FORECAST COTTON HIGH

D. C.—Cotton was estimated at 106,000 bales of weight, as compared with 100,000 bales ginned based on the report August 1. The average of normal is 74.9 a year, and the average of lint cotton is 149.6 pounds compared with 201 and 151.4 pounds respectively.

Another Well Is Plugged and Rig Moved to Next

The second abandoned artesian well on the Bailey farm in the Upper Cottonwood has been successfully plugged. Myron Brunning and drilling crew finished the plugging operations Saturday after pumping 400 yards of mud into the hole. Drillers experienced difficulty in getting into the hole and owing to the condition of the well more mud was used in the last well than in the first plugged some ten days or two weeks previous. Mud only was used in plugging this well. No cement was placed in the hole. Mr. Brunning operator of the rig is of the opinion that the pressure of the mud will be ample to hold back the water.

SANTA FE REDUCES RATE ON APPLES

A reduction of approximately 30 per cent in freight rates on apples from Pecos valley points to destinations in Texas and other areas was announced Tuesday at Roswell by the Santa Fe railroad. The rate cut came simultaneously with the beginning of apple shipments from Roswell—the first carload leaving Roswell Tuesday, and was given added significance in statements of growers anticipating a most successful year for this important valley industry.

CURRENT-ARGUS CHANGES

A few changes were made in the office of the daily Current-Argus at Carlsbad. In the change effective Thursday, August 4th, Darrell Swayze, former city editor of the Roswell Dispatch becomes editor of the Current-Argus, succeeding Will Robinson, who has been transferred to the mechanical department. Neil O. McKim, former business manager of the Raton Range, becomes the business manager of the Current-Argus.

UNION SERVICES

There will be the regular union services at the Presbyterian church at 8:00 p. m. Sunday. Rev. Harold Dye will preach. Everyone is invited.

FREIGHT REDUCTION ON COTTON SEED IS REPORTED PROSPECT

A substantial reduction in the freight rates on cotton seed will be placed in effect by the Santa Fe on the Pecos valley division in time to take care of 1932 cotton seed shipments.

While no definite announcement has been made as to what the reduction will be, it was said that several schedules have been worked out and it was definitely announced that the reduction will be "substantial."

Officials of the Santa Fe railroad, it was learned, have been endeavoring for several months to put into effect a reduction in freight rates on cotton seed from producing points in the valley and between the oil mills, located at Loving and Roswell.

The "break" in the rate, it was said, will be made at Hagerman, and will be made to apply from Hagerman north to Roswell and from Hagerman south to Loving.

STOCKS CLIMB TO A NEW LEVEL MONDAY IN BIG DAY OF YEAR

NEW YORK—The most violent upswing in cotton in more than two years, the swiftest trading in stocks in nearly two years, and the sharpest advance in bonds in two months, marked the big bull push in the nation's leading financial markets Monday.

Cotton surged up more than $5.00 a bale, as the government estimated this year's crop far below the average of recent years, and Wall street quickly recalled that a short crop in that staple in 1921 was an important factor in boosting the markets out of the post war depression.

Stocks met three successive waves of profit taking, and the last one was sufficient to reduce the days extreme advances substantially, but many leading issues closed $1 to $2 a share higher, and the turnover of 5,544,380 was the largest since October of 1930. At the best prices, when many stocks were up $2 to $8 a share, it was a market which would have gladdened the hearts of the bulls even in the prosperity mad days of 1929.

G. C. ROBERSON IS UNDER ARREST FOR OPERATING A STILL

G. C. Roberson, a resident of the Cottonwood community, living on the Porter farm, a mile over the county line was arrested Monday morning on charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. When arrested Roberson had a twenty-five gallon still in operation and had run about a gallon and a half of whiskey, officers said. Two barrels of mash were located near the still.

Roberson, officers allege, has been making whiskey for several years and it was only after a long vigil that he was caught. In the raiding party were Federal Officer Neal of Roswell, Carl Gordon and E. A. Gary of Roswell. Roberson was taken to Roswell and placed in the Chaves county jail Monday. Tuesday morning he was arraigned before Dan C. Savage, United States Commissioner and plead guilty to possession of a still and other equipment designed for the manufacture of liquor. Bond in the case was fixed at $750.00 and Roberson was committed to jail on default of same and will await the action of the federal court which convenes in Roswell in September.

BROWN DRUG STORE IS RECENTLY SOLD TO FRANK MCCARTHY

A deal was consummated in the past few days whereby the Brown Pharmacy was sold to Frank J. McCarthy, of Lordsburg, who was manager of the Lordsburg Drug Company for seven years.

Mr. McCarthy will arrive on the fifteenth to take charge of his new establishment. O. H. Brown, has been greatly handicapped in his work here by the fact that his wife has been seriously ill during the entire time that he has been in Hagerman, which necessitated her staying in Artesia. Mr. Brown will remain in Artesia for a time.

ONE MORE SUIT IN NAVAL OIL SCANDAL

WASHINGTON.—Despite its many rulings on phases of the naval oil scandals, the supreme court still has a case before it growing out of the transactions.

The government has recovered all but a fragment of the land leased by Sinclair and Edward L. Doherty, but it wants three sections in the Elk Hills, California, reserve still held by the Pan American Petroleum company.

CHANGE STATE ROAD NUMBER NEAR CARLSBAD

It was announced recently at Carlsbad that the road from the Texas-New Mexico line east of Hobbs through Carlsbad to the state line south will be in the future designated as state highway 16 instead of highways 16 and 18. It is expected that this will eliminate much confusion in routing traffic.

TO MANUFACTURE DRY ICE

Organization of the Estancia Valley Carbon Dioxide Development Co., for the manufacture of dry ice is virtually completed. The project when developed will give the state its first dry ice plant. A carbon dioxide field has been opened north of Estancia from which the dry ice will be manufactured. Engineers have estimated that the field will produce enough carbon dioxide to supply a fifteen ton plant for seventy-five years. There are seventy-six different uses established for dry ice.

TUCUMCARI GETS THE 1932 LEGION MEET GANTZ COMMANDER

Paul R. Gantz of Ft. Bayard was elected state commander of the New Mexico department of the American Legion to succeed Everett M. Grantham of Clovis at the close of the fourteenth annual state legion convention at Raton Saturday.

Brig. Gen. Osborne C. Wood of Santa Fe, adjutant general of the New Mexico National Guard was elected senior vice-commander after he had withdrawn his name from the race for state commander and released his supporters to vote without recommendation, Joaquin Ortega, of Las Vegas, was elected junior vice-commander.

Artesia Potash Co. Drilling Eight Miles Southwest

It may interest our readers to know that a test for potash is being made seven or eight miles southwest of Artesia. The test for potash is being financed by the Artesia Potash Co., a group of Artesia citizens. The test well which is being drilled by Gray Coggin and associates is located in the center of sec 8-18-27.

LIGHTNING KIND TO AN ARTESIA FARMER

Lightning knocked out two farmers southwest of town yesterday afternoon at about 3:20 o'clock. The men, Henry F. White and W. P. Porch were sitting beside the White residence on the Wilde farm southwest of town, when a storm cloud approached. They decided to go into the house when lightning struck knocking both men to the ground. According to information gathered by an Advocate reporter the men were rendered unconscious for a period of eight to ten minutes, but suffered no ill effects from the experience except a severe shock. The trousers of Mr. Porch were ripped down one leg, but strangely enough he escaped a burn.

NO AUTHORITY TO MAKE ANY LOANS TO SCHOOL BOARDS

SANTA FE—The reconstruction finance corporation has no authority to lend the county school boards to aid in the support of any school system, George Cooksey, secretary of the corporation, has telegraphed the Santa Fe New Mexican, making public reply to a query from Artesia.

HOBBS MEN HELD

Fred and Stewart Kilpatrick, brothers, are being held under bond of $25,000 each at Lovington in connection with the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Jack Seay at Hobbs several weeks ago.

NEW CROP LOANS WILL SOON BE READY

Arrangement will soon be completed for making crop loans under the new act passed by the last congress. Roscoe Kile and Col. A. T. Woods, both of Artesia, attended a field agent's meeting at Albuquerque last week. Some seem to be under the impression that the granting of the new loans will depend somewhat on the manner the outstanding loans are repaid.

A PAIR OF COTTON SCALES CAUSES LOSS WOMAN'S RIGHT EYE

Mrs. Josephine Adkins suffered the loss of her right eye in an accident Tuesday evening at the Adkins farm southeast of Artesia. Mrs. Adkins had gone to the barn about 6:30 o'clock and was engaged in doing up the chores when called by the children. It was evidently too dark in the barn for proper vision and in attempting to get out of the barn, Mrs. Adkins ran against the sharp end of a pair of cotton scales. The blow burst the right eye ball, it was understood, making it necessary to remove the eye. Mrs. Adkins was rushed to Roswell and underwent an operation for the removal of her eye about 10:30 Tuesday evening at the St. Mary's hospital. The patient was doing nicely at the last report.

TANK SHIPMENT OF BASS

The first tank shipment of bass made from Dexter fish hatchery went out Saturday to Elephant Butte Lake. The shipment consisted of 25,000 to 30,000 large mouth black bass.

KILL ANTELOPE IN TWO COUNTIES

LEA COUNTY VALUES DROP TWO MILLIONS

A shrinkage of more than two million is shown in property assessable by local authorities in Lea county's tax roll just received by the State Tax Commission at Santa Fe.

Deputy Joe Johns and Dick Westaway, county assessor, returned Friday after taking W. H. Tarrant and Eugene Walker to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe to begin the serving of sentences of 12½ years and 7 to 8 years for robbery with dangerous weapons.

A CORRECTION

In last week's write up of the Hagerman-Dexter ball game the score should have read 16-3 instead of 1-3. Sorry, but with six thousand chances to make an error in one column of type, this is the first time we have ever done it.

VALLEY COTTON MEN RICHER BY A HALF MILLION ON MONDAY

Based on the government estimate of 11,306,000 bales of cotton released Monday, Pecos valley farmers are technically $598,500.00 richer than they were several months ago when the cotton market hit a low of 4.72. The increase in value of Pecos valley cotton is figured on a production of 45,000 bales, which is less than the total production in 1931. Estimates generally agree that the acreage in the valley has been reduced ten per cent, however, the condition of the crop at this time is slightly better than at the corresponding period of last year. Increase in the cotton seed and its products may account for another $125,000 raise in the value of cotton.

Buying was consistently stimulated by Monday's report. Cotton and textile mills were considering plans for buying up of surplus supplies held with the assistance of federal farm board financing. December cotton closed Monday up to 7.38 or 104 points above Saturday's closing.

HAROLD DYE, Managing Editor

A PRETTY TOWN

It has seemed to many who have lived here for several years, that Hagerman has been more beautiful this summer than it ever has.

Another help in achieving a better place in which to live, has been the work accomplished by men who were working for food for their families this summer and spring.

However, one thing that at present detracts from the appearance of our little city, is the weeds that are prevalent in vacant lots and painfully noticeable about many of our homes.

From a publication "Religious Background of the White House" comes the statement that during one-fourth of the period of our nationhood, there have been parsonage children presiding over the White House.

Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams, was the daughter of a Congregational minister.

The wives of both the Millard Fillmore and Franklin Pierce were parsonage born.

James A. Garfield was an ordained minister.

Grover Cleveland was the descendant of a long line of ministerial forebears.

Both Woodrow Wilson and his first wife were parsonage children.

Chester A. Arthur was the son of a Baptist minister.

Hulda Minthorn Hoover was a Quaker preacher. Lou Henry Hoover is the granddaughter of a Methodist minister.

Veterans Bureau records reveal that Roy W. Robertson who, despite a neck brace, led the march of veterans around the capitol in the closing days of congress, receives a monthly disability compensation of $78.75 from the government.

NATCHEZ, Mississippi—Charlie Isaacs, a negro delegate to the republican national convention, said he had received an invitation to a luncheon at the White House today.

This is the date on which President Hoover will be formally notified of his nomination by the republican party.

BIDS LET

Bids for the construction of a portion of highway 70 between Alamo and Tularosa will be let by the State Highway Commission on August 12th.

This depression seems to be something awful, to judge by a recent news item which struck our eye.

It's awful to pay three cents postage, but there is compensation in the fact that we don't have to throw in the waste basket hundreds of circulars each month that some nut thinks is good advertising, and expects us to read.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their home town paper by sending in one pill, one bean, one buck, one cartwheel, one Jew flag, one simoleon, one peso, one berry, or just a common every day dollar in payment of their subscription.

The communists have announced a very worthy platform including such ideals as: unemployment and social insurance at the expense of the state and the employers; general exemption from taxation, and no forced collection of rents or debts; immediate relief for farmers and a minimum wage of $30 for a 7 hour day and a 5 day week for all unskilled labor.

It's getting so nowadays that it's almost as dangerous to shoot Hagerman's deputy sheriff as it is to kill a duck out of season.

Just $500,000 taken in by the heavy weight mauling match, and the expenses of the Olympic games whittled down to a mere $6,000,000—who says the country ain't done gone to the soup hounds?

More cotton than all the world can use; more wheat than we can sell; more cattle and hogs than the universe ever saw—and more money in the banks than any of us can borrow.

It's our prediction that when the county commissioner's ring is cleaned up next month, there will be the dirtiest collection of second hand hats that the people of this district ever saw.

FEDERAL COURT OPENS AT ROSWELL SEPT. 20

A regular session of United States court for the district of New Mexico will be held in Roswell beginning on September 20th, day.

Patience—Doctor, what is the best cure for gout? Doctor—A small income. It cures you by not permitting you to have it.

First Thoughts

"Say, Auntie, are second thoughts best?" "So we are told, my dear." "Then why don't people have them first?"

BLUEBEARD BACK IN PRISON

BOISE, Idaho.—Lydia Southard, woman "Bluebeard" who married five husbands and saw four of them die, then served 10 years for the death of the fourth and escaped long enough to marry the sixth, is back in the Idaho penitentiary again.

She returned early Friday morning from Topeka, Kansas, in charge of Warden R. E. Thomas and his wife, who went for her following her capture last Saturday at the end of 15 months freedom.

It was almost a gala "home-coming." Several prison and police officials welcomed her.

He Put It Over

By H. IRVING KING

ALTHOUGH Roderick McKesson was guardian for his niece, Alice Randolph, and for Gerald, the son of his deceased friend, Simon Cuthbert, he had no idea of allowing his two wards to marry. He regarded Gerald as too lacking in business ability to ever get on in the world.

Roderick's idea of the proper sort of a husband for Alice was Gilbert Anderson. Anderson was a hustler, always in business up to his neck; full of schemes for making vast amounts of money. He had not made any yet, but there had always been a plausible reason why the particular scheme he had been trying to put over had not succeeded. Gilbert had marked Roderick as his own and deferred to him.

Alice detested Gilbert and told her uncle she was going to marry Gerald. Her uncle said emphatically that she was not and she replied: "You just wait and see." When she had said "No" to Gerald upon his proposing, he had replied: "Say, old girl, you don't really mean that—do you?" To which she had answered: "Why, of course I don't, you silly. Only we have got to wait. Uncle is dead set against you and is touting for that Anderson person. But I'll be twenty-five in six months and my own mistress. Under the terms of father's will if I marry before I am twenty-five without uncle's consent, I forfeit my money, and I don't want to do that. In six months you come and ask me again."

This set Gerald to thinking. Six months was a long time to wait; but Alice was a level-headed girl and quite right to avoid sacrificing her fortune. When Gerald had turned twenty-one Roderick had called him into his office and shown him a lot of figures, of which he comprehended only enough to know that they represented a considerable fortune, and he had insisted that the old man go on managing his affairs.

The next day Gerald went to call upon Roderick McKesson. "Oh, you?" said Roderick. "What is it? Make it short, I am busy."

As a rule Gerald was a trifle loud in his dress; today he was attired soberly. His manner was generally a trifle frivolous; today he had an air of seriousness and suppressed energy. You would have spotted him anywhere for a business man accustomed to deal with important questions. It was not for nothing that Gerald had been a star in amateur theatricals. "Sir," said he gravely, "I called to ask if you could not reconsider your objection to my marriage with your niece?"

"No," roared Roderick, "I never reconsider." Gerald saw a large envelope lying on Roderick's desk in the upper left-hand corner of which was printed in large type, "The Agawunsk Finishing Company." "Have you—er—have you, if it is not an impertinent question, invested anything in this concern?"

"I have," snapped Roderick. "What of it?" "Well," replied Gerald, "I have been taking rather an interest in business matters of late; especially new enterprises, and the Agawunsk company is a rather doubtful concern."

"Nonsense," cried Roderick, "they have contracts ahead for twenty years." "Yes," said Gerald, "and they show these contracts to lure investors. The fact is they are losing two cents a yard on every yard of cloth they finish."

"I'm too busy to talk further with you today," said Roderick. The old man got exceedingly busy after Gerald left, calling up credit concerns and financial men who kept well informed on all that was going on. Roderick himself had been rather "out of it" for some years, joggling along in old ruts. He had been lured into the Agawunsk scheme by George Anderson—and he had invested ten thousand dollars of Cuthbert's money in the concern.

When the old man had finished his investigations he had a grim look. The first thing he did was to transfer the Agawunsk bonds to his own account and deposit a certified check for ten thousand to the account of Gerald. "The young whippersnapper has business ability after all," he grudgingly thought.

As a matter of fact Gerald was so intensely jealous of Gilbert Anderson that he kept his ears open for anything concerning him. Having overheard two business men mention Gilbert's name at the club in a slighting manner he had taken one of them aside, demanding further information. And it had taken Lester Craddock an hour and a half to get through Gerald's head a full comprehension of the status of the Agawunsk company.

"Alice," said Roderick to his niece that night, "young Cuthbert is getting to be quite a business man. I have changed my opinion of him." "And he plays a rattling game of tennis," said Alice. Roderick frowned. "In spite of that," said he, "you might do worse than marry him."

They were married, and the Agawunsk Finishing company blew up two months after their marriage.

P. E. O. WANTS NEW MEX. FLOWERS SAVED

The slogan "Protect New Mexico's Flowers, Shrubs and Trees" is being placed before Artesia citizens by the Artesia P. E. O. chapter, a women's organization.

The purpose of the campaign is to call the attention of citizens and tourists to the necessity of saving the natural beauty of the state by protecting the most noticeable scenic features. Besides the argument for conserving the water supply, the flowers, shrubs and trees make the state more attractive and therefore bring more interest to the state which in turn adds wealth.

New Mexico is the fourth largest state in the United States with a varying altitude of 3,150 feet at Carlsbad to 13,900 feet at Truchas Peak north of Santa Fe. It has many degrees of moisture ranging from the humid that matches the Atlantic seaboard to the desert type. These conditions create a diversity of climate which gives the state six of the seven plant zones found in the United States.

The average citizen does not stop to consider the value of the flowers and cacti to the state. The tourist is first considered in good roads and secondly considers the attractiveness of the scenery, and he is the first to notice the difference in the beauty of the highway in the states where flowers are protected and those where they are not protected.

CROP LOAN OFFICE TO BE CLOSED

The local branch regional crop production loan office for New Mexico and Arizona will be closed August 15, it was announced last week during a conference at Albuquerque of federal loan officials with Gov. D. W. Davis, chief national investigator under the loan act.

Since the office was opened last spring 4,869 New Mexico farmers were loaned a total of $545,588.50, or an average of $112.05 each. Of approximately $3,300,000 loaned in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona about $72,000 has already been collected.

Those at the conference questioned relative to the recently enacted federal relief measure were uncertain as to what extent relief will be granted through crop production loans under the act.

With the closing of the Albuquerque office, the work for New Mexico and Arizona will be handled out of the Dallas regional headquarters. Lending of money for the year has been completed and most of the time of officials is now devoted to collections. However, Carl H. Gallagher, Superintendent, will continue making the headquarters at Albuquerque.

Avoid Unnecessary Risks

Several months ago members of the regional banks of eastern New Mexico offered their customers an investment service at a nominal cost. Your banker has no financial interest in any particular stock which may be offered on the market, but if a bank customer wishes to purchase stock as an investment, your banker is in position to give you honest service, charging only a small fee for his time. He would have no motive in giving false information on a particular issue of stock with the expectation of gathering a big commission. If you would avoid unnecessary risks with your hard earned money, be sure that those upon whom you rely possess the honesty of purpose as well as the ability to judge the merits of an investment.

The officers of your bank are in constant touch with business conditions and investment matters and will be glad to have you avail yourself of this service regardless of whether it is a local or foreign investment.

Mail Christmas Cards

In this Depression Year

One good thing about the depression this year is the fact that all of our relatives and friends will understand that we are not able financially to send them wrist watches, silk shirts, boxes of candy, and other presents.

However, these same friends will feel slighted if we ignore them. Send them a distinctive, personal, artistic Christmas card... the most inexpensive gift which would always be in good taste.

We shall be glad to call and display our samples of lovely cards.

EMERSON WATTS OF ROSWELL IS MISSING W. WATSON FOUND DEAD ON HIS RANCH

Emerson Watts, former state treasurer, and a Roswell broker, disappeared Thursday night or early Friday. The only suit filed so far in connection with the disappearance was that filed by Grant Keyes of Roswell alleging Watts appropriated 600 shares of oil stock worth $3,000. Watts met Thursday night with clients who demanded an audit. The audit was started by Walden Bassett, public accountant of Roswell, that night. Watts said he was indisposed and started home. He has not been seen since. Denver brokers with which Watts did business claim that he has only a small account with them. Watts disappeared shortly more than a year ago and was charged with embezzlement. Late the charges were dropped when Watts returned.

DOMINION TRADE THREAT AGAINST AMERICA FADING

OTTAWA—A prospect that the imperial conference would limit itself to bi-lateral agreements between the dominions and leave the rest of the agenda for the coming world economic conference at which the United States will sit, appeared as the conference began its third and perhaps final week Monday. The general belief was that Great Britain would do something to open her doors wider to the products of the dominions, but that in doing so she would be inclined to confine herself to measures looking to an international revival of trade rather than to purely empire benefit.

It was recalled that the Prince Wales, on the eve of the opening of the conference, referred especially to the undesirability of damaging the empire's world trade. For the most part, it was expected. The new trade alignments made here will be considered as revisions of most favored nation treaties rather than an attempt to treat the rest of the world, particularly the United States, as competitors. It was pointed out, the United States supports the economic structure of the empire in no small way, especially in taking 75 per cent of the rubber produced there.

As a result of this, America appears before the conference far less as a trade rival than an indispensable partner in imperial prosperity. Americans have more than $3,000,000,000 invested in the empire and they buy from Canada more than 15 times as much as all the nations of the commonwealth together.

Turkish Capital
Constantinople (Istanbul in Turkish) was the old capital of the Turkish empire, and it was removed to Angora (Turkish, Ankara) in 1920. This site in Central Anatolia was chosen because of its inaccessibility to foreign invasion and because it was more truly a Turkish city, as the seat of the new Turkish republican government. Ankara was formally dedicated the capital of the Turkish republic by the great national assembly on October 13, 1923.

WOOL MOVES FASTER THAN IN 12 YEARS
BOSTON.—L. U. Edgell, vice president of Draper and Company, Friday said the National Co-operative Wool Marketing Corporation had sold several million pounds of wool today at a price of 35 to 37 cents a pound, clean basis. Sales of equal size were made Thursday, Edgell said.

The buyers of the co-operative wool were not disclosed by Edgell, who said they included some of the largest manufacturers in the country. Draper and Company are selling agents for the co-operative.

Edgell described the present wool market as "moving rapidly," like the of which the trade has not experienced since 1920. SAY RELIEF IS NOT SUFFICIENT

NEW YORK—A warning that the $300,000,000 direct relief fund to states contained in the federal relief bill signed by President Hoover will not be sufficient to meet the mounting demands for aid upon welfare agencies in 1931-1932 was issued in a joint statement by the American Public Welfare association and the Family Welfare association of America, representing public and private local agencies throughout the United States and Canada.

"No community and no private citizen should feel that because three hundred million dollars has been made available to states that the relief situation in this country is taken care of," declared Mrs. John M. Glenn, president of the Family Welfare association of America.

"It is estimated that in 1931 the private and public welfare agencies of 81 cities alone expended approximately $167,000,000 for relief. Several hundred towns and cities carrying on relief work are not included in this figure. Expenditures in 1932 will be higher than those in 1931. From reports from the field, it is clear that local tax appropriations and private contributions will be absolutely necessary if our welfare agencies are to meet the demands for food and care which will be made upon them this winter."

The joint statement urges state officials to direct all possible efforts toward making sure that the availability of federal money does not "dry up" other necessary sources of relief funds through the state, county and municipal appropriations and through voluntary contributions of individuals to community chests and private welfare agencies.

Another problem confronting the states receiving loans for direct relief, according to the statement, will be that of administering the funds.

"Naturally in the giving of relief we are all anxious that there shall be the maximum results in the alle-
