Base Ball
 The school teams of Bandera and Kerrville played the first match game of base ball of the season on the Kerrville ground last Saturday, resulting in a victory for Bandera by a score of 13 to 12.

It looked like a sure victory for Kv. up to the 7th inning. The locals had rolled up 11 scores and the visitors had failed to put a single score on their side of the board, but in this inning the tide changed. The batting of the visitors became terrifying and the locals allowed them to run in nine men in this single inning. After this the game was closely contested to the end.

The batteries were: for Bandera, Pate and Cox; for Kerrville, Buckner, Barfield and Stauff.

Another game is scheduled for Saturday of this week between the Center Point High School and T. H. S. teams. It is said there will also be a game between the professionals of Kerrville and Center Point.

Stung Good and Hard
 "Pretty nice land around here," said the stranger, as his dusty rig stopped in front of the gate.
 "Certainly is," replied the eager farmer, "finest in the state."
 "I reckon it is two high-priced for a poor man," sighed the stranger.
 "Well," replied the farmer, "it is worth every cent of $200 an acre. That's the way I value it. Were you thinking of buying?"
 "No," replied the stranger, as he dotted something down in a book.
 "I am the new County Assessor," Household Journal.

Lizzie's Cup
 "I wouldn't drink out of that cup," said little Willie to the well-dressed visitor; "that's Lizzie's cup, and she's very particular who drinks out of it."
 "Ah," said the young man, as he drained the cup dry. "I feel honored to drink out of Lizzie's cup. Lizzie is your youngest sister, isn't she?"
 "Not much. Lizzie is my dog," Chicago Record Herald.

M. E. Church Services.
 There will be preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday as usual.

The protracted meeting will begin Friday night before the second Sunday in April. Rev. N. B. Reed of San Antonio will do the preaching.

At the Presbyterian Church
 The ecclesiastical year, in the Presbyterian church, ends with the first of April.

The Kerrville church has enjoyed a prosperous year.

Since securing a pastor, last July, the membership has increased about one third and all the features of church work have prospered.

The Pastor, Rev. W. P. Dickey, will attend a special meeting of the Synod of Texas at Dallas this week, and the meeting of the Presbytery of Western Texas at Laredo next week.

Because of this there will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church for the next two Sundays.

UNNEEDED NERVOUSNESS.
 The customs officials at Leith, Ireland, seized, several weeks ago, several cases of rifles shipped from Germany, scolding insurrection in the threats of some men in Ulster to resist some rule by force of arms, if they couldn't defeat it any other way. Things looked ominous from another direction for the peace of the British empire. After several weeks of nervousness, during which the rifles reposed peacefully in the customs storehouse, it developed that they had been shipped to a theatrical company, which intended to send instructions as to their destination, but which, like many another theatrical company, had ceased to tour after being on the move for some weeks. Then everybody breathed easier, and perhaps smiled when nobody was looking.

Social Forms and Entertainments

Proverb Contest.
This may be given orally (like a spelling bee) or it may be a written game. Limit each one to a half-minute. If played orally, after the first word is named. The class is conducted in this way: The teacher mentions the first word of a well-known proverb, the pupil called finishes it. If unable to do so in the time it is passed to the next one, and so on down the line until some one or no one finishes it.

If the proverb begins with "a," "an," "the," or any very small word, two or more words should be given to start the pupil off. To help make out the list a few proverbs are given here:

A stitch in time saves nine.
All is not gold that glitters.
Honesty is the best policy.
A friend in need is a friend indeed.
A word to the wise is sufficient.
Half loaf is better than no bread.
When angry count ten before you speak; if very angry, count a hundred.
A bird in hand is worth two in the bush.
A penny saved is a penny earned.
Procrastination is the thief of time.
Make hay while the sun shines.
Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.
Every cloud has a silver lining.
Appearances are often deceiving.
Disings brighten as they take their flight.
Never count your chickens before they are hatched.
A little nonsense now and then is elished by the wisest men.
No news is good news.
Look before you leap.
Out of sight, out of mind.
Let them laugh who will.
He who is down need fear no fall.
More haste, less speed.

Portrait Party.
Get common wrapping paper, a light brown or white, and cut into squares a foot and a half square. Put up a sheet across a door and have the light from a lamp arranged so that the shadow of a person's head will be reflected on the square of paper.

A guest is to be placed sideways so that the outline of the face will show on the paper. With a heavy pencil or crayon draw the outline or profile. One guest at a time is brought into the gallery and the name is put on the back of the portrait.

When all have been taken an assistant helps cut out the silhouettes, which are pasted on black paper and pinned up like a portrait exhibition. The guests are provided with pencils and paper and write down who they think is who.

A prize is provided for the one who guesses the most correctly, and if the hostess wishes, a consolation prize may be awarded.

Spoon Shower.
A young girl who was to marry a man not blessed with a great store of this world's goods was the recipient of this novel and acceptable shower. The girls, twelve in number, contributed the price of a dozen spoons. Each one was done up separately in tissue paper and put in a lovely pie made in the shape of a wedding bell, a white satin ribbon ran to each place. When the bride pulled her ribbon a spoon bearing this single was forthcoming:

Oh! spoon for two,
Oh! what fun!
But then, you see,
You two are one.

The rest of the girls each drew a spoon, and exclaimed that, as they just matched the one drawn by the bride-elect, they must all go to her. The refreshments were a little out of the ordinary, so I'll tell about them. First, shrimp salad served in heart-shaped cases, with celery and nut sandwiches mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Then a delicious tutti-frutti in bell-shaped molds.

Flower Contest.
At this season requests are many for "flower contests." The following is a slightly new version of one of our oldest contests. The names of the flowers are given in the jingle; of course, they must be omitted on the papers prepared by the hostess for her guests, leaving blank spaces to be filled in.

Pair Violet a maiden was, Sweet William was her lover,
Their path was twined with bitter-sweet, it did not run through clover.
The maiden's tresses raven were, her cheeks a lovely rose,
She wore fine lady'sippers, to warm her small pink toes.
Her poppy was an elder, who had a tint of gold,
An awful old snapper, to make one's blood run cold!
His temper was like sour grass, his daughter's heart he wrung,
With words both fierce and bitter, he had an adder's tongue.

The lover's hair was like the flax of pure German type,
He sent her buttercups by the pound, and choicest wintergreens.
She pointed him forget-me-nots, the bluest ever seen.
He couldn't serenade her within the nightshade dark,
For every thyme he tried it, her father's dogwood bark.
And so he set a certain day to meet—at four o'clock.
Her face was pale as snowdrops, 'em whiter than her frock.
The lover vowed he'd pine and die if she should say him no,
And then he up and kissed her beneath the mistletoe.

Primrose Day.
If any of you happen to be entertaining on the thirteenth of April, it will add a touch of coziness to remember that this is the day celebrated by our English cousins as "Primrose" day, and everyone wears a primrose on his coat. There is a single variety of this dainty flower that is perfectly adapted to individual vases at each place or at the four corners of the table. I speak advisedly, for I, sat around the board recently where they were the only decoration, and the result was more than satisfactory. The large double primroses in pots may be used for prizes if bridge is played. They come in all of the delicate pastel shades and are cheap in comparison to other spring flowers, which is very desirable for most of us. I forgot to tell you what you may already know, viz: that Primrose day is in remembrance of the death of Lord Beaconsfield.

Madame Merri.
Cleanse the hair itself when the scalp is perfectly dry. Apply one of the dry shampoo powders. The best preparation for this is made of four ounces of powdered cerise root and one of unscented talcum powder. This should be brushed into the hair, but not into the roots, and allowed to remain three or four minutes or more, and then brushed out. This dry treatment gives the hair a full and fluffy appearance. This method of scalp treatment is satisfactory after the hair has been exposed to salt water in bathing, when it is full of dust, or, in hot weather, when it is damp with perspiration.

Smart Neck Bow.
Smart bows to wear with wash blouses are made of four short, straight, lined pieces of ribbon, so sharply pointed that when caught by the light knot at the center they look like the petals of a chrysanthemum. These bows are of grosgrain ribbon in black or a color. When in color they are slipped through horn rings of the same shade, one ring is placed at each end of the knot and these rings are caught together in the middle on the under side of the ribbon knot to form a fastening clasp or buckle.

New Serge Dresses.
New dresses of white serge and white satin have the serge carried up above the girde, where it ends exactly as if the skirt were very high indeed.

Sizing Up the Situation.
The young girl had been engaged as an amanuensis by a society woman. She discovered that nearly every day the husband and wife had a quarrel, so she gave notice that she was going to leave.

"Why?" inquired the lady in surprise.
"Oh, you don't need an amanuensis, madam," replied the girl, "what you want is a war correspondent!"

Precisely.
"The Lawyer—When did this affair happen?"
"The Witness—I don't remember."
"I don't remember."
"I don't remember."
"I don't remember."
"I don't remember."
"I don't remember."
"I don't remember."

Street Costumes That Have Found Favor This Season

For the costume at the left any colored face cloth would make up well. The skirt has a crown of pleats let in at the left side of front, buttons and loops are sewn above the pleats.
The coat has a waistcoat collar and cuffs of light colored cloth; buttons and loops trim the front; the sleeves are set in under wrapped seams.
Drake hat of satin set to a gallowan band and trimmed at the left side trim the wrists and right edge of front; vieux rose cloth is used for the revers and collar.
Hat of velvet trimmed with a feather tuche.
Materials required: 3 yards serge 45 inches wide, 10 buttons, 1/2 yard cloth for collar and revers, 1/2 yards silk or satin for lining coat.

Little New in Style of the Coiffures of To-Day

Coiffures are still following the fashions of fifty years ago or of those even further back. They are glossy, part-dressed close to the head and are neat looking. The ears are covered in all of them and in almost every one the hair is waved a little or curled about the face.

The hair is arranged in coils at the back of the head above the nape of the neck. Occasionally one sees soft braids wound about the head. When there is a scant supply of hair the small chignon of puffs takes the place of coils.

Not so many bands are worn now except for the "evening head-dress," strands of pearls or a narrow band of rhinestones provide the finishing touch for these demure coiffures. The styles were never more fascinating, never displayed the adorably lovely hues of beautiful beads or the luster and color of hair to better advantage.

VARIED ORNAMENTS FOR HATS
Woman Who Seeks Something New Has But to Make the Round of the Various Shops.

It is entirely due to the hat ornament that the chapeau can be put in the class of the irresistible. So varied and clever are the little decorations that they demand a special description in this big fashion story.

One charming ring, through which loops of moire ribbon are run at the side of a straw turban, is of circles of wooden beads in the Bulgarian colors.

On a hat by Jeanne Lanvin a flat row of two shades of yellow wool is surrounded by a disk of brown and green silk leaves, folded from pleated ribbon and tinted with water colors.

A high semi-circled of pleated velvet ribbon is made of three rows, held at the lower edge by a flat folded bow. This ornament, in turn, holds in place a cluster of soft eop feathers.

Pigeon's feathers form two tufts around an iridescent blue and green jewel.

A fantasia of pheasant's wings is caught down on a brim by a butterfly of silk with jewels and embroidered cowpats.

Very simple is a ring of knotted moire ribbon in two colors, orange and brown, surrounding a yellow rose made of twisted mousseline.

Scarabs in turquoise and lava are being used to form centers of feather cabochons.

The "flight" of little tailored bows is still seen up the side of high brims.

Ribbon pompons are wild and too covered stems. These are made of questioned loops around each other.

GOOD JOKES

BLUE SKY PROMOTERS.
Blue sky promoters are men so optimistic where other people's anxiety is concerned that they will promote not merely barren gold and silver mines, but the blue sky itself.

Postmaster General Hitchcock was talking about a blue sky promoter who had been convicted of fraud.
"This man's mine," he said, "reminded me in its scarcity of gold of the railway sandwich."
"There ain't no ham in this here sandwich," a man growled, seated on a high stool before the marble bar of an old-fashioned railway restaurant.
"Oh, you ain't come to the ham yet," the attendant answered easily.
"The man ate on a while longer. Then he growled again:
"There ain't no ham yet."
"Oh," said the attendant, "you've bit over it now."—New York Tribune.

Procrastination.
A gentleman who had been in Chicago only three days, but who had been paying attention to a prominent Chicago belle, wanted to propose, but was afraid he would be thought too hasty. He delicately broached the subject as follows:
"If I were to speak to you of marriage after having only made your acquaintance three days ago, would you say 'no' to it?"
"Well, I should say never put off till tomorrow that which you should have done the day before yesterday."—Life.

AT THE MASQUERADE BALL.
The man who minds his own affairs will never lose the golden stairs when his life journey ends.

Not the Same.
When told he had a level head Jones wasn't pleased by that. In fact, the man who said it said: "Poor Jones's head was flat."

Mother Wins.
It was at the dinner table, and the hostess addressed her husband's brother:
"Do have another piece of pie, William?"
"Why, really, I've already had two; but it's so good I believe I will have another."
"He, he!" Mother's a winner!" said little Frank, excitedly. "She said she'd bet you'd make a pig of yourself."—Harpers' Bazar.

Telling a Turkey's Age.
"Casey," said Pat, "how do yez tell th' age of a tu-rkey?"
"Oh, can always tell by the teeth," said Casey.
"By the teeth?" exclaimed Pat. "But a tu-rkey has no teeth."
"No," admitted Casey, "but O! have!"

Sure Tip.
Teacher—Is there anything you know of, children, which expands with the cold and contracts with the heat?
Class (in unison)—Yes'm, ice.

Long Hyphen.
Patience—He's married that rich girl, and they've hyphenated their names.
Fattie—Oh, is that so? I heard he was going to make a dash for her.

Big Words.
Bacon—Was his speech original?
Egbert—No.
"Where do you suppose he got it from?"
"Out of the directory, I guess."

Easy Way.
"So you got away from the constable when you were speeding. How did you manage it?"
"Simply threw dust in his eyes."

Worse Still.
"My father is so angry at our last escapade, that he's cut me."
"My father's done worse than that; he's cut my allowance."

The Exception.
"Are the men boarders allowed to smoke in that house?"
"No; the only one allowed to do that is the chimney."

Hearty Approval.
"So you approve of this vote for women parade?"
"I do," replied Mr. Grosche. "It will be the first function my wife has attended in years that did not keep me scared about what her costume was going to cost."

How It Sounded.
Bacon—I understand your wife speaks four languages?
Egbert—Yes, and it sounds some times as if she was trying to speak them all at once.

Athletic Motive.
"So you are going to be a suffragette?"
"Yes," replied young Mr. Terkins. "So that you can vote?"
"Not exactly. But, you know, marching in a parade must be splendid exercise."

Good Judgment.
"Why did you make such an ado over losing Wombat a quarter? A quarter isn't much to lose."
"I didn't want to establish a precedent."—Judge.

No, Not That.
Patience—Women seem to be doing everything that men do, nowadays.
Fattie—Nonsense! You never saw a man powdering his nose fifty times a day, did you?

Close Call.
"I had rather a close call last evening."
"That so?"
"Yes. Called on the Bromleys in their new flat and there were two other people there."
"Getting Right."
"I understand you have just bought an automobile?"
"Yes, I saw seven of them chasing one pedestrian the other day, and I decided that I was on the wrong end of the sport."
"True to Her Trade."
Flimmer—When Shimmer tried to speak to Miss Trimley just now she passed him with eyes a-slant.
Flimmer—Naturally; being a dress-maker, she cut him on the bias.
Judge—

Too Thorough.
"That naval officer is noted for always going to the bottom of things."
"Good heavens! I hope they won't appoint him to the command of this ship!"

"It's No Joke"

to have to endure distress after every meal. No wonder you are afraid to eat. Just try before meals, for a few days and notice the improvement in your general health. It is for all Stomach and Bowel Ills. Start today.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

HARDLY.
"It must take courage to go up in an airship."
"Indeed, but not near so much as to come down in one."

Thirteen Not Unlucky for Him.
Dr. Nansen has good reason to regard thirteen as a lucky number. The crew of the Fram, in which he made the most successful of his expeditions, consisted of thirteen men, who all, after an absence of three years, returned to their homes in perfect safety. Dr. Nansen arrived back in Norway on August 13, 1896, and on the same day the Fram emerged from her long drift on the ice into the open sea. Moreover, during the voyage, as the doctor records, "Kirk presented us with thirteen pups, a curious coincidence—thirteen pups born on December 13, 1892, for thirteen men."

Costly City Improvements.
If all the buildings torn down annually in the borough of Manhattan in New York city could be assembled they would make a good-sized town. Last year the number of buildings demolished was 819, and a gas tank brought the total demolitions to 820. The front feet measurement of the houses pulled down was 24,775, or approximately four and three-quarter miles. Nine stories out of ten destroyed were four stories high.

Glad to Move.
A small boy went to school the other day in a state of intense excitement because his family was going to move to Chicago.
"That will be fine, Joe," said his teacher. "And in what part of Chicago are you going to live?"
"Juth thaven bleckth from where cubth play ball in th' thummer," was Joe's enthusiastic reply.—Chicago Record Herald.

The Plain Reason.
"Love at first sight is a myth."
"Why?"
"Because love is blind."

Sure Enough.
"A dollar doesn't go very far these days."
"All depends. If you put it into railroad fare it will save you a long walk."

When you feel like calling a man a liar go to the telephone and then change your mind.

Solves the Breakfast Problem

A bowl of crisp, sweet

Post Toasties

makes a most delicious meal.

These crinkly bits of toasted white corn, ready to serve direct from package, are a tempting breakfast when served with cream or milk, or fruit.

The Toasties flavour is a pleasant surprise at first; then a happy, healthful habit.

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

Published Every Thursday at Kerrville, Texas, by T. A. Buckner.

Subscription $1.00 a Year in Advance

Entered in the U. S. Mails as second class matter at Kerrville, Texas, on Oct. 17, 1912—authorizing to act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Kerrville Postmaster

If the selection of the postmaster of Kerrville, of course a Democrat, to succeed Chas. Real, Republic in, whose term expired in January, is delegated to Congressman Slayden the position will, it is pretty definitely understood, be filled by W. G. Carpenter of the Kerrville Mercantile Co. Mr. Carpenter is a business man of high character but it was due the other applicants, also Democratic citizens of high character and who had received strong endorsements, that Mr. Slayden should have given their supporters a hearing. It was understood some time ago that he was coming to Kerrville to give this matter consideration, but he did not come and, as Congress is now in session, his official duties require him in Washington. These local contests, unless all contestants are fairly heard, are calculated to cause party differences and possibly unjust criticism. A primary would prevent this, and there are many advocates among Democrats of the election of postmasters.

All this is written without at all reflecting upon Mr. Carpenter, who will no doubt discharge the duties of the office faithfully and efficiently, and we trust the disappointment of the other aspirants and their friends will be removed by his impartial, courteous and energetic official conduct. All could not be appointed and some disappointment would result any way.

The lamented eminent pioneer, Dr. F. Herff of San Antonio owned a valuable tract adjoining the town of Boerne and fronting on the railroad track. His children have generously donated to the people of Boerne 60 acres South of the depot for a park, and the public-spirited citizens of the town have already begun improving the grounds and will soon have one of the largest and prettiest parks in the State.

San Antonio is preparing for the annual flower parade and street show to begin April 21 and last six days. A mimic king and queen will be crowned and there will be lots of dukes and duchesses in attendance, though true nobility is unknown except that of manly men and womanly women in America.

Woman's right to vote is based precisely upon the same right as man's right—the consent of the governed. The only plausible argument against woman suffrage is that men are not sufficiently civilized for women to associate with them at the ballot box, but this simply proves that the ballot box needs the civilizing influence of women.

Christ was abused, slandered and condemned because he stood for righteousness and condemned sin in all of its forms and in all places. So is the church of God and the ministers of the Gospel today, notwithstanding they stand as the very bulwarks of social, moral and civil righteousness. Those who stand in the way of the church and slander and condemn preachers and church members are by such acts proving their alliance with the devil by doing his bidding. The devil would have easy sailing if he could undermine and destroy the church and its good influences.

If saloons were suppressed most of the sin and poverty and unhappiness would disappear from the world and millions now wasted would be invested in happy homes and profitable industries.

Jenkins—"Say, what makes some fellows howl so when the truth is told about them?"
Binks—"Why, that's easy. It's the truth that hurts."

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise." Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, to ADVERTISE IN THIS PAPER
