

Review changes proposed

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has introduced a bill to revise the Medicare peer review program's system of physician sanctioning.

The bill is of particular interest to Haskell residents since two local physicians have been recommended for sanctioning.

The Stenholm bill is one of five pieces of legislation introduced last week to deal specifically with the health care problems facing rural areas. All the bills, which were announced simultaneously at a press conference in Washington, were sponsored by the Rural Health Care Coalition, a bi-partisan group formed this Congress to address rural health issues.

Stenholm's legislation is entitled "PRO Due Process and Equity Amendments." It would require that physicians and providers have the opportunity to appeal a sanction before it goes into effect, except where there is imminent danger to patients.

"The current PRO guidelines do not allow physicians the rights afforded other citizens in our country," Stenholm said. "Currently, the doctors are sanctioned immediately without a chance to adequately defend themselves or present witnesses. This implies a 'guilty until proven innocent' attitude. Our bill insures due process to those threatened with sanctions."

The Stamford Democrat said, "I want to emphasize that I will not defend bad practices or bad medicine in Texas or anywhere else in the country. In fact, this bill would be more stringent than current law on those physicians who clearly are presenting a severe and immediate danger to their patients. However, for the vast majority of doctors who are practicing good medicine and deserve better, our bill provides the avenue for a just and fair evaluation system."

Along with the right to appeal before being sanctioned, the Stenholm legislation requires the Inspector General to act on PRO proposed sanctions within five calendar days when the PRO indicates severe and imminent danger; the notification of state licensure boards of severe and immediate findings; that physicians and providers sanctioned without due process because of a finding of severe and imminent danger receive a hearing within 30 days of the imposition of the sanction; and 50 percent on-site review of rural hospitals. Other changes in procedures are also outlined in the bill.

The four accompanying bills included in the Rural Health Care Preservation Act establishing a Deputy Under Secretary for Rural Health Care to coordinate activities relating to rural health care; the Medicare Rural Hospital Amendments requiring improved data collection and a report on alternatives for more accurate, equitable wage indices; the Rural Nursing Care Access Amendment extending the swing bed program to hospitals with up to 150 beds; and a concurrent resolution expressing concern over the serious financial problems facing small town hospitals.

The Indians warmed up for the regional event with an outstanding performance in a regional qualifiers' meet in Breckenridge last Saturday.

Young turned in a glittering 1:55.49 in the 800-meter run for his best time of the year as he took first place.

Shaw, in the 100, and Brockington in the 200, also had first-place finishes and their best times of the season at 10.7 and 21.4.

It was the same story with the mile relay team which clicked five seconds off its previous best time with a time of 3:21.17 and another first place.

The 400-meter relay team also took first place at Breckenridge, although its time of 43:09 was not its season best.

Selma Follstaedt retires after 21 yrs.

Today will be the last day of work for Selma Follstaedt, who officially retires at noon after 21 years with the Texas Department of Public Services.

She started to work June 1, 1966, for what then was known as the State Department of Public Welfare. She did clerical work for two workers, Perry Spenny and Robert Speer. Since then the agency name has been changed three times and the office has been in three different locations.

Mrs. Follstaedt states that programs and policies also have changed over the past 21 years and at times "it hardly seems the same agency." New programs and services have been added, the latest being the medical programs.

In the old days, she says, there were fewer forms and less paper work, but only a few community resources. Now, she explains, there are more resources in the community and other agencies to which clients can be referred for further help.

Applications for assistance have increased greatly, Mrs. Follstaedt said. "The fall months of 1986 showed the largest increase when 50 applications were received one month, as compared to 10 or 15 per month during the late 1960s."

Office facilities and equipment have been updated through the years. Mrs. Follstaedt said she took notes in shorthand for case work and letters. Letters and memos were typed with as many as four and five carbon copies. Nowadays, copy machines are part of the equipment. The incoming assistance worker, Ann Petty, does case work on a computer.

Probably the most striking difference, Mrs. Follstaedt says, is in the use of the telephone. Personnel use the telephone to expedite work every day. "Twenty years ago, if you made a long distance call, you wrote a memo to your supervisor explaining why you made the call, and the reason had to be a good one."

Mrs. Follstaedt is a native of this area and a graduate of Haskell High School. Her husband, Martin, is a retired mechanic.

They have a daughter, Janet Follstaedt, who lives in Dallas where she is employed by M Corp.

A son, David Follstaedt, lives in Albuquerque, N.M., where he is employed at Sandia Laboratories. He and his wife have two children, Andrew, 8, and Susan, 6.

Haskell students included were Janie Rinette Nauert and Gena Denise Whitaker.

They were selected by campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Their names will be included in the 1986-87 directory along with others selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Hobby Club

The Rochester Hobby Club had two very enjoyable and profitable meetings in April.

The first meeting was April 7 with Blanch Corley as hostess for 16 members and 11 guests.

The second one was on April 21 with Helen Cox as hostess for 14 members and 11 visitors.

Happy Birthday was sung to Eron McGuire.

The "Dinner Plate" (Improved 9 Patch) quilt was completed and is to be given to Jo Hearn and Scott Brown as a wedding gift. A "Lightning" patterned quilt, to be quilted by the colors, is making a beautiful quilt, was put in its place in the frames.

Oleta Fitzgerald put the miniature "Bow-Tie" blocks together, making a king-size top for the club. This quilt will be for sale by the club.

The club was saddened by the death of another lovely, gracious lady, Mary Ada Bowman.

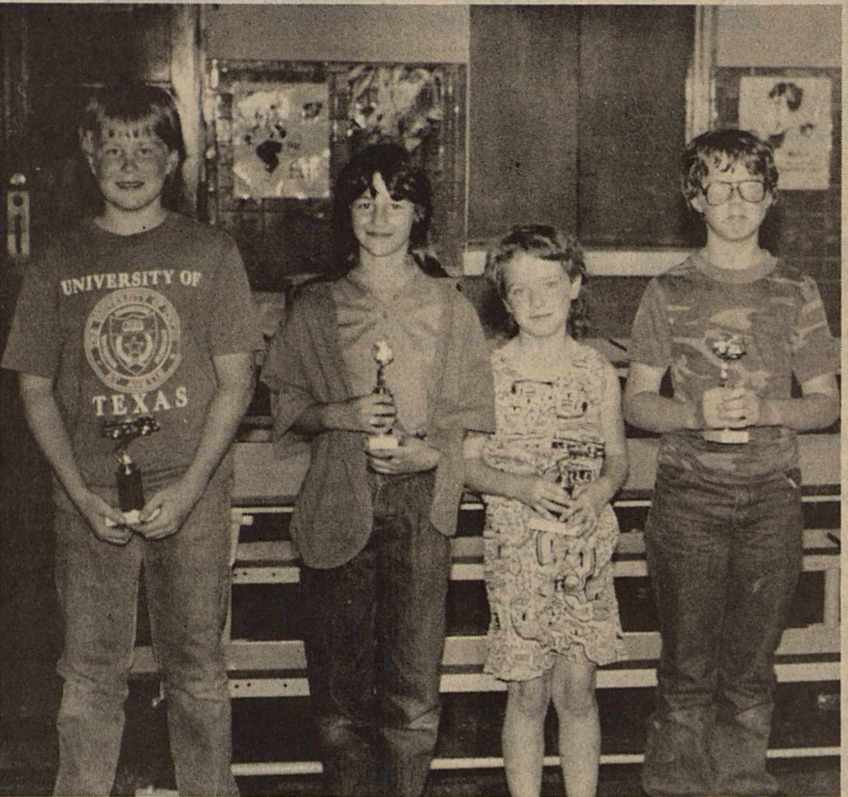

Ethel Dabney is to be hostess for the next meeting May 5.

Haskell County Child Welfare

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board met in regular session in the Jury Room April 21.

Chairman Brian Burgess called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Seven members and Linda Haynes, child protective services specialist II, were present. Sue Miller, treasurer, reported two expenses, a physical which included blood tests, and clothing for a baby.

Merry Harvey and Mary Martin, who were responsible for getting churches in Haskell County to publish a bulletin to make our communities aware of child abuse and neglect prevention during the month of April, reported that the response had been very favorable.

A letter of resignation was received from Linda Short of Rochester, who has served since the board began in 1984.

Shirley Sloan of Rochester has accepted an invitation to be a new member but was unable to attend the April meeting. It is the desire of the board to increase the membership. A list of prospects was made for members to contact.

Chairman Burgess read a letter from the Texas Coalition for Prevention of Child Abuse. Together the members answered 10 questions on a prevention needs assessment sheet which has to do with the establishing of a community coalition. The headquarters of the organization is Austin.

New officers for 1987-88 are Brian Burgess, chairman; Pam Aycock, vice chairman; Mary Martin, secretary; and Sue Miller, treasurer.

Next meeting will be May 19.

After the bountiful meal at noon, the children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt, and they were entertained by Randy McLelland, youth minister of the First Baptist Church. Steve McGuire gave prayer before the meal.

Danny Josselet, president of this year's reunion, served as auctioneer for an auction sale of homemade articles of the group.

Tax hike still top state issue

AUSTIN--Gov. Bill Clements spent last week stumping 17 Texas cities with his anti-tax message, while pro-tax Democratic senators sent their "truth squad" following on his heels.

Clements and some 100 Democratic lawmakers, led by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, are now locked on a collision course over whether state government can continue adequate services without a $3 billion tax hike.

The Democrats sent a group each day after adjournment to the cities where Clements is urging voters to write to the legislators. They either used Hobby's private plane, or will be reimbursed by the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee.

The House, for now, is siding with Hobby over Clements, but the support doesn't come cheap.

House members are shaping a budget somewhat in the middle of Clements' low and Hobby's high, but they also passed a ban on all state income taxes unless the voters approve.

Income Tax Ban

Clements favors the ban; Hobby does not.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Obviously, one bill is a condition for the other, as far as the House leadership is concerned, but Hobby isn't buying. He said the Senate won't pass the ban on income taxes because it's bad policy.

Political Risk

Hobby's resistance is not without political risk, for if he denies the ban, he may lose House support for his higher budget.

And since Hobby has already expressed his possible candidacy for governor in 1990, he will surely find himself branded by conservatives as the man who paved the way for income taxes.

In 1990, the burning issue will probably be the introduction of state income taxes to Texas, and that's why some conservatives risk jockeying now to leverage Hobby into a no-win position.

Hobby can take care of himself in the Legislature; he may wind up teaching school to lots of folks. No one doubts that with Hobby, it's principle over preservation.

Clements' Credibility

For Clements, his no new taxes roadshow will be a test on whether "Ponygate", the SMU football scandal, has hurt his credibility.

He's saying that his budget plan won't hurt education and social services, while some Democratic senators say he's wrong.

In fact, they accuse each other of distorting the facts, among other things, and it'll boil down to a swearing match with the confused public as judge. They'll go with whom they believe.

Clements swept into office on "no new taxes", and he feels he's got a mandate, Ponygate or no. The Senate will find out if the mandate has stuck by him.

Other Highlights

•The House isn't rushing to pass Texaco's proposal to post less bond in its legal squabble with Pennzoil, but in committee, witnesses said the company's fate affects jobs, state retirement and education funds. House members are reluctant to be stampeded in the closing weeks of the session.

•The Senate Economic Committee sent to the floor a package of tort law reforms aimed at reducing the high dollar awards given in personal injury cases. The hammering is not over, as the sponsor expects more concessions to opponents.

•The full Senate last week passed five bills limiting the powers of grand juries, all compromises between prosecutors and defense lawyers.

•The House approved a spousal rape bill, making the act a crime, and included a felony penalty for any AIDS carrier who knows he or she has the disease but continues to have sex with spouse or person without informing them.

Sponsor Debra Danburg wanted to protect wives against rape, and didn't like the amendment tacked on by Hallsville Rep. Jim McWilliams, saying it will kill her bill.

Danburg's Houston district includes the Montrose area, which has a high homosexual population.

•Attorney General Jim Mattox is using Southwestern Bell Telephone's billing mail to advise consumers on protection against fraudulent telephone marketing schemes.

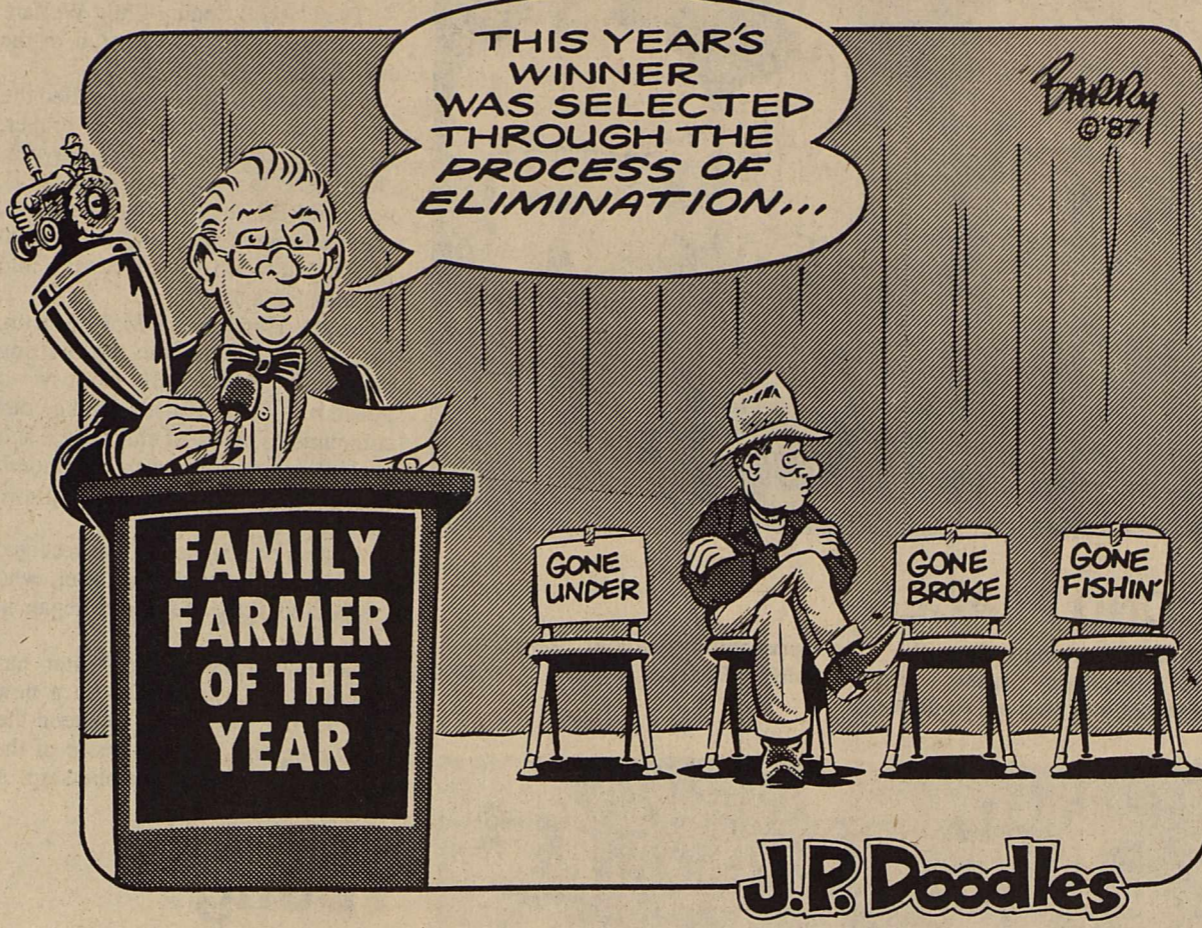

•Prominent Texas Republican Anne Armstrong, former Ambassador to Great Britain, was selected by President Reagan to receive the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

—Letters to the Editor—

Tort Reform

Editor: I am writing this letter to enlighten the people of the Rolling Plains area on the current "Tort Reform" problem. Recently, I saw a commercial on TV which depicted a small child sitting in the middle of a dark street while a drinking trucker speeded toward her. The message was essentially "don't let anyone take away your right to sue."

I feel that this type of advertisement is an insult to the majority of Americans. Are all truckers drunks? This advertisement attempts to evoke an emotional response to a very complex issue, one which will affect the availability of medical care to large segments of the population and particularly to the rural areas.

Recently I have had a 300-percent increase in the annual cost of my malpractice insurance, from approximately $3,000 to just over $10,000, primarily due to the practice of obstetrics. This is a statewide problem and rural physicians who deliver babies will have to decide between a huge increase in obstetrical charges, or discontinuing obstetrics. Neither is a choice which we want to make.

The lawyers would have us believe the problem is a greedy insurance industry and incompetent doctors. The insurance industry blames unscrupulous lawyers, a "sue-happy" society and incompetent doctors. Doctors seem to find fault with all the others but not themselves. The truth is undoubtedly that all must share a portion of the blame of this skyrocketing expense.

To affix blame, however, does not address the problem. Unless some type of Tort Reform is passed in Texas, large portions of rural Texas will be without obstetrical service and possibly without any type of medical service.

If obstetrical care is not of personal importance, consider who really shoulders the cost of medical liability insurance. The federal and state governments, along with private health care insurance companies, are the major payers of medical care services. The answer to "who pays" is "you do", either as a taxpayer, an insured, or out of your pocket.

If you have an opinion on this matter, it is important that you express it to your State Representative who will consider Tort Reform this summer. Those of us in rural medicine sincerely need our patients' help on this issue. Between the medical liability crisis and Medicare's peer review process, those of us in rural medicine are in a "vice", which is attempting to "squeeze" us out of rural areas.

Reasonable man

Mississippi is the last citadel of prohibition in the nation. A candidate for public office there, well known for his capacity for liquor, was put on the spot by his hometown newspaper which demanded that he make public his stand on the whiskey question. He met this problem well when he submitted the following letter:

"Dear Editor:
I had not intended to discuss this controversial subject at this particular time. However, I want you to know that I do not shun a controversy. On the contrary, I will take a stand on any issue, at any time, regardless of

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Dear Jerry Falwell:
Obviously, you don't read this column. If you did, I'm sure you would remove The Free Press from your mailing list.

That would be a big loss. I enjoy your letters. They're filled with information.

Your latest, for instance, contains this gem:

"The cause of Christ is bigger than Jim Bakker, Billy Graham, Jimmy Swaggart or Jerry Falwell."

How modest of you to say so. If you had not been so straight-forward, I'm sure half your flock would really believe that you are bigger than the cause of Christ (what ever that means).

"I cannot condone wrong-doing," you say in another paragraph. Now, as Howard would say, "that's telling it like it is." No wonder those checks keep coming.

But the best and most humorous part of your letter has nothing to do with either of these two statements. It's your approach for contributions, quite different from your usual electronic collection plate method.

You're concerned that Liberty University, the Old Time Gospel Hour and your other ministries at your home base will suffer as a result of your involvement with PTL. You write: "I am very fearful that my efforts to save the ministry in Charlotte may take its (sic) toll on the ministry in Lynchburg."

Well, at least you didn't say you needed $8 million, or any other exact amount. In fact, you indicated that you may not even need any money: "I do not know if we will sustain a financial setback during the next few weeks. My advisors tell me that it is very possible."

But you cover all the bases: "I need your vote of confidence, prayers and a special gift of $25."

And thoughtfully, you enclose a printed card on which I can indicate yes or no on four important issues: (1) you have my confidence, (2) I will pray for you, (3) I am sending my contribution, and (4) you may send me two free bronze Jesus First label pins to wear as a testimony for the cause of Christ.

Until I let my granddaughter talk me in to buying her some jacks the other day, I had forgotten what it felt like to step on one of them---barefooted.

how fraught with controversy it may be. You have asked me how I feel about whiskey. Well Brother, here's how I stand:

If when you say whiskey you mean the Devil's Brew, the Poison Scourge, the Bloody Monster that defies innocence, dethrones reason, creates misery and poverty, yea, literally takes the bread out of the mouths of babes; if you mean that evil drink that topples the Christian man and woman from pinnacles of righteous, gracious living into the bottomless pit of despair, degradation, shame, helplessness and hopelessness, then certainly I am against it with all my heart and all the power of my command.

But, Brother, if when you say whiskey you mean the oil of conversation, the philosophic wine and ale that is consumed when good fellows get together, that puts a song in their hearts and laughter on their lips, and the warm, glow of contentment in their eyes; if you mean Christmas cheer, if you mean that stimulating drink that puts spring in an old man's step on a frosty morning, if you mean the drink that enables man to magnify his joy and happiness and helps him forget, if only for a moment, life's great tragedies and sorrows; if you mean that drink, the sale of which pours into the Treasury untold millions of dollars which are used to provide tender care for our little crippled children, our blind, our deaf, our dumb, and our pitifully aged and infirmed, and to build highways, hospitals and schools; then, Brother, I am all for it.

This is my stand, Mr. Editor. I will not retract from it. I will not compromise. This is my stand."

4-H helps prepare tomorrow's leaders

Today's youths are tomorrow's leaders, and 4-H helps prepare today's youths for tomorrow.

Leadership is involved in all parts of 4-H, says Lou Gilly and Max Stapleton, county extension agents.

Youths need an opportunity to learn how to do things successfully; they want to develop skills necessary to get along with others. Leadership jobs offer opportunities for growth and development. Young people need responsibilities according to their ages.

Four-H helps youths develop into capable adults by learning to plan, set goals, make decisions and evaluate all walks of life. Each 4-H member should develop his or her capabilities to the fullest.

Four-H helps youths improve skills, increase their knowledge, learn to express themselves well, develop confidence, and earn recognition. Four-H teaches an individual to think for himself when making decisions. It also teaches one to organize thoughts and be tolerant of other's decisions. Four-H'ers learn to apply what they have learned to everyday living.

Four-H provides members with learning opportunities and experiences. It provides members the opportunity to compare skills they have gained with those of other members. It provides members with an opportunity to develop and practice citizenship and leadership skills, and it recognizes the accomplishments of 4-H members.

The aim of 4-H is to help youth gain a positive self-concept, rational social behavior, knowledge and problem-solving capabilities. Members develop leadership abilities, learn cooperation, improve their citizenship and have fun participating in local, county, regional, state and national events.

Education through 4-H occurs when youths are involved--the greater the involvement, the greater the educational opportunity.

(Contact your county extension office for more information on the 4-H program.)

Leaf rust poses threat to wheat

Leaf rust again appears poised to deal a severe blow to the Texas wheat crop, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is staying abreast of the situation to help producers with their decision-making. The fungus disease severely reduced wheat yields last spring, and many fields are already infected this year. The Extension Service has monitoring devices over the state to check the disease's progress. Fungicides are available to control leaf rust, but their use is costly. Control is recommended only when a farmer has a high yield potential--at least 40 bushels per acre. To be effective, a fungicide must be applied when the flag leaf is emerging, says a plant pathologist with the Extension Service.

Patricia Henry
...Double Mountain Sweetheart

District Sweetheart selected

By Julie Roewe

Patricia Henry of the Haskell FFA Chapter has been elected as the Double Mountain District Sweetheart.

She will advance to the Area II convention in San Angelo May 15-16 to compete in the area Sweetheart contest. While at the convention, Miss Henry will also be applying for the Houston Livestock scholarship.

As district Sweetheart, Patricia is required to construct a booth displaying her many interests, achievements and awards. She has been keeping a scrapbook for her chapter this year.

Patricia has been actively involved in FFA for four years. She has participated on area- and state-qualifying land judging, dairy products and senior chapter conducting teams. Last year she received her Lone Star Farmer degree. For four years she has raised show swine and stocker calves.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Henry.

Raw fish not recommended

It's hard to go wrong with highprotein, low-calorie fish — unless you eat it raw. "The growing popularity of undercooked fish or raw fish dishes such as sushi, sashimi, ceviche and others has resulted in an increase in cases of disease attributable to fish parasites," says food safety expert Marilyn Haggard.

"Properly canned or frozen fish pose no danger of infection," notes the Texas A&M specialist. Cooking fresh fish until all parts of the fish have reached a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit will also kill parasites, she adds.

Area schools plan parents' meetings

Area schools will be conducting Parent Advisory Committee meetings next week for all of their special programs.

All parents of students in special programs, as well as elected members of the committees, are invited to attend. The agendas will include evaluation of each program and elections of members to serve for the 1987-88 school year.

Meetings have been set at these schools:

Weinert: Thursday, April 30, 2:30 p.m. in school cafeteria.

Goree: Tuesday, May 5, 2:45 p.m. in the Homemaking Department.

Rochester: Tuesday, May 5 at 8 p.m. in school cafeteria.

Knox City-O'Brien: Tuesday, May 5 at 12 noon in Homemaking Department.

Benjamin: Wednesday, May 6 at 12 noon in school cafeteria.

Rule: Wednesday, May 6 at 2:30 p.m. in school cafeteria.

Paint Creek: Thursday, May 7 at 12 noon in school cafeteria.

Beef short course scheduled May 10-12

Producing beef that is acceptable to the consuming public today and in the future will be the thrust of a Beef Cattle Short Course at Texas A&M Aug. 10-12.

Theme of the two-day educational activity will be "Beef: Gearing Up for the '90s."

Short course subjects should be of interest to a broad audience of beef producers, feeders, packers, retailers, health professionals and consumers.

Consumer loyalty vital to community

In addition to just trying to attract new industries to boost the local economy, community leaders may need to give more emphasis to strengthening existing retail trade and service sectors.

"Strong retail trade and service sectors are vital to the economic development of small Texas communities," points out Dr. Don Stebbins, community development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Communities that do not have adequate trade and service sectors face two major problems, according to Stebbins. First, local employment opportunities will be lacking, so some people may be forced to move. Others, especially farmers, who need employment for some family member, may be in additional jeopardy of suffering financial loss.

A second problem in communities lacking adequate trade and service sectors is that the community income multiplier will be unusually small because a large proportion of consumer spending goes to other communities.

"I believe many small Texas towns have income multipliers of 1.5

or less because consumers find it necessary or desirable to travel to some other community to spend a large portion of their income," says Stebbins. "This means that every dollar received from outside is worth only $1.50 or less to the community after the multiplier effect."

An important disadvantage is that the impact of other economic development efforts will be reduced. Thus, even people who have a strong interest in other types of economic development should encourage the creation and expansion of retail and service businesses to increase the impact of their efforts.

Understanding consumer decision-making is essential to increase local spending, says the specialist. Three questions need to be answered: What do consumers purchase out of town? Why do consumers prefer or find it necessary to buy these goods and services out of town? What will it take to attract their spending locally?

"While it is not possible to satisfy every consumer need and capture all consumer spending locally, it is frequently possible to obtain answers to these questions and identify new economic opportunities within the community," Stebbins points out.

He encourages small town community leaders and business people to take a lesson from shopping malls in large cities. "Even though each individual business is independent and competitive with others, there are times when cooperation is beneficial," notes Stebbins. "Tenants in large city malls recognize that the first thing they have to do is to get consumers inside the mall. Once that is accomplished, businesses can compete for their spending. Small town merchants can benefit by cooperating to create a shopping environment that induces local spending."

If communities where large amounts of consumer spending are being lost, leaders and merchants will find it advantageous to work together to develop strategies for attracting consumer spending. "If successful, new businesses and job opportunities will be created, the income multiplier will be increased, and the impact of other development successes will be enhanced," Stebbins points out.

Vegetable show to be in Munday

A vegetable show for June 27 has been announced by the Knox County Horticulture Committee. It will be in the Munday Community Center.

A farmers' market is planned in conjunction with the show. The market will highlight locally produced vegetables.

Medicare may be second insurance

Medicare beneficiaries may think that once their Medicare protections start, it will always pay first for hospital and medical bills. This isn't always true. There are times when Medicare is the secondary health insurance payer - that is, when it pays after other sources pay for services.

There are three major situations where Medicare is the secondary payer.

If a beneficiary is entitled to Medicare solely on the basis of permanent kidney failure and is covered by an employer group health plan, Medicare is the secondary payer for an initial period of up to twelve months. The employer health plan pays first for kidney treatment and other health services during that time. If the employer plan doesn't pay in full, Medicare may make secondary payments to supplement the amount paid by the employer plan. Medicare becomes the primary health insurance payer at the end of the twelve month period.

Medicare also is the secondary payer for beneficiaries sixty-five or older who have employer group health coverage through their employer or through their spouse's employer. Under a special rule, employers with twenty or more employees must offer workers and their spouses sixty-five or older the same health insurance protection that is available to younger workers. The worker can accept or reject the employer health insurance plan. If the worker accepts the employer plan, Medicare becomes the secondary payer and can only help pay for any Medicare-covered services that are not paid by the employer plan.

Beneficiaries who have employer group health coverage should be sure to tell hospitals, doctors, or others who provide medical services so that the services will be billed correctly.

In addition, Medicare is the secondary payer when health care services are covered under automobile medical insurance, state no-fault insurance, automobile liability insurance, or other liability insurance. This is true even if state law or the private insurance contract says that the automobile, no-fault, or other liability benefits are secondary to Medicare's. If the automobile or no-fault insurance refuses to pay for services, Medicare payment will be conditional. This means Medicare will make payment on the condition that the Medicare patient will refund the money if the automobile or liability insurer later pays for the services.

If a beneficiary receives medical services as the result of an accident, he or she should tell the health care provider about the accident and furnish information about all insurance policies or other parties who may be liable for medical expenses.

Another rule beneficiaries should remember is that Medicare cannot pay for services which are payable by any workers' compensation plan, the federal black lung program, or the Veterans Administration. Payment from these sources is considered payment in full and Medicare has no liability.

For more information about these secondary payer rules, Medicare beneficiaries should contact their local Social Security office.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Gene Smith of Haskell are proud to announce the arrival of their son, Charles Martin Smith, born April 20, 1987 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 8 oz.

Phil and Elaine Harris of Cunningham, Kan., announce the birth of a daughter, Sara Renee. She was born March 24 and weighed 7 pounds, 5 ounces and was 19 inches long.

She has a brother, Steven, and a sister, Sharon.

Diuretics danger

The diuretics commonly found in diet pills and other over-the-counter medications are used to purge the body of excess water. Health education expert Dr. Mary Ann Heussner cautions that they can also produce a wide range of side effects, including rash, headaches, constipation, dizziness, sweating and a tingling feeling in the arms and legs.

In addition, diuretics can cause the user to lose too much natural salt from the body, says the Texas A&M Extension Service specialists.

School interviews for coach

The Haskell School Board interviewed Jimmy Lisle for the vacant head football coach position Thursday night, but took no action pending a look at a half-dozen other applicants for the job.

Lisle, an assistant football and basketball coach and head track coach at Haskell High School, was the first to be interviewed for the position being vacated by Harold Hill.

The Board indicated it would check out the credentials and references of other applicants and then schedule interviews with the most qualified.

The football coach also will be the school's athletic director. He may be offered the additional duty of assistant principal, a role filled by Hill, if he is otherwise qualified.

Legal services for poor

The Texas Equal Access to Justice Foundation announces the first series of grant awards to fund legal services to the poor in civil matters. The Foundation welcomes applications from all non-profit 501(c)(3) organizations that provide civil legal assistance to the indigent. The deadline for grant submission is April 1, 1987. The Foundation will distribute approximately $450,000 statewide. Grant decisions will be made on May 15, 1987. Grant applications are available by contacting the Foundation office at the Texas Law Center, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, Texas, 78711 or by calling 1-800-252-3401.

The Texas Equal Access to Justice Foundation was created by the Supreme Court of Texas in December 1984. The Foundation is responsible for the administration of the IOLTA (Interest on Lawyers' Trust Account) program. IOLTA is a mechanism whereby attorneys agree to convert their nominal and or short term client trust funds to interest bearing checking accounts. The interest earned each month is remitted to the Foundation. Currently, 5,300 attorneys have agreed to participate in the program with the cooperation of 190 financial institutions in Texas. The monthly interest remittances provide the funding for legal services to the poor. In 1986, the Foundation received more than $500,000 in IOLTA remittances.

The Texas Equal Access to Justice Foundation has established several priorities for the distribution of the IOLTA funds. These priorities include the expansion and development of pro bono programs in the state; cooperative efforts of multiple providers in a community; and non duplicative services in local areas. In addition, the Foundation is interested in any special needs of potential grant recipients.

IOLTA funds will be distributed in two categories. Distribution based on low income population by counties will account for 85 percent of the IOLTA funds. 15 percent of the funds will be used for discretionary funding for special unmet needs: which are not geographic in character.

Raining fish

It may never rain cats and dogs, but it did rain fish in England in 1859.

According to Ranger Rick magazine, strong winds of a storm can sometimes suck up all sorts of small things from the ground or even the water. Then miles away, these things fall from the sky.

In 1922, spiders rained on Hungary, and in 1982, two frogs dropped out of the sky in Dubuque, Iowa.

Elderly receive eye care

"It has been a long, long time since I could see really clearly. I had my surgery at about 10:30 in the morning, and that night--as soon as I took the pad off the eye--I could see."

Like 85-year-old Mary Cassenelli, 1,591 older Texas residents with cataracts have called the Eye Care Project Hotline--1-800-222-EYES (93937)--for medical attention or information about their eyes.

The Helpline service is available to U.S. citizens or legal residents age 65 and over who do not already have access to an ophthalmologist. Volunteer ophthalmologists throughout the state are especially trying to reach those who can't afford medical care, said Robert O. Robinson, MD, president of the Texas Ophthalmological Association.

"It's no wonder that more than 55 percent of all new cases of blindness each year occur in people age 65 and over," said Dr. Robinson, adding that 34 percent of Helpline patients had never had an eye exam until they called the toll-free number.

Since it opened in February 1986, the Texas Helpline has referred 5,457 patients to volunteer ophthalmologists. Estimates are that 1,591 patients have been diagnosed with cataracts in some stage of development, and 186 of these have had surgical treatment.

AIDS grant

Texas is expected to receive between $200,000 and $300,000 in federal funds to support AIDS education in the public schools.

The grant, to be awarded by the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta sometime this summer, will be used by the Texas Education Agency to coordinate a comprehensive statewide AIDS medication effort

Cruise

Julie Gannaway and Anita (Mrs. Bob) Herren as they boarded the Love Boat, Pacific Princess, during Julie's spring break from Monterrey High School in Lubbock.

The cruise to the Caribbean and through the Panama Canal was a graduation present from Julie's grandparents, Bob and Anita Herren. Julie spent her birthday on Montinifree Island. After a tour of Curacao, Netherlands Antilles they continued through the Panama Canal which was very impressive, and then on to Acapulco, Mexico. They shopped there in the morning, returned to ship for lunch and went on a tour of Acapulco, from the mountain tops. It was a beautiful sight to see.

They saw many movie stars' homes and saw the young divers who gave a special show for the ship's group.

Then it was time to board American Airlines to return home through Dallas where they happened to run into another granddaughter, Donna Howard, who is a flight attendant for American Airlines. She was returning from a flight. It was a nice surprise ending to a wonderful trip.

Treasurer attends seminar

Haskell County Treasurer Willie Faye Tidrow joined some 185 other elected officials April 20-23 for the 15th annual County Treasurer's Seminar in College Station. Theme of the seminar was "Certified County Treasurers: Minds Over Money."

"County treasurers have the major responsibility for handling and investing county funds," said Mrs. Tidrow. "It's an ever-changing business that requires staying up on the latest in money management and legal requirements for government fiscal accountability."

Concurrent sessions at the seminar provided customized training based on population and government structure of the counties where treasurers serve. Program topics included contemporary cash management, depository contracts, fair labor standards, computerization of records, certificates of obligation and a legislative update.

County treasurers who complete the training are certified as required by state law and receive credits from the Texas A&M University Office of Professional Improvement. The annual seminar is one of the educational programs sponsored by the V. G. Young Institute of County Government, a part of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

—Weinert News—

By Myrtle Phemister

Weinert has experienced much activity this week as the land has dried and the farmers are busy in the fields and this beautiful weather coaxed many "house-bodies" outside to yards, gardens, fishing, etc.

Floyd and Helen Stout are on an extended fishing trip and will spend several days at several lakes before returning home. But Toby Yates, D.I. White and others only spend a few hours at a time at the lake fishing!

Our 13 seniors had a busy week as they sold tickets, and prepared the lunch for the Community on Sunday. They served a delicious dinner to some 120 people, and it added a bit to their fund for the senior trip they are planning. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Coffman are the class sponsors.

The Weinert Community enjoyed eating together two nights this week at the Weinert Cafe, as Melanie and Bob Wood opened their cafe for night service on Monday and Thursday nights. They hope to continue this service and we all hope they will. Thursday night is "fish night".

Erma Liles, with Mr. and Mrs. Paris Barton of Haskell, celebrated her birthday with a drive to Brownwood to view the wild-flowers so lovely this time of year. The blue-bonnets and Indian paint brush have an "art show" no one can rival.

Erma is looking forward to a visit from one of her college friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bagwell, of Claude, Texas, who will spend Thursday and Friday in Weinert.

Thelma Edwards and her granddaughter, Kelly, were pleased to have Kelly's parents, Anita and Ronnie Watkins and her brother, Shanon, all of Ft. Worth, who came to spend several days here.

Other guests were Betty and Larry Long with daughter, Andrea of Garland.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mathison entertained their daughter, Sandra Nicholson and grandson Walker T. recently, when they came out from Houston to spend several days with family and friends in Weinert. They spent a lot of time out at the farm, where they grilled steaks, played games and enjoyed the peace and quiet of country life.

Others who came from Houston with Sandra were Margaret Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Waters and son Stevie, and Don McIntire. Steve was heard to remark there are more people in his High School, (grades 10, 11, & 12) than there are in the whole city of Haskell. (You can take souvenirs, but peace and quiet can not be carried in a suitcase. Poor Houstonites!)

Mrs. Rene Vojkufka, Mrs. Jeanie Stout, Mrs. Shirley Hudgens and Mrs. Melvin Vojkufka represented their church at the annual Ladies Spring Conference of United Foursquare Women held at the Whispering Oaks Christian Camp in Buffalo Gap, Texas this past weekend.

Over 400 women attended the 3 day conference, entitled "abounding in love." There were many classes and seminars presented, and Mrs. Naomi Beard of Van Nuys, California was the featured speaker for the event.

Mrs. J.W. Jetton and Mrs. Marvin Phemister joined a group of ladies from the Haskell Church of Christ who attended the ladies day retreat hosted by the Hamlin Church of Christ April 25.

Dr. Marilyn Lewis, a professor at Abilene Christian University was the featured speaker at the program entitled "Lights on a Stormy Sea" Her subject was "Feeling Good About Being a Christian Woman."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crump were in Abilene on Monday for shopping, dinner and theatre, to celebrate Debbie's birthday.

Our congratulations go to Donna Castorena, Francis Mahan, Monica Estrada, Ezekiel Estrada, and Gilbert Jimenez, Jr., who celebrate birthdays this week, and to Floyd and Helen Stout who will celebrate a wedding anniversary.

There will be several students who will take part in the District UIL meet to be held in Benjamin on Thursday, April 30th. We'll keep our fingers crossed as you compete, children. Good Luck!

And May 9th will soon be here, as our Pep Squad works feverishly to get ready for their arts and crafts show to be held at the school gym. The time will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and crafts for sale will include wooden cut-outs, collars, quilts, photographs, silk plants, jewelry and many other items.

There will be a bake sale and lunch will also be available, so plan to come and share with us the fun of this special day.

Cheerleaders for 87-88 include Tina Herricks, Nancy Estrada, Molly Estrada and Monica Estrada. See you there!

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Davis and son Ron, our newest residents, who are moving here from Springfield, Oregon. W.C. is the son of Mrs. Elna Davis, and is a graduate of Weinert High School and a retired army veteran. W.C. and Patsy have four children, Todd, Kimberly, Jamie and Ronald, but Ronald is the only child still at home. Welcome home!

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker and Barry joined with others to attend the annual Walker reunion which was hosted this year in the home of Mrs. Flossie Hester of Haskell.

Ima Stewart and Rene Vojkufka attended a quilting "Bee" held in Jova Caddell's home recently.

Helen Boykin was in Hamlin Sunday for an "Alanon" retreat there.

Our sympathy is extended to Pearl Alexander and Florence Alexander, whose nephew, Quincey Lefevre of Dallas, grandson of Alice Address of Haskell, was interred Saturday after an extended illness.

Clyde Mayfield has joined our list of sick friends, as he recuperates from a recent hospital stay.

Bud and Mildred Offutt were in Wichita Falls to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Offutt, Marty, Tammy and Cindy. Marty returned to Weinert with them and spent some time on the farm, and with his mother's parents, Eddie and Myrnie Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Raynes had over 42 of their family and friends at a recent gathering held in their home. Of their six children, only Dorothy and Bill Jetton's family of Brownwood were unable to be present. Those who came included Mary Nell Colthrope's family of Seymour, Patsy Shawvers' family of Holiday, Delores Stewart's family of Munday, Roberta Jenkins' family of Haskell, and Bobby Raynes' family of Weinert.

The Weinert Church of Christ held the worship services for the residents of the Leisure Lodge in Munday on Sunday, April 26th.

Visitors at the morning service at the Church of Christ were Keith Jones of Bowie (and his fiancée of Big Spring), nephew of Mrs. D.I. White, in whose home they spent the weekend. D.I. and Mattie were in Ft. Worth for the Easter holiday and spent time with Jimmy and Sue Hackney, Todd and Talanda.

The Weinert Baptist Church hosted the "Haskell-Knox Association of W.M.U.," "Pastor Appreciation" and "Praise and Worship" combined meetings on Monday, April 27th. The W.M.U. program began at 5:30 p.m., the Pastor Appreciation dinner was at 6:30 p.m. and the Praise and Worship service was at 7:30. Several groups rendered special music for the occasion. Donald Crump serves as pastor of the local church. Guests represented churches in Haskell, Rule, Knox City, Munday, Goree, O'Brien and Gillispie.

Jessie Couch of Haskell was in Weinert Sunday. She attended the Senior's Dinner and spent some time with her sister, Bunt Herricks.

Our hearty congratulations to Barry Walker who placed 4th in the UIL Lincoln Douglas debate held at McMurry college in Abilene on Saturday, April 25.

Payne and Lucy Hattox of DeLeon, Texas, former Weinert residents, request your prayers on the behalf of their 13 year old grandson, Ricky Baker, whose spinal cord was severed in a freak gunshot accident while rabbit hunting with a friend. He is paralyzed from the waist down and hospitalized in El Paso, Texas where he lives.

Speed hearing scheduled

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has scheduled a public hearing to receive public views and comments on proposed action raising the maximum speed limit on rural portions of interstate highways in Texas to 65 miles per hour.

The hearing is scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday in the first floor auditorium of the Dewitt C. Greer State Highway Building.

The public hearing is the first legal step necessary to consider changing the speed limit in Texas. After the public hearing, the commission will review testimony. If the commission decides to change the limit, the order would be filed with the governor. If he concurs with the order, he will issue a proclamation.

The earliest effective date would be eight days after the filing of the commission order with the governor.

Junior High track

8th girls

By Corey Mills

Saturday, the eighth grade Maidens took third place with 104 points in the district track meet at Albany.

Bringing home the gold were Regina Dever in the 100 m. dash and the long jump, Sheila Unger in the 200 m. dash, and the 800 m. relay team of Corie Brzozowski, Dever, Unger and Tiffany Williams, who ran a time of 1:54 at Graham.

"This time is better than some of the varsity girls teams that made it to regional," Coach Cody Moree said.

Second place finisher was Unger in the high jump and long jump.

Taking third place were the sprint relay team of Unger, Schree Everton, Dever and Brzozowski, and Dever in the highjump.

Finishing fourth place were Brzozowski in the 200 and Misti Bartley, a seventh grader, who ran for the eighth graders, in the 400 m. dash and the mile relay team.

"I was disappointed in field events and the fact that the sprint relay team dropped the stick while in first. I thought we could have been stronger in the field events. We also had to replace two on the mile relay because of sickness. Overall, the team gave an outstanding performance," Coach Moree said.

7th boys

By Joel Torres

The seventh grade track team that consisted of only six people participated at the district track meet last week.

"I was worried that it was going to be a bad day for the seventh grade team, but instead it turned out good," Coach Cody Moree said.

The team took a fifth in the mile relay. Members were David Holt, Chris Tanner, Aaron McFadden and Johnny Rodriguez.

The 400 m. relay took a fourth place. These members also were Holt, Tanner, McFadden and Rodriguez.

Individuals placing were Tanner, who took fourth in the mile and Rodriguez who took second in the 800 m and first in the discus, with a throw of 87 feet.

"We really didn't have many athletes on the track team, but the team worked out as hard as everyone else, and they didn't give up even though they knew that they didn't have a chance of winning a track meet. I was proud of them," Coach Moree said.

7th girls

The seventh grade girls track team placed fourth with 40 points in the district track meet recently at Albany.

Individual performers who placed were Elsie Ruiz, fourth in the 400 meter run, followed by Martha Nava, sixth.

Denise Collins placed sixth in the hurdles and fourth in the high jump.

Kendi Williams placed fifth in the discus and was district champion in the shot put with a throw of 25 feet.

Due to a illness of a team member and then an injury to a team member at the meet, the relay team was unable to compete.

"If we would have had the relay team, we possibly would have placed second," Coach Cody Moree said.

"The team has improved in every meet. The girls showed a lot of hard work and did a good job," Coach Moree said.

8th boys

By Doug Davis

Recently the eighth grade track team took second at the district track meet held at Albany, April 25.

"We would have scored better, but we just didn't have enough kids to participate to make those extra points," Coach Cody Moree said.

Although the eighth grade boys track team took a first or second in every running event, they still lacked points from first place.

The 400 and the 1600 m relay teams took top honors to become the district champions in these events. Team members of the 400 m are Adam Coleman, Jonathan Dever, Jeremy Fuentes and Johnny Billington.

In the 1600 m Rod Jeter took Adam Coleman's place with the 400 m team to run this event.

Renee Garcia stormed the track Saturday. He walked away with a second in the mile, a second in the 300 m, row hurdles and a third place in the high jump.

In the 200 m Dever placed first and in the long jump he finished third.

In the 110 high hurdles Billington placed first and came in sixth in the long jump.

Jeremy Fuentes took the top honors in the 400 m and placed fifth in the long jump competition. While Jeter took fourth in the 800 m, he also placed sixth in the 400 m. event. Placing fifth in the 100 m, Adam Coleman also took fourth in the 200 m.

Finishing in sixth place was Craig Hanson in the mile, Chad Gibson in the 200 m and Rusty Stocks in the high jump.

"I feel that our team was more prepared than the other teams, but the first place team had more kids in each event that we did. I purposely scheduled the kids to run against big schools for good preparation for the district track meet and it paid off!" Coach Moree said.

Make retirement plans ahead of time

People planning to retire in the near future should not wait until the last minute to get answers to the questions they may have about Social Security. This may lead to a delay in benefits or Medicare coverage, or even the loss of benefits in some cases.

The people at any Social Security office can answer a person's questions about retirement benefits. In addition, a special leaflet entitled "Thinking About Retiring?" is available for the person contemplating retirement. The leaflet gives answers to questions most frequently asked by people planning to retire.

Many people retire at the beginning of the year because it permits them to wrap up their affairs more conveniently. However, you may retire at any time during the year without affecting your right to benefits or the benefit amount.

Social Security generally suggests that people apply two or three months before the month they wish their Social Security checks to begin. This gives the office time to process the claim and take care of any problems that may crop up.

You may apply by telephone or in person. Once a person is interviewed by phone, the rest may be handled by mail. The best times to call the office to assure prompt service is during the latter part of the month.

A person applying for retirement benefits should have his or her Social Security card or a record of the number; an official record of birth or baptism recorded early in life or other evidence of birth; a copy of his or her W-2 form for the last year; or if self-employed, a copy of the self-employment tax return for the last year since recent reports may not yet be in the records. If spouses and children are also eligible, evidence may also include a marriage license for a spouse and birth certificates of spouse and children.

Wheat tour Monday

A Wheat Field Day and Tour for area farmers is scheduled for Monday.

It is being sponsored by the Texas A&M University Research Station at Munday and the Knox County Extension Program Council Crops Committee.

The program will begin at the station headquarters located on the east side of Munday on US 277.

Activities begin with an inspection of several research plots around the station which will include vegetables—as an alternate crop, reduced till with wheat and fertilizing cotton stalk wheat.

The program will then move off the station to view result demonstrations on irrigated wheat varieties, wheat forage production and dryland wheat varieties. Wheat diseases, affect of freeze on wheat, and wheat insects will be discussed at several of the stops.

Experiment station scientists and extension specialists will be at each stop to give brief program.

Newspapers Where Texans Go For Shopping Information

Two out of Three Texans Get Most of Their Shopping Information from Newspapers

—Texas Poll, Center of Research on Communication Technology and Society, University of Texas at Austin

1986 Survey

1984 Survey

And The Power of Newspaper Advertising is on the Increase

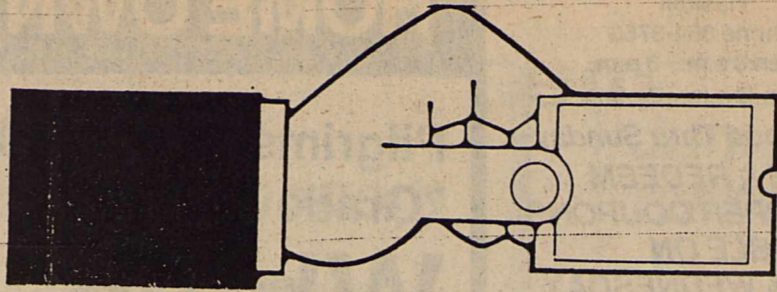

In the 1986 survey, 59 percent of the respondents said they got most of their consumer shopping information from newspapers. That is an increase from 50 percent in the 1984 survey.

In difficult economic times, people may have to seek out more detailed information on competitive pricing or sales in order to stretch their money further and newspapers place more stress on where to buy and what the costs will be.
