THE PIANO

Is the visible sign of culture in every gentleman's household. A fine instrument bespeaks eloquently the musical feeling, the artistic appreciation of the family, and lends a certain distinction to its environment however simple. Similarly is it true that an inferior piano cheapens the effect of the richest surroundings and hints of some stain on the owner's escutcheon of taste.

The people of the Angus community will meet at the cemetery on Saturday, May 19, for the purpose of working on the cemetery. All are invited to aid in this work. As many as can will take dinner, and spend the day on the ground.

Baseball.

On Saturday, April 28th, those interested in the great American game of baseball are requested to meet in Capitan and organize a team for the season. The proposition, so far as the NEWS has been able to learn, is to form a team out of the remnants of the teams of Capitan, Coalora, Angus and the Mesa. There are good players in all these teams, and with a little practice a team thus formed out of this material will be hard to turn down. Don't forget the date, Saturday, April 28th, and let all those interested be on hand for that occasion.

Short on Names.

Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, and some of their neighbor states have towns within them that truly are fearfully and wonderfully named. The worst of these are, for the most part, Indian names given to the places by the white brother of the aborigines. Solutions have been dreamed for some of these, and are given below. We add, in apology, that this is a dangerous type of dreaming, and may prove fatal. Perhaps in a later issue we will print more such, in memoriam.

It is commonly known that in one locality a Redskin chief was greeted, upon inquiring about each latest addition, with the disheartening words "She-boy-gan," and it seems that others of the copper hue have in similar ways left names behind them.

A cousin of the man in the paragraph before once shot a coon. On coming up to where the animal lay, he cried in triumph "O coon, no mo' walk." Anyone familiar with Wisconsin can probably tell where the event took place.

On the west shore of Lake Michigan there stood an old grist mill. The owner decided to move the structure, as it was wooden, and for the purpose used a cable and pulley. His horses, attached to the free end, were hidden from view by a clump of trees. A young buck rode by at a little distance. After watching the building, which was set upon big rollers, he suddenly exclaimed in awed tones "Huh, mill waukee." The site of the grist mill has since been occupied by a brewery.—U. N. M. Weekly.

Proposed Railroad.

A company has been formed at Roswell that has for its purpose the construction of a road from that place to Tularosa, connecting with the Southwestern at the latter place. The proposed route is up the Hondo to the junction of the Ruidoso and the Bonito, thence up the former stream and across the divide to Tularosa. What is in the proposition, as far as the real actions of the company are concerned, we are unable to say, but that the route is a feasible one and that it will also become profitable no one will deny. The building of such a road will prove of inestimable value to this section of the country, and open up a portion that is rich in agricultural, mining and stock.

Public Notice.

Bids will be received and the same may be filed with the Probate Clerk, to do the County Printing for one year, commencing May 16th, 1906.

The bids so filed will be opened and passed upon by the Board, on the 16th day of May, 1906, at the office of the Probate Clerk at Lincoln.

This is a true copy.
Attest: S. C. Wiener,
W. E. Kimbrell, Chairman,
Clerk.

Holiness Camp-Meeting.

A Holiness camp-meeting—an old-time brush arbor camp-meeting—will be held at the big lake, three miles southeast of Nogal, Lincoln county, New Mexico, for the conversion of sinners and the sanctification of believers; to run on the second blessing lines.

Will begin Friday night before the first Sunday in August, 1906. The meeting is to be conducted by a community of five. Everybody is invited to come and take part in this meeting, which is to continue for an indefinite period.

Respectfully,
O. P. HUMPHREY,
JOHN H. SKINNER,

Forest Service Examinations.

The Forester of the U. S. Forest Service announces that on May 10th, examinations will be held for the position of forest ranger on forest reserves, at the following places: Silver City, Magdalena, Cloudcroft and Santa Fe.

On May 14th examinations will be held for the position of Forest Supervisor of forest reserves in all large cities.

Applicants for either of these positions announced must apply to the U. S. Civil Service Commission for the necessary blanks.

JOHN KERR,
Ranger in Charge, Lincoln Forest Reserve.

G. L. Bradford's family, accompanied by Geo. Smith and family, will leave soon for Dawson.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs anniversary ball will be given at school house instead of the Oddfellows' hall, as heretofore announced. Remember the date: Thursday night, May 26th.

J. G. Riggle is receipt of an acknowledgement from the post-office department to the effect that his bids on the Lincoln and Ruidoso routes have been accepted and his bonds for the same approved. He will take charge of these mail lines July 1st.

THE CAPITAN NEWS

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

In many respects Santo Domingo is a delightful country. Its only serious defect is the quality of its inhabitants.

Before marriage a girl talks about how often her betrothed writes. Afterward she talks about woman's rights.

In St. Paul it has been decided that a kiss is not a caress but an assault. It shows what a bracing winter climate will do.

Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, gave his cook, Lena, $5,000 for a Christmas present. Mr. Schiff's cook will stay.

After this the United States Steel corporation should insist that its president's pay envelope be sent straight home to his wife.

The battleship New Jersey is to be launched in the spring. Of course everybody knows what she'll be "christened" with.

A New York dentist who shot his father-in-law has been held for murder. It does not pay the dentist to use lead for a filling.

Old 1905 must have been glad to go. He had aged fearfully from mental worry over strikes, revolutions, and insurance scandals.

One of Mr. Carnegie's Christmas gifts was $1,250 to a Methodist church in Catawissa, Penn., for a new organ. That beats Russell Sage.

It has been nearly a century since a Russian czar said to an English diplomat, "There is a sick man in Europe," and Turkey is still alive.

President Eliot complains that the average barber makes as much as the average school teacher. Yes, but think what a mine of information he is.

As Santo Domingo always keeps a large surplus supply of presidents on hand the disappearance of one now and then cannot make much difference.

Mrs. Leslie Carter has with her on her tour this winter an automobile, chauffeur, man servant, footman, a Chinese chef and three maids. Also her press agent.

Prof. O'Brien lost his pocketbook and diamond stud to a Philadelphia pickpocket. This may soften just a trifle the bitterness of Prof. Fitzsimmons' melancholy.

Mme. Nordica bravely stopped a fire on the stage by putting her foot on it, but the question whether she would have stopped a mouse in the same way is undecided.

A Minnesota woodchopper found pearls in an abandoned bird's nest. This is probably the only case on record where a last year's bird's nest ever panned out anything.

It is announced that 2,000 new biographies will be added to the next edition of "Who's Who in America." The important people of the United States are being rapidly discovered.

Those brewery workers in Cincinnati who preferred a nine-hour day with free beer to an eight-hour day without probably figure to use the extra hour up getting their beer.

Twenty-two coal dealers in Cincinnati have been indicted for a conspiracy to raise prices. What would their sentence be, in case of conviction, if it were left to popular vote?

PROGRESS MADE IN CHINA

"When a little company of the foreign women living in Shanghai formed themselves into the Tien Tsu Hui (Natural-Foot society), they were greeted with derision by everybody," writes Mrs. Archibald Little. "But they gave and collected little sums of money, gave prizes for essays, selected tracts and had them printed, and themselves circulated them throughout the length and breadth of the vast empire—as big as Europe. When Chinese men in their tens of thousands assembled for their annual or triennial examinations little assortments of these tracts were given to each competitor to take back to his native village. At last the dowager empress issued an imperial edict. Then one, by one, the great Chinese viceroys issued proclamations against binding generally in response to an interview or a letter from the organizing secretary of the Natural-Foot society.

"And now, by last post, a letter from the far west of China says: 'China is changing in a rapid way; unbound feet is the order of the day for little girls now; foreign style of clothes for boys, and drill everywhere.' While from Shanghai comes the most delightful report of the most encouraging side of the movement. The rich Shanghai officials have started a Tien Tsu Hui girls' school for the girls of good family who have either not bound their feet or have unbound them, with the hope that the girls there educated may eventually become teachers in other schools all over China.

"Although only just started, eighty young ladies are already boarding at this school, and when it finished its term the place was packed, chiefly with Chinese gentlemen, to see the results. The granddaughter of the highest official in Shanghai recited 'Mary Had a Little Lamb,' with great distinctness; a party of little girls sung in chorus, 'Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.' Then all sang a Chinese anti foot-binding song, and there were short piano solos. A feature of the afternoon was a vigorous speech by Mrs. Wang, the greatest lady scholar China boasts. Then all the scholars showed what progress they had made in physical drill.

"Thus the unbinding of the feet of the girls of China is gradually developing into a movement for their higher education. And when the 200,000,000 women of China are set upon their feet again, qualified to learn to sew, to wash, to clean their houses and their children, as well as to learn the elegant accomplishments of English and music, we may look for an improvement in the whole Chinese race."

STORIES OF THE UNCANNY

Norwegians are much concerned over a strange incident of the festivities which welcomed King Haakon to Christiania. A newspaper thus describes it: "At the very time when the royal procession had to pass the ancient fortress of Akerhus there was assembled there a great number of spectators, mostly military, in order to see the new king drive past. While the spectators were waiting to see the king in great excitement a jingling sound was heard and suddenly the crowned statue of King Oscar fell to the ground. At the same moment the crown fell off and was crushed in the fall. For a moment everyone present felt a little uncomfortable on witnessing this incident; but it was immediately forgotten in watching the royal procession. A few days later some members of the same company were assembled in another part of the town in the house of one of the leaders of the government. The conversation turned on the strange incident of the statue. In the midst of the conversation a scraping sound was heard and the portrait of King Oscar glided down from the wall and fell to the ground."

A singular dream is related in a well-known British magazine. A woman suffering from anxiety caused by reduced circumstances dreamed that she went to church. "The people began to go out one by one. I looked around and inquired why they were leaving the church. They said: 'To look for the magic bird in the churchyard.' I thought I would try and find it, went out and swept away the fallen leaves and found a speckled thrush and as soon as I took it up it dropped £1 ($5) in my hand. The next morning I went into our back garden and there among the fallen leaves was the speckled thrush, which had just been killed by a cat. It was yet warm. I said: 'Here is the magic bird and the money I know will come by post.' The hope was justified, for £1 came in the morning and a check from a friend in the evening."

A ghost story from the sea: Early in the morning of July 10 the steamer Ettrickdale, when off the Boompjes light, on the north coast of Java, collided with an Indian bark. One of the Ettrickdale's firemen, a Greek, jumped overboard and was eaten by sharks. The steamer afterward proceeded on her way and for a portion of her voyage was haunted, the crew declare, by the ghost of the Greek.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SAKHALIN

Sakhalin is a Chinese word meaning black, and is the first word in the Chinese description of the northern half of the island, as "cliffs or rocks at the mouth of the black river." The island has by no means such a damp, foggy and miserable climate as is generally supposed. A writer says: "Not only does the visitor to the island in summer experience some of the finest weather he could wish for, but the official meteorological records show the same for past years. In August and September the days are often very hot, though at night the temperature falls to nearly freezing point; but it is not till October that the first snow appears on the hill-tops and the winter begins with its dry, healthy cold, like that of Canada, lasting till the following April or May. The island is about 600 miles long and sixteen to 100 miles wide, giving an area approximately equal to that of Greece. A mountainous ridge runs along the island for the whole of its length, flanked by low sandstone hills to the east and west, but of greater extent on the east.

"On the western, the warmer side," the same writer continues, "the forest stretches down to the sea, but on the eastern, as one approaches the Okhotsk sea, whence comes cold, piercing winds, the 'taiga' (Siberian virgin forest) gives place to hills covered with white reindeer moss and but few trees, or to broad stretches of tundra near the river mouths. Both hills and valleys in the interior are, for the most part, clad with dense pine forest, three-quarters of the island being so covered. The flora shows a strange admixture of polar and subtropical species, the latter being more especially in evidence in the southwest of the island, where the vegetation and scenery resemble that of northern Japan.

"To the north the forests are composed chiefly of larch, pine, birch and other north temperate or polar species, with wild raspberry, bog-myrtle and other undergrowth. On the coasts, on the broad stretches of Siberian tundra, occur various small polar plants. To the south are maple, oak, ash, bamboo, cork tree and other subtropical trees or shrubs. The fauna shows a similar variety."

Plans for Model Town.

A model town which will be built by the Illinois Steel Company in connection with its new plant to be constructed near Buffington, Indiana, will be named Corey, in honor of W. Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, the parent concern.

The town is to be built on the lines of the most advanced and scientific ideas of municipal reform. It will contain, beside model workmen's dwellings, public baths, laundries, kitchens and other municipal enterprises, and will have a theater and a large assembly hall for meetings of every description. The new plant will cost ultimately $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 and will require ten years for its building. There will be twenty-seven blast furnaces and fifty open hearth furnaces, making it the largest steel plant in the world.

More than 12,000 men will be employed in the plant.

Japanese Baseball Players.

San Francisco has six baseball teams made up of Japanese, all of whom are well equipped with uniforms sary to the playing of the great American game in the most up-to-date style. The Orientals declare that they like the game very much indeed, and they readily become proficient players. Baseball is making a big hit in Japan and the sport may become as popular in the realm of the Mikado as it is in America.

Before raising the dust with an automobile it is usually necessary to raise the dust for one.

W. A. GARDNER AGAIN PROMOTED

General Manager of the Northwestern Is Made a Vice-President.

Announcement has been made today of the promotion of General Manager William A. Gardner of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad to be a vice-president of the road. This is another chapter in the steady rise of Mr. Gardner since he first entered the service of that road in 1878 as a telegrapher.

Other changes have been made among the vice-presidents of the road, who are now four in number, and each has charge of a certain department of the administration of the road's affairs. According to the slate posted they are as follows: Hiram R. McCullough, in charge of freight passenger traffic; William A. Gardner, in charge of the operation and maintenance of the railway of the company and of its proprietary railways; Marshall M. Kirkman, in charge of receipts and disbursements, and John M. Whitman, in charge of location and construction of new lines.

William A. Gardner was born in Gardner, Ill., March 8, 1859. Since 1878 he has held many positions with the road, until Dec. 1, 1900, when he was appointed general manager. He is a director of the Western Trust and Savings bank, a republican in politics and a member of the Union League, the Chicago Athletic, Evanston Country, Evanston, Glen View, and Hamilton clubs.

GREETING TO THE NEW YEAR.

Scotchmen Gather Annually In St. Paul's Churchyard, London.

"The sad old churchyard of St. Paul's in London is quiet and deserted save for one night in the year," said an Englishman. "That night is New Year's eve. Then all the Scotch in London fill the place.

"Since Dr. Johnson's time the Scotch residents of London have seen the New Year in together in St. Paul's churchyard. They begin to assemble at 9 o'clock and soon the yard is filled with Tam O'Shanters, plaids, bare knees and bagpipes.

"Scotch whisky is drunk freely as a safeguard against the cold, moist air. There are a lot of 'Hechs' and 'Hoot mōns' to be heard. The bagpipes squeal and squeak till you think yourself in the pork department of a slaughter house.

"Then suddenly everything is hushed. The Scotch clasp hands in a great circle. The twelve strokes of midnight boom out solemnly.

"They die upon the air and in a tremendous chorus the Scotch sing 'Auld Lang Syne.' They sing it with feeling. Tears fill their eyes as they think of home.

"Then the medicinal whisky passes about once more, there is a highland dance or two, hearty good nights and soon enough the churchyard is empty and silent again."

Lemnos "Sealed Earth."

Lemnos, the latest island of the Aegian upon which the international squadron has descended, will no doubt offer a warm welcome to the invaders, for it is to her shores that the Sultan sends his political enemies—in order that they may be cured of their distemper. There was a time, indeed, when the island enjoyed a high reputation for the cure of many distempers other than political. The Lemnian earth, or "sealed earth," was famous during the Middle Ages as a panacea for snake-bite, plague, and dysentery. But the earth had no virtue unless collected on Aug. 6, with due religious ceremonial, and from a particular spot near the ruins of Hephaestia. Of recent days, however, all the virtue has vanished from the "sealed earth," and only the most ancient of the Grecian matrons are foolish enough to load their barrows with the despised medicine. The natives—25,000 of them are Greeks and 5,000 Turks—have discovered that corn, wine, and tobacco are now in greater request, and they may be depended upon to meet the demands of the British marine.—London Chronicle.

The Wanderer.

No home is mine in the North or South.
Roofless! No where to rest;
No house to shut out the careless winds;
I am tossed on the billow's crest.

No name have I in all the world;
No place in the halls of fame;
No friend to encourage a halting step,
None either to praise or to blame.

Calmly climbing the steep ascent
Of life, to the Valley of Age,
Awearied! The lesson is hard and long,
Yet it covers a single page.

Why do I learn each line? Why not Pass over the dark words of gloom?
Aye! There's a voice that whispers of life
Beyond the struggles, and tears, and tomb.

"You are safe and warm and watched with care."
Comes the whisper from above;
"You are shielded from the lonely winds and the sun—
Sheltered in God's Great Love."
—Reba Fay, in New Orleans Picayune.

The Point of View.

Cheer up.
What right have you to carry a funeral in your face? The world has troubles of its own.

Cheer up and change your point of view. Your ills are mostly imaginery. Why, man alive! in five minutes' walk you can find scores of people worse off than you. And here you are going through the world feeling sorry for yourself—the meanest sort of pity in the world. You are nursing an ingrown illusion. Rid yourself of the bogie man and—
Cheer up.—Omaha News.

Injunction Would Be Useless.

"From time immemorial men have tried to restrain woman's tongue and have failed."

Giving assent to this observation of counsel representing Mrs. Catherine A. Abbott of No. 135 Bloomfield street, Hoboken, Vice Chancellor Stevenson of Jersey City declined to grant to her husband, William M. Abbott, an order restraining her from visiting his office and the steamship piers, and, in loud voice, demanding money. Abbott is employed as a ticket agent by the Pennsylvania railroad. He alleges that because of his wife's conduct, he had been warned by the railroad officials that he would be dismissed if he did not keep her away.

Mrs. Newbride—Isn't that flour light weight? Grocer—Certainly, ma'am, otherwise your bread would be heavy.

Good roads cannot be secured all at once. It is first necessary to pave the way.

Just because a man is all right today it isn't safe to bet that he will not be all wrong to-morrow.

COMING POLITICAL FIGHT.

The most important political fight in the history of the territory is beginning to materialize, and as the season advances the the fight will wax warmer. The contest is between Governor Hagerman and the regular republican organization.

The republican organization contains the names of such fighters and politicians as Bursum, Prichard, Baca and Reynolds, who have behind them the rank and file of the party. The governor, it is true, has his supporters, but they are mainly drawn from the democratic party, and they can render but little assistance to the executive.

This split in the republican ranks was brought about by the impolitic action of the governor in disregarding the republican organization, and in many instances filling the territorial positions with outsiders, all of whom are opposed to the organization and some of whom were not residents of the territory.

In this fight, one in which we can view with perfect equanimity, the organization seems to have just cause for complaint, and they also appear to hold the upper hand.

The main contest will come in the selection of members of the territorial legislature, particularly the councilmanic branch, and the delegate to congress. A pretty fight is on and will be watched with growing interest.

Mount Vesuvius has been active the past two weeks, and an incalculable amount of destruction followed its eruption. A dozen towns within a radius of as many miles have practically been overwhelmed by lava and ashes, thousands of people are homeless while hundreds were buried under the ruins of the various towns. The city of Naples, itself, was a great sufferer, though quite distantly removed from the crater of Vesuvius. This volcano is situated in one of the most populous districts of Italy, and has been active at various times since the dawn of history; but the most noted was in 79,

San Francisco in Ruins.

A disastrous earthquake shock visited the city of San Francisco on the morning of the 18th, destroying, or injuring, a large portion of the buildings in the city, and causing the death of hundreds of people, variously estimated at from 1,000 to 20,000. The property loss may reach $100,000,000.

Fire followed the shock, and the flames threaten to complete the destruction of the city. The city is under martial law, and all dynamite has been commanded to use in blowing up buildings to check the spreading flames.

The shock was widespread, extending over the entire state of Nevada, and as far east as Ogden, Utah.

Barbed Wire for sale at Welch & Titsworth's.

J. W. Stephenson was in from Alto Wednesday.

John Kerr, ranger in charge of the Lincoln forest reserve, went to El Paso Monday, and will return tomorrow.

Salt your stock now. Stock salt $1.00 for 200 lbs sack. Peter's store.

Apparently we are to have another season like last year. A number of good rains have fallen and showers are almost a daily occurrence.

W. H. Walker has closed out his stock of cattle, Messrs. Reily and Johnson being the buyers, and is making preparations to move to Texas.

Stetson hats, Welch & Titsworth.

F. E. Dandurand, of Marshal, Minnesota, accompanied by his brother-in-law, C. H. Brasseur, of Shawnee, Oklahoma, came in last week, and will locate in this county. Mr. Dandurand has purchased, or is on a deal to purchase, the ranch of George A. Hunt, on the north side of the Capitans.

Star Brand Shoes are the best. They cost no more than the other kind: for sale by Welch & Titsworth.

Fleet Vernon and Johnnie Williamson left Sunday for Roswell.

Meadow Gold butter at Welch & Titsworth.

Mrs. P. G. Peters returned to El Paso on yesterday's train, to join the children. P. G. remains in Capitan.

F. M. Crockett and wife were over from Bonito Monday to meet their daughter, Mrs. Sears Crockett, who, however, failed to arrive on that day's train.

An almost new high grade piano with pianola attachment to be sold at 50 per cent of its original cost. For particulars apply to this office.

S. T. Gray and Col. Jewett started to Roswell yesterday. They go on business connected with the New Mexico Iron Mining Co., in which they hold a large interest.

C. H. Pittman, associated with Jno. L. Wiggins and others on the Bonito, left on yesterday's train for his home in Enid, Oklahoma. Mr. Pittman's company has cleared up its back indebtedness and starts out with a clean sheet. This company expects to do considerable development work this summer, mining and otherwise, which will help matters along wonderfully.

Salt your stock. Stock salt $1.00 for 200 lbs sack. Peter's store.

W. H. B. Kent, who has been here the past month, left Monday for Arizona, where he will resume his duties in the forest service.

The News has been authorized to say to those interested in the race that is scheduled to take place here on Saturday, May 5th, that the tracks are yet to be made and considerable work will be necessary to put them in condition. It has been proposed that each man entering a horse shall prepare his own track, and thus be responsible for the conditions of the same.

Wanted.—Hides, sheep pelts goat skins, etc. Highest market price paid by Welch & Titsworth.

William A. Dusenbury, an old college chum of George A. Chamberlain, stopped with the latter a few days this week. Mr. Dusenbury is serving his second term as mayor of Portville, New York, is a member of a wealthy banking firm in his town, and is going to California to take up some options on timber lands, held by himself and associates. He left Thursday, Mr. Chamberlain accompanying him as far as El Paso.

George Barrett and wife and Young Barrett and family have moved in from the Bonito, and are now residents of Capitan.

John W. Barrett has moved his shop and office to the southwest corner building on this block. Mr. Barrett expects soon to have some musical instruments and musical supplies on hand, and will be glad to have his friends call on him at his new stand. Note his "ad" in this issue.

Sheriff Owen was, and is, around this week serving the venires for the spring term of court for Lincoln county. If, when the sheriff has completed the service, we are furnished with the list the News will publish the names of the jurors.

Salt your stock now. Stock salt $1.00 for 200 lbs. sack. Peter's store.

Grand Chancellor of Knights of Pythias Julius Uhlfelder, of Elizabethtown, New Mexico, visited Myrtle Lodge No. 19, this week, on his annual visit to subordinate lodges. The members met the Grand Chancellor at the Castle Hall Monday night, lunch was spread, following an interesting talk by the Grand Chancellor. Mr. Uhlfelder left for White Oaks the next morning to meet the members of Baxter No. 9.

A COSTA RICAN VOLCANO

On the island of Costa Rico is the remarkable volcano of Poas. The crater has an altitude of about 8,500 feet. The traveler who makes the ascent, on reaching the lip of the crater, finds himself at the brink of a vast perpendicular-sided pit, at the bottom of which lies a motionless pool of yellowish water. The sense of deadly stillness and desolation is undisturbed by the indication of life. The almost vertical walls are devoid of even a vestige of plant creation; not a bird wings its way through the air; the surface of the pool is without a ripple, and even the human voice sounds strange and incongruous. Suddenly the silence is broken by a great and startling underground rumbling, and a huge column of a dark-colored liquid is thrown to a vast height from a spot near the center of the lake. The column ordinarily rises to a height varying from 250 to 500 feet. Almost instantly a vast cloud of vapor is evolved which surrounds the column and rises to an immense height.

A thousand feet below the lip is the lake or pool, along the shores of which it is necessary to move about with care because of numerous concealed holes filled with a slimy substance, consisting mainly of sulphate of lime with a large excess of sulphuric acid. This hardens in a few moments when exposed to the air, and consequently the pits are covered with slight shells that render it almost impossible to distinguish between them and solid ground. If a foot goes through this thin crust it will be found that in a few days the shoe will be destroyed, as the seams cannot resist the acid action. The lake at closer view is discovered to be covered with clouds of vapor and it is impossible to see for any distance. Among other gases, sulphur dioxide is present in considerable quantities, and at times the smell becomes almost unbearable.

At close range the water is grayish in color, and it is so acid that it almost burns the tongue when tasted. Any dark cloth moistened with the liquid instantly becomes red and is ultimately destroyed. The temperature at the shore, while varying considerably, ranged around 115 degrees Fahrenheit. During one of the greatest eruptions known a tremendous column of dark liquid rose to an estimated height of 2,000 feet and was about 300 feet in diameter. The waves produced on the lake by such an outburst are formidable, and long after the eruption has ceased the whole crater is filled with the roar of the troubled waters.

TOWN LIFE THREATENS RACE

As president of the Sanitary Inspectors' association, Sir James Crichton-Browne, in the course of his address to the London conference at Carpenter's hall, launched a telling indictment against life in towns and cities as compared with the country.

"The city," he said, "is an instrument of physical, intellectual and moral degradation, which is sucking the crude vigor and vitality of the country, sophisticating and enfeebling them by its vigorous competition, and ultimately turning them into inefficiency. It seems obvious that if the city goes on growing at the nineteenth century rate and under the nineteenth century conditions, it will dry up the reservoirs of strength in the population and leave an immense proletariat of inferior quality and without commanders."

One of the most hopeful signs of the times was, in his opinion, the popular interest that is now manifested in health questions, and to garden cities he looked for the partial solution of the problem of overcrowding. But in referring to the enormous increase in the demand for oxygen and the output of carbonic acid, he made the alarming prophecy that the day might come when "we shall be entirely dependent on imported oxygen as well as imported food, and will have to trust to the ocean to dispose of our carbonic acid."

He cried for a liberal scheme of natural ventilation, and advocated in connection with all great cities a series of broad avenues converging toward them from all points of the compass, free from buildings and covered with vegetation. But the country was the proper breeding ground of intellect, and children should be brought into living contact with nature, so that they might form friendships with trees and animals, and be able to pry into the secrets of insects and birds, and be taught to take more pleasure in the hedgerows with their profuse wealth of unmarketable beauty than in the shop windows with their flaunting temptations.

For these reasons he declared that for children living in London or other populous cities the seaside town, with the "vulgar riot of the sands," was not the place in which their vacations could be most healthfully or profitably spent.—London Express.

QUEER SIGNS IN TOKYO

"A Japanese is usually so happy and proud over an English sign that he never questions its correctness," writes a Tokio correspondent. "Sometimes when he has it right the painter improves upon it, as witness: 'Hairdressed.' Note the period after the word 'Haird.' And again: 'Boot Maeker.' Sometimes the painter, with a view of showing off, inserts figures instead of letters, thus over an archery "shooting gallery": 'Lar8e Bowins.' Again, the letters are all there, but wonderfully mixed. Over an ice store: 'Eci.' Sometimes the signs are hopelessly misspelled. 'H. Taken-da, Karare and Kufus.' This sign puzzled me not a little till I looked in the dealer's window and saw he was a maker of collars and cuffs. A haberdasher advertises the fact that he sells 'The Adorning Goods.'

"In Azabuku district a Japanese owner of a dog kennel is the proud possessor of a lantern on which is written: 'Great Japanese Sporting Dogs and Co.' Within the small enclosure stands a cage containing the forlorn, flea-bitten dog, and a sign over the cage announces that the occupant is a 'Pointer setter spaniel Dog.' The owner has other dogs, one of which is a 'Dog for the Chase.' Another dog is labeled 'Dog for the Pet,' and all about are placards warning one to 'Give no Food.'

"A sign that would be more suitable over a restaurant or somebody's health food, stands over a tailor shop: 'Ladies and Gentlemen's Outfatter.' Mr. Z. Iuokuchi of Tokio is a plumber and his sign reads: 'Z. Iuokuchi, well known for being honest and cheap.' 'Iron, coal and Other Precious Metals' leads one to wonder what other 'precious metals' the dealer sells. 'Claret put up by Bordeaux & Co., France' and 'Florida Water from Florida,' are inspirations.

"A dealer in milk has 'Fluish Milk.' Does he mean bluish milk? If so, why advertise it? I was sorely tempted to order some clothes from the man who possesses this gem: 'Doljiro Ota Taiter. Noble Style.' A shop I would avoid has 'Cheerful Berber,' while another's sign reads: 'Earber and Kindness Shop.' Mr. T. Tauikawa announces that he is 'High Washman.'"

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor.

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in one of the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

MINISTER TO MODERN VANITY.

The Looking-glass, and How It Looks to Men and Women.

It is not always for the mere gratification of personal vanity that we should attentively study our mirrors, says the London Chronicle. Socrates advised all young people to look often in their looking-glass to ascertain if they were good-looking—that if they were so they might strive to make their mental attainments correspond, and if they were not, then they might endeavor by the superior accomplishments of their minds to make up for their personal shortcomings.

This is excellent advice for vanity-possessed moderns, but it is improbable that the high mental attitude of Socrates is appreciated by them. How the elaborate toilets of to-day could be accomplished without the aid of the mirror it is impossible to imagine. It is popularly supposed that the mirror is the woman's pet possession, but man is by no means averse to contemplating his manly charms as reflected therein. A woman frankly confesses her interest in the alluring combination of glass and quicksilver, but the man, while voicing his scorn, proves his superior vanity by his concealed and secretive study of it. He jeers at his wife's cheval glass, but was anything more entirely provocative of human vanity ever invented than the many-sided shaving glass?

Slowest Train in the World.

Georges Irade, writing in the French Journal Les Sports, claims that after a long and conscientious search he has run to earth the slowest ordinary passenger train in the world. This record-holder is chronicled on page 773 of the Guide Chaix and performs in Spain, a country in which twelve miles an hour is by no means an uncommon rate of speed on the railway between Soto de Rey and Clano Santa Ana. This line is thirteen and three-quarters miles long and it has one station en route, viz., Sama, which is twelve miles from Soto de Rey and one and three-quarters miles from Clano Santa Ana. Leaving the last named place at 6:25 a. m., the train reaches Sama at 6:55 and Soto de Rey at 8:20. Thus the average rate of speed of the train is under seven miles an hour, while from Clano Santa Ana to Sama the speed is only three and three-quarters miles an hour.—Railway Age.

Wanted Irving to Parade.

Bram Stoker, who for many years was connected with the management of the late Sir Henry Irving, tells of an incident which occurred during the player's tour of the middle west. It appears that Irving in order to break a "long jump" from here to another city was desirous of securing for one night the theater of a town in Indiana. Accordingly Stoker wired the individual who was both proprietor and manager of the playhouse in question requesting that Sir Henry be given a night's engagement. In a short while Mr. Stoker received the following: "Does Irving parade?" When shown this the distinguished Briton was much amused. He directed Stoker to reply that "Irving was a tragedian, not a minstrel." The further reply came: "Don't want Irving unless he parades."

Women Workers in Japan.

I have encountered another novelty in Japan—tea and toast in my room at 5 p. m. and dinner at 7:30 o'clock. The chambermaids at the hotel are all men. I haven't seen a woman about the place.

The women are probably out gathering rice and wading in mud up to their knees. The women are not only ornamental here; they are useful as well. American women who visit Japan are apt to attract so little attention that they will feel insulted. Our American notion that a woman is an angel is unknown here.—Atchison Globe.

CERTIFICATE OF PURITY

This is to Certify that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, is purely vegetable and does not contain any calomel, mercury, creosote, morphine, opium, strychnine, cocaine, nitrate potash (salt-petre), bromide potassium, narcotic alkaloid, whiskey, wine or any harmful or habit producing drugs.
