BANQUET MARKS CLOSE FIRST YEAR OF RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

SUCCESS OF ORGANIZATION ATTESTED IN ENTHUSIASTIC ADDRESSES OF MEMBERS—ASSOCIATION DECLARED ONE OF BEST-ORGANIZED IN STATE OF TEXAS.

The first anniversary of the organization of the McCulloch County Retail Merchants association was marked by a splendid banquet given on last Tuesday night in the Queen hotel banquet hall. One hundred covers were laid for the members and guests attending, and every seat was taken, the dining hall being crowded to capacity. Sam McCollum presided over the meeting as toastmaster. Features of the program were the enthusiastic addresses by members of the association responding to toasts, a reading by Miss Neal, piano solo by Mrs. Jack Ragsdale and vocal solos by Mrs. Chas. Williams. A most novel and entertaining feature was the radio concert arranged through courtesy of Dr. Wm. C. Jones, and which brought the evening's program to a close.

The large attendance made the banquet hall a scene of splendor. The room was decorated in most attractive fashion, with autumn leaves and flags used in pleasing combination, while large bouquets of white chrysanthemums graced all the tables. A touch of the approaching Thanksgiving season was to be found in the splendid menu arranged by Mrs. Parker, and in the turkey cut-outs adorning the dessert. The following was the menu:

- Oyster Cocktail
- Roast Turkey
- Creamed Potatoes
- Cranberry Jelly
- Celery
- Ambrosia
- Coffee
- Cigars

The large attendance and enthusiasm of the members speaks volumes for the success attained by the local Retail Merchants association in developing better credits and in placing the credit business of the county upon a safe and firm financial basis. This fact was further attested in the addresses of the speakers of the evening, and proved beyond a question of doubt that not only was the organization effected at a most opportune time, but that it has been most successful in its operations, and had both given standing and proper rating to the citizenship who were properly entitled to the same, but had incidentally made a credit customers of innumerable others whose credit had suffered solely because of laxity or carelessness in meeting their business obligations. Further, it had proven beyond a shadow of a doubt the folly of extending credit where the cash basis should have strictly been enforced.

One of the most enthusiastic of the evening's speakers was W. D. Crothers, who declared the McCulloch County Retail Merchants association the best-organized and most efficient organization of its kind in the state, and who freely gave praise to the efficient work of the secretary, Miss Alice Self, and as well paid high compliment to the president, Bailey Jones, and the board of directors, as well as to the support and co-operation given the work by the membership as a whole.

Another notable address was the clear-cut talk made by Duke Mann, whose sound reasoning and unquestioned logic proved convincingly the great value of the organization to the business interests of the county, as well as to the individual members themselves. Bailey Jones, in reviewing the year's work, brought to the attention of those present, the concrete facts and figures which had proven beyond question the urgent need of such protection to the business men as is afforded by the association, and which resulted in its organization just a year ago. P. M. Lembke of Lohn met with the hearty approval of the body when he discussed upon the subject of courtesy, and emphasized the utmost importance of every merchant treating each and every customer with the utmost courtesy and attention—in fact, of giving "service with a smile." Joe T. Ogden, speaking from the viewpoint of an outsider, spoke to the point upon the subject of the benefit which every citizen derives from the limiting of credit to within the bounds of every person's financial ability and the stressing of the importance of promptly meeting all obligations when due. W. J. Evres read a splendid paper of his view on buying stock with a limited income, bringing

Then he posed for this exclusive photo.

PROMINENT MEN ON PROGRAM P. S. TO G. CONVENTION

That the annual convention of the Puget Sound-to-Gulf Highway association, to be held in Brady next Wednesday, is regarded as of great importance is evidenced by the array of speakers on the program, and among whom are a number of Texas' most prominent and influential citizens and good roads boosters. A message received this morning by Wm. D. Cargill, secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, from John Boswell, secretary of the highway association, announced that among the speakers to address the convention were Wm. Pierson, Judge of the Supreme Court, W. T. Wheeler, secretary of the State Highway association, W. W. McCrory, member of the State Highway commission, Percy Terrell, manager of the Gunter hotel at San Antonio, Lon Smith, State Comptroller, and D. E. Colp, president of the Old Spanish Trail.

This formidable array of speakers are coming here because of the great importance of the Puget Sound to Gulf highway, which has already received recognition as one of the major highways of the State, and there-

GROUND-SOAKING RAINS OVER ALL McCULLOCH CO.

Rains and northers have alternated one with the other on the week's program, with the rains having a little the best of the matter. Ground-soaking rains are reported from all over the McCulloch territory. Local drizzles to good showers, and since early Tuesday morning a fraction less than an inch of precipitation has been had. Practically every community in the county has had similar rains, while several points report much heavier downpours. Wednesday night a one-inch rain was had all over the Lohn valley, with one and one-half inches of precipitation Thursday morning. Melvin also had much heavier rain than Brady did. Between Brady and Brownwood heavy rains were had and all creeks and branches were reported full.

McCulloch county now has the much-to-be-desired bottom season, and the New Year promises to dawn auspiciously so far as crop prospects are concerned.

Mrs. Hall Poses

This is the first posed picture of Mrs. Frances Hall, wife of the New Brunswick, N. J., rector, who was found murdered with his prett-choir singer, Eleanor Mills.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 16.—Another loose end of the tangled evidence thread in the Hall-Mills murder case was gathered today, according to investigators, who announced that they had found and positively identified the rickety old wagon which Mrs. Jane Gibson, "the pig woman," claims she followed through Derussy's lane the night of the tragedy.

BRADY WATER & LIGHT WORKS TO INSTALL ANOTHER ENGINE AND PUMP

$10,000 WORTH OF NEW EQUIPMENT AND IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE AT LOCAL MUNICIPAL PLANT—NEW UNIT WILL BE USED ON WATER PUMPS.

New equipment and improvements at the Brady Water & Light Works plant totaling $10,000, have been authorized by the board of trustees. The new equipment includes a 100-horsepower Fairbanks-Morse engine and a new Sullivan air-compressor, which will be used exclusively to operate all the water pumps in the pit, thereby taking all this load off the two engines now in use, and which will be used in developing light and power. The new equipment will be a duplicate of the engines and compressor now in use, and will add another unit to the present 200-horsepower battery.

Order for the new equipment was placed October 4th, and shipment is anticipated by December 1st. The installation of the new equipment has become necessary due to the fact that when the peak load is being carried, both the engines now had, and each of which is of 100-horsepower capacity, have been found to be overloaded. By placing all the pumps on the new equipment, it will be possible to carry the light and power load on one engine only. This will enable complete overhauling of the other engine from time to time, thereby keeping it in first-class repair. If necessary, either one of the present engines may shut down for a period of 15 days without handicapping the plant in any manner. These two engines are now operating a 40-horsepower motor, also a 50-h. p., 15-h. p. and a 20-h. p. motor.

The new equipment is to be placed where the old boilers were formerly located, thereby utilizing the present building and avoiding the necessity of making an addition. This section is being re-roofed and will be in first-class shape by the time the new equipment arrives and is installed.

Co-incident with the installing of the new engine and compressor, a circulating pump will also be installed, the purpose of which will be to pump water direct to the motors for cooling, thereby avoiding the bursting of over-heated engine heads. A cooling tower has already been built, and the new pump will enable the cooling of 500-horsepower, or two additional units to the three 100-horsepower engines which will constitute the equipment when the new engine is installed.

Superintendent W. O. Kirchner also reports shipment of the electric cable for the street lights from Yonkers, N. Y., on the 11th. The street hoods, standards and pole wiring for the residential lights, as well as all equipment for Brady's white way has already been completed, and the only thing now lacking is the laying of the cable, which will be accomplished within a few days after its arrival in Brady.

FIVE FINE FAT BUCKS REWARD PARTY BRADY HUNTERS WHO RETURNED THURS.

Bringing back with them five fine bucks as trophies of the chase, the party of Brady hunters composed of B. A. Hallum, his nephew, Chas. Hallum of Brownwood, J. A. Maxwell, Walter Morrow and G. C. Kirk, returned Thursday, each wearing his happiest smile and all unanimous in declaring the hunt to have been one of the best they ever enjoyed. Edwards county furnished the paradise in which the game was bagged, and venison steaks and chops promise to be part of the hunters' bill of fare for some time to come, if the cold storage holds out.

BRADY, TEXAS, Nov. 17, 1922

Everybody in McCulloch county rejoices when they get their "feet wet."

MCCULLOCH PROSPERITY.

Straws show which way the wind blows. Also, judge a community's prosperity by the number of beggars that come within its gates. According to that measure, Brady and McCulloch county must be beggar's paradise. There is scarcely a day but what some beggar comes here, soliciting alms and aid with piteous appeal. There are the blind, the halt and the lame; the paralytics, the rheumatics and epileptics. There are ambitious deaf and dumb men who want to go to college via the beggar's route. There are old and decrepit, ragged and dirty beggars. The steady stream of this class of visitors arouses suspicion as to a well-organized beggars' organization, which serves as a clearing house for the beggars, picks out the "sucker" towns and communities for the members and sends them out on a schedule, thereby avoiding any two of them attempting to "work" a town simultaneously. Questioned in this regard, one of last week's visitors readily admitted some such sort of an organization, and countered by stating that every other line and class of business was organized for protection and mutual advancement.

Placing begging upon a business basis may be splendid policy upon the part of the beggars, but at the same time it robs their appeal of much of the spirit of charity which is presumed to be the guiding motive in the giving of alms. It also suggests that perhaps towns and communities should, themselves, have an organization which should pass upon all cases of beggars and begging, and sanction only those who are really worthy.

MEDIEVAL JIM WHITE.

Now it develops, as a further argument in The Bulletin's contention that bobbed hair is both proper and sensible, that Joan of Arc, the French national heroine, wore her hair bobbed. And there was never an anti-bobber who achieved more gloriously than she.—Brownwood Bulletin.

No doubt but that Editor Jim White imagines himself in days of old, when warriors bold strode about in cast-iron uniforms, and, methinks, gazed upon the fair necks of fourteenth century flappers through hooded visors and similar forms of shock absorbers. Jim is just about as archaic as flappers are presumed to be frivolous. If he should ever recover from his bobbed haidobession, he would be electrified, no doubt, to

Christmas is just around the corner, and Santa is dividing time between being mighty busy in his workshop and in looking up the records of all little boys and girls. But, busy as he is, he has nevertheless found time to let all the folks—little and big—with the spirit of Christmas in their hearts, see just what a wonderful toy-maker and joy-maker he is, for Old Santa has sent to the C. H. Vincent store a wonderful display of toys, playthings, books, gifts and Christmas suggestions of a thousand and one varieties, and the wonderful exhibit of Santa's skill to be seen in the Vincent show window has delighted every youngster who has had the good fortune to see it.

Evidently Santa intends to make headquarters at Vincent's when he comes to Brady this year, for there he has dolls and doll-buggies, see-saws and rocky horses, little chairs and rockers, kitchen cabinets and tables, drums and horns, books and blocks, toy trains and mechanical wonders of the age, and everything else that would gladden the little folks—and big ones too. And the entire wonderful showing is displayed in a setting of green and red decorations, with bells and wreaths and everything that spells the Christmas spirit. So, be sure to take the little folks around to Vincent's show window and let them feast their eyes on the wonderful display, and maybe if they are very, very good, old Santa will hear the happy exclamations and carefully note in his big Christmas book just the very thing each one wants him to bring.

LESTER CALLOWAY TO ALSO DIRECT BAND AT MELVIN—RETAINS THE BRADY BAND

Lester Calloway, director of the Brady Municipal band, and whose success in building up one of the best bands in this section of the state in the course of a year's time, has been little short of phenomenal, has made arrangements to take charge and direct the Melvin band. However, Mr. Calloway will still continue to direct the local organization, giving one day a week of his time to the Melvin band.

The band at Melvin starts with an initial membership of fifteen, a majority of whom have been members of other bands, and who already have a very good musical organization. Without question, under Mr. Calloway's tutelage, Melvin will soon be able to boast one of the best bands of its size and for a town the size of Melvin, of any in the state.

read that bobbed hair is now passe, having been officially so declared at the annual meeting of the New York Ladies Hair Dressing association. Jim, however, may be counted upon to view this announcement with scorn, inasmuch as he is deluded into the firm belief that woman's crowning glory should begin with the hat and end at the ears. However, let the fair ladies do as they desire. Regardless of bobbed hair and bare necks, we are determined upon going about on our way, calm in demeanor, serene in pose and guiltless of so much as a single scornful look.

J. A. Holton, president; B. A. Hallum, vice president; C. D. Allen, H. W. Zweig, G. C. Kirk, John C. Moffatt, Duke Mann, L. O. Marshall, Oscar Sellers, O. E. Rice, Grady Burns, Fred Shields, directors; The new officers will be installed on November 17th.

The radio concert was one heard with interest by everyone present. Dr. Wm. C. Jones, who with his son, Chas., has equipped one of the best radio receiving sets in this section, had very courteously set up his set with a loud speaking attachment, and despite atmospheric interference and other handicaps, was enabled to present a most enjoyable program, including orchestra, violin and piano numbers and vocal selections. The songs, "Mother Machree," and "Beautiful Ohio," were as plainly heard as though the performers were present in person. Among the stations with which connection was made were the Sweeney Automobile school of Kansas City and the Star-Telegram's broadcasting station at Fort Worth.

Attendance at the banquet included members and their wives, not only from Brady, but from all over the county, and in addition a number of invited guests, all of whom were unanimous in declaring the evening one of the most enjoyable, and who anticipate even greater success by the association during the ensuing year than has been met with during the year just closed.

fore is entitled to Federal aid. Without question, some interesting facts will be developed in the program of addresses by these speakers, and Brady and McCulloch county citizens owe it to themselves and their county to be present at the meeting in order that they may realize how vitally important it is that this highway be developed. As the matter now stands, there is grave danger of losing this designation, and all points on the entire highway route must co-operate on the work.

The following letter received by H. F. Schwenker, county vice-president of the P. S.-to-G. highway association, from Secretary Boswell, sets forth the situation very clearly:

"As stated in my telegram of this date, the annual convention of the Puget-Sound-to-Gulf Highway association will be held at Brady Wednesday, November 22, beginning at 10:00 a. m. This is a most important meeting, as the highway may lose its designation unless the association evidences more activity.

"The time until the meeting is very short and it is up to the county vice-presidents to see that delegations are worked up from their respective counties. Be sure that the meeting is given publicity in every way. Tell your townspeople about it and write personal letters, if you can possibly do so. See that your county judge, your Chamber of Commerce, and such individuals or organizations are informed of the meeting.

"Unless every county vice-president does his part, we can not hope to have our meeting the success it must be. Judge McCrory of the State Highway Commission and other high officials will be present and a well-attended meeting will surely impress them."

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5285 individual inspections are made on each car.

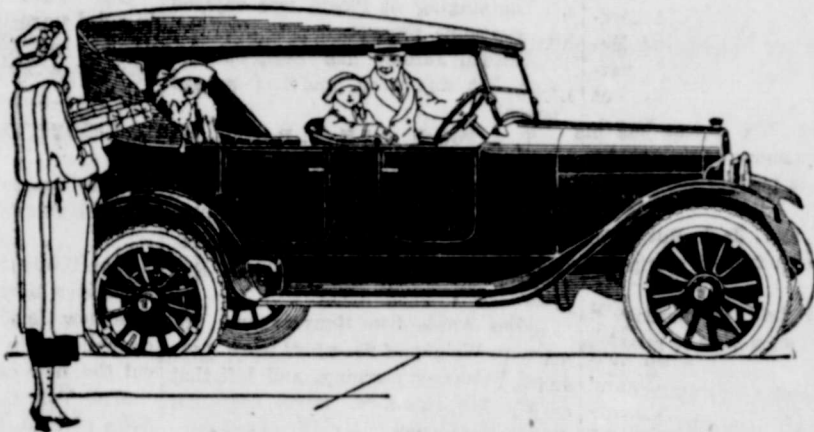

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.

Wonder Words.
Fair Exhibit Judging is Not Always Fair—O. I. C.
Wonder, Or., Nov. 10.

Editor Brady Standard:
I intended in this letter to tell you about our first preaching service and our first Lost Creek school in my Early-Day Reminiscences; but as I already have three chapters yet unprinted, I will talk on other subjects at this time.

Referring to comment by "A. Citizen" upon judging of merits of products exhibited at your county fair, recalls to me the apparent unfairness of the fair as conducted in this country as well as in every other locality. We can't all see things alike. Our recent election proves that. I can't see why on earth some people wanted to vote as they; and of course, they have a right to think the same of me. But in the matter of the fair I should like to see each exhibit judged exclusively upon its individual merits regardless as to its ownership or its previous line of ancestry. Many an individual is sorely disappointed in the awards of distinction meted out to another when he knows that his offering was superior to that of the other fellow. To make it plain, we will say, our fair board offered a premium for the best one dozen ears of white corn and one for the best twelve of yellow corn. One of my neighbors took a dozen of each, yellow and white. And although they were by far larger than any exhibited, and was so expressed by all disinterested spectators; yet, the prizes were awarded to a big "himuckum" who had gone all through his entire crop and taken the pains to select a dozen medium sized ears each of uniform size and shape, both of white and yellow. And so it was with potatoes. One man had a dozen exceedingly fine large potatoes which would have weighed a fourth to a third more than any other dozen on exhibition, yet the fellow who had picked out a dozen smaller ones all the same size and shape was given the prize. At our three-day fair there were quite a number of side shows, like those which go with a circus. Also several gambling devices to take the dimes and quarters in a game of chance. Also a good many hucksterstands and lunch counters. And on the fairground is a boarded-in baseball grounds, and admittance was 50c and a seat 25c; admittance to the fairgrounds was also 25c, collected at the entrance gate.

Well, so long, till I come again. "O. I. C. U. R. RIGHT."

P. S.—I forgot to mention the Ferris wheel and the merry-go-round the largest and most fantastic, with beautiful bounding steeds; all run by gasoline power.

"O. I. C."
