Council Proposes Raise In Bronte Water Rates

A public hearing has been called for Feb. 17 at 7 p.m. to discuss a possible solution to the problems of financing the city water department. Increased cost of operation has put a strain on the water department, according to members of the city council, who noted that the cost of water has not been increased since the city started using out of Oak Creek Lake in 1953.

Council members have spent many hours studying the problem and have arrived at what they consider the most equitable way to increase water revenue. The Feb. 17 meeting will be for the purpose of discussing a proposed raise in rates. The meeting was called at a regular session of the council Feb. 3.

Mayor Royce Lee issued the following statement regarding the water department's problem:

"Due to the present financial condition of the City of Bronte and the future financial condition, the city council has arrived at a possible solution to meet the demands of increased cost of maintenance and operation."

The mayor continued, saying that the council recommends an increase in water rates as follows:

First 3,000 gallons, $4.00.
Next 4,000 gallons, 50 cents per M.
Next 3,000 gallons, 40 cents per M.
Next 5,000 gallons, 30 cents per M.
All over 15,000 gallons, 25 cents per M.

The council invited every citizen of Bronte to attend the hearing and express his opinion on the proposed raise in water rates. If, after the hearing, the council decides to go ahead with the rate increase, new rates will become effective at the March 20 billing.

Mayor Lee stated that all members of the council dislike very much having to propose an increase in water rates, but he pointed out that revenue from water is the only source of income for the water department. He added that cost of all materials used by the department, such as chlorine, alum, pipe and fittings, meters, etc., have increased in cost regularly over the years.

4 Vacancies on 1966 City Election Ticket

A city election was called at the last meeting of the city council last Thursday night, Feb. 3. Vacancies which will be filled include the offices of mayor and three aldermen. The election will be held April 5.

Noah Pruitt Sr. was named election judge, with Matthew Caperton serving as alternate judge. Clerks will be named by the judge. The order calls for the polls to be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

City officials whose terms expire include Mayor Royce Lee and Aldermen Elmer Hurley, Billy Joe Luckett and Martin Lee. Aldermen Norman R. Kiker and Horace Grigg are the only holdover officials who have another year of their present term to serve.

Deadline for filing in order to get names on the ballot is 30 days before the election. A candidate may file his own name for any of the positions, or a name may be filed by a petition signed by at least five qualified voters of the city.

More Sewer Customers Needed

At the meeting last week the council went on record for encouraging local residents to tie on to the sewer system. The minutes of the meeting stated, "The council would like to encourage anyone who wishes to tie on to the sewer to do so before spring in order to make for a more sanitary place in which to live and for more trouble-free disposal for themselves." Arrangements can be made at the city hall to obtain a plumber for tying on.

In other business the council discussed the problem of disposing of water which collects in front of McShan's Snak Bar after rains.

Following the meal, which was served by sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls under direction of Mrs. Royce Fancher, Smith told the crowd that high school athletic programs are the greatest builders of character we have today.

Addressing his remarks primarily to the boys and girls who participate in high school athletics, he said, "Do the very best you can, regardless of what the job is." The Abilene coach, in continuing his remarks, said "Success is built on going that extra mile to learn to do things better."

He congratulated Bronte School on its athletic program and pointed out that he had served as an official at so many basketball games in the Bronte gym that he is always interested in results of contests in which Bronte students participate.

Following Smith's address, coaches presented members of their teams and outlined prospects for various seasons which will come up this spring and next fall, as well as reviewing seasons just past. ## Evergreens Shed Leaves Gradually

Home owners often become concerned about the loss of leaves from their favorite evergreens during the winter or early spring. In most instances, there's actually no cause for alarm.

As the old leaf matures and is no longer functional due to shading or crowding by younger leaves, it will turn yellow or brown and drop off.

The live oak tree will lose all of its old leaves each spring as the new growth starts, and for a period of a week or two, will appear almost bare. The Southern Magnolia will shed many of its oldest leaves throughout the spring and early summer. As long as the new foliage is growing actively and is free of disease, there is no cause for alarm. Most hollies also shed their leaves in the spring or early summer as the new foliage matures.

On most coniferous plants, the annual leaf or needle drop goes unnoticed because it occurs in the fall after the new foliage is mature. The needles yellow toward the center and usually drop in late fall or winter, and are obvious only when you notice the heavy cover of needles on the ground below the tree.

Unless there is an abnormal loss of leaves or there are noticeable spots or lesions on the fallen leaves, there is usually little cause for concern when the evergreen sheds a portion of its leaves.

Clothing Styles and Prices

Clothing costs are rising slightly, and this price increase will be reflected in spring fashions.

U. S. families are buying more and better quality clothing.

In the new spring fashion lines, prices are expected to be 50c to $1 higher for low and medium priced shoes and as much as $2 higher for some more expensive shoes. You can expect a 5 to 10 percent rise in prices of children's clothing this spring.

Look for more easy-to-care-for items in clothing lines, especially those for men and boys. Permanently pressed slacks and a new shirt the manufacturer claims never needs the touch of an iron are available. You can expect more stretch cottons, especially in sports, clothes, and more shrink resistant wool garments easily laundered at home in the washing machine, both products of USDA research.

Skimping on Milk Poor Economy

To skimp on milk in order to cut family food costs is poor economy. Without enough milk you can hardly provide meals that meet the family's calcium needs. Milk is also a good buy for high-quality protein, the B-vitamins, riboflavin and other vitamins and minerals necessary for healthy growth.

Money can be saved on milk purchases. Here are some possible ways to save in buying fresh, whole milk: (1) Compare prices. Milk of the same quality from different companies sometimes varies in price. (2) Check to see if milk companies in your area offer discounts on large home deliveries. Check also on cash-and-carry versus home-delivery prices. By carrying milk from the store you may save 1 to 3 cents a quart. (3) Price large containers. In some places milk sells for less in 2-quart and gallon containers than by the quart or pint.

Watch for specials on canned evaporated milk. Evaporated milk has nutritive values similar to fresh whole milk and often may be used the same way — in infant feeding and cooking, for example. Other less expensive products are skim milk, buttermilk, and non-fat dry milk. They are lower in calories and in vitamin A than whole milk but are high in protein, minerals, and riboflavin.

Non-fat dry milk is the best bargain for calcium and convenience in cooking. It can also be stored on the shelf until needed. Use milk in cooking and include ice cream, cheese and other milk products in the family's meals.

Seven Students Scheduled to Take Merit Scholarship Examination

Bronte High School will administer the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test to seven students at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 1. Joe B. Simpson, announced today, the NMSQT, a 2½ hour test of educational development, is the first step in the twelfth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships. Students who wish to be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1967 must take the NMSQT on this date.

All students' scores will be reported to their schools before May 15, together with interpretative and guidance materials for schools and students. About 14,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be announced publicly on September 22, 1966. Names of the semifinalists will be sent to college and organizations offering financial aid to undergraduates.

In October about 38,000 students who score just below the level required of semifinalists will receive letters of commendation for their high performance, although they will not be eligible to compete for Merit Scholarships.

Each semifinalist will be required to substantiate his NMSQT performance on a second examination and submit certain biographical information in order to become a finalist in the competition. Only finalists are eligible to be considered for the Merit Scholarships financed by NMSC and sponsors. Every finalist will be awarded a Certificate of Merit for his outstanding performance in the 1966-67 Merit Program.

Finalists who win Merit Scholarships will be selected on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, extracurricular activities, leadership ability, and accomplishments outside the classroom. The awards range from $100 to $1500 per year according to the student's need. About three-fourths of the 2004 Merit Scholarships awarded in 1965 were sponsored by corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, unions, trusts or individuals.

Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Renza Lee were Mitchell Lee and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Womack of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gray have been with their daughter, Mrs. Dawson Coleman of Miles, who underwent major surgery in Clinic Hospital in San Angelo last week. Mrs. Coleman expects to be dismissed this weekend.
