LINCOLN AND COLONIZATION.
An Interesting and Timely Contribution to History.

From the New York Nation,
The Southern people may not be very wise at this time in suggesting the plan of colonizing the colored people as a solution of the race question, but in doing so they are only carrying out Mr Lincoln's favorite idea. He did not believe that the two races could get on in a condition of freedom. It is to be hoped that he was wrong in this conviction, but it is honestly held, and the southern people are just as honest in holding it as he was. He pressed the colonization of the colored people in his annual messages to Congress in December, 1861, and December 1862; in his message of April, 1862, approving the bill for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia; in his appeal to the border States in July, 1862; and in his Emancipation Proclamation of September, 1862. Congress responded to his views by provisions for colonization in the acts of April 16, 1862, the section passing in the Senate by a vote of 27 to 10, as a part of the bill abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia; the act of June 7, 1862, for the collection of taxes in insurrectionary districts; and the acts of July 16 and 17, 1862, in relation to confiscation.

The State Department at Mr. Lincoln's instance, instructed our ministers to promote it with foreign governments having tropical dependencies, as England, France, Holland and Denmark (Seward to Adams, September 30, 1862; Adams to Seward, October 30, 1862; Seward to Adams, November 18, 1862; but Earl Russell declined to co-operate in the scheme. Mr. Lincoln directed, September 12, 1862, the Secretary of the Interior to procure information as to the best places for the colored people to be sent to, and central America and the province of Chiriqu in New Granada were favored as points for colonization. Mr. Lincoln persuaded Senator Pomeroy, of Kansas, who had opposed the scheme in the Senate, to assist in its execution, and the Ile-a-Vache, a Haytian possession, was finally selected as the place.

Mr. Lincoln, with his own signature—an exceptional act for a President and showing his extraordinary interest (Senator Doolittle, a subscribing with $8)—entered, December 31, 1862, into a contract with one Bernard Koogler, of New Orleans, to ship 5000 negroes to that Island, but this contract being rescinded, another contract was made April 6, 1863, with Paul S

Forbes and Charles K. Tuckerman, of New York. A ship load of 453 colonists, gathered mostly about Fortress Monroe, sailed April 13 to the island, and arrived May 3. They had a sad time of it, and, being thinned by disease, death and desertion, those who were left—about 300—were brought back by our Government, and reached Washington March 18, 1864. The firm of Forbes & Tuckerman lost money by the venture, and Tuckerman received the Mission to Greece as a compensation.

So ended the attempt, backed by the Government, to solve the great problem according to the plan on which Mr. Lincoln had set his heart.

Roscoe Conkling's Love.

The recent publication of "The Life of Roscoe Conkling" reminds me of an interesting and romantic story told me by the editor of a prominent New York state journal, who was a close friend of Senator Conkling, and which has never been published. The editor was sitting late at night with Mr. Conkling, after the latter had delivered one of his grandest speeches during an exciting campaign. They sat for some time in silence before a brightly glowing fire into which Conkling gazed intently. At last he spoke upon the theme of all themes—love. He spoke with the same eloquence and brilliancy that had distinguished his effort of the evening.

"In my boyhood," he said, "I fell in love. In love with an ideal—in love with that glorious character, Mary Queen of Scots. What a woman! What grace, what beauty, what magnetism, what power; I have loved her all my life.

The editor listened to his rhapsody and thought it a graceful fancy of a great man.

"I should never again have thought of it," said he in concluding the story, "had it not been for the circumstance of a few months later. I was calling upon a beautiful and famous woman, whose name had for many years been associated with that of Senator Conkling. As I rose to go I passed the mantle and a handsomely framed cabinet-sized photograph caught my eye, I bent my head and saw that it was the picture of the lady upon whom I was calling, taken in the costume of Mary Queen of Scots."

The greatest tunnel in the world is the new aqueduct which has been built to convey the waters of Croton Lake to New York, and which will be completed by mid-summer. It is thirty-three and one-eighth miles long.

Gold Refining.

The process employed in refining gold at the Australian Mints, according to the London Mining Journal, is different to that resorted to at the home British Mint. It seems in Australia that when gold is melted in the crucibles, which are first heated to a dead red, borax is placed upon the metal in a melted state, then chlorine gas is passed through a pipe, which is gradually depressed until it reaches the bottom, and when the compressor is relaxed, so that the gas bubbles up through the gold in its molten state, but without causing the projection of any globules. Hydrochloric acid from time to time is also introduced into the generator, and by this means a rapid evolution of chlorine is kept up. When the gas first passes into the gold, fumes escape from the holes in the crucibles. These consist only of the chlorides of inferior metals that are attached to the valuable ones, none of the chloride of silver escaping. When any silver remains in the gold nearly the whole of the chlorine continues to be absorbed; afterwards when the refining is near completion fumes of a darker color make their appearance, and the end of the operation is indicated by the flame or luminous vapour appearing first of a bright yellow color, and gradually growing into a deep, reddish brown. The value of chlorine in gold refining is certainly not a novelty, but it is claimed that it has not before been put into practical use, though its action on gold has been no secret to chemists, for it does not mix with it at a red heat.—F. and M. Record.

Murdered His Friend in a Dream.

A curious theory of murder has prevailed with the governor of Kentucky in obtaining the pardon of W. B. Tompkins, sentenced to prison for life in 1887 for the murder of Samuel Purdy. The two men were fast friends and had roomed together for several years. Cries were heard from their room one night and Tompkins was found standing in the middle of the room gasping for breath, while Purdy lay murdered on the bed. Tompkins gasped: "He's gone out the door," but the door was closed and no trace of any one was discovered. In a corner of the room was a poker covered with blood and hair. According to Tompkins he had been aroused by some one striking across him at Purdy, who lay at the back side of the bed, and had seized the assailant, who had broken away. Purdy's money, $300, was untouched, and Tompkins vehemently protested his innocence to the last. The prosecuting attorney and the judge who had tried the case now believe that he killed his friend in a dream, and upon this novel theory has been released.—Chicago Herald.

As will be seen by the interview with Eugene Fiske, United States attorney for New Mexico, recently in the Opic, the prospect for the appointment of Mr. Preston, of Santa Fe, to the position of chief justice has so materially diminished that the gentleman may now be considered as an eliminated factor. The probabilities are that Mr. Harrison will have to fall back on his reserve supply in Indiana.

Denver, Feb. 8.—On January 23, while walking along one of the principal streets, Miss Neely Ryan, formerly of Minneapolis, was shot and instantly killed. Since then the police force and detectives have been scouring the city and state to find a trace of the murderer, who was believed to be R. L. Scott, a young man who at one time worked in the same establishment with Miss Ryan, and who was intimate with her. Some railroad laborers yesterday, discovered the remains of a man laying in a deep canyon ten miles south of Pueblo, with two bullet holes through his head and a revolver by his side. The remains were identified as those of R. L. Scott.

Judge Reel is possessed of executive ability and clear business foresight seldom equaled, and never excelled. He has held a number of important positions, official and otherwise throughout the territory, and it is a safe assertion that there is no man in San Pedro more highly esteemed by the people or more deserving of it.—Golden Nine.

Goodman, Ziegler & Co, have done excellently well by coming to San Pedro. The success of the firm has given them an enviable standing in the commercial world, and their large business enable them to buy in large quantities from first hands, for which they pay cash, thus cutting out the profit of the middleman and enabling them to sell the best quality of goods at the lowest price, and to give to every customer the benefit of their superior business methods.—Golden Nine.

The accumulation of 35 years of Edward Price, of St Joseph Mo., is the strange device written on a valise of a guest of the Timmer House. It is the history of a life in a few brief words. It would be a mighty mean man who steals that grip

Among the many uses of common salt may be mentioned two which admit of frequent application. Salt put in water which surrounds the ordinary glue-pot causes a hotter glue to be obtained than when simple water is used. Salt in the water where mason work is being done in cold weather prevents disintegration by frost.—F. and M. Record.

Ben Small, of El Paso, Texas, will send you samples of Wall paper on application.

The Electoral College.

The New York Sun has an article on representation in congress and the electoral college under the census to be taken this year. It makes 175,000 inhabitants as a basis for representation in the national house of representatives, and gives the following conclusions.

The states to gain presidential electors will be: Alabama 2 Arkansas 2, California 1, Colorado 1, Georgia 2, Indiana 1, Iowa 1, Kansas 2, Kentucky 1, Louisiana 1, Maryland 1, Minnesota 3, Mississippi 1, Missouri 4, Nebraska 3, New Jersey 1, New York 1, North Carolina 2, Ohio 2, Pennsylvania 1, Texas 2, Wisconsin 1. The four new states will probably have 14 electoral votes, distributed as follows: South Dakota 4, Washington 4, Montana 3, and North Dakota 3.

According to the electoral vote of 1888, with Montana added as Democratic, the Democratic electoral vote would be increased from 169 to 189.

According to the electoral vote of 1888, with South Dakota Washington and North Dakota added as Republican, the Republican vote would be increased from 219 to 246. The net gain to the Republicans seem likely, therefore, to be 7.

Without New York's 37 electoral votes the Republican presidential ticket, on the basis of the new apportionment, would have 209 votes, or 16 less than a majority. Neither the 10 votes of New Jersey nor the 6 of Connecticut would be sufficient to change the result.

With the 37 electoral votes of New York cast for the Democratic nominee, he would have just 226 votes, enough to win without the gain of any other state. With out the 37 votes of New York, Indiana, California, Ohio, Iowa or Massachusetts could not in any one case furnish votes enough to turn the scale against the Republicans.

As to sectional division, the south will gain 17 electors, the west 25, the middle states 3, and the Pacific states 4. New England will lose 1.

In a political way the most important fact established by the figures given above is the continued and increased importance of the electoral vote of New York. Without them neither party can have any expectations of winning.

The question of a quorum, which excited so much feeling in Congress, is generally commented upon as being of vast benefit to the Democrats. It ought to be perfectly clear to any reasonable person that the Republicans are doing their own party more damage than they can hope to inflict on the Democrats. The people are long-suffering and slow, but they never make any mistakes when they see their rights are trampled on. They are complacent and cool, and some of them are even enjoying—as Americans will in a humorous way—the new spectacle of tyranny to which Mr. Reed and his followers are treating them. But at the proper time they will dispose of the whole exhibition so completely that it will be many years before the Republicans have an opportunity to repeat the performance. The grain of comfort for the Democrats in all these autocratic antics of the Speaker and the Republican majority is that they, in all probability, insure the election of an overwhelmingly Democratic Congress next November.

"The Liberty Banner," is the name of the organ of the Farmers Alliance, to be issued at Nogal. The Nugget is no more, the new paper will be ably edited by J. E. Wharton of White Oaks. Mr. Wharton and the Banner has our kindest wishes for success in their efforts to ameliorate the condition of the farmer and laborer. Ex-Gov Osbourn of Kansas is authority for the statement that in the coming election in Kansas, the Farmers Alliance will be the potent factor, if not changing the political complexion of that erratic state.

Lincoln county has more public school buildings than any other county in the territory. There are ten buildings in the county owned by school communities; some of them are very good buildings and neatly furnished with modern furniture and conveniences. None of them are very costly or handsome edifices but are paid for, belong to the public and make a good foundation for future work. The croakers who are slinging dirt at the Territory will please make a note of the above facts. Also of the fact that our county spent about ten thousand dollars for its public schools last year and will spend more than that amount in 1890. By the way, why can't Lincoln county lead the territory in the national flag over its public buildings every day that the schools are in session? The progressive schools in the other states are adopting this plan with beneficial results. As an object lesson for young America it is unequalled.—Independent.

Republicans Cornered.

Helena, Mont. Feb. 10.—Democratic State Senator Becker who was brought here by a sheriff Saturday night was spirited away by the democrats last night on a special train. A dispatch says he crossed the Idaho and Montana line this morning. All of the democratic senators are out of the state and the senate is without a quorum. The question now raised is whether the bill passed Saturday night can become a law. The lieutenant governor is required to sign bills in the presence of the senate, and the bills are not yet signed. Legal advice will be taken whether the signature of the president must be affixed in the presence of a quorum, if not the appropriation bill will be signed and sent to the governor.

The line between Dona Ana and Lincoln Counties was defined by the legislature and made a law, passed during the session of 1889. The Boards of Commissioners of Dona Ana and Lincoln counties authorized a competent surveyor to run the line—the line has been run, partially, but sufficient to show the Dona Ana people (report says about three.) that the territory properly belonging to Lincoln county, some fourteen townships, is not where these croakers want it. They have held an indignation meeting, some three or four people, at a settlement called Hilton, and called upon the Dist. Attorney, of Dona Ana Co. to proceed in a summary manner to have the survey condemned. The facts are that the survey is made in accordance with the law, and when fully completed cannot be changed unless by another act of the legislature. We are informed that one cause of the disappointment to Dona Ana people is occasioned by a misapprehension where the government line actually lies, and when found the difference was manifest. Some men will kick, even though their bread were buttered on both sides.

United States Dist. Attorney Fiske has been a visitor to Washington, and in a long winded interview he airs his opinion of matters in general. He starts out by saying that if matters at Washington weren't satisfactory as to the confirmation of the District Judges and a few more of his friends, "he would have remained and seen that they were" Great is Fiske. He is a unit on the statehood matter in saying that there is no hope whatever, until the people elect a Republican delegate, another Republican legislature, such as the last; in fact everything must be Republican, before New Mexico's claims can possibly be recognized at Washington. We never knew who Fiske was before, but this interview makes him widely known wherever it will be read, as one of the most extreme egotistical partisans in this or any other territory. By the time Fiske's demands are complied with, Grover Cleveland will be President again, and New Mexico can wait for a change in the complexion of their legislative body. In the mean time our republican neighbors can quarrel over when and who is to be the next Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of this Territory.

The New York Presbytery, by a vote of 93 to 43 accepts the report of the special commission in favor of revision of the Confession of Faith. We are glad of this—to the church people who have departed and those who have for cause, been dismissed, there will be an opportunity to amicably settle all past differences, and dwell in harmony. What a love feast they will have here in White Oaks!

Let any honest Republican candidly consider how he and his party organs would have viewed the conduct of Speaker Carlisle and a Democratic majority of seven in the House, had they pursued the policy lately followed by Speaker Reed. Suppose a Democratic House had refused for two months to report any rules; that a Democratic Speaker had counted as present Republicans who declined to vote, had the right to call for a division of the House, had refused to entertain motions to adjourn or to listen to appeals from his rulings? Would not the Republican leaders and organs have raised the cry of "a new rebellion" and denounced the arbitrary and unprecedented action? A candid answer to this question will show up Czar Reed's course in its true light.—World.

A fire occurred in a tenement house in Boston on the morning of Feb. 2nd, by which 12 lives were lost, and many persons injured. The fire originated in the basement by three drunken men quarrelling, and one threw a burning lamp—an explosion followed. The three drunkards perished with their victims.

In view of the evident design of the Republicans to increase their majority by illegal methods it becomes every Democratic member of the House of Representatives to be present every day. The Republican caucus has issued an order of this character to its own members and we should not hear any more of Democratic absenteeism. The times are critical. A very foolish, hot-headed, usurping tyrant has taken command of legislation and he ought to be circumvented.—World.

We have received a full text of the bill introduced by Delegate Joseph, for the purpose of allowing the people of Lincoln, Dona Ana and San Miguel Co's., to aid in the construction of the R. R. from El Paso. The bill divested of its superfluities, directs a vote by the people, for or against a "Subsidy". The subsidy to be $4000, per mile, in 30 year Bonds, bearing 7 percent interest annually. Also gives Morris R. Locke & Co. 4 y'rs after the election in which to complete the road. There is no danger of Congress passing the bill. If such an accident should occur, we will advise our readers. In any event the scheme is doomed in Lincoln county as impracticable and visionary.

The expert in the employ of the Tabor Investment Co., at Denver pronounced the Copper and Silver specimens from the "Acme" and "Bullion" Lode in the Gallinas as excellent. Denver people are not only anxious but determined to investigate several properties in this vicinity, if the parties owning them offer any kind of an inducement. It is surprising what little is known in mining centers of the extent and richness of mineral in this section, aside from a few disappointed croakers and adventurers, who have gone thither, but little is known of actual resources here. With silver in the open market, worth 97 5-8 cts per ounce, our ore, carrying valuable quantities of lead for fluxing would be in great demand. There are some good things in store for the folks in the Gallinas.

The North Homestake mill had a break-down Sunday night. The husk and bed of one of the Huntington amalgamators, from constant wear for several years, cracked and broke, so badly as to be useless. The necessary repairs will require a stoppage of one machine for at least 40 days, on account of the distance from R. R. and time consumed in transportation from factory. The mill continues to run with reduced force.

It is pronounced equal to any coal cent volatile. These Coal-fields with the increased demand for Iron are attracting the attention of eastern capitalists. It is one of the unexplained things, why a

The area and continued improve-

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Whereas, Charles T. Clark and Lilly M. Clark, his wife, then of Lincoln County, Territory of New Mexico, by their certain mortgage deed, dated the 21st day of May, in the year 1888, and recorded in the Probate Clerk's office, of Lincoln County, in book B of the record of mortgages, pages 193-195, did convey to the undersigned, Peter Strumquest, his heirs and assigns as mortgagee, the following described real estate, situated in the County of Lincoln, and Territory of New Mexico, as follows, to wit:

Lot No two (2) in Block No. sixty-two (62), in the town of White Oaks, according to the official plat of said town. To secure the promissory note of said Charles T. Clark and Lilly M. Clark, of even date with said mortgage deed, for two hundred dollars, payable to the order of the said Peter Strumquest, six months after date, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from date until paid: And whereas, it was provided in and by said mortgage, that if default should be made in the payment of said note, together with all interest that may have accrued thereon, when the same should become due and payable, then in such case the said mortgagee, his agent, or legal representative, might sell at public auction, said mortgaged premises, to the highest bidder for cash, first giving notice of the time and place of said sale, by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the County of Lincoln, for at least twenty days before the date of such sale, and in their name or names, or as the agent of said mortgagors, might make and deliver to the purchasers at such sale, a good and sufficient deed or deeds of said premises.

And whereas, also, default has been made in the payment of principal and interest due upon said note, which default still continues:

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, to it on the 22nd day of February, A. D. 1890, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, on the lot and premises above described, in the said town of White Oaks, the said Peter Strumquest will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, the lot and premises hereinbefore and in said mortgage described, pursuant to the powers and provisions of said mortgage. The amount claimed to be due under said note, on the day of said sale, is two hundred and seventeen and 65/100 dollars.

Mr. Lee: "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. Lee: "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. Lee: "What is that?"

Mrs. Lee: "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation—but I can do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I could pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. I certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Maggie goes over to the Alens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them all in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. Lee: "Well, perhaps I had better send for a specimen copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. Lee: "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 17th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 1 cent, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Or' entitling the holder to any pattern she may choose, and in any size, which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

A great discovery of zinc ore has been made near Fieib, in Manitoba. A Canadian Pacific railway tunnel is driven right through the lode, which is simply one solid body of ore. The ore has always been mistaken for red granite, but it turns out to be a very rich body of zinc. It is at least 100 feet wide. The ore assays 65 per cent zinc, 10 per cent iron, $250 in gold and $150 in silver to the ton—Ex.

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

A little child, tired of play, had plowed his head on a railroad track and fallen asleep. The train was almost upon him when a passing stranger rushed forward and saved him from a horrible death. Perhaps you are asleep on the track, too. You are, if you are neglecting the hacking cough, the hectic flush, the loss of appetite, growing weakness and lassitude, which have unconsciously crept upon you. Wake up, or the train will be upon you! Consumption, which thus insidiously fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach, must be taken in time, if it is to be overcome. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case of Consumption, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.
