Efforts have been made by the citizens of Kerrville to secure this W. O. W. Hospital, to be located several miles from the town, but Sovereign Frazier does not appear to have given much consideration to these apepals of our citizens.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 18 .- To the 26,000 maimed and wounded veterans of the World War still in Government hospitals, Uncle Sam this year will play Santa Claus, spreading good cheer and gladness.

This message was broadcasted today by Charles R. Forbes, director of the Veterans' Bureau, to the 50 Federal hospitals throughout the land. The Government's gifts to these wards, Forbes announced, would be checks and compensation in full settlement of outstanding claims and adjustments. In order that there be no disappointments, Forbes has ordered the bureau force to work night and day if nec-essary between now and Christmas to conclude the settlements."

Other impromptu speeches were made, interspersed with delightful musical selections by the High School Orchestra. Carnival caps and noisemakers were given each guest and added much to the merriment of the occasion. A six-course dinner was served and the entire affair voted one of the most successful banquet ever given in this city.

BRITISH PLAN TO HARNESS WINDS FOR ELECTRICITY

London, Dec. 18 .- A plan to harness the winds and make them produce electricity for rural dis-tricts has been presented to the Ministry of Agriculture. The scheme involves the erection on hilltops of low buildings, from the sides of which will project huge wings. These wings will be spun by the wind horizontally just above the ground. Proponents of the plan assert that an unlimited volume of electricity can be obtainel in this way at a minimum of cost. Government officials are testing the scheme, and if it proves feasible, it is planned to build several of the generating stations for experimental purposes.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.-Charges of personal insult and straying from the truth were hurled back and forth across the political dividing lines in the Senate this afternoon. The principals in the verbal duel were Senator Smoot (Rep.) of Utah. and Senator Simmons (Dem.) of North Carolina, rival gladiators in many tariff battles. The discussion started out on the subject of stock dividends and drifted into the tariff. Smoot declared retailers are charging consumers "out-rageous profits." Simmons immed-iately interposed that he was glad "to have confirmation of from the Senator from Utah that the spread of 300 or more per cent applies to domestic dealers as well as those dealing in foreign products, after it had been denied in the tariff debate.

Smoot bristled with indignation. He retorted that he did "not propose to be insulted on the floor of the Senate." "I will say to the Senator," Sim-mons replied, "that I have never said upon the floor of the Senate anything intended to insult him, and the Sena tor knows I have not and when the Sen-

Supporting his charge of extortionate profits being exacted by retailers, Smoot related an incident in his own family. When he and Mrs. Smoot went to Utah, he said he bought a pair of shoes for $17. In a hotel in Salt Lake City, he met a shoe salesman who had identically the same shoe Mrs. Smoot had paid $17 for, even the stock number tallying. The salesman said his company sold the shoe for $5:75 all over the country. "Some time," Smoot added, "we are going to stop that sort of thing. Our whole plan of distribution has got to be abolished some time or other." Citing hosiery as an example, he declared he had by personal investi-gation established that there was a difference of 87 per cent between the wholesale and retail price.

The railroads of Texas are overlooking a good business proposition by not doing more newspaper advertising. The people read the newspapers .- Bryan Eagle.

The railroads will never reach normal conditions until they, themselves, return to normalcy by resuming a practice once in vogue, of advertising their lines, their service and accommodations. It was once considered good business to do this, but during the flush travel of war times they fell into a habit of thought that it wasn't necessary any more, and as a result have lost business and friends to the short-haul bus lines .- Mineral Wells Index.

There is another way in which the railroads must awake if they are to increase business-they must give at least a reasonable service. More than a month ago we made two small local shipments, one went about 250 miles

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES By Father Kemper CHRISTMAS PLAY

This Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in Pampell's Opera House, the big annual Christmas play of Notre Dame Institute will take place. The threeact drama, appropriate to the yuletide, is called "The Prince of Peace." - A Christmas carol by the student body will begin the program. After the first act, the boys will re-enact their Thanksgiving hit, namely the "Zu Zu Band." which is sure to please young and old. The next intermission will be filled by a dialogue between Louise Colbath and Viva Ethridge. An elab-orate tableau will be the grand finale. The cast of characters includes thirty actors, all of whom are anxious to give their audience one of the best dramatic performances ever staged at our local Opera House.

Thursday of this week at 4:30 p. m., the Notre Dame pupils will hold their annual Christmas program for the tubercular soldiers and other patients at entertainment Sunday night. the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium. The short entertainment will consist mainly of patriotic songs and Mexico was erected by the Children Jerome Charlier and his gifted grandson, Bernard Whalen, will go with the singers to provide the musical accompaniment.

Classes will not be resumed at either parochial school until Tuesday, January 2nd. There are a few vacancies in the upper grades for those who were disappointed about being admitted last term.

Public Celebration Is Gaining in Small Cities and Towns.

TREES

THE Christmas tree has long been regarded the symbol of Christmas. Many families, especially where there are children, would feel that Christmas was incomplete without a tree decorated with tinsel and candles. However, writes A. H. Pulver in the American Agriculturist, a new idea in regard to such trees seems to be creeping in, and that is the community Christmas tree, which is set up outdoors or in a public building where all people, both rich and poor can admire and enjoy it, and it seems that this tree more truly reflects the unselfish spirit of Christmas.

The movement had its beginning in New York city, but regardless of its origin it is spreading rapidly, especially to the small cities and towns, where it serves to bring all people together and to develop a community spirit. In one city the tree has become a fixed annual event, and each year a large Norway spruce sometimes 50 feet high is brought to the public square where it is set up and dec-
