NEW MUNICIPAL OFFICERS WERE ELECTED TUESDAY

A. T. Adkins Wins Out for Mayor;
Charlie Johnston and Hal Peterson
Are New Commissioners.

The city election Tuesday finally resolved itself into quite a lively contest for Mayor, A. T. Adkins winning over Otho Morris by thirty-nine votes out of a total of 338. Quite a number of women interested themselves in the contest, which added zest to the occasion.

The vote for all positions was as follows:

For Mayor: A. T. Adkins, 186; Otho Morris, 147; majority of 39 for the former.

For Commissioners: Charlie Johnston, 304; Hal Peterson, 204; Elmer Ruff, 88; Henry Story, 66.

For Water Works Board: A. B. Burton, 319; J. L. Pampell, 304; Scott Schreiner, 312; Robt. Saenger Sr., 315. Four were to be elected and there was no opposition.

The vote on the street improvement question was close, it being 114 for the measure and 105 against it. One reason for this close vote was the fact that many voted against the proposition under a misapprehension. Its adoption does not mean that the City Commissioners can pave anywhere or have sidewalks laid, unless the property owners of the district approve it.

STOCKHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS' MEETING OF WEST TEXAS FAIR

At a stockholders' meeting of the West Texas Fair, held at the Court House Saturday, April 1st, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year:

M. F. Weston, Chas. Real, W. G. Peterson, S. Eastland, Moritz Holckamp, A. C. Schreiner Jr., F. F. Real, J. H. Ward, Nathan Herzog, A. T. Adkins, Ally Beitel, Boss Peterson and Cecil Robinson.

After the secretary-treasurer's report was read the meeting adjourned.

The newly elected directors met immediately after the stockholders' meeting adjourned and elected the following officers:

J. H. Ward, president; Chas. Real, vice president; Ally Beitel, secretary-treasurer, and Cecil Robinson, assistant secretary.

The dates of the coming Fair having been set for August 29th, 30th and 31st by the Fair Circuit, organized at San Antonio last month by the secretaries of some fifteen County Fairs located in Southwest Texas, were accepted by the board of directors.

The president and secretary were authorized to arrange for the printing of the catalogues, ordering posters and other necessary advertising matter. Every effort will be made by the directors to have the coming Stock Show and Race Meet eclipse any former attempts, and they hope to receive the same hearty co-operation from the stockmen and the public in general, which has always added so greatly to the success of former Fairs of this Association.

CAMP RIO VISTA WILL BE OPEN FROM JUNE 13 TO AUGUST 13

Camp Rio Vista is a summer camp that has been established ten miles above Kerrville on the Guadalupe River by Herbert L. Crate on his 180-acre tract of land. It is intended to furnish out-door life and amusement for young men—or rather boys within the teens.

The camp site consists of twenty acres in the shape of a square, on one side being the river and on the other three sides the buildings, etc.

There is an irrigated truck patch to supply fresh vegetables all during the camp season, while every arrangement has been made for the comfort, entertainment and pleasure of the boys.

Mr. Crate is experienced in this work, having served for thirteen years with the Young Men's Christian Associations in Houston and Dallas, and the State Committee in Mississippi. He also has had join him here recently, W. B. Caldwell, who was with him in Mississippi, together with Mr. and Mrs. Melton, of the latter State.

Mr. Crate is a brother-in-law of John F. Reichert, who has been in Kerrville for some time and is well and favorably known.

Offices have been established in the building opposite the W. A. Fawcett Furniture Company, formerly occupied by E. H. Nichols, and Mr. Reichert also has an office in that building.

It is believed that Mr. Crate has started a camp that will prove very successful and do much to advertise this section as a health resort and play ground.

PRESBYTERIAN SPELLING CLASS WIN CONTEST WITH BAPTISTS

The third of the series of spelling contests of the grown-up Sunday School members took place last Saturday evening at the Methodist Church, resulting in the Presbyterian class winning over the Baptists.

Those remaining last in the Presbyterian class were Mrs. R. L. Scherbeck and Mrs. Harwood Miller, while Mrs. F. E. Garrett was the last of the Baptist class, and her husband was next, having retired just before Mrs. Garrett.

The Methodists were the first winners over the Presbyterians and then the Baptists won in the contest with the Methodists, the Presbyterians then winning over the Baptists, which gives each class a victory.

Rev. J. G. Timmons did the pronouncing at the last contest, with Dr. J. W. Carey, T. C. Johnston and Mrs. A. B. Williamson acting as judges, in which all of them gave satisfaction.

TWO WEEKS' REVIVAL STARTED AT BAPTIST CHURCH LAST SUNDAY

Rev. P. F. Evans of Fort Worth, an experienced and successful evangelist, began a two weeks' revival last Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Kerrville. He is assisted by a young singer, Billie Rife, from Western Canada, who is attending the Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth. He is an excellent singer.

Rev. J. B. Holt, the deacons and membership of the Baptist Church are heartily co-operating with Rev. Evans, so the indications are that a successful and interesting revival will be held. The rains interfered with the services the first of the week, but since then the attendance has been good and is growing.

There are two pianos and an organ, with senior, intermediate and junior choirs, so the singing is to be an important feature of the meeting.

WORK ON HIGHWAY PROGRESSING FAVORABLY, SAY COMMISSIONERS

Wednesday, the County Commission Board, composed of County Judge Lee Wallace, Commissioners Real, Peril, Wiedenfeld and Gibbons, met with Road Commissioners Renschel, Duderstadt and Schreiner, and also Road Engineer Simpson, to consider matters connected with the highway being built from the Kimble County line to Kerrville.

The work is reported to be progressing very favorably, and with more moisture in the ground and ample water for use by contractors, better time is expected to be made from now on. There has been allowed and paid on Section A, the sum of $24,142.82, and on Section B the amount is $12,912.86.

The County Commissioners and Road Commissioners have applied to the State for $18,719.90, as half of estimated cost for Section D, which is that southeast of Kerrville and toward Center Point.

FIRST ARTIFICIAL ICE IN WORLD MADE IN TEXAS

Brenham, Tex., March 29.—Charles A. DeWare says that the first artificial ice ever made in the world was manufactured at his old home, the little town of Jefferson, in Northeast Texas.

The inventors of the ice machine were Boyd and Scott, and they were helped in a financial way by Capt. J. M. DeWare, who built and operated the first artificial ice manufacturing plant in the world.

The plant was placed in operation in 1869 and the first ice placed on the market was three inches thick and three feet long and commanded a ready market. There were no refrigerators at the time and the ice was put into underground cisterns.

LAST MASSACRE BY INDIANS IN THIS COUNTY WAS IN 1878

Rev. O. W. Nolen of Louise, Texas,
Contributes Interesting Article on Incidents of Early Days.

Capt. J. B. Gillett of Marfa, Texas, in his book which he has just published, "Six Years With the Texas Rangers," gives an account of the Rangers being stationed for several months in Kerr County after the Indians murdered the Dowdy children above Johnson Creek in 1878. He writes about the incident as follows:

"In the fall of 1878 a man named Dowdy moved from South Texas and settled on the headwaters of the Guadalupe River in Kerr County. His family consisted of himself, wife, three grown daughters, a grown son, and a young son 12 or 14 years old.

"Mr. Dowdy owned two or three thousand sheep and was grazing them on some fine upland pasture above his home. He contracted for his winter supply of corn, and when the first load of grain arrived at the ranch the three girls walked out half a mile to where the sheep were grazing to stay with their younger brother while the elder returned to the ranch to measure and receive the corn.

"When young Mr. Dowdy returned to the sheep an hour later he was horrified to find that his three sisters and his little brother had been massacred by a band of roving Indians. From the signs on the high bluff nearby the sheep and the herders had been under observation by the Redskins for some time and, seeing the only man leave, the Indians descended upon the defenseless girls and boy and killed them.

"As there was no Ranger company within one hundred miles of Kerr County at the time, a party of frontiersmen quickly gathered and followed the murders, but after pursuing them for nearly two hundred miles the posse lost the trail in the rough Devil's River country.

"Kerr County then called for the Rangers, and General Jones ordered Lieutenant Reynolds to proceed to that county and go into camp for the winter at the Dowdy Ranch.

"This descent upon the Dowdy family was the last raid ever made by the Indians in Kerr County, and was perhaps the most heart-rending. We herded our horses that winter on the very ground where the unfortunate Misses Dowdy and their brother were killed. At the time they were mired in the mud and their bodies were from a recent rain, so one could see for months afterward where the poor girls had run on foot while the Indians charged on horseback. I remember that one of the young ladies ran nearly four hundred yards before she was overtaken and shot full of arrows by a heartless hedskin.

"These murderers were probably Kickapoo and Lipan that lived in the Santa Rosa Mountains, Old Mexico, and frequently raided Southwest Texas, stole hundreds of horses and killed many people.

"While guarding their horses on the ground where the Dowdy family was killed the Ranger boys built a rock monument eight or ten feet high to mark the spot where the victims fell. "Lieutenant Reynolds kept scouting parties in the field at intervals throughout the winter but, like lightning, Indians never strike twice in the same place. The winter of 1878-79 was the quietest one I ever spent as Ranger. Kerr County was pretty well cleaned of outlaws and we made fewer arrests that season than ever before.

"The Rangers encountered but one real bad man in Kerr County. His name was Eli Wixon, and he was wanted for murder in East Texas. It was known that Wixon would be at the polls of the county precincts to vote on election day, November, 1878, so Lieutenant Reynolds sent Corporal Warren and Privates Will Banister and Abe Anglin to arrest Wixon.

"Corporal Warren found his man at the polls and lost no time in telling Wixon what he was there for, and ordered him to unbuckle his belt and drop his pistol. Wixon hesitated and finally called on his friends to protect him from the Rangers. The crowd came to his relief, and for a time it looked as if there would be trouble. Wixon abused the Rangers, called them a dirty set of dogs, and dared them to shoot. Corporal Warren was brave and resolute. He told Wixon his abuse did not amount to anything; that the Rangers were there to arrest him and were going to do it. The corporal warned the citizens to be careful how they broke the law and if they started anything he declared Wixon would be the first man killed.

"Then, while Banister and Anglin held the crowd back with drawn Winchester, Warren disarmed Wixon, grasped his bridle reins and led him away without further trouble. Lieutenant Reynolds took no chances with that sort of a man, and as soon as Wixon was in camp he promptly handcuffed and shackled him. This usually took the slack out of all so-called bad men and it worked like a charm with our new prisoner."

The Lieutenant Reynolds that Captain Gillett refers to was N. O. Reynolds who died at Center Point just a few weeks ago, and mention of whose death was made in The Mountain Sun at the time. After the above narrative in his book, Captain Gillett relates that he was sent down to round up a band of thieves on Devil's River, and that when he returned to his command stationed in Kerr County he learned that Lieutenant Reynolds had resigned and left the company, and he says regarding the incident:

"As soon as I arrived I walked to the lieutenant's tent to make my report. I was met by First Sergeant Nevill, who told me that Lieutenant Reynolds had resigned and left the company. At first I thought he was only joking, but when I was convinced that the lieutenant had really gone I was shocked beyond measure. The blow was too strong and sudden for me, and I am not ashamed now at 65 years of age to admit that I slipped out of camp, sat down on the bank of the Guadalupe River and cried like a baby. It seemed as if my best friend had gone forever. Reynolds had had me transferred from Coldwell's company to his own when I was just a stripling of a boy. As soon as I was old enough to be trusted with a scout of men and the vacancies occurred I was made second corporal, first corporal and then second sergeant."

"I was given the best men in the company and sent against the most noted outlaws and hardened criminals in the State of Texas. Lieutenant Reynolds gave me every chance in the world to make a name for myself, and now he was gone. I felt the loss keenly.

"I feel sure the records now on file in Austin will bear me out when I say Reynolds was the greatest captain of his time, and perhaps for all time. The State lost a matchless officer when "Maggie" Reynolds retired to private life. After leaving the Ranger service he made Lampasas his home and served that county as its sheriff for several terms."—Contributed by Oran Warner Nolen.

COAL MINERS OF NATION WENT OUT ON STRIKE 1ST OF APRIL

The half million union coal miners and 100,000 or more non-union went out on strike last Saturday, closing down nearly all the mines in this country. There is estimated to be enough coal on hand to last for sixty days or possibly ninety, if weather is favorable.

The miners claim that the coal operators will not meet with them and adjust differences, while the operators state that the miners violated their agreement.

The Administration is pursuing a hands-off policy for the present, but Congress is taking cognizance of the situation and measures, resolutions, etc., are being introduced and considered to control the problem. The miners want the Government to take over the mines.

KERRVILLE ATHLETICS OPEN 1922 SEASON BY WALLOPING VISITORS

A goodly number of grandstanders witnessed the one-sided contest between the Athletics and the Camp Stanley Independent team last Sunday.

Secure from whatever the clouds might do, because of the new roof on the pavilion, the fans enjoyed two hours of varying baseball. The playing was from weird to the spectacular.

The home boys fell upon Pitcher Jordan for five runs in the first inning, which made the game safe at all times. They built the total to twenty-one during the remaining innings.

In the meantime, Barry held the visitors to nothing and hardly that for six innings, when Renschel was substituted. Three runs went to the soldiers in the seventh because of wabbling support given "Slim," and two hits brought two more over in the eighth.

The Athletics batted round in the first, sixth and seventh innings.

Amberson secured the first put-out of the season—a fly from Maffe's bat to center.

Captain Holchak made the first hit and stole the first base for the year's collection. He also made the first home run, in the sixth, and was followed by Barry in a similar stunt in the same session. Henke put one over the fence in the seventh.

Charley Kuesel staged a comeback at second after a season's lay-off. Those new uniforms looked too good to be passed up, and Charley drew one. Well, so's he keeps it clean it's all right.

Henke forgot he had on a nice new "uni" and hit the dirt for a long slide into second.

Lineup:

How the runs were scored:
Camp Stanley .....000 000 320—5
Athletics .....500 107 71—21

Next Sunday at 3:30 p. m., the Athletics will hook up with the Richter Bakery team, all the way from the Alamo City. REPORTER.

Raymond Phelps and R. L. Burney of San Antonio were here last Friday on business connected with the building of the new units of the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium.

DISTINGUISHED AMERICAN LEGION WORKER TO VISIT AT KERRVILLE

Mrs. E. Clinton Murray, State president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will arrive Saturday to be the guest of the Legion Auxiliary here. Extensive preparations are being made for entertaining Mrs. Murray, as it is an honor to have a woman who occupies a position of such responsibility pay a visit to our city.

At 1 o'clock Saturday, a luncheon will be given for her at the St. Charles Hotel. At 3 o'clock a meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Mason, followed by a drive to the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium, where Mrs. Murray will meet and speak to the ex-service men.

Sunday morning she will be taken to Dr. Thompson's Sanatorium, Hillcrest and other places where ex-service men are located.

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the executive board will meet with Mrs. Murray to outline the work for the future, and at 3:15 she will be escorted to the train by a committee from the local organization.

School Trustees' Election

Last Saturday an election for three school trustees of Kerrville was held, resulting in the following vote:

S. Eastland, 166; J. A. Jackson, 165; Geo. A. Shumaker, 131; F. F. Nyc, 31.

The candidacy of Mr. Nyc was not made known until Saturday morning, and his name was not on the printed tickets, but had to be written.

The vote is said to have been larger than is usual at the school elections.

The holdover school directors are: Dr. E. Galbraith, J. H. Ward and J. D. Bowden.

New School Board Organizes

Tuesday night the new School Board organized by the election of Dr. E. Galbraith as president; John H. Ward, vice president; J. D. Bowden, secretary, and J. A. Jackson, treasurer.

A. E. Self and R. L. Scherbeck, retired, which they were glad to do, as part of the time the job has been a little strenuous, and as it is a thankless task, it was relinquished by them with delight. They served faithfully and in a manner they thought best for the general good of the school interests.

MAY FESTIVAL

With the return of Miss Angeline Kemper from San Antonio, the Junior Sewing Circle has resumed its weekly assembly in the Rectory. The many pieces of fancy work and basket weaving are intended for one of the booths at the big May Festival, scheduled for Saturday, May 6th.

On the previous Saturday, April 29th, the Notre Dame pupils will give their principal entertainment of the current scholastic year. If the weather does not interfere, this program will be given outdoors, with Washington Hall annex for stage setting.

The Harmony Circle at our musical conservatory held a lively quiz contest on piano studies. Highest honors fell to Velma Brown, with Ruth Nyc a close second. Among the Minims, the first prize was won by Imelda Boudreaux.

Golden Rose

Since 1882 Notre Dame University has imitated a papal custom observed on Laetare or mid-Lent Sunday. In Rome, on this day, the sovereign pontiff blesses a golden rose which he bestows on some European ruler in recognition of his defense of Christian principles. In lieu of a rose, the Notre Dame faculty awards the diamond "Laetare Medal" to some distinguished layman or lay woman of this country who has won National prominence in his or her walk of life. Thus nearly every profession has been honored. This year the recipient was Chas. P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor under Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. Although born in Illinois, Mr. Neill spent much of his youth in Austin, Texas, and entered the State University prior to completing his collegiate course at Notre Dame. The originator of the Laetare Medal, called "The Golden Rose of America," was Prof. James F. Edwards, a history instructor of Father Kemper at his Indiana Alma Mater.

Santa Rosa Twins

The death of the joined twins, Rosa and Josefa Blazek, reminds our nuns of a marvelous operation performed on December 3rd, 1917, in their San Antonio hospital by the Mexican surgeon, Dr. A. Urrutia. For several summers the elder daughters of Dr. Urrutia spent their vacation months at Notre Dame Institute. In this remarkable case, Guadalupe and Josefa Hinojosa were united at the breastbone and had a common liver and heart sack. The Mexican doctor succeeded in making the separation and saved the life of Josefa, who is still in perfect health and undeformed, in her native country.

Last year our Sisters at Santa Rosa Infirmary took care of 4,586 patients, of whom 1,700 were entirely charity cases, and in addition provided 5,200 free meals to other indigent people. The teachers at Notre Dame Institute provide nourishing lunches or full meals to all pupils whom they consider underfed and deserving, regardless of what their religious affiliation may be. No record of this huge charitable undertaking is kept, so as not to dissuade or humiliate the needy ones.

Elise Dacote was glad on Sunday to welcome her sister, Belle Frances, and her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludger Dubroc, who will aid Mrs. Anglique Duocote in the management of Schofner's Hotel.

HEAVIEST MAN IN WORLD IS NATIVE SON OF TEXAS

Farmersville, Tex., April 1.—Fred Brockelman, Pathe News official cameraman of Texas, and C. J. Kaho, staff cameraman for the Fox Film Corporation, were here Friday and made pictures of Sam Harris for their weekly news service. Harris is said to be the heaviest man in the world, his actual weight being 661 pounds. He is 6 feet 2½ inches tall, measures 76 inches around the waist, 48 inches around the thigh, 24 inches around the calf of his leg, and is 49 years old.

Harris was born and reared on a farm three miles south of town, and is a grandson of the late Jim Harris of Terrell, who was known at one time as the cattle king of Texas. He is married and is the father of seven children. For eight years he was city marshal of this place and during that time carried a weight of about 400 pounds. At the age of 35 he began to take on flesh, and moved to his farm, in hopes of reducing his weight. However, the outdoor exercise of the farm seemed to add to, instead of reducing his avoirdupois, and in a short time he reached his present weight.

For the last five years Harris has been connected with a circus, spending his winters here with his family. Pictures were made of the big fellow in different positions and in motion, and will be shown throughout the United States.

The Trees That Understand

They tell us all from far and near that we should plant out many trees—the big pecan, our Texas tree—the hardy oak and walnut tree and many, many more than these to keep traditions of the forest with us, yet unless in years to come we might forget the lessons taught us by the trees.

But when I think about big trees that stand with stately mien and make me think of what I've heard of some old king—I think about the trees I used to know up in the hills of Kerrville land—those green, green forest trees I used to know, and somehow understand!

"Trees sense the moods of those they know," a naturalist doth proclaim—you may shake your head, but I believe him just the same. How do I know? Why, when I go back to the sunny vales between the hills—the trees when I get there all wave their leaves at me and seem to say, "We love you still."

I can close my eyes and plainly see the trees on the roads of yesterday. Oh yes, I'm for forest traditions yet—we will set out new trees "lest we forget"—a tall, tall pine or a giant pecan or a boisd'arc tree, but I'll think back of the woodland aisles where I romped and played when a happy child. I'll think back of the trees of Kerrville land that love me still and understand!

How do you know, did you say? Why, when I go back to the sunny vales among the hills the trees all wave their leaves at me and seem to say: "We love you still."

His Neighbor's Wife

By DOROTHY WHITCOMB

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union

Elmer held Watson guiltless of his innumerable offenses against him because of Watson's wife.

In the southwest, where men are quick to avenge insult, Watson dwelled unharmed, mouthing imprecations against Elmer, holding him up to the scorn of the township.

The men were neighbors. Elmer, on his arrival at Westwood, had gone to call upon his neighbor to talk over their boundaries. But he found Watson in a drunken stupor and a sad-eyed girl of twenty-two cooking in the wretched cabin.

"Mrs. Watson?" asked Elmer, doffing his hat. "I am Elmer; I have taken the neighboring range. I came to talk over—" Then he paused in embarrassment and saw the wounded pride on her face.

"Mr. Watson shall see you tomorrow," said the girl quietly, and Elmer withdrew, wondering and dismayed that such a girl should be bound to such a man.

He halted at the back of the cabin to fix his boot. Watson, thinking that he had gone, sat up on the couch.

"You—" he yelled, uttering a vile oath. "I've trapped you at last. You thought I was sleeping, didn't you, and that you could bring that man into my home! I know that you've been meeting him while I was tending sheep on the range. I'll—"

He staggered across the cabin toward the girl. Elmer strode back into the cabin. Watson was standing over his wife in an attitude of impending assault. Elmer took him by the shoulders and ran him back across the room.

"I don't believe in interfering between a man and his wife—ordinarily," he said. "But if you ever lay a finger upon this lady I'll shake your teeth down your rum-soaked throat, you bound. Savvee?"

Watson fell back with a groan and Elmer, releasing him, departed.

He met Mrs. Watson in town next day and was relieved to see that she bore no marks of violence. She nodded very slightly as he passed him.

He learned something of her story a few days later from some of the townspies. Emmeline Watson had been married to her husband six months before they moved west from St. Louis. She was the orphan daughter of a famous architect who had killed himself in shame at his impending bankruptcy. Ignorant of the world, she had fallen a victim to the coarse, good-looking traveling man who had told her he loved her. They were married; six weeks later she learned that Watson was a drunkard and an ex-convict. She had prevailed on him to go west, to make a new start.

At night, lying in his lonely cabin, Elmer thought of Emmeline. His passion drove him forth to mount his horse and gallop furiously across the ranges. He turned his horse toward Watson's cabin and then, irresolute, reined in upon the top of an acclivity. In the south a thin column of smoke was rising. It was the first onset of a forest fire. He galloped hastily toward the place.

The sun rose as he rode, and long before he reached the spot the smoke had become a hell of flame. Already the tree-tops were leaping wires of flame when Elmer drew bridle at Watson's home.

It was empty. Elmer shouted with joy. Doubtless the fugitives had been warned in time. They must have fled north along the open range toward Westwood. He turned his tired nag's head and spurred him relentlessly.

The animal sniffed the breeze, laden with smoke and flying sparks, and galloped madly for safety.

Then out of the blind smoke came a cry. It was Emmeline's voice. It seemed to come out of the smoke wrack like the cry of a child that seeks its mother—desperate, hopeless, and weary. He shouted.

"Emmeline! Emmeline!"

An instinct had guided him aright, for, though she did not call in answer, he found her.

She was bending over a flame-blackened thing that lay in a little hollow among the pastures. Elmer saw at once that Watson was dead.

Emmeline Watson looked up. She seemed to come to her senses.

"My husband is dead," she said slowly. "It is judgment. He tried to set fire to your cabin last night and burn you to death. He fired the cabin and the forests. But God saved you."

He ran back for his horse and led it to where Emmeline stood. He swung her to the horse's withers and mounted behind her. A few minutes later and they had left the flames behind them. Elmer bent over Emmeline.

"We are safe now," he said. "Emmeline!"

But though she lay impassive in his arms he knew that the chain was broken and that life would be fair for them thenceforward.

Clear on That Score.

"So you played golf on earth?" asked St. Peter of the applicant for a harp and a halo.

"Yes."

"Hum, I'll have to look into your record a little more closely."

"I think I know what is in your mind," said the applicant, "and I can truthfully swear to it in any language."

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

HOLY WEEK

The proximate preparation for Easter began last Sunday, known as "Passion Sunday," and was emphasized by covering the crucifix and Calvary group with a violet cloth, emblematic of sorrow and penance.

The coming Sunday is known as Palm Sunday because it commemorates Our Savior's triumphal entrance into Jerusalem when the people strewed palms and olive branches before Him.

On Maundy Thursday is observed the anniversary of Our Lord's Last Supper and His institution of the sacrament of Holy Communion.

The month of March was kept with great fervor and religious piety. In St. Mary's parish alone there were 1,233 communions, and 181 adults complied thus far with their Easter precept.

Good Friday Observance

The beautiful Christian custom and duty of keeping holy the anniversary of Our Savior's crucifixion for the sins of all mankind will be observed particularly at 3 p. m., when the Way of the Cross will be made in the Convent Chapel.

The question of conducting this campaign was discussed at the meeting of the Parish Auxiliary last Friday. In substantiation of this movement the proposition quoted from The Mountain Sun.

Funeral of Mrs. Aubey

After suffering many years with an incurable stomach cancer, Mrs. Horace Aubey was finally called to her eternal reward on Saturday, April 1st. She and her husband had come here in an invalid condition from Beaumont about three years ago, and made their home beside Tom Frayne's store.

On Friday the infant daughter of L. W. Laughman was buried in Glen Rest Cemetery. The little angel was born two days previously in Secor's Hospital, where it was baptized and received the name of Anne. Ben Smith directed the funeral, and was helped by Mrs. Ben Smith of Elizabeth, La., an aunt of the deceased child.

Another adult convert was received into Mother Church on Tuesday and made her First Holy Communion on the subsequent day. She was an Oklahoma High School graduate and readily absorbed the Biblical training preparatory to her reception.

Soldier's Body to Arrive

A telegram from the Brooklyn naval authorities, dated March 30th, notified Peter Lemos that the body of his soldier brother, Francisco (No. 1,488,072) had been received on our shores. Officers awaited telegraphic instructions and pursuant to them will send the hero's corpse to Kerrville for interment in the family lot.

A funeral becoming to one who has shed his life's blood for our flag will be arranged at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church. All sailors and soldiers of the World War are invited to participate in this tribute of respect to their fallen comrade. It is premature to indicate the program, but in all probability it will include a public funeral parade and a brief address by the new Mayor.

Last Sunday a nephew of Francisco Lemos was baptized and received the name of Peter. He is the son of Donaciano Espinosa. A sister of the slain soldier is convalescing in Secor's Hospital.

Another funeral of the past week took place on Friday from the Mexican Church when Florencia Martinez was accorded the solemn obsequies of her faith.

Personals

In San Antonio, last week, occurred the funeral of Miss Annie Reif, whose brother, Louis, used to live here and follow the painter's trade.

Jess Bullard, yard-man at Dr. Thompson's Sanatorium, went to Sinton to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law.

At the Legion Hospital we had the following Sunday visitors from San Antonio: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Langlinais and Miss Florence, Mrs. A. W. Fuessel and Dan Collins Jr.

Joe Jaraczski completed his work at the Soldiers' Sanatorium and returned to his family in Houston. Falling a victim to the flu, Ed. Walsh went to San Antonio until he recuperated.

Miss Margie Farrish at the janitor's residence, "Portunuela," entertained her friend, Eleanor Sanchez, for whom she will be bride's maid in Easter week.

Felix Staudt came from Dallas to bring home his wife and their new baby daughter.

Mrs. Pearl Granes is spending the week in the Mission City.

Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of back-ache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little meat, take things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

J. GRADY TIMMONS

On last Tuesday the Woman's Missionary Society met in regular mission study. The lesson was conducted from the book, "Women and Missions," and proved very helpful.

The Woman's Missionary Council for the entire church is now in session at the Travis Park Church, San Antonio. Mrs. Comporette went there Thursday of last week to be present during the sessions, and this week several more ladies will go.

On Wednesday night of last week at 8:54 o'clock, Monroe Stoetzer passed out of this life and into the life of glory. He had just passed his 19th birthday and few lives suffer as much as he did in the short period of time in which he traveled this globe.

On Wednesday night of last week at 8:54 o'clock, Monroe Stoetzer passed out of this life and into the life of glory. He had just passed his 19th birthday and few lives suffer as much as he did in the short period of time in which he traveled this globe.

The program for next Sunday is as follows: Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Preaching service at 11 o'clock. Subject: "The Depths of Mercy." Junior League meets at 3:30 p. m. Senior League at 7 p. m.

There will be no preaching service at the evening hour due to the fact that the revival will be in progress at the Baptist Church. Let us all go and be with them and help with them in all things for the Coming of the Kingdom.

God and Geometry

There was a Texan once who could not bring himself to believe in God. One day while reading in his garden he came across this sentence: "God works according to the rule of geometry."

It was not a sermon that converted him, a sermon in a man-made pulpit never could have converted him, it was a sermon in God's nature and preached from a pulpit in God's garment that wrought the change.

On last Tuesday the Woman's Missionary Society met in regular mission study. The lesson was conducted from the book, "Women and Missions," and proved very helpful.

The four gospels will be published in weekly installments of about 3,000 words, Arthur J. Carruth, managing editor of the State Journal, announced. The Weymouth text of the New Testament, a translation in everyday English, will be used throughout.

In a recent address to journalism students at Washburn College here, Dr. Sheldon declared the newspaper publishing the Bible serially would not only give its subscribers an opportunity to read the most interesting story in the world, but would render an important service in developing a taste for Bible literature.

Dr. Sheldon is the author of "In His Steps," and numerous other books dealing with practical Christianity. He is a thorough believer in the power of the press and has advocated the establishment of religious dailies for dissemination of Christian ideals.

Among the Presbyterians

Last Sunday was the close of the church year in the Presbyterian Church, and was a day of notable interest in the Kerrville church.

The Recognition Service was very impressive, at which thirty new members, twenty-two of whom had joined on profession of faith and eight by letter during the last quarter, were publicly welcomed by the congregation.

After this the report of the year's work was read, which indicated that the church has a complete organization to care for all of the membership and prosecute all the departments of church work, and that the church has during the year met all its obligations to reach the Standard of Excellence; has 269 members in the Sunday School; had added 30 per cent to its membership, and is in a vigorous condition in all its activities.

All these encouraging facts made the observance of the Lord's Supper, which followed, an unusually solemn and gracious occasion. The Presbytery of Western Texas, of which this church is a member, will meet next week at Corpus Christi, and Dr. W. P. Dickey and Ally Beitel will attend to represent this church.

A special service on Young People's Work has been arranged for the Kerrville church for the morning of the 16th.

REVIVAL MEETING

Everybody is talking about the meeting. Bro. Evans is here. Billie Rife is here. The services last Sunday were splendid.

The whole front of the church has been rearranged. Come and see how you like it.

Preceding the evening service we are having three prayer meetings. One for young people of the junior and intermediate ages under Billie Rife.

We want this meeting to help and bless everybody. Come and bring your family and friends. Services at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

The spelling match last Saturday night at the Methodist Church was interesting and stimulating. Both sides did good spelling. The Presbyterians won. Each church has won and lost, so we are all even.

Now come on, let's go to the revival! Tivy School Notes

The baseball boys played Fredericksburg last Saturday at the local Ball Park and were defeated, 3 to 2.

This week all pupils are busy with their six weeks' tests. Six High School girls were entertained by their Sunday School teacher Tuesday evening, and an enjoyable time was spent.

The girls of the High School are playing baseball now since the basketball season is over, and they are coming along fine.

ASK FREIGHT REDUCTION ON CATTLE SHIPMENTS

Washington, D. C., March 29.—Representatives Hudspeth and Bones and Attorney Cowan for the National Cattle Raisers' Association and others today asked Chairman McChord of the Interstate Commerce Commission to secure the railroads a reduction of 20 per cent freight rates on cattle shipped from the Southwest.

This would amount to a reduction of from $8 to $20 per car. After hearing extended argument McChord announced he favored the reduction and will ask the railroads to agree to the cut. The matter probably will be settled within a few weeks.

Hi-Y Club

The third regular meeting of the Kerrville Hi-Y Club was held at the Queen Theatre, Tuesday evening, April 4th. On account of the films not arriving, the stereopticon lecture was postponed until Monday, April 10th, at 4:30 p. m.

After the minutes and roll call, the reports of committees were heard. The Service Committee reported a donation by Mr. McCoy of old magazines, which were to be distributed among the people of Kerrville. The Nomination Committee brought a list of names before the club, namely: E. H. Prescott, A. B. Burton, Dr. S. E. Thompson, Judd W. C. Baker and W. A. Fawcett, all of whom were elected as members of the Advisory Council. Also all Protestant ministers were elected as honorary members of this council.

Speeches were enjoyed from Mr. Crate and Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Crate's assistant.

After this an impressive ceremony was held for the purpose of installation of officers.

Don't forget the speaking by Harry Rimmer on May 4th. You will enjoy this and will be glad of a second chance to hear him. REPORTER.

ADVERTISERS

One of the leading theaters in Chicago has quit using billboards for advertising purposes and announces that it will use only newspaper advertising. The management says, "the graft and bother resulting from placards and billboard advertising makes them a nuisance to handle." The newspaper is more and more becoming recognized as the legitimate advertising medium for the one universal advertising medium.—Randall County News.

Everybody's quitting the doubtful advertising methods for the one universally accepted first-class medium of publicity, the newspaper. People these days who do not read at least one newspaper haven't money enough to make their patronage worth anything to any business man. Billboards have their value, but they make more people mad than they please, for they are this century's most peculiar and especial nuisance. They uglify the landscape, they serve as screens for the accumulation of garbage in habitable districts. They are often employed as lurking places for footpads, and they are ideal covers for the decomposing cats and chickens which householders in the neighborhood have to make way with. In the most progressive cities and countries billboards of the upstanding, uncouth and unsafe type are forbidden. Some time all civically aggressive municipalities will lay inhibitions upon the billboards that will knock their props from under them. In the meantime, experienced and heavy advertisers are utilizing the newspapers far more profitably than ever before.—State Press, in Dallas News.

Push the raising of young chicks, as there will be a live demand for them this spring.

The bounteous rains will bring out the vegetation and make the grass jump, causing this Hill Country to soon forget that we had a drought.

It is predicted that there will be a large yield of wheat and oats, which will recompense some for the failure to get the benefit of pasturage the past winter.

All of the churches in Fort Worth are conducting a revival, and it is a practice that other cities and towns might follow to advantage. Something is needed to turn the trend of the minds of the people.

SILLY PARTISAN TACTICS

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: The Democrats, say dispatches, are going to make a stupendous effort to elect a United States Senator from Pennsylvania this year. "The highest counsellors in the Democratic party" are quoted to that effect. Here is the way they are said to dope things: "This year the death of Penrose has left an opening. The average Republican voter in Pennsylvania has been bossed and ordered about for so long that without a big boss now, since Penrose has passed on, he doesn't know what to do. There is no supreme boss and the minor bosses are so at loggerheads that no one can follow the situation." The Democrats have just about as much chance of electing a United States Senator from Pennsylvania this year as the Republicans have of electing a United States Senator from Texas.

But this "dope" is interesting as throwing an illuminating side-light on the psychology of "the highest counsellors in the Democratic party." It is characteristically representative of the kind of tactics that are held in high esteem by these wise "counsellors."

It is on a par with the bright idea of sending former Governor Cox of Ohio into Massachusetts to tell the people of that State who they should elect to the United States Senate. And it is a sorry comment on the leadership of the Democratic party just now.

The idea that intelligent service to the Nation in Congress, even when it is necessary to co-operate with Republicans to perform such service, would be the best way to rehabilitate the Democratic party in the confidence of the people seems to be alien to the peculiar point of view which the leaders here have adopted.

Instead, they have been playing the antiquated game of hampering the Republicans as much as possible, irrespective of whether what they are doing is the right thing or the wrong thing, and to look for breaks in Republican ranks to drive against.

Whatever may have been the case in the past, this is not the policy which will appeal to the American people today.

A large percentage of the voters who supported the Republicans in the last election are thoroughly dissatisfied with the record the Republicans have made.

But far from giving such people reason to think better of the performance or the attitude of the Democrats, the leaders have adopted very much the same kind of partisan tactics without reference to the best interests of the Nation, and in consequence such voters cannot be won to the Democratic party.

Both parties have failed to meet the after-the-war situation, and many people are becoming thoroughly disgusted with the kind of men who are leading them.

Leadership of a patriotic and disinterested character in both parties is the crying need of the hour.

San Antonio is forging ahead of other cities in the number of highway robberies, small burglaries and innumerable hold-ups. The police and peace officers appear to be inadequate to cope with the situation. There is too much politics in the attempt at law enforcement in San Antonio.

GRIEF FOR THE BOOTLEGGERS

Daily Oklahoman: Here's the saddest news of all for those bootleggers and moonshiners in Oklahoma who have been congratulating themselves upon light fines and sentences imposed by courts. It's the news that a Federal revenue agent has arrived in the State to begin collecting fines.

From Ponca City comes the word that fines ranging from $2,500 to $9,000 are being collected from those who have been convicted of selling or making whiskey. It's easy for the revenue agent to assess the fines, because he has the court records on which to base his decisions.

These fines are for selling or making liquor without a Federal license. If they are not paid, the judgment will remain over the head of the convicted persons, and if they are ever able to accumulate anything of value, it will be confiscated to apply upon the fines.

For those good citizens who have been complaining about low fines of the courts and short sentences, this will be good news. There will be little cause for complaint about sentences when the revenue agent completes his rounds in Oklahoma, it is anticipated, for the booze peddlers will "get what's coming to them."

NOTICE—Have room for a few more tubercular patients at the Strangers Rest, Phone 93. (Advertisement 46-tfc.)

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lewis left Tuesday for a visit of several weeks in Houston, where they will combine business with pleasure.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Mackey and family have moved to Kerrville from their ranch above Hunt on the North Fork, and are given a cordial welcome.

J. L. Pampell is having his front window on the north side of the building arranged so as to enclose it with glass to protect the contents from dust.

The rain Monday night was one of those trash movers we have been wanting to see. It measured 1.86 and gives enough for the present, though some more would not do any damage.

R. R. Jennett of San Antonio spent last Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Prescott. Mrs. Jennett, who had been visiting Mrs. Prescott, returned home with him Monday.

Mrs. Scott Schreiner and her guest, Mrs. Crabbs of Cincinnati, are in San Antonio this week visiting Mrs. Schreiner's sister, Mrs. Warren Colvert, and other relatives and friends.

From reports received there was a heavier rain on the Divide, in Kimble, Edwards and Real Counties, than in this immediate section. In those counties the rainfall has been from five to six inches since it started. Here it had reached a little over three inches Tuesday.

H. P. Davis, with the Market and Warehouse Department of the State, was in Kerrville the first of the week testing scales and gas filling stations. Mr. Davis showed us some weights he uses that were made by the boys in the mechanical and engineering department of the State University. They are as good as had been bought heretofore for $2.00, and these only cost 50 cents to make them.

The Episcopal Guild met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Palmer with about twenty-five members present. A course of study on "Church Government" was decided upon. Donations of books were called for to be sent to the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, where the library was recently destroyed by fire. Several other matters were discussed. A lovely salad course was served by the hostess.

The Parent-Teachers' Club will meet next Wednesday, April 12th, at which time the annual election of officers will take place. All mothers of school children are urged to attend, and all members are expected to be present. The following program will be given: Piano solo, Amy Louise Scherbeck; address, "The Public Health Nurse," Dr. S. E. Thompson; overture, Lucille McCoy.

Mrs. Scott Schreiner invited a few friends in Monday of this week to hear her guest, Mrs. George D. Crabbs, read one of the late plays, entitled "Entre Madame." It proved a rare treat, as Mrs. Crabbs is a reader of exceptional ability, devoting much of her time to entertaining the shut-ins and the blind in her home city. During the war she was actively engaged among the different camps, reading to the men in the service. Her work did not end, however, with the close of the war, for she has continued reading to those unfortunate ones who are now in the hospitals, and is one of the entertainers who always brighten and cheer all with whom she comes in contact. It is to be hoped that the general public will have an opportunity of hearing Mrs. Crabbs while she is in our city.

ADVERTISING IN NEWS-PAPERS INCREASES

Chicago, April 4.—National advertising campaigns in newspapers are sweeping the country, F. Guy Davis, western manager of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, declared in a speech here yesterday.

"Business houses that never before used any extensive newspaper space are doubling and tripling their newspaper space appropriations for this year," he said. "This has grown, not from propoganda, but from the necessities of the present-day business situation."

"There was one firm in 1920 that started to use newspaper space for National advertising for the first time."

"Last year this firm, using space in forty American newspapers, was enabled to declare a 7 per cent dividend and this year it is planning to advertise in 200 American cities."

abundance of crops, good roads now under construction, and many other resources and attractions which this Hill Country affords, etc., we ought to be convinced that we have the best county in the best State, after all.

The Kerrville boys did not show up last Sunday on account of the inclement weather, and the proposed ball game was indefinitely postponed. A practice game between the home boys was played, however, in order that the crowd present might not be disappointed.

Leader, March 31: The prospects are good for a fruit crop about Rocksprings. The trees are unusually late in blooming, and many of them are just now getting in full bloom.

Walter Shurley of Uvalde is here this week. Walter is now a mohair buyer. He is contracting for mohair on the goat's back, and offering 32 cents a pound. He has bought several lots.

Buck Bishop was here from Carta Valley Wednesday. Mr. Bishop said they had been having good rains in spots about Carta Valley, and in places they had had none up to the time he left Wednesday morning. He says while the rains are just fine there is sure to be some loss of thin, fresh sheared goats.

Well, we have had a rain at last, with the prospects good that we will have much more. It is not too late to get in a feed crop, and it would seem that our ranchmen have had enough of very recent experience to convince them of the advantage of trying for a big supply of home grown feed, against the next drought.

An invention in the form of a new roller bearing for freight cars and passenger coaches cuts down friction some 90 per cent and abolishes the hot box entirely. The gross weight of a car and its load amounted to 122,600 pounds. This car was pushed 60 feet in one direction and then pushed back again to the starting point by one man in a recent test. After 11 months' service the bearings were found to be in as good condition as when they were installed.

Picture Show at Sunset

Lee Mason & Son of Kerrville, accompanied by the Fordson Tractor demonstrator, visited our community on Tuesday night of last week and put on an excellent moving picture show, demonstrating the uses of the Fordson Tractor.

A large crowd was out and everyone enjoyed the pictures, which were both instructive and entertaining. We do not doubt that when Ford made the Fordson he did a great thing for the farmers of our country, and it would be well for every farm to own one of them.

Bring your "movies" out to Sunset again, Mr. Mason, we'll all be glad to see you.

Standard, April 1: Two tame deer are making their home in the Court House Park for the past several days. This indeed makes the park look more natural.

A pair of slick guys made a round-up here yesterday, fleeced a couple of our townspeople by taking orders for eye glasses up to $75 (and over), and made a clean get-away with the loot.

Contracts for the erection of the new schoolhouse and rebuilding of the old school were let for the sum of $61,939.00 to Ed. W. Oeffinger on Monday, the 27th, by the School Board of this city.

A special meeting of the Commissioners' Court was held March 27th. It was ordered that the Main Street should be covered with a good and hard surface topping. It was also decided by the Court that said cover should be laid from the Nimitz Hotel to the place of business of Kraus' soda water factory, 60 feet wide.

Cheating contractors and crooked officials of Sumerian civilization in Mesopotamia 5,000 years ago were tried briefly and thrown into the river, according to recent scientific discoveries. Among other things, they had an elaborate banking system, with a reserve bank comparable to our own of today, a postal system with a parcel post branch and circulating libraries, which distributed clay tablet books.

GALILEO made the telescope and brought to light unknown stars and planets, the craters of the moon, the rings of Saturn and other things.

Properly used, the telescope is a wonderfully effective instrument. But look through the wrong end and your vision becomes distorted; things get out of focus; objects well within your reach look miles away.

An important province of this paper is to act as your telescope. Use it PROPERLY and your vision is enlarged. That means reading the advertisements as well as the other news. Fail to read the advertising and you overlook a great deal that you ought to see and know—the best in values—opportunities for economy, increased comfort, convenience and happiness.

Advertising brings close to your hand the things you want. Tells you where to buy them—what they cost. You glean much valuable information about merchants, their stores, their goods, their services—all important points to you as a possible customer.

You may read every line of the news columns—but if you overlook the advertising you remain uninformed about the very things that concern you most vitally. Unquestionably, you narrow your vision. Get a "CLOSE-UP".

Jessica Goes to the City

By MALCOLM BROWN

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union

"Don't go, dear—we shall miss you, oh, so much!"

Kind, gentle Aunt Priscilla placed a pleading hand on the fair golden head of her favorite niece, Jessica, as she spoke. Jessica loved her as everybody else did. She clung to her now, but still she murmured pleadingly:

"I shall miss you, too, dearest aunt, but, oh! I do so want to see what life is like away from this quiet, humdrum village. Cousin Marcia has written me so much about the bright, brilliant life she leads. They have asked me to come so often. Marcia says that Uncle and Aunt Williston feel quite offended at my constant refusal to accept their invitation, so—so—"

"My poor, willful child, my dear, innocent lamb!" murmured Aunt Priscilla indulgently. "I will not say another word. I must not forget that youth years for a change."

"I must finish my packing if I expect to catch the train, mustn't I, aunty?" asked Jessica. "And there is dear Robert to say good-by to—"

"Robert had to go out into the country with his father," again interrupted Aunt Priscilla. "He was here with some flowers for you long before you were awake."

"How kind he is, the dear, dear fellow!" murmured Jessica.

Robert Liston, the son of their nearest neighbor, had been a true and loyal knight errant since the summer before. It was he who had built the pretty vine-enclosed bower where Jessica read and did fancy work on pleasant afternoons. It was Robert who had marked out and cultivated a little garden patch that was the delight of everybody who visited it.

It seemed that a day could not pass but that Robert did some thoughtful act in her behalf. They had been famous friends. Jessica actually shed one or two tears as she thought of leaving Newton without an opportunity to say good-by to the best friend she had ever known.

Aunt Priscilla found the forgotten box of flowers and sighed. She loved the frank, handsome, light-hearted youth who had been the life of the place.

All through a month Aunt Priscilla received letters from Jessica. They bubbled over with all the evanescence of a girl whose life had become one constant round of pleasures. Then they became briefer and briefer.

Then there was a whole month during which no word came from the distant niece. At its end, however, there arrived a brief note from Jessica. It read: "There is trouble. I am coming home," and two mornings later Jessica arrived at the pretty little cottage to throw her arms around her aunt's neck and sob out her worries.

"Oh, Aunt Priscilla," she cried, "I never want to go away again! It was grand at first. It was parties, matinees, automobile picnics, but it all ended in a crash. A foreign count Marcia expected to marry turned out to be an impostor. One night some of the men drank too much wine, were offensive to the ladies, and it ended in a disgraceful scene. Then uncle lost all he had on the stock exchange, the creditors seized everything there was for debt, and—oh, I must see Robert, and the garden!"

The dear old garden! Every blushing bud so carefully nurtured reproached Jessica as she ran out from the house. She buried her face into a clump of lilies and kissed them fervently, like old dear friends. She went into the bower.

The quaint old conceit drew Jessica to step toward it, to fancy herself back in the sunlit past. It seemed as if her city experience somehow had clouded the pure serenity of those old dear days. Fairly unconsciously she placed her hand in the hollow. Her fingers touched something. It was a letter. The truth flashed across her—the one that Robert had written her probably the morning she left home, to which her aunt had referred.

Her sweet face flushed crimson as she read the manly avowal of love of her old true friend, the tears came to her eyes as she realized how cruelly she had neglected him.

"If I had found this that morning long ago," she murmured, "I am afraid I would have said, 'Walt, let me see life before I answer.' Now—"

She paused. She pressed her lips to the damp, mildewed sheet that had held its fond secret so close for so many months.

"Yes, now, dear Jessica?" asked an eager, radiant voice behind her, and she turned to face the writer of the missive.

"Oh, Robert! Robert!" cried Jessica, her hands extended like the winning, willful child she was, "I have come back to home and peace and—love!"

"Blue Blood"

To belong to the "caste of Vere de Vere" is synonymous to being all that is honorable and illustrious, of pure and ancient lineage, among the noblest of the land. Maculay, the historian, extolled the family of de Vere as "the longest and most illustrious line of nobles that England has seen," while Tennyson has immortalized the name of the race as of pure and ancient blood. The founder, Aubrey de Vere, appears in Domesday book (1086) as the holder of a great fief in Essex, Cambridgeshire and Sussex, and his descendants have figured in English history for centuries.
