

MT. REMNANT BRIGADE, U.C.V., TO HOLD 1921 REUNION IN BRADY

BRADY CAPTURES THE NEXT ANNUAL REUNION CONFEDERATE VETERANS

COMMITTEE FROM BRADY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRESENTS INVITATION TO VETERANS AT MASON REUNION, AND OLD SOLDIERS VOTES FOR BRADY.

Brady will be hostess to the 1921 reunion of the Mountain Remnant Brigade of ex-Confederate veterans. The holding of the reunion next year in Brady was assured when the veterans in attendance at the annual assembly at Mason last Thursday voted to accept the hospitality of Brady the coming year. The invitation was presented the old soldiers in behalf of Brady by representatives of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, which body had last week unanimously endorsed the plan to have the next reunion in Brady.

Credit for the securing of the reunion here next year goes to Messrs.

G. C. Kirk, Sam McCollum, T. P. Grant and W. D. Jordan, the committee appointed by the Brady Chamber of Commerce to present Brady's invitation to the veterans. The committee made the journey to Mason Thursday afternoon and presented Brady's claims so effectively that although several other towns had announced their intention of trying for the next reunion, the veterans voted unanimously to accept the Brady offer.

Brady business men plan to make the reunion next year one of the most notable events ever recorded by the veterans, and have planned a long list of entertainment and enjoyment for the three days of the meeting.

ARGO DRILLING CO. TO DEVELOP MERCURY FIELD

The Argo Drilling Co. of Shreveport, La., is the newest oil development company to enter the McCulloch county field. The company has just signed a contract to drill a well 2 1-2 miles north of Mercury, and already have a rig on the ground capable of going 2,000 ft. The well is to be spudded in within the next few days.

The foregoing is the information obtained from O. L. Billingsley, president of the company, who, in company with W. K. Byrom, treasurer, and E. J. Rasmussen, field superintendent, was here Monday looking over the McCulloch county situation and completing preparations for their operations.

The new well will be drilled in the heart of the newly developed White field, in which five producing wells have already been brought in. The well is to be drilled on the line between surveys 838 and 840, and Mr. Billingsley was very enthusiastic concerning their prospects of bringing in a good well, since the geological formations are not only most favorable, but the location is on a direct line between the Brownwood gas field and the Cooper wells. There is every reason to hope for a flowing well at about 500 ft., according to reports of geologists on this section.

CARNIVAL GREAT SUCCESS STATES CHIEF WHITEMAN

"From a financial standpoint, the carnival was a great success, so far as the fire boys are concerned," stated Fire Chief J. B. Whiteman this morning, "and if we could have a carnival with as splendid returns once or twice a year, the fire boys themselves would soon be able to build a fire hall."

Exact figures on the returns had by the fire boys from the carnival proceeds are not available, as all expenses have not yet been taken care of. However, it is certain to be a very substantial figure, and no one will deny for a moment but what the fire boys are entitled to their share. Not only did they give up their nights entirely to supervision of the carnival grounds, but they were constantly on the job from early to late in taking tickets and checking up with the carnival manager. Further than that, not only did they give freely of their time and services, but every cent of the proceeds goes into the fire department fund, and is available only for the improvement and betterment of the fire department and its services.

The fire department is one of Brady's most valuable assets. It has been made so chiefly through the voluntary efforts of the members of the fire department themselves. Brady citizens owe a debt of gratitude to the fire department. They should pay it by assisting the fire boys in securing permanent and adequate quarters.

HONEST INJUN.

HONEST IN JUN ————
Now is the time for all good men to come together and offer a premium for the first bale of McCulloch county grown cotton.

THE MASON ROAD.

The Mason road has again come up for annual consideration, just as it has for the past decade or more. It is a thorn in the flesh; the skeleton in Brady's closet; the barbed wire entanglement that has obstructed progress, improvement and betterment for these many years.

Will Brady and McCulloch county citizens finally pluck this cankerous sore, by a broad-minded, liberal and active policy of improvement of this most-important of all thoroughfares? We hope so!

The Standard is through with apologizing for the condition of the Mason road. No further excuse can be afforded as to neglect of our citizens in the rendering of this road thoroughly passable. To longer refuse to put the Mason road in first-class condition is akin to cutting off our nose to spite our face.

Brady citizens are now working on a feasible and practical solution of the problem. It is merely a joint action upon the part of the Brady and McCulloch county citizens and the commissioners' court to get the road in shape for the fall business. The court promises to place $3,000 on the road if the citizens will put up a like amount. In addition, it is hoped to get the farmers, stockmen and citizens living along the Mason road to donate the time of teams and hands to the work of improvement.

In other words, it is a three-cornered proposition wherein everyone concerned benefits. For the commissioners' court, the money spent in working the road, is money wisely spent. The citizens who donate, are certain to secure returns, if not in actual business increase, then at least in the satisfaction of knowing they have helped a worthy cause and have helped to remove the smut from Brady's eye. To those who live on the road, and who must at intervals traverse it, the benefits are too apparent to need enumeration.

The worst part of the road is from Otte's to the river. This stretch is to be improved forthwith. Brady must do her part. The commissioners will do their part. Every citizen along the Mason road is certain to see the advantage and be entirely willing to lend his time, teams and best efforts.

Announcement was made in the Mason News the past week that Irl Larrimore had acquired a half interest in that paper and, in future, would be actively associated with Martin D. Loring in its management and publication. Incidentally the purchase of a modern linotype machine was announced, and the best of service is assured by the new firm to citizens of Mason county. The Mason News is one of the pioneers of this section, having been established 43 years ago. For the past six years it has been ably edited and managed by Mr. Loring. The burdens of operation have become so heavy, however, that Mr. Loring was compelled to secure help, and in his association with Mr. Larrimore the News should be wonderfully benefited. Irl is a Mason product; however, he has had experience in a number of leading cities and has been employed of the foremost papers of several years ago he was Standard for a pleasure in trust-elp ful in the performance of his duties. The best of wishes are extended the Messrs. Loring and Larrimore, and may every success crown their newspaper venture.

COX SAYS MONROE DOCTRINE VERY ESSENCE OF ARTICLE 10

Following are the high spots of Governor Cox's speech of acceptance: "I thank God I take up the standard of Democracy a free man, unfettered by promises and happy in the consciousness of untrammelled opportunity to render a service."

"Senator Harding's pledge of 'formal and effective peace so soon as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration means but one thing—a separate peace with Germany.'"

"This would be the most disheartening event in civilization since the Russians made their separate peace with Germany and infinitely more unworthy."

"No less an authority than Senator Lodge said that to make peace except in company with the Allies 'would brand us everlasting with dishonor and bring ruin to us.'"

"To attempt, after peace is declared with Germany, to approach Europe with the view to entering 'a new relationship,' as Harding proposed, would either be regarded as arrant madness or attempted international bossism."

"The Monroe Doctrine is the very essence of Article 10 of the Versailles covenant. Skeptics viewed Monroe's mandate with alarm... yet not a shot has been fired in almost a hundred years in preserving sovereign rights on this hemisphere."

"Every high school youngster in the land knows that no treaty can override our Constitution, which reserves to Congress alone the power to declare war."

"Senator Harding, as the Republican candidate, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it (the league). As the Democratic nominee, I favor going in. The matter should be approached without thought of the bitterness of the past. We hear it said that interpretations are unnecessary... but they will at least be reassuring to many of our citizens."

"Agreement without injury to the covenant is now of pressing importance. The first duty of the new administration clearly will be the ratification of the treaty."

"Federal taxation must be heavily reduced and this will be done at once if a Democratic administration is chosen. Annoying consumption taxes, now unjustified, should be repealed."

"As a possible substitute for the excess profits tax, I suggest a small tax, probably 1 to 1 1/2 per cent on the total business of every going concern."

"The public official who fails to enforce the law is an enemy both to the Constitution and to the American principle of majority rule."

"Morals cannot easily be produced by statute. The writ of injunction should not be abused. We need a definite and precise statement of policy as to what business men and working men may do and may not do by way of combination and collective action. Neither labor nor capital should at any time take action that would put in jeopardy the public welfare."

"I am convinced that the expense of the Government can without loss of efficiency be reduced to a maximum of $4,000,000,000, including sinking fund and interest on the national debt, with adoption of a budget system."

"The discourtesy to the President is an affair of political intrigue. History will make it odious. As well might it be directed at a wounded soldier of the war."

A Narrow Escape.
Hicks was a tall, angular lad from the backwoods who had never before seen a train. As he stood with his city cousin in the long station shed and watched the puffing engine and the long line of cars roar in, his face turned ashen.

"What's the matter, Bill?" asked the cousin.
"My gosh!" gasped Hicks. "If that dern thing had of come in sideways it would of wiped us all out."—American Legion Weekly.

MRS. E. B. RAMSAY TELLS OF PACIFIC WONDERS—A SUBMARINE OCEAN GARDEN

Los Angeles, Calif., July 29.

Editor Brady Standard:

Will try and tell you something of our trip to the Catalena islands. We went from Los Angeles to Wilmington, a distance of 20 miles on an electric car. There we took the steamboat, "Crolon." It is a new boat, 300 feet in length with 42 ft. beam; there were fourteen hundred passengers aboard all bound for Catalena islands. We were soon on our way and when we got among the white caps for the sea was rough, a lot of people got sick. I began to have a little feeling of wishing I was back home, but I moved to another part of the boat and stood in the wind, and was soon myself again and enjoyed the trip. We had some nice music and some people were dancing but I did not join them as I was a little out of practice. We saw a lot of flying fish. They could fly for quite a distance without stopping. After landing at Crolon, a small town on the island, for which our boat was named, we took the glass bottomed boat and were soon passing over the noted submarine garden. Our boat traveled very slowly so that we could get a better view. We saw a great variety of beautiful sea weeds, shells and gold and spotted fish. A man just in his bathing suit dived and brought up some shells. For a short time he lay near the bottom of the sea on his back, with mouth and eyes wide open looking up at us.

After getting back to Avalon we walked around and took some pictures of the place. It has a fine hotel, several cafeterias and other stores; also some nice residences. Catalena island is 22 miles long and about 7 miles wide. Wild goats rove over its hills. On our way back we passed six large war ships that were anchored near San Pedro. As we passed quite near one of them the boys began yelling and waving their hands and the band started playing "The Star-Spangled Banner." We were two and a half hours coming across. It is a wonderful trip and I would advise anyone coming to California not to miss this trip. Another place of interest that we have visited is Long Beach. This is one of the finest beaches in the world and has a population of thirty thousand inhabitants, and thousands of tourists visit this beach every day. They have all kinds of amusements there, but the greatest attraction is the bathing in the ocean and hundreds are in the water all the time.

There is one great advantage that I see, for the people around these beaches. They don't have to worry about the high cost of clothing. Another place that we have visited is Arrowhead. There is a fine hospital there, belonging to the government and our wounded soldiers are sent there. It is in the San Bernadina Mountains and a mile above sealevel. There is a spring near there that the water is so hot you can boil eggs in it.

Well, I have had the displeasure of being in several earthquakes lately. They are getting to be a very common thing in Los Angeles. They haven't been hard enough yet to do much damage here, but it keeps a person a little uneasy for we don't know at what time we might have a bad one.

Mr. Editor, I want to tell you that we love to read The Brady Standard at home—but we appreciate it still more out here. And I want to thank you for sending it to us. We expect to go back to Eastland next week and you need not be surprised to see us back in Brady in a very short time. This is a great country, but after all there is no place like home sweet home, and that is Brady for me.

HARDLY KNEW HER AT FIRST SIGHT

Mrs. White's Neighbors Are All Talking About Her Wonderful Recovery.

"When my wife began taking Tanlac she weighed only ninety-five pounds; now she weighs one hundred and forty-three and her wonderful recovery is the talk of our neighborhood," said Ben White, of 111 Crescent Ave., Peoria, Ill.

"Mrs. White has been suffering from stomach trouble and nervousness eighteen years," he continued, "and for a long time had been unable to leave the place. We spent all the money I could get for medicines and treatments but she never got any better. She was a nervous wreck and physical wreck and I have seen her nearly die with cramps in her stomach and after eating she could hardly breathe for the gas. Headaches drove her nearly distracted and I have stayed home with her weeks at a time, fearing she would never pull through, for she was getting worse all the time."

"After hearing so much talk about Tanlac I bought some for my wife and in just a few days she could eat and sleep better. She has now taken about twelve bottles and is the very picture of health. Why, some of her friends hardly know her at first sight now. She is as well and happy as a person can be."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Mercury by J. T. Matlock and in Rochelle by C. W. Carr.

Snider-Wilhelm.
The marriage of Miss Ruhamma Snider and Mr. Clyde Wilhelm was celebrated at the Presbyterian parsonage at 8:00 o'clock last Saturday night, the Rev. S. H. Jones performing the ceremony. The marriage was a quiet affair, the only attendants being the Misses Lula and Jim Gay, and Messrs. Joe Ogden and Hardin Jones. Immediately after the wedding the happy couple left, amidst the congratulations and good wishes of friends assembled at the station, on the night train enroute to Galveston, where they will make their home.

The groom is a splendid young man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilhelm, former Brady residents, and who now live at Eden, and for a number of years made his home in Brady during which time he formed the acquaintance of his bride and the romance which ended so happily had its beginning. For the past two years he has made his home in Galveston, being a valued employe of the Electric garage at that place. His bride is a young lady of great charm and attractiveness and is possessed of a charm of manner that has made her a universal favorite among the younger set, as well as with the older folks. She is a Brady product, the daughter of Mrs. J. A. Snider, and was educated in the Brady schools, following which she received a special business course. For the past year she has held a splendid position with the local house of Walker-Smith Co.

The Standard joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm in extending every wish for their complete happiness, success and welfare.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—
To the Sheriff or any Constable of McCulloch County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. M. McMorris by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 35th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 35th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of McCulloch County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Brady, on the third Monday in September A. D., 1920, the same being the 20th day of September, A. D., 1920, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 15th day of July, A. D., 1920 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1937, wherein May McMorris is Plaintiff, and W. M. McMorris is Defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has been for a number of years next preceding the filing of this petition, and has resided in McCulloch County for a number of years next preceding the filing of this petition, and that the residence of defendant is unknown to plaintiff; that on or about the — day of —, 1893, plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant, and plaintiff and defendant continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 10th day of September, 1916, at which time defendant permanently abandoned plaintiff and has ever since remained apart from plaintiff; that at the time of said abandonment plaintiff was the mother of a number of children by defendant, which children were minors and dependent upon plaintiff for support, and plaintiff has maintained and supported herself and her children ever since said abandonment without aid from defendant and defendant has contributed nothing toward the support of plaintiff or their children since said abandonment by defendant; that plaintiff was always faithful and dutiful to defendant during their married life and did nothing to merit such treatment from defendant. Plaintiff prays that defendant be cited by publication to appear and answer herein, and for judgment dissolving the marriage relations subsisting between plaintiff and defendant and awarding plaintiff a legal divorce, for costs of suit, and for general relief in both law and equity.

Herein Fa'l Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Kindergarten Helps for Parents

This is No. 51 of a series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association. They will appear weekly in these columns.

By MRS. LAURA WILLARD LAWRENCE.

If you should ask any kindergarten what punishment she relies on in all cases needing instant attention she would probably answer, isolating a child from the group and excluding him from all work of play for a short time. Usually putting John to one side where he can see what he is missing will be sufficient, and the question, after a few minutes, as to whether he is now ready to join the class again will meet with a ready acquiescence.

Does this plan work as well in the home as in kindergarten? It certainly does, but it must be differently managed. Since there is not so much definite work or play going on in the home as in kindergarten, exclusion has to be more complete to be noticed by the child. That is to say, something more will be necessary than simply having him draw his chair to one side of the room. It must be, "Go away by yourself, John, until you are ready to be a pleasant companion again." Banishment must be complete even to closing the door. Of course, cries will ensue, sometimes screams, but they are caused by no physical pain, and the mental shock of being entirely alone and cut off from the family is generally all that is needed to stop naughtiness. After the tempest is over, the mother should go to her little one and say, "We want you when you are yourself again, John. Can we have you back now?"

Many of the minor naughtinesses, such as whining, teasing, mimicking, shoving, snatching and stamping, are easily managed in this simple way.

Just here let me say we mothers must be careful in our choice of words for wrong actions. Let us not call them bad, or even naughty. If a child is disagreeable or unkind when he is tired, we shouldn't tell him that he is bad. Save that worst word for real wrong like slapping, sneaking or deceiving and the like. Then it will carry weight and mean something. Real wrongs must be met with severe punishments such as depriving the child of some cherished possession.

Even a baby as young as a year old feels isolation. One of our little ones was forming a habit of throwing herself back in her high chair and screaming all during meal time because she didn't get things just as she wanted them. She was cured in less than a week by her father's taking her, chair and all, to the kitchen the minute she began and leaving her there behind a closed door until she stopped. How long did she cry? At the most, two or three minutes, and less and less each time, until she gave up the habit entirely.

Care must be taken to go to the child as soon as the storm passes, or he will begin to cry again from a feeling of neglect. The isolation method of punishment takes time, but any kind of punishment takes time except the ever easy slap and shake which do so little good and soon breed in a child the fear of physical violence.

By a little wise thinking and skillful management it is often possible to avoid punishments entirely. One method is to avoid the issue by diverting the attention. Another simple preventive is to explain actions and happenings to children, without any note of irritation in the voice. Even two and three year olds can grasp much more than most people suppose if it is only told them in language they can understand. Explain what is going to happen and why they should act in such and such a way; explain what did happen and why you asked them to act as you did. Help to trace an action and establish a connection between effect and cause.

Of course, explanation may be carried to excess. Sometimes instant and unquestioning obedience is necessary for safety. Positive commands will always be obeyed if the children know that as soon as possible explanations will follow. When a grown-up obeys blind orders he expects that the reason for them will be explained to him later. Why should not a child expect the same treatment? This method develops the intelligent side of a child's mind, and helps much in good citizenship later on.

BODY OF VICTIM GREAT LAKES AC- CIDENT ARRIVES

The body of Carey Kennedy, victim of accidental shooting at Great Lakes, Ill., arrived Monday morning, and was carried to the home of the boy's father, E. B. Kennedy, at Waldrip, where funeral services will be held this (Tuesday) afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. L. S. Richardson being in charge. Interment is to be made in the cemetery at Marion.

No further particulars of the tragedy have become known by relatives or friends here, and aside from the original telegram stating that the boy had been shot through the breast, nothing has been learned. The body was shipped without delay, apparently, as four days were required to make the trip, which allowed but one day for preparation of the body for shipment following the lad's death Wednesday morning of last week. So far as is known, no military escort was given the body.

Carey Kennedy, at the time of death, was 18 years of age, and had been in military service eighteen months, having enlisted at New Wilson, Okla. He had spent his entire training period at the Great Lakes station. His untimely death is a shock to relatives, and the many friends of the family as well.

Her husband was counting his ready cash when she stole up behind him and laid her hand on a $20 bill. "I saw a lovely bathing suit yesterday," she said, "and this would just about cover it."

"It would eh?" he retorted. "Then get it by all means. I think the one you have now could be covered by a couple of postage stamps."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. ARTIFICIAL ICE FIRST
MANUFACTURED IN 1869.
JEFFERSON MAN CLAIMS

Some few years ago—way back in 1869—Texas was a mighty warm place. Natural and man-made elements caused one's temperature to ascend far beyond the comfortable mark, but keeping in pace with all things progressive, Texas assumed the lead in the production of incentives for much cooler things.

The special committee appointed to probe with cool deliberation ice conditions in Dallas has arrived at no definite conclusion, but one important factor was brought to the attention of the committee by the testimony submitted at the hearing of ice dealers and distributors and that was that Texas belongs the distinction of perfecting the first ice machine.

Over in Jefferson, which was a thriving big community some years ago, conditions became entirely too warm for the inhabitants. Provisions would not keep from day to day and the greater portion of milk consumed was a grade of buttermilk, although there was an abundance of fresh dairy cows in the near vicinity. Some refrigerating process was imperative in order to sustain the health of the community, and it befell two inventors by the name of Boyd and Scott to perfect the first ice machine which later was sold to Chicago interests for $40,000.

Strange as it may appear in Jefferson there is one man who still entertains those almost forgotten recollections of days of yore. In a letter to The News W. R. Nennon of Jefferson describes the first ice machine and its finished product. According to the letter the first artificial ice to be placed on the market was three inches thick and it found a ready market.—Dallas News.

E. E. SPILLER TELLS OF VISIT TO MAMMOTH CAVE —NATURE'S WONDER IN KY.

E. E. Spiller returned Monday from a three weeks' vacation spent largely in Kentucky, he and Mrs. Spiller being guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Todd, at Columbia, Ky. He reports a most enjoyable time, they having visited a number of places of unusual interest. Mrs. Spiller remained in Kentucky on account of the illness of an aunt, but expects to return to Brady within the next few weeks.

One of the most noteworthy of the places visited by Mr. and Mrs. Spiller was the Mammoth Cave, one of the natural wonders of the world. While but little attempt has been made to exploit this place, and but little has been accomplished towards caring for tourists, it is nevertheless visited by great numbers. The cave is a vast underground chamber, with tunnels and side chambers leading for miles underground. In company with some 47 other tourists, the Spillers traversed the five-mile underground route, which required something like three hours' time. While impossible of description, the caves are truly wonderful. A river, 370 ft. below the surface, runs thru Mammoth Cave, and the tourists enjoyed a boat ride on the same for a short distance. The river flows smoothly and placidly, and the guide propelled the boat by standing in the end and pushing against the low ceiling overhead. At times the river gets on a rise and inundates some of the lower paths in the cave. Blind fish are said to inhabit the river, although none were seen by the Spillers. There is another underground route in the cave, about nine miles in length and which requires some five hours to travel. The accommodations are few, and aside from the widening of some of the paths, and the raising of low places where formerly one had to crawl through, no noteworthy improvements have been made. No electric lights have been installed, and the tourists must avail themselves of torches for lights. The cave is owned by private interests, who make no attempt to secure the world-wide tourist trade that could be had if the wonder was properly advertised.

In St. Louis Mr. Spiller saw a great game of ball between the St. Louis and Washington American league ball teams, and also enjoyed a visit and trip through the immense St. Louis postoffice building. He was informed that the postoffice force was something like 300 men short, with but few applicants although examinations are being constantly held. The men work something like 14 hours a day, or six hours overtime. A tunnel connects the postoffice building with the union depot, and through it all mail is delivered into the postoffice building.

At Fort Worth Mr. Spiller arrived just in time to witness the funeral of Omer Locklear, the great stunt aviator, who lost his life in California last week while in an exhibition flight for the movies. While there he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleeson, Mrs. Fleeson having formerly been Miss Margaret Todd of Brady. Mr. Fleeson is now employed as paymaster at Barron Field. He is an expert mechanic and flyer, having received his training during the war, and was one of the number of air pilots who escorted the funeral procession on its way to the cemetery. The big planes flown at Barron Field have a minimum speed of 120 miles an hour. The Spad is a smaller machine, and the Curtiss is half-way between the small and the large machines.

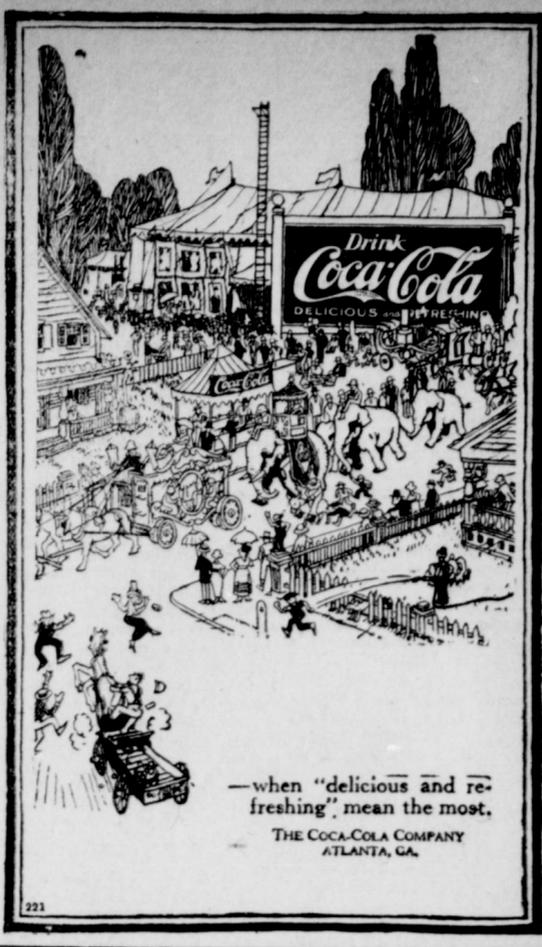

The Insomnia Cure.

"A friend who had heard that I suffered from insomnia," said Mr. Blinky, "told me of a sure cure. 'Eat a couple of bananas and drink two or three glasses of milk before going to bed,' he said, 'and I'll warrant you'll be asleep within half an hour.'"

"I did as he suggested and went to sleep soon after my retirement. Then a friend with his head under his arm came along and asked me if I wanted to buy his feet. I was negotiating with him when the dragon on which I was riding slipped out of his skin and left me floating in mid-air."

"While I was considering how I should get down, a bull with two heads peered over one edge of the wall and said he would haul me up if I would first climb up and rig a windlass for him. So as I was sliding down the mountain-side the conductor came in, and I asked him when the train would reach my station."

"We passed your station two hundred years ago," he said calmly folding the train up and slipping it into his vest pocket. At this juncture I awoke and found I had been asleep almost ten minutes."

Proving It.

Among the morning batch of culprits haled before a Cleveland magistrate was one whom the Judge addressed thus:

"The charge against you is that you attempted to hold up a pedestrian at 2 o'clock this morning. What have you to say for yourself?"

"Not guilty, your honor. I can prove a lullaby."

The Judge smiled in spite of himself. You mean an alibi.

"Begging your honor's pardon, it was a lullaby. My wife will swear that at 2 o'clock this morning I was walking the floor with the baby."

LOCAL BRIEFS

B. D. Black, county demonstration agent, leaves this afternoon for the San Saba fair, carrying with him a truck load of fancy pigs belonging to various Agricultural club boys, which he will have on exhibition at the fair.

W. F. Evans last Friday night began his duties as night watchman, the salary and expenses of the office having been guaranteed by subscriptions made by local business men. The matter of installing punch clocks will be taken up at the next meeting of the council.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Granville are the recipients of congratulations upon the arrival of another fine boy at their home on Saturday, August 7th. Mother and babe are reported doing splendidly, and Dr. Granville is walking on clouds and is more radiantly happy than ever.

Joe Ogden left Saturday night for Stamford, where he has accepted a position with the Waples-Platter Grocer Co. Joe is a splendid young man, and is not only popular with all who know him, but is an alert and progressive young business man, and will be a valuable acquisition to the Waples-Platter firm.

The Waring well proved to be a dry hole and, the casing pulled and the equipment is being shipped out to Cisco. The Leonard Bros. will do no further drilling here, though Mr. B. Leonard says he is confident there is oil in this locality in paying quantities and that this field will eventually be developed. We are sorry to lose Mr. Leonard and the part of the crew who will leave as they have been in Eden until it seems like they belong here.—Eden Echo.

Wm. Henry was a business visitor in Brady the past week, having come here from Princeton, N. J., to look after property interests. Mr. Henry, in company with his brother, F. M. Henry of Minneapolis, Minn., and other heirs, own something like 2,000 acres in Northwest McCulloch and Cencho counties, and Mr. Henry was greatly interested in oil developments in that section. He is firmly of the belief that a great pool of oil underlies McCulloch county, and is hoping to see development continue until the pool is discovered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hughes and two sons returned Monday from Temple, where they have had their oldest son, Billie, under examination by a specialist. The little fellow was found to be suffering with a stone in his kidney, which may necessitate an operation being performed in order to secure relief. Mr. Hughes has been spending the summer at College Station, to which place the family will remove about the first of next month, while Mrs. Hughes and children have been with relatives at San Angelo. They expect to spend several weeks here completing preparations for their removal to their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cottrell and family returned Saturday following a three-years' absence from the county, and will again make their home here, Mr. Cottrell having accepted a position in the hardware department of the O. D. Mann & Son store. For a time the family was located in Dallas and vicinity, and more recently has made their home in Kemp, Texas, where Mr. Cottrell was employed in the grocery business. He reports they are more than glad to again be among their friends here, and states that the Brady country never looked more prosperous nor more welcome than upon their return here.

They never go too far from Brady to lose interest in the old town—and they never go too far but what The Standard can and does carry to them the news of town and country. There's Geo. F. King, geologist and prominent oil operator, who made his home in Brady for a year or two. King is now operating in the Alpine section—but Brady developments still claim his attention and interest. He writes: "I have forgotten what your subscription rate is; however, send me a dollar's worth (that might be only one issue! Ha! Ha!) Things look good for a large field over here. I am in hopes that the wells on the Hall-Dutton tract are getting along nicely, as Thad deserves all he can get of good going. We will be here about 30 days home; then I will notify you of my California address."

F. W. Shield was in Brady Monday from Doole on a business visit. He is a son of R. F. Shield, former McCulloch county citizen, who over the line in Cencho county and in the Millersview section. The many friends of the younger Mr. Shield will be pleased to learn that he has decided to locate permanently in McCulloch county, and that he is now associated with L. L. Deen at Doole as the junior member of the firm of Deen & Shields, general merchants. Shields will have charge of the store as general manager, while Mr. Deen will enjoy a rest from active business, at least long enough to recuperate. Mr. Shields has for some time been located at Tyler, Texas, where he was chief clerk and general store keeper of the general supply department of the Cotton Belt. While he held a most pleasant and profitable position, old McCulloch held a still warmer spot in his heart, and he secure a leave of absence just long enough to permit him to return here and definitely assure himself that McCulloch county was the best place on earth.

W. A. Hamilton was here from Dallas Saturday greeting his friends while representing the Draughon's Practical Business college. He expects to visit various points in the county before returning to Dallas. Mrs. Hamilton and children are guests of her parents at Rochelle during his stay in the county.

That "all in" feeling so common in hot weather is not due to heat alone, but to an unhealthy condition in the liver, stomach and bowels. To prevent a spell of sickness take Prickly Ash Bitters. Men find it excellent as a system cleanser and regulator. Price $1.25 per bottle. Trigg Drug Co., Special Agents.

"Why I Put Up With Rats for Years," writes N. Windsor, Farmer. "Years ago I bought some rat poison, which nearly killed our fine water dog. It so scared us that we suffered a long time with rats until my neighbor told me about RAT-SNAP. That's the sure rat killer and a safe one." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by O. D. Mann & Sons and Trigg Drug Co.

ARKANSAS EXHIBIT IN STANDARD SHOW WINDOW OF INTEREST TO MANY

There are many former Arkansawyers, as well as native Texans and natives of other sections of the great U. S., who will find the exhibit of Arkansas products, now on display in The Brady Standard show window of more than passing interest. The collection was gathered during the past month by our friend, J. B. Cottrell, during his sojourn in Arkansas, and Mr. Cottrell the past week favored us with a brief description of the various articles in the exhibit.

There are walking canes cut by Mr. Cottrell from black locust, hickory, pine, paw-paw and sassafras wood—and one of the most peculiar features of the black locust stick is that it is punctured in hundreds of places with sharp, clean holes about the size of a darning needle. All the holes are clean-cut and smooth as though bored with a tiny gimlet. Mr. Cottrell states that the holes were made by a borer which affects the black locust.

In addition, there are bits of black oak, cane, ash, hazelnut, white maple, black gum, sweet maple and red cedar, all of which woods are native to Arkansas.

One of the most remarkable of the trophies is the pine knot, a mussel-shell shaped piece of wood, filled with pitch pine, and solid as iron, the like of which has served more than one Arkansawyer in times past as a torch.

Then there is a bit of home-spun, made over fifty years ago, and which is as bright and strong and serviceable today as the day it was taken from the loom. Mr. Cottrell had the piece of home-spun made up into a bag in which to carry his souvenirs. The home-spun was woven on a shuttle and loom by Mrs. Cottrell's aunt, 56 years ago.

The hide of a full-grown ground hog is another bit of curiosity, especially to all those who have never seen a specimen of this peculiar varmint, and which is popularly supposed to be a harbinger of cold or warm Spring weather.

If you have never seen a pine cone, then examine the collection—the cone will be easily recognizable because of its cone-shape.

Of the mineral specimens the most peculiar, without doubt, is the bit of "turkey fat," a peculiar rock formation which gets its name from the fact that it resembles for all the world a hunk of turkey fat. Other rocks include bits of lead, copper and other ores for which the mines of Arkansas are famous.

C. H. Vincent and Miss Amy Anderson left Sunday night on their semi-annual trip and visit to northern markets.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Zweig returned last Saturday morning from their marketing trip and visit in St. Louis and other northern points.

Miss Minnie Jones spent the night in the Kelly home one night last week on her way back to her home at Millersview from a visit to Brady.—Eden Echo.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Guyton returned last week to their home at Ranger following a week's visit here with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Priddy.

Robert Todd, county treasurer of Milam county, accompanied by his nephew, Oscar Todd, arrived here this week from Cameron for a visit with friends. Accompanied by W. B. Taylor, they are now enjoying a fishing trip and outing on the San Saba river.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Russell have been guests of the lady's sister, Mrs. L. Y. Calliham, following their return from a trip to and visit in Austin. They expect to attend the San Saba fair this week before returning to their home at Millersview.

Will Broad came near to being listed with the casualties Tuesday afternoon on the American Legion race course while conducting preliminary tryouts for the races of the following day. He was knocked down by a horse that flew the track near the finish and was rendered unconscious for several hours. The accident caused him to be laid up several days and to miss the Legion celebration.—Coleman Democrat-Voice.

Death of D. H. Campbell. The death of D. H. Campbell occurred on Wednesday, August 4th, at Seadrift, Texas, where Mr. Campbell had made his home the past three years. The body was shipped to Brady, arriving here Friday, and was taken in charge at the union depot by the Masonic fraternity, and laid to rest in the Brady cemetery with full Masonic honors. The Rev. T. P. Grant was in charge of the ceremonies.

Mr. Campbell was well known to McCulloch county citizens, having made his home in the Cow Creek community for some ten years prior to removing to Seadrift. His removal from the county was actuated by a desire to find some more favorable climate, Mr. Campbell suffering attacks of asthma at intervals. Since locating at Seadrift he had engaged in truck farming and was prospering up to the time of the Corpus Christi storm, which inundated his place and caused him heavy loss.

Mr. Campbell was never married, and leaves no immediate kin. The late Henry Dial was a half-brother. The body was laid to rest beside that of his mother, who passed away a number of years ago.

SAFE BLOWERS GET CASH WHEN FRISCO SAFE WAS BLOWN IN BROWNWOOD

The Brownwood Bulletin reports the following account of the safe-blowing which occurred in that town the night of August 5th:

"The safe in the ticket office of the Frisco railroad at the passenger station was blown open at an early hour this morning and $376.04 taken away by the burglars.

"The clock on the wall of the office shows that the explosion which blew off the safe door occurred at 3:45 o'clock, as the hands stopped at that time. Several parties who were at the freight depot or in the immediate vicinity stated that they heard an explosion at what they thought to be about 4:00 o'clock, but paid no attention to it as no further noise was heard. J. J. McDaniel, the baggage man at the Frisco, was the first to discover that something had gone wrong and this he found out when he came to the office to begin his duties shortly before 6 o'clock this morning when he found one of the doors to the other rooms of the building open. Without attempting to investigate further he at once telephoned George Gardenhire, agent in charge of the office here, and Mr. Gardenhire came down, reaching the office almost at the same time that D. D. Porter, ticket agent, came in.

"Investigation showed that the small safe, which is known in commercial circles as No. 2 size, and which sat against the south wall of the office, had been blown open. Litter consisting mostly of pieces of cement, which is usually found between the walls of safes, covered the floor and the outer coverings of the door had been blown upward and was sticking in the wall near the ceiling some ten or twelve feet from the floor, the sharp corner having penetrated the wall to the depth of two inches or more.

"Entrance to the office had been made by prizing up one of the windows with a crowbar, which was left on the scene of the robbery and in blowing the safe nitro-glycerine had been used, the robber placing what is known as a "soap cup" at the top of the safe door immediately beneath the crack between the door and the body of the safe, filling the cup with explosive and permitting it to run inside the safe. He had also pasted soap on the cracks at the side of the door to prevent the explosive from running out. People who are in position to know, state that the robber used about seven times more explosive than was necessary, but the supposition is that he desired to do his job well and in good shape and in this he certainly was an artist.

"Having placed the nitro-glycerine in through the crack, the robber next drilled a small hole, only one hole, in the opinion of Mr. Gardenhire being drilled, and then placed his fuse. On leaving the office the robber went out by way of the doors. The same safe was blown open in the same office here once before, according to Mr. Gardenhire, and the various plugs on the well-battered door show that it has had quite a career with burglars and robbers."

FOR TORPID LIVER

Tennessee Lumberman Talks of His Successful Use of Black-Draught for Colds and Headaches.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for years. In fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A. Tagan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I get a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and I sets me right.

"Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."

Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance of Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Theford's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work. Ask for Theford's Black-Draught and insist on the genuine. NO-13
