Funeral services for E. J. Smith, 28 years old, killed Sunday in an accident in the Potash Company of America mine, were held at 5:00 p. m., Monday in the First Baptist church at Hobbs. Smith, who had been employed in the mine about one year, died eted In fifteen minutes after he was struck by a mine car. Fellow employes administered first aid and rushed him to the top, but he died soon after reaching the surface.

Employed as a cager at the bottom of the mine pit, he was at his job when the fatal accident oc-

He told fellow employes after the accident that he thought the switch was turned wrong, when it was right. He switched the cars on the wrong track and did not see them before he was hit.

The body was taken to Hobbs for funeral services and burial. The victim is survived by his young widow, who has resided at Carlsbad about three months, and his father, Jake Smith, employed in the Hobbs oil fields.

WESTERN LAMB CROP LARGE

The 1936 lamb crop of thirteen western states is about 2,700,000 head or fifteen per cent larger than in 1935. Losses of ewes during the winter and spring were moderate. Early lambs comprise about twenty-two per cent of the entire crop.

Sheep and lambs are generally in good condition in this area due to limely moisture.

Rigging To Drill On

Henry Harper, oil operator of Eunice, has purchased the Platt oil lease southwest of Dayton and is rigging machinery over the old Platt well to drill deeper, it is reported here. The Platt well, located in the SW SW sec. 26-18-26, was drilled to a depth of 2200 feet by Kissinger and others several years ago. It is understood Mr. Harper has staked a location for another test, in the event the present one does not measure up to expectations. Since the early development of the artesian belt this area has been regarded as prospective oil territory, but few real oil tests

Shortage of Skilled Committee Named The Old Platt Well Labor in New Mex.

SANTA FE-There is a plentiful supply of semi-skilled labor, Works Progress Administrator Lea Rowland advised E. H. Oakley, Public Works Administration director, Tuesday, but there is "an absolute lack of skilled labor" on the relief rolls in New Mexico.

Rowland, Oakley and George Cook, director of the National Emergency Council for New Mexico, conferred Tuesday on the matter of getting skilled labor so that various PWA projects in the state, for which bonds have been voted and issued, might proceed. New Mexico was one of eleven states which lost PWA allotments because skilled labor was lacking.

JERRY CAN FIND NO TRAPS

JERRY MUSKRAT was puzzled He was very much puzzled. When he discovered that the stranger had left pieces of carrot and apple at some of Jerry's favorite eating places he had guessed at once that a trap had been set in each one of those places. So, for a whole day curiosity had been too much for

> It seemed to Jerry that he simply must have those pieces of carrot. He tried to turn his back on them and go away, but he couldn't. He knew he was foolish, but he finally, very, very cautiously crept up on that log until he could reach out one paw and knock a piece of carrot off. Nothing happened. Jerry jumped down and ate that piece of carrot with relish. Then he climbed back and did the same thing to another piece of carrot. Finally, he had eaten the last piece of carrot and nothing had happened.

> Then Jerry visited in turn the for him, and he ventured to take those good things. He ate until his stomach was full and then he carried what was left over to his house. At none of those places could he find the least sign of a and left more good things, and that night Jerry had another feast. The following day the stranger did not come, but the day after he did. As before, he left good things to eat, and, as before, Jerry got them to the last scrap.

But all the time Jerry was puzzled. He couldn't understand why that stranger was bringing him all those good things to eat. At the same time, Jerry was growing careless. He no longer used his eyes and nose so carefully when he approached the places where those good things were left. In fact, sometimes he was in such a hurry to get them that he didn't look at all, but just scrambled up where the good things were. You see, not once had he found a single thing wrong. He was beginning to doubt that the stranger was a trapper at all. In fact, he was beginning to look on the stranger as a very good friend indeed.

Aged Recluse Is Found Murdered

PORTALES - William Gabriel, aged Roosevelt county farmer who had lived the life of a recluse on his homestead near Dora, was found dead Friday, the victim of in the valley what sheriff's officers said was murder.

Last seen while plowing in his field Thursday morning, Gabriel apparently had been engaged in a terrific struggle, Deputy Sheriffs J. R. Poindexter and J. R. Bradford

His head had been beaten horribly with a heavy instrument, there a they said. The officers expressed belief Gabriel had been dead between twelve and twenty-four hours when his body was found. The body was discovered by F. D. Chambers, a neighbor, who, with his two small daughters, went to Chambers told the officers he found the house locked, looked around the place and found Gabriel's body lying near a windmill. A team of horses, tied to a nearby parents, tree, evidently had been standing there all day, Chambers said.

The officers could establish no motive for the murder. They were handicapped in their investigation and Mrs. Brannon were school-day 1,674; Tyre Beal, 763.

Farm Vote spring a new surprise among his many surprises and that he will employ it to wean away as much of the farm vote from Governor Landon of Kansas as is possible. The President usually has a card up his sleeve, one that he can pull out with a flourish and one that, on the surface at least, carries very convincing prospects in the particular line he has chosen.

In this instance, it seems rather well established that you may expect the President to come forward shortly with a brand new proposition for greater co-operative effort between the farmers and the city consumers. He is likely to present this new proposition-some of his critics have been unkind enough to describe it as a new rabbit from the hat-in a dressing that will be quite alluring. It is not clear yet just when the new plan will be offered by the President and his New Deal associates, but the guess can be made that it will come in time to permit a full exposition of the program by the New Dealers in advance of election. By the same token, it is apparent that the President's 1936 promises for the farmers will be disclosed late enough so time to pick it to pieces.

The tip-off on the fact that Mr. Roosevelt is developing another farm program comes in Mr. Secretary Wallace's latest book 'Whose Constitution.'' Of course, the secretary's observations may not be charged directly to the President. Nevertheless, it is the opinwatched the New Deal wheels go around that the secretary of agriculture usually leads the procession in offering new suggestions for New Deal activities.

on, whether the secretary retes it or not, and if they are ched closely, an accurate foret of what is coming may be

It might have been that the secary's book would have escaped ntion as a vehicle carrying a essage from the inner circle of New Dealers except for one line that was tucked away in the Democratic platform, or the platform adopted by the Philadelphia con-

The sentence in the platform with which the secretary's book may properly be connected reads: "We ill act to secure to the consumer fair value, honest sales and a decreasing spread between the price he pays and the price the producer receives.

Some observers here have linked that proposition with a thought that Mr. Roosevelt proposes to organize not only co-operatives among the farmers but to link those co-operatives with similar co-operatives among the consumers. The conviction held by these individuals is that Mr. Roosevelt, astute politician that he is, is seeking to kill two birds with one stone. In other words, they contend that his plan will be thrown out as an inducement for the farmers to support his policies and re-elect him and that when he deals with the voters in great industrial areas he will point out to them the possibility of cheaper food in this manner.

It is to be remembered in connection with the reported new farm program that Mr. Roosevelt has sent a commission to Europe to study the co-operative idea. There has been no fanfare, no blare of trumpets about the departure of these men, each being an avowed New Dealer and each one being thoroughly dependable. That is, they are men who can be depended upon to present the facts they gather in true New Deal light. They have been in Europe now about a month. It is expected they will remain at least one month longer. If, then, they take a month to write their report it becomes obvious that we can expect another New Deal farm program, based upon the co-operative idea, to emerge from the White House around October 1. It is just 30 days from that date to the election.

We now have had acceptance speeches by both Mr. Roosevelt and Governor Landon. Campaign his opponent. To the extent that Issues

There is the conviction among these same writers that Governor Landon will resort to no oratorical flourishes nor will he employ any of the tactics that Mr. Roosevelt has so often used in his fireside that the Republicans will have little | radio chats. Further, it is quite evident, I believe, that Governor Lanpeal to restore what he considers to be the American form of government. Electoral Votes Count in Electing President

A President may be elected by a minority, or less than half of the total number of popular votes cast. popular vote, but by electors who is split. Hence, it is possible for a minority of the voters of the country as a whole to elect a majority of the presidential electors.

In the election of 1824 none of the four candidates for President reseived a majority of either the electoral or the popular votes, and John

Quincy Adams was chosen by the house of representatives in accordance with the method prescribed by the Constitution for such cases. Since then James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, James Buchanan, Abraham Lincoln, in 1860; Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield; Grover Cleveland, in 1884 and 1892; Benjamin Harrison, and Woodrow Wilson, in 1912 and 1916, were elected President without receiving a majority of the total popular vote. But in the disputed election of 1876, Samuel J. Tilden actually received more popular votes than Hayes did, and yet Hayes was declared elected, the electoral count being finally determined as 185 to 184. Likewise in 1838 the Cleveland electors received 5,540,000 popula votes to Benjamin Harrison's 5,444. 337. But Harrison was elected, 23 electoral votes to Cleveland's 168

> 'Now Is the Time to Buy or Rent Farm Lands"

A CCORDING to a report put out by the National Association of Manufacturers, "excessive speculation in farm lands appears at last to have ended and opportunities for farm operators to rent land or purchase on equitable terms are now restored."

The report, prepared by the association's committee on agricultural co-operation, was stated to be based on an analysis of the relationship between farm commodi-ty prices and the market value of farm real estate.

Silk for High Style Sports Wear Captivating Daytime Frock

For the girl with a perfect figure there are also the silk lastex suits which fit the body like a glove and have touches of dressmaker detail at the bosom. The newest trick is to wear them with one's jewels. There is such a variety in silk bathing and beach suits this summer that you can have two or three entirely different types in your outing wardrobe.

Pajamas are a "must have" for a vacation outfit, whether they are elaborate models that must stay on the beach or in the cabana, or the womanlike strictly tailored types that can safely receive guests in your own home or go out to call informally at an intimate friend's. They are made in tailored silk linens, silk shantungs, novelty sports silks, silk crepes.

Bathing suits with halter bodices and wrap-around skirts made of print silks in gay peasant design are also very goodlooking, and add infinitely to the picturesque beach panorama.

The craze for prints increases rather than languishes. It seems to be prints for everything and instead of growing weary of them there is that in them that intrigues more and more as the season progresses. If the entire costume be not of print then fashion offers a compromise in the way of accessories of vivid silk print. Such accents as belt, triangle scarf and bag of colorful silk print enliven many costumes.

One really successful accessory. however, that will be very much in evidence on the golf course this summer, is a belt made of braided, silk-covered, elastic cord. The belt looks like one of the corded belts so popular this season for sports wear. The rubber cord supplies the extra "give" that every sportsman seeks, and makes for maximum playing comfort.

The belts come in the leading summer colors, including black and white combination, polar bear, marine blue and plain white.

Blue Jeans Sportswear Is Popular With Young Folks

Of particular interest to young people is the blue jeans sportswear worn by many of the debutantes. With these navy blue jeans are worn shirts of every shade popular this year, with contrasting ascots and scarves. A popular headdress is the halo in various colors and materials, which keeps the hair from blowing in the eyes, and is very attractive.
