Mary and her husband, Herbert Burnham, live in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where Herb teaches school. Despite the fact that they are both from small towns, they are enjoying their work in a city of Metropolitan proportions. In addition to being a famed good school teacher, Herb, and Mary, put in a lot of time in church and civic work. This makes us very happy.

We raised 'em and we just wanted to tell you about 'em.

Bascom filled this column for the last eight years, but prior to that I had managed to come up with something most every week for more weeks than you probably care to remember. Whether I can produce something of interest each week remains to be seen. But I will sure give it the old high school try.

I sure will.

Plans Complete for Sugar Refinery

A construction contract for a proposed new multi-million-dollar beet sugar factory to be erected by the Holly Sugar Corporation near Hereford, Texas, provided Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman allocates necessary acreage under the new Sugar Act, was signed here today by Holly President Merrill E. Shoup and Ralph W. Olmstead, Cleveland, Ohio, President of H. K. Ferguson Company.

Shoup announced that work will begin immediately on design and engineering phases of the proposed construction project; and he said that the Ferguson Company plans to establish a special office in Colorado Springs, manned by a number of engineers to initiate the work.

Olmstead said that his firm would set up the Colorado Springs office as quickly as the necessary office space could be arranged. He was accompanied here for the contract signing by J. B. Kirkpatrick, Ferguson Vice President and District Manager, from San Francisco.

Signing of the contract, which calls for completion of the Texas plant by Sept. 1, 1964, took place in Shoup's office. He said the proposed new beet sugar processing facility, intended to serve a wide area in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, is expected to cost in excess of $15 million.

"Today's signing follows more than two years of detailed investigations by Holly prior to picking the location of our proposed new Texas factory," Shoup announced. "We have acquired the rights to a factory site near the community of Hereford, which is about 50 miles southwest of Amarillo," he added.

The Holly President said that construction work under the contract necessarily must await favorable Government action on a request that sufficient sugar beet acreage, from a reserve set up by the new national sugar law enacted last July, be assigned to the area to be served by the new plant.

"The law provides that sufficient sugar beet acreage to produce 65,000 tons of sugar may be assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture to new factory areas each year through 1966," Shoup explained. "Holly's application, upon which the proposal for a West Texas processing plant is based, was transmitted to the Secretary of Agriculture within an hour or two after we learned that President Kennedy had signed the new sugar law," Shoup added.

The Holly executive said that the Department of Agriculture has scheduled hearings in Washington, beginning next Tuesday (Sept. 25), to consider the requests of those applicants seeking assignment of the annual acreage reserves.

"Our planning has been very thorough, extending over many months," Shoup stated. "During the past week more than 700 farmers, operating in the area which would be served by the new processing facility, signed statements of their desire and willingness to grow more than 85,000 acres of sugar beets to be delivered to the proposed new plant; and they agreed to contribute over a 10-year period a total of $5,000,000 to induce the building of the factory.

"We sincerely hope that there will be an early award by the Secretary of Agriculture of the necessary acreage, following the hearings next week, so that construction may be initiated soon thereafter, thus assuring our meeting our 1964 target date for the start of operations," Shoup said today.

Submachinegun Fire Ends Short Chase of Fleeing Fugitive Youths in Stolen Car

STOLEN '55 FORD shows results of officers trying to stop two fleeing suspects. A Thompson submachinegun used by W. W. Jones, chief of police and a .357 magnum pistol used by Castro Deputy Sheriff, were emptied into the car. Bullets shattered the rear window of the car. One bullet pierced the front window and numerous bullet holes and dents were left in the rear of the car. James Dale Shelton of Amarillo had the car stolen from his home about 7:30 p.m., Tuesday.

He was hitchhiking with his companion Alan, when the pair stole an Amarillo car and drove it to a station to fill it with gas. They drove off without paying for the gasoline. Shirley told officers he was presently on federal probation for violation of the Dyer Act, which was the reason he tried to elude capture. His bond was set at $5000. As of late Wednesday, he had not posted bond.

MARK GORDON ALAN, 21, of Newark, N. J. shown here, was captured Wednesday morning at 8:30 after an all night chase by police officers. Alan was the driver of the stolen car. He told officers, his purpose for being here was "to see the West". He was arraigned before Randall County Justice of Peace Bill Wilson after being captured earlier by Dimmitt officers. His bond was set at $2,500. He had not posted bond late Wednesday. —Staff Photo

Legumes Needed For Soil Improving

Use of soil improving crops such as legumes and grasses in a rotation is beginning to gain in this district according to Pete Wright, local Soil Conservationist.

"It is also evident that more and more farmers are turning back to the use of cowpeas interplanted in grain sorghum for soil improvements," comments Wright.

One of the newest legumes used this year is Sesbania, planted by Bob DuLaney. The crop was planted on 30 or 40 acres of land which was fallowed for the summer. A portion of the crop was plowed early due to presence of a legume called guar that had mixed in the Sesbania seed. Remainder of the crop was allowed to grow until early September. It was then shredded and diced into the soil. Although growing for only sixty days, it reached nearly head high. The legume had formed a good amount of nitrogen-fixing nodules on the roots says Wright.

Two Nazareth Men Show Grand Champions

Two Nazareth men walked away with rosettes, Thursday at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair.

Brad-Lou Kayak's Irene was selected, Thursday at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair as grand champion Brown Swiss cow. Vincent Bradcock of Nazareth was owner and exhibitor of the grand champion.

Brad-Lou Kayak's Carl was named grand champion Brown Swiss bull of the 1962 Tri-State Fair. Herman Birkenfeld of Nazareth was exhibitor and owner of the bull.

Two fleeing youths, Mark Gordon Alan, 21 and Richard Albert Shirley, 19, were captured Wednesday morning approximately at 8:30 after being chased all night. W. W. Jones, Dimmitt chief of police and Tom Finley, Dimmitt patrolman made the arrest.

The break came early Wednesday morning after Chief of Police Jones and Deputy Sheriff of Deaf Smith County Kenneth Maxwell tracked the suspects at daylight to the vacant Goodwin-Miller farm house, approximately 3 1/2 miles east of Dimmitt near Texas Highway 86. One of the suspects was captured afoot in a maize field. The other one was captured in the house.

The pair had stolen a '55 Ford in Amarillo about 7:30 Tuesday evening. The car belonged to James Dale Shelton of 2809 Royal Road, Amarillo.

Shelton told police he parked the car in front of his house. It was still there shortly before 7:30 p.m. When he sought to use the automobile again about 8 p.m., it was missing.

Curtis E. Stanley of 2106 Van Buren, Amarillo, attendant at the San Jacinto Service Station located at 3513 W. 6th, reported the youths to have driven the car into his station at 7:40 p.m. They had filled with ethyl gas, and then drove away without paying.

Sheriff's deputies from Deaf Smith County spotted the car near Hereford about 9 p.m. and gave chase.

The youths headed south on U.S. Highway 385.

Castro County officers were alerted and set up roadblocks north of the city and waited for the fleeing pair.

With the arrival of the car at the roadblock, a chase began.

A deputy sheriff emptied the bullets from a .357 magnum pistol at the car.

W.W. Jones, chief of police used a submachinegun in an attempt to stop the car approximately one mile north of Dimmitt.

Bullets fired during the chase shattered the rear window of the car. One bullet pierced the front window and numerous dents were

Area Groups Make Pleas for Sugar Acreage

Several area groups attended Washington at an Agriculture Department hearing Tuesday to seek a Panhandle-South Plains sugar beet refinery. Representatives from Dimmitt were Ray Riley, Sam Gilbreath, and Bob McLean.

According to latest reports the Dimmitt men are optimistic regarding the sugar beet plant.

Sen Ralph Yarborough told the special Agriculture Department hearing Tuesday Texas "desperately" needs a sugar mill to process beet sugar grown in Panhandle area.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa also backed Yarborough, saying the Panhandle is prepared to prove it can produce enough sugar for all United States needs.

Also, appearing before the hearing was a group of West Texas beet sugar producers to determine where such a mill should be located and how additional quotas to produce 65,000 more tons of sugar can be distributed.

Yarborough said the West Texas area had some of the most productive irrigated farm land in the United States.

"It is time for the Department of Agriculture to take Texas off the banned list, and end this discrimination against Texas, as to beet sugar," said Yarborough.

Rogers commented, "If we are given a sugar mill in the Panhandle, we can prove we can produce all of the sugar necessary

ASC Gives Grain Moisture Regulations

Following are excerpts from a letter received by Castro county elevator operators from Charles E. Hill, Castro county ASCS office manager, relative to grain handling.

"The following points should be kept in mind when executing warehouse receipts and supplemental certificates on Grain Sorghums containing in excess of 15 percent moisture but not in excess of 18 percent moisture, in order that County ASCS Offices may determine that the proper deduction for excess moisture has been made as required by the regulations.

COUNTRY WAREHOUSES

Warehouse Receipts:

1. Grain in excess of 18 percent moisture is sample grade and is not eligible for CCC loan even though dried to 13 percent moisture.

2. The amount of moisture that you show for the grain sorghum is your determination.

3. If and when you show a moisture content of more than 15 percent, then the net quantity of grain shown must be the quantity obtained after drying to 13 percent

Using Defoliants And Desiccants On High Plains

As the High Plains cotton harvest gets into full swing many growers will be thinking about the use of defoliants and desiccants to prepare cotton for machine harvesting. Timing the use of these materials can make or lose money for cotton growers.

Older, mature cotton frequently can be prepared for machine stripping or picking before frost. Experience has shown that the proper use of harvest-aid chemicals permits earlier harvest of mature cotton before exposure to weather damage reduces the grade or actual field losses due to bad weather occur.

Late cotton (June planting) on the other hand still will need all the time for maturity it can get and defoliation by frost will be more profitable. Too early, trigger-happy defoliation reduces the yields and lowers the quality. This is where "waste" and low micronaire cottons can injure the reputation of cotton producing area. Also green bolls at the gin present numerous problems. Green short fibers reduce the quality. Green wet fiber from green bolls clogs up and sticks to ginning saws thus causing a chain reaction in reducing quality.

Plant conditions, weather conditions and other factors vary from one year to the next. Each grower will need to evaluate the situation and decide if defoliation will pay. Here are some guidelines that will be helpful:

1. Condition of the plant - Best results are obtained with mature cotton with a heavy boll load, where the irrigation cut off date is followed, leaf moisture is normal, and growth about stopped.
2. Timing - Research at Lubbock and throughout the Cotton belt has shown that 60 percent of the cotton bolls should be open before a true defoliant is applied and more than 60 percent preferably 80 percent) open before a desiccant is applied, harvest-aid materials thus applied have not been observed to reduce yields or lower fiber quality. Top bolls that are expected to mature should be 30 to 35 days old, at least, at time of application, full size, firm when pressed between thumb and forefinger and can't be sliced with a knife.

Weather conditions - Cool weather slows up defoliation. When night temperatures are constantly below 50 degrees Fahrenheit and day temperatures under 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

4. Is maturity speeded up by defoliants - No. For all practical purposes maturity of the cotton fiber stops when defoliants or desiccants are applied. The degree depends on coverage obtained. Bolls have been observed to open sooner in treated cotton than in untreated fields, but fiber from the treated cotton was not more mature. Some growers have found that if frost has not occurred by October 20 and if plant and weather conditions are normal, that defoliation or desiccation about two weeks before the average first frost date, usually the first week in November, can be considered. This places the cotton in a dehydrated condition at time of the first frost and permits earlier stripping after frost.

Senator Tower Makes Report

FROM JOHN TOWER

CUBA. Although I am always prepared to support the President's foreign and military policy if it serves United States' needs, I'm truly perplexed, like many Americans are, as to what that policy is. Russian tanks, rockets, military planes, and high velocity artillery have been brought into Cuba. Cuba is becoming a staging area for eventual invasion of other Latin American countries. Yet, we have not invoked the Monroe Doctrine. And, apparently our Marine and Army divisions have been misled. Every time a crisis arises, our reserves are yanked out of their civilian lives. The last time this happened, the East Germans constructed the Berlin wall with impunity. Are we proposing now to call up other reserves, to double our fist at home, while adopting a conciliatory attitude toward the Soviets every time they foment a crisis on some cold war front? In Cuba, a free people have been put in bondage by force and without free elections. The Russians and Red Chinese are in Cuba illegally, immorally, and without the slightest right to be there. Americans are perplexed about our foreign policy. U.S. unilateral nuclear disarmament can be an invitation for attack upon us. Yet, while conducting nuclear disarmament, we propose to call up civilians. Some Administration advisers have devised a plan to give away our Air Force, Navy, Marines, and Army to the United Nations within ten years. There are several worthwhile proposals before the Senate, which have been made by responsible Senators, both Democrat and Republican, relative to handling the Cuban problem. This is a problem of great importance. Our hemispheric security is in jeopardy, and I think the Senate should move to urgent consideration of these various proposals to deal affirmatively with Castro.

COMMON MARKET ISSUE. The British Government's dilemma in seeking to resolve the Common Market issue portends our own future in this regard. Dispatches from the British Commonwealth conference in London indicate that Prime Minister Macmillan is "displayed" by the fierce opposition to Britain's accession to the Common Market expressed by other Commonwealth nations. What has, in fact, happened is that Mr. Macmillan has encountered a veritable buzz-saw of opposition—a buzz-saw that threatens the continuance of his Conservative government. While adverse reaction from the Commonwealth nations was, of course, expected, nobody, apparently not even Mr. Macmillan, was prepared for the violent storm of protest that broke over the conference table. What, we ask, do these storm signals mean to the United States? Why should we concern ourselves with an essentially intramural squabble among the participants in the British Commonwealth? What is in the wind, obviously, is an eventual shift in the traditional trading patterns of the world. In what direction the shift will be made and to what degree, no one can yet say. Yet facing a world in flux, knowing full well that major and unpredictable realignments in world trade are in the offing—we are asked to legislate in haste an unprecedented drastic program for the conduct of America's foreign trade. I suggest, that to acquiesce in these demands for the most sweeping, far-ranging foreign trade bill in history under these circumstances would be nothing short of irresponsible.

DEPLETION ALLOWANCE. It is particularly important to Texans that the Senate defeat an amendment to the Administration's omnibus tax bill to reduce the depletion allowance for oil and gas. This was an amendment which would have reduced the 27 1/2 percent depletion allowance, in the next year, to 25 percent. This would be followed by a reduction, in 1963, to 22 1/2 percent. In 1964, and subsequent years, the reduction would be down to 20 percent. Passage of this amendment would have a very adverse effect on the economy of our State. Regardless of whether you are in the oil business, or not, oil is vital to our State. We derive a great deal of tax revenue from the oil industry. In addition to this very important contribution, the oil industry provides jobs for Texans, throughout the State—jobs which are directly, and indirectly, dependent upon the extraction and production of oil.

eral activity in the field of water resources into many areas. Recreational developments were authorized, funds were appropriated for the preservation and propagation of fish and wildlife. The Water Pollution Control Act of 1948 assistance to the States, and expanded later to include grants to the States and municipalities for construction of sewage treatment works.

Thus, over the years, Federal activity has expanded to encompass almost every phase of water resources development, with annual expenditures of about one and one-third billion dollars in recent years. With program of this magnitude, and always, it seems, increasing, conflicts brought about by the dual Federal-State sovereignty over water have been on the increase. In a future newsletter I will discuss the nature of these conflicts.

Rules to prevent future crooked oil wells are being hammered out by the Texas Railroad Commission. Chairman Bill Murray and Commissioner Ben Ramsey laid out a proposal for tougher rules.

Oil industry spokesmen split down the middle on the proposed rules. They say it is not possible to drill a vertical hole without greatly adding to the cost. Commission took proposals of its own staff and of the industry under study after a long hearing. Ramsey said the Commission would not add to industry's drilling costs, because the public pays them all.

But it was clear that the Commission now will crack down to make sure wells do not stray under property lines. The Tax Policy Commission, created by the Legislature in 1959, is scheduled to make its final reports to the new Legislature in January.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE—Texas State Committee on Public Education will meet in Austin on Sunday, September 30. Two of the speakers will be Dr. Irby B. Carruth, superintendent of schools in Austin and president of the American Association of School Administrators, and Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education.

His talks will be followed by comments and questions from committee members. LEGISLATIVE STUDY—A three-member subcommittee of the Texas House Committee on Saving Taxes will make a study of the operations of the State Railroad Commission. Members are J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, chairman; Olen R. Petty of Levelland and George Preston of Paris. Preston is chairman of the full committee.

Purpose of the parent committee is to seek ways to effect a saving in the State tax dollar. DOCUMENTARY EXHIBITS—Archives division of the State Library has on display a collection of documents which may be unique. James M. Day, archivist, and his staff assembled photographic reproductions of portraits or pictures of every Texas president and governor. Then they added an original document, either personal letter or legal paper, on which the official's signature appeared.

Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, state librarian, said no one could recall a similar exhibit before. First displayed at Governor-for-a-Day Culp Krueger's "Operation Hometown" in El Campo, the exhibit drew much favorable comment. POLIO REPORT—Dr. J.E. Peavy,

State Health Commissioner, reported that Texas has had 158 cases of paralytic polio this season. State's cases are almost half as many as in all the rest of the nation combined. Total number of polio cases has risen to 206 to date. Without the mass immunization campaigns, he said the Texas number undoubtedly would be much greater.

The Health Department recommended that oral vaccine types I and II be continued and accelerated; that type III be limited to preschool and school age children except in type III epidemic areas where it should be given to all age groups. TALKING BOOKS—Catalogs of new talking books are going into the mails to more than 2,900 persons served by the State Library's service for the blind section. Catalog covers all books recorded from 1955 through 1961 and is the current publication of books distributed by the Library of Congress.

All legally blind Texans are eligible to obtain talking books from the State Library without charge. When a talking book reader completes a book and returns it to the library, a new book is automatically sent him. HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION SAFETY—Traffic deaths on highway construction projects in Texas reached a five year low in 1961. Credit for the good showing is given to a cooperative effort undertaken in 1958 by the Texas

Highway Construction Traffic Safety Committee. This group consists of representatives from the Texas Highway Department, Department of Public Safety, Highway-Heavy Branch of the Associated General Contractors of Texas and the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Fatal crashes on highway construction projects last year totaled 58, compared with 71 in 1960. In "Public Affairs Comment", Dr. Stuart MacCorkle of the University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs suggests that Texans in the cities might consider revision of their local governmental set-ups.

MacCorkle points out that the county and city governments in urban areas have overlapping duties. He proposes that the idea of modernizing county governments in such areas be studied carefully. It's a basic problem of modern life, MacCorkle states, now that Texas is 75 per cent urban in nature. SCHOOL INTEGRATION—School boards cannot integrate without a court order or an election, rules Attorney General Wilson. The opinion went to Dr. J.W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, on a question raised by the Yoakum School Board.

Attorney General Wilson has asked the Federal Court in Austin to dismiss a suit which seeks to force racial integration of Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texan:

After four years and four months of work, my bill for a National Seashore Recreational Area on Padre Island, an island off the South Texas Gulf Coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville, was finally passed by the United States Senate on Tuesday, September 18, 1962. After more than four years of hard legislative combat the opposition finally folded, and on final passage not a single voice was raised against the bill.

This represented four years of hard work by people who didn't know how to quit, and the work was done so thoroughly that when the roadblocks were blasted out, final passage came in a fast four minutes. It's something like a man training for four years to try to run a mile in four minutes.

I introduced the first Padre Island bill in the 85th Congress in June, 1958. There it was stopped, and it died. But the idea didn't die. So I introduced Senate Bill 4 in January, 1959, in the 86th Congress hoping that this need for recreational space might be so strongly supported that it could not be ignored. A hearing was held at Corpus Christi in December, 1959, and two more hearings were held in Washington in 1960; but the Padre Island bill died again. Then in January, 1961, in the 87th Congress, I re-introduced the Padre Island Bill. This time, fellow Texan, it went all the way.

It passed the Senate April 10, 1962, then was sent over to the House. There it was shortened from 88 miles to 81 miles, retaining over 90 percent of the land originally sought, and was sent to the Senate for approval of the changes. Now the Senate has passed it the second time, and all the opposition has faded away. In a few days, President Kennedy, who has supported my bill, is expected to sign it into law.

With the President's approval, acquisition of the land on Padre Island will begin. But to complete the park as planned, the agreement of the Texas Legislature will be needed. I'm confident that the Texas Legislature will give its approval to this economic and recreational bonanza for all Texas. Laggard tourist trade is one of our state's big problems. The increase in tourist travel in Texas which will come because of Padre Island park is going to be something to watch, fellow Texan.

Ours is a moving, traveling, camping-out, swimming, fishing population—a nation of hard-working people who need a place to rest when the weekend comes, and Padre Island will furnish that place. Padre Island is going to be one of the recreational wonders of America.

Many thousands of people—private citizens, civic groups, city and county officials like Judge Oscar Dancy of Brownsville, newspaper like the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, the Houston Press, and the

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Probably the most refractory conflict in the whole field of natural resources law, which will no doubt tax the abilities of the legal profession to the utmost if and when it is solved within the frame-work of the Constitution as written, is the Federal government versus the State governments with reference to the control and jurisdiction of water rights.

Because the matter so clearly and vitally affects the Western States and our section of the country, I have been keenly interested in the subject for a number of years. As a member of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and Chairman of its Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation, I have been very close to the problem, its background and the several approaches to a solution. There are so many facets involved that the entire subject is perhaps not widely understood. Hence, I thought it would be of interest to treat the subject in my newsletters.

Congressional responsibility in the field of water resources stems from constitutional provisions establishing the right of the Congress "to regulate Commerce . . . among the several States," "provide for the common Defence and general Welfare," and "to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States." The Congress has taken an affirmative interest in the development of water resources. It is interesting to note that the early congressional efforts to legislate in this field were made against frequent and long sustained objections of the executive branch of the government.

Since the first efforts in the early 1800's to use Federal funds for the improvement of waterways for navigation, there has been a distinct reversal and the Executive branch today frequently finds the legislative body reluctant to bring the Federal government further into the various phases of water resources development.

In 1820 funds were appropriated for a navigation survey of tributaries of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. Later Congress adopted the general policy of appropriating Federal funds to carry out improvement of rivers and harbors, work which had previously been considered to be the responsibility of the States. A number of the early river and harbor bills were vetoed, based on the strict construction theory of constitutional interpretation. Next, activity was expanded to take in flood control. In 1879 the Mississippi River Commission was created, one of the first steps toward a national flood control policy. But it was only 26 years ago that such a policy was developed, in the Flood Control Act of 1936.

Multiple-purpose water resources development in the Western States had been initiated earlier, under the Federal Reclamation Act of 1902. Boulder Dam, authorized in 1928 was the first of the massive multiple-purpose water development projects that have characterized the more recent development of the West. It was followed by the Bonneville, Grand Coulee, Central Valley, and other large projects. The great depression gave impetus to this movement and saw creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In the year, since World War II, Congress has expanded Federal activity in the field of water resources into many areas. Recreational developments were authorized, funds were appropriated for the preservation and propagation of fish and wildlife. The Water Pollution Control Act of 1948 assistance to the States, and expanded later to include grants to the States and municipalities for construction of sewage treatment works.

Thus, over the years, Federal activity has expanded to encompass almost every phase of water resources development, with annual expenditures of about one and one-third billion dollars in recent years. With program of this magnitude, and always, it seems, increasing, conflicts brought about by the dual Federal-State sovereignty over water have been on the increase. able space is kept reserved for parking by State Officials. Now Atty. Gen Will Wilson has ruled that the State Board of Control, which is the housekeeping agency around the Capitol, has no authority to regulate parking. Board members had hoped to find they had the authority under an old law on horses.

But Capitol parking regulations by the Board of Control is illegal, Wilson's ruling said. So far, the Legislature never has authorized the board to regulate parking. PROPERTY TAX HEARING—Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy will hold a public hearing in Austin on Friday, November 9, on property taxes. Announcement came from Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas, commission chairman.

Hearing will begin at 2 p.m. in Room 644 of the Texas Employment Commission building. Anyone wishing to testify is requested to inform the tax policy group in writing to Drawer C, Capitol Station, Austin. Parkhouse said the Commission will consider a tax which now raises $800,000,000 a year in the State.

The Tax Policy Commission, created by the Legislature in 1959, is scheduled to make its final reports to the new Legislature in January. EDUCATION COMMITTEE—Texas State Committee on Public Education will meet in Austin on Sunday, September 30. Two of the speakers will be Dr.

Longhorns Nipped By New Deal

Hart Longhorns were defeated by New Deal Friday night with only one minute and 50 seconds remaining in the game. New Deal won by a 16-14 score.

New Deal outwitted the fighting Longhorns and used it to their advantage in power for touchdown drives. Seeples made the initial New Deal TD on a 10 yard drive early in the first quarter. He kicked the extra point. In the fourth quarter, New Deal received their second touchdown on a 15 yard run by Barington. The extra point failed.

Hart completed their first TD on a 20 yard pass from Joe Rubalcaba to Carl Ward in the first quarter. Second TD was scored on a 20 yard pass from Rubalcaba to Billy Farris in the fourth quarter.

The score was 14-13 in Hart's favor, until Seeples booted a 30 yard field goal making the final score, 16-14 in New Deal's favor.

Johnny Kittrell of Hart made the best run of the night, when he returned a kickoff from Hart's 5 yard line to New Deal's 25 yard line. He returned the ball for a gain of 70 yards. Seeples made the tackle, stopping the stamped-ing Longhorn.

Offensive starting lineup for Hart was: ends, Gary Heller and Carl Ward; tackles, Jerry Shive and Guy Scoggin; guards, James Mitchell and Tommy Morrison; center, Phil Green; backs, Johnny Kittrell, Billy Farris, Dennis McClain, and Joe Rubalcaba.

New Deal piled up 211 yards in rushing to Hart's 187 yards. Hart made 60 yards in passing to New Deal's 20 yards. The longhorns made 8 first downs and the opposing team made 11.

Hart Longhorns will meet Kress, Hart next Friday night at 8.

Grades of Grain Sorghum Required By Warehouses

United States Department of Agriculture has announced the following points should be kept in mind when executing warehouse receipts and supplemental certificates on Grain Sorghums containing in excess of 15 per cent moisture but not in excess of 18 per cent moisture, in order that County ASCS Offices may determine that the proper deduction for excess moisture has been made as required by the regulations.

Warehouse receipts for country warehouses should be as follows:
1. Grain in excess of 18 percent moisture is sample grade and is not eligible for CCC loan even though dried to 13 percent moisture.

2. The amount of moisture that you show for the grain sorghum is your determination.
3. If and when you show a moisture content of more than 15 percent; then the net quantity of grain shown must be the quantity obtained after drying to 13 percent moisture.

When the warehouse receipt shows above 15 percent moisture but not in excess of 18 percent, the warehouse receipt should show the gross weight, the net (wt. and the shrinkage factor. The shrinkage factor is up to you. The shrinkage factor must show on the warehouse receipt in order for the ASCS office to determine that a deduction in quantity has been made for excess moisture. (I.e. - gross weight 100,000 Net (wt. 970.00)

5. Shrinkage when applicable is figured to 13 percent (I.e. - 15.1 percent moisture grain; 15 (1 percent equals 2.1 x shrinkage factor)

6. The warehouse receipt for grain containing 13 to 15 percent moisture does not require that the shrinkage be shown but would require a moisture statement.

ROGERS PROPOSED TREATY AMENDMENT
Rep Walter Rogers this week proposed an amendment to the Constitution requiring the advice and consent of the House of Representatives in the making of treaties.

Under Section 2 of Article II of the Constitution, the President is granted power to make treaties provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur.

The Rogers amendment would call for further consideration by also requiring ratification of a treaty by a simple majority of the House of Representatives.

"Such provision would more properly reflect the will of the people," Rogers said, "and would place the responsibility for treaties directly with their duly elected representatives where it should rest."

Aside from the "additional and much-needed safe-guard" the Rogers amendment seeks to provide, the Texas Congressman emphasized the value of his amendment in settling the dispute created by the so-called "Bricker Amendment" with relation to the scope of treaties.

New Math Course

For the teachers in the first six grades a math course will be taught. It starts at 4:30 on Wednesday. The course will be taught by West Texas State College.

This class will enable elementary teachers to do a better job of teaching mathematics in grade school.

Three years ago Dimmitt schools initiated modern math in the seventh grade. Now modern math is being taught in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. These courses emphasize bases 2 and 7 and others along with base 10. Since the age of rockets and computers, base 10 is not sufficient for modern times. These new systems will be stepped down into lower grades.

Base 2 is the only number base used for computers.

This modern math course requires more thinking, reading, and basic understanding while basic computations are still necessary.

Around The Campus—

According to one of the leading scientist of our section, Mrs. Inez Robinson, the most pressing question of the day is, "What does your eyelash weigh?" The physics lab has just received several dollars worth of Physical Science study Committee lab equipment. Included in this, is a weighing device that can actually weigh objects as small as an eyelash. Other pieces of equipment include wave-making tanks, devices for measuring distances with the eye, and many other simple, but educational pieces of equipment. Surely with all of this equipment Dimmitt High School should graduate some top scientist.

Other new features in Dimmitt High can be seen in the auditorium and Journalism room. Last Thursday and Friday the Texas Scenic Draperies Co. completed hanging the new golden colored curtains and turquoise draperies. The curtains and draperies are very beautiful and the students should take pride in taking care of them.

The Journalism class would like to thank Mr. Hilburn and the School Board for the new worktable with the spillproof top. Miss Littlepage is very thankful for the table because she won't have to worry quite so much about ink spills and carbon smudges, and as the Annual Staff knows, she has enough to worry about.

Miss Littlepage stated this week that the Annual sales have been going very well but she encourages everyone to purchase their annual as quickly as possible. She also said that she believed this would be the biggest and best Annual in the history of Dimmitt.

The annual staff would like to congratulate the activity period class with Mrs. Robinson for winning the plastic covers. These covers may be purchased for 35 cents when you buy your annual.

AGGIES GO TO TRI-STATE FAIR

On September 19th and 20th Jerry Morris and Craig Fuller attended the Tri-State Fair. The boys were showing their F.F.A. pigs. They also helped Mr. Trotter and Mr. Dowty with their pigs.

Craig won a 9th place and received three dollars. The boys will leave their pigs at the fair until Sunday.

There were about 400 head of swine to be judged.

The boys also enjoyed the thrills of the midway. Jerry and Craig went downtown and looked over Amarillo High School. They came home Thursday, tired and completely exhausted.

Whoopee! It's Raining!

That's what all the seniors are saying. They are planning a car wash 8 o'clock Saturday morning, September 29, 1962.

They will clean your car inside and out, and after they are done they will return your car to you. If you would like to have them wash your car, please contact any member of the senior class.

Your business will be appreciated. If you would like to drop the car off any time from Saturday morning at 8 o'clock until Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, either at Dodd's Texaco Service Station or at Kirkpatrick's.

We all promise to do a good job and will appreciate doing business with you; so come on down and get a good wash job on your car.

Bobcats Stun Hereford With 12-16 Victory

The victory flag waved high in the air Friday night as the Bobcats stunned Hereford with a 12-16 victory.

Roy Battles carried the ball 14 yards for the first touchdown early in the first quarter. Jim Ratcliff passed to James Cowell for the extra points.

With four minutes left in the first quarter Michael Calvert lateraled to James Cowell who ran the touchdown to rest with Dimmitt 16 and Hereford 0. Ratcliff passed to Cowell one more for three extra points.

The second and third quarters went scoreless for both the Bobcats and the Whitefaces.

Early in the fourth quarter the Whitefaces made their first touchdown but failed to make their extra points.

In the latter part of the fourth quarter the Whitefaces scored again, but failed to make their extra points. Time ran out before either the Bobcats or the Whitefaces had time to add any more points, with the total score of 12-16.

"CONFUSED"

What is it? What is happening? I hear music, people yelling, and screaming. It is coming from the auditorium. So I went to investigate.

It was only the band, cheerleaders, and towns people having the third pep rally of the season. I decided to stay since I needed to relax a minute from my hard studying all week.

Mr. Bates, better known as "Rosey", took over. He made the announcements of the new yell and other messages. Then he turned it over to the cheerleader so they could show the student body how to do the yells.

Then suddenly the cheerleaders rushed out. I didn't have any idea what was going on. I was so curious that I couldn't leave, so I waited.

Suddenly everyone jumped up and started yelling and screaming again. I was so frightened, but before I knew it, I was yelling and screaming with them.

All at once I saw the cheerleaders running back into the auditorium with a group of boys behind them. This really did confuse me, until the person next to me told me this was an old tradition for the cheerleaders to escort the Bobcats in like this. That was really a relief, for I was really worried about the cheerleaders having those big old boys after them.

We all settled back down into our seats for a while so the band cheerleaders could lead a few yells. It was very relaxing because I was so tired.

When all of a sudden everybody stood up again, but no one was yelling. Of course I stood up to, but not knowing what was to happen. I came to find out it was the school song and every one was singing so I joined in.

Like wow, man you ain't "never" heard such screaming and yelling when the band quit playing.

During all this commotion those great big boys got right up and marched themselves out. By this time I was thoroughly confused. I just couldn't figure it out. Not a smile or a word was spoken by these boys. They acted as if they didn't enjoy themselves in the least. I was told later that the boys really did enjoy this, and they knew that these students and towns people were backing them all the time. I must say this was the most confusing twenty minutes of my life and you can say that this was a wonderful pep rally for it did have the spirit aroused everywhere in the auditorium. I hope to see you next week and maybe I won't be so confused.

Alibi-Ography For Students

This is what to say when you have been on a long date the night before an important test, or you just had to watch "My Three Sons. Here is how to completely aggravate your teacher in a few easy sentences.

What to say—
 When you are given an objective type test: "It doesn't let you express yourself."
 When you are given an essay test: "It's so vague. You don't know what's expected."
 When you are given many minor tests: "Why not have a few big ones?" This keeps you on edge all of the time."
 When you are given a few major tests: "Too much depends on each one."

When you are given no tests: "It not fair. How can he possibly judge what we know?"

When every part of the subject is taken up in class: "Oh, he just follows the book."

When you are asked to study a part of the subject for yourself: "Why we never even discussed it?"

When the course is in lecture form: "We never get a chance to say anything."

When the course consists of informal lecture and discussion: "He just sits there. Who wants to hear the students? They don't know how to teach the class."

When detailed material is presented: "What's the use? You forget it all after the exam anyway."

When general principles are presented: "What did we learn? We knew that before we took the course."

P.T.A. MEETING

The first Parent-Teachers Association meeting was held Tuesday September 18, here in Dimmitt. There was a brief business meeting and the teachers were introduced. The guest speaker at the meeting was C.L. Kay, from L.C.C. at Lubbock. His speech was on "Home Training for Better Citizenship." It included moral decay in education and religion.

Mr. Kay said, "There are eight crimes of attitude. They are:
 1. I don't know.
 2. I don't care.
 3. I don't think.
 4. I don't have time to read and find out.
 5. Let others do it.
 6. Let well enough alone.
 7. I'm not interested.
 8. Controversial.

The reasons for this decay are:
 1. Apathy
 2. Irresponsibility
 3. Immaturity

Here are reminders that would make good homes. They are:
 1. Build home that have respect for God and man.
 2. Teach difference between right and wrong.
 3. Respect for law and order.
 4. Emphasize the positive.
 5. Parents should set good examples.

Dimmitt High Detective

As my alarm rang at 3:30 a.m., I jumped out of bed ready for my first assignment as a private detective for the Dimmitt High Journalism Class. Realizing I had gotten up much too early to follow this late riser, I took a walk before breakfast. As I was returning, I noticed my subject in Sunday School Class talking about cavities??

After church and much persuasion we headed off to Hereford where we stuffed ourselves with huge steaks. What else is Sunday afternoon good for, but sleeping? This is what we did all afternoon. After our long naps we returned to town where we went to church again.

After church we headed down to the drive-in where we stuffed ourselves again. Then we went to the show and there we met Sue, Ricki, and Kitty we then had a real laughing time.

Monday morning, bright and early, we headed for school where we slaved all day. After school we had a surprise waiting for us, guess who it was, none other than Mike Goodwin. We went to get a coke after school with him.

Tuesday night we studied.

Wednesday brought another day of school and after-wards we were treated to a coke by our little sister. Cheerleading is one of our hobbies so naturally we had to help her cheerleaders. We even took one home with us to spend the night. Kaye helped us study after we ate.

Thursday night was Kangaroo Court and we were all dressed up funny and kept yelling "guilty" at Mary.

Friday brought a lot of spirit to us and we really yelled a lot at the pep rally. All aboard! Band buses pulled out about 5:45 for Hereford where we saw Dimmitt Stomp Hereford.

Saturday morning bright and early we jumped up, got ready, and headed for Lubbock where we were met by Mike Goodwin again. After a wonderful afternoon we were ready for the big game between Tech and West Texas. Although we were with Mike, and he was from Tech, we were really happy to see West Texas win.

Sunday morning we slept late and about dinner we fixed our hair. Just in time too, because Mike called and asked us to get a coke. So, as a long week came to an end I left her studying.

I believe after shadowing Sharon Lilley that I'll resign as detective for Dimmitt High Journalism class because this Junior is just too busy for me to keep up with.

Teacher of the Week

Our teacher's determination was inherited from a Scotch-Irish father while love for nature and its beauties were taught by her French mother.

Mrs. Inez Robinson was born at Brady, Texas. While she was a child her family moved to Dublin, Texas, where she attended a private school for three years. She attended the Dublin elementary and high schools. Her college education was acquired at John Tarleton College, and North Texas State University. She has her Bachelor of Science and Master of Science Degrees. She has done advanced work at the University of Texas, University of Wyoming, Texas Woman's University, and Texas A and M.

Our heroine and Eual Robinson were married in 1935. They are the parents of Linda Karen, Dimmitt High School student.

Mrs. Robinson loves to read mystery stories. She also spends some of her spare time arranging flowers. She prefers to vacation in the "untrampled" parts of the Rocky Mountains. She likes best the Snowy Range and the Teton Mountains of Wyoming.

Mrs. Robinson doesn't care for people who pretend to be something they aren't. She said, "if you are good it shows; if you are bad it shows. There is no need to be deceitful, you aren't fooling anyone."

To a Lady of Science:
 They who once probed and doubted now believe, The Men of Science, for they humbly learn, There is a Will that guides the atom's course; A Power that directs what they discern, In light and air, in star and wave and sod; Beyond electrons they discover—God!

Auditorium Gets New Facelifting

Have you noticed the new improvements in the auditorium? The curtains, lighting system, heating system, and P.A. system?

The new curtains are gray and gold for the stage, and turquoise for the windows.

Tentative plans are to have the auditorium completely repainted before the year is over.

So, don't you agree that the auditorium has a new face lifting?

Don't Be A Litterbug!

Remember last year when our candy supply was cut off because we failed to deposit the wrappers in their proper place. After we proved we could put them where they belonged, we were allowed to resume eating calories again.

Since candy is not allowed in most of the classrooms, it can be supposed that no wrappers are in the desks. There is a trash can available at the candy machines, so this is the proper place to dispose of them.

A clean building and campus gain praise and respect for our school. It also shows that the student body respects it. EVERY LITTER BIT HURTS!

P-TA SPOTLIGHT

The following is a letter to parents and teachers from the Dimmitt P.T.A.

Dear Parents and Teachers,

We were very pleased with the get-acquainted tea, Tuesday afternoon in the Community Room. It was nice to meet new people and to renew old acquaintances. We were disappointed because the drizzling rain kept many parents away. We sincerely missed you and will count on you to attend the next P.T.A. meeting.

Mrs. Jack Miller, chairman of the hospitality committee, and her committee did a splendid job with the arrangement. Mesdames Houston Lust, Frank Wise, Lonnie Bell, and Jim Cleavinger, members of the hospitality committee handled their respective jobs excellently. Ladies contributing cookies for the occasion were Mesdames Tommy Stanton, James Welch, Charles Underwood, Gene Seely, Aaron Isaac, Jim Goding, Charles Armstrong, and Carl Bruegel. Ladies, the cookies were delicious and we thank you.

With the beginning of each new school term, an entire new set of problems confront the teacher, the parents, and the school children.

Each problem will be worked out and eventually a routine will be established. But there is one problem which cannot be worked out unless we all cooperate together. I am speaking of the Dimmitt P.T.A. Last spring, the executive board conducted a survey concerning the local P.T.A. The results were disappointing, but we did not quit. We decided to work harder in getting the P.T.A. functioning and doing the job necessary in promoting the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church, and community. I believe much can be accomplished in our association this year, and the little time you spend going to meetings and the $1.00 dues will be worth the effort.

Excellent programs have been lined up by the program committee. With it being impossible for you to visit all the rooms in the schools in one open house, there will be three meetings, one for each school. The programs will be aimed at each individual school age level. Programs included in this year are:

October—South Grade Open House and special panel.

November—North Grade Open House and tumbling exhibition.

December—Christmas pageant, special Christmas music and play.

January—High School Open House and "Buzz Session"

February—Dad's Night and Boxing exhibition at North Grade.

March—Third Grade operetta at South Grade.

April—Mother's Program—Style Show at High School by Home-making Dept.

May—Band Concert and installation of new officers.

Actually the P.T.A. needs to be divided into three separate units which would include one for each school. This cannot be done unless enough interested parents will join and back the organization. The teachers have co-operated almost 100 per cent in joining the P.T.A. Parents, you will receive great benefit from the P.T.A. Won't you join? The school room having the most parents join will win a trophy and special treats for the children. Give P.T.A. a chance in Dimmitt. All officers and committee men have worked long and hard. Please do not let us down. We are depend-

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminum muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvaire with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

It's Chevy Showtime '63!—See four entirely different kinds of cars at your Chevrolet Dealer's Showroom

Nazareth Captures Lakeview Eagles

The battling Nazareth Swifts swept away a 26-2 win over the Lakeview Eagles last Friday night. In the first quarter, Philip Brockman, Swift quarterback, was trapped behind the end zone for a safety. This put Lakeview in front with a 2-0 count.

Raymond Schmucker, in the second quarter caught a 60 yard pass from Marvin Hoelting for six points. This brought the score 6-2 in Nazareth's favor. Schmucker scored again for Nazareth in the second quarter on a 35 yard sweep around right end. No extra point was gained.

In the third quarter, the fighting Swifts again plowed over the Lakeview Eagles when Gerber made a seven yard plunge through the middle. The Swifts again took to the air for their final TD of the night. Schmucker received a 40 yard pass from Philip Brockman to score once more. Dennis Gerber ran the two extra points. This brought the final score 26-2 in Nazareth's favor.

Lakeview outweighed the visiting Swifts, 15 lbs. per man. This advantage did not deter the powerful Swifts. They walked away with the ballgame. According to Coach Aldridge, the Swifts played an excellent defensive game, Friday night. Outstanding on defensive was Bernie Braddock, Tommy Wethington, and Roger Schilling.

Schmucker played in Friday night's game for the first time as a right halfback. He had been changed from right end. The converted end showed good possibilities as he scored three of Nazareth's TD.

Offensive starting line-up for Nazareth was ends, Roger Schilling and Jimmy Hoelting; guards, Tommy Wethington and Bernie Braddock; center, Julius Birkenfeld; backs, Dennis Gerber, Raymond Schmucker, and Philip Brockman.

for the demands of this country if they want us to do it." Rep. Robert Poage told Agriculture Department officials Tuesday Texas is the only state which meets requirements for allocation of the 1960 floor sugar beet reserve acreage.

Poage called attention to the testimony of Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman before the House committee. According to Poage, Freeman said the new acreage should be given to areas where no mill in now located, and where firm commitments have been made for financing a multi-million dollar factory.

The Hereford-Dimmitt area in Texas would qualify under such demands.

A major sugar beet processor, Merrill Shoup, president of Holly Sugar Corporation, said Thursday he is prepared to build a $16 million mill near this area if West Texas growers are permitted to increase their beet production.

Shoup said his firm would build if the Department of Agriculture decides to give the acreage reserve for 1964 to producers in Deaf Smith, Parmer, and Castro counties, Texas, and Curry County, N. M.

These producers, it was brought out, would contribute $5 million toward construction cost by paying Holly Sugar a dollar a ton for every ton of beets they deliver to the mill.

Estimations are that 5 million can be raised over a 10-year period. Shoup said plans were to process 4,000 tons of sugar beets a day and would operate about 130 days a year.

Four other areas are competing with this area for the 1964 reserve. They are Trans-Pecos area, Arapahoe County, Maine, Cayuga County, N.Y., and the Phoenix area of Arizona. Sugar beets have been produced in this area for a number of years, but had to be shipped 315 miles by rail to the nearest factory at Rocky Ford, Colorado.

"Although the fertility effect of this crop cannot be measured until next year, its value as a cover crop and green manure crop was very good. It might have shown more next year had there been more time for it to grow this year," emphasizes Wright.
