There will be two days of very profitable instruction and amusement. Judging dairy cattle will be one of the features of the encampment, and there are many others that are interesting.

Only bona fide club members are eligible to take part in the encampment.

Following is a program of the two days:

KERRVILLE WINS FROM FORT SAM HOUSTON, 4 TO 3, IN THE TENTH

The fan, who remarked that when Kerrville faced a good team they invariably went to pieces, should have been present Sunday, to see the Athletics take advantage of every opportunity, against the crack team from the Military establishment at the Alamo City.

The visitors started off brash and breezy, with Gregg, the first man up, hitting a homer over the left field fence. Fay, next up, hit, went to second on an out, Barry to Wilson; stole third on a close decision; Dixon struck out and Gramith hit, scoring a second run; Burk struck out.

Against that handicap Wilson made a hit from the first ball pitched. Robinson went out, pitcher to first. Vogler and Holchak grounded to first.

In the second Henke hit safe. An error put Keusel on. An out, for Horton at first, advanced both runners, and they scored on a wild series of attempts on the part of the visitors.

The score remained tied until the sixth. Dailey, for the visitors, led off with a base on balls, went to second on a fielder's choice to Barry. Gramith struck out. Burk hit and Dailey scored, but McCarty caught Burk at second.

To even matters, Henke hit for three bases and, with two out, came home on a hit by McCarty.

From the sixth to the finish but three visitors reached first. One on a hit with two out in the seventh. One was given free passage in the eighth, to be caught at second a moment later. Another pass was registered in the tenth with two out, also resulting in an out at second.

From the sixth to the tenth the home boys had even less to show for their efforts than the visitors. In the ninth McCarty was passed. But in the tenth the "break" came, with Robinson getting a pass and stealing second. Vogler struck out, but Captain Holchak concluded it was time to call it a day, and hit hard to center, scoring Robinson and winning the game.

The contest was delayed in starting for ten minutes to allow the passing clouds to weep copiously over the field. Both pitchers did remarkably well for the slippery condition of the balls. Rainwater made nine strikeouts to Barry's six; each gave three passes and Barry hit one better; Rainwater allowed seven hits to Barry's six. The Athletics played without an error, while the visitors made three. A wild throw by the catcher, yards over the third baseman's head was marvelous to behold.

There is no doubt that the visitors are sluggers of class, as the local outfield was given six chances and accepted them all gracefully. The army men were given five and accepted but three.

Halpin officiated as umpire. His decisions were accepted without protest from the players.

Next Sunday a team from Kelly Field will make a stand here. They already have a reputation. Just what else, you can ascertain by attending the game.

With Fredericksburg booked for the 25th and Pleasanton for July 2nd, there is much to look forward to.

ED FLEMING DIES OF WOUNDS INFLECTED IN PISTOL BATTLE

Ed Fleming, a ranchman of Kimble County, died last Sunday morning of wounds received in a gun battle Friday afternoon with O. L. Freeman, a merchant at Telegraph, eighteen miles west of Junction on the South Llano.

The trouble is said to have been over some land matters. It is stated that Fleming fired five shots and Freeman four. Fleming was hit four times—one shot through his body, one glancing shot on the chest, one through right arm and one through his left hand. Freeman was hit once in the right hand, not serious, but shattering it and knocking the pistol out of his hand. Another shot also hit his gun.

Mr. Freeman went to Junction immediately after the shooting and surrendered. He was granted bond then, and since the death of Mr. Fleming has again been admitted to bail, and was a visitor in Kerrville Monday and Tuesday. He is a brother of J. A. Freeman, a prominent ranchman of Kerr County, and who makes his headquarters at Kerrville.

Both men are married and have families and relatives in the community. Ed Fleming was a son of O. B. Fleming, an old-time citizen of Kimble County.

LIGHT WINE AND BEER PETITION KNOCKED OUT BY DEMOCRATS

Austin, Tex., June 12.—The name of Ferguson will be on the ticket as a candidate for United States Senator at the Democratic primaries next month; the name of Harry Warner of Paris will be on the ticket as a candidate for Governor, and that of E. W. Cole of Austin will be on the ticket as a candidate for Congressman-at-Large. Such was the decision of the State Democratic Committee in session here today and tonight.

The petition presented by Ferguson bearing approximately 60,000 signatures, requesting that a light wine and beer plank be placed on the Democratic ticket, was rejected by the committee because it was found "insufficient both in fact and in law."

The decisions of the committee were made tonight shortly after the subcommittees, appointed during the day, made their reports. There was no debate on the light wine and beer petition and it was rejected with but one "nay" vote.

It was also decided by the committee that in primary elections hereafter only those persons who voted the straight Democratic ticket in the next preceding election shall be qualified to vote in Democratic primaries.

OLD SPANISH TRAIL CARAVAN TO PASS THROUGH KERRVILLE JULY 3

Last Friday S. Dean Wasson, staff correspondent of the Houston Chronicle, stopped off in Kerrville for a few minutes on the return trip from the Davis Mountains, where he had been with Old Spanish Trail officials to make arrangements for the three-day convention of the Old Spanish Trail Association of the Texas Division, which will be held in the proposed State Park in the Davis Mountains eight miles west of Fort Davis, July 6th, 7th and 8th. In speaking of the convention, Mr. Wasson said:

"We will all take our camping outfit and go by auto. Not a single town between San Antonio and Fort Davis will have hotel accommodations sufficient to care for our party, and besides, we want to get out into the mountains and camp two nights so we can get the benefit of the park from every angle.

"The caravan will start from Orange on the east, picking up additional cars at all points along the route into San Antonio. Another caravan will start from Brownsville on the south, gathering recruits from all towns in the Magic Valley and along the route to San Antonio, where the two caravans will merge and the San Antonio delegation will join, with probably twenty cars from other than Old Spanish Trail towns.

"The caravan will leave San Antonio Monday morning, July 3rd, at 8 o'clock, and reach the Davis Mountains Thursday evening, July 6th. The convention will open at 8 p. m. and last until Saturday, July 8th.

"On adjournment Saturday we have a very pressing invitation to go to Alpine as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce for their annual celebration July 10th to 11th—Old Settlers Reunion and Cowboy Roundup. This will be the greatest attraction of its kind ever staged in West Texas.

"All towns within 100 miles of Fort Davis have agreed to 'throw in' to our convention with their Fourth of July celebration. This will give us a tremendous crowd. We expect to take several hundred people from East and South Texas, and there will be cars joining us from nearly all large towns throughout the State.

"We have invited, and expect, the Texas Highway Association, Bankhead, Jefferson Davis and Central Texas Highway Associations to all join us at the Davis Mountains and take over a part of the program. We also extend an invitation to all the people of Texas to take their vacation with us at this convention."

This Old Spanish Trail Caravan is scheduled to pass through Kerrville, Monday July 3rd, at 11 a. m., and it is expected that several cars will join at this place for the trip.

SAN ANTONIANS IN CENTURY RACE

San Antonio Evening News: Three score and ten years, long the allotted life of man, has passed into discard along with the numerous other things of yesterday, and San Antonians of renown are on the starting line in the mad race for a full 100 years of life.

No longer do men become old at 60, and from then on sit and warm their chilled bones by the fires of the past, while their decrepit bodies loll wearily on the bench in the parks as they get their daily airing, like a cultured pot plant.

No longer are the men of Alamo Land content to hand the reins over to the younger men, while they quietly get ready for the happy hereafter and make their plans for Paradise. They are made of the mettle of men to whom the passing of years with their former ravage of brain and brawn of the individual mean nothing. Many are the old men who daily do their work, meager though it is, while the years continue to pile one on the other until some fine morning one will wake up and find that he has lived the century around, and is starting on his second 100 years of life.

There is one in the Land of the Alamo who came into being in 1822, was over 40 years old in Civil War days, and now reads his daily paper or muses as some one reads to him the facts and happenings of this 1922. He is Dr. J. B. Taylor, for many years a practicing physician in San Antonio and other Texas cities. To him go the honors of the following in this writup, being the oldest of the flock, for if he lives until November 30th, next, he will have finished his first century, and when the dawn of December 1st comes he will have a good start on his second century of life.

There are known to be numbers of people in San Antonio who are 90 and past, but who are at the present time but "also rans" in the race for a hundred years of residence in this particular sphere. Their avowed intention of attaining the 100 mark and going yet onward stand more than an even chance of success.

Laughingly they enter the race after completing their prescribed three score and ten, wend their way in robust disdain of ill health down the avenue of time to the gate at the end of things, though they have no intention of opening the gate for some time.

While the youth of today boasts of the work that he does and the fact that "youth must be served," that his will is indomitable and the like, he has an eloquent example of the accomplishment of age in the person of Capt. Charles Schreiner of Kerrville, who, in addition to accumulating much in the line of worldly goods during a busy lifetime, is finding that he has just begun to live, and is daily looking forward to the stretch of years with the calm complacency of a man who knows that he is destined to go the 100 mark and yet onward before the gate closes behind his earthly endeavor. The full weight of his 84 years rests lightly on his shoulders, and from the snug position of a man who can rest content on the laurels gained in a well spent life he still has time for work to effect good.

Saul Wolfson is in his 91st year, a veteran merchant of this city, who stayed in the active harness for more than 50 years, though retired from active work, still has much of expectancy in the matter of years of life ahead of him.

Not far behind him in the matter of years with the 90 mark within striking distance is Tom Harrison, at one time the oldest practicing lawyer in the courts of Bexar County. He still can find opportunity to laugh roguishly at the passing of time, and to cast the gauntlet at the very feet of the caller of the aged who would infer that he is not to win his race. From all appearances he is due to outlive the century mark by many years, from which position he can turn securely about and laugh at the desire in others for a hundred years of existence.

Perhaps the most active of the men of San Antonio who have rounded out several laps of life and have passed on through the fourth 20 years, is Calvin Goodloe, superintendent of school buildings and grounds, who is to be found daily at his desk in the office of the Board of Education, where he conducts all the business of his department with but little aid. He drives his own car and looks after his duties and personal conveniences without aid. He is destined to become one of the foremost contenders

MRS. MARY A. LOVE KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Friday afternoon of last week, Mrs. Mary A. Love was knocked unconscious by a bolt of lightning while she was sitting on the front porch of their home near Kerrville. She was alone at the time and lay where she fell for two hours before some one arrived and aided in reviving her.

It is stated that the bolt of lightning hit the roof of the building and penetrated the second story and on through to the first, when it evidently darted through a window, near where Mrs. Love sat, and went into the ground through a large iron pick that was sticking up close to the window. It is possible that Mrs. Love's life was saved through this pick drawing the lightning. As the bolt proceeded through the building it splintered considerable of the timbers.

Her many friends will be glad to learn that she is doing very nicely, and no permanent effects are expected from the shock.

County Commissioners Meet

Wednesday of last week there was a meeting of the County Board and Road Commissioners to consider the highway road work. There was allowed the monthly claim of $5,554.48 on Highway A, and $13,205.77 on Highway B.

The County Commissioners allowed several other miscellaneous claims, and as a board of equalization also considered some assessment lists that were raised.

An old road was also ordered closed in the Peschel community and a new one opened.

BUD WHARTON NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH AT LEGION SANATORIUM

Friday of last week, E. R. (Bud) Wharton, a workman at the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium, was severely injured when the cable to the hoist of a cement mixer broke, dumping the hoist on him, breaking his right leg in two places. The left side of his face was also badly cut and bruised, and his shoulder crushed. It was a very narrow escape from death.

Mr. Wharton was carried to the Secor Hospital, where his injuries received attention and he has been doing as well as could be expected. It will be six weeks at the least, however, before he can leave his bed.

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY GETS BADLY BROKEN LEG IN RUNAWAY

Wednesday of last week, while at work on the Highway above Ingram, Ted Houston, a 14-year-old boy had the misfortune to get one of his legs badly broken, when a team he was driving ran away with him.

The boy was brought to the Secor Hospital, where he is doing nicely, but has suffered acutely, as the fracture was an unusual one, in the bone of the thigh being badly splintered. Ted Houston is an orphan; is an industrious, bright, brave boy, and any who have the time and inclination ought to visit him, and take some flowers and cheering words. He is worthy of such consideration.

The sbyterian Westminister Encampment opened last Saturday and up to Tuesday afternoon there were about one hundred present. There are more reservations applied for during the program period than the accommodations provide for, but efforts are being made to furnish room for those who come. NEARLY 100 KILLED AND MANY INJURED BY STORM IN NEW YORK

Last Sunday evening a severe storm hit New York City and killed nearly 100 people, and injured as many more. Most of them were drowned in Long Island Sound, when scores of small craft were capsized. About 250 canoes, rowboats and small motorboats were bobbing about off the island, witnesses said, when the storm came screaming down on the resort, at a velocity of 80 miles an hour, or better. Occupants of the little craft, sensing their danger, made a run for shelter. But scarcely had they got under way when they were engulfed in a blinding storm of rain and hail.

As quickly as it had come, the storm vanished. It lasted less than five minutes. But scarcely a dozen of the 250 small craft had survived. Horror-stricken, but helpless to aid, the crowds on the beach and about the Casino pier saw scores of men and women clinging to wrecked and overturned craft in the choppy, sound and bay. One by one, they gave up the struggle, and dropped quietly off, to be carried out toward the open sea by the tide.

Next to the tragedy at City Island, the most serious result of the storm was the wrecking of a ferris wheel at Classon Point Park in the Bronx. Seven merry-makers were killed and nearly thirty injured, when the wind tore the wheel from its base and hurled it a twisted mass of wreckage on the beach of Long Island Sound. Paul Simon, owner of the wheel, was arrested on a homicide charge and two investigation were put under way to fix the responsibility for the accident.

SUMMER ENCAMPMENT OPENED

Hardly had most of the Notre Dame boarders vacated the Convent, when their places were filled for the summer months by twelve young ladies from directions as distant as Los Angeles, Kansas City and Tampico. The new arrivals are Misses Mary Albertine Taylor, Alberta Woodman, Mary Therese Lanche, Aurora and Hope Kennedy, Mary Margherite and Isabell Harrell, Bridget and Jeanette Juarez, Carmen Zalce and Louise Mapes. Most of these vacationists came together on the Tuesday train of last week, which had to be delayed two hours at noon time near a whistling post, and such a first impression of our Hill Country was not hyper-flattering, but the bad taste was soon removed when they were made at home in the palatial dormitory at Notre Dame.

Reservations for other prospective campers have been made for young ladies from Houston, Texarkana, Galveston, San Antonio and Rayne, La.

To accommodate the largest number in our limited space, we will accept vacation-seekers in relays for a stipulated time until August 15th. Our intention is primarily to make known to outsiders the many beauties of Kerrville and particularly our educational facilities.

Sisters' Normal School

Practically all of the Notre Dame faculty have been called to the mother-house at Alamo Heights, where they will spend the entire summer in specializing along their educational lines.

Sr. Columbkille, formerly at Kerrville, receives her Ph. D. degree this week from the Catholic University in Washington, D. C. At the same Commencement Sr. Clement, another old-timer, receives her M. A. diploma. Sr. Antoinette, who taught here a few years ago, gets her degree from the Oklahoma University.

Among the newly arrived Sisters is Sr. Polycarp, who led her class in getting the A. B. degree. With Sr. Polycarp came Sisters Hugo and Imelda. The last-named will be in charge of the summer encampment in Kerrville.

Sisters Bridget Mary and Rose Therese were the first to leave us. Their departure took place last Wednesday. On the subsequent Friday we bade au revoir, but not farewell, to Sisters Constance, Hilda, Adrian and Charles.

Before another week, all members of the old faculty will be gone and their vacancies will be filled by newcomers. One of the rules of the Sisters of Charity requires each nun to make a strict spiritual revival for a couple of weeks in absolute silence every summer. During this retreat they devote their time to an intensive study of the Holy Bible and to religious exercises.

A patriotic program has been arranged for Flag Day, which is Wednesday of this week. The Notre Dame reporter for the present assignment has not been privileged to divulge the details until a future chronicle of our school events.

Boston Wool Market

Boston, June 12.—Woolen mills continue to buy raw wools today, but they are placing their orders conservatively. Prices throughout were firm. Interest is shifting somewhat into the territory wools, and there is a good demand and active bidding for fine and fine medium. Delains were strong, with sales reported as high as 60 cents for choice lots of Ohio.

Pulled wools are in demand, and prices are somewhat higher. Texas mohair has been just about cleaned up, and American dealers are turning to foreign markets for this product.

Makes Bond

Bandera New Era, June 8: Charles Merritt, charged by indictment with burglary of the First National Bank of Bandera, furnished bail in the sum of $1,000 and was released from custody yesterday. San Antonio parties signed as bondsmen.

Merritt has been in jail ever since last December, at the time when an attempt was made to rob the First National Bank here. His case has been transferred to Kerrville on a change of venue, and is set for August 14th.

Many Thanks to My Friends

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all my good friends for the liberal patronage they have given me during the past two years, and wish to assure them that Mr. Hill and his son will do all they can to please you, and will work for your interests in the future like I have tried to do in the past. JUDGE JACKSON WON'T RUN AGAINST HUDSPETH

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Representative C. B. Hudspeth returned today from El Paso, where he was called several weeks ago. He says there has been considerable improvement in the cattle and sheep raising industry since last winter, and attributes much of this to the emergency tariff providing protective duties on the products of farm and ranch.

On his arrival here, Hudspeth received a number of telegrams from friends in El Paso announcing that Judge Dan Jackson, who had announced his candidacy for Congress in opposition to Hudspeth, had decided to withdraw from the race.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES
By Father Kemper
SUMMER ATTRACTIONS

The Social and Benevolent Society of St. Mary's congregation held a called and general business meeting last Wednesday in Washington Hall to adjust some urgent charity cases and to provide an interesting variety of entertainments for the summer months.

The committee on entertainments was directed by a majority vote to arrange their schedule as follows: Reserve the first Friday night for purely business matters; designate the second for a dance with good music that will bring both parents and children; arrange indoor games for the third Friday, and assign the fourth for an informal social, at which cakes and ice cream will be served.

During the vacation period the regular Cecilia choir is somewhat disorganized and the liturgical singing for High Mass is not required. As a suitable substitute it was decided to incorporate everyone in the choir and select popular devotional hymns in which every worshipper can join.

Next Sunday the monthly engagement at Comfort necessitates holding service in St. Mary's Church at 7 a. m. The feast of Corpus Christi, falling on Thursday, is transferred to the following Sunday.

Tuesday of this week is the feast of St. Anthony of Padua, patron saint of the city and diocese of San Antonio. It will be observed at the historic Cathedral by the local council of Knights of Columbus.

A class-mate of Father Kemper, Rev. Dr. E. Burke, was made Monsignor last week, with the rank of Private Chamberlain to his Holiness, Pope Pius XI.

At the Mexican Church the ladies of the Guadalupe Society kept themselves busy adjusting many repairs on their parochial property. They engaged carpenters to strengthen and rewire the whole fence.

Mrs. Frank Kruenger is entertaining her brother, Marcel Moravietz, of Bandera.

John L. Power of San Antonio has moved his large family to our mountain home for a summer vacation.

Misses Mary and Wilhelmina Mosel spent the past week with friends and relatives in the Alamo City. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bernhard went down on Saturday, and Arno returned the same day with the Mosel sisters.

The families of Albert Lee Hail and Mrs. Agnes E. Shelly motored to Kerrville from Center Point on Friday morning to fulfill their paschal obligation.

Mrs. Ambrose Torres has with her for a couple of weeks her studious nephews, Alphonse and Michael Peche, who are in the senior division of St. Mary's College, San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burg of Fredericksburg were business visitors in town on Thursday of last week. From the pen of a bull fight at Juarez, Mexico, Miss Kemper and her twin nephews journeyed on to the make-belief torreadors of Hollywood. They were met at the Los Angeles depot by the family of Mrs. Terry, who used to reside in Kerrville.

Why not make our Public Square more inviting? Why not remove all eye-sores, give it a general clean-up; build a pavilion in the center; build broad gravel walks with benches on each side; illuminate with electric lights, so that the ladies can promenade and show their sparkling diamonds to advantage, with the Mexican String Band playing La Paloma?

I must give Julius Real credit for his public spirit while he was County Judge. He had iron railing placed all around the square; planted trees and arbovites at the county's expense.

Why can't the city keep up the improvement? Make the square inviting. City and county interests are identical, and the city gets the benefit of it in the end. If the city is not willing to go to the expense, let us raise the money by private subscription. Our Mayor is a good solicitor. I have ten dollars to put in on it. Other cities have their Public Parks. Why can't we have one, too?

I merely make these suggestions—it is for you to arouse public sentiment. Let it be known through the press and see what can be done.

Respectfully yours, H. NOLL SR.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Kerrville readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

T. J. Cumber, farmer, Kerrville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have helped a lot and I recommend them to anyone in need of a kidney remedy. My kidneys were out of order and I suffered with backache and pains over my kidneys. I felt dull and run down and the action of my kidneys was irregular. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They gave me prompt relief, the backaches left and my kidneys did not trouble me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cumber had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement).

The limequat is a new citrus fruit obtained by crossing the West India lime with the kumquat orange. The new hybrid possesses the hardy characteristics of the kumquat and is more disease resistant than the lime. The color is light yellow and the rind is edible.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
J. GRADY TIMMONS

Last week was spent in a delightful way at Comfort, where the writer conducted a series of evangelistic services. There are some very choice spirits in that little town, and with them we had a most enjoyable week. The meeting was well attended at each service and several additions were made to the membership of the church.

The Sunday past was a happy day with us. In spite of the threatening weather we had a splendid congregation at both morning and evening services. Due to the fact that some of the other ministers were out of town we enjoyed having a number from other communions to worship with us.

Also several of our girls who have been teaching, after a short stay at home, have gone away to school for the summer term. Miss Mary Holdsworth is in the University of Texas. Misses Lillian and Maggie Sutton are in the State Normal at San Marcos. Also Miss Daisy Bradwell, who has been absent for the winter teaching, has returned home for the summer vacation.

Distribution of Human Influence

Tennyson has told us of the little babbling brook that runs on forever, and certainly it is true that the stream of human personality and personal influence runs on through the ages with no stop. About the great Richard Baxter, I recently saw these words: "The Unitarians have Baxter's pulpit, the Episcopalians his chair, the Independents his table."

The invited guests included Misses Annie Claire Enderle, Mary Claire Williams, Bess Booth, Minnie Dietert, Myrtle Rose Dietert, Marguerite Henke, Maybelle Roberts, Ruth Garrett, Bonnie Lee Wells, Clara Herzog, Etta Dietert, Lucille Taylor, Annie Neblett Thorburn, Lucy Brandon, Bertha Real, Bessie Tomlinson, Marion Miller and Mae Louise Schreiner.

Our modern insistence on reports, on tabulated results and statistics is wrong in a way, that we measure all progress by that which can be measured geometrically, and fails to take into account the personal influence which bears fruit generations afterwards.

The program for next Sunday follows:

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Worship at 11 o'clock. Subject: "The Rejected Stone Becomes the Head of the Corner." Junior League at 3:30 p. m.

Senior League at 7:30 p. m. Program: "Foolish Excuses." Leader is Charles Dillon. Song, Scripture, song and prayer. "An Age of Many Activities," Clare Bell Boaz. "I'm Too Busy Man," Mable Sublett. "Excuse of Unpreparedness," Horace Starkey. "Modern Laziness," D. H. Comparette. "Selfish Excuse," Miss Maggie Lowrance. "Unexpressed Excuse of Indifference," Carlette Tarver. Business, song and benediction. Last Sunday the league voted to send a delegate to the Epworth League Conference, which meets in San Antonio from the 14th of June through Sunday night, June 18th.

Evening worship at 8:15 p. m. Subject: "Forgiveness."

Woman's Missionary Society
The society met in mission study session at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. The subject was the "Work of Social Evangelism." Five or six ladies took part in the program.

Miss Enderle Complimented

Mrs. Henry Weiss entertained on Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, complimenting Miss Annie Claire Enderle, whose marriage to Donald Gilbert Dibney takes place on the 17th of June.

A color motif of pink and white was carried out in the decorations, with dahlias and snap-dragons as a medium. The guests hemmed tea towels for the bride and each one wrote a prophecy or good wish, which was signed and pinned to the towel. An ice course, carrying out the chosen colors of pink and white, was served.

The old home of Daniel Boone in Kentucky is falling to pieces. It has withstood the elements for nearly 200 years and is slowly falling to ruin from lack of care. One room contains a large fireplace of stones still in good condition. The doors and shutters of the dwelling are hung on wrought iron hinges, but many of the windows are broken, permitting snow and rain to enter and causing the floor to decay.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. B. HOLT, Pastor

Fort Davis, Tex., June 12, 1922.—Dear Friends: We arrived in Davis about dusk, Wednesday evening, the 7th. The only car trouble was one small puncture. Camped out two nights by the side of the road, under the skies and a wagon sheet.

It is raining here today and is nice and cool. The mountains are beautiful on verdant grandeur. Yesterday (Sunday) we went to the Boys Camp Meeting, where we enjoyed ourselves immensely. Bible School and preaching under the large tabernacle at 10 and 11. Dr. R. L. Irving of Fort Davis spoke at 11 o'clock on "God in the Lives of Men." Then that dinner. I wished for you. Bill Jones gave and barbecued a fine fat beef, and with chicken, ham, potato salad and all kinds of salads plus every good sweet dish in the cook book, we surely did dissipate for a time, and thoroughly tickle the inner man. After that, oh mercy, I had to preach. They said I put it over. I wonder what God thought of the effort? Am more concerned about that. The camp ground is 20 miles from my father's ranch, and we all went over in his new car.

Last night I preached for the good people of Fort Davis. My text was: "And Now Lord What Wait I for, My Hope Is in Thee." Ps. 39:7. Preachers often rest by not resting, but I am no worse for the effort.

We will go around a good deal this week to different towns and ranches, visiting some relatives and friends. We are feeling fine today and the weather is ideal.

Wishing you much success and with kindest regards to all, I remain Yours most cordially, JUDD B. HOLT.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments. If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

U. Z. Z's. Enjoy Picnic
Despite the fact that a heavy shower of rain delayed their starting, the members of Mrs. C. W. Moore's Sunday School class, accompanied by several of their friends, motored out above the city Wednesday afternoon of last week and spent a delightful hour in the water, followed by a delightful picnic lunch.

Those attending were Velna Spence, Cleo Reese, Bessie Tomlinson, Pauline Bowden, Amy Arno, Carlette Tarver, Willie Holdsworth, Madge Stovall, Anna Belle Council, Eula Grantham, Charis Moore, Charlie Dillon, Robert Reese and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Moore.

The sweetening quality of dahlia roots is 60 per cent greater than the amount of sugar obtained from sugar cane, according to estimates. The root is not starchy like that of the potato, but is rich in sugar. Dahlias grow wild in Mexico and can be grown anywhere in the United States.

AN HONEST CONFESSION

Daily Oklahoman: John Donlin, president of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, made an honest confession when he told the annual meeting of his department in session in Cincinnati, that "the whole Nation is tired of strikes and lockouts and disgusted with such institutions that make them possible."

The entire country is tired of strikes, with the exception of certain labor leaders who wish to foment trouble because they would be without easy jobs if there were peace in the industrial world and with the exception of radicals whose aim is to create discontent so that there will be a more favorable mental soil for bolshevism to thrive in. The entire country is also unfavorable towards lockouts, except such as are the result of outrages by strikers.

Experience has proven that strikes do not benefit the workers. Generally, the strikers return to work without having gained their point. In the meantime, they have suffered financially through the loss of the wages which they would have earned during the period of the strike, if they had remained at their work. The strikers do slow up industrial activities, but they gain nothing by that, inasmuch as there are fewer jobs and lower wages when an industry is dealt such a blow.

While strikes do not benefit the workers, they do damage the public, when the industry affected is a large one, and that is one reason the public, as a rule, sides against the strikers. Another reason the public opposes strikes is the fact that they are generally accompanied by acts of violence. Rights of others to work in the place of the strikers are ignored and lives and property are endangered.

So strong has become the public feeling against strikes, that even Mr. Donlin was impelled to say that if the building trades industry did not remedy its troubles, "we must admit the industrial court is necessary." And this statement of his applies, in principle, to all other industries that affect the general public.

Mr. Donlin proposes a National board of union labor officials to which shall be delegated all responsibilities for strikes. That would undoubtedly help remedy matters. A number of strikes are the result of deliberate trouble-making on the part of local union officials in various parts of the country. If the local unions would abide by the decisions of a National board of union labor officials, the creation of such a board would reduce the number of walk-outs.

However, such a board would naturally be prejudiced in favor of the union labor cause, as against the viewpoint of the employers and of the general public. It might favor a labor contention which would be clearly unfair to the other side of the controversy. The same argument would apply to a National board of employers to handle strikes. An employers' board would be prejudiced in favor of the interests that it represented.

The logical and the desirable thing to do, is to create National wage boards, with the power of industrial courts, but with a personnel composed of an equal representation from labor, capital and the general public. Some such board was created for the settlement of railway wage disputes, but it was not given the power that it needs to enforce its decisions.

The Highway work is progressing very well and will do better in the future, we learn. This Highway will be one of the best investments that the people of Kerr County ever made.

The Civic League of Kerrville is to be congratulated upon its excellent work toward beautifying the city. Already there are evidences of the agitation for a cleaner and prettier Kerrville. Let us keep it up.

The road between the city and the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium ought to be scraped, repaired or something done to it. If anything else can't be done, throw some rocks in the holes. It is said to be the worst piece of road in this whole section.

The whiskeyites got knocked out by the Democratic State Committee, by refusal of the latter to permit the question of light wines and beer on the ticket to be voted upon. Bexar County had about as many petitioners on the request as all of the other counties. That doesn't help San Antonio any—it's an indication of quite a conglomerate population.

The writer made a hurried trip last week to Oklahoma, his former home. Business conditions there are bad, with indications of getting worse for a time. Too much rain, after too much drouth, and added to this is about the worst political situation that could exist. The Democratic administration—or rather the Governor and Lieutenant Governor—have played havoc with the affairs of the State. They are accused of about all the crimes in the category of misfeasance and malfeasance. It looks as though the Republicans would carry Oklahoma again as they did two years ago. If the Democrats could secure a strong ticket that would commend itself to the people, that party might win. The writer fought this corrupt gang when he lived in Oklahoma, and suffered from it, because they had complete control of the State Government, but their day of judgment has come and the people will administer the penalty for wrong doing. Unfortunately, the real culprits will not get their just deserts, but the Democratic party, and misguided followers are the principal sufferers.

GRAVES THINGS OF BEAUTY

Cook's Esthetic Sense Must Be Gratified—Inartistic Surroundings
Produce Depression.

Housewives have wondered why Bridget, the cook, packed up and left without giving reason for her action. Now the secret is out. It was, in all probability, Dudley Crafts Watson, interior decorator, says, because her esthetic sense was not gratified in her inartistic surroundings.

Perhaps the coloring and design on the wallpaper did not strike a harmonious cord in her spiritual makeup. "Many a cook has left because of the pictures in her room," Watson said in a recent lecture in Milwaukee, the Milwaukee Journal reports. "No old, inartistic picture should be hung in her room. The wallpaper should be warm, rosy, full of jolly color and of graceful design. She needs beauty."

In order to keep the cook from becoming dissatisfied and leaving he offers the following advice:

"If your cook enjoys your finest painting or rarest print hang it in her room."

Or, in case one is fortunate enough to support a gallery, the problem, no doubt, could be simplified by moving in a bed and turning the gallery over to the cook.

HAS TWO CLAIMS TO FAME

Daniel Defoe Was Great Editor as Well as Writer of Fiction That Is Immortal.

Daniel Defoe is thought of by most present-day people only for having written "Robinson Crusoe," but his reputation among his own contemporaries rested on a great variety of accomplishments, of which producing that now famous book probably came very near the last. He was chiefly noted, in his own day, as a very great editor, the Detroit News observes. Defoe survived three great political upheavals, for he wrote and schemed in the reigns of James II, William III and Queen Anne. His fortunes were varied during these troublous times and, as he said of himself, within six months he saw "the difference between the closet of a king and the dungeon of Newgate."

One of his greatest friends from boyhood was Samuel Wesley. Wesley and Defoe married the two daughters of a certain Doctor Annesley, Defoe's pastor. Samuel Wesley's two sons were John and Charles, who afterward became two of the most celebrated divines of modern history. Thus Defoe was their uncle by marriage.

Fast Boats in 1840.

Although the Cunard line operated the first regular passenger schedule on the Atlantic ocean, inaugurated by the Britannia in 1840, the Savannah, an American ship, was the first steam vessel to make the crossing, depending, according to the records, more upon her sails than her engines, which ran for less than 100 hours. She was built in New York city and sailed from Savannah for Liverpool on May 25, 1819, arriving 35 days later.

The Royal William, built at Three Rivers, near Quebec, made the entire voyage under steam in 1833. Her first trip from Quebec to London consumed 40 days. The Britannia's maiden trip from Liverpool to Boston in 1840 was made in 14 days and 8 hours. Her sister ship, the Acadia, crossed from Liverpool to Halifax in the same year in 11 days and 4 hours. The next year she made this voyage in 9 days and 20 hours, a record which stood for many years.

English Place Names.

The charm of English place names is not only in their bewildering variety, but in the fact that almost all of them seem indigenous. At any rate, they are all rooted deep, from whatever original soil they came. Latin and Danish names have been weathered and mellowed in so many centuries of English history that one remembers only with an effort that they are not English in origin. Only the Norman names have the slightest tincture of foreign suggestion about them. French is still a rather tender exotic which needs to be trained against the sunny southern wall of the language. Beaulieu does not seem to belong naturally in Hampshire. But even to domesticate the names from the three or four other languages is no small triumph in verbal horticulture.—Christian Science Monitor.

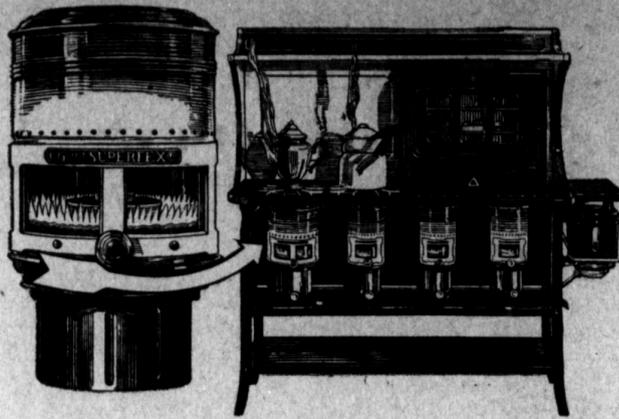

Called White House "Barn-like."

The letters written by Mrs. John Adams, the first First Lady of the Land to be hostess at 1000 Pennsylvania avenue, in which she described the "Palace" as being "barn-like" and "half furnished" have been a source of historical interest in comparison to the newspaper accounts of the comforts and luxuries of the White House as it stands today. However, Mrs. Adams had made the executive mansion more home-like by the time Thomas Jefferson and his many daughters came to occupy it from his magnificent homestead at Monticello, Va.

White House Once "Palace."

When the capital of the United States was moved to Washington in 1800, during the administration of John Adams, the official residence of the President was called the "Palace." This first Washington home of the chief executive was begun in 1792 and was completed at a cost of about a third of a million, just before it became occupied by the second President.

MASSACHUSETTS RULES CONGRESS INSTEAD OF THE SOUTH, GARNER CLAIMS

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Massachusetts—Not the West—is in the congressional saddle nowadays, Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, declared Tuesday in the House.

"You used to say the South was in the saddle," said Mr. Garner, "but I want some of you Western Republicans to say in the next campaign who is there now. Massachusetts is in the saddle; Massachusetts presides over this House; it presides over the Senate and has a member of the steering committee in the House.

"But you are not satisfied with that, when the Speaker has occasion to leave he substitutes in his place, the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Walsh); a very good man."

Every Republican arose and cheered.

"Why, one would conceive from this performance," said Mr. Garner, "that you would rather substitute 'the little giant from Massachusetts,' than take the one you put in the chair by your votes."

There was more applause, and Mr. Garner said he had mentioned it merely to "illustrate to you Republicans that you haven't sufficient capacity on your side of the House outside of Massachusetts to preside over the House."

Japan has a "Yellow Menace" as well as California and other Pacific Coast States. During and after the war boom, Japanese employers imported coolies and operatives from Korea and China to work in their textile mills, mines and smelters. Now the native Japanese workers consider the presence of this alien labor a grievance and their attitude toward these invaders is the same as the attitude of white labor on the Pacific Coast toward the Japanese. Because of the California question the Japanese find it difficult to handle this matter as the cases are considered identical.

Dancing continued until the "wee hours of morn," when the guests departed, with profuse expressions of having spent a most delightful evening. There was a large number of guests in attendance, having come from all surrounding communities, including a number from Kerrville.

Edwards County Echoes

Leader, June 9: W. T. Petmucky, the present carrier, has the contract on the three-times-a-week Kerrville-Rocksprings route for $2,880.00 per year.

Another fine rain that amounted to one inch fell here at Rocksprings Saturday morning about daylight. It seems to have been general over the country. E. Webb, who ranches 16 miles west, says it was good at his place. It will help a little further in putting this country in great condition.

Something else that was learned from the three road engineers who were here last week was this, that when the new road in Kerr County is completed it is going to shorten the distance between Rocksprings and Kerrville about nine miles. This amounts to a considerable saving in the distance, and this with the good road will make going to Kerrville a distinct pleasure.

Fredericksburg Flashes

Standard, June 10: Last Monday afternoon a Ford car driven by Mr. Bullion and a Regal car driven by Mr. Roeder collided at the curve on the Live Oak road, near the old Eckert gin site. Both cars were damaged badly, and the occupants all received minor bruises and cuts, with the exception of one of the Roeder children which was cut considerably by flying glass.

R. S. Miller, the Gillespie County farm demonstrator, ordered a Radio Phone, to be installed in his office at the court house in the near future. Mr. Miller is the first farm demonstrator in Texas to install a perfect radio phone for the benefit of the farmers and stockmen. With the installation of this radio at the court house, no doubt a number of radio phones will be in use here owned by private concerns.

School Board have power to levy an additional fifty cents for the maintenance of schools. The result was 118 for and 89 against the proposition.

The hum of the threshing machine is now heard in the fields adjoining Center Point. We are sorry to report the crop below the expectations of the farmers. Recent showers, while delaying the harvest, have helped other crops materially.

Sheep came in for shearing from the ranges near Centralia, Wash., with a luxuriant growth of moss on their backs which prevented the fleece from being sold as the wool was not worth the expense of shearing. During the winter the flocks fed in the open country and the wool became drenched in the misty rains, and mixed with the soil of the feeding pens, formed the basis for the formation of the fungus moss.

The Singer's Sacrifice

By WINIFRED DUNBAR

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

A beautiful young woman standing at the window of a drawing room, superbly furnished, a young man leaning towards her, tall, aristocratic looking, graceful and composed and with a fine intellectual face—this was the picture. The young man was the brother and the lonely girl the warmest friend of widowed Beatrice Lane. "You are determined, Lura?" the young man was saying.

Lura Belden lifted both hands, clasped in a pleading, distressed way. Her eyes were tender, her voice gentle and appealing.

"Elwyn," she said softly, but with intense eagerness, "it is only two bright years in my life that I ask, not for myself—just for art's sake and—for others."

"Then it is good-by," definitely responded Elwyn Durand, almost harshly. "The lure of applause, the dower of gold—must I meet it at every step? It is unworthy of you to throw self and fame into the frail scales as against the love of a true and honest heart."

"Oh, you do not understand," cried Lura, but he was gone.

"The songbird, Lura," thus they had called her. The gift had been born with Lura. When a great business crash had wrenched from her mother a royal fortune she had come to the rescue with her peerless voice.

She had won laurels unexpected, the public prints discovered a real imperatrice. Offers had come to her that were bewildering to her girlish mind.

"Only two years, Elwyn!" she had pleaded to her fiancé. "It will mean so much to those I love and cherish."

So Lura told nothing that she might have told, even to her dear friend, Beatrice. Durand went abroad, wandered in odd foreign spots, returned home, and wearying of all wealth might buy of folly became interested in a great humane industrial housing plan.

Lura at the end of two years settled down into a quiet retired life, giving her entire devotion to her invalid mother. Life's darkest hour came to her when the mother died. Only the comfort of moderate wealth was left to her. She became a friend and benefactress to the worthy poor of the section in which she lived.

Beatrice Lane had remarried and had removed to California. Lura had drifted away from her old friends.

One day Durand met an old college chum. The latter was a doctor now. Doctor Witherell became greatly interested in Durand's story of the humanitarian work he was engaged in.

"It occupies me and I hope to do some good," related Durand, "but I do not seem to make the people warm up to me. I am not very happy at heart, to tell you the truth, Witherell."

"It is a rather queer coincidence, but I have a patient who has been following somewhat in your line of humanitarian work," said the doctor. "It is a woman—the most noble of God's creatures—There is a call from my office."

Doctor Witherell crossed the hall into his consultation room. When he came out he ushered a lady to the front door. At sight of her Durand's face grew white as marble.

"Doctor," he gasped, "that lady?"

"Miss Laura Belden," replied his friend.

"Yes, yes, I know," uttered Durand incoherently; "but who—what is she now?"

"A being with a great soul," replied the doctor reverently. "She is the lady I told you of. For over a year she has been the angel of mercy of one of the poorest districts of the city. She has sung only at the settlement clubs. A month ago a little child who heard her sing, dying of a malignant throat disease, begged her mother to ask 'the boomer lady' to come to her. I warned her not to go. Miss Belden ignored my advice. It was Miss Belden's last song."

"Why, what do you mean?" questioned Durand.

"She contracted the disease from the child. I have reached the glory of my life in making one poor soul happy in its darkest need, she now says."

A humbled man, Elwyn Durand sought Lura the next day. He found her at a hall where an exhibit of art and needlework of her pensioners was in progress. And there, her sweet, patient face encouraging him, he told of the great love that had never dimmed, and they went down to the street.

Went down to a new life, mutually blessed, to be together as man and wife, helpers of the poor and oppressed; guides to the unfortunate, the idols of happy, grateful children. Lura had indeed sung her last song, but in their souls love was singing all the years long.

The Sheep Fair.

The little village of East Hsley, on the main road between Newbury and Oxford, has just celebrated the seven hundred and first anniversary of its sheep fair. In the old days Newbury was a great center of the cloth trade, and East Hsley fair frequently saw as many as 80,000 sheep penned in its narrow streets. The picturesque Cloth hall at Newbury, is now a museum; and East Hsley fair is only a shadow of its former self, but that fair will continue to be held as long as a single sheep can be heard on the neighboring downs. That is the pleasant custom of England.—Christian Science Monitor.

for the 100-year cup for longevity, which Father Time fills with the wine of life and from which he drinks deeply to the health of all his children who finish their first one hundred years and start on the second. Time has rested her hand very lightly on his shoulder, and he has the appearance of being much younger than the 80 years which the old family Bible shows will be his age next month.

Much that he recalls of San Antonio and community in the early days, when he is in a reminiscent mood, would make good material for a narrative which would prove that truth is by far stranger than fiction, and it is probably this robust life he has lived which accounts for his longevity and promise of many years to come.

Another entrant into the Century Mark Races, which are open at all times, is a comparatively youthful sprinter in the person of Stephen Gould, who is 76 years old, but who is going strong toward the winning of the race. With the example of the others more ancient before him, the race should not be too difficult, and his entrance into the second century should be made by a robust figure and a smiling face.

Just what it takes to win the race with a hundred years of life has never been evolved into a definite formula. While one ascribes it to eating, another will declare that lack of certain kind of foods is the answer, and still another will say "no smoking" signs have effected his longevity.

But all evidences point to a lack of a set of rules by which long life may be planned. The speeding automobile, earthquakes or the tiny bacteria may cause an untimely demise just when one of the contestants for century honors is spurring ahead of the less ambitious of the brethren.

Down the endless rivers of chance and change come men from all walks of life, but the time-scarred faces of the laughing aged, as they approach the 100-year hurdle, calls forth but one thing they all have in common. They are all workers.

The latest thing in counterfeits is a green diamond. The peculiar tint of the genuine gem is said to have been copied successfully by the use of radium, and large white stones of cheaper quality afford the material on which to work. Fortunately, the smaller gems do not allow enough profit to warrant treatment, and it is only the wealthy who can afford to buy those that are large enough.
