesteryears will play second and pitch for the Coyotes.

Young as you all remember is the veteran third base man. Young is fastly rounding in shape and is showing mid season form both at bat and afield.

Joe McIntosh, center fielder, and captain of the 31 team is also showing some class in fly shagging as well as welding the willow.

Mitchell, probably the best hitter to be found around here will play left field.

E. Hall veteran of many years, will hold down his position in right field. The Coyotes will have plenty of pitching talent this year with Cross, Modisette, Strickland, Bennett and Ground on the staff.

The team is fastly rounding into shape having played two or three inter-squad games. The management is trying to match a game for Sunday April 19 with the West Texas Utilities of Abilene.

Let's all get behind the Coyotes and back them, show them the spirit and they will show you some real base ball. It takes backing to make a base

Ford Motor Show At Abilene

Ford Motor Company's Show—a four day demonstration of how it builds the model A, car, opened in Abilene, Wednesday for a four day showing.

The exhibition tent, 80x180 feet on the Texas & Pacific right-of-way opposite the head of Grape street, was pitched yesterday by six men from the factory, headed by M. L. Griffin, show manager. The exhibit, open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, will be free. How precision in the manufacture of the Ford car and truck is achieved in quantity production is illustrated by a sound motion picture and special exhibits.

The motion picture depicts the manufacture of the Ford from the production of raw materials until the car is driven off the assembly line to join its predecessors in the traffic of the world. Supplementing it, the special displays arranged about the tent reveal in detail the precision which has resulted from quantity production and which in turn has made quantity production possible.

Shaw Motor Company, of Baird, is among the dealers in this section who are participating with the Fulwiler Motor Co. of Abilene in putting off this show.

Uncle Bill Edwards Not A Recluse

81-year-old Callahan County Resident Sociably Inclined; Did Not Barricade Himself Against Visitors

Portions of a story of the death of W. M. (Bill) Edwards, published in the Reporter-News of last Sunday, were incorrect, the paper has been advised by relatives and friends of Mr. Edwards.

He was not a recluse who denied himself association with his neighbors, but on the other hand was sociably inclined and received many visitors at his home in the Eula community, according to his nephew Morris M. Edwards.

The news story also erred in stating that Mr. Edwards "made his house a barricade and never went to bed without a gun at his head, one by his side and others in racks on the wall."

He did possess some unusual guns—among them an old muzzle loading shot gun, which had been given him by an uncle—and these were included in the collection of curios and relics, gathered in Mexico, along the western coast and other sections in which Mr. Edwards had traveled. Among the collection of curios is a bed which Mr. Edwards made out of native cedar, 51 years ago. It is highly polished and very beautiful.

The guns were not used as protection against an imaginary enemy, for "Uncle Bill" had no enemies.

The body was found by Morris Edwards Saturday at noon, March 28, after he had been notified by members of the W. A. Warren family that "Uncle Bill had failed to call at their house Friday for milk, as was his custom. The Warrens live three-quarters of a mile away. Death had resulted from a heart attack.

Tribute to "Uncle Bill" Edwards was paid by a neighbor, J. W. McEachern, in a call on the Reporter-News.

"The account in your valuable paper of Uncle Bill's death contained inaccuracies which should be corrected said Mr. McEachern. "It seems the writer would have you believe that uncle Bill was shut out from neighbors and friends and that it was dangerous for anyone to approach his place of abode.

"I have lived as close neighbor to Mr. Edwards for nearly 30 years and I never lived by a better neighbor than he was. He was kind and obliging at all times and was not shut out from visitors. I don't suppose there ever was another man in Callahan county who had as many friends as Uncle Bill; for he had such a great collection of curious things, and made so many wonderful pieces of furniture, that people came from miles away to see him. He would always extend a friendly greeting, show visitors through his display, and when they were ready to go he would insist on their coming again. He had a fine intellect and a great memory.

"Uncle Bill was buried in Abilene, but the funeral was at Eula where a very large crowd assembled to pay their last respects. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dick Bright of Potosi, and the Hon. W. J. Cunningham made a talk in fulfillment of a request made of him several years ago by Mr. Edwards."—Abilene Reporter-News.

National Move To Increase Use Of Cotton

Chambers of Commerce Asked to Sponsor Local User's Clubs

Citizens of Texas were urged to join in the nation-wide movement to increase the uses of cotton, by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, today in a statement announcing chambers of Commerce would be asked to form the nucleus of the movement.

The Association for Increased Uses for Cotton was organized at a recent meeting in Atlanta, Ga., with Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture of Louisiana named president and McDonald vice-president. The plan is to organize local groups in each community, these to be welded into a state group, and the state groups to make up the national organization.

The aim is to encourage the use of cotton in every practical way, in an attempt to relieve the south of at least a part of an enormous surplus estimated to be 8,300,000 bales—enough to virtually supply the domestic demand if not to stalk were grown in 1931.

Entirely disregarding any new uses of cotton which may be developed to meet the pressing need for greater consumption, consumption may be increased by every individual demanding cotton goods, McDonald said.

He pointed out that materials made of cotton serve a large number of purposes admirably at a lesser cost than a comparable material made of other products grown in foreign countries. Co-eds at several southern colleges have taken up a movement initiated at the University of Texas, he declared and demonstrated the practicalness, the inexpensiveness and the smartness of cotton frocks. In the home, cotton materials may be made in to draperies, furniture coverings, sheetings, towelings, and in practically every case the cotton is the cheapest.

"This is a chance for every man, woman and child to demonstrate patriotism and at the same time save money," McDonald said. "This movement has no mercenary motive, unless a desire to see the cotton farmer prosper may be regarded as mercenary. As the cotton farmer prospers so will we all prosper; as he suffers adversity, so must we all suffer, in varying degree.

"It is to the interest of every person in the country to revive the spirit and pocketbooks of the cotton growing south. That we can do our small bit toward this end without depriving ourselves is a happy coincidence, due to the fact that cotton is the cheapest of all textiles.

You can help him get this break by specifying cotton for every conceivable practical use of the staple."

More than one-third of the people in the United States are without public library service.

West Texas High School Voice Contest

Plans have been completed for the third annual West Texas high school voice contest which is to be held at Simmons University, May 2, according to prof. W. J. Work, Simmons voice professor, who is in charge of the tournament.

A new feature has been added this year in a choral club contest. Clubs composed of girls' and boys' voices will sing two numbers chosen by their directors to determine the winner. A loving cup will be awarded the winning school and second and third place winners will receive banners.

A change in the awards for individuals this year provides a $150 scholarship for the best boy singer and the best girl singer. Heretofore only one full scholarship in voice was given.

Prof. Work has already received a number of applications from West Texas high schools and he expects 25 or more schools of this section to be represented.

The Montana fish eagle or osprey builds its nest on pinnacles beyond the reach of natural enemies, so that its young may be safe.

Plymouth Rock

The inscription upon Plymouth rock is the date, 1620. The rock split in 1774. On July 4, 1884, a part of it was removed to Pilgrim hall, Plymouth. The other half was covered with a granite canopy and surrounded by an iron fence. This part may still be seen in the harbor.

Run-Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year-old" at night, you must relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions.

Mrs. Fred Westin, of 387 E. 57th St. North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion, gas, pain, nausea, dizziness and headache. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest food, and gain strength and weight. No harmful drugs; only roots, herbs and herbs nature's own medicines. Less than 7 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

Flood of Letters Swamp Contest Judges

MORE than 1,600,000 letters were received by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company at Winston-Salem, N. C., in the contest for $25,000 cash prizes in connection with the new cellophane wrapping for Camel cigarette packages. The photograph shows one mountain containing more than 500,000 unopened letters as they were delivered to the judges. Several weeks will be required to read letters and select winners.

The right way to use the new HUMIDOR PACK

1 Do not tear Cellophane. Look for the convenient flap at the top and back of package

2 Simply lift this flap and you will break the specially devised air-tight seal

3 Hold package as shown and with your thumbs push it part way out of Humidor Pack

4 To avoid tearing tin foil, slip first finger of each hand under Revenue stamp and break it

5 Help yourself to a fresh cigarette, then slide package back into its Humidor Pack

6 Close package. It guards Camels from dust and germs and provides sanitary protection

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

The simplest way to insure this is to open the Camel Humidor Pack as shown above.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."

If you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack, switch over for just one day.

Then go back tomorrow if you can.

LET US WORK TO DEVELOP LOCAL OPPORTUNITIES

We do not have to look away from home for a sought-for opportunity. To be sure, opportunities exist in other places, but to no greater extent, in proportion to the number of people looking for them, than right here in our own community.

There are possibilities in Baird that are but awaiting development. There is opportunity in the community for those who are here, and there is opportunity for those who may come to us from the outside. We, as a community, ask others to come in with us in the development of what we know is a good community, a good place in which to live, a good place in which to do business.

It is not the individual, but the co-operative efforts, that make for the development of our community. Working together, we can and will attract to the community the people and the capital to help us in its development, and this development will make for opportunities for our home people and for those who join us. It will mean for us a community of more homes, of more business, of better schools, of better streets. A better community and a better market place for the people of the town and for our farmer neighbors.

Let us work together to that end.

GENTLENESS
Mrs. H. F. Foy

Let us think together for a few minutes about this wonderful, but much neglected virtue—gentleness.

David said of God:—"Thy gentleness has made me great." And David was great in heart and soul—so great that God said:—"David is a man after my own heart."

King Solomon gave us this wise proverb:—"He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him for a son at length." I think that Solomon meant that if a servant is brought up gently he shall later become a son. Gentleness is a Divine Command—Be gentle, showing all meekness to all men, says Paul.

I remember when I was a child that my mother called me and whispered a bit of good advice in my ears, and although much of her wise counsel has been forgotten, yet those whispered words are still remembered.

It has been truly said that:—"Advice is like snow, the softer it falls the deeper it sinks into the heart."

With Baird Baptist

We are not bragging on ourselves in these notes but really we are proud of the work done under the auspices of the Baird Baptist Church last Sunday.

Bro. Jno. P. Hardesty preached at the church at 11:00 o'clock and all report a good time, and in the afternoon he filled my appointment at Midway.

Bro. Royce Gilliland preached to an interested group at Deep Creek Sunday afternoon and at Rowden at night.

I was at Scranton at 11:00 o'clock Admiral in the afternoon and at Atwell at night in the budget revival. We had real good services at all three places. Bro. Ross Respess was with me all the way around, Bro. Darby at Admiral and Bro. Black at Atwell. There appears to be a fine interest everywhere we go in the budget and we are hoping that every church in the county may try the thing out and see for themselves that God's plan of finances is the only way to take care of it and all feel good while it is going on and be happy after it is over.

We are enjoying the meeting at the Methodist church and urge our folks to attend and help and be helped while it lasts.

Next Sunday I will be at home for the morning services, will teach my Sunday School class and preach then at 11:00 o'clock. Let me ask the brethren, that all of them be in the class and all of our people are urged to attend the preaching service. We will have no night service but will dismiss for the meeting. The B. Y. P. U.'s. will meet in their regular meetings. At 3:00 P. M. I will preach at the Union school house. I will be happy to have a large crowd at night. I will preach at Eula in the budget revival. Let me see all the Eula people out. We have a message for you.

Our church at Baird has set the fourth Sunday in May to begin our meeting and the pastor has been asked to do the preaching and local forces will have charge of the singing. We will pray, all of us, for the Lord's blessings.

Bro. Lovern preached Sunday morning after Sunday School.
Rev. Bro. Royce Gilliland of Baird preached a splendid sermon. We would enjoy having him here again.

Messrs J. M. and Adrian Harden, and Mrs. W. C. Harden left early Friday morning to spend the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Livingston, at Snyder, Texas. Miss Stella Roberts accompanied them to Snyder and Miss Roberts visited in the hospitable home of Rev. and Mrs. Cal C. Wright, formerly the pastor of the Baird Methodist Church South. Miss Roberts also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Livingston. They report an enjoyable trip and a nice time.

Well, how is the Star force? We are having real spring weather. Had a nice little rain which was a great help, but we need more rain for small grain.

Some have corn and maize planted and there will be lots of maize planted this week. We sure need to plant plenty of feed. All the money we can get hold of is going out of the county for feed. We all know cotton is the money crop but we must raise our own feed so we can use this cotton money to pay our debts.

We all should take our hats off to my good friend, B. L. Boydston, for getting in a car load of pedigreed cottonseed. I only wish that we all would plant one kind of cotton, then we would get more for our cotton.

All the fruit is killed, but there is plenty of time to plant tomatoes, potatoes and turnip greens. We have a good country and when we get rain we will come out all OK. I hope that before this letter is printed we will have a good rain. Spring gardens will soon be here and then we can give the dried beans a rest.

E. O. Battles made a business trip to Knox county, last week.

W. P. Miller and Mrs. Miller spent last Wednesday, with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kelton, at their beautiful ranch home at Belle Plaine.

W. T. Pool was in Eula Saturday. Bro. Pool is past 80 years of age and we are glad to say that he is well and happy.

W. B. Ferguson tells me his health is good this winter. We all realize that times are awfully hard but to be well is the greatest blessing in life.

I see where Mr. and Mrs. John Asbury have a strange pigeon to come to their home. John this pigeon is to remind you that we all know you never let anything go away from your home hungry.

Nicholas Longworth's Death Ends Long and Honorable Political Career—Senator Bingham's Taxation Idea—Cabinet Changes Unlikely.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

Nicholas Longworth

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH, speaker of the house of representatives, veteran Ohio congressman and son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, died of pneumonia at Alken, S. C., where he was spending a spring vacation.

Aiding the three physicians and staff of nurses who sought unavailingly to halt the malady was the speaker's wife, Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

Born to wealth and position on November 3, 1869, in Cincinnati, Ohio, his home ever since, Mr. Longworth, after attending Franklin school there, was graduated in 1891 from Harvard. He spent one year in Harvard law school, then transferred to the Cincinnati law school, graduating from that institution in 1894.

Although admitted to the bar, he did not practice to any extent. Instead, he became interested in civic affairs and soon was immersed in politics in the city over which "Boss" Cox then held sway. Despite his persistent inclination to remain "regular" in political controversies, he declined to take dictation from the Cox organization and never was closely identified with it.

A six year term as speaker culminated the service of Nicholas Longworth in the house of representatives during thirteen congresses.

But three speakers in the history of the house occupied longer the chair to which Mr. Longworth was elevated by his Republican colleagues after twenty years' apprenticeship as a "boy" representative from Ohio, distinguished service on the powerful ways and means committee and one term as majority floor leader.

He was the Republican candidate for speaker of the next house, in which that party now holds a majority of only one.

AN IMMIGRATION case which may develop into national importance with wide consequences has arisen through the application of Miss Ella Young, Irish author and authority on ancient Celtic mythology, for admission to the United States with the intention of becoming an American citizen.

Miss Young, who in recent years has lectured at Vassar, Smith and Mills colleges, made application for a visa in November, 1930, at Victoria, B. C.; where she is now living, but it was refused or held in abeyance on the ground that she had not demonstrated satisfactorily to the American consulate that she might not become a public charge, based upon the view that Miss Young, being sixty-six years of age, without independent means and a writer, might not always be self-supporting.

Notwithstanding appeals from prominent educators, financiers and lawyers the State department refused to take cognizance of the case. It simply stated, what it has said without exception since the immigration act of 1924 was amended in 1927, that the American consul who passes upon applications for visas is the court of first and last resort in such matters.

Miss Young was a resident of this country from October 15, 1925, until November 18, 1930. She arrived upon a visitor's permit which was repeatedly extended, upon suitable bond being posted, but left the country at Seattle on November 18, 1930, although her permit had been extended to July 1, 1931, and went to Victoria.

It was her intention to make her permanent home in California and write a book on Irish mythology. In addition, friends were arranging for a chair in Irish mythology to be established for her at some California university.

THE earl of Bessborough, Canada's new governor general, comes to the Dominion heralded as the wealthiest man ever to hold the office. He is also the first governor general to be chosen by the Canadian government. Under the new Dominion status he was appointed by the king on the advice of his Canadian ministers. The appointment was announced from Ottawa, not from London.

Earl of Bessborough

Early governors general of Canada were actual as well as official heads of government. They took a direct part in the administration of public affairs. One negotiated a treaty with the United States, another plunged directly into a political campaign, a third was attacked with eggs in Montreal when he signed what was known as the rebellion losses bill. Thirty years ago a governor general blocked a list of appointments being rushed through by a defeated government.

By degrees, however, governors general came to take a less active part in politics. Only once in recent years has a governor general acted against the advice of the premier. When W. L. M. King was defeated in the house of commons a year after a general election, Lord Byng declined to dissolve parliament and called on Arthur Meighen to form a government. When Meighen was defeated within a week an election had to follow. The constitutional issue—the right of a governor general to decline the advice of the premier to dissolve parliament—was one of the main features of the campaign and the return of Mr. King to office made it certain that never again would a governor general reject a premier's advice.

OFFICIAL denial that Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, would resign, and that President Hoover would shortly reorganize his cabinet, seemingly at rest recent widespread reports of disension in the President's official family, since the denial also extended to Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the interior, William D. Mitchell, attorney general, and Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury.

For the last year there have been rumors that Hyde was desirous of getting out of the cabinet, as the duties of secretary of agriculture have placed a severe strain on his health. There also have been reports he would become chairman of the Republican national committee, and that he planned to run for senator in Missouri next year. To his friends he has denied both reports.

Wilbur's leave of absence as president of Leland Stanford university expires this year, it is understood, but undoubtedly it will be extended. Mitchell has been reported to be considering a New York law partnership, and also has been mentioned as a possible appointee when the next Supreme court vacancy occurs.

Since Hoover entered the White House, Secretary Mellon has been reported to be preparing to resign and Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles selected as his successor. Mellon is the only holdover of the Coolidge cabinet.

PRACTICALLY every disaster affords a test of the heroic mold of its participants. It is heartening to reflect that the test usually is met. In no instance of tragedy in recent years has there been a better display of courage, presence of mind and intelligent action than in the Colorado school bus catastrophe, which meant the death of five children from exposure to the severe cold. All of the fifteen children who survived this terrible ordeal must have been possessed of unusual endurance; but the behavior of one alone, of thirteen-year-old Bryan United, was most heroic and admirable. It is worthy of all the attention it has attracted, including the invitation received by Bryan from President Hoover to visit the White House and the citation of his record to the Carnegie hero fund. But greater than any recognition that may come of the event is the reminder the example affords to humanity everywhere that, in spite of all its weakness and seeming helplessness at times, there is within it an element of the heroic.

THOSE who expected that Adolf Hitler would arise in offended might and defy the recent dictatorial decree of President Paul von Hindenburg were not fully acquainted with Hitler. The Fascists are enraged both at being suppressed and at being classed with the hated Communists as national nuisances that must be abated. There are many fiery young men among the Fascists; indeed, one is almost led to believe that the majority of them are fiery young men. A word of encouragement from their leader would doubtless be sufficient to send them on the warpath in defiance of the Presidential decree.

But Hitler gives no word of encouragement. Instead, he issues a strict and emphatic command for all Fascists to be good and to obey Hindenburg to the letter. He has announced from the start that his followers will keep strictly within the law, but that they will do all in their power to destroy or change the laws. And so now Hitler declares that he is preparing to go before the German courts with a strong argument that the Hindenburg decree is unconstitutional and ineffective.

When Fascism gets a hearing in court there would seem to be a fine chance for the safe broadcasting propaganda.

THE conviction of Albert B. Fa secretary of the interior in the Harding administration, on a charge of accepting a bribe in the oil lease scandals, has been upheld by the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.

At the same time the court sustained the conviction of Harry M. Blackmer, oil operator, for contempt of court in refusing to leave a self-imposed exile in France to testify in the oil trial. Unless the United States supreme court permits Mr. Fall to take an appeal to its bar, the mandate of the District court will be handed down within 15 days and the former cabinet officer will be taken into custody to serve a one-year prison sentence and pay a fine of $100,000. Mr. Blackmer's sentence is a fine of $50,000.

Told of details of the court's action in upholding the one-year imprisonment and $100,000 fine assessed against him for bribery in connection with the California naval oil leases, the former secretary of the interior said his final decision in the matter of another appeal would not be made until he had received a copy of the court's opinion from his lawyers in Washington.

Mr. Fall is now in seclusion at his ranch at Three Rivers, N. M., the same ranch on which he spent $100,000 cash received in a sachel from Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil man, almost ten years ago. Mr. Fall collapsed during his last trial and is supposed to be in feeble health.

Senator Bingham

SENATOR BINGHAM'S remedy for "governmental extravagance" is more taxation. He would re-visit nuisance taxes and slap on other levies so thick that the people who are now demanding always greater government expenditures, which they fondly think some one else is paying for, would realize that some of the money is coming out of their own pockets. Then, Senator Bingham thinks, they would call a halt and taxes could be reduced.

The senator admits he realizes his proposal will be "extremely unpopular," but he thinks that at the bottom of federal, state and municipal extravagance in this country is the feeling of a large element in the electorate that when it votes taxes it votes away some one else's money. As long as that feeling exists, there is no incentive, Senator Bingham believes, on the part of those who entertain it to curb their demand for tax-breeding services.

Leaders of congress look with little favor on Mr. Bingham's proposal. He is the first, in discussions of the approaching $700,000,000 deficit, to suggest tax demands be made on smaller incomes. Some legislators said they would favor increasing the levies on bigger incomes, while leaders of both parties and in both houses have insisted greater taxes will not be necessary.

President Hoover believes an increase will not be necessary if congress restricts appropriations. Republican Leader Tilson of the house thinks an increase is not now needed and should not become mandatory.

Members of both major parties have promised to co-operate to keep down expenditures at the next session, thus eliminating a need for more money through increased taxation.

REAR ADMIRAL

Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart

Thomas C. Hart has been appointed superintendent of the Naval academy, succeeding Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, retired. Admiral Robinson has had a career of 43 years in the navy. His official retirement starts June 1, but in the meanwhile he has planned to take a vacation at his recently purchased home on the South river near Annapolis.

The regiment of midshipmen gave the retiring superintendent a round of cheers in front of his home. Regret at his passing was expressed by Maurice Hilschmann, regimental commander, and a delegation representing the Annapolis city administration and various civic organizations presented a resolution praising him for coming to the relief of the city during the severe drought of last summer.

PRIME MINISTER LANG, of New South Wales, in Australia, is extremely anti-English and he could scarcely have chosen a more pointed way to indicate his antipathy than by scoring the solid English virtue about paying one's bills. There was general consternation in London when recently he repudiated the payment due to be made in that city at once of interest charges amounting to $3,645,000. London's consternation has been changed to something like exultation by the announcement of Prime Minister Scullin, of the Commonwealth government, that his government would take over the New South Wales obligation and bring suit against the state to recover.

Mr. Lang is seemingly taking a lesson from the book of some southern American states which, many years ago were guilty of a number of repudiations.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?
(by Edson R. Waite)

W. P. Williams, publisher of the Paris (Tennessee) Post-Intelligencer, says: "Newspaper advertising has undergone an 'acid test' during the past sixteen months of depression. It has proven its economic value as never before.

"When merchants were faced with the necessity of keeping up volume, reducing expenses or going out of business early in 1930, newspaper advertising offered them practically their only hope.

"Certain items of expense classified as 'overhead' could not be reduced and they found it imperative to keep up volume. This was difficult in the face of unemployment, slackened demand and less money in circulation.

"Comparatively few had courage to increase advertising appropriations but those who did have weathered the storm and are 'sitting pretty' as 1931 begins with its promise of returning prosperity. Naturally business has been scarce, but satisfactory volume has been kept up by coaxing business away from non-advertisers.

"If there was ever a time for large concerns, Chambers of Commerce, civic clubs and similar organizations to go strong on so-called institutional or booster advertising, that time is NOW.

"Will Rogers has demonstrated by his tour through the drought stricken sections of Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas what can be accomplished by spreading cheer. Business needs cheerful advertising and it will produce wonderful results for those who employ it.

"THIS IS A TIME THAT DEMANDS THE VERY BEST THOUGHT AND EFFORT IN ADVERTISING AND THE NEWSPAPERS ARE CAPABLE OF DELIVERING THE MESSAGE WHERE IT IS NEEDED—IN THE HAMES OF PEOPLE WITH THE GREATEST BUYING POWER ON EARTH."

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

Merchants who have found that advertising pays, have also found that they must advertise regularly in order to make their advertising pay. Spasmodic advertising which creates a stir for the moment is soon forgotten.

Feldon Reed Gives Interesting Account Of His Travels

Feldon Reed, son of J. R. Reed, of Baird, who is a senior in Simmons University, has recently returned from an extended trip and gives an interesting account of his trip which will be of interest to his friends here at home.

Having been asked to summarize the debate tour completed last Friday we submit the following:

In the first place the trip was the realization of a four-year-old dream of J. A. Lovell, who had charge of all plans for the trip and incidentally who owned the car the trip was made in. It was a '30 model Ford Sedan and during the approximately 8,000 miles no engine trouble whatever was had. The party encountered all kinds of weather and all kinds of roads. (Mr. Shaw should thank me for this).

Mr. Lovell is pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in Abilene and as soon as he had finished his duties Sunday night March 8 the group including J. A. Lovell, John Regan, Calvin Whitley, Cleron McMurry, Fred Ball, and Feldon Reed began the trip which was to take them to three nations, eighteen states and one island.

The first debate being scheduled at Tucson Arizona on Monday night following, it was necessary to drive all night the first night. We arrived in El Paso about eight o'clock the next day and after spending two or three hours in El Paso and Jaurez the trip was continued toward Tucson. Reaching Tucson about six o'clock the party was met by some friends from Simmons and after taking dinner met the University of Tucson Debaters in the inaugural debate.

A days drive started at eight the following morning brought us to Long Beach where we halted for two days of sight seeing. From Long Beach members of the party made trips to Catalina Island, Los Angeles, and the surrounding country. The first day was spent in a delightful trip to Catalina Island located twenty five miles out in the Pacific from Los Angeles. This Island is now the property of Wm. Wrigley Jr., the chewing gum man, who makes it his summer home. It is twenty-two miles in length and varies in width up to seven miles. The home of Zane Grey is also located on the island. Among the other attractions on the island is one of the largest collections of birds in the world. In it are birds of every description from all parts of the globe. Costly hotels and one of the finest of dancing pavilions make the island a haven for the tourist seeking relief from the summer heat on the continent.

Before debating Occidental College Thursday afternoon, in Los Angeles the party drove through several towns around Los Angeles, visiting places of interest. Among these was the Grand Central Airport in Burbank, the home of the giant Fokkers which ply daily between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Some of these carry as many as thirty-two passengers. This visit to the air port, one of the largest in the world, was featured by a twenty-five minutes ride over Los Angeles the ocean and mountains.

Immediately after the debate with Occidental College we were guests of Mrs. Frank Ash, sister of Mr. Lovell, who served a chicken dinner, which incidentally was the last such meal on the trip. After a short visit we started for Reno, to debate the University of Nevada in the third debate of the trip. This part of the trip took us through Sacramento, the Capitol of California, which is beyond doubt the most beautiful city seen on the trip. Shortly out of that city we began to climb mountains where, a few days before, there had been a snow storm. The roads had just been cleared and on either side were snow banks from six to twelve feet deep, for a hundred miles. We reached Reno early in the afternoon and Friday evening we were the guests of the University at a boxing tournament between the University of Nevada and California Aggies. The program included thirty rounds of boxing, the last bout being refereed by Jack Dempsey.

At ten o'clock on Friday we met their debate team and John Regan gave a rope throwing and whip cracking exhibition which brought exclamations of praise from the crowd. This was the last debate for eleven days as we felt more at ease. At noon we left "The City of Divorces" with Vancouver, British Columbia uppermost in our minds. From the arid, barren Nevada we again entered the country of forests, rivers, and lakes in northern California. After a day and a half driving through the forests on perfectly paved highways we reached Portland in time to attend the evening service Sunday. On this portion of the trip we passed near Mt. Shasta and Lassen Peak, the last named being the only active volcano in the United States. Its last eruption was on December 30, 1930, when it belched forth smoke and steam all one afternoon.

On Monday we passed through Seattle, the largest freshwater harbor in the world. Here we saw the lumbering industry as we had only read of it, from the log floating on the river to the finished product. The docks were virtually lined with stacks of it. Along with this were power plant, planing mills, cloth factories, flour mills, and factories of all kinds. Ships from foreign ports were docked, loading shipments to the home ports.

Then on to Vancouver. Probably the things that interested us most in Canada were just to say that we had been there and that the country did not have any prohibition—not that we wanted to get drunk or even drink but to see how the situation was handled. For the information of those who know nothing of the Canadian liquor control system we will add a few words. Canada does have a system of regulation. It is true that all intoxicating liquors except beer are disposed by the government, but Canada has her bootleggers just as the United States has. The government dispensaries close after twelve o'clock at night and on Sundays and it is at these times that the bootleggers make their appearance. According to information received there, one can phone up a bootlegger and have any amount delivered to his door. In order to buy from the government dispensaries a permit must be bought which costs two dollars and every purchase must be recorded on this permit. The deliveries are made somewhat on the cafeteria style. At one window the customer presents his permit, at the next he makes his order and charges are made, at a third he pays for the order and from here he goes to a counter where he gets the articles called for. As a guard against bootlegging between countries all baggage of tourists is thoroughly examined at the border, there being a customs house on either side.

It was originally planned to go from Vancouver to Winnipeg by way of Canadian highways but they were not passable so it was necessary to re-enter the United States and cross to Milwaukee by way of the Lincoln highway. This route took us through Pendleton Oregon, world famous for its rodeos and also the home of Hemley Saddle Manufacturers with an international reputation for their products. While passing through Idaho we saw where the Idaho apples we had heard so much about, came from. We decided we wanted some, so a collection netted fifty cents for which we expected to buy a few to eat. One of the boys took the change and went to a farm house to make the purchase. In a few minutes he came back wagging a bushel box of the finest apples imaginable. They lasted until we reached Milwaukee. California is about as careless with her fruit however. Out there they are selling ten dozen oranges for twenty-five cents.

A high spot on the trip was a visit to the Mormon holding in Salt Lake City. There are several buildings on their lands but the most remarkable of these is the Tabernacle. It is built in the form of a massive arch, somewhat like half an egg with the open side down. The structure is 150 feet wide and 200 feet long and does not have a single support on the inside. There is not a nail in the entire building, wooden pegs being used instead. The reason for this was that nails were apt to rust out and further that the wooden pegs would expand and contract at the same rate that the wood from which the Tabernacle was built. The roof of the structure is ten feet thick. This was necessary in order to avoid inside supports. It was built on the ground in sections ten feet thick, ten feet long and ten feet wide and then raised into place. A speaker's voice carries perfectly in the massive auditorium. A man's breathing can be heard plainly, even a pin dropped.

This Tabernacle houses one of the largest organs in the world and each day at twelve a recital is given for an hour. In this organ are some eight thousand pipes ranging from three-eighths of an inch in diameter to thirty-two feet in length. The native wood from which the instrument was made was hauled on wagons for three hundred miles out of southern Utah. This was many years ago.

On resuming the trip snow was again encountered between Laramie and Cheyenne, Wyoming. The roads were slick enough that the party was barely able to make the grade which rose some eight thousand feet in twenty miles. After spending the night in Cheyenne we spent an uneventful two days drive to Milwaukee where we met the Marquette University debaters before an audience of girls in a Catholic Convent. The girls were taken by the humor of Lovell and Whitley but when Regan began his performance they simply held their breath. It seems as though they had never seen anything like it before. Leaving Milwaukee at noon we headed for Tulsa Oklahoma, the scene of the next debate.

Our opinion of Chicago was greatly changed when we visited it on the way down. Of course we didn't expect to get shot but as you all know, Chicago has a reputation. My picture of Tulsa was also changed. Having once been the oil capital of the world we expected to find it a dirty, smokey, oil town, but instead we found one of the most beautiful and up to date cities found on the trip.

We met and defeated the University of Tulsa men on Thursday night and immediately following the debate which lasted until about ten o'clock we began the last leg of the trip. We arrived in Fort Worth the next morning, took a late breakfast, and proceeded toward Abilene, arriving here in time for lunch, Friday.

After spending the night in Cheyenne we spent an uneventful two days drive to Milwaukee where we met the Marquette University debaters before an audience of girls in a Catholic Convent. The girls were taken by the humor of Lovell and Whitley but when Regan began his performance they simply held their breath. It seems as though they had never seen anything like it before. Leaving Milwaukee at noon we headed for Tulsa Oklahoma, the scene of the next debate.

Our opinion of Chicago was greatly changed when we visited it on the way down. Of course we didn't expect to get shot but as you all know, Chicago has a reputation.

My picture of Tulsa was also changed. Having once been the oil capital of the world we expected to find it a dirty, smokey, oil town, but instead we found one of the most beautiful and up to date cities found on the trip.

We met and defeated the University of Tulsa men on Thursday night and immediately following the debate which lasted until about ten o'clock we began the last leg of the trip. We arrived in Fort Worth the next morning, took a late breakfast, and proceeded toward Abilene, arriving here in time for lunch, Friday.

From 20 to 25 per cent moisture contents in wood causes decay. Unless paint excludes the moisture, wood will decay more rapidly painted than unpainted.

BLEEDING SORE GUMS

If you really want quick, certain and lasting relief, from this most disgusting disease, just get a bottle of Leto's Pyorrhoea Remedy and use as directed. Leto's is always guaranteed.—Wheeler's.

Rapid pictures have shown that a golf ball is actually in contact with the club when hit while the club moves forward about seven-tenths of an inch. This, of course, is only for a very small fraction of a second.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

THE SCARLET CORD HANGS FROM THE WALL OF JERICO

A Newsboy shouts "paper!" A grocer puts out a price-tag on a barrel of potatoes. A ticket broker advises you that he sells "the best seats for the ball game." ... These are all forms of advertising.

Along the highways the motorist reads as he goes, "Fresh Eggs," or "Dahlias and Gladioli," or "Newly picked Raspberries." ... These are all for m sof advertising

Few Englishmen of the Middle Ages could read, but each one knew a goat fro ma bull, and all could therefore pick their favorite hostelry by the sign it displayed. By the costumes of the attendant priests a Roman could tell whether he was entering the temple of Adonis or Pallas Athene. Some hundreds of years before that a man named Joshua, the leader of a tribe of Jews, knew where to storm the city of Jericho because a scarlet cord hung from a window in the wall ... These are all forms of advertising.

In each of these cases a sign of some sort told people what they wanted to know, where they could buy something, where they could get some special sort of information, where they could avail themselves of some special type of service.

The advertising in this newspaper tells you exactly these same things. But advertising is also a business force. It has been organized. Its results have been tested. Its value is known.

To the consumer it means shopping news. To the consumer it offers information of pleasant, agreeable ways to live. To both consumer anr merchant alike it is a civilizer, because it spreads information.

Advertising is as much a part of your life as your telephone, your food, your business or your family ... Indeed, most of these things are possible, partly because of advertising!

The scarlet cord still hangs from the wall of Jericho.
