DEDICATION OF COUNTRY CLUB TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Exhibition Match Between Professionals Friday—Amateurs Saturday—Reception at Night.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the formal opening of the golf course and club house of the Kerrville Country Club will begin with an exhibition match between four of the best professionals in the State.

At 7 o'clock that night and lasting until 8:30 a reception will be held in the club house to enable the members of the club to greet and become acquainted with the visitors, as well as with one another.

The amateur tournament will begin Saturday morning and all the local luminaries are contemplating demonstrating their prowess. In addition a large number of amateurs from San Antonio have signified their intention of competing.

The house committee announces that both the reception and dance will be informal affairs and that only members of the club and their guests are invited.

The golf course of the Kerrville Country Club is fast gaining fame as one of the best 9-hole courses in the country, as well as being the most picturesque. It is well situated between the surrounding mountains, with Quinlan Creek meandering through the grounds and forming seven natural hazards on the course.

The entire course and grounds occupy over 40 acres of ground. The course was laid out by John Bredemus of Houston, one of the "pros" in Friday's tournament, and was constructed under the supervision of "Tests" Dokins, who has been retained by the club as professional.

The board of governors of the Country Club is composed of: W. Scott Schreiner, president; E. Galbraith, vice president; Cecil Robinson, secretary; A. C. Schreiner Jr., chairman golf committee; Ally Beitel, chairman finance committee; E. H. Prescott, chairman entertainment committee; Dr. J. D. Jackson, chairman house committee; Dr. A. A. Roberts, chairman greens committee; S. H. Huntington, A. B. Williamson and Hal Peterson. It was under the direction of this board of governors that the enterprise took form and resolved itself into the finished product that it is today.

Length of the course is 3,175 yards and par for the course is 36. The best record made to date on the course is five above par, made by a professional. Average among players is around 50 for the course. The length of the holes and par for each is as follows: No. 1, 310 yards, par 4; No. 2, 360 yards, par 4; No. 3, 410 yards, par 4; No. 4, 275 yards, par 4; No. 5, 590 yards, par 5; No. 6, 145 yards, par 3; No. 7, 530 yards, par 4; No. 8, 185 yards, par 3; No. 9, 410 yards, par 4.

The flags on every green can be seen from the veranda of the club house, located on the brow of a knoll overlooking the entire course, and a beautiful view is obtainable from there. The club house offers all conveniences, including locker room, baths, golf shop, refreshment room, etc. A large club room also used for dances, and kitchens are provided.

No 1 tee is but a few steps from the wide veranda of the club house and is located on the edge of the hill overlooking the entire course. A bad trap lays but 100 yards from the tee, over which the player must drive to reach the fairway. About 100 yards further on is another trap on the right

INTERESTING MEETING OF LEGION CLINICAL SOCIETY

The Clinical Society of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 93 met in the officers' assembly room, administration building, last Friday afternoon.

The program consisted of the following papers and discussions: Paper: The Normal Chest, Dr. Geo. L. Johnson. Discussion was opened by Dr. C. L. Moore. The other physicians participating in the discussion were Doctors Thompson and Klein and Dr. Woods read a paper entitled "Potent Facts Concerning Tuberculosis of the Upper Respiratory Passages." The physicians discussing this paper were Doctors Ledbetter, Thompson and Matz.

The meeting was very well attended, those present were: Doctors Thompson, Ledbetter and McDonald of Kerrville; Doctors Cook, Adams, Woods, Matz, Schwarz, Rosrock, Denson, Hoppel, Kerr, Carrington, Johnson, Moore, Klein, Walker, Garrett and Fryar, all of U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 93.

ST. EDWARDS WON OVER SCHREINER LAST FRIDAY

Institute Gives Saints Tough Battle But Finally Lose 12-7—Aerial Attack Feature of Game.

Austin American, Oct. 11: Coach Jack Meagher's Saints took the second game of the season, 12 to 7, Friday afternoon from the Schreiner Institute team in a battle in which the teams alternated in outplaying each other with honors, except for the scoring, about even. The Saints had considerable advantage over the Institute in both weight and experience and these two factors saved Meagher's club from defeat. Not more than twice during the entire game were Jeff Neely's backs able to gain through the line and it was only their passing game—Laughlin to Windrow, and Laughlin to Andrews—that kept them from being crushed under a heavy score.

Generally speaking, the breaks of the game went to the visitors. But when the ball was on the 10-yard line the Saints forced the breaks in the other direction and twice saved themselves from defeat.

Pete Edwards, diminutive and flashing halfback for the Schreiner team, kept his school in a threatening position throughout the first half as his series of around-end and off-tackle runs that seemed likely to result in a touchdown at any moment. Edwards was by far the fastest man on the field and once placed the ball on the St. Edward's 20-yard line in a brilliant run around the Catholic ends. The Schreiner dodged a couple of would-be tacklers when it seemed that he would be knocked out of bounds and was only stopped by the St. Edward's safety man.

Meagher's backs were entirely unable to cope with the passing attack which the Institute staged. The plays from which the passes were completed appeared simple and time and again the local backfield men called the play in advance, only to let an end or halfback get away from them and into the open to snare an easy toss. Laughlin heaved the ball between 10 and 20 yards on an average and these passes brought the Institute's only score and threatened again.

The starting line-up of the St. Edward team seemed to be caught napping in the first half by the determined fight put up by the Schreiner team. Early in the first quarter the Catholics saved themselves from being scored on only after the visitors had pushed the ball down to within striking distance of the goal line. Captain Stausey stopped an early attempt at the aerial game by Schreiner when he intercepted a long pass on his own 40-yard line and ran the ball back to the Schreiner 30-yard line. A bad pass from Harrington at center took St. Edward's chance to score, however, and brought on a fever of fumbles on both sides.

Coach Meagher rushed in a stream of substitutes that seemed to have more ability to stop the Kerrville players, and also pushed through for the first touchdown. Halfback Wiggs, a recent army recruit for the St. Edward team, starred in the second quarter, and the big fellow could hardly be stopped in his vicious line thrusts. He seemed to pass, punt and carry the ball with equal ease.

The Saints scored their first touchdown just before the whistle in the second quarter, when after a series of punts and line plunges, Ailet passed 30 yards to Stanley, who was downed on the eight-yard line. Williams then tore off six yards through the line, and Ailet bucked it over on the next play. Wiggs failed to kick goal. The whistle ended the half as Schreiner kicked off.

Following the success of the end run experiment, Laughlin elected to work with it a bit. But the attack failed, even though it did appear spectacular. A complete lack of interference made a substantial gain by the visitors impossible.

Schreiner all but won the game in the final quarter by taking the ball to the St. Edward's 10-yard line. Three passes to Edwards, substituting for Schubert, were broken up by Wiggs—two of them by mere chance. A fourth pass went toward Flory, but Laughlin heaved too heartily and the ball was over his head. The Saints ran the ball out of danger and the game ended there.

The second half saw the Institute unleash its usual aerial attack with even greater effectiveness. The Saints kicked off and the ball was brought out to the 20-yard line. Laughlin kicked on the first play to O'Connor, who muffed the ball, and then loafed while Babb, center for Institute, recovered in midfield. A pair of passes brought two more first downs, but there the drive ended and Laughlin booted again. O'Connor took the ball safely and ran it back to the 30-yard line. Williams got the ball on the next play and broke around left end for nearly 40 yards. Greenway finally pulled him down after five Schreiner men had missed.

Stuessy took the ball at this point and in a series of drives carried the play down to the 2-yard line. Time out was called and O'Connor and Harrington framed the play as they rested. The referee had scarcely more than blown his whistle when the two went over the goal line, Swenson-Elam fashion, for the touchdown.

The Institute scored soon thereafter on a series of passes and lucky breaks. Laughlin kicked off and O'Connor elected to return the boot. With the ball down on the 30-yard line, Laughlin heaved the ball 20 yards to Windrow who muffed. The ball went into the air and Flory took it for an additional 10-yard gain. Laughlin sent another to Windrow and the play netted 30 yards, putting the ball on the Saints' 20-yard line. An attempted off-tackle failed and then the Laughlin-Windrow combination worked again, putting the Institute within three yards of the goal. Three line plays failed and Schubert caught

FREDERICKSBURG LOST TO LIGHT TEAM FROM TIVY HI LAST FRIDAY

Visitors Outweighed Locals About Five Pounds—Score 12 to 0—Play at Sonora Tomorrow.

In spite of the fact that they labored under a handicap of at least five pounds to the man, Tivy was easily a victor in the game with Fredericksburg High School last Friday on the local grounds. The final score was 12 to 0.

Although the visitors had the edge on the local boys in weight, that was the only advantage they possessed, for Tivy was by far the fastest, possessed a better knowledge of the game, showed better training and team work, besides showing better all-around sportmanship.

Aerial work featured the game throughout, with Tivy having the best of the argument, although Fredericksburg completed several beautiful passes for substantial gains.

The first half was scoreless, although Tivy had the ball at one time within a yard of their opponent's goal, where they were held for downs and Fredericksburg kicked to safety.

In the third quarter Lloyd passed the ball to Ratliff for a 40 yard gain, and it was carried over for the first touchdown by Osborne. The second touchdown was made in the last quarter after Tivy had lost the ball on the 2-yard line and Fredericksburg's kick was blocked. Hardin carried the ball over. Both tries for goal failed.

While Fredericksburg had several individual stars, they were woefully weak on team work and their quarter end poor judgment in running his team. Tivy showed good generalship throughout and their teamwork was snappy. By reason of his uncanny ability in receiving passes and in intercepting and blocking the aerial work of the visitors, Beard was the outstanding star of the game.

Tivy's football squad will invade Sonora Friday without the assistance of three or four of her regulars on account of these men failing to pass in at least three out of four subjects they are taking in the school. Tivy is strictly living up to the rules of the Interscholastic League, according to Coach Moses, and even though his team will be considerably weakened by the absence of the regulars, he will have a light and regular bunch and any team their size will have to watch their step or take the little end of the score.

In the meantime it is hoped the ones who fell behind in their scholastic work will be able to make up their credits so as to be back in the game in a few weeks' time. Lovers of clean sport will applaud the stand taken by the Tivy mentor in insisting that his men do not neglect their studies

LITTLE BUT ROUTINE MATTERS BEFORE COMMISSIONERS MONDAY

Allowance of Regular Bills and Transfers of Funds Occupy Court Most of Day.

With County Judge Lee Wallace presiding, the County Commissioners met in regular session at the Court House in this city Monday. In addition to authorizing payment of the regular bills the following was transacted:

Account of H. J. Masters as tick inspector for September was ordered paid out of the ad valorem fund.

Transfer of $2,051.33 from the road and bridge funding account of the sinking fund into the road and bridge fund was authorized, for the purpose of paying off scrip against this fund held by the Chas. Schreiner Bank.

Monthly estimate No. 5 of Colglazier & Hoff on Highway No. 41 for $4,899.35 was read, approved and ordered paid.

Account of W. E. Simpson, County Engineer, of $610.25 for labor and engineering expense was ordered paid, as per bills filed with the court.

Reports and exhibits of Miss Zetha McInnis, County Home Demonstration Agent, for August and September were approved. In addition to written report of her activities for the two months, Miss McInnis had before the commissioners an exhibit of all kinds of canned fruits and vegetables that were prepared by girls of the canning clubs under her direction.

On recommendation of Miss McInnis, it was moved and seconded that the county defray the expenses of sending Miss Elna Duderstadt to the State Fair at Dallas to participate in the home economics demonstrations in competition with girls from other counties of the State.

Miss McInnis was to go along as chaperone, having besides Miss Duderstadt, girls from five other counties from this section of the State under her care.

A resolution was introduced and passed by the commissioners urging the State Highway Department to assume charge of all State roads so as to have a uniform system of maintenance. The clerk was authorized to transfer $253 from the ad valorem fund to the road and bridge fund.

Just before adjournment the Court was presented a proposition from the Kerrville Parent-Teachers' Association relative to apportioning $1,500 of county funds to assist in paying for the services of a public health nurse.

As the commissioners had had no opportunity to investigate the benefits to be derived from such nurse, it was moved to hold this proposition over until the next regular meeting, the members of the court to investigate the proposition individually in the meantime.

FILTRATION PLANT OF KERRVILLE SEWERAGE SYSTEM IN OPERATION

Plant Tested Out Last Week—Mains on Several Streets Now Being Used.

The latter part of last week saw the completion of the sewage disposal plant of the Kerrville sewerage system and a thorough testing of same, after which the plant was accepted by the city commission and put in immediate operation.

Sewer mains on Water Street were immediately put into operation, as was also the line on B Street to Ross Street and up this street to Jefferson and thence to Tivy Street. Other streets will be tested out and turned on as rapidly as the finishing touches are put to the construction work.

The main contract of sewer construction is practically completed, according to Elder Bros, the contractors, but there are several additional lateral lines to be constructed that were not in the original contract. A few of these laterals are to cover sections overlooked in the original plans, but a majority are to serve property built since the plans were made.

However, there is plenty of money in the fund to handle these additions for out of the $78,000 voted for construction of the sewer system there remains about $3,000 over and above the cost of completion of the main system. This amount is available for the construction of the laterals.

STATE OFFICERS OF LEGION AUXILIARY VISIT KERRVILLE

State President, State Secretary and State Welfare Chairman Here Last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Wright R. Armstrong of Brownwood, State President of the American Legion Auxiliary; Miss Ada May Mattox of Austin, State Secretary, and Mrs. W. F. McManus of San Antonio, State Welfare Chairman, were in Kerrville Wednesday night and Thursday of last week in the interests of their work.

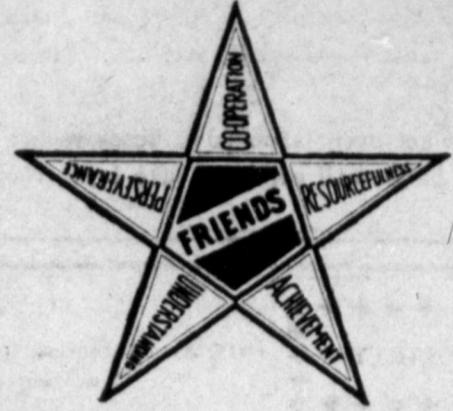

Their visit was made to get an outline of the work of the Auxiliary for next year. As the work of the entire State centers principally around hospitalization of the veterans the plans for the entire year's work of the Auxiliary naturally centers around the activities of the local unit.

Under reorganization of the division of work at the last State convention at Brownwood, the hospital and welfare work was consolidated under one head, instead of being two different departments as heretofore. This department of the local unit is under the direction of Mrs. P. J. Domingues.

The different branches of the service in Kerrville were gone over by the visitors and they expressed a great deal of pleasure in the results obtained by the local members.

The visitors arrived last Wednesday night, and after a meeting with local officials Thursday morning they visited the hospital at Legion, after which they left for Austin.

The Kerr County Chapter of the Red Cross is in need of warm clothing for men, women and children. Will you please send some to the Red Cross office or telephone to the secretary and she will be glad to call for them at your home. Phone 140, Mrs. G. M. Doyle, secretary.

Pioneers of Progress

There was a time in the early pioneer days of this State when the services of a bank were used only for occasional important transactions. Since then, the ever-increasing demands of modern business have made the various functions of the bank a necessary part of everyday life.

Banks are truly Pioneers of Progress in their relation to the up-building and advancement of every community.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE FOR COUNTY IS ALMOST ASSURED

Work of Parent-Teachers' Association Likely to Result in Betterment of Health Conditions Generally.

Kerrville is practically assured of a public health nurse as a result of the activities of the Kerrville Parent-Teachers' Association in making the health survey of the Kerrville Independent School District.

Under the provisions of the Shepherd-Towner Bill, the State and Federal Governments are permitted to pay half the cost of a public health nurse provided the county pays the other half. The cost of a nurse will be $3,000 per year for the full twelve months' time, according to Miss Eva Beard of the State Department of Health, who was in the city Monday in the interests of the movement.

Miss Beard was here on invitation of the Parent-Teachers to explain the necessary steps incident to securing the services of a nurse.

After a short session with Miss Beard in the High School Auditorium, a committee from the club was appointed to confer with the County Commissioners, then in session, relative to the county bearing the expense of $1,500 to secure the services of a nurse. The commissioners were then about ready to adjourn when the matter was presented to them, and as they had had no advance intimation of the proposition being put before them, they were uninformed on the subject. However each commissioner present expressed the opinion that if there was need of such a nurse in Kerr County they were in favor of the proposition, and the matter was held over until the next meeting of the Court for consideration.

In the meantime the commissioners will investigate the proposition and consult with the various superintendents of schools over the county regarding the advisability of such an official.

According to the plan as outlined to the Parent-Teachers by Miss Beard, the nurse would become a resident of the county and devote her entire time to nursing and public health matters. Health surveys would be made in all schools of the county and where parents were unable to secure medical attention for defectives, arrangements would be made for same. In addition classes will be organized in each school for the purpose of giving instruction in personal hygiene, first aid and home nursing.

In addition to her work with the schools, the County Health Nurse will devote one-half of her time in instruction of mothers. This course will include prenatal care and infant welfare. One course of instruction is to teach the mother how to care for the child until it reaches school age; the other to teach the child how to care for itself after it is in school.

The work will be carried on in a great deal the same manner as that of the County Demonstration and Home Demonstration Agents' work.

Pending action by the County Commissioners on the proposition, the Parent-Teachers' Association has contracted for the services of the nurse for a three months' period beginning November 1st, in order to demonstrate the advantages accruing to the citizens of the county from such a service. This is another instance of the great good that the ladies of the Association are doing in this section of the country. However, it is almost assured that the commissioners at their next session will take over the proposition and that the county will finance the hiring of the Public Health Nurse.

AMERICAN CREAMERY MOVES INTO NEW PLANT THIS WEEK

Building Designed Especially for Line of Work Will Assist Materially in Handling Products.

After being under construction for several months the new home of the American Creamery has been completed and the creamery moved into same this week. Most of the machinery in the plant was installed new and what little was taken from the old plant was moved Tuesday and Wednesday, so that this morning the plant is in full operation in their new home.

The building, on Water Street between the Weston and Lee Mason & Son garages, is a fireproof structure throughout. Dimensions of the structure are 40x60 feet, with the front 18 feet divided into two rooms, one for office work and the other for a sales room.

The rear room, or factory end of the building, has been designed for both cleanliness and convenience of employees in handling milk and cream. Every detail of the creamery business has been carefully studied and the factory arranged accordingly, in order to facilitate handling from the time the milk and cream is unloaded until it leaves the creamery as a finished product. Handling is not the proper word to use in connection with the operation of the creamery, however, as the only time the milk or cream is really handled is when it is placed from the wagon or truck onto the scales for weighing and from there dumped into the receiving tank. From there on throughout the different operations the fluid is not handled by hand, but is carried by gravity.

The building is constructed of brick, with cement floors throughout. The interior of the factory has walls of snowy whiteness, being coated with a white enamel that gives all the brilliance of the famous barreled sunlight and that also will withstand the frequent washings it will undergo in keeping the creamery clean and sanitary.

An unloading platform has been constructed on the right hand side of the building with inside platform the right height for unloading trucks and wagons. From here the milk goes on the scales for weighing and from there is poured into the receiving tank. The empty cans are also convenient to the wash racks on the main floor below, where they are cleaned and sterilized before being returned to the owners.

After milk has been poured into the receiving tank all handling of same word to use in connection with the County Demonstration and Home Demonstration Agents' work.

GOLDEN GLOW ANGEL FOOD

(Contributed by Mrs. Florence Butt)

Beat the yolks of twelve (12) eggs until they bubble, add two (2) cupsful of sugar, that has been sifted five times; beat the mixture until stiff, add one (1) cupful of water and beat again. Add two (2) teaspoonfuls of baking powder to two (2) cupsful of flour and sift together five times. Add this flour to the other mixture slowly and carefully. Add one teaspoon of vanilla extract. Prepare pan as for white angel food.

This cake requires a hot oven; after 20 minutes reduce the heat and continue to bake until edges of cake leave the pan.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

Lee-Tarver

Miss Neva Lee and W. T. Tarver Jr. surprised their many friends by slipping over to Bandiera, where they were quietly married at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The bride is the charming daughter of Victor Lee of Ingram, while the groom is the son of W. T. Tarver of this city. Both had been students in Tivy High School.

The happy young couple have established their home in the Tot Love house in the lower part of the city.

The Sun joins their many friends in extending congratulations.

Mrs. J. E. McDonald Entertains

Another of the pretty fall parties occurred last Friday at the Country Club when Mrs. J. E. McDonald entertained with sixteen tables of Bridge. An ideal Indian summer day and beautiful surroundings helped to make the affair a very enjoyable occasion.

On the porch of the club were huge brass bowls holding tall spikes of yellow flowers with the green-brown leaves giving hint of autumn.

The mantel, at one end of the club room, was banked with silver vases of beautiful pink roses and ferns; here also were silver candle sticks holding pink tapers.

The alcove at the far end of the room was massed with flowers and pot plants, the autumn shades of crimson and gold predominating. Baskets of beautiful blossoms were arranged on pedestals placed at intervals around the room.

Prize for high score, a polychrome basket, was won by Mrs. Ally Beitel; second prize, bronze book ends, went to Mrs. W. G. Garrett Jr., and consolation, a bottle of perfume, was cut by Mrs. Raymond Allen.

Later in the afternoon a number of guests came in for tea, and a delightful salad course was served to the guests.

Mrs. McDonald was assisted by Mrs. Ally Beitel in receiving her guests. The following were the invited guests: Mesdames Philip Matz, Scott Schreiner, Raymond Allen, Amy Wallace, L. D. Garrett, L. L. RESIDENT OF CITY MAKES EXHAUSTIVE PECAN STUDY

Chas. Mosel Has 41 Bearing Trees in Orchard at Home—Experimenting With Nuts for 33 Years.

A visit to the residence of Chas. Mosel on Washington Street will demonstrate to even the casual observer that it is not necessary to have a large acreage of ground to successfully grow pecans, for on the plot surrounding his residence Mr. Mosel has 41 bearing pecan trees, besides practically every kind of fruit known to this section of the State.

Mr. Mosel has been a student of the pecan for 33 years, as it was that long ago that he planted his first nut-bearing trees, or rather planted the seed for his first start was made by planting nuts sent him by his father from Gillespie County. He started out by planting ten seeds around the base of each of several chinaberry trees in his front yard, practically all of which grew. When the shade trees were ready to be removed Mr. Mosel dug up the seedling pecans, leaving but one in a place and replanted the others.

Some of the pecans he grafted with buds obtained from trees of the larger varieties; some he left to bear fruit as native seedlings.

With the exception of three years when he was away from here Mr. Mosel has been experimenting with pecans. Nearly every summer he has planted a few trees and has grafted and budded the stock with practically every known variety of pecans. He has experimented with growing trees in the shade, semi-shade and bright sunlight; with irrigation and without any water other than that supplied from natural sources. As a consequence of his studies and experiments, Mr. Mosel talks intelligently on pecans and their culture.

During the entire time he has been raising pecans Mr. Mosel states that he has never had a crop failure of the nuts, although the trees bear heavier some years than others. This year some of the trees are heavily loaded with fine large nuts. While not fully developed as yet, three pecans The Sun man gathered off one of the trees weighed exactly one ounce. Mr. Mosel states that nuts from this tree usually run about 44 to the pound.

While it is hard to estimate the weight of pecans on a tree, one of the trees in the yard has at least 200 pounds of nuts on it. All told, the orchard should yield about 1,000 pounds this fall of the finest kind of native and budded pecans, that will sell all the way from 50 cents to $1.00 per pound.

All Mr. Mosel's work has not been confined to pecans, however. He has successfully raised every kind of fruit known to this climate and his garden supplies many of the wants of his table the year round.

To make a success of fruit in the Hill Country it is necessary to spray the trees every spring, is his experience. And while he has never had a total failure on peaches here, he never uses any artificial means of preventing the buds being nipped by the late

Groceries of Quality

Which is cheapest—a peck of potatoes of inferior quality, whose only redeeming quality is the price, or a peck that costs a few cents more, but which contains only choice, first class spuds, which will go twice as far as the cheaper variety?

That is the basis upon which we are building up our grocery business. We buy only the best of goods in all lines and if articles are not first class in every respect we will not put them on sale, for we are convinced that quality is the only true criterion by which to judge groceries. We even buy our canned goods in small quantities—by so doing we pay a little more for them but our customers are assured of fresher goods by reason of this method of buying. We carry the best line of fresh fruits and vegetables to be found in Kerrville. If you are looking for cheap goods go elsewhere, but if you are practicing true economy and want the best groceries for the money, we solicit your patronage.

OUR TEXAS INDUSTRIES
By Phoebe K. Warner

Here is something else for the school boys and girls of Texas to study this year. And it will make fine subject matter for your composition work and your junior and senior high school English. What could be more interesting to any live Texas boy or girl than to know more about what is going on and what is being done in Texas?

Until this day Texas and Texans have been the biggest producers of raw materials in the Union. Men, women and little children have spent their lives to produce something for others to do. They have done the hardest work that other people in other States and other Nations might build great factories and employ millions of others to work up the raw products raised in Texas.

Just how many people do you suppose Texas furnishes a job? By this we mean how many people do you suppose it takes to ship the millions of bales and more of cotton from both Galveston and Houston as Texas did this past year, and make it up into garments of every kind and then ship it back to Texas and all over the world to be used? How many people do you think are required to work the millions of pounds of wool and mohair sent from Texas into garments ready for use? How many people are needed to make the boots and shoes our hides supply? Think of it! Texas produces more raw materials, even agricultural products than Iowa and Illinois combined which are the two other largest producing States in America. What becomes of all this cotton, wool, mohair, cream, beef, pork, and everything raised on Texas farms? Then there are all our mineral products that come from under the earth. Who works those products into finished products ready for the markets? Thus far Texas has the name and the glory of being the greatest producer of all of Uncle Sam's sons. But what becomes of his products? Not one person in a thousand, even in Texas, ever thinks of Texas as a manufacturing State. DO YOU?

Just listen to this. These are the very words of G. M. Knebel, Executive Vice President, Texas State Manufacturers' Association, with headquarters in San Antonio, Texas: "Over five thousand industries in Texas are producing over $1,000,000,000 in manufactured products annually."

Think of it! Did you know that? Almost as much as the Nation's cigarette bill. As much as the whole Nation spends on the public free education of all its children. Almost as much as the Nation spends on candy. A little more than the women of this Nation spend on the outside of their heads and faces. More than the wheat crop of the Nation. Almost as much as the egg and poultry amounts to in the whole Nation. $1,000,000,000. One BILLION dollars worth of manufactured products are turned out annually in Texas from 5,000 different industrial plants in our own State. The finished products already made in Texas practically double the commercial values of our agricultural products which last year sold for a little more than a billion dollars. What could Texas do, and how many people would be furnished employment if even half of her raw products were manufactured into ready to use and ready to wear articles at HOME? This is one of the biggest problems of the future in Texas. And it is the school boys and girls of today that will have to solve Texas' great industrial problem. It is ripening for YOU. It is getting ready to be solved by

you. It will be the problem of your generation. Are you being prepared for that day? Is the State of Texas doing all in her power to prepare the boys and girls of today for Texas' industrial day.

Here is one thing you can do for yourselves. You can look out for industrial news. You can begin to think and study Texas products, their great quantities and varieties. You can study the economic waste from field to factory and back home again by the AROUND-THE-WORLD ROUTE. Yes, you can. Every high school boy and girl is old enough and ought to be smart enough to study these things.

What our high school students need most is to review their old Ray's arithmetic for about four years and learn to compute interest, freight rates and transportation and study the multiplication tables and get a sure-enough business foundation into their heads. But whatever you study this year, don't forget to give a little time to the greatest commercial and economical problem, yes, and one of the greatest social problems of our own Texas. "Our Texas Industries."

HUNTERS TRESPASSING ON POSTED LANDS

Farm and Ranch: Farmers are complaining of city hunters who, with their pump guns, are destroying bird-life in some sections of the country. Numerous complaints have been recorded, and recently a Kaufman County farmer appealed to Farm and Ranch to give the matter publicity. "Hunters pay no attention to 'posted' signs," said this farmer, "but watch their chance to enter my premises and kill the quail and other birds that I have tried to protect. It is the same with my neighbors. We have tried to increase bird-life to protect our crops, but are almost ready to say 'what is the use,' because our efforts seem to have little effect."

This farmer lives near Terrell, in Kaufman County. He informed Farm and Ranch that the farmers in his section were going to organize against these raiders and prosecute just as many as they can catch.

A good sportsman will not invade the premises of any farmer, whether or not it is posted, without first seeking and gaining permission. Hunters who disregard the law against trespassing probably have no compunction against breaking the bag limit law or in shooting out of season. They are lawbreakers and game hogs, enemies of the farmers and of good sportsmanship. They should be handled the same as other lawbreakers and given the limit.

TEXAS FARMERS RAISE RECORD LITTERS OF HOGS

College Station, Tex., October 15.—A Texas farmer, E. F. Laird of Amarillo, has produced a litter of 14 Poland China pigs weighing 4,291 pounds or an individual average of 306½ pounds in 180 days from date of farrowing, under the directions and using the rations specified by the Extension farm agents of the A. & M. College of Texas. Another farmer, H. N. Hay, of Waco, produced a litter of 11 Duroc Jerseys weighing a total of 3,400 pounds and averaging over 309 pounds. A third, John F. Wright of Waco, produced a litter of 10 Duroc Jerseys with a total weight of 2,729 pounds and an individual average of 273 pounds.

These men have won several hundred dollars in prizes, and no doubt Mr. Laird has brought to Texas again this year the honor of setting the world's record in pork production. Unofficial reports from contests in other States indicate that he has done as much.

But in the estimation of A. L. Laird, swine husbandman of the A. & M. Extension Service who conducted, the contest, the greatest value of these accomplishments is not in the personal reward of prize money, but in the demonstrative value to other farmers of what can be done by scientific breeding and feeding. The value of the breeding element is shown in the fact that Mr. Hay's sow that farrowed his prize winning litter was one of the litter that won the first prize and set the world's record for Vic Hill of Waco last year.

CULBERSON PLEADS FOR FULL PARTY VOTE

Houston, Tex., Oct. 13.—E. A. Berry, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, has received the following telegram from former Senator Charles A. Culberson: "I understand there is a well organized effort over the State by some dissatisfied Democrats, aided by the Republicans, to defeat our State ticket and to greatly reduce the usual majority for our National ticket. While the Democratic primaries usually settle our contests in Texas, making it unnecessary for Democrats to vote in the general election, the present situation renders it imperative that the party should poll its full strength on November 4."

"In my judgment, it is clear duty of Democrats to support the straight ticket, both State and National, including Mrs. Ferguson, our nominee for Governor. It will not do for Texas, as the banner Democratic State of the Union, to hesitate or falter in this party emergency."

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

One of the most difficult lessons to impress on students is the importance of being punctual in attendance at classes and meetings and in doing the work assigned to them.

The worst thing about this habit of tardiness formed in youth is that it nearly always clings on through life. Most of us are inclined to put off the doing of a thing until the last minute, although we know that the longer action is delayed, the more difficult it becomes.

Every person who has served on a committee or attended a public meeting has been impressed with the great loss of time in waiting. Not one person in ten attends a meeting promptly, and those who struggle in appear to place no value whatever on the time of those who are forced to await their coming.

The tardiness habit often hits farmers especially hard. I know a hard-working farmer, who does not appear to mind toiling from sunrise to sunset, but who never plows his land early enough, never plants his crops when they should be planted, and when he is fortunate enough to make a good crop he never gathers it soon enough to save it in its best condition.

There are merchants who do not buy goods until they are to be found on the shelves of all the other stores, and the buyers have been forced to go to other places for them.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures.

side of the fairway. From there to the green the going is good, but a long trap, set on the left edge of the green at an angle to the approach, demands caution to reach the green without getting into trouble.

Number 2 is back near the club house and for the first 50 yards high grass and rough ground feature. On the right at about 75 yards are traps for the player who slices. Good going to within 40 yards of the green, where another trap lies in wait.

Number 3 is one of the most difficult holes on the course. Tee off from edge of the hill across open country with traps at 125 yards on the right. A series of three terraces begin 110 yards from the green, ending in a creek over which the shot must be played.

A winding trail through and across the creek bottom leads to tee No. 4 on the edge of a 15-foot bluff. The first 90 or 100 yards is rough creek bottom, bad for those who top their shots or do not drive to the fairway.

Once over the creek bottom a beautiful fairway, bordered with numerous hazards for those who do not drive true, lies before the player. The green is situated upon a small plateau or embankment, probably 15 or 20 feet higher than the fairway, with a gradual slope until within a few feet of the top when the grade becomes almost abrupt.

Then comes No. 5, the longest and one of the most difficult holes on the links. The tee is on the edge of a mountain and the shot is across the creek bottom at a sharp angle. For 50 to 175 yards the going is rough unless the shot is landed on the fairway. A steep bluff with boulders at its foot prevents an approach to the green on the right bank of the creek. Two hundred fifty yards from the tee is a bad trap on the left of the fairway.

Number 6 is but 115 yards, but many players find it a harder hole to play than it appears. The first 120 yards are over the creek again with gullies, clumps of shrubbery, and rough ground. A short fairway lies below the green, an approach 30 yards uphill to the flag. Traps lie on the left of the green.

For 30 yards from No. 7 tee high grass is a menace to topped shots and a trap lies to the left at about 100 yards. A long ditch runs along the right side of the fairway and a blind trap 75 yards from the green is a jinx to the unwary. A trap on the right edge of the green adds to the fun when an approach shot rolls too far. Number 7 is 530 yards long.

Number 8 is another short hole with a puzzling appearance from the tee. Ninety yards downhill is the creek, across which is a rough embankment leading uphill to the hole. Hazards lie on three sides of the green.

Number 9 leads across the creek, uphill over cunning traps and across a beautiful fairway to the green and then the club house for a shower and refreshments. The first 150 yards are again across the tricky creek bottom, over a trap built to catch nearly every player, and uphill to the fairway. At the left and center are bunkers and rough ground lies on the right. The fairway leads uphill over undulating ground, culminating in rough traps on both sides of the approach to the green.

The United States consumes three out of every five tons of the world's output of tin.

Making GOOD COFFEE starts with Buying GOOD COFFEE

Coffee excellence is coffee flavor. Coffee flavor is in the blend and the roasting. Cost is no criterion of quality. The real test is the flavor--the flavor in the cup.

That is where Sunset has made its thousands of friends. Sunset flavor is complete coffee satisfaction to most folks.

Unlike most things that are completely satisfying, Sunset costs no more than ordinary high grade coffees that are less pleasing to the taste.

Use care in measuring and making, but be sure you use good coffee. Sunset is the favorite of thousands of housewives who are convinced it is the most satisfying coffee they can buy at any price.

FRENCH FLIER BREAKS WORLD'S ALTITUDE RECORD

Paris, Oct. 14.—The world's airplane altitude record of 11,145 meters (36,555 feet) made by the French aviator, Sadi Lecoq, in October, 1923, was eclipsed at Villacoublay on Friday by the French aviator Callizo, who set the mark at 12,066 meters. This announcement was made today after an official examination of the altitude registering instruments on Callizo's machine.

Parent-Teachers' Meet

The Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular meeting Wednesday, October 8th, in the High School auditorium. Our president, Mrs. Brown, reported that we had made $59.00 on a rummage sale held recently, and announced that another one would be held in the near future.

A rising vote of thanks was given to the ladies who helped so untiringly and faithfully with the physical examination of the school children. The P. T. A. also wishes to thank the doctors, nurses and all those who assisted in any way with this most necessary work. Our organization mainly appreciated the unselfish labor and service of these busy men and women, who even at the end of a tiresome day's work, were willing to give of their time and talent to the examining of over 600 pupils.

TREES BY THE ROADSIDE

Dallas News: Returning travelers from Europe comment upon the trees along the roadside. With us a road was formerly a stretch of land over which it was permissible to travel—if you and your conveyance could make it through. More recently a road is a convenient ribbon of pavement from place to place with marking directions so that no man need go wrong. The threat we have to rid ourselves of is that a road shortly will become merely an intercity alley between two walls of billboards. But abroad a road is a delight to the eye as well as an invitation to the powered wheel. In France, for example, the contractor who agrees to build a section of road also agrees to plant the trees along it and to be responsible for them two years after the planting. Will America ever have to wait until it is as old as France before it learns the wisdom of encouraging trees? And yet France, it is said, learned that wisdom as far back as the time of Francis I. And Francis was born two years after Columbus discovered America. Since that time, as fast as Americans, native and immigrant, have had opportunity we have been destroying trees, instead of planting them, in order to make our highways.

San Antonio Express: Hundreds of baseball fans who shouted daily during the World Series over the playing of two professional baseball teams would be "too busy" if asked, to spend the same time they spent shouting for their home town. Enthusiasm over a close ball game is good, but a bit of enthusiasm for the community where one lives 365 days of the year will do no harm either.

DON'T FALL FOR IT

Bishop News: A hot air artist with a well prepared line of talk came into Bishop not long ago and went from house to house selling ladies' silk hosiery.

"Look, Madam," he would say to get the prospect's interest, "would an ordinary pair of hose stand this?" Then he would proceed to run the point of a blunt file along the fabric to show that the stocking would not tear or run. A few more such tricks and in each case a sale was made.

After a few days he departed and left behind a lot of ordinary merchandise, sold at more than its value. And with him took hundreds of dollars' worth of business that should have gone to local merchants.

This is not the only incident of this kind that has come to the attention of the editor. Each week sees business going out of the community because our people everywhere, are hypnotized by the sales talks that have been prepared by experts in the art of fooling the public.

Our advice to the buyers of this city is to think just a moment before placing an order with one of these fellows. Ask yourself the following questions, and then be governed by your own judgment:

"Am I likely to get a better deal from a total stranger than from one of our local merchants who will be here next week and next year and must back up what he says about his goods?"

"Will I profit by letting our own stores run down for want of patronage?"

"Is it to my interest to have good stores with complete stocks here in Bishop?"

"Does this stranger pay any taxes in Bishop to keep up our schools, our churches, our public works, and make our town what it is?"

"When you think these things over you will have only this answer for the 'bumco me' specialist:
"No sir, I am not interested. I find that I can do better by dealing with merchants here at home."

A LESSON IN SIZE

San Antonio Light: When the Shenandoah nosed down to the mooring mast at Fort Worth late Wednesday, it made its first physical connection with the largest State in the Union.

That adjective "largest" doesn't mean much, does it?

Suppose that 30,000 square miles were added to the area of Texas. Then, before the ZR-2 could traverse the distance from Lakehurst, N. J., to the Texas line, its shadow would have floated over nine states of combined area that approximately equal that of Texas alone.

Suppose that we wished to cut Texas down to the size of the largest of those nine states, which is Louisiana, Buick and Chevrolet Autos, Accessories, Seiberling Cord Tires, Alemite.

We would have 217,390 square miles left. Out of this remainder we could make a country the size of France. We could then fashion New Jersey out of the trimmings.

When the Shenandoah left the mooring mast at Lakehurst, it crossed six state lines before it had flown a distance equivalent to that across Texas. When the Shenandoah bridged the gap between Fort Worth and El Paso it had completed nearly half the second leg of its voyage which began at Fort Worth and ended at San Diego.

The average citizen, if he were a passenger on the dirigible, could be excused for thinking that the lights of El Paso were those of San Diego, if he had 800 miles of one State behind him.

Perhaps this illustration may help you conceive of the vast expanse of the Lone Star State.

Suppose that a Texas booster stood on the Texas-Louisiana boundary line and that he could shout so loudly that his voice could be heard in El Paso. It would take one hour for his voice to cross the State. Sound waves could follow the Shenandoah's route across Maryland in about six minutes. Furthermore, it would take sound about as long to cross Texas from north to south as it would from east to west.

Texas themselves do not realize now great is the domain of the Lone Star State until they start from the center and try to get out. Seeing Texas is a big undertaking.

If you have seen Texas you have seen nearly one-twelfth of the area of the United States.

Bandera New Era: Some of the ranchmen are now posting their pastures against hunting and trespassing therein. This is right and proper. With the opening of the hunting season next month it is quite likely that a great horde of hunters will, as usual, come out from the cities to kill game, and unless the ranchmen take steps to protect themselves by posting

WILLIAMSON ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of A. B. Williamson as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Kerr County.

Mr. Williamson has held this important office for 16 years, the voters signifying their confidence in his integrity and ability by re-electing him every two years. His re-election each time was not because nobody else wanted the job, but because the voters knew they could place dependence on him. Besides, they have a very good habit up here in the Hill Country of keeping a man on the job when they find one that fills the bill.

Mr. Williamson has met all the requirements of the position to which he aspires in the past, and solicits the support of the voters on the record he has made in the office.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS TO BE REPRESENTED AT DALLAS

Kerr County is represented at the State Fair at Dallas this year by two official representatives, one from the boys' clubs of the county and one from the girls' organizations. Oddie Oehler of the Sunset community is representing the county on behalf of the boys. He made the best record in the work of the clubs in Kerr County this year and was entitled to represent the county at the State Fair as a result. His expenses are being borne by the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce, who feel that the money invested in this class of work is money well spent.

Miss Elna Duderstadt of the same community won the opportunity to represent the girls at the fair, and, in company with Miss Zetha McInnis, Home Demonstration Agent, will leave next Sunday for Dallas. Her expenses are being paid by order of the County Commissioners.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

DISCOVERY DAY

Christopher Columbus Day, now recognized by nearly all the States of the Union as a legal holiday, was observed with religious and patriotic propriety by both parishes and schools. In St. Mary's Church "Old Glory" adorned the sanctuary alongside our Service Flag of whose many golden and silver stars all parishioners feel rightly proud. The big banner of Stars and Stripes waved from the lofty flagmast in St. Mary's Park.

During Mass all the Catholic veterans of the World War, who were able to attend from Legion hospital, and nearly all resident parishioners belonging to the Knights of Columbus, formed a distinctive group and marched as a collective unit to the Eucharistic Table. After them the members of the Bl. Virgin Sodality received Holy Communion. In all, there were 83 who partook of the Sacred Species.

Columbus Day

In the evening the Legionnaires, K. of C's, parishioners and friends of the school assembled on the Notre Dame campus to witness an outdoor entertainment replete with history and patriotism. The stage was a cave-like structure vaulted with red, white and blue streamers offset by a background of ferns and palms.

The principal feature of the program was a historical pageant in which costumed characters depicted the discovery and colonization of our fatherland. Some debate arose as to the rightful honors due to the Catholic Genoese navigator, or to Leif Ericson and his priest companion, or to St. Brendan, the Irish missionary of the Fifth Century. All voyagers, however, seemed to share the same motive, namely to spread the Bible in new territory.

Besides this playlet there were many musical and vocal selections as well as dances and recitations. Several of the piano students made their debut on this occasion, notably Misses Louise Colbath, Madeline Peterson, Ernestine Meyer and Inida Boudreaux. Miss Hazel Kahley pleased the audience so much with her violin number that she had to comply with an encore.

Walter Meyer and Irene Kolodzey delivered their respective monologues with more than mere memory drill. Miss Helen Mae Sherwood, attired in the College colors of gold and blue, staged a graceful Spanish dance embellished with a Castilian handling of the tambourine.

A generous free-will offering was contributed during the entertainment in order to help defray the cost of decorating our parochial school floats for the Armistice Day parade.

Knights of Columbus Banquet

Hardly had the crowd of spectators departed from the campus when the ex-soldiers and K of C's prepared for the climax of an eventful festival. In the Rectory the boys had decorated the dining hall and set a banquet table with gold-trimmed chinaware. It was a man's affair exclusively—the decorating, cooking, serving and dish-washing. Most of the culinary credit is due to Oscar Salmons of the Guadalupe Cafe, who came with his colored chefs equipped to surprise his friends with one of the finest menus that his years of professional experience could arrange. Needless to say, his customers did full justice to the elaborate lay-out from the spicy cocktail to the fragrant Havanas. The meal was cheap at $2.00 per plate and lasted over two hours with the interspersing of lively music and still livelier conversation.

Special thanks for this rare treat are due to James Chastun, chairman of the arrangement committee, and to Messrs. Farrish and Aubey of the reception committee.

METHODIST CHURCH

By Member

For the morning service Brother White took for his subject "Jesus Revealing the Father," using as a text John 14:8—"Show Us the Father."

Some excerpts from the sermon are as follows: The language of the universal heart of man was voiced by Philip, when he broke in rather abruptly on the Master's discourse with the sharp challenge that He should answer all questions and dissipate all doubts by showing them the Father.

Is there a God? How can I be sure that He is? What does He feel toward us? The foregoing are questions which man persistently asks, and waits for a reply.

The Master gave the only satisfactory answer. The knowledge of God must be conveyed not in words, books, symbols or types, but in Life. To know Me, to come into contact with Me is to know the deepest heart of God. "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father."

The vision faculty is in us all, but it must be trained. As Mrs. Browning says: "Earth is crowned with and every bush on fire with God," and then adds, with a flash of scorn, "but in that bush most people see only blackberries."

The same truth holds in the life of faith and religion. Where the vision faculty of the soul is closed there is no mental and moral conception of God. And where there is no vision the people perish.

There is a time in life when we read the evidence, pro and con, for the Divinity of Jesus Christ and all that sort of thing, and think we are going to believe according to the evidence.

Religion is meant to be the answer to the hunger and thirst for God. What is religion? Religion is the life of God in the soul of man.

Philip was so absorbed in his quest for the transcendent and sublime that he missed the revelation of the Father, which for three years had been passing under his eyes. The Father was seeking to show himself in all the mighty works of Jesus. "The Father abiding in me—He doeth the works."

The love of God in the soul is a force that manifests itself in active service. I invite you not to Church, but to Christ; not to believe a creed, but to believe in Christ. Will you accept Him? Will you take Him now? The subject for the evening service was "Asking the Way"—the text was from Jer. 5:5, "They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, come and let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten."

The Babylonian captivity of the Jews was drawing to a close. There were intimations of deliverance and the question was asked, "Where is the way to Zion?"

We, too, are in exile, we are not at home yet—only at school. Our work is to master the dangerous and difficult task of probation.

Our lessons may be hard, our fare rough and our trials many, but God's cheering promise is, "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord."

Scripture, reason, experience and observation unite to convince us that the present world is not our home. And if we reflect on the imperfect good and on the numerous evils of this sublunary state we shall find no cause to regret, but on the contrary, abundant reason to rejoice that we have no continuing City here.

We long to return to our Father's house. Like the Prodigal, we are often homesick. The Prodigal, as he sat musing among the swine, thought of two things: his own poverty and his father's wealth. He soon sat, a welcome guest, at his father's house.

The King's Highway leads through the valley or place of tears. What a place of tears is here. The daily papers reveal an awful picture of deception, murder and various other crimes.

The King's Highway leads over the hill of atonement. The Law speaks on Calvary. It says to the sinner: "The soul that sinneth, it shall surely die."

An old saying: "All roads lead to Rome." But the King's Highway to Zion is just as it used to be: "We are traveling home to God, in the way our fathers trod; they are happy now and we Soon their happiness shall see."

Truth and happiness never change. The flail and the spinning wheel have gone, but some things remain the same. The air we breathe is the same that Adam breathed. The sunlight is the same that sifted through the mist of chaos when God said, "Let there be light." Water is the same as when Jesus tipped the water jar to his lips at the well of Sychar. The Gospel is like air, sunlight and water—unchangeable.

Next Sunday closes this church year. Subject for the morning service will be "The Shadows of the Undone." Text, Josh. 11:15, "As the Lord commanded Moses, his servant, so did Moses command Joshua, and so did Joshua; he left nothing undone of all that the Lord commanded Moses."

Mrs. Everson and Miss McDaniel will sing a duet. All Methodists should attend this last service of the year. All others who are not affiliated with other churches in the city are urged to come and worship with us.

The evening service begins at 7:30—fifteen minutes of a lively song service, followed by a sermon worth the attention.

EVERY STREET IN KERRVILLE

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Kerrville people recommend. Every street in Kerrville has its cases.

Here's one Kerrville man's experience. Let Joseph Surber, retired farmer, tell it. He says: "I can recommend Doan's Pills for they have done me a lot of good. My kidneys were out of order and I had backaches. I felt dull and out of sorts as my kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Pills soon rid me of the trouble and put my kidneys in good shape."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Surber had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

(By Member)

The new pastor, P. E. Hawkins, is on the field and will preach at the First Christian Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. Hawkins was formerly pastor of the Government Hill Christian Church in San Antonio, and the church at Kerrville considers itself fortunate in securing his services.

Mr. Hawkins expects to bring his family to Kerrville within the next few weeks. We will gladly welcome them and are sure that this good man and family will make a valuable addition to this section of the country.

Our Sunday School is still progressing nicely. Much interest is being shown by young and old. Last Sunday, after a lesson on "The Sermon on the Mount," the Bible Class entertained with a lesson on "Our Home Missions." Several nice talks were made, which were of great interest to the whole school.

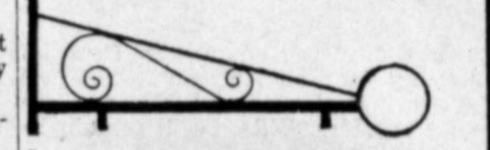

Our mid-week prayer meetings are still a source of great joy to all who attend, and we are very anxious for more to become interested.

Remember, preaching next Sunday morning and evening. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Everyone invited.

Card of Thanks

To the innumerable friends who have shown their affection toward our beloved son, Enrique, during his illness, and who have manifested their sympathy to us in our irreparable loss, we express our heartfelt appreciation.

PREBYTERIAN CHURCH

By Member

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the church held their regular election last Sunday night in the Sunday School auditorium.

James Tinny was re-elected president; Lois Fawcett, vice president; Dolph Davidson, secretary, and Miss Annita Diert, treasurer. Mrs. J. H. Mitchell will have charge of the Young People's work and will be assisted by Mr. McMillan of Schreiner Institute.

Reverend Dickey preached both sermons Sunday. The morning service was taken from the Gospel of Isaiah, beginning with the second clause in the seventh verse of the 50th chapter. "Therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed." This being the prophesy of the attitude of a Christian, and this was followed by Luke 9:51, "And it came to pass, when the time should come that he should be received up," this being the fulfillment of the prophesy.

The pastor will attend the sessions of the Synod of Texas, which will convene at Sinton this week. He will be accompanied by J. J. Delaney. These two will not only represent the membership of the church, but Schreiner Institute and Westminster Encampment.

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blake, more, a Civil War veteran and former Virginian, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. . . . A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again.

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

The Original Rexall ONE CENT SALE! Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday Remember the Days! Oct. 23, 24 and 25 Remember the Days!

What is a One-Cent Sale?

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustra-tion: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You can buy a tube at this price, and by paying 1c more, or 2c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high-class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices and have sold you for years.

A New Way of Advertising

This sale was developed by the United Drug Company as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full-size package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers, and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the goods please you.

Shall We Respect the Primary Elec- tion Pledge?

J. T. Ellis, in San Marcos Record: It seems to me that everyone who understands the fundamental principles of government, whether it be of a family or of a church, school, army, political party, state or nation, must know, that when discipline fails, chaos reigns and disaster follows.

Every organization from the family up, has its rules or laws, and these rules are not mere arbitrary whims; they grow out of necessity, and their enforcement is for the good of all.

The fundamental principle of the Democratic party, for instance, is that the majority shall control.

To combat this principle would be to say the least, inconsistent for any one claiming to be a Democrat.

Applying this principle to present conditions in Texas, we find Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor, by reason of having received a majority of the votes cast in the "run-off" primary.

The pledge printed on the ballot used in this primary read as follows: "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."

This is the plainest part of plain English. Everybody knows what this pledge means and no amount of sophistry can explain it away.

In the coming general election the Republicans of Texas will, with one accord, very properly vote the Republican ticket straight, but they will say that Democrats, if patriotic, should not follow the example of Republicans, but should make an exception in the case of Ferguson at least, and following the legal advice of Thomas B. Love, erase the name of Ferguson and write under it, that of George C. Butte.

Now, this course might be justifiable in the case of Independent or merely theoretical Democrats, who did not vote in the primaries of this year, but to and for, those of us who did participate in the Democratic primaries, there can be only one consistent and honorable course, and that is to vote the Democratic ticket straight from top to bottom.

But some say that we are relieved from the pledge because one hundred thousand Republicans voted for Ferguson in the "runoff."

Well—nobody knows how many Republicans voted the Democratic ticket in the primaries, but everybody with any gumption, knows not one of them will vote it in the general election.

Besides, if Republicans voted in the Democratic primary, whose fault was it? Was not the primary machinery in the hands of the Democrats? Were not all the primary election judges Democrats, appointed by Democrats to guard the party doors and admit none except those duly qualified?

Certainly they were, and the votes in every county in Texas were duly counted by Democrats and were tabulated and certified by the Democratic Executive Committee for the State, without a single protest.

I say that we as Democrats, stand bound by the acts of our authorized agents and we cannot justly complain about Republicans voting in our primary.

Finally, let me say that men and women who object to being bound by a primary or other proper party pledge or obligation providing that the minority shall submit to the will of the majority, have no proper place in any political party and ought not to offer to vote in any primary.

Citation on Application for Letters of Guardianship

No. 568.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kerr County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Kerr County, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To all persons interested in the welfare of Annette Treadaway, a minor, Mrs. Ida Kirkpatrick has filed in the County Court of Kerr County, on the 6th day of October, 1924, an application for Letters of Guardianship upon the person and estate of said Minor, Annette Treadaway, which said application will be heard at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in November, A. D. 1924, the same being the 3rd day of November, A. D. 1924, at the Court House thereof, in Kerrville, Texas, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said Minor, may appear and contest said application, if they see proper to do so.

Herein fail not but have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Kerrville, Texas, this 6th day of October, A. D. 1924.

JNO. R. LEAVELL, Clerk
County Court, Kerr
County, Texas.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

The people of the United States have been vying with each other in the effort to show the Prince of Wales that we are pleased to have him visit this country, as indeed we are. The Prince is a nice sort of visitor and a democratic kind of a fellow in spite of his inherited title. He knows how to make himself agreeable in a truly American fashion and seems to be without that affectation that we have learned to expect in Englishmen generally. That being true, he must at times have a feeling of disgust at the propensity of the average American to bow down and worship royalty. Doubtless he would much prefer to be accepted for what he is rather than for his title, but Americans will not have it so.

In spite of our democratic ideals, we are not far enough removed from monarchical government to keep from toadying to royalty and seem to delight in paying homage to those highest in authority. That is shown so often in the character of our entertainments. The most popular spectacle show we have are our pageants depicting the crowning of a king and queen, with great royal processions of dukes and duchesses, ladies in waiting and attendants. In spite of the almost ludicrous mimicry of such affairs people turn out in great numbers to witness these processions of imitators of royalty, and the royal performers pay immense sums to bedeck themselves in what they regard as royal apparel. The spectacle would be amusing if it were not so pitiful.

We are too much disposed to truckle to those in authority. Every citizen is under obligation to support, and should delight in supporting, those to whom the affairs of government are entrusted, but this does not carry with it even a suggestion that those in service are a whit better personally than other citizens. It is interesting to watch the almost servile attention we give a president or even a governor and then to see how quickly and how far he can drop from public sight as soon as his term of office expires, and that in spite of the fact that his service has in most cases made him a really greater man. A governor is a great man so long as he is governor; an ex-governor is merely a man who is down and out so far as the people are concerned.

A man is handicapped by what he has been unless he is constantly striving to go forward to greater things. He can't live on past achievements and hold that position in public esteem which those achievements won for him. The more he accomplished the more the public expects and has a right to expect. The things done in the past indicate his capacity for greater undertakings, and unless he is willing to make the effort to carry on he soon finds himself losing his own grip as well as the confidence of his friends. On their part there comes a feeling that perhaps he has been over-estimated. There is no stopping-place in life at which one can hold all that he has gained in the way of public favor.

Perhaps public favor should not be regarded as a test of one's worth to his fellowmen, yet it is about the only test by which he may be gauged. Certainly few persons may be accepted on their own valuation, for that is either too high or too low. The public is the safest criterion of human values, even though it is too much disposed to give hero-worship to those temporarily in the lime-light and to forget those who are not constantly endeavoring to lift themselves by their own boot-straps.

Certainly if you are not in good favor in the community in which you live—and you can learn your own standing if you really want to know it—it behooves you to examine yourself to see just where the trouble lies and then to correct it. Every one owes it to himself and those about him to do his best to hold the favor of others. He is justified in having a pride in his community standing, but should take care not to develop a spirit of arrogance—a holier than thou, or better than thou attitude.

A stingless bee has been discovered in Panama by a member of the American Museum of Natural History, according to reports. It is as harmless as a butterfly.

NOTICE

TO PUBLIC AND MERCHANTS OF KERRVILLE

Effective Monday, Oct. 20th, the Price of Our Bread Will Advance to 10c Per Loaf Retail

This increase in price is made necessary by the increased cost of raw materials used in baking. If we don't increase the cost of our product there remains but two alternatives: We can reduce the quality and continue at the old price, or we can close our doors and go out of business. Flour has advanced in the past 45 days $2.80 per barrel; shortening $2.00 per 100 pounds; milk, $2.00 per 100 pounds; sugar, about $1.00 per 100; besides an increase in the price of commodities used in making good bread.

Kerrville has had bread at the cheapest price of any city or town in Texas, when quality is considered; in fact, the retail price has been on too close a margin for the cost of baking, and with the increased cost of the raw materials we cannot sell the same quality without a substantial loss on each loaf.

There are two classes of bakeries—one in which cheap products are made at a cheap price; the other in which quality is the paramount consideration. You will agree with us that the Kerrville Bakery belongs to the latter class, and we want to continue in this class, for with us baking is a matter of pride, and as long as we continue in business you may be assured that any goods bought from this bakery will be as good as can be made from the best materials obtainable by the best and most experienced workmen we can obtain.

In conversation with one of our bakers recently, he said: "Mr. Lee, I have been a baker for twenty years and this is the first place where I drew a salary of $5.00 or more per day." We can hire bakers for a salary of $18 to $25 per week to make cheap bread, but will this help to build either our business, the people of our city into better men and women, or a larger and better Kerrville?

We are proud of the reputation our bread and pastries enjoy and of the patronage the people of Kerrville and community have accorded us. Every day merchants and individual customers tell us how much they appreciate the quality of our products and the service we are giving, and urge us to keep the quality up regardless of the price.

Drop in at any time and look over our bakery—don't be content with looking over the show rooms; step into the back rooms and see a first class bakery in operation. Here you will find everything clean and sanitary at all times and we are never too busy to explain anything you want to know.

Men Only Can Build a Chamber of Commerce

By Jamie Hernon, in Waco Chamber of Commerce News: Men succeed in business through devotion to purpose, but they cannot succeed alone. It is by working with others that men succeed. The more one can co-operate and work with others, the more success follows. Failure is nothing but lack of success—lack of ability to use ability. The great trouble in business today is not the lack of men with ability, but the lack of ability of men to use their ability—the lack of knowing how to co-operate. Communities are like men, they grow; men grow in worth or they grow less worthy. So do communities. They don't stand still. Communities either increase or decrease—grow more or grow less. Co-operation is the vital force that makes for growth and the lack of it retards growth. Therefore the more the people of a community can co-operate with each other the greater growth will come to that community.

The Chamber of Commerce is the community organization where the co-operation of the community is coordinated and the more we can intensify our co-operation with one another through that organization the more the community will grow. The big purpose of the Chamber of Commerce is to keep the community growing. Every member of the chamber should be sold on that idea and each and every member should know and understand that the more the community grows the more he will have a chance to get. The more productive you can make the produces in and around the community the more the business men of the community are going to have to have to trade in. Therefore make the other fellow prosperous and you will be made more prosperous in return.

The Chamber of Commerce is the central organization in the community that belongs to all and works for all, day and night; to help the community and all in the community, therefore the more you support and work with the Chamber of Commerce the more you will help others, and doing that, you will help yourself. The biggest job in any community is the job that offers the greatest opportunity to serve the greatest number. I believe the man who manages and directs the activities of the Chamber of Commerce has that job because he is working for all in the community all the time.

The most important quality a manager of a Chamber of Commerce can have is capability of growth. He must be able to grow in understanding people because sooner or later he will meet the cross-grains of society in the community and if he is big enough he will be able to guide and control any situation and harmonize it because having understanding of the whole himself, he will be able to convey that understanding to others and when people understand their true relationship to each other on the community there is peace and progress and prosperity. So you can see how important it is to have the right kind of a man managing and directing the affairs of the Chamber of Commerce.

But, no matter how big a man the manager is he cannot do all the work alone. He must be backed up by the president and board 100 per cent. He must be supported by active committees with every member of the committee active—men should not accept membership on a committee unless they intend to be loyal to the purpose of the committee. The work of all committees is to intensify the work of the whole, so if work of the different committees lag, then the progress of the whole lags.

Everyone in the community having the best interest of the community at heart will support the Chamber of Commerce. It's moral duty to do so. If the Chamber of Commerce is the central organization in the community, all other organizations in the community should recognize it as such and support its activities as a body as well as individuals.

In the last analysis the big purpose of all organizations in the community is to build up the moral force in the individual or to improve some phase of community life. The big purpose of the church is to build up the moral force in the individual—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions Exchange and other civic clubs is to build the moral force in the individual and in the individual's business—women's organizations to build the moral force of the women of the community—the Masons, Elks and other similar organizations to build the moral force in the individual, but there is only one organization in the community that has for its big purpose the building of the moral force of the community as a whole and that is the Chamber of Commerce. How important it is then, that all organizations should recognize their true relationship to the Chamber and support its activities.

Keep your community growing and you will get yours. If you don't it's your fault—either get in and ride or get out and walk.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE IN TEXAS UNDER CONTROL

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—The outbreak of foot and mouth disease among the cattle in Texas was considered under control Monday, according to announcement by the Department of Agriculture.

The disease was found in only five herds and there has been no new infection during the last eight days except in one dairy herd of 17 cows in an enclosure adjoining an infected pasture.

All of the diseased herds have been slaughtered and buried, the last one disposed of on the same day it was found infected. This prompt disposition of infected animals, the Department states, reduces to a minimum the danger of the virus being spread to other herds. Cleaning and disinfection of infected premises are being pushed vigorously.

Requests for advice received by the Bureau of Animal Industry from live stock sanitary officials of a number of States regarding promulgation of State regulations governing shipments originating in Texas have been answered by the Bureau, calling attention to the regulations adopted at the conference of the Western States Live Stock Sanitary Association, at Reno, Nevada, June 23 and 24, last.

Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, declared

Monday that the regulations adopted then were very comprehensive and that under present conditions the State Live Stock Sanitary officers would not be warranted in placing more drastic restrictions on shipments from Texas than those outlined at that conference.

DEMOCRATS OVER TOP IN SAN SABA COUNTY

San Saba, Tex., Oct. 13.—A rousing mass meeting of San Saba County citizens was held at the Court House at San Saba Saturday afternoon when a Ferguson rally was held, citizens from all parts of the county participating in the meeting, which was called at the instance of the Ferguson Club.

It was found in the outset that San Saba had oversubscribed the county's quota for the Democratic campaign fund.

The Economy of the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material and it may "look all right," but after it's stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

Long ago we learned that it is false economy to use poor materials and we so advise everyone who buys of us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

Bread, the Balanced Food

By Ida Bailey Allen
Authority on Foods and Nutrition, Specialist in Home Economics

WHAT is Bread? A loaf,—well crusted,—spongy,—digestible? All that,—and more. It is the composite of all the ingredients of which it is made—and of all the benefits that each one bestows.

It may be compared to the body itself. Milk—for blood. Flour—for tissue. Salts—for bone. Sugar and Fat—for energy. And Yeast—for Soul.

Bread is the greatest of all the foods depending upon living organisms for the making.

The modern loaf contains approximately 50 to 52 per cent carbohydrate (starch and sugar) 9 to 10 per cent protein; 2 to 3 per cent fat and 35 to 37 per cent water. Supplemented by its usual accompaniments, butter, milk, a soup or whatever it may be, and a balanced meal is provided.

What does this mean? That every part of the body is supplied with the approximate nourishment it needs. Neither too much, nor too little. Enough and no more. There is no one food except Bread that can do this. That is WHY it has been the cry of nations since the world began.

When we say, "Bread," what do we mean? All kinds of Bread—graham, whole wheat, rye, brown, rolls and coffee cake, white Bread—everything that is made with yeast. Each type has a definite place in the diet. Graham, rye and whole wheat for roughage,—coffee cake for starch and sweet,—rolls for energy. Home-Makers should be taught this and encouraged to increase their use of Breads intelligently by introducing a bigger repertoire in the right way.

But white Bread is the all year, every-day food. Made with plenty of milk to provide vitamins for growth and protein for muscle-making; with the best of flour milled for energy and digestibility; fats and sugar for reserve force—white Bread is a food that everyone can eat.

UNCLE BEN SEES FAR MORE THAN FOOTBALL

Last Thursday I went over to Austin with Coach Neely's team of football boys from Schreiner Institute to see them play the St. Edwards team of that place.

I saw the most interesting game I have ever witnessed. At the end of the first half the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of St. Edwards. During the rest period between halves I heard Coach Neely say to the boys: "Go in and play just as if there has never been a score made."

Did they do it? I want to tell you those boys played as if their lives depended upon it, driving St. Edwards down to their goal line time after time, to be taken back on penalties because some of them were just a little too anxious to reach the goal, and up to the last minute it looked as if the boys were going to win.

The individual playing was playing that would be complimented by any expert, but I cannot get down to individual playing in this game, because they all started.

I want to say to the boys of Schreiner Institute that I am proud of you, and if you go on and play the game of life as clean and as hard as you played that game you will be an honor to Schreiner Institute and a success in any line of work you may undertake. Respectfully yours, N. B. SMITH.

SCHREINER HAS TWO GAMES THIS WEEK END

The Schreiner football squad has two games scheduled for this week end, both of which should be hum-dingers. Friday afternoon Coach McMillan will take his second string team to Comfort, where they will lock horns with the High School team of that city at 4 o'clock. The students of the school are becoming very much enthused over the showing this second team is making against the high school teams and a large number will fan the Comfort game. Last Friday afternoon the same bunch cleaned up on the Boerne team, 7-0.

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock one of the best games of the entire fall schedule will be played at Schreiner Field, when Coach Anderson of the State A. & M. College turns his Freshman team loose on the first stringmen of the Schreinerites. The Freshmen played a 0-0 game with Burleson Junior College last Saturday and Schreiner lost to St. Edwards at Austin, although sport writers generally conceded that Schreiner played by far the better game of the two, and lost only through their eagerness to win making them receive penalties for off-side playing time after time, when penalties hurt.

Several of the boys were considerably smashed up in last Friday's fray, but the hospital list is practically cleared by now and Coach Neely has worked out some of the kinks in the football machine generally, especially that part pertaining to over-eagerness.

With two teams on the field like there will be next Saturday an interesting game is assured, and Kerrville lovers of good clean sport are urged to support the home boys by their presence on Schreiner Field at 4 p. m.

Sunbeams

The Sunbeam Band of the First Baptist Church had a large attendance last Sunday. We were glad to welcome several new Sunbeams to our Band. Sunday evening at 2 o'clock, we want every Sunbeam to be present with your "Love Gift" for State Missions. Let's make it a big offering.

For another special reason we want all the Sunbeams to be present at 2 o'clock Sunday evening, October 19th. Let's have for our motto: "Every child in Sunbeam at 2 o'clock."

case of cream, is run direct to the churn to be made into butter.

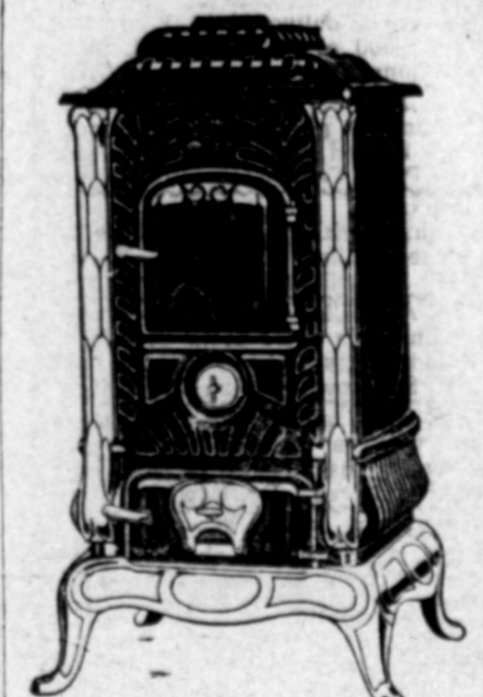

After being bottled the milk is easily accessible for loading on trucks at rear door adjoining the bottling machine or can readily be stored in the large refrigerating room on the other side.

The refrigerating system is one of the most important parts of the creamery, and has been constructed at no little cost. The refrigerating room is lined on all sides, top and bottom, with sheet cork four inches thick and has a network of pipes built in which will carry the cold brine from the freezing tank adjoining the main building. An ammonia compressor has been installed in the main building for the purpose of keeping the salt water in this tank at the proper temperature for refrigeration purposes.

In fact the creamery has a complete ice plant in operation at all times. All that is necessary to turn out about five tons of ice every 24 hours is to place the cans of water in the brine tank. However, they do not plan on making ice but will use instead, the cold brine running through the pipes in the refrigerating room and also through the pasteurizers when the operators want to cool off the milk after it has been sterilized by being heated by steam.

A large boiler has been erected immediately adjoining the creamery building for the purpose of supplying hot water and steam for pasteurizing and for washing and sterilizing processes. This is all the steam will be used for, as all machinery throughout the plant is motor driven.

McCreary & Schott are the contractors who constructed the plant and the design of the interior is the result of experience of J. F. Mitnick, in charge of the mechanical part of the creamery, and of Mr. McCreary, who is one of the most practical construction engineers in the country. The finished product is one in which all

FAMOUS CONCERT ORGANIST TO APPEAR HERE OCT. 23RD

Next Thursday, October 23, Minor C. Baldwin, one of the leading organists in the world, will appear in concert in the main auditorium of the Presbyterian Church in this city. This was made certain when a party of music lovers met the first of the week and agreed to underwrite the expense of bringing Mr. Baldwin here. There will be no admission charged for this concert, although a free will offering will be taken to help defray expenses of same.

Dr. Baldwin is an organist of international reputation, having appeared in concerts in London, Bruxelles and Antwerp, Belgium, Lucerne, Switzerland, Paris and the British West Indies. Besides these triumphs he was solo organist at the following American Expositions: Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Charlestown, Pan-American, Omaha, and also at the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

It is seldom that music lovers in a small city have opportunity to hear a performer of such well known ability as Dr. Baldwin, and the men and women who guaranteed this performance are entitled to a great deal of credit for the part they had in making the performance possible.
