ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED WITH APPROPRIATE EXERCISES AT LEGION

American Legion Posts, Women's Auxiliary and D. A. V.'s to Co-Operate in Memorial Program at Veterans' Hospital Sunday Afternoon—Entertainment Features Will Be Good.

Armistice Day will be observed Sunday afternoon with fitting exercises at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 93 in which Garrett-Baker Post of Kerrville, Louis Halphen Post at the Hospital, the local Women's Auxiliary to the American Legion and the Disabled Veterans organization at Legion will co-operate. Tentative plans call for a military band and several airplanes from San Antonio to participate in the observance of the holiday.

A meeting of ex-service men and women was held Tuesday night in the Red Cross recreation hall at the hospital at which final details of the program were made. A number of local people, members of the American Legion and Auxiliary, were in attendance at the session.

The program proper will begin at 2 o'clock and continue about two hours. The services will be held out of doors in front of the Infirmary Building if the weather is favorable, otherwise they will take place in the Recreation Hall.

Following is the program to be rendered: Song, "America," all; invocation, Dr. G. M. Macdougall; band selection; solo, Mrs. O. W. Hinds; address of welcome, Col. R. L. Cook, Medical Officer in Charge; song, Saenger quartet; introduction of speaker of the day, Comrade Bomar; address of the day, O. B. Black; band selection; solo, Miss Harriet Garrett; address, Congressman Wurzbach; band selection; solo, Mrs. G. M. Doyle; song, "Star Spangled Banner," all; benediction, Dr. Macdougall.

Arrangements are being made for an aerial exhibition by army planes from San Antonio flying planes to take place immediately following the above program. A group of planes is expected to be here for the occasion and aerial pictures, both moving and stationary, will be made of the hospital grounds and of Kerrville. Moving pictures will be made of the entire celebration.

At 12 noon the huge siren at the hospital will be sounded and all activities on the station will cease for a period of two minutes in commemoration of ex-service men and women who lost their lives in the World War.

A cordial invitation is extended to all those in Kerrville and vicinity who are interested to attend the program beginning at 2 o'clock at the hospital.

ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the eleventh day of November, 1923, falls on Sunday, and

WHEREAS, our people desire to celebrate in a manner befitting the occasion,

THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Kerrville, I proclaim Monday, November 12th, a legal holiday for said city.

A. T. ADKINS, Mayor.

BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE MONDAY IN OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Kerrville To Devote Day to Celebration of Ending of World War; Football in Afternoon.

Monday, November 12th, designated by the leading officials of the country and the Mayor of the city as a legal holiday for Armistice Day, which falls on Sunday this year, will be a dull day in Kerrville as far as business houses are concerned.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has solicited the business men of the city and all stores, and places of business will be closed all day in observance of the anniversary of the ending of the great World War.

No definite program for celebration of the great event is scheduled for Monday, but Kerrville citizens will celebrate as their conscience dictates. Some, of course, will don their hunting togs and chase after the elusive buck; others will enjoy the day picnicking with their families; some will spend a quiet day at home, filled with memories of that great day a few years back when the Nation's best were over-seas doing their bit for their country.

Probably the main entertainment feature provided for the day will be the football game between Schreiner Institute and the University of Texas Freshmen. The contest is called for 3 o'clock at Schreiner Field.

Schreiner Institute has developed a formidable team under the coaching of James C. Oehler, athletic director of the school. They have been defeated but one time this season out of the five games played and they are working hard for the coming contest.

The University Freshmen team is a stronger organization than the Shorthorns and is made up of players who were the leading high school stars of the State last year, and they are coming over with hopes of putting a crimp in Schreiner's record. The home team, meanwhile, is hoping to be able to turn the tables on them.

It will be Kerrville's first opportunity to witness a football eleven of college calibre in action in this city and everyone should take advantage of the occasion. It is thought that a crowd of rooters will accompany the "Fish," but nothing definite on this point could be obtained.

Prospects are bright for a hard fought game and followers of the grid sport are due for an afternoon of good entertainment.

BUY FORGET-ME-NOTS SATURDAY LEST WE FORGET OUR HEROES

Annual Sale to Be Held in Kerrville by the Legion Hospital Organization

Have we, the citizens of the greatest country in the world, forgotten the men who have done so much to uphold the flag and honor of our country, so much that many of them are now engaged, in many instances, in a hopeless fight with an enemy far more ruthless than the power that a few short years ago threatened the peace and safety of our nation?

Saturday, November 10th, the Dr. Millard P. Wilkins Post No. 8, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will hold their annual Forget-Me-Not sale in Kerrville. This is their national flower and is very appropriate for the purpose for which it is used, as proceeds from the sale are used for the relief of disabled former service men throughout the country.

The D. A. V. is a flourishing organization at the Legion Hospital and is composed entirely of men who were wounded in the service of the country during the World War. All of them confined at Legion are suffering from Tuberculosis contracted as a result of the hardships and privations they endured while they were upholding the honor of their country. Some of them are receiving compensation from the Government, but many are not, and it is for the benefit of these who, although they are cared for in one of the finest hospitals in the country and receive the best of medical attention, are suffering for want of the necessities of life not supplied by the hospital, that you are asked to purchase the flowers.

Young ladies of the Auxiliary to the American Legion will canvass the business section of the city Saturday offering flowers for sale and everyone is urged to buy as liberally as possible as this is indeed a worthy cause.

Lest we forget—Forget-Me-Not.

MRS. C. E. HALL PASSED AWAY LAST THURSDAY AT AGE OF 88

The remains were laid to rest by the side of her husband who preceded her in death several years ago.

A wide circle of friends extend heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Parent-Teachers' Club to Meet

The Parent-Teachers' Club of Tivy High School will hold their monthly meeting next Wednesday afternoon, November 14, at 4 o'clock, in the High School auditorium. All members are urged to be present as important plans will be discussed.

The following program will be rendered: Lord's Prayer; Brief talk on Co-operation as a necessary factor between parents, teachers and pupils, by Rev. F. A. White; Lise Lullaby (Lane), Mrs. G. M. Doyle; Hygiene of Education, Mrs. Amy Wallace; Benediction, Rev. F. A. White.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO URGE BIGGER PRODUCTION

Veterans' Hospital Provides Market For More Than Local Producers Can at Present Supply.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last Thursday evening it was decided to inaugurate a movement to urge greater production by Kerr County farmers, poultrymen and dairymen. To further this purpose a committee was appointed and will begin its work immediately.

The course was deemed advisable because of the market provided for home grown produce created by the U. S. Veterans' Hospital. Present demands of that institution are far greater than local producers can supply and the demand is steadily increasing.

O. W. Hinds, chief clerk at the hospital, appeared before the board and outlined briefly what products are needed than can be grown in this section. He urged that the attention of the people be called so they may take advantage of the opportunities it presents.

A committee was appointed by President E. H. Prescott to work in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee headed by Judge Julius Real, in promoting the interest in greater production. The additional committee consists of Hal Peterson, chairman, Howard Butt, A. B. Williamson, Ally Beitel and Alois Renschel. County Agent J. C. Yeary will co-operate with both committees and the farmers.

It is planned to have mass meetings of the farmers at their respective community centers and to lay before them the present situation and show them the opportunities that await them by having a market for all they can produce. It means that by supplying home products something like $1,500,000 annually will be kept in circulation here, this being the approximate sum expended for foodstuffs by the hospital.

At present the greater part of the commodities used by the institution are bought in San Antonio and other markets because they cannot be obtained locally due to the inadequate supply. As much as possible of this produce is purchased here and the remainder must be shipped in from outside markets, hence the money spent for the imported goods is sent away from here.

It was brought out at the meeting that the greatest work before the Agricultural and Special Committees is making local growers realize what a big market awaits them for their products and what they are losing by not being able to supply the demands. Hence the community meetings are to be held to inform the people vitally interested what they may expect by increasing their production.

It was also shown that when local production is increased to the point where it exceeds local demands, a ready market for the surplus is available in San Antonio. It was made clear that there is little possibility of the local supply being so great that a market could not be obtained for it.

An illustration of the enormous demand of the Veterans' Hospital for foodstuffs Mr. Hinds furnished the Sun with the list given below showing the requirements of the institution from the present until January 1st. He stated the demand will be even greater next year and a steady increase is expected. The list follows:

Beef, 12,000 pounds; mutton, 3,000 pounds; Lamb, 1,000 pounds; milk, 18,000 gallons; Cream, 1,000 gallons; butter, 5,000 pounds; eggs, 60,000 dozens; poultry, including hens, ducks, geese and turkeys, 62,000 pounds; cabbage, 10,000 pounds; carrots, 5,000 pounds; string beans, 600 bushels; celery, 60 dozen bunches; cauliflower, 1,200 heads; corn, fresh green ears, 150 dozen ears; turnips, 4,000 pounds; lettuce, 600 dozen heads; potatoes, white, 24,000 pounds; potatoes, sweet, 7,000 pounds; tomatoes, 200 crates. All other fresh vegetables are used in varying amounts.

The committees are already at work on the proposition and have announced the speakers who will make addresses at the community meetings to be held. They are Judge Julius Real, County Agent J. C. Yeary, O. W. Hinds and A. B. Williamson.

A tentative schedule of the meetings has been announced as follows: Friday, Nov. 9, Sunset School House at 7 p. m.; Wednesday, Nov. 14, Hunt School House at 7 p. m.; Friday, Nov. 16, Ingram School House at 7 p. m.; Tuesday, Nov. 20, Center Point School House at 7 p. m.; and Saturday, Nov. 24, Court House at Kerrville, 3 p. m.

Several other meetings are planned and definite announcement of them will be made within a few days.

All farmers, poultrymen, dairymen and others who produce any of the commodities listed above should give this matter careful attention and it should receive their backing for it means more to them than any other one movement inaugurated for their benefit. It will also mean a great deal to everyone in the county, for it will put more money in circulation and keep it at home.

A cordial invitation is extended to every one who is interested in this matter, ladies included, to attend at least one of the meetings.

LEST WE FORGET

"Cease firing," the order was given at eleven o'clock the morning of November 11th, 1918, along the far flung battle line of the Allied Armies sweeping onward to the overthrow of the retreating hordes of the Kaiser. Back they had been driven by the fierce onslaughts of the valorous men bearing the Stars and Stripes—over war-torn terrain, on to the very lair of the hated despot who threatened civilization.

The order came with welcome relief to millions of fighting men, and yet not without a feeling of disappointment to the Allied troops that the country of the enemy had not been penetrated and a more weighty punishment inflicted.

In a final storm of death-dealing blasts from artillery, infantry and airplanes, the boches fought with their backs to the wall, wearied and spent by years of war and astounded by the unbelievable breaking of the Hindenburg line by the Doughboys who stopped at no obstacles. Without detracting in the least from the courage and valor of the British Tommies and the French Poilu, it may be indisputably asserted that the onward march of America's soldiery decided the great war. That it ended without a decisive victory at arms was the only occasion for disappointment, but only did it rob the victory of a spectacular glamour.

Hostilities ceased on the most extended battle line of the world's history. Big guns were stilled, the soldiery laid down their arms and a glad shout of exultation followed the moment of breathless stillness. Our men knew the war was over. There was naught left for the Kaiser's war lords except to accept the terms offered in the parley.

Fierce passion had been assuaged by physical combat and now the warring forces were ready for the rule of reason. A price of blood had been exacted, lives had been sacrificed, the indomitable will of freedom had been expressed in most certain terms.

Loved ones of America's soldiery here at home were joyous with the cessation of hostilities, many of them later to be bowed with grief that in the last moments a son, brother or sweetheart had been one of those heroic sacrifices to the cause of freedom. Not until Thanksgiving time did many anxious hearts cry with relief that God had spared them the loss of a heroic son.

Armistice Day brings memories that play upon human heartstrings as does no other day in the calendar. And it seems the most tangible feeling that can be expressed is that of thankfulness mingled with a patriotic conviction that the principles of true representative government must always endure triumphant over all despotism and selfish greed. Victory has strengthened the undying principles of liberty with a more perfect understanding that eternal vigilance is its price. It is the re-dedication of the temple of universal justice.

The war is not over, though five years have passed since that eventful day. The nations still suffer wrongs and injustices, and the problems of that day are yet unsettled. Even America's valorous soldiery yet suffer because of the indifference of the public conscience.

It is not a vain hope that there will be no more war. Rule of reason may not always settle all grave national problems or international difficulties. There is the same likelihood of war that there is of murder and crime, for government is but the crystallized expression of people.

Then it follows that a truer devotion to ideals of liberty and the recognition of the personal rights of others must be carefully sought. America's soldiers were the greatest in all the world because they have the truest conception of liberty and the greatest vision.

Petty strife, prejudice, selfishness, bigotry and ignorance are the constant enemies of freedom and every citizen of the land must continually wage peaceful warfare. Indifference spells the disaster of war's carnage.

Loving thy neighbor as thyself does not mean condoning his faults nor ignorance of his viewpoint. None are perfect, but to all is the duty of seeking perfection. No greater ambition can be conceived than that of being of greatest service. Our glorious country must be served faithfully to preserve the high ideals purchased by the blood of our heroic dead.

And Armistice Day is most fitting to excite in the public mind a deeper devotion, a higher patriotism and a more consecrated citizenship.

No reception is planned for the Governor by Kerrville citizens, conforming to the wishes of the executive, and it is not known how long he will be in the hills.

Kerrville, including the whole people, are honored by his visit and hope to clasp his hand with a congratulatory greeting when he comes back through here.

MARTIN LORING OF MASON NEWS KILLED ON HUNT

Mason, Tex., Nov. 4.—Martin D. Loring, editor of the Mason News, accidentally killed himself while out hunting Sunday morning, the bullet of his rifle penetrating the right breast and lodging in the neck. Death was instantaneous.

Wallace Boston, his companion on the hunt, was approaching the deceased at a previously arranged meeting place when Loring's gun in some unexplained manner was discharged. The fatality occurred in Fritz Martin's pasture on the Llano River. The shock of the news has cast a gloom over the entire county, as Loring was well known and very popular. He was about 30 years of age and leaves a widow and three little girls, the youngest only three months old.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, pending the arrival of his father from Nashville, Tenn., and a sister from New Mexico.

BILLY GOAT ODOR TO AID CURE OF LUNG TROUBLES

Paris, Nov. 6.—The peculiar and particularly penetrating odor of the he-goat has an important therapeutic value, according to Dr. Georges Louvel in the Medical Review. Dr. Louvel states that this is particularly true in the treatment of tuberculosis and diseases of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

"The legendary goat, supposedly charged with the sins of Israel," says Dr. Louvel, "is nothing more nor less than an agent for disinfection created by the Almighty."

"Put the goat in a stable where cows and other animals are dying, and the epidemic soon disappears, and the sick animals recover. I hope to found a sanatorium where the panamic smells of the goat will be the sole agent used as a cure for lung diseases."

Dr. Louvel points out that the goat is the only animal absolutely immune from tuberculosis and says that the immunity of the children of Israel from lung trouble, resulted from the fact that they slept with the goats in their tents. The article asserts that several cases of bronchial pneumonia have been cured by introducing goats into the sick room and letting them sleep in the same bed with the patient.

METHODISTS PLAN TO BUILD TWO LARGE ENCAMPMENTS

Beeville, Tex., Nov. 4.—An annual encampment for the West Texas Conference of the Methodist Church similar to the old Epworth League encampment maintained at Corpus Christi for a number of years, was inaugurated at the Conference of West Texas just closed at Gonzales. The idea was originated and worked out by Rev. H. E. Draper of this city, presiding elder of the Beeville district. A constitution was adopted and a board of five trustees with control of the sites and physical property incident to the encampment.

Two sites will be chosen within the near future, one to be situated in the mountains and one on the coast. Programs for the encampments will be in charge of a committee composed of one member from each of the five big boards of the conference.

Trustees named by the conference were Rev. H. E. Draper of this city, Rev. A. H. Moore of Travis Park Methodist Church, San Antonio; Dr. Burgin of San Antonio; Rev. Mr. Bachelor of Kingsville, and Rev. Fisher Simpson of Cuero. A board of five lay members of the conference will work with the trustees, and they were named as follows: Judge Perkins of Alice; Judge M. A. Childers of San Antonio; George Walling of Austin; Judge Chambers of San Antonio, and H. E. Jackson of San Antonio.

It is planned to have the programs in the two encampments, one on the coast and one in the Texas mountains, to run simultaneously, with the speakers visiting both encampments.

Kerrville and Junction have made bids already for favor in securing the camp in the mountains, and Aransas Pass has made an offer for the coast encampment. Rev. Mr. Draper said the board expected to receive propositions from other towns on the coast and in the mountain region. He said the board of trustees would soon make a selection of sites. The trustees will incorporate and receive a charter under the laws of Texas and the encampments will be operated on a strict business basis, Rev. Mr. Draper said.

Announcement was made in last week's issue of the Comfort News that Vincent J. McAteer, editor of that paper for the past twenty years, has sold his business to A. P. Kehoe and retired from active newspaper work the first of the month. The change was made necessary owing to falling health of Mr. McAteer. While The Sun is not personally acquainted with Mr. Kehoe, he has the reputation of being a good newspaper man and will without doubt keep the News up to the high standard maintained by Mr. McAteer in the past. Mr. McAteer announces that he will still reside in Comfort, and The Sun expresses the hope that he will regain his health and that the grind of chasing the elusive comma is taken from his shoulders. A welcome is also extended to Mr. Kehoe and wishes for success in his new field.

San Antonio Express: Kerrville postal receipts showed very satisfactory gain during the fiscal year recently ended. Anything else would have been surprising. Kerrville is not only a growing town, but all those church people who crowd its streets through most of the warm weather add to postoffice business. Enough San Antonio Presbyterians spend their vacations in Kerrville to make new stocks of stamps necessary. San Antonians of all kinds of religious persuasions believe in writing back home just what a fine time they are having along the Guadalupe.

Hunting Pecans

Galveston News: If the city dwellers were to get into their cars and drive out into the country with the announced intention of "hunting" hogs or stilton wrenches or spare tires, he would soon find himself pursued by a representative of the sheriff's force. And when a colored brother "hunts" a fat hen by the dark of the moon it is stealing. But when the town man takes pecans that belongs to some farmer, it's hunting. The farmer, however, can't see why it isn't stealing, even if it's a hundred pounds of pecans or so that he loses, instead of a hog or a coop of chickens. And when you come to think of it, there doesn't seem to be much moral difference after all.

The trouble is that few people stop to think of it. It seems so small a matter to tear out by the side of the road and strip a pecan tree its yield, throwing chunks and sticks up into the branches to knock the nuts loose—at the same time injuring the trees so that there will be little or no crop the next year, very probably. The practice is a relic of old times, when persimmons, nut trees of all kinds and watermelons were considered pretty much common property. "Hunting" watermelons, indeed, has been put down as a mild form of stealing, perhaps owing to the fact that the labor of planting and tending the patch was recognized as conveying to the owner some of the color of ownership which is associated with other property. But the fruit of trees and plants which grow without cultivation by the owner has long been looked upon as "wild" and hence as no man's although found on land clearly forbidden to the public generally.

Pecans, however, are no longer in the class with hackberries, red haws and sheep sorrell. Pecans are a salable crop. Just at this time they form a far more salable crop than corn and wheat. The fact that a pecan tree is a natural growth instead of a carefully grafted and planted nursery stock does not rob the owner of the right to the crop and to the protection of his trees against promiscuous felling and mutilation by trespassers and thieves. His pecan tree is just as much his as his corn crib or his horse stall. Town people should realize this and if they don't, nobody can blame the farmer for calling on the criminal courts for redress.

Red Cross First Aid Standards Adopted In Great Industries

First aid in an emergency which assures the injured competent attention until the doctor arrives is making marked headway through the work of the chapters of the American Red Cross. In populous centers 314 chapters conduct first aid classes and last year awarded 3,500 certificates to students. Eight big telephone companies have enlisted their workers in first aid classes, police and fire departments in large cities are making the course compulsory in their training schools, and through colleges and high schools large groups of students receive instruction. The Red Cross also gives this course through Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations, and its standard methods have been adopted by railroads, electric and gas companies, mines and in the metal industries. The aim of this Red Cross service is to cut down radically the average of 40,000 accidental deaths per year in the United States.

New Use for Filiver.

The Buffums are great tourists. During the summer there isn't a week-end they miss going out in their little open car. They never miss a bet. There isn't one of the better-known week-end resorts they fail to visit. But as soon as the cold weather comes the car is drained of water and the storage battery is put in the cellar until spring.

Neighbors of the Buffums have noticed Mrs. Buffum making frequent visits to the garage of late, bearing covered dishes and paper packages of food. One neighbor was finally constrained to find out what these processions meant. Mrs. Buffum explained: "Our house is so hot," she said, "that we needed more ice than in summer, so I'm using the car as an icebox. And I'm saving the price of five gallons of gas a week on my ice bill."

A Buick for Business

With its roadsters for 1924, Buick has again created a new standard of roadster utility and attractiveness. Nor can the appearance of this four-cylinder two-passenger model convey in full its story. The famous Buick valve-in-head engine provides even greater flexibility and acceleration than before. The proved Buick four-wheel brakes assure more than ample safety for any emergency.

Business of today demands a sturdy, powerful, safe and dependable car—one that remains constantly in service. This new two-passenger, four-cylinder Roadster is one of Buick's contributions and answers to this demand.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

CARNIVAL DEFIES RAIN

The weather man seemed to have tested our patience with his worst assortment during Halloween week; but despite his incessant cold, slushy deluge the Notre Dame Bazaar was a splendid success. The treasurer sums it up by reporting a profit of over four hundred dollars. Without question, under favorable climatic conditions, everything would have been sold out the first night, except perhaps the more costly fancy pieces and the big original painting.

of the festival, was deeply appreciated by all who sponsored it.

Sr. Josephine Operated Hardly was the bazaar over when one of the enthusiastic workers was suddenly seized with a strangulated hernia that necessitated an immediate operation. Poor Sister Josephine was brought in a precarious condition to Secor's Hospital where the best of attention was lavished on her. Three trained nurses from Santa Rosa Infirmary sped to Kerrville to lend their assistance; namely Sisters Roderick, Margaret Mary and Thadens. The last-named returned to San Antonio Sunday. At present writing the outcome of the serious operation is still problematic, and the prayers of all citizens, regardless of creed, are earnestly entreated for this consecrated servant of our common Master.

The Notre Dame children will try to contribute their quota in aiding the disabled veterans Armistice Day by the sale of forget-me-nots.

On account of the December mission to be given by Rev. Bernard Kalvage, C. S. S. R., the customary Christmas entertainment will be deferred until shortly before the Lenten season opens.

The Mexicans, however, will hold a dramatic program on the feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe, Dec. 12th, when the Rt. Rev. Bishop is expected. Details of the reception remain doubtful until we know the outcome of Sr. Josephine's illness.

At the Guadalupe Church Last Sunday in the Mexican chapel three neophytes received the holy sacrament of baptism. Ernesto Marines was the proud padrino of one of the candidates.

In the afternoon, from the Guadalupe Church, the funeral cortege of Mrs. George de la Paz proceeded to the Harper Road Cemetery. Mr. Fitzsimmons, at whose ranch on the Bandera Road the Paz family had worked, was very kind to the bereaved and showered on them Christian consideration.

The semi-monthly engagement at the Comfort mission was filled Wednesday of this week.

Due to the inclement weather it was necessary to omit the solemn observance of All Hallows', and All Souls' Day. Services, however, were held at both parishes.

Miss Harriet Mae is back at her post at the Legion Hospital, after a month's vacation spent in Houston. Other Catholics added to our Legion list are Manuel Benitz, baker; John Chisholm, chauffeur; Joseph Pachek, cook; and Jerome Brown, waiter.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition.

Theford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught. Sold everywhere.

METHODIST CHURCH (By Member)

In spite of the doubtful weather there was a fine attendance at services last Sunday. Dr. White preached his initial sermon of the conference year, and the burden of his message was "Give God Your Best." We feel that it gave us a fine start; now let us keep the good work going.

Brother Mathis, who was detained in Kerrville on his way to his charge at Sonora, favored us with a splendid sermon Sunday night. We hope he may visit us again.

The Woman's Missionary Society is beginning the year with the regular week of prayer this week; and an all-day meeting was held at the church last Tuesday, opening with business meeting at 10:30 a. m. An interesting program was carried on through the day and offerings for missions were taken.

There will be regular services next Sunday; Sunday School at 9:45 a. m.; Preaching at 11 a. m.; and Preaching at 7:30 p. m.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES (By Member)

At the morning service at 11 o'clock at the Episcopal Church there will be a special Armistice Service and all ex-service men not members of any church are asked to attend in uniform. This practice is being instituted in San Antonio. But uniform or no uniform, all ex-service men are cordially invited. The rector will be in what remains of his uniform.

A detachment of ex-service men from Dr. Thompson's Sanatorium will be present and are going to sing a roundelay. Mrs. J. Hines of the Federal Hospital will sing a solo, and all who have heard Mrs. Hines sing know that a rare treat is in store for them.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Kerrville People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Kerrville.

Miss Adele Michon, Tivy Street, Kerrville, says: "I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand and whenever I have any signs of kidney complaint they are sure to give me relief. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache, when I felt so tired and worn I could scarcely do my work. Headaches annoyed me and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills from the Rock Pharmacy quickly stopped the backaches and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Michon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Advertisement, 28-40).

PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER PRAISES AUSTIN COLLEGE

To The Editor of The Mountain Sun: I have read with considerable interest the announcement in the press that the Southern Presbyterians, in this state have launched a campaign for $1,350,000 for their educational institutions. The announcement is particularly pleasing to the former students of Austin College at Sherman, one of the beneficiaries. I understand that Austin College will receive at least $200,000 for endowment and equipment in addition to a sum sufficient to pay all indebtedness.

Austin College has a wonderful history. It is one of the oldest institutions of learning in Texas and next year it will celebrate its Diamond Jubilee. It was founded at a time when the Presbyterians were very weak in Texas. There were less than 1,000 members and yet with wisdom and courage the pioneers of the Lone Star State decided that the great need of Texas was a Christian College. It has turned out leaders in the State and Nation, Christian leaders not only among the Presbyterians but in other denominations. All Texas is proud of Austin College and all who are interested in Christian education should support this great campaign, regardless of denomination.

The Shadchan's Deal

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

The Shadchan, the Jewish marriage broker, was chuckling as he went down the street.

"Such a fine young man," he muttered, "and just the husband for Bessie Greenberg. I wonder I didn't think of him before."

It was the closing hour of Isaacs & Cohen's boot factory. The operatives came out; the broker waited until a handsome young man with a keen, intelligent face appeared and button-holed him.

"Good evening, Mr. Epstein!" "Oh, good evening, Aaronstamm," returned Epstein, with whom the broker had scraped acquaintance, though Epstein did not know what Aaronstamm's business was.

"Doing anything tonight? What d'you say to a cup of coffee at Hamilton's after dinner?"

Epstein agreed, and found the broker waiting for him.

"Well, how's things going? Why don't a smart fellow like you go through college, instead of staying satisfied in a factory, Mr. Epstein?"

Epstein smiled wearily. "The money—" "Bah, Mr. Epstein. If that's all, I find it a wife for you. A smart girl who sends you through college as soon as you've married her, and waits for you."

"Who is she?" "Bessie Greenberg, the daughter of old Barney Greenberg."

"What, the candy man?" "The broker nodded. "She put you through college maybe, and pay you a thousand dollars pocket-money besides."

"Why should her father take a penniless immigrant from Russia?" demanded Epstein.

"But, my friend, they think more of family than of money. They got money, but they ain't got family. Your father was a highly respected rabbi in the old country. You come up and look at her. Come just as you are, my friend; she won't eat you."

Epstein accompanied Aaronstamm to the Greenberg's flat on East Sixty-fourth street. He had never been in such a sumptuous place before.

Despite his wealth old Greenberg was charming. So was his stout, placid wife. But their charms waned before that of Bessie. She could not have been more than twenty, a slim, lively brunette, with a pair of great, flashing eyes.

Before the evening was over the young people had fallen in love with each other. Epstein went again and again. On his third visit Mr. Greenberg collared him in the hall as he was leaving.

"Young man," he said, "what are your intentions about my daughter?" "I—I—" stammered Epstein.

"One thousand dollars to marry her, and—and we put you through college." "Suppose I change my mind when I've been through college?" "That won't make any difference. You marry her first. This day week—see?"

The contract was signed the following day, and the broker went on his way rejoicing, with a hundred dollars in his pocket.

Epstein gave up his job and lived in a dream. He bought a clean collar and had his suit pressed for the occasion.

He was more in love with Bessie than ever before, and she with him. He had already picked out his college. He was to spend four years there, on Bessie's money, and then he was to go into business and they would live together.

On the day before the marriage he met his friend Meyerbeer in the street.

"Hello, Epstein, I'm so sorry for you!" he exclaimed.

"Sorry?" grunted Epstein. Meyerbeer was the manager of the boot factory. "I guess you're sorrier for yourself."

"Quit kidding, Epstein. Say, if you want your job back you can have it."

"For what should I want my job back?"

"You ain't heard old Greenberg's busted? Arrested for fraud? Gee, you're slow, Epstein! I guess he wanted a sucker like you to hand his daughter to while he planned his getaway."

Epstein hurried to the Greenberg's apartment. It was only too true. The place was half dismantled, and Mrs. Greenberg and Bessie, with tears in their eyes, were packing trunks.

"Get out, young man!" snarled the mother. "You're mighty lucky, let me tell you that. If Joe hadn't been a fool he'd have held out till you and Bessie was married. Now she never find a mans. Oy! Oy!"

Epstein went straight up to Bessie. "You don't want me no more?" he demanded.

"Is the man crazy?" yelled mama. "I tell you there ain't no college, no money nothing. Beat it!"

"There's always Bessie." And, as she looked at him incredulously, he continued:

"Say, I never did think much of college fellers, and I got a fine job waiting for me, Bessie. What you say? Tomorrow we get the minister—no? Yes?"

Caved-in-Man (bragging)—Well! I'm boss in my home.

Friend Wife (entering unexpectedly)—What's that you say?

Caved-in-Man (weeily)—Well, I can say what I please to the goldfish.

SCHREINER'S WEIGHT WINS FROM SAN MARCOS BAPTIST ACADEMY

Owens Pulls Sensational 65-Yard Run For Only Touchdown of Game in Last Period—Score, 10 to 0.

In a game filled with thrills, sheer avoidupis triumphed over speed handicapped by mud last Saturday afternoon and Schreiner chalked up a 10-to-0 victory over the San Marcos Baptist Academy eleven on Tivy field before a crowd of between 300 and 400 followers of the grid sport.

It was a battle to a finish, but the little Academy eleven was hopelessly outweighed and the slick field robbed them of their main weapon—speed, while the heavy Schreiner bunch seemed to suffer little from mud.

The first quarter was scoreless with both teams punting frequently, although Schreiner kept the attack largely in the visitors' territory. Institute plowed through the light San Marcos line for gains that netted first down after first down, but the Academy squad gave ground slowly and the Maroon and White earned every inch.

In the second quarter a couple of forward passes and end runs put Schreiner within three yards of the goal line with four downs to put it across, but the Academy line stiffened. Four times Schreiner's entire weight was thrown against the light Blue and White eleven, but when the last down was called the pigskin was still a yard within the field and Academy took the ball, punting out of danger.

Schreiner worked the ball back within ten yards of the goal, but again the fighting Collegians stopped them and Schreiner was forced to resort to the place kick in order to score. Stevens booted the ball over from the 21-yard line.

In the last half the visitors had the leather more than during the opening period, but could gain little through Schreiner's mountainous line. End runs netted but little because of the mud. In the third period Fritz of San Marcos broke through tackle, dodged the entire Schreiner bunch and had a clear field ahead of him. After reeling off about 35-yards he slipped and fell, Maroon and White tacklers pinning him down on the 40-yard stripe before he could recover himself. It was a beautiful broken field run, and deserved not the trick Lady Luck played upon him.

It seemed as though the game would end with the score standing at 3 to 0, when Academy opened up during the late minutes of the final period with a furious aerial attack. After working the swineskin up to Schreiner's 40-yard mark, one of the aerials landed in Owen's clutch and Monty raced 65 yards down the sideline for a touchdown. Stevens added the extra point on a place boot.

Flory played his usual consistent game as did Stevens. Ford pulled a couple of pretty tackles to help things along.

Wade and Newberry bore the brunt of the visitors' offense and defense. Fritz played stellar ball until he was injured in the last quarter. He gave a good indication of his speed on the slick field and might have caused the local team considerable trouble had he found ground to race on.

Life Saving Work Of Red Cross Corps Wars on Drownings

The insignia of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps on the bathing apparel of men, women and youths is seen everywhere at favorite bathing places along the coasts, rivers, lakes and ponds. In its unrelenting campaign to reduce loss of life by drowning the Red Cross is making constant headway. The demands for instruction from organizations in all parts of the country were so numerous the past year that it was necessary to more than double the staff of Red Cross instructors. This work of training for water life-saving showed an enrollment of over 30,000 volunteers enlisted for duty on patrol, for rescue and resuscitation, all competent to instruct others in the standard water-safety methods. The Red Cross by request of the War Department gives water first aid training at the United States Military and Naval academies and in the military training camps for reserve officers and civilians. The four cash prizes awarded by the Red Cross last year for heroic rescues were conferred upon two girls, a boy and a man, indicating that the youths of the country stand well at the top in conserving life along our water courses.

TIVY SWAMPS COMFORT HIGH'S INEXPERIENCED TEAM TUESDAY

Visitors Unable to Cope With Speed of Moses' Warriors in One-Sided Game—Final Score is 63 to 0.

Comfort High School's newly organized football team stacked up against Coach Moses' Tivy High speed demons Tuesday afternoon and learned a couple of things in their first game. When the smoke of battle finally cleared away after four long periods of scoring by the home bunch the adding machines registered approximately 63 points to nothing.

Practically the entire Tivy team had a chance to pull sensational stuff and some of them succeeded in getting away with it. About the most spectacular play of the game was Osborne's long run for touchdown after intercepting a pass on the 56-yard line. Tarver toted the swinehide across on an end run from the 35-yard stripe and Wall dittoed with another from the 30-yard mark. Saenger put over a couple after long runs. The Comfort bunch put up a fight from the opening whistle, but their lack of experience in the niceties of the game was evident in their play. They had plenty of speed, but seemed not to know what to do with it, hence they failed to get within scoring distance. At any rate they deserve some credit for the fighting spirit they showed all through the battle. West led his team on the offense and defense with his all-around playing.

Coach Moses takes his pets to Fredericksburg Friday afternoon for a tilt with the newly organized high school squad of that town. A good crowd of rooters is expected to trail over there and bark.
