Excellent Grass Stand on T. K. Whiteside Ranch DEFERRED GRAZING PROGRAM CAN HELP PASTURE IN 3 MONTHS

Coke County ranchers have found by practicing a system of deferment, they can improve

MR. AND MRS. SELTZ BACK FROM TRIP TO ALASKA

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Seltz returned recently from a vacation trip to Anchorage, Alaska, where they visited their daughter and family, Msgr. and Mrs. Richard Sprenkle, Lenda and Wayne. They made the trip by plane.

They stopped in Seattle, Wash., for a visit with Mrs. Seltz' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wrinkle and family. A family gathering there brought 24 persons together. They said they enjoyed the pretty sights around Seattle and took a ferry trip on Puget Sound, a body of water which is 900 feet deep and serves as a harbor for U. S. Navy and merchant ships.

They spent two weeks in Anchorage and said Alaska was different from what they expected. They went to many pretty places and camped out five nights at various places. A bear came into their camp one night and they saw several moose, mountain sheep and caribou. The couple went to Portage Pass and Glacier where a plane carrying several members of the congress went down last year and has not been found. The couple went out to Homer Spit, a 4 1/2 mile gravel bar that extends into the center of Kachemak Bay. They said there was snow on the mountains everywhere but it was warm in Anchorage. Snow was melting off the mountains, forming hundreds of rivers, creeks and water falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Seltz said the trip was a wonderful experience.

their rangeland. Deferment will promote plant reproduction, establishment of new plants, and provide a feed reserve for fall and winter grazing and emergency use.

Livestock should be kept out of the pasture being rested for at least a three month period between April 1 and Nov. 1. A minimum deferment of three or four months will allow the grass plants to take good growth and seed production. Longer deferments may be needed on pastures that are in poor condition.

This year we received above average winter moisture but received average spring moisture. This is one of the reasons that grass production has not been as great as normal. With the rain we have received now and with more moisture this fall, grass production should improve. Now would be a good time for fall deferments of native grass pastures. Deferments for August until the first part of November should provide good winter grazing.

One of the primary things to consider when planning deferments is to have the ranch properly stocked. The benefit in deferring one pasture will not be gained if the other pastures are overgrazed. By being flexible and keeping livestock in balance with forage produced a rancher can work out a grazing system that will allow deferments of his rangeland each year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Garcia, Eva and Mary Ellen accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Maginness to Bradenington, Fla., where they visited two weeks with his grandfather, Ernest Maginness.

Bronte Hospital Endorses Patients Bill of Rights

Bronte Hospital has endorsed the Patient's Bill of Rights recently issued by the American Hospital Association (AHA), said Dr. John R. Harris, owner of the hospital.

The patients' rights document is intended to contribute to more effective patient care and a greater satisfaction for the patient, his physician and the hospital organization.

"These basic rights of hospital patients have always been observed by the staff and all those associated with Bronte Hospital," said Dr. Harris. "However, for the benefit of our patients, we feel it appropriate to publicly confirm our belief in these rights as those they, the patients, may expect while being cared for in this hospital."

A copy of the Patient's Bill of Rights is being published elsewhere in this issue of the Enterprise and Dr. Harris invites all hospital patrons to read it.

A similar election June 6, 1972, was defeated, 334-251.

Mrs. Azbell New 2nd Grade Teacher

Mrs. Janet Lee Azbell has been employed by Bronte School to teach the second grade. She will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Jana Dahmen. Her employment is subject to approval by the school board.

Mrs. Azbell is married and has two daughters, 2 and 4 years old. Her husband is working at Angelo State University toward becoming a Certified Public Accountant.

The new teacher is a graduate of ASU and is a native of Chillicothe, Ill.

Supt. C. B. Barbee said the family is looking for a house to rent, and anyone who knows of one is asked to call the superintendent's office.

Supt. Barbee said Thursday that the school still does not have a math-English teacher to replace Mrs. Stacy Granzin, who resigned. Interviews are being conducted and some progress is being made toward getting the vacancy filled.

Austin — Texas may be better off under its present type of government than the so-called cabinet form being advanced in preparation for constitutional revision, according to Texas Research League.

League staff members in a new report to the Constitutional Revision Commission point to advantages of the present system and offer these key observations:

* While there is room for improvement, Texas government is not the "administrative jungle" portrayed by critics. There are 174 legal entities which might qualify as state agencies, but fewer than 30 of them control 99 per cent of money and personnel in state government.

* Texas still has one of the most economical big state governments in the nation. Ohio and Missouri rate slightly lower, but Texas spends more in support of its schools than those two states. Major suggestions by the League for economies have been in the areas of education and welfare financing. Overhead administration and control functions cost 1.9 per cent of Texas' total budget, while the national average is 2.6 per cent.

* Major Texas agencies such as the Highway Department, Education, Department of Corrections and Department of Public Safety rate high nationally. The League found few agencies in other states "clearly superior" to Texas counterparts.

* While advocates of the cabinet theory claim it provides for holding the governor accountable for all aspects of government administration, political realities dictate that he can be held accountable at the polls only once or twice. Further, it is difficult for voters to assess thousands of acts by the chief executive during any four years.

* Whether authority to appoint 20 cabinet officials but no sub-cabinet-level personnel would strengthen the governor in policy making is debatable. Merit system employment to insulate state employees from the spoils system is considered part of the cabinet theory. This means echelons below the cabinet level are beyond the governor's control.

The present pattern of part time boards, according to the League, provides opportunity for participation in government by many key citizens, who, in turn, provide a powerful reservoir of support for a governor's policies. The League suggests more fiscal power for the governor and authority to order governmental re-organization subject to legislative veto.

DIED — Computers are being used by the Texas Pharmacy Board to determine the top 100 prescription drugs being sold in this state.

Under new state law, H. B. 750, druggists must post the prices of the 100 most prescribed drugs at their counter this fall.

The new law will also prohibit advertising about "wholesale," "cut rate" prices, and limit drug stores to advertising about services, keeping "family records" and dangers of mixing certain types of drugs.

Consumers will be able to check the prices of the top 100 most common drugs at each prescription counter, states Joe Arnette, Texas Pharmacy Board, who is using the computer method to make the state wide survey.

AUTO RATES CUT — True to its promise, the State Board of Insurance ordered an average statewide reduction of 4.3 per cent in private auto coverage premiums, estimating 90 per cent of motorists will save at least $25 million. New rates are effective Aug. 27.

Further, according to Board Chairman Joe Christie, the competitive rating law Sept. 1 will mean further savings for many, Christie said. One company has indicated it will ask authority to cut its rates 15 per cent across the board when the competitive rating law takes effect.

Another law passed by the legislature this year, however, may cancel out the savings for some and actually bring a slight increase. The personal injury protection coverage of at least $2,500 for medical expenses and lost earnings or services due to accident, regardless of who was at fault, will be added to all policies unless motorists reject it in writing.

Christie said even rejections written on "brown paper sacks" will be considered valid. P. I. P. coverage costs $22 to $44, but many will substitute it for medical coverage which already costs $15 to $22 a year.

PRICES SOARING — Disruption of normal buying habits is pushing poultry prices up to the level of some cuts of beef, Texas Department of Agriculture's market news analysts reported.

Broiler prices are expected to reach the 80 cent bracket this week, according to the department's projections.

"Hoarding" and "panic buying" are contributing to run away prices, commented Mike Walton, Agriculture Department market news chief. Walton said a return to normal buying habits will help return prices to more normal levels.

Health hazards of pets . . . All pets can get sick, but sometimes they can pass their problems on to humans. Ringworms, intestinal parasites, and ticks are only a few of the hidden dangers to man. To find out more about the health needs and hazards of common family pets, Today's Health consulted with Pat Bradley, D.V.M., at the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Hospital. Here's what your favorite Felix looks like, when seen through the doctor's eyes.

*Cats — life expectancy of up to 15 years. Cats should be given feline distemper vaccinations at 9, 12, and 16 weeks and boosters every year, as well as rabies vaccinations.

Potential human problems include ringworm and intestinal infection. The infection passes out in the cat's feces and can cause congenital disease, including brain lesion, in infants. To protect against this possible hazard, pregnant women should have someone else clean the litter box every day until they have given birth, Dr. Bradley cautions.

*Dogs — life expectancy from 10 to 15 years, depending on breed. Pups should have their first inoculation against distemper, leptospirosis, and hepatitis at 6, 9, and 12 weeks. Grown dogs need the same shots yearly. They should also be inoculated against rabies as often as required by state law. Hazards to humans include rabies, intestinal parasites, ringworm, and ticks.

*Birds — life expectancy varies: parakeets may live 10 years, while parrots have lived beyond 100. The two potential problems of birds are feather mites and intestinal parasites. Special hazards include psittacosis, an infectious disease marked by diarrhea and wasting (although the bird may not show any symptoms at all). If transferred to humans, the disease can cause nausea, fever, and bronchial pneumonia.

*Rabbits — generally live 5 to 10 years. Rabbits can be bothered by both worms and ear mites. They also can carry fur mites, which can be irritating to human skin. Wild rabbits brought home from the woods sometimes carry tularemia, an infectious disease of rodents, man, and some domestic animals. In man, it produces toxic symptoms, such as fever.

But animal lovers needn't be too disconcerted. Millions have owned pets and never had any problems. If you keep your pet healthy and are aware of its needs, says Dr. Bradley, you'll help protect your health, too.

A Patient's Bill of Rights

The American Hospital Association presents a Patient's Bill of Rights with the expectation that observance of these rights will contribute to more effective patient care and greater satisfaction for the patient and his physician, and the hospital organization. Further, the Association presents these rights in the expectation that they will be supported by the hospital on behalf of its patients, as an integral part of the healing process. It is recognized that a personal relationship between the physician and the patient is essential for the provision of proper medical care. The traditional physician-patient relationship takes on a new dimension when care is rendered within an organizational structure. Legal precedent has established that the institution itself also has a responsibility to the patient. It is in recognition of these factors that these rights are affirmed.

The patient has the right to considerate and respectful care.

The patient has the right to obtain from his physician complete current information concerning his diagnosis, treatment, and prognosis in terms the patient can be reasonably expected to understand. When it is not medically advisable to give such information to the patient, the information should be made available to an appropriate person in his behalf. He has the right to know by name, the physician responsible for coordinating his care.

The patient has the right to receive from his physician information necessary to give informed consent prior to the start of any procedure and/or treatment. Except in emergencies, such information for informed consent, should include but not necessarily be limited to the specific procedure and/or treatment, the medically significant risks involved, and the probable duration of incapacitation. Where medically significant alternatives for care or treatment exist, or when the patient requests information concerning medical alternatives, the patient has the right to such information. The patient also has the right to know the name of the person responsible for the procedures and/or treatment.

The patient has the right to refuse treatment to the extent permitted by law, and to be informed of the medical consequences of his action.

The patient has the right to every consideration of his own privacy concerning his own medical care program. Case discussion, consultation, examination, and treatment are confidential and should be conducted discreetly. Those not directly involved in his care must have the permission of the patient to be present.

The patient has the right to expect all communications and records pertaining to his care should be treated as confidential.

The patient has the right to expect that within its capacity a hospital must make reasonable response to the request of a patient for services. The hospital must provide evaluation, service, and/or referral as indicated by the urgency of the case. When medically permissible a patient may be transferred to another facility only after he has received complete information and explanation concerning the needs for and alternatives to such a transfer. The institution to which the patient is to be transferred must first have accepted the patient for transfer.

The patient has the right to obtain information as to any relationship of his hospital to other health care and educational institutions insofar as his care is concerned. The patient has the right to obtain information as to the existence of any professional relationships among individuals, by name, who are treating him.

The patient has the right to be advised if the hospital proposes to engage in or perform human experimentation affecting his care or treatment. The patient has the right to refuse to participate in such research projects.

10
The patient has the right to expect reasonable continuity of care. He has the right to know in advance what appointment times and physicians are available and where. The patient has the right to expect that the hospital will provide a mechanism whereby he is informed by his physician or a delegate of the physician of the patient's continuing health care requirements following discharge.

11
The patient has the right to examine and receive an explanation of his bill regardless of source of payment.

12
The patient has the right to know what hospital rules and regulations apply to his conduct as a patient.

No catalogue of rights can guarantee for the patient the kind of treatment he has a right to expect. A hospital has many functions to perform, including the prevention and treatment of disease, the education of both health professionals and patients, and the conduct of clinical research. All these activities must be conducted with an overriding concern for the patient, and, above all, the recognition of his dignity as a human being. Success in achieving this recognition assures success in the defense of the rights of the patient.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

So, warmly welcome each other into the church, just as Christ has warmly welcomed you; then God will be glorified. Remember that Jesus Christ came to show that God is true to his promises and to help the Jews. And remember he came also that the Gentiles might be saved and give glory to God for his mercies to them. That is what the Psalmist meant when he wrote: "I will praise you among the Gentiles, and sing to your name." And in another place, "Be glad, O you Gentiles, along with his people the Jews."

Retirement.

The end of work, or the beginning of worry?

Most people look toward retirement as a time of relaxation and enjoyment. And it can be if you prepare for it. But if you don't, it can be a time of worry and discontentment. A time when you can look back and think of a million ways that you could have saved, but didn't.

Well, there's no better time to think about retirement than now, while you're working.

One easy way to save on a regular basis is by purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds; 5 1/4% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months

(4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They'll help make your retirement just what you want it to be.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.

Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Milk Production Declines As Predicted... Broilers, Eggs Also Show Declines... Cattle Feeding Increases.

Milk production in Texas as well as the nation is following a year long pattern of declines, which has been predicted by dairy group spokesmen. Texas milk production for June is 5 per cent below the previous month's production, although it is slightly above June of a year ago.

Nationwide, milk producing is 2.5 per cent less than a year earlier. Production during the first half of this year is running 2 per cent under 1972. The number of milk cows, nationwide, also has declined 2 per cent.

The cost price squeeze in the dairy industry is also dramatized in the milk-feed price ratio. That ratio is down 27 per cent from a year ago. It is also the lowest June ratio since 1955.

EGG production in Texas during June is down 4 per cent from a year ago and 5 per cent under last month. Nationwide, a decrease of 5 per cent is noted from the same month a year ago.

Broiler chick hatch in Texas during June is down 7 per cent from a year ago and 10 per cent under the preceding month.

The turkey poult hatch for Texas during June is up 19 per cent from a year ago, but is 9 per cent under a month ago.

The June hatch of egg type chicks in Texas is up 34 per cent from a month ago and 3 per cent above a month earlier.

CATTLE on feed in Texas and the nation continue to increase. As of July 1, a total of 2,335,000 head of cattle and calves were on feed in Texas. This is 10 per cent above a year ago, 4 per cent above June 1, and 3 per cent above April 1.

Large feedlots—those with 1,000 plus capacity—numbered 234. Steers accounted for 1,513,000 head of the cattle on feed.

Cattle placements on feed in Texas feedlots from April 1 to July 1 were down 11 per cent compared to a year ago. Cattle marketed out of Texas feedlots is 4 per cent above marketings compared to the same period of a year ago.

Feedlot operators intend to market 1,238,000 cattle between now and Sept. 30. This would be 6 per cent more than marketed during the same quarter last year.

Nationwide, cattle and calves on feed is up 2 per cent from a year ago. Cattle feeders plan to market about 1 per cent more than those actually sold during the July to September period of a year ago.
