LAST OF WATER & LIGHT EQUIPMENT FINALLY ENROUTE HERE

CHAUTAUQUA FOR 1921 ASSURED BY BRADY CITIZENS

The Brady Chautauqua for the 1921 season has been assured by the signing of the guarantee by local citizens. S. A. Benham, in company with the White & Myers manager, circulated the list yesterday, and met with ready response upon the part of leading citizens—which, in itself, was testimonial as to the value and attractiveness of the chautauqua. As a matter of fact, the 1920 program was the best ever offered by the White & Myers chautauqua system, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Tuesday night's program, "Peg O' My Heart," was a play of highest order, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The cast was in especially capable hands, each one being apparently molded for his or her part. The little love comedy won a place in the hearts of all, and its presentation here was equivalent to bringing metropolitan success to the small town.

The lecturers this year, too, excelled in every way. Henry Clark's lecture Tuesday afternoon on "How's Your Health?" was a great event and gave new ideas and new inspiration to those who see in perfect health the greatest asset and the topmost success.

Without question the address by Hon. Granville Jones on Wednesday afternoon was acclaimed the greatest of all. Mr. Jones presented the story of the Old South and the differences that arose between the North and the South in a way, and in a light that but few had ever before thought of it. In fact, as one lady expressed it, "I never before knew just what the cause of the war was between the North and South." Then Mr. Jones went on to show that there was no North and no South longer, but that we were one grand re-united

LAWRENCE E. BROWN, MERCURY MARINE, IS SKILLED RIFLEMAN ON BATTLESHIP

By showing his ability as a rifleman, Corporal Lawrence E. Brown of Mercury, this county, has qualified as a sharpshooter in the United States Marine corps, according to an official report from Washington. Hereafter he will wear the sharpshooter's medal and will receive an increase in pay. His father, Robert A. Brown, is a well known resident of Mercury.

Corporal Brown enlisted in the Marine corps at Fort Worth on May 12 last year. He is now stationed on board the battleship Pennsylvania, one of the largest of American super-dreadnaughts, and said to have an equipment said to be the equal of that on any war vessel afloat.

During the winter months, the Marines on the Pennsylvania went to Guantanamo, Cuba, for target practice, returning to New York in the early part of May. The vessel is now somewhere on the Atlantic, as it is customary for our large battleships to move about constantly from place to place.

nation, striving for the same ideals and with the same foes, within and without, to conquer—and that was a task for the bravest men and most noble women to accomplish.

The Misses Dailey and Neill proved the most delightful of entertainers with their old-time Southern songs, and their renditions were received with appreciation by the audience.

Of interest to old and young alike was the fiddling by the state champions of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. A local committee acted as judges and unanimously voted first honors upon Major Wm. Lee Mills, champion fiddler of Texas, and requested that he favor them with the "Arkansas Traveler." Major Mills responded with his broadest smile, his best bow and his fiddle sang tunes the best that ever were scraped by a bow.

HAIL! HAIL!! THE PLANT'S ALMOST HERE!

The following message received from the Fairbanks-Morse & Co., has been the occasion of considerable rejoicing and some cases of near-heart failure upon the part of a portion of our citizenship, (the news was so unexpected, don'tcher know). Besides the alternators, there remains but the filter pumps to complete the new water and light plant, and it is taken for granted that this pump has been included in the shipment of the alternators.

MRS. W. A. CAWYER COMPLETES BEAUTIFUL NEW BUNGALOW AT MERCURY

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cawyer and daughter, Willie Fay, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Cawyer and daughter, Mrs. Will-Fry Wear, were visitors in Brady Tuesday, having come up from Mercury on business. Mrs. W. A. Cawyer has just completed and occupied her new and modern bungalow on the south side of Mercury, and which is said to be one of the finest homes in this section of Texas.

The residence was built at a cost of $9,000.00, has six rooms and bath, with cement porches, and is complete to the last detail. A Delco-Light plant adds to the attractiveness of the home, and running water is had in the bath and throughout the house. The residence is built upon a high brick foundation, the elevation making it overlook all portions of the city. The walls are finished in brick effect, which adds wonderfully to the already attractive appearance of the bungalow. Mrs. Cawyer has spared no expense towards assuring every convenience and comfort in her home, and no city home can boast of being more complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Will-Fry Wear will occupy the home vacated by Mrs. Cawyer, she having presented the home to her daughter as a gift.

Death of Mrs. Alberta McMullen.

Mrs. Alberta McMullen, aged 24 years, died Tuesday evening at 1:00 o'clock at the local sanitarium. Funeral services were held Wednesday evening at Lohn, the Rev. J. H. Taylor conducting, and interment was made in the cemetery there.

Mrs. McMullen was a niece of W. W. Butler of Waldrip, and had been raised since infancy by him. With her husband, she was living on the W. M. Campbell place, 6 miles beyond Lohn. She was a woman of many admirable qualities, and was loved and admired by a large circle of friends. She had been in bad health for about a year, and her death was not entirely unexpected. Besides her husband, she leaves a baby, about a year old. To them is extended the heartfelt sympathy of all.

DAY FORMATION SMITHWICK SHALE SAYS DR. UDDEN

Dr. J. A. Udden, State geologist, has confirmed the identification of the formation in the Thad O. Day No. 3 well as Smithwick shale. Samples of the formation were sent him the past week by Jeff Meers, who first pronounced the shale as Smithwick.

After a several-day delay on account of breaking the under-reamer, operations at the Day well were resumed Wednesday morning. It is expected that under-reaming and setting of casing to shut off the cave in the shale will be completed and drilling will again be in progress by Friday. The well now stands at a depth of 990 ft. A message from Thad O. Day announces that he would leave Chicago upon his return to Brady Wednesday or Thursday.

C. A. Devine was here Monday and reported efforts were now being made to secure a supply of fuel for the Cunningham & Devine tests, and that drilling will be in progress as soon as all preparations can be completed so as to assure uninterrupted drilling.

The White well No. 4 was at a depth of 260 ft. Wednesday. The pump and tankage for No. 3 has arrived and is being placed, and it is thought No. 3 will be ready to pump by today.

MRS. LULA EARLES, FORMER RESIDENT McCULLOCH COUNTY, DIES AT WACO

Mrs. A. R. Browning of Lohn returned yesterday from Waco, where she had been called to attend her daughter, Mrs. Lula Earles, whose death occurred at the sanitarium in that city on Tuesday morning, just a few minutes before the arrival of the grief-stricken mother at her bedside. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock, interment being made in the Waco cemetery.

Mrs. Earles was raised in McCulloch county, attending the Lohn schools, and being well known in that section of the county. At the time of death she was 29 years old. Her marriage to J. P. Earles took place in Waco six years ago. Surviving besides her husband and mother are seven brothers: A. E. Browning of Thackerville, Okla., A. Browning of Electra and G. R., Leon, Walter, Emzy and Willie Browning of Lohn. The mother and four brothers were in attendance upon the funeral services.

The heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to the mother in the loss of her daughter, and as well to the sorrowing relatives.

INCREASE IN SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Effective July 1st next, the yearly subscription price of The Brady Standard will be increased to $2.00 per year. To points more than 50 miles from Brady, subscription will be $2.50 per year.

The increase is made necessary on account of the increasing abnormal condition of the print-paper market.

Earlier in the year, The Standard secured enough paper, as it thought, to run us through the year. The steady increase in our subscription list, together with heavy use of our stock of print paper for other work, has practically depleted our stock. We have requested quotations from half a dozen different supply houses, and the best quotation we have been able to get is 12c per pound—and, at that, they did not have a sheet of paper on hand to sell. Another house advised that they would make us a shipment of a fraction of a ton at whatever price market conditions demanded at time of shipment. Before the war print paper sold for around 3c per pound.

The Standard has delayed making an announcement of increase in price as long as possible, but must now submit to the inevitable. Should the price of print paper ever again return to anything like normal, we will be just as eager to announce a reduction in the subscription price, as we have been reluctant to announce an increase.

COW CREEK CALLINGS.

Enjoyable Picnic and Program Marks Close of School.

Lohn, Texas, May 31.

Editor Brady Standard:

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Ake visited Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sunday evening.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Ernest Cavin very sick at this writing. A little Gladys Young and Francis Fry were on the sick list, but are better now.

Mrs. Jim Hanley spent several days at the Cavin home last week.

Mrs. Lena Wyres left last week for Gorman, where she goes to visit her parents and other relatives and friends for some time.

Miss Mary V. Plummer came in home last Friday from Ferris, Texas, where she has been teaching the past term. Her sister, Mrs. Smith accompanied her home to visit her parents a while.

Miss Maggie Petty spent Monday night with Mrs. Ake.

Several of the Creek folks attended the play at Lohn Wednesday night.

Mrs. Ake spent Monday at the Cavin home.

Our school closed Friday and Miss Linda Smallwood returned to her home Friday evening.

In celebrating the closing of this well conducted and successful term of school, the school children, teacher and parents, with a few visitors, had an enjoyable picnic on the creek Wednesday and the children gave us a fine little program.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Marshall and Mrs. C. Marshall visited relatives at Fields Creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fry were callers on Mrs. Cavin Sunday evening.

FIFE FINDINGS.

Rattlesnakes and Wild Bees Abound—Snake Bite Fatal to Pony.

Fife, Texas, June 8.

Editor Brady Standard:

Crops look fairly well here now, but much cotton is to be planted yet. On account of worms and bad seed, the stand is not good, but is a great deal better than we expected a month ago. There is no small grain and not much feed stuffs planted here so far.

Miss Ethel Doyle left Tuesday for San Marcos where she will take the teachers' summer course in the Teachers' Normal school there. Miss Ethel taught the primary department in the school here the last session to the entire satisfaction of all the patrons and will probably accept the same position again.

M. R. Abbott of Aspermont and assessor of Stonewall county is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. B. Everett here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bradley left Tuesday for San Angelo, Eldorado and other points west on a prospecting tour. Bill bought a place in Coke county some time ago but sold it at a profit before moving, and is still in the market for a ranch.

In the election of officers of the Masonic lodge here Saturday night the following were chosen for the ensuing term: E. V. Wade, W. M.; C. R. Daniels, S. W.; F. M. Ranne, J. W.; C. S. Randalls, Treas.; L. M. Farmer, Sec'y; A. M. Finlay, Tiler; Jno. A. Liverman, J. D.; James Finlay, S. D.; H. D. Bradley, S. S.; W. W. Butler, Chap.

Tom Bradley had a valuable cow pony bitten and killed by a rattlesnake last week. The first case of this kind that has happened in several years here. Rattle snakes and wild bees are as plentiful as they were 30 years ago. We wish some one would tell us the reason for their return.

J. W. Roach of Los Angeles, Calif., is visiting his brothers, A. J., and A. D. Roach here.

Last Friday was dipping day again here. About 400 head of cattle were dipped, with no ticks showing so far. "E. Z."

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine. It is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

Two Weddings Reported—Rain Puts Farmers to Work.

Brady, Texas, June 8.

Editor Brady Standard:

Our expected rain came on time last week; rained from Tuesday till Thursday night, about one and one-fourth inches fell, which put everybody to work in earnest this week. Several began chopping cotton Monday.

Miss Olive Dilliard is in Brady this week attending the chautauqua.

Mr. Hulin Huie and Miss Anna Lohn were quietly married Friday afternoon at the bride's home, only a few friends and the bride's mother being present. We wish them all happiness through life. They received several nice wedding presents.

Another wedding of a used-to-be Cow Gap girl, but who lived in Brady, occurred last week. Miss Minnie Shaver, to a young man of Red River county. We failed to learn his name.

Miss Helen Newton visited Miss Lucy Purdy Saturday night and Sunday.

Newt McShan and family and A. J. Cottrell visited at Mrs. McMorris' at Doole Sunday.

Chas. Hilliard and family spent the day with Mrs. J. Newton Sunday.

Homer Purdy and sister, Miss Lucy, were visitors at the Ferris home Sunday night.

Death of Mrs. Ernest Cavin.

Lohn, Texas, June 4.

Last Monday morning the sweet spirit of Mrs. Willie Cavin, wife of Ernest Cavin was wafted away on wing of love to that City from whence no traveler ever returns.

Mrs. Cavin was born some 29 years ago in Atascosa, near Pleasanton, and came to this county with her parents some 14 years ago and was married to Mr. Cavin. To them were born three children, two girls and one boy, who, with her husband, aged father, mother and two brothers are left to mourn her.

Willie had been in failing health for some years. Lung trouble, resulting from "flu." Yet she always had hopes of getting well. She wished so much to be spared to her loved ones. She had lived a Christian some 14 years, being a member of the Church of Christ from early girlhood.

She was laid to rest in the Lohn cemetery Monday evening. Rev. Ferguson from Pear Valley conducted the funeral services. To the bereaved ones we extend our sympathy. — A Friend.

WORLD'S GERATEST NEED,
There is an editorial paragraph over on the Temple Telegram who combines with his general knowledge of affairs a wealth of wit and sagacity. He is the writer who answers the questions—foolish, wise and otherwise—and he answers them, as a rule, in the same spirit as they are asked. When some "smart aleck" essays a trick question, he usually receives an answer that "squelches."

But here is a question and an answer that should attract widespread attention. The question was propounded by one signing as "Welfare Worker" and was: "What is the world's greatest need today?" The answer: "That men should do their duty."
There is a wealth of sermon in that answer. If every man did his duty, would the world today be contending with such problems as I. W. W.'s, Bolshevists, labor shortage, material shortage, production decrease, transportation difficulties, and all the multitude of other problems that are now bringing unrest and civic chaos to the nations of the world? Truly it would not. It is the shirkers who are causing all this turmoil—and a great many good men are numbered among that class. Less work and more pay is the cry—and the less work that is done, the shorter the distance the pay goes.

Whenever a man undertakes to decry these days of high prices, let him first ask himself, "Am I doing my full duty?"

"Wrong Number"

Not all the "wrong numbers" are mistakes of the operators—sometimes folks call the wrong number, you know.

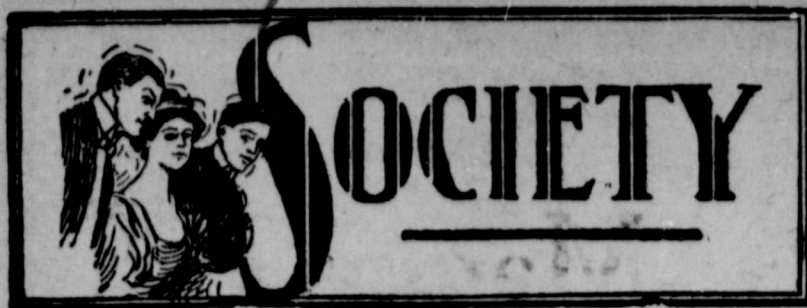

It's mighty easy to transpose "456," for instance, to "465," when you depend on your memory.

The surest way is to consult the directory every time and be sure to call the right number—speaking the figures distinctly, into (not just "at") the telephone, and correcting the operator if she repeats them incorrectly. Then when "Central" does give you the wrong number, if you want to "bless out" the Telephone Company you can do it with a clear conscience, you see.

After all, the percentage of all the "wrong number" calls—the Telephone Company's mistakes and those of the patrons together—is much lower than you probably think—especially when you consider the great number of calls that go over the lines every day.

Crothers-Wolfe.

One of the season's most beautiful home weddings was celebrated on Wednesday night, at 7:45 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crothers, on the North side, when their daughter, Miss Minnie Jarvis Crothers, became the bride of Mr. M. C. Wolfe of Dallas. The ceremony was performed out in the open, with a large assemblage of admiring relatives and friends in attendance, the velvety lawn furnishing a carpet, the hedges, flowers and trees, nature's most beautiful altar, and the star-lit sky, a wonderful canopy o'er-head. Dr. John Power of Brownwood officiated with the ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Duke Mann sang "At Dawning" by Cadman, with violin accompaniment by Mr. Oscar Reesing, and piano accompaniment by Miss Sarah Johanson. As the bridal party began its approach, Miss Johanson played the "Mendelssohn Wedding March," Mr. Reesing accompanying on the violin. Little Misses Phoebe Graham and Drusilla Davidson headed the bridal party as flower girls, strewing flowers in the pathway of the bride. The beautiful wedding ring of platinum, set with diamonds, was borne to the altar by Master Jack Tait, Jr. The bride approached on the arm of her father. She was attired in a gown of beaded Dresden Georgette, with silver cloth, and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses in shower effect. Mrs. Crothers was accompanied by her son, Mr. W. F. Crothers, and other members of the family followed. The bride-groom was attended by his brother, Preston Wolfe, of Dallas.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, and the happy couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes. Field daisies furnished the decorative motif in the house and in the breakfast room, where frozen strawberry punch and individual cake were served the guests. Assisting in the serving were Mesdames G. R. White, Herbert L. Wood, S. S. Graham, G. V. Gansel, Jack Tait, W. R. Davidson.

The bride tossed her bouquet from the veranda, Miss Johanson catching the coveted prize, and in the cutting of the bride's cake, Dr. Jack Ragdale secured the wish-bone, and various others the dime, thimble, button and ring.

Many beautiful wedding gifts were received.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe left on the night train for a bridal trip to New Orleans and other southern points. They expect to join Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ogden in about two weeks for a tour through California during the summer, returning to Brady to make their home sometime in July.

The bride is one of Brady's most attractive and lovable young ladies, and is a popular member of the younger social set, as well as being adored by all who know her. She attended the Brady schools, and then spent two years at Fort Lowden seminary, taking a special course. Mr. Wolfe is to be congratulated upon having secured for his life's companion so splendid a help-mate. Mr. Wolfe has been making his home in Brady since the early part of last fall, being local representative of the Lewis Moore Co. cotton factors. He is a man of splendid business ability, agreeable disposition and stands high in the estimation of all.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mackbee, Dallas; Mrs. O. L. Greer of San Angelo; Mr. Lewis Moore of Dublin; Mr. Preston Wolfe of Dallas; Miss Louise Sellman of Rochelle; Miss Cowan of Midland.

Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. J. S. Wall entertained last Friday afternoon for the Five Hundred club, the occasion proving a most enjoyable one. In the series of "500" Mrs. Kirk received club prize, and Mrs. Wood, guest prize.

The hostess served an ice course to members present as follows: Mesdames C. D. Allen, C. T. White, J. S. Anderson, J. G. McCall, Ed Campbell, G. C. Kirk, F. R. Wulff; Miss Luella Benham; and guests: Mesdames W. L. Hughes, E. C. Stowe of San Antonio, H. B. Ogden, H. W. Lindley, Herbert L. Wood, W. R. Davidson.

Mrs. G. R. White entertains for the club this afternoon.

Hildebrand-Guyer.

The following announcements have been received by friends here:

Mrs. Etta Hildebrand announces the marriage of her daughter Stella Olive to Mr. John W. Guyer Thursday, June the third Nineteen hundred and twenty Brownwood, Texas

The announcement will be learned with interest by the many Brady friends of the bride. Mrs. Guyer taught in the Brady grade school the past year, and was popular with teachers, pupils and patrons alike. The groom is a prominent farmer and stockman of Brownwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Guyer will make their home on his ranch near that place.

Miss Pinkie Jones will teach Music and Expression in Brady. Summer term will embrace June and July.

Fall term will open September the first. Those interested may telephone 365.

A few 1919 press notices: The program was devoted to the music of Romantic composers and was of unusual interest. The first number, Mendelssohn's Presto from concerto in g minor, was played by Miss Jones with Prof. Myer at the second piano. Miss Jones plays accurately and brilliantly. And, as was demonstrated later in her performance of "Hark, Hark The Lark"—Shubert-Liszt, with delicacy and feeling.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Miss Jones played the Concerto Etude by MacDowell, with fine control of touch and style. Worthy of special praise was the two piano pieces played by Miss Jones and Miss Crowder. This was a difficult arrangement from the symphonic poem "Danse Matra" by Saint-Saens. The performers played with splendid ensemble, producing a brilliant effect.—Brownwood Bulletin.

REV. W. P. BURLESON OF MERCURY RETURNS FROM EXTENSIVE TRIP THRU EAST

The Rev. W. P. Burleson was in Brady last Saturday, and gave an interesting account of his visit and travels through the eastern part of the United States. Mr. Burleson originally started his pilgrimage as an attendant upon the Southern Baptist convention, which met in Washington, to attend to business matters, and after journeying through 14 different states, returned to Texas via the Panhandle, where he visited with his aged mother. His travels covered over 4,000 miles, and he declares the trips and visits the most pleasant and enjoyable in all his life.

Speaking of the Baptist convention, Mr. Burleson said it was held in a Y. M. C. A. hut, which had about 10,000 seating capacity. There were something like 10,000 accredited delegates, besides visitors and citizens. The doors were locked when the capacity of the building was reached, and those who were outside had to remain there until a new opportunity presented itself to gain admittance.

Mr. Burleson was twice locked out, and he took advantage of these opportunities to do some sight-seeing in Washington. He visited Mt. Vernon and saw the tomb of Washington, and brought some pebbles back with him as mementoes. Some souvenir-hunters, he said, went so far as to dig up shrubbery to carry away from the place. The grounds, he declares, are indescribably beautiful, and overlook the Potomac river. He also mounted the Washington monument, a height of 555 ft., where he could see over four different states.

From Washington he went to Midland, Virginia, to look after the settling up of the estate of his wife's uncle, the Rev. A. J. Cummings, who died last September a year ago. Midland is located in Fauquier county, Virginia, and here his uncle had labored for 30 years as pastor of the Mt. Holly church. It was Mr. Burleson's privilege to preach a sermon in this same church. The place is located in a region rich in historic reminiscences, and lies between Manassas and the Battle of the Wilderness.

Returning to the Panhandle of Texas, he took his mother completely by surprise, it being his first visit to her in five years, and as a consequence, most enjoyable and memorable.

Another place visited by Mr. Burleson was Dodsonville, Texas, where he was a guest of his half-brother, Jack F. Jones, famous in Texas as a breeder of fine stock, and whose specialty is fine Poland China hogs. Mr. Jones held a sale last February in which he sold 40 head of Poland Chinas for $14,000, the best hog bringing $2,500. One year-old gilt on Jones' place had attained a size of 5 ft., 8 in., in length and stood about as high as Mr. Burleson's hip. Mr. Burleson says the trip throughout proved interesting, especially since he went to Washington via St. Louis, and returned via the Southern route.

MAY BE PHOENICIAN COINS

Recent Discovery Made in California Has Given Archeologists Some Food for Thought.

Examination by Prof. Oliver M. Washburn of six coins discovered in a canyon of the foothills back of Berkeley, Cal., and described by him as being of undoubted antiquity, has stimulated the belief of archeologists that the ruins of an ancient city exist in that locality. Antiquarians of the University of California, where Professor Washburn is assistant in the department of classical archeology, favor making excavations in an effort to determine the existence of important evidence as to the early history of this continent.

The coins were discovered by Chester K. Frost, an Oakland shipbuilder. While on a trip he was digging in the canyon when he uncovered a misshapen copper coin. He prosecuted his work and was rewarded with five pieces of copper, unquestionably minted by hand, according to Professor Washburn, and containing inscriptions in Greek and Latin. Two of the coins are blackened beyond recognition by the action of the elements, but through their irregular shape and general minting are described as antedating the oldest known Roman coins.

The coins are faintly embossed with the facial contours of divinities or legends in tempered copper. Coin experts advance the opinion that the material used fixes a remote period of manufacture, because tempered copper in coin manufacture is more or less a forgotten art.

One of the coins is about the size of a dime and bears certain resemblances to early Phoenician money, which bore the characteristic embossing of a woman's head.

One version advanced is that the Berkeley coins were brought to the California coast by Phoenician colonists who preceded the early padres to the bay district.

What He Missed.

My wedding was not far in the past and I was giving a dinner party for several bachelor friends of my husband's. I was especially anxious for things to run smoothly, as one of the party was somewhat of an "old flame," and I wanted him to see just what a wonderful housekeeper he had missed. The maid was new, so to be perfectly sure that all would go well I ordered the dinner in complete detail the previous evening.

In bringing in the soup the maid spilled a serving on the very man that I was planning to impress. When the meat course came on there was an absence of potatoes, and on asking for them I was informed that we were out of potatoes and she had forgotten to order them.

Needless to say that my face did not need the aid of any drug store for sufficient coloring, while the face of the young man in question reflected, I thought, positive relief that he had escaped such extreme lack of management.—Chicago Tribune.

Grey Victim of Ill Fortune.

Sir Edward Grey, former foreign secretary, now Viscount Grey of Falloden, is preparing a volume of memoirs. He has grown almost totally blind, and is learning all over again how to read by the sense of touch.

Fate has brought tragedy into Sir Edward Grey's life. He was deeply devoted to his wife, a companion to him in his fishing trips and other outdoor excursions. She was injured in a runaway accident in 1905 and died. Always of a retiring disposition, the former secretary became more so under the poignancy of this domestic tragedy. A short time before the war a brother was killed by a lion in Africa. In the early days of the war his nephew, who would have become heir to the title of viscount, which was conferred on him when governmental changes saw him depart from the foreign office, was killed. The title, therefore, may lapse with the death of the first viscount. Grey, himself, for he has no children.

Secrets Betrayed in Sleep.

"It is much more usual for people to swear than to sing hymns in their sleep," says Dr. E. Coplans in a letter to the British Medical Journal. Doctor Coplans has been a patient in a military hospital.

"The percentage of talkers is astonishing; 90 per cent of the men in my ward indulged in it. The maximum period is from 12 to 2 a. m. Often a sentence is begun clearly, but trails off in a blur. One patient, a by-no-means pious Scotsman, started me at 1:20 by singing in a stentorian voice, 'Abide With Me.' The melody and words were perfect.

"One speaker will start another going in an adjacent bed. Your sleep talker will answer a question, and there is no doubt that people give away secrets."

Philippines Producing Newsprint.

The Philippines are in a position not only to supply newsprint for domestic needs, but to export large quantities of this product. According to a report recently made by the director of the bureau of forestry, the raw materials available such as the bamboo and two kinds of grasses, the cogon and talahib, are of such good quality and can be so cheaply obtained that if careful study is given this industry the islands will not need to import annually $2,000,000 worth of paper, as heretofore.

The Higher Culture.

"Your daughter is well educated." "Educated! I should say she is. She's readin' books that ma and I would be ashamed to be found with."

"Baby Grand" (Model FB) Touring Car

SOME say it is the beauty of its streamline design that makes the new Chevrolet "Baby Grand" Touring Car so appealing. Others are equally enthusiastic over its mechanical perfection, the deep, wide seats and roomy body. But all agree that it is a car of unusual merit and well worthy of bearing the name "Chevrolet."

If you want an automobile that you can take genuine pride in owning—one that is economical to operate and dependable for all needs—you should inspect this new Chevrolet model. It is a car that leaves little to be desired at a price that pleases.

TAP THE GROUND WITH A STICK! BAIT WILL COME TO THE TOP

Worms always appear on the surface of the ground after a hard shower, it is said, and for centuries ignorant mankind thought the little crawlers were attracted by the moisture. That theory is all wrong, according to a Lake Worth fisherman. It's the sound of the falling rain-drops that attract the worms. Therefore, if you want worms, just make a noise like a shower.

It's very simple, the fisherman says. All one needs is a stick and a slat of ground about five feet square. When the stick is tapped on the ground the worms below get the signal and mistake it for rain. They come to the surface with incredible speed. Then, you grab 'em.—Fort Worth Record.

Choosing Tales for Children.

There are two simple and definite rules in choosing stories for children, rules so plain the busiest of us might heed.

Never choose anything but the best literature.

Never forget that the story will have a profound influence, both mental and spiritual, on the child.

A child who enjoys "We have a Good Family Here," or the "Pat-a-Cake Story," or "Gingerbread Man" at eighteen months will find a treasury of pleasure in "A Child's Garden of Verses," or a home version of "Tanglewood Tales" at 3. There will never be anything more delightfully written for the days of the beginners than the stories of Hans Christian Anderson favored the world with.

A child of 2 can be calmed from most baby tantrums by the primitive rhythm of Hiawatha, or the appealing poetry of the Psalms, though he does not understand it, as we do. If he hears good poetry, just as he eats or sleeps—a part of the daily life—thru juvenile days (at 20 he will have a spontaneous appreciation of the masters and a rich source of happiness for life.—Ruth Lining Milam Christian Herald.

AN INTRODUCTION

By A. W. PEACOCK.

Elliot Moore was standing in the crowded west-bound car and planning what he would do for the evening. He was not conscious of his neighbors except that close beside him as he looked down from his six feet he could see under a small, chic hat the curve of a girl's cheek.

Suddenly he was stung into action. Something had been thrust into his trousers pocket and withdrawn. One plunge of his hand and he knew that his pocketbook with a clear week's salary had been stolen.

"Somebody has sneaked my pocketbook," he said sharply to the conductor. "Someone on this car. Don't let a soul off until I get a cop!"

Excitement filled the car. Tired as they were, all viewed the turn of events with interest. At the same time a man in a gray suit came crowding forward and a voice spoke sharply: "I think that young lady next to you did the trick, str."

The man in gray caught her shoulder. "I am on the force, my friend, and I will take charge," he said to Elliot. "Young lady, have you that pocketbook?" Even as he spoke he yanked a wallet from the pocket of her suit. He held it out to Elliot. "That yours?"

Elliot nodded. "Well, I guess we have another one of them," the gray man said. "Get off here at the station and I can let you go soon," he said again to Elliot.

Not until the slight girl had been led from the car and the car had gone did she seem to recover from the shock of the charge. "What are you going to do with me? I did not take that wallet!" she cried in a half-sobbing, sobbing voice, trying to draw her arm away.

"You better go with us without a fuss, young lady, for go you will whether you want to or not!" the plain-clothes man said sharply.

The light from the street lamp fell upon her face, and Elliot saw that she was nothing more than a mere girl badly frightened, and looking weary beyond any weariness he knew. Under the small hat her girlish face, win some in spite of the strain upon it, touched him.

"Can't we fix it up here?" he asked. "Don't let her get away with any such stuff, young man. They're old hands at the job." They went in and found themselves facing an officer who was deep in a newspaper. He looked up with a scowl as he saw them.

"Well, Edwards, what is it?" he asked of the detective. Edwards explained and handed over the pocketbook. The lieutenant at the desk turned it over in his hand. "Found on her, eh? Well, let's finish it up. I suppose you know what's in it?" he asked Elliot.

Elliot had been watching the girl. She stood, white-faced, tearless, her dark, wide eyes staring. Quietly he named off articles and money—that were not in the wallet.

The man at the desk looked at him with cold, shrewd eyes. "This wallet does not contain the stuff you mention."

"The girl stiffened as if with shock. Her stricken eyes turned to Elliot. "Then I disown it. Some mistake has been made," Elliot said easily. "I suggest the pocketbook be returned to the lady. Somebody else got away with mine. This looked like mine, but mine is a common type. The mistake is mine. My wallet has disappeared, no doubt."

"No doubt," the officer said dryly. "You two leave your names and addresses and then you may go. Here is your wallet, young lady." He handed it to her with a polite gesture. She took it with fumbling fingers and they went out together.

She walked unsteadily, and he aided her with one hand under her small round wrist. They reached the corner in silence; then she turned with a quick, indrawn breath.

"It is your pocketbook! You know it! You did it just to save me!" She held the wallet out to him. "You must not think I did it. But I—here is the wallet. Take it—please, please!"

He quieted her. "No; I have a hunch that the chap who did pinch it saw he was caught when we held everybody in the car and he slipped the wallet into your pocket and then called attention to you. The more I think about it the more certain I am."

"Do you really think so?" she quavered. "Now look here, little girl," he answered soothingly. "I am sure of it. Say, we have both missed our supper. There's a restaurant over there. Let's go over and forget our troubles. Come on!"

"But—" "There are no 'buts,'" he answered. "You are tired out, and you need a bit of rest anyway; and besides I want to see more of you!"

NEVER PUT IN CIRCULATION

Dean Swift's Notable Victory in Campaign Against Unpopular Coin Designed for Ireland.

Wood's halfpence, which was to have been placed for use in Ireland by Great Britain about 200 years ago, was never circulated in Erin, as a result of the efforts of Jonathan Swift, at the time dean of St. Patrick's in Dublin, where he was in "exile," and who had for ten years previously been attacking the attitude of the British toward Ireland.

Swift's fight against the circulation of the coin came when Great Britain decided to farm out the contract for their manufacture to a certain William Wood, on condition that he should pay the government 1,000 pounds a year for 14 years. In his famous Drapier letters Swift gradually built up a picture of the ruin which Wood's halfpence were destined to bring upon Ireland. The government became alarmed. A report to the privy council made in July, 1724, defended the patent to Wood, but recommended that the amount to be coined should be reduced.

In the end Lord Carteret was sent to Ireland as lord lieutenant to endeavor to settle the matter on the basis of this compromise. Lord Carteret offered a reward of 300 pounds for the discovery of the author of the Drapier letters, and ordered a prosecution against the printer upon his arrival. Swift boldly reproached him with his tyranny, then looked calmly on while the grand jury threw out the bill against the printer in spite of all the efforts of the chief justice to secure its return. The next grand jury presented Wood's halfpence as a nuisance which marked the end of it all, the coin never circulating in Ireland.

PREYS ON HARMFUL RODENTS

According to This Writer, the Owl Is Really a Good Friend of the Agriculturist.

Superstition still clings to the owl, due largely to ignorance and lack of discrimination. When twilight falls the owl comes forth from some remote recess where it has spent the day in sleep, and uttering a peevish cry, hurries out upon its foraging expedition. As the tired farmer is lost in refreshing sleep, this bird, against which the hand of man has been raised for centuries, commences its beneficial work which only ceases when the first rays of the morning sun come slanting over the hilltops, blinding its eyes and sending it quickly to cover.

The great orbs of the owl are remarkably developed and are keenest in the early hours of the night and morning, when many harmful rodents are most active. Marvelous, indeed, is the sight that enables it to strike the tiny mouse in the darkness.

Owls are the natural check upon this multitude, and thus are of inestimable value to agriculture. From an economic standpoint, it would be hard to find a more useful bird.—Los Angeles Times.

England's Gleaning Bell.

Gleaning went out of fashion with the disappearance of the old windmills and watermills, because cottagers can no longer get their gleaned corn ground. But the "harvest bell," which notifies the villagers when they may begin gleaning and when they must cease, is still rung in some rural parishes within reach of London. At one place the "gleaning bell" rings from the tower of the parish church at 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. as soon as the harvest is sufficiently advanced. One penny is paid to the bell ringer by each family that gleans, so he can hardly be called a profiteer.

Birds That Dig.

We are not accustomed to think of birds as burrowing animals, but the puffin answers to that description. It is a chunky little fowl, less than a foot high, with a large and powerful beak. For a home, it scratches a hole in the ground sometimes as much as four feet deep. To capture a puffin one must go digging. It is rather a job, and, inasmuch as the bird bites and claws fiercely, one is likely to suffer in the process. Thus the creature has maintained its numbers on many a lonely rookery, where other species of wild fowl have been killed off and exterminated.—Philadelphia Ledger.

British Broad Arrow.

The broad arrow is the mark cut or stamped on all British government stores to distinguish them as public or crown property, and to obliterate or deface which is a felony. Persons in possession of goods marked with the broad arrow forfeit the goods and are subject to a penalty. The broad arrow was the cognizance of Henry, viscount of Sydney, earl of Romney, master general of ordnance, 1693-1702, and was at first placed only on military stores. It is also the mark used in the British ordnance survey to denote points from which measurements have been made.

Tactless, Indeed.

Miss Giddy—How old do you think I am? Tactless Man—Oh, I should say thirty-five. Miss G.—Hm! You are ten years out of the way. T. M.—Why, my dear lady! You can't really be forty-five!—Boston Transcript.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN BLANTON'S CAMPAIGN MANAGER

To Voters of 17th District:

Determined enemies in his absence through false accusations are attacking your Representative. He is faithfully performing his duties, attending to your business. Campaigns tempted many Members home. He sticks to his post, stays on the job and puts duty before personal interests. When Congress adjourns, he will answer his accusers to your complete satisfaction.

No time and no where has he ever opposed honest labor or lawful unions. His uncompromising fight has been against the deadly enemies of honest labor, anarchy, disloyalty, brigandage, inefficiency and the attempt of destructive radicals to throttle Congress and overthrow our Government. Statistics show that during 1919 unlawful strikes caused a loss of $725,000,000 in wages, and $1,250,000,000 in our production, and that railroad employees alone paid to their unions last year the enormous sum of $27,000,000, maintaining their leaders and agitators here in luxury. And the farmers and unorganized masses bear the burden.

Congressman Blanton is known from Seattle to Florida. His efforts to protect this Government, and save it from domestic enemies, to stop graft, waste and extravagance, to abolish useless Departments and clean them up, has given him a National reputation. His work is admired and appreciated by every posted, unbiased citizen in the United States.

There are seven Congressmen who belong to labor unions. When Congressman Blanton has refused to wear a yoke, and obey orders from Mr. Gompers; when he has forced Members to stay in Washington and attend to business; when he has prevented them from passing scores of private bills involving more than a hundred million dollars; when he has tried to reduce their mileage to actual expenses; when he has tried to abolish the practice of giving to every Member each year a Cedar chest, a pine chest and an oak chest at Government expense; when he has blocked all efforts to raise the Members' salary from $7,500 to $10,000; when he has denounced the frequent and expensive junketing trips and tried to abolish them; when he has blocked at every turn the annual $300,000 garden seed grant; when he tried to pass his measure forbidding Members and Senators from appointing their relatives to office; and when by points of order, sustained by the Chairman, he has knocked out of appropriation bills over $100,000,000 saved for the people, is it any wonder that some side-jabs and under-cuts have been made at him from the floor?

But radical leaders have sworn to defeat him. Samuel Gompers, the American Federation of Labor, the 168 Locals of Federal Employees, the I. W. W.'s, the Communists, the Socialists, and the seditious Plumb Plan League, concerted to bring down Congressman Blanton. They have sworn to defeat him regardless of cost. They publish in New York and San Francisco that they will go to any extreme to put him out of Congress. This is general knowledge over the United States. They have launched three new campaign publications here in Washington to deal out weekly attacks. They boast here they will spend $100,000 to defeat him. The editor of the TIMES in Abilene asserted editorially that he was told by a Union member that they would spend $200,000 or defeat Blanton. Unions paid for a whole page attack against him in the ABILENE REPORTER. The SWEETWATER REPORTER, owned by non-residents, publishes vicious articles and editorials, has printed circulars and in its envelopes has paid postage and necessary clerical hire to mail same over the district. Since its initial issue a few months ago, it has so-called OLDEN ADVANCE, edited by Don H. Biggers from Eastland, but neither published in the town of Olden, or even in Eastland County, but elsewhere, has filled its columns each week with vicious attacks. May 15, 1920, it devoted its entire front page of 6 full columns, and practically all of its 2nd, 3rd and 6th pages to misrepresentation and abuse. On May 6, Biggers wrote certain editors for rates, asserting that before the Primary he was going to cover the district either with political supplements, 6-columns, 2 or 4 pages, inserted in all the newspapers, or else by printed circulars. Who is paying for it all? Is Mr. Biggers able and willing thus to spend his own money? Possibly so, but the following letter would not so indicate:

CLYDE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION. Clyde, Tex., May 7, 1920. Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, Washington, D. C.

Dear Friend: I wish to advise you that Mr. Don H. Biggers, previously of Lubbock, Tex., has been owing the Clyde Growers' Association $62.79 since 1917. The present manager, Mr. O. S. Maggart, and the previous manager, Mr. Carl C. Grubb, have repeatedly asked him by letter to settle, and he ignores their requests. The farmers who compose the association have shared in the loss. We still consider "our" Congressman "honorable." Yours, R. O. CARNES.

Is Mr. Grisham paying for this advertising? If so, he should explain why in the case of Tunstall vs. Grisham, now pending in the Appellate Court at Fort Worth, Mr. W. A. Tunstall claims that Candidate Grisham and his partner owe him $80,000 which by contract they agreed to pay him out of $240,000 he caused them to make on some oil business. Ask Judge Harry Tom King, of Abilene, what he knows about this case.

How do the Unions spending their boasted $100,000 slush fund, if they are not paying for this Biggers and Sweetwater advertising? Illustrating how ridiculous some of Biggers' charges are, he asserted that Uncle Joe Cannon had to restrain Blanton to prevent his attacking Congressman Knutson whom he asserted was a small man about 50 years old. Mr. Knutson is a young, unmarried man, fully as large as Blanton, who has a letter from Uncle Joe Cannon stating that said newspaper concoctions had no foundation whatever, as he never held, or restrained, or even spoke to Blanton relative to any disagreement with Mr. Knutson.

The American Federation of Labor recently sent to every daily paper in the U. S. a carefully prepared attack, falsely charging that New England was furnishing Blanton's campaign expenses. Heretofore in every campaign Congressman Blanton has refused to accept proffered contributions, and has paid all of his campaign expenses himself. Various admirers who have daily read the Congressional Record and become familiar with his work here, have written deploring the fact that radical organizations are sending money to Blanton's district in an effort to defeat him, requesting that his campaign manager notify them when commencing his campaign, as they would deem it a privilege to contribute, in recognition of his efforts of national benefit.

To answer the false accusations of his enemies, and to let his people see his actual record here, I proposed having reprints made of the permanent Record for distribution. When I advised that this would cost $1,054.36 merely to print same, he said he could not afford it. Ten years ago he was worth $25,000. Today if he sold everything he possesses he couldn't raise $3,000 in cash. Since war began he has used most of his salary in his private investigations to clean up Departments, in fighting anarchy, and in donating to the needs of others. Under the circumstances, I insisted upon writing to his friends who had asked that such be done and who wanted to contribute, and as campaign manager wrote them. They were men in every walk of life, one a member of a union for 30 years, and lived in El Paso, Houston, Galveston, Luikin, Beaumont, Ft. Worth and San Antonio, Texas; Lebanon, Tenn.; Opelousas, La.; Tampa, Florida; Memphis, Tenn.; Madison, Ga.; Charleston, S. Car.; Richmond, Va.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky.; Lynchburg, Va.; St. Louis, Mo.; Carrollton, Ky.; Chicago, Ill.; Portland, Oregon; Boston, Mass.; Kettle Island, Ky.; Tullahoma, Tenn.; Waterloo, Iowa, etc. Congressman Blanton absolutely required that I accept no contribution from a corporation, and I did not. His entire campaign will not cost over $2,000. I will gladly exhibit to anyone interested the campaign ledger showing all campaign receipts, the amount, name and address of each person contributing, and all disbursements.

Someone burglarized Congressman Blanton's office one night, rifled my desk and files, extracted certain copies including the letter to Boston, which the American Federation of Labor later published, falsely stating that New England was furnishing the campaign expenses. The Superintendent of the Building found that an elevator operator possessed a master key to my office, and discharged him.

The Dallas News, August 23, 1919, page 1, reports the successful fight made by Congressman Blanton in preventing cotton from being placed in the Food Control Act, his point of order being sustained, thus saving every cotton farmer from ruin, as otherwise the price of cotton would have been fixed at a low price. For months he has been working on a plan to bring the New England and foreign Spinners and the Southern Cotton Farmers together, so that they may no longer be fleeced by Wall Street Gamblers, thus stopping all speculative profits. Then Spinners would pay to the producing farmers for their cotton its real worth, putting gamblers out of business.

In accepting invitations to address the business men of Boston, Providence, Fall River and New York, he has been moved by this motive in furthering his plan.

In trying to embarrass Congressman Blanton, and prejudice his Colleagues against him, Biggers has mailed his paper each week to certain Members, and has written personal letters to our Democratic leaders, Champ Clark, Claude Kitchin, Crisp, of Ga., Gard of Ohio, and Flood, of Va., and to big Republican leaders like Jim Good, Joe Walsh, John Tilson and Uncle Joe Cannon, endeavoring to get them to say that Blanton's work has not been valuable to the country, and Biggers can not produce a single line from a single one of them against Blanton. On May 3, Mr. Crisp wrote Biggers as follows:

"While Mr. Blanton and I have differed many times on questions of legislation, I consider him an honest, able, industrious and courageous Representative. His fight for economy in public expenditures, in my judgment, has been of real and substantial benefit to the country."

Biggers received a similar reply from another one of the above.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted May 4, 1920, by the Democratic Convention of Mills County, Texas, to-wit:

"WHEREAS, an unjust and unwarranted attack has been made on Hon. Thomas L. Blanton, our Representative in Congress, by a certain citizen of Eastland County, Texas, and

"WHEREAS, the said Hon. Thomas L. Blanton is making our district a competent, brave and efficient Representative,

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the conduct of the said Eastland County citizen be and is hereby condemned as unworthy of a citizen of this district, and that this Convention approve and commend the laudable efforts of our Representative, Hon. Thomas L. Blanton.

Gompers has just forced the term "National Emergency" to be stricken out of the army bill, because it permitted the National Guard to be called out when strikes menace the safety of a State. Congressman Blanton has fought for all of the people. Shaft the United States or Mr. Gompers' Union be paramount? I am now having reprints of the Record made, which I hope to distribute by the latter part of June. The envelope will be entitled "LET THE RECORD SPEAK." Look for it, read it carefully, see that your neighbor reads it and preserve it. I hope that every man and woman in the district will read it. You will be surprised at just how much your Representative has accomplished. His people will never realize just how much work night and day he has done to better conditions. Should Congress recess or adjourn, he will report to you personally, and answer all criticisms to your entire satisfaction.

Sincerely yours, WILLIAM W. BLANTON, Campaign Manager.

BIDS ON WOOL SLUMP—GROWERS REFUSE TO SELL—SEEKING U. S. AID

San Angelo, June 4.—Not a pound of wool was sold last week at Del Rio and Kerrville, when more than 2,000,000 pounds of twelve and eight months' clips were offered, the growers rejecting the bids, some of which it is said, were as low as 46 cents. At Del Rio not a bid was made.

Such is the condition of the market that has caused wool growers, wool commission houses and bankers of Southwest Texas to appeal to the Federal Reserve Bank for financial assistance that will permit them to hold their production until prices again increase.

Buyers, unable to offer prices as high as those paid early in the Spring when some clips brought 73 cents a pound, are returning to the North and East. Only one buyer remains in San Angelo. Three weeks ago there were a dozen representatives of woolen mills in the city.

Says Decline Natural. "The decline in the wool market is simply a natural reaction following the high prices that prevailed during the war," said Henry Allen, a Boston buyer. "The importation of Australian wools and their sale at auction in this country, under the auspices of the British government, has had little effect on the market. The United States has always consumed twice as much wool as it raises.

"The mills are simply not buying for the reason that the demand for woolen goods has fallen off in the wave to reduce the high cost of living that has swept the country. Stores here and elsewhere are not ordering big stocks as in former years, and are putting on sales, and consequently the jobbers are having to cancel or restrict their orders."

1920 Clip Enormous. Labor troubles and congested transportation, making prompt deliveries of raw wool impossible, have also had their effect upon the situation, says Allen.

Clean Australian wool offered at auction have dropped from $2.20 to $1.75 a pound.

Buyers are loath to mention what their bids are, but it is understood that they have decreased all the way from 20 to 30 cents a pound. The growers decline to sell at the reduced figures.

West Texas this Spring produced probably 15,000,000 pounds of wool, but of this unprecedented amount, not more than 1,250,000 pounds has been sold.

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dypnoea or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Brady case.

Mrs. J. Coorpender said: "I was annoyed by kidney trouble for some years. My condition was diagnosed as uric acid poisoning. I always felt heavy and dull, and had had attacks of rheumatic trouble. I was very nervous and frequently headaches came on. I used different remedies for this trouble but can honestly say that Doan's Kidney Pills gave me far better results than any other." (Statement given April 29, 1915).

On May 17, 1919 Mrs. Coorpender said: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me a cure that has been permanent and I am now enjoying the best of health. My opinion of this medicine is the same as it ever was." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coorpender had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

TO THE CITIZENS OF McCULLOCH COUNTY.

I have just learned that someone has started the report on me that if I am elected Tax Collector of McCulloch County, I would not be capable of filling the office, stating further that I was incompetent in the office of City Secretary, Treasurer and Tax Collector and Book-keeper for the Water and Light Company, and because of such incompetence had to give up the office.

I don't know who started this report, but I want to say to the people of McCulloch County, that it was put out for Campaign purposes and I am willing to leave my qualifications to the judgment of the people among whom I was raised.

I herewith furnish you with a statement from the men whom I served under, they constituting the Mayor and City Council, at that time; also a statement from the book-keeper for the Brady Water and Light Works, who succeeded me. Again thanking you for your support and assuring you that if I am elected, I will give your office my personal attention, I am,

Yours truly,
HUBERT ADKINS.

Brady, Texas, June 8, 1920.
To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that Hubert Adkins, who was City Secretary and Treasurer and Tax Collector for the City of Brady during a period of eight months during the years 1919 and 1920 was competent and efficient as such officer and kept his books and papers in a creditable manner and voluntarily retired from said office.

Ex-Mayor City of Brady.

LOCAL BRIEFS

The Standard made an error Tuesday in announcing the price of bran being sold by the Brady Brokerage day in announcing the price of bran is $3.35 per 100 lbs.

The many friends of Paul Klatt, who has been at the Brady sanitarium the past five or six weeks with a severe spell of fever, will be pleased to learn that he is much improved at last reports.

C. J. Hallett was a business visitor from Wagram yesterday and reported the death Tuesday of W. M. Wells, for 40 years past one of the most prominent and widely-known citizens of that section. Mr. Wells was aged about 70 years. He had been in bad health for a long time and his death was not entirely unexpected. Funeral services were held Wednesday, interment being made in the Wagram cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baker and family arrived here Tuesday from Ranger for a visit with relatives and friends. Louis says that since the rains, drilling operations at Ranger have taken on renewed life, and money is plentiful. However, Ranger offers no amusement or pleasure equal to camping and fishing on the streams in Old McCulloch, and they expect to spend a good part of their vacation period in that form of recreation.

The Standard's good friend, Max Ficker, was in Wednesday from the Ranch Branch country on a shopping expedition. Accompanying him were his sons, Charlie, Mack and Ova, and daughter, Miss Laura. Max says his section of the country is looking mighty prosperous. He says he will have roasting ears within the next couple weeks (most everybody will want to visit him then) and his maize is already heading out. He planted his corn and maize in March, and says it is his great regret that he did not plant all his corn and maize at that time. However, his neighbors and friends poked so much fun at him for his folly (?) in planting during that dry period, that he finally decided they must be right, and so quit off. Max was right, after all, and next time is going ahead just as common sense tells him to. (If this write-up doesn't bring the editor a mess of roasting ears, we'll never again accuse Max of being the handsomest man in Mason county).
