

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

VOL. I.

KERRVILLE, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1913

NO. 33

Recital.
Mrs. E. C. Fiske presented her pupils in a violin recital Monday evening at her home, only the relatives and a few friends of the pupils being present. The program was especially attractive and each number showed upon the part of the young people careful application and talent in the art. Those taking part were Miss Leah Hayes, Lee J. Corkill, S. B. Ford, and Eddie Fiske. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

H. Welge and family made a flying trip to San Antonio in their auto last Sunday.

Goes to West Point.
Kerrville has just cause to be proud of one of her boys, Charles Lee Mason, who recently passed with excellent grades the rigid examination held in the preparatory school at Highland Falls, N. Y. for boys entering West Point. Young Mason who is only 17 years old was one of the youngest in the class. He is at present visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mason, but will leave Monday to visit relatives in Washington, D. C. before reporting at West Point.

Miss Verna Vining of Poteet is visiting relatives in Kerrville.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Arrive.
The advance guard of the Y. M. C. A. boys who are coming here to have a two weeks encampment at the Chataqua grounds arrived Monday evening and have been making arrangements for the main party which arrived in a special car yesterday. The enrollment now is 45 and more are yet expected to join the party before the close of the encampment.

The officers who will have charge of the camp government are, R. M. O'Hair, boys work director; George Wheeler, physical director; and Lynn Bealy. Dr. Carhart will be camp physician, and Rev. Brooks I. Dickey will be leader of the religious work.

One of the features of the program is a minstrel and vaudeville show which will be staged for the citizens of Kerrville. Saturday, June 14, will be observed as visitors' day, and it is expected that a large number of parents and friends will visit the camp and watch its activities. The following three rules will be enforced throughout the camping period: No firearms will be allowed; no camper, man or boy, shall enter the water except in the presence of the camp director; the use of tobacco is forbidden.

The general program for each day, with small variations, as arranged by the boys' work director, is: Morning--Reveille, 6:30; morning prayers in tent; 6:40, flag-raising, salute, morning exercises, dip in the river; 7:30, breakfast; 8:00, Bible study; 9:00, morning activities, basketball, baseball, etc.; 11:30, swim; 12:20, inspection; 12:30, dinner; 1:00, rest hour, during which leaders read books aloud, etc.; distribute mail.

Afternoon--4:30, afternoon swim; 5:20, supper; 6:30, games; 7:30, campfire or entertainment, frequently to close with short talk by one of the leaders; 9:15, tattoo, evening prayers in tent; 9:30, taps, lights out--quiet.

Farmers Institute Meeting
The Kerr County Farmers Institute held the monthly meeting at the court house in Kerrville Saturday afternoon. The attendance was unusually large and the meeting was one of the most interesting yet held.

The principal subject discussed was that of grain-threshing, and a lively discussion of this subject was engaged in by the following: Julius Real, W. J. Babb, Ed. Smith, H. W. Vowell, J. C. Baxter and others.

The following were appointed as delegates to the State Farmers Institute to be held at College Station July 28 to Aug 1: L. A. Mosty, Alvin Dille, Moritz Hokekamp, Geo. Williams, T. K. Carr.

The next meeting of the County Institute will be held at Ingram on the last Saturday in June.

Center Point Letter.
Center Point, Texas, June 2.--The Center Point High School closed last Friday. The class play was given at the school auditorium Saturday night to a large and an appreciative audience. The graduating exercises will be held tonight, which will wind up the school work for the year.

The musical by Mrs. Hamlyn's music class was a success. Dr. J. T. Curry of San Antonio preached a very forceful commencement sermon Sunday at the Methodist Church to the largest congregation we have ever seen in Center Point.

Miss Maude Horne closed her school at Green, Texas, and returned home last week. Several of our young people who have been away at school have returned home the past few days. Of those returned we have seen the Misses Lee Owens and Rowena Rees, and Bonner Coffey and Charley Howland.

S. G. McElroy and daughters, who have been at San Marcos for the school year, have returned to Center Point to make their home here again.

Miss Annie Dobbs who has been working in the Joske big store in San Antonio for about a year, returned home last week.

Prof. M. M. Major from Ingram now occupies the Griffin house here. Red Moore who was engaged by the Runge ball team as pitcher, returned home last week for a rest. He has made good, but in a 12-inning game with Cuero he strained his arm, but won the game.

N. P. Huse and family left Saturday for a three months stay at their old home in Wisconsin. Otto Biles, now of Lytle came up Saturday for a week stay with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wheeler of Kerrville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Palmer. Miss Onida Surber left Sunday for her home in San Antonio. When the family moved some time ago she was left to finish her school work.

Mrs. Pearl Young, a teacher in the Philippine Islands, and her brother, a Mr. Barfield of Gonzales County, spent Saturday and Sunday here with relatives, Mrs. Winnie Hall, and H. C. Barfield and family. Mrs. Young's husband is also a teacher in the islands. They went over from Texas about five years ago. They were successful teachers in Texas and we are glad to know that they are doing well in their new field of labor. They are old acquaintances of the writer and we are proud that Texas can furnish such people to help bear the "White Man's Burden."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson went to San Antonio this morning to bring up another Hupmobile for Mac Dozier, who has decided to try gasoline instead of horse power.

Geo. Lowrance and wife and Mrs. Newt Gibbons of Eldorado came down last Friday by auto and will be here for about two weeks. Mrs. Lowrance is at the Sanitarium-Hospital where she underwent a surgical operation Saturday.

KNOW PAINT
There's a paint-education in this advertisement. Buy the job, not gallon. Buy the paint put on; that's the job. The price of paint is so much a gallon; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing. The price of painting is so much a day; that can't be helped, but amounts to nothing. Put them together. How can you do it? You've got to lose perhaps half of your money. Devote 10-gallons, enough for the average job; an average paint, 15. Now reckon your costs. Count labor a day for a gallon. Devote 10 days; the other 15.

Devote about about $50; the average paint about $70 or $80; the dearer the labor the bigger the difference, always that way. But that's for the job. How long is it going to last? One twice as long as the other. DEVOE. H. Noll Stock Co. sells it.

Graduating Exercises.
The Commencement Exercises at Tivy High School Auditorium last Friday night were the climax of a happy series of exercises that always mark the close of school. The walls of the large auditorium were decorated with many different school pennants and from the centre of the ceiling was suspended a huge yellow bell from which many streamers of black, yellow, and white extended across the room and were fastened to the walls. The breeze coming through the many windows gently waved these streamers and the hall presented a most inviting appearance. The place was crowded with relatives and friends of the twenty-one graduates.

The following program was rendered. Chorus, Grades. Invocation, Rev. D. P. Airhart. Chorus, Grades. Salutatory, Service the Object of Education, Miss Dove McElroy. Oration, Character, Walter Buckner.

Trio, Mrs. Doyle, Miss Nellie Smith, Miss Hattie Garrett. Oration, Hitch Your Wagon to a Star, Miss Addie Mosty. Valedictory, The Power of Concentration, Joe Barfield. Violin Solo, Payne Williamson. Class Address and Presentation of Diplomas, Hon. J. E. Grinstead. Benediction, Rev. S. J. Drake.

The rounds of applause showed that the audience was an appreciative one. The essays of the four honor graduates, which displayed intelligence of thought rarely found in those so young, deserve special mention. After the diplomas had been awarded Mr. Grinstead with a few appropriate remarks, awarded the following scholarships: State University, to Joe Barfield and Miss Dove McElroy; Southwestern University, to Miss Addie Mosty; and the Charles Schreiner scholarships to Walter Buckner and Miss Charley O'Neal. The graduates were then showered with many beautiful baskets and bouquets of flowers.

The occasion was enjoyed by all and every guest left the hall with a still higher appreciation of the Tivy High School, the pride of Kerrville and which stands with the highest educational institutions of the State.

Lemon Carnival.
The Carnival to take place Friday night June 6th promises to be a great attraction for the young people of Kerrville. This entertainment is given by the Baptist Young People's Union as a compliment to their friends and the young people of the town in general. To secure a ticket you must present a lemon at the gate. The affair will be given on the lawn of the Pastor's Home, beginning at 8:30. All over 14 years of age invited. The following is the program for the Open Air Concert.

Music by Orchestra. Reading--Josie B. Newman. Solo--Miss Fawcett. Music by Orchestra. Solo, Piano--Ethel Williams. Violin Solo--Payne Williamson. Solo--Mrs. Doyle. A Sketch--The Time Table--Helen Airhart, Lewie Moore. Music by Orchestra.

Baptist Church Notes.
The pastor gave an account of his recent visit to the Southern Baptist Convention at St. Louis at the morning service and at night preached an evangelic sermon. There were two conversions at this service, one young lady being received for baptism.

At three o'clock two Mexican girls were baptised by Rev. Airhart at the river. There will be two more of the Mexican people baptised next Sunday.

The building committee reported that the required first $5000 of the money for building the new church had been raised and as soon as plans can be arranged the new building will be started.

The revival meeting will begin on Wednesday, June 11. It is expected a large tent will be erected for this meeting. Rev. H. H. Friar and his singer, Bro. Gardner, are having great success in their meetings and we hope to have a great revival here.

WIFE, PECK'S TUTOR

Professor Again Is Learning Things Lost Through Illness

Divorced Spouse Says She'll Restore Him to Present State When He Again Is Normal—His Mind Is Slowly Recovering.

New York—Mrs. Cornelia Daborn Peck, divorced wife of Professor Harry Thurston Peck, is making a desperate effort to nurse her former husband back to mental and physical health, through prayer and constant attention, in order that she may restore him to his present wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Dubois Peck.

Mrs. Peck, the first, is drawing freely upon the money she received from her former husband in the form of alimony to aid in restoring his health.

Mrs. Peck and her former husband, at one time one of the leaders in the faculty of Columbia university, arrived at a little bungalow in Greenwich, Conn., South Beach, recently.

When I reached the hospital the death rattle was in Professor Peck's throat. His physicians said he could not live more than three days.

For 19 days I remained at his bedside, determined to break the overpowering ego which dominated him. From the pitiable wreck which I found him, his mind a total blank and his body so emaciated that he looked like a skeleton, I have nursed him to a point where he is nearly whole of body, and relearning like a child, the things he lost through the unnatural philosophy with which he was oppressed.

Then the first Mrs. Peck opened a black leather-bound book and the former professor of Latin read slowly and with the hesitancy of a child: "God is in Heaven; all is right with the world."

ENGINE VIOLATES ROAD RULE Number 6431 Misses Trip Owing to Stop Made at Saloon in Cleveland.

WHERE KAISER IS SUPREME

Emperor's Power as Commander of Germany's Armed Forces Absolute.

Berlin—While as to ordinary affairs the kaiser is subject to the law in the same manner as his humblest subject, there is one department in which his power is practically absolute—his power as commander in chief of the empire's armed forces.

Eight years ago the kaiser issued an order directing the introduction of sabre carriers attached to cavalry saddles. A Berlin inventor declared the sabre carriers to be an infringement of his patent, and that they could not be used without his permission, and he brought an action for damages and an injunction against the carrying out of the imperial order.

A provincial court found against him, and the Kammergericht has affirmed this judgment. The appellate court declared that, irrespective of whether the patent was infringed or not, the plaintiff has no standing and that the kaiser in issuing any order concerning the equipment of the army is exercising his supreme military power, and his orders are not subject to any law, nor can any court act in derogation thereof.

"Dead" Man's Defense Denied. Somerset, Pa.—Homer Friedline, arrested for running an automobile into another car, offered the unique defense that he thought he was dead and did not know of the collision. He was fined $15.

Lost Hand by Hen Peck. South Norwalk, Conn.—When Anthony Harzak, five-year-old boy, tried to take a tiny chicken from its mother, he pecked the boy's hand. Blood poisoning developed and the hand had to be amputated.

Social Forms and Entertainments

For Commencement Day. I find that many of the schools have commencement exercises very late in June and I have no many requests from teachers of small district schools who are remote from large towns and yet are more than anxious to have creditable closing days.

"Spring" should enter first and march to the front of platform and sing the first verse of the following song, which is easy to sing to the tune of "Swinging Neath the Old Apple Tree".

Happy Childhood's hours, With the budding flowers, With the warbling songsters In leafy trees;

Happy Childhood's hours, Singing all the day right merrily; Happy Childhood's hours, Singing all the year we are.

Happy Childhood's hours, Singing all the day right merrily; Happy Childhood's hours, Singing all the year we are.

Gloves for Trains. To me and my commuting friends this idea has proven of inestimable value, writes a contributor to the Ladies' World.

Walking Costumes—Our model is in mole-colored face cloth. The skirt is quite novel in cut, and is prettily trimmed at right side with satin-covered buttons.

Garden Party Dress—White crepe-de-chine and imitation Irish crochet lace are combined in this very pretty dress.

The skirt, which is of the crepe, is tucked at foot and has a short tunic of lace.

The bodices is of lace with tuck-crepe-de-chine each side front; the sleeves are also of crepe, with lace insertion running from neck nearly to elbow; the elbows are gathered into insertion bands.

Hat of old rose Tagel with soft satin crown, trimmed with a wreath of small pink flowers.

Materials required for the dress: 3 1/2 yards crepe, 1 1/2 inches wide, 1 1/2 yards insertion, 2 1/2 yards lace 1 1/2 inch.

SPRAY FOR PRODUCTION OF GOOD FRUIT

Bordeaux May Often Be Made Cheaply and Easily by Using a Pond for Water Supply and Mixing the Materials in Barrels.

(By C. C. WOODBURY.) The orchardist has at his command a variety of materials suited to the different insects and diseases which he has to combat. It is essential for results in spraying that the material used be selected with intelligence and with a definite foreknowledge of the pest to be controlled.

A superior kerosene emulsion may be made by using whale-oil soap in place of the common laundry soap. The whale-oil soap has some special insecticidal properties of its own.

Bordeaux mixture is the most generally used fungicide we have. The copper sulphate or blue vitriol is the active fungicidal agent, while the lime is added to prevent the burning of the foliage.

Don't mix concentrated solutions. If this is done, the secret of success is to put together as dilute solutions as possible. If a barrel (fifty gallons) of the Bordeaux is to be made, use three vessels in the making.

Paris green is used at the rate of six to eight ounces to each fifty gallons of spray materials. It should be mixed with a small quantity of water first. If used without Bordeaux mixture, two to three pounds of lime should be slaked and added to each pound of Paris green to counteract the leaf-burning effect of straight Paris green and water.

TO MAKE STANCHION DEVICES

Detailed Instructions and Illustration Will Enable Any Man to Arrange Convenient Bars.

To make the closing device take a number of blocks one inch thick and four inches long; bore a half inch hole through them edgewise, nail one to each of the stanchions, and one to each post forming the other side of the stanchion.

Take a three-eighths inch rope, cut it through the hole in the stanchion No. 1 and tie a knot; pull it through the block on the first post and measure to the next stanchion, tie another knot and pull through block, and so on to as many stanchions as you have. The stanchions should all be closed before tying the knots.

To make the opening device, fasten a ring in each latch and another a few inches above and half way between the rings on the latches. Take strong twine and fasten at the end No. 2 and then draw it through the latch ring and then the next ring above it, and so on to the end of the row. One pull will open or close any one of them the same as without the strings on them.

Rearing Ducks. The duck is one of those creatures that can be reared without water, but ducks will be more profitable and do better where they are allowed to follow out the lines laid down by nature.

Selecting Hatching Eggs. Great care should be exercised that breeding stock, young chicks or eggs for hatching be secured from flocks which are free from white diarrhoea infection.

Good Vegetables. Golden Bantam, sweet corn, Swiss chard, Golden self-blanching celery, purple eggplant, Kohi Rabi, White Japan muskmelon, Sweet Heat watermelon are all vegetables that are worth trying.

Unpopular Farming. "Scientific farming" is unpopular because it is misunderstood and often misapplied. But it is so simple and so easy to learn that the wonder is that it is not more used.

Gravel for Fowls. Sharp gravel should always be supplied to fowls that are kept in confinement.

Market Fowls Early. There is more profit in getting the fowls to market early. Prices are better, and then there is a saving in feed.

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

Published Every Thursday at Kerrville, Texas, by T. A. Buckner.

Entered in the U. S. Mails as second class matter at Kerrville, Texas, on Oct. 17, 1912 according to act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Tribute to Whiskey.

Dr. Wiley, the Government chemist, says that most of the so called bonded liquors are adulterated and the drinkers drink labels instead of whiskey. Labels are not very good food, but they are not as poisonous as whiskey and do not demoralize manhood. It cannot be questioned that to a very large degree whiskey demoralizes every man who makes it, sells it, or drinks it. It was admitted by a great lawyer in defending a man charged with violation of the liquor laws, that "from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm of the distillery until it empties into the hell of crime, dishonor and death, whiskey demoralizes everybody that touches it." The lawyer denied, of course that his client was guilty and blamed the government for permitting the manufacture and sale of the poisonous stuff. The pity of it is that it is made and sold for the money that is in it regardless of its admitted evil effects, and forgetful that it will prey on conscience when the pulse is low and the heart is weak. It is a pity, too, that the men of prominence who should set a good example to their own and their neighbors' children will encourage saloons by their patronage. But it is believed and hoped that this curse will soon no longer darken our land.

Holland's Magazine has instituted another Cleanest Town contest and is offering some very handsome prizes for the cleanest towns in Texas in certain classes. Kerrville can win one of these prizes easily as we are already rated very high among the clean towns of Texas. Our new streets will help wonderfully in the contest and if we will fix up our side walks and look after the alleys and back yards and do a little ornamental work in various ways, why we will stand a splendid chance to win a prize. Entry must be made by the first of July.

With the large new annex to the St. Charles Hotel going up, the completion of the four story brick Roller Mills building, our handsome new Sanitarium and Hospital, our splendid new stone school building, and the numerous new residences constantly under course of construction, Kerrville stands in first rank with the most progressive and prosperous towns in the State.

Already the summer visitors are coming to the Hill Country and it appears we are to have a larger number than usual to spend their summer outing on the banks of the Guadalupe where cool breezes, beautiful shades, pure water and splendid fishing are only a few of the many attractions.

Miss Edith M. Wills, editor of the Scientific Temperance Journal of Boston says, "When the American people fully realize to what extent disease and death are caused by the use of intoxicating liquors they will totally abstain from its use."

"Physicians who attended Col. Roosevelt after he was shot last fall testified that he could not have recovered had his blood been affected by alcohol."

When parents send their sons out into the world the silent prayer uppermost in their hearts is that they may be kept from wrongful influences, for they well know that it is the influences brought to bear upon them that will make or mar their early life. The saloon with its attendant evils is the worst of these influences.

Kerrville is justly proud of her Tivy High School. The closing term has been the best in the history of the school, 21 young men and young women having received their diplomas at this term. This is the largest graduating class that we have any account of from a town anything like the size of Kerrville in the entire state.

Harvesting is in full swing and the thresher men are getting ready to start their machines in a few days. The grain crop is far better than was anticipated, the grain being especially heavy but the straw short.

Henry George, the great reformer truly said: "Poverty deepens and wages are forced down when land, which is the source of all wealth is monopolized."

Monopoly and Competition are opposites. Monopoly seeks to destroy competition and competition seeks to end "rule or ruin" monopoly.

If you have a grouch, don't air it in company. Lay it away and let it rust out, and try smiling.

The goodness of a truly good man consists in his increasing as far as he can the goodness of mankind.

Double Wedding

Married, at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lamb, on Turtle Creek, June 1st, 1913, at 12 o'clock sharp, Mr. T. C. Lee to Miss Eva Lamb, and Mr. C. S. Childs to Miss Dollie Lamb.

Mr. Lee is the editor of the Harper Herald, the news circulator of Harper. Mr. Childs is our Carey, of Ingram, a noble boy. Miss Eva and Miss Dollie are two successful teachers of Kerr County, but have now settled down to one pupil each. It was a quiet affair, there being present A. M. Lamb and wife, F. B. Jetton and wife of Junction, C. Henderson and wife and Jess and Branch Childs of Ingram, and Rev. J. H. Jackson, who officiated.

The table just groaned with good things to eat, and we did it justice.

Two legal documents and a few words, and four hearts were made to beat as two. May joy be theirs. An Observer.

Cutting grain is the order of the day and hands are scarce.

Mr. Lew Baldwin's baby has been very sick for several days and is still very low.

There was a working at Lew Baldwin's Monday as he was getting behind with his crop on account of sickness. That was good boys. L. Leinweber went up Tuesday and cut his oats. He appreciated it very much.

Carey Childs and some more folks went over to Turtle Creek Sunday. But Carey was heard to say as he gave his old pony a rap with the whip, "Go on, old boy, this is your last trip."

Bro. A. P. Robb preached a fine sermon for the Ingram folks last Sunday at the Baptist church.

Carey Childs came in Monday night with his bride and they are domiciled at one of the Clark cottages. That night the young people serenaded them. Refreshments were served and all went away glad. Daffodil.

Commencement of Scofield School for Girls

The fourth annual Commencement of the Girls School conducted at Mountain Terrace by Miss Sarah Scofield was introduced by the Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. W. P. Dickey Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church. The presence of many friends and patrons and the musical program rendered by the school and the church choir made it an occasion of unusual interest.

On Monday evening the musical recital by the Juniors and the awarding of diplomas was the centre of interest at the College. After an earnest speech commending educational work, Senator Real delivered diplomas to Miss Meta Henke and Miss Millie Schwethelm.

Tuesday afternoon from 5:30 to 7, an appreciative audience entertained with a field day exhibition by the young ladies.

Wednesday evening a unique scheme of outdoor dramatic entertainment was presented on the lawn.

The year's work will be concluded by a reception at the School Thursday evening.

This concludes a year of fine work of this fine institution which is doing a splendid service to our community.

HOW THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH

Would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for All Rest of Medicine in the World.

Utica, Ohio.—"I suffered everything from a female weakness after baby came. I had numb spells and was dizzy, had black spots before my eyes, my back ached and I was so weak I could hardly stand up. My face was yellow, even my fingernails were colorless and I had diarrhoea. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am stout, well and healthy. I can do all my own work and can walk to town and back and not get tired. I would not give your Vegetable Compound for all the rest of the medicines in the world. I tried doctor's medicines and they did me no good."—Mrs. MARY EARLE SWINE, R. F. D. No. 3, Utica, Ohio.

Another Case.
Nebo, Ill.—"I was bothered for ten years with female troubles and the doctors did not help me. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and every month I had to spend a few days in bed. I read so many letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound curing female troubles that I got a bottle of it. It did me more good than anything else I ever took and now it has cured me. I feel better than I have for years and tell everybody what the Compound has done for me. I believe I would not be living to-day but for that."—Mrs. HIRSH GREENSTRAETZ, Nebo, Illinois.

Real Merit Has Made Bond's Liver Pills

a household word through the South.
We have spared neither time nor money in perfecting BOND'S PILLS for the cure of Headaches, Biliousness, Constipation, Malaria and similar ills. MERIT was our chief object. Not how cheap, but how good we could make them.

The extraordinary success of BOND'S PILLS is due solely to their MERIT, not to load and misleading claims of CURING EVERYTHING.

As often as not it is the consciousness of a lack, not of a possession, that prompts us to preach or to brag.

WILL RELIEVE NERVOUS DEPRESSION
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic. BOND'S PILLS are a sure relief to depression. For adults and children. 50 cents.

Barrie's Comfort.
It is said of J. M. Barrie that he is rather shy and retiring in manner and one of the "most enjoyable social functions" he ever attended was, it is said, a dinner in which he turned to his neighbor and asked: "Do you converse?"

"No, I don't," replied his neighbor. "Neither do I," exclaimed Mr. Barrie, comfortably.

Very Many Like Him.
Sometimes children are more observant than they are credited with being. Little Rob's mother, for instance, was telling a visitor how "masterful" another neighbor was in his home life when Rob, unnoticed beside her, put in his little ear. "I don't think Mr. Tate is so awful bossy, mamma," he remarked suddenly. "Course he does a lot of talking, but he never makes Mrs. Tate do a thing she doesn't want. I've noticed that."

Obedient Orders.
Murphy was a new cavalry recruit and was given one of the worst horses in the troop.
"Remember," said the sergeant, "no one is allowed to dismount without orders."
Murphy was no sooner in the saddle than the horse kicked and Murphy went over his head.

"Murphy," yelled the sergeant, when he discovered him lying breathless on the ground, "you dismounted!"
"I did."
"Did you have orders?"
"I did."
"From headquarters?"
"No, sir, from hindquarters."—La. dies' Home Journal.

MEMORY IMPROVED.
Since Leaving Off Coffee.
Many persons suffer from poor memory who never suspect coffee has anything to do with it.

The drug—caffeine—in coffee, acts injuriously on the nerves and heart, causing imperfect circulation, too much blood in the brain at one time, too little in another part. This often causes a dullness which makes a good memory nearly impossible.

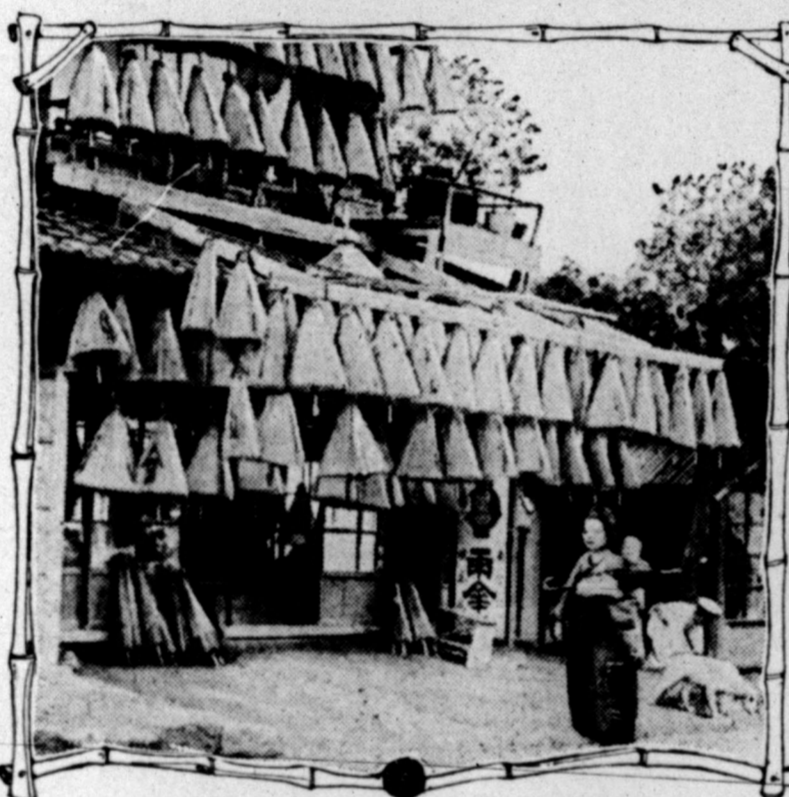

"I am nearly seventy years old and did not know that coffee was the cause of the stomach and heart trouble I suffered from for many years, until about four years ago," writes a Kansas woman.
"A kind neighbor induced me to quit coffee and try Postum. I had been suffering severely and was greatly reduced in flesh. After using Postum a little while I found myself improving. My heart beats became regular and now I seldom ever notice any symptoms of my old stomach trouble at all. My nerves are steady and my memory decidedly better than while I was using coffee."
"I like the taste of Postum fully as well as coffee."
Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."
Postum comes in two forms.
Regular (must be boiled).
Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.
A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.
Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.
"There's a Reason" for Postum.

Street Venders of Tokio

PASSING and repassing through the streets of Tokio are venders of every description. Early in the morning one's slumber is disturbed by their plaintive cries, and should the window of the house look upon a thoroughfare, there may be seen through the sudari a countless procession of hawkers, but they do not need to be seen to be recognized, for their characteristic cries echo and re-echo from morning until night.

Take the oichini, for instance, the strolling medicine vender. Often he is a musician with a tuneful accompaniment. Envious glances may be cast at his red and white epaulettes, his uniform and his cap. Many a youth, says the Japan Advertiser, might consider it the height of ambition to be able to go about the city in just the same manner and win smiles from all the young women in the streets through which he passes. But the oichini has all he can do to make his daily bread, and his lot is often very hard indeed.

The center for the distribution of this medicine is at the merchant's house, which is situated on the little island of Tsukiji, Tsukijima. The applicant who wishes to become a traveling apothecary must pay 5 yen as a guarantee to be faithful to the master. The next day he is given a cap, a suit of clothes and a pair of shoes. In addition he receives medicine to the value of 1 yen, and his breakfast is supplied every morning. For his other meals he must shift for himself and eat them in whatever part of Tokio he finds himself when he becomes hungry.

All the venders must assemble at the master's house in the morning and be ready to start out by 8 o'clock for the 808 streets of Tokio. The oichini sings a song which has for conclusion the expression oichini, or one, two, keeping step to the music of an accordion and walking stately and slowly. Whenever the street gamins hear his song they run after the oichini, just as the rats ran after the mad piper of Hamelin.

Song an Advertisement.
His song is an advertisement of his medicine. It is difficult to learn and often takes several days before the vender can master it. If he is not a success at singing the song he will be of no account as a vender, for the secret of his popularity lies in his rendering of the peculiar melody.

When you hear the Ra-uya, or repairer of bamboo pipes, in the neighborhood, it seems as though a miniature locomotive was letting off steam, for one peculiarity of the Ra-uya's trade is a cart which has in it a little furnace, a steam vent over which the pipe is placed to clean it thoroughly on the inside, and also through the roof of the cart a steam whistle.

For the privilege of pushing his cart through the streets the Ra-uya must pay three yen a year as tax. It takes a long apprenticeship to know all the tricks of the trade and no one who is not accustomed to this kind of mending can be a success. The number of Ra-uya is steadily on the decrease.

Curious Thank Offering.
The proprietor of a printing press at Ratlam has chosen a remarkable way of expressing his feelings at the victory's escape. He informs the public that "as an humble expression of gratitude and extreme pleasure for the above mentioned divine boon to India, and in commemoration of his excellency's presiding over the first meeting of the legislative council, the Press has resolved to reduce its printing charges by 25 per cent. for a period of one year from February 1, 1913." This practical demonstration of kind feelings has been acknowledged by the private secretary of the viceroy, and the proprietor of the Press in question hopes that others will show their loyalty in some similar way.—Times of India.

His Regret.
"I accepted an invitation to hear her sing last week, and now she has lost her voice."
"And you are glad you accepted the invitation?"
"No, I am sorry I didn't put it off for a week."

Daily Thought.
Let friends sweep gently to the heights; if it rush to it, it may soon run itself out of breath.—Thomas Paine.

GHOSTS OF LONDON

Temple Bar and Tower Favorite Haunts of Spooks.

Writer Advises Americans Who Seek Excitement to Spend an Evening With the Spectral Forms That Roam in Buildings.

London.—If the Americans who come to London find time hanging heavily on their hands, they might do worse than divert themselves with ghost hunting. It is widely known, of course, that the shade of the famous American lawyer, Judah P. Benjamin, haunts the picturesque old Temple, where, as one of the most successful "K. C.'s" in the history of the English bar, he once had chambers, and now we have it on the authority of one of the leading spook experts in this country that the Tower of London, where so many celebrities, from queens downward, lost their heads, is haunted, too, though not by as many specters as might have been expected, considering the wholesale killing that once went on there.

Thousands of our countrymen visit the "Temple" every year—mainly to see the grave of Oliver Goldsmith—and thousands more explore the grim old Tower, with its racks and dungeons and site of the scaffold where Queen Anne Boleyn, Lady Jane Grey and the Earl of Essex were beheaded, and perhaps if these visitors stayed on after nightfall, instead of going back to their respective hotels and boarding houses, and kept a sharp eye out, they might be rewarded, at the Temple, by a glimpse of the ghostly Benjamin, or maybe even of the ample shade of Doctor Johnson, who likewise lodged there, or, at the Tower, with a view of Henry VIII, the much-murdered, whose spectral form has been seen in the neighborhood at least once.

Ellet O'Donnell, who, of course, is one of the most eminent authorities on ghosts in England, tells about the Tower ghosts in the pages of the Occult Review, and an astonishing crowd they prove to be. One of them, which was "unsubstantiated," according to O'Donnell, the shade of Queen Adelaide, the wife of George IV., appeared to two persons, one of them a former keeper of the crown jewels at the Tower, as a "cylindrical figure, like a glass tube, about as large as one's arm, and seemingly filled with a dense fluid," and another in the shape of a "huge bear" which issued from underneath the jewel room door. "A soldier thrust at it with his bayonet, which, going right through it, stuck in a fit and was carried senseless to the guardroom, dying on the following day."

ELEPHANT GOES ON A SPREE
Baffling Problem Presents Itself to Captain on "Noah's Ark."

New York.—Captain Kuhls of the live-stock freighter Salamancia, known in shipping circles as "Noah's Ark," brings a puzzling problem to port with him recently. He put it this way: "What is it that one should do when a lady elephant gets a jag on whisky?"

The captain's troubles began two days before. Aside from a thousand monkeys' ring tails, mandrills, ruzus and plain monkeys, a zebra, ten lions and eight tigers, the ship had no passengers except nineteen elephants and nineteen honey bears.

Hans Tost, Karl Hagenbeck's traveling animal nurse, has found how to keep the honey bears quiet. He mixes whisky with boiled rice and keeps them drowsily jugged all the way across the Atlantic.

One day, when he was mixing up their sleeping potion, or meal, he set down a pannikin containing a gallon of whisky beside the cages and went upstairs to get the rice.

Amy, the veteran of the elephant herd, reached out a thieving trunk and sucked up all the whisky. Amy became scandalous. She lifted her voice in song. She winked flirtatiously at the zebra.

Poor old Amy—she is only about one hundred and twenty-five years old—couldn't sober up. She was wilder and more shameless every minute. The keeper finally rigged a hose to one of the ship's pumps and played cold salt water on her fevered brow. Amy slept fitfully.

SKIRTS TARGET IN CLASH
Ohio Traction Company in Retort When Women Ask Lower Steps on Cars.

Youngstown, Ohio.—The Woman's Club league of this city has petitioned the council to pass legislation compelling steps on trolley cars to be lowered within eight inches of the street. It is asserted the present steps are too high and women are embarrassed every time they board or leave the cars. It is believed the company will maintain that the present tight skirt is to blame and not the car steps.

WASHINGTON CITY SIDELIGHTS

Department "Where They Send Out the Seeds"

WASHINGTON.—That is the place where they send out seeds. This is the familiar formula which many Washington guides use in describing to tourists the wonders of the department of agriculture. This information was given through a megaphone by the conductor of the rubberneck wagon to his patrons as they passed in front of the old brick administration building. Officials and clerks within hearing of this brief description throw down their pens (or pencils) and make themselves famous by their newspaper articles and take on a look of disgust and injured pride. For so many thousands of strangers to be given the information or to get the impression that the feature of work for which the great department of agriculture has made itself famous is so notorious in the sending out of seeds is monstrous. One of the humiliating features of the whole business is that the tourists appear to like it. They look with the proper awe-stricken stare and seem to be greatly impressed with the department "where they send out seeds."

Rep. Johnson "Nearly" Had His Speech Printed

REPRESENTATIVE Albert Johnson, the handsome and vigorous member from Oregon, nearly had a fine speech printed in a faraway coast paper for which Harry Brown is the Washington correspondent. The word "nearly" is perhaps not used advisedly, for some of his speech got no nearer Portland than Chicago, and thereby hangs a tale.

Johnson used to be a newspaper man in this city. He was night editor and copy editor and reporter and all the regular things which are supposed to give newspaper men that broad and sympathetic view of large affairs. They are supposed to know when to spend fifty dollars on telegraph tolls for a speech on the tariff bill, and when to chop it off at a few words.

Johnson made a speech during the general debate on the tariff bill a few days ago. It was a good speech, taking it by and large, but the air was jammed full of speeches about that time and the only newspaper that was publishing them was the Congressional Record.

However, Mr. Johnson did not want Portland to go unfeared with crumbs from his table, so the evening following the great event of his speech he started out to find Harry Brown and tell him all about it. He couldn't find Mr. Brown until the next day.

"Say, Harry," he remarked, "I tried to find you last night, but I couldn't. I made a speech yesterday."

That did not impress Mr. Brown to any great extent, so Mr. Johnson continued to further explain: "And as I thought your paper would want it, I filed about 800 words of it with the telegraph company."

Brown winced. His paper had been advising him to cut down the tariff stuff to the bone, as most of it was the sort of soft pap that goes well in the country districts, but hasn't much circulation in a well regulated newspaper. Furthermore, Brown investigated and found that Representative Johnson had really filed 1,500 words—and the telegraph tolls to Oregon are enormous! He had visions of being "fired" by wireless, but he discovered to his great relief that his paper had chopped the speech in two before it was entirely relayed to Portland from Chicago, thus saving a lot of time and trouble and costing Representative Johnson a whole lot of money for half a speech to Chicago.

time go to the Philippines under a two-year contract. This provision is made to enable the government to ascertain whether or not the teacher will succeed in the new field and also to give the teacher a chance to find out whether or not there is a sufficient future to the service to warrant him in remaining. That there are only eighty-five vacancies this year out of nearly seven hundred positions for American teachers in the service, indicates, so the insular bureau officials say, that those already on the ground have the greatest faith in the future of the educational work in the islands.

The salaries of the teachers as well as the expenses of the trip, are paid from Philippine revenues. The federal government pays no part of the cost of education in the Philippines, which amounts to about $3,500,000 annually.

When these teachers get ready to return to the United States, either on leave of absence or by resignation at the end of two or three years of service, the Philippine government will pay them, in addition to salary up to the last day of service, an amount of money sufficient to pay their transportation home, either via Europe or the Pacific, and they usually take advantage of the opportunity to come home through Europe.

A fact not generally known is that the average term of service of American teachers in the Philippines is nearly six years, almost a year longer than the average service of teachers in this country. Those leaving at this

CAFÉ IN CONNECTION

TELLS OF VOLCANIC RANGES

Capt. E. M. Jack, R. E. Suggests That Mountain in Africa is Possible Source of Legends.

London.—At a lecture before the Royal Geographical society Capt. E. M. Jack, R. E. suggests that a range of volcanic mountains in Africa, where the natives worship snakes, is the possible origin of the old legends of the sources of the Nile. These mountains are the Mufumbiro, situated where the British, German and Belgian spheres meet. This great volcanic range is one of the most striking physical features in Africa. The old story of the Nile is well known. Its fountains were said to rise in the Mountains of the Moon and to flow into some great lakes and then to form one river. Since the discovery of the Ruwenzori the tendency had been to look on it as the origin of the legend. But Capt. Jack thinks that the Mufumbiro volcanoes have at least an equal claim. They are famed for miles around as "the place where there is fire." The lecturer gave some interesting details of the district and its inhabitants.

The religion of the people of the district took the form of Lubare or Nabingwe worship. Lubare was the common worship of Buganda and was the belief in a spirit living in some selected object, such as a tree or stone, or very commonly in a python. In the latter case the snake was enticed with milk and food to remain near the village and girls were ordered to attend to its wants. Nabingwe was a female spirit who lived underground, but often appeared among human beings, rapidly assuming various personalities, such as a child or an old woman, but always feminine. The spirit was usually malignant and caused death, illness, etc. There was also a belief among these natives in the return of the spirit after death. Miniature huts, with food placed inside, were frequently seen outside the natives' huts, and these were said to be for the spirits of the departed.

The region is covered by a sheet of lava stretching like a sea as far as the mountains of Bukika. It has decomposed to a large extent into a soil of great fertility, which is closely cultivated by the natives. The lava is honeycombed with holes and caverns, which are put to various uses. One of them was found to be a burying place, bodies being brought on biers and laid inside. Another formed a water reservoir, to which cattle were brought from many miles distant in times of drought. Many were used as places of hiding and refuge for men and beasts when alarmed or during raids.

Describing the series of beautiful lakes to be found in the region Capt. Jack said a peculiarity of these lakes was that none of them contained any fish. As a striking contrast to this was a small lake near Busuanda, near Mount Mikeno, which was so full of fish that the water seemed to be alive with them.

BOY ASLEEP IN MORGUE

Officers of Delaware State Hospital Put Him to Bed and Dog Goes Too.

Wilmington, Del.—A nurse at the State Hospital for the Insane at Farmhurst was surprised when on entering the mortuary chapel he found a fast asleep boy about eight years old fast asleep guarded by a collie dog which would not permit the nurse to approach within several yards of the boy. When the boy was finally aroused he said that his name was Naud Harmon and that he had been driven from home by his father. The boy said that he had been sleeping with his dog wherever he could find shelter. Superintendent Haucker of the hospital put the boy to bed, as he was suffering from the effects of exposure, and the dog jumped in bed with the boy. The little fellow pleaded so hard for his pet that the boy and dog were permitted to remain in bed.

Wants Divorce After 44 Years.

New York.—William H. Spooner, a prominent politician, is being sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Martha Spooner, whom he married in 1869. Spooner, who is also a lawyer, 65 years old, is accused of misconduct with Miss Agnes E. Rogers, his stenographer for 15 years, with whom he is alleged to have lived in the past few months as Mr. and Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Spooner said that for 11 years, prior to 1908, her husband compelled her to permit Miss Rogers to live in their home.

DON'T LET WRINKLES COME WHY TRIMMING ON LEFT SIDE

Use Preventive Measures to Keep Your Face Smooth, and Control the Emotions. Custom Now Universally Followed Goes Back to the Days of Chivalry and the Rapier.

I once heard a woman say: "The best way to treat wrinkles is to avoid getting them." This may sound absurd but it is true. Wrinkles are caused by bad facial habits. Laughing, crying, frowning or smiling will not make you wrinkled, unless you do one or the other habitually, then the face becomes "set." To keep the muscles of the face exercised will not give you wrinkles. Scowling and wrinkling the forehead when reading or studying, or when conversing, will, if continued persistently, soon show deep wrinkles in the forehead, and about the eyes. You can check your set of these habits and thus avoid acquiring wrinkles.

If the eyes are weak or overstrained it is easy to fall into the habit of drawing the forehead down in wrinkles about the eyes, thus giving yourself a cross look, that you probably do not desire.—Pressing gently the nerves around the eyes and stopping now and then to close your eyes will be very restful to them. If your eyes are troublesome, however, better consult an oculist.

Do not allow yourself to be tortured by shoes that are too small or uncomfortable clothing. Your comfort has more to do with facial expression than perhaps you realize.—Mme. Jeanne La Place, in the Woman's World.

FOULARD DRESS

This sweetly simple dress is of foudard with a pale grey ground, spotted with old blue. The skirt is trimmed above foot by a band of satin to match the blue spot. It is stitched along each edge. On the bodice a strap is used to edge the basque, collar and sleeves, and is also taken down each side of front in a line with edges of basque. Hat of pale grey Tassel, trimmed with large bow of old blue satin ribbon. Materials required: 4 yards foudard 40 inches wide, 1 yard blue for trimming.

Parliamentary Suspension. Sir Henry Lucy drops a hint from the "Cross Benches" in the Observer as to the "suspension" of members of the house—and the vagueness of the penalty. Can it be true that members get themselves named and suspended for themselves named and suspended on purpose to achieve a compulsory holiday? Big game, a week will make for modest comfort at Brighton or Eastbourne. The member of parliament is paid whether he is in the house or at Margate or in the Clock Tower. Budapest has a more drastic way. If the member is suspended he is fined 15 shillings a day. That teaches him to behave. Now that we pay our representatives we might make payment conditional on their representing us in the proper place.—London Chronicle.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crabs, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft fannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32 p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. 1, Boston," Adv.

As Bad as That? Mrs. C. C. C. was enjoying her first trip abroad. Her husband had recently acquired great wealth, and although she knew that her knowledge of society was vague, she did not wish others to ascertain the fact.

One evening she was invited to a box party at the theater. Seated next to her was one of the leaders in society, Mrs. Stone.

"I find the acoustics of the house very bad," remarked Mrs. Stone, "don't you?" "Yes, it does seem so," replied Mrs. C. C. C. "I understand it comes from a brewery in the neighborhood."

Exonerating the Kingbird. The department of agriculture has granted a certificate of good character to the kingbird, sometimes known in the rural districts as the bee martin, a species of fly catcher which inhabits nearly every part of the United States. The kingbird has been under indictment in many sections as a destroyer of bees and a foe of apiarists.

Convicts College Students.

More than fifty convicts are enrolled at the State Agricultural college at Manhattan, taking the various courses offered at the college. They are, so far as is known, the only convict college students in the United States. Few, if any, of the convicts have ever seen the college building, and it will be some time before any of them can see it, but nevertheless they are enrolled students doing regular work. All the convict college students are inmates of the United States penitentiary here. They do their class work in their cells and mail their lesson papers to the college for correction. Some of the convicts are studying agriculture, some civil engineering, others mechanics, and some are studying dairying. Nearly all of the students enrolled in the agricultural or dairy courses are men employed on the prison farm or in the dairy.—Leavenworth Dispatch to New York Times.

Tanbark as a Fuel. Perhaps the most important of waste fuels in the United States has been spent tanbark. A rough estimate would indicate that this material generated a few years ago an amount of steam that would have otherwise required the yearly consumption of about 2,000,000 tons of high grade coal. Yet this valuable fuel was at one time considered a mere detriment and an expense to the leather industry. It was disposed of by dumping it into rivers, filling in waste ground and by making roads with it, often necessitating the paying out of large sums for its disposition. This strikingly illustrates a case of how the improvement of a furnace converted a formerly supposed combustible into a valuable waste fuel of the auto-combustible class, and shows how an enormous waste was converted into an equally great economy.—Engineering Magazine.

GOOD ROADS FOLLOW FLOOD.

Ohio Catastrophe Promises to Result in Much Better Highways in That Section.

The truth of the old saying, "It's an ill wind that blows no one good," is no less well demonstrated, following the great flood that swept over Ohio and Indiana, than it has been after every disaster the world has seen. In the present case those who advocate the transportation of merchandise by motor trucks instead of by horse and wagon, or rail methods, are the ones who see a great good to come out of the flood, though they were no less sympathetic with its victims or prompt in coming to their relief than any others in the United States. It is the reconstruction of roads and bridges destroyed by the great sweep of waters that the motor truck advocates are to benefit, according to Vice-President G. W. Bennett of the Garford company of Elyria, O. With the work of rebuilding washed-out roads and bridges completed, Ohio and Indiana will have some of the best truck highways in the country, says Mr. Bennett, basing his statement on information lately received from Garford truck dealers in all parts of the flooded district.

Dr. Pepper KING OF BEVERAGES

LIQVID SUNSHINE. Scientists tell us that all space is an ocean of ether in which our solar system swims, and that all life, animal and vegetable, is derived from the sun's energy, transmitted to our planet by this ether.

Dr. Pepper is liquid sunlight. As the sun rises and governs the day, so should you govern your appetite. Eat and drink to build up the cells that promote cell building, not one that simply deadens the sensory nerves.
