Mrs. M. A. Anderson.

Mrs. M. A. Anderson died at the Kerrville Hospital-Sanitarium at 6 o'clock a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1917 after a lingering illness, surrounded by her only living children, Mrs. A. G. Morriss, Mr. G. D. Anderson of Wichita Falls, and Mr. Owen Anderson of Olney, besides her devoted daughters-in-law who had been so faithful to her during her long illness.

Mrs. Anderson, who was formerly Miss Ann McFadin, was born in Bowling Green, Ky., January 1847. She was the mother of nine children, only three of whom survive her. She came to make her home in Kerrville in 1882 and has been one of our noblest and most influential women, loved and respected by all. She had been a consecrated Christian and member of the Baptist church since she was fourteen years of age. She was always faithful in her church work and a real burden bearer. In her last hours she would speak of church affairs and gave evidence of deep concern for the Master's work. She called her loved ones about her and bade them good bye and went out to live with Him whom she loved above all.

The funeral service was conducted at the Baptist church at 3:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Rev. J. B. Riddle, her pastor, after which the body was taken to Morris Ranch for burial.

Soldier Boys Leave for Ft. Worth.

Company D, First Texas Infantry, Capt. Chas. J. Seeber commanding, who have been encamped here at the fair grounds for the past six weeks awaiting orders, left yesterday on the afternoon train in special coaches for Camp Bowie for further training. The company consists of 104 as fine soldiers as can be found in Texas, composed of the flower of the young manhood of Kerr and surrounding counties.

A large number of the relatives and friends of the boys gathered at the depot to see them depart and bid them goodbyes. The boys were showered with lunches as they were leaving. No one knows how soon our company will go to the front to help win the war in Europe, but no one doubts but that they will gain for themselves honor of the highest rank. Good bye, Company D. Our affectionate confidence goes with you in every battle and every test of manhood. May God keep and guide you.

A Great Baptist Association

The Medina River Association met with the First Baptist church in Kerrville August 3, and heard Rev. S. F. Marsh, of Junction, preach the introductory sermon. At nine o'clock Friday morning the association organized by electing J. B. Riddle Moderator, M. S. Osborne, clerk, Rev. S. F. Marsh, Corresponding Secretary, and Mr. T. B. Roebuck, Treasurer. On Friday night Rev. Thos. S. Potts, of San Antonio and of Memphis, Tenn., spoke on Sanitariums and the address was among the very best on a subject of this kind. Prof. Brown, President of San Marcus Academy, spoke in the evening on the educational interests of that school.

On Sunday morning Rev. T. S. Potts preached a great sermon on Love, which was followed by a fine collection on missions, which put our associational board out of debt for the first time in quite awhile. The matter of employing a missionary for another year was referred to the Executive Board of the association. This board will meet at Bandera in connection with the next fifth Sunday meeting in September 28th.

The next meeting of the Association will be held with the church at Medina.

The Baptist ladies served refreshments in the basement of the church and fed the visitors both at noon and night. The social features of the body were among the very best we have ever had. We will have our usual services next Sunday and you ought to be present.

J. B. RIDDLE, Pastor.

Red Cross Column

This column is given free for use of the Red Cross and is edited by officers of the local Chapter.

[Note—Application blanks for membership in the Red Cross may be obtained from Mrs. Geo. Morris, Chairman of the membership committee, at the St. Charles Hotel.]

The following is a letter recently received by the Secretary of the Red Cross:

"There has been some delay in the issuance of the Red Cross Magazine to more recent subscribers, but we are advised by the publishers of the magazine at New York that the magazine should hereafter be received regularly by those entitled thereto. If the subscribing members at Kerrville do not promptly receive the magazine, please report the names and addresses of any such persons and we will be glad to list the complaint with our publishers at New York.

The American Red Cross is intended to aid in the prevention and alleviation of human suffering. The original purpose for the organization of Red Cross societies was to supplement the medical services of armies in time of war. The great need, however, of a thoroughly trained and efficient organization, national in scope and permanent in character, to render assistance after great disasters, has been so well established that many of the Red Cross Societies have extended their functions to include relief operations in time of peace. Indeed, it has been proved that those societies which are most active in conducting relief and preventive measures in time of peace are best prepared to cope with the extraordinary requirements of war.

The Red Cross is required by law to make an annual report of its proceedings to the Secretary of War. This report is transmitted by the Secretary of War to Congress, where it is printed as a public document. The law requires that the accounts of the American Red Cross be audited annually by the War Department. This is the best possible assurance that the funds entrusted to the Society for expenditure will be properly and accurately accounted for.

W. L. Reynolds.

Mr. W. L. Reynolds, aged 70 years, died at his home in Kerrville Wednesday, August 30, 1917, at 7:00 o'clock p. m. Mr. Reynolds was a man of extraordinary good health and alert for his age, up to a few days before his death, when he was overtaken by a general breakdown and was only confined to his bed for one week. His noble wife, who survives him, and his son, Willie, who were the only members of the family with him at his death, nursed faithfully and lovingly to the end, besides providing the best medical aid and care that could be secured. He also leaves two other sons, Floyd, of Glenwood Springs, Colo., and Eugene of the U. S. Navy stationed in California.

Mr. Reynolds was a native of Pennsylvania. He lived also several years in Missouri before coming to Texas six years ago. Before coming to this place he resided at Alice where he and his wife conducted a hotel. He was indeed a good man and had many warm friends wherever known.

The funeral was conducted at the residence by Rev. W. P. Dickey of the Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Reynolds was a consecrated member. Interment was made in the Glen Rest cemetery Thursday afternoon.

The Glorious Rain.

After the longest and most distressing drought ever known to the oldest residents of this section, refreshing rains, varying from a veritable downpour in some places to light showers in others, have fallen the past week over a large area of west Texas. Kerr county received her heaviest rains Tuesday and Wednesday morning. The precipitation has ranged from a half inch to two and three inches. In Kerrville only about an inch has fallen. The farmers and stockmen are jubilant for it will give good range for the winter and put the ground in fine condition for fall planting of small grain.

J. D. Ferguson, Jr. Shot.

J. D. Ferguson, 14 years old, living in the eastern part of Kerrville, was seriously wounded by a shotgun in the hands of Bennett Smith, about the same age, Tuesday afternoon at about seven o'clock. The shot took effect about the left arm and shoulder and extended down below the waist. The size of the shot, as described by Dr. Williams who dressed the wound, were No. 4. While the wound was very painful it is not considered as dangerous. Bennett Smith and Mrs. Fannie Jackson were both placed under bond upon a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Softening Influence of Years.
There is something very beautiful in the softening influence of years on human character. While it is true that age is sometimes peevish, it is oftener true that men who have started on the down-hill stretch of life present their golden-ripe side to view, like a rich apple that has mellowed on the tree and taken its complexion from the sunshine that matures and beautifies everything in this lovely world.—Detroit Free Press.

Goats Rout Evil Spirits.
Welsh farmers often keep two or three goats among their fine herds of cattle. There is a tradition that the presence of goats helps to keep off evil spirits, and so saves the cattle from disease. In some parts of Wales the presence of a donkey is believed to have the same effect. A more prosaic reason is that a goat amongst cattle keeps vermin from breeding on their skins.

Gruesome War Relic.
Perhaps the most gruesome of all war relics was one of the first Ashanti war, in 1824, when Sir Charles McCarthy and 600 men fell into an ambush and were slaughtered to a man. The skull of the leader of the gallant 600 was reported to have been rimmed with gold, and used as a drinking cup by the kings of Kumasi for half a century.

Too Late.
My little Milton has a little playmate named Arthur, living in the next block, but I did not know that they had recently quarreled. One day I said to Milton: "You'd better go over and see your friend Arthur; I hear he's sick." To which he answered, rather sullenly: "Well, he ain't my friend now. He should have got sick sooner!"—Chicago Tribune.

Baby Words Rule Songland.
The simpler and clearer a lyric is, the more chance it has of getting across. To carry simplicity to its limit, words of one or two syllables are almost invariably essential to a popular song hit. The writer has to think in the same terms as the great mass of the people.—American Magazine.

Parent-Teachers Club Notes

On the afternoon of Sept. 5th the Parent-Teacher's Club of Kerrville held its first meeting after the summer's vacation.

The ex-president, Mrs. Wallace, opened the session with a hearty greeting to the club in its new working year, and introduced the new president, Mrs. G. M. Doyle, who then took the chair and made a brief address and an outline of the work for the coming year.

Prof. Jones then addressed the meeting setting forth the needs of the school for the present and the future, and pointing out ways in which the club can be most beneficial to the school.

Mrs. King's orchestra, Miss Molesworth of Austin, and Miss Garrett, helped, with instrumental music and song, to make the session interesting and delightful.

To all patrons and friends of the school the Parent-Teachers Club extends a cordial invitation to visit the meetings, and, better still, to become members and help in the support and upbuilding of the school.

We expect to, and are ready to do a lot of work the coming school year, and we want every patron of the school to feel it their special privilege to help in this work.

Commissioners Court.

A special session of the court was held Monday with a full board present. The principal matter taken up was the petition of a large number of farmers, business men and others, to have the matter of re-employing K. G. Baker as County Farm Demonstrator reconsidered. The proposition was that the county employ Mr. Baker and only pay $500 on his salary, which is only half what the county paid last year. The Federal Government will pay $1000 and citizens of the county $500 to make up the salary of $2000. The vote on this proposition was two for employing and two against, whereupon Judge Wallace broke the tie by voting to employ Mr. Baker for another year. Messrs. Karger and Crotty voted in the affirmative and Messrs. Wiedenfeld and Rodgers in the negative.

They also made final arrangements for the construction of an iron wagon bridge over Nichols hollow, near Ingram, to cost about $900.

The Boys at Camp Bowie are Faring Fine says Rene Dubus

The following letter from Rene Dubus to his homefolks here will be interesting to the friends of Co. D, First Texas Infantry, Kerrville's company:

Camp Bowie, Ft. Worth, Sept. 7, 3:10 p. m.

My Dear Dad and Mother:

Well, we are here after so long a time. We arrived here at about 2 p. m. yesterday and had to work like son-of-guns to put up our tents, but we are through with all that now.

Adolphe and myself and a few others went down to the bath house which, by the way, is A1. They have shower baths with concrete floors. We have already washed the clothes which we took off and have them all hung up on our tent to dry.

We certainly had a long tiresome ride. Seems like we rode all over Texas before we got here. We picked up troops and companies all along the route and by the time we got here it seemed that there was no end to our train.

All of our regiment is here except Co. "C," and they are expected to arrive tonight.

We didn't get to town yet but our regiment is invited to an entertainment tonight in town and we may all go.

Adolphe is getting along the finest kind. We both feel good after taking a good washup and shave.

They sure do feed a fellow up here. We get all we can eat and more too.

The bands play out here all through the day and so of course that helps to pass off the time.

The climate up here is about the same as Kerrville. The nights are nice and cool.

By the way, they gave us each a cot and a couple of blankets and believe me, the blankets are sure good ones too. They would retail for about $6.00 a piece down there. The cot is of the regular U. S. army and of course that is good too. They also gave each a rain coat and they are good stuff too. We are going to each get a bed sack tomorrow morning. A bed-sack, dear folks, is a little arrangement which when stuffed with hay and laid upon your cot makes a good mattress. Ha, ha! Tell me we can't get by. We also get a sack to put our clothes in and we are going to get another shirt and another pair of leggings tonight.

They do not drill here any more than we did in Kerrville. When the time comes for us to guard camp the whole company goes on, so you see, we all get the same treatment up here.

Dolph and I are in the same tent. Ft. Worth is sure an open town to soldiers. They invite us to everything. If you start to town which Dolph and I have had to do twice to go to the depot warehouse, some young "Jane" or other will come tearing up in her car and take you where ever you are going.

We get electric lights in our tents in a day or so. You see, dear folks, we are more than comfortable.

I expect we get a pay day soon, as some of the companies were paid off yesterday, and we are going to send it home as soon as they do. We had more than we could eat on the way out here. The good people of Boerne gave us enough cakes and sandwiches to do us for a week.

Well, dear folks I must close. With world's of love, your boy, RENE.

Red Cross Column

This column is given free for use of the Red Cross and is edited by officers of the local Chapter.

Now that the United States is in the war to see it through there is no more question about whether what you make is for our soldiers or for those of our allies. Supplies are being turned by the Red Cross into a vast common stock from which steady streams are flowing to all the forces we can properly help. As our country is making common cause with the other nations arrayed against Germany, the Red Cross could hardly let supplies accumulate here for our exclusive use when there is desperate need among the soldiers of our allies.

It was recently announced more than 1,000 children, some of them infants less than a year old, who had to be removed from a section of the war zone in France because of the danger from German gas bombs, are being cared for in a temporary shelter in a French city by the American Red Cross.

The American Red Cross has established a record for efficiency according to General Sarrail, commander in chief of the new allied forces on the Macedonian front, and British officials now have taken over the relief of the people made destitute in the recent fire.

Within twelve hours after the fire started Dr. Edward W. Ryan of the American Red Cross had forty-one soup kitchens in full operation and thereafter fed 2,000 daily. It was several hours before relief measures were under way.

The Kerrville Red Cross acknowledges receipt of $10.65, proceeds of the dance given by Mrs. King on September 8.

Dry Reading.

In the local option election in Dallas county, including the city of Dallas, held Monday the prohibitionists carried the election by 1952 majority. The city of Dallas with some 15,000 votes only voted wet by 700 votes. This the first large city to go dry in Texas and the largest city in the southwest.

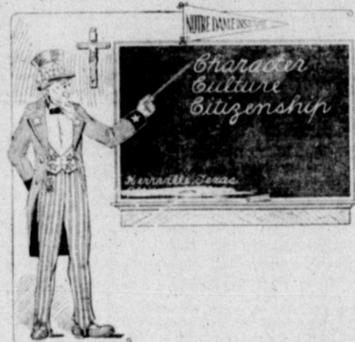

Gonzales county went dry last Saturday by one vote in the hottest contest ever before waged in that county.

This adds to the dry column two counties that have always been wet and extremely so. This added to the fact that in all other elections held lately in the State the wet vote has been materially cut down in some instances almost resulting in a dry victory makes the situation more and more gloomy for the liquor element, which seems to have had its day in Texas.
