Son of Wesley Turner Fatally Injured

John Allison Turner, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Turner, of Abilene, was fatally injured late Sunday evening when his saddle pony "Goober" crashed into the rear of a car, and died at 4:10 a. m. Monday in an Abilene hospital. He had two skull fractures, one at the base of the brain and a severe bruise in the abdomen.

Funeral rites were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Laughter chapel, Abilene, with Dr. E. B. Surface, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church officiating. The body was then brought to Baird, for many years the home of his family, for burial at 4 o'clock.

The boy's injury was the aftermath of a Sunday afternoon ride. He and a chum, Charles Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daniel, were riding the pony double, northward on Merchant street. Apparently young Turner, who was at the reins, did not see an automobile traveling west on North Twelfth and the horse crashed its head into the rear glass of the car at the intersection. Turner was thrown to the ground as the pony's foot hung in the bumper of the car. The Daniel boy was uninjured, sliding off three horse over its hips.

Bob Fields, Jr., driver of the machine, rushed the injured child to the hospital. He never regained consciousness.

John Allison Turner was born January 14, 1920, in Abilene. He had attended Abilene schools from the first grade, this year was a member of the seventh grade class at Central school. He was a member of St. Paul Methodist church.

Besides his parents the boy is survived by an older brother and sister, J. G. and Frances Turner. His paternal grandmother, Mrs. L. G. Hadley of Baird, and maternal grandfather, J. S. Hart of Baird; H. D. Hart, brother of Mrs. Turner, and Mrs. Hart of Fort Worth; Tom Hadley of Baird, brother of Mr. Turner, and Mrs. Hadley, and Fred Hart of Baird, brother of Mrs. Turner attended the funeral at Abilene.

Pallbearers were W. H. Free, E. L. Finley, H. M. Harrison, H. J. Bass, J. Harvey Clark and T. R. Bacon.

Dr. Griswold Comes Back To Baird

Dr. J. T. Griswold has returned from Amarillo, where he attended the annual meeting of the North-West Texas Conference. Dr. Griswold has been returned as pastor of the Baird Methodist Church, which is pleasing to his many friends here.

MARRIED

Miss Minnie Russum and Mr. Charles Richard Langley were married September 29, 1932 at Dudley, Texas, Mr. Mayes, justice of the peace, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Langley will make their home at Dudley.

Baird and Clyde, District 11, oldest football rivals met at Clyde to play one of this section's greatest football thrillers ever witnessed, Armistice day.

The lone tally of the game came when Baird was forced to punt on account of downs and Clyde ran two plays. Tyler's attempt to pass to one of his fellowmen was intercepted by Judson Atchison and carried 70 yards for a touchdown. He failed to kick extra point.

Clyde only threatened to score once, that being in the second quarter. They had been very successful in making off tackle plunges and circling the right end thereby carrying the ball to Baird's own ten yard stripe when the whistle blew for the half.

A steady gale from the northwest halted passes and both teams drew penalties at critical moments.

Pete Tyler was the power for Clyde. He made hard drives through the Baird line and played a wonderful defensive game. Rhodes, halfback for Clyde, kept battering the left side of Baird's line and kept them in trouble all the time.

Alvin Chrisman did a great part in the ball-advancing activities for Baird. It was he who recovered the blocked put and had to push his own men out of the way causing him to get tackled before any yards could be made.

Atchinson's leadership and threatening helped Baird to keep her 6-0 lead.

G. Nichols kept that left end position of his well under control and played one of the best defensive games ever witnessed.

DAD AND I

By Stafford

BILLY'S UNCLE

Sings in the Night

In the South, the chipping sparrow, known everywhere, sings at night in the early spring, says Nature Magazine. There is little or no melody about its song at any time, but a drowsy, sleep-talking note in its nocturnal refrain is soothing to say the least. I have often fancied that it was accidentally singing in its sleep. The clown of birddom, the yellow-breasted chat, is too exuberant not to sing at all hours of the day and night.

Quotation From Milton

The saying that the mind can make a heaven of hell and a hell of heaven is from Milton, and the quotation in full, is: "The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven."

Moving Rapidly

Without being physically sensible of it, we are traveling through space at 19 miles per second, over 1,000 miles a minute, over 68,000 miles an hour.

Odd Idea of Silk

The ancient Romans regarded silk as a sort of wool that grew on trees.

From the Roman

The word trivial comes from trivium, a Latin word meaning a meeting place of three streets, or a crossroads. From this original use comes the extended meaning, pertaining to the streets and hence common, ordinary, or petty.

Dangerous Logic

They say it is better for your morale to keep busy even if you aren't making anything. Better clip this, however, before your wife sees the papers.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Giant Water Bug

The giant water bug, the zaitba, an especial menace to fish in artificial pools, has an interesting fashion of caring for its eggs.—These are deposited by the female on the back of the male and fastened there with a layer of waterproof cement. The male doesn't appear to enjoy this operation and frequently goes into hiding until the eggs are hatched.

First City Manager Idea

The city manager plan was first tried out in Staunton, Va., in 1908.

Michigan Food at the Fair

THE "Fair" means, of course, the Century of Progress International Exposition which opens next Jan. at Chicago, and where food products will be shown in the great Agricultural Building which is now rapidly approaching completion on North-erly Island in Lake Michigan.

The State of Michigan is deeply interested in showing its food products there because of the fact that its fruits and vegetables make a large contribution to the nation's supply of canned foods. Its cherry industry is especially outstanding, and negotiations are under way for the building of "cherry huts" at the fair where cherry products alone may be sold.

Fruits and Vegetables

The Michigan Canners' Association expects to join with the State of Michigan in this exhibit. It is proposed to show pictures of orchards of cherries and canning factories in miniature models, with the story of their accomplishments conveyed by means of continuous moving illuminated type or in some similar manner.

Michigan supplies her canning factories with all small vegetables produced in great quantities exclusively for this purpose, and its celery is said to be the best in quality and the largest in quantity of any State in the Union.

Apples and peaches, too, are produced in very large quantities.

All these foods and many more will be included in Michigan's interesting exhibit in the Agricultural Building. It is significant of the country's faith in the future and the restoration of normal times that Michigan and so many other States are planning such comprehensive exhibits at Chicago next year.

Territory's New Name
Transylvania was until 1918 a portion of Hungary. Its official name is now Ardeal.

Purpose
What men want is not talent, but purpose; not the power to achieve, but the will to labor.—Lytton.

AMERICA IS GOING AHEAD

It is a relief to have something besides politics to talk about, now that the election is over. We are among those who believe that the United States of America will continue to travel along its predestined course regardless of politics and politicians. They and their activities may impede or reflect the course of events momentarily, but in the long run the destiny of this republic is in the hands of its people, and over these nearly one hundred and sixty years since we established our independence as a free nation, our people have always, in emergencies, exhibited a sane, underlying common sense which, we believe, is still to be relied upon.

One of the things our pioneer ancestors in America learned was to take the bitter with the sweet. They endured hardships far beyond anything of today can imagine, in their determined effort to establish homes for themselves and enduring heritances for their children in the new land. Sometimes we forget that everyone who lives in America is a descendant of an immigrant. We, all of us come of adventurous pioneer stock. Some of us are only a generation or two removed from these ancestors who left their native lands because they could no longer tolerate the conditions under which they were compelled to live, and came to America in search of a new freedom. Some of us come from older stock that has been developed in America through generations. But whether we are the children of recent immigrants or the descendants of the earliest Pilgrims, we all have in our very blood something of the same strain of independence and self-reliance, without which none of our forebears would have ventured to cross the ocean.

It is that spirit which has made America, and it is that spirit which will carry America forward to greater achievements than we have ever dreamed of.

J. M. Harlow, Pioneer Dies

Another pioneer citizen of this section, J. M. Harlow, 78, spanned the eternal divide Sunday night. He succumbed in a Brownwood hospital shortly before midnight after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Harlow had been in failing health for months. Interment was made in Cross Plains cemetery Monday afternoon and services were conducted from Church of Christ, where the deceased man was an Elder for more than 20 years.

Death resulted from pneumonia, doctors declared. Surviving are his widow, two sons and two daughters. Mr. Harlow and his wife were pioneer settlers in this section, having lived in this immediate locality long before the present site of Cross Plains was established. He was a minister and actively engaged in pastoral duties until a few years ago, when failing health forced partial retirement. He was president of the Farmers National bank here, before the institution was closed July 11, 1930.

Mrs. Harlow returned to Brownwood after the funeral to remain in the home of her son, for some time at least. Friends did not know whether she would continue to reside in the family home on Eight street here or not.

C. M. Moser, Brownwood minister, and a close friend of Mr. Harlow's conducted the funeral service.—Cross Plains Review.

Cloud Visibility

The distance at which clouds are visible to the naked eye varies greatly with each position and the kind of clouds. If one is in an open flat country and the clouds are of the broad stratus or layer type, he may not see them more than 30 to 40 miles away, and even not half so far if the air tends to be misty or hazy. On the other hand, when the air is quite clear a well developed cumulo-stratus, or thunderstorm, cloud may, under favorable circumstances, be seen when more than 100 miles away.

FIFTY-FIVE years old, and still going strong!

Do you want the secret of such vitality? It isn't what you eat, or any tonic you take. It's something anyone can do—something you can start today and see results in a week! All you do is give your vital organs the right stimulant.

A famous doctor discovered the way to stimulate a sluggish system to new energy. It brings fresh vigor to every organ. Being a physician's prescription, it's quite harmless. Tell your druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Get the benefit of its fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and that pure pepsin. Get that lazy liver to work, those stagnant bowels into action. Get rid of waste matter that is slow poison so long as it is permitted to remain in the system.

The new energy men and women feel before one bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin has been used up is proof of how much the system needs this help.

Get a bottle of this delicious syrup and let it end that constant worry about the condition of the bowels. Spare the children those bilious days that make them miserable. Save your household from the use of cathartics which lead to chronic constipation. And guard against auto-intoxication as you grow older.

Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is such a well known preparation you can get it wherever drugs are sold and it isn't expensive.

Great Democratic Landslide That Carried Roosevelt and Garner to Victory—Gossip About the Next President's Cabinet.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RIDING triumphantly upon the crest of a tremendous wave of discontent, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was elected President of the United States, the thirty-second man to win to that lofty eminence. Herbert Hoover went down to cataclysmic defeat because of conditions and circumstances beyond his control and not of his making. The sovereign people of the nation wanted a change, a "new deal," that might conceivably bring about an improvement in business and industry and provide jobs for the millions of unemployed. So they went to the polls and got the change.

The defeat of the Republican national ticket was the greatest sustained by a major party in more than a century. Governor Roosevelt carried forty-two states and has a vote of 472 in the electoral college. President Hoover won in only Maine, Connecticut, Delaware, New Hampshire, Vermont and Pennsylvania. His electoral college vote is fifty-nine. The Democratic candidate was 206 votes in excess of the 266 necessary to a choice. Moreover, when the victor takes office next March he will have backing him a congress controlled by the Democrats, for they won majority in the senate and increased the majority they already had in the house of representatives. Among the notable Republican senators who were overwhelmed by the deluge were Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, Reed Smoot of Utah, James E. Watson of Indiana, Otis F. Glenn of Illinois and George H. Moses of New Hampshire. Brookhart of Iowa, Blaine of Wisconsin and Shortridge of California had been eliminated in the primaries.

Though New York with its 47 electoral votes had been considered the crucial battleground, Roosevelt as it turned out did not need it to win. However, he carried his home state by about 642,000 plurality because of the immense plurality of about 862,000 given him by Greater New York city. Luet, Gov. H. H. Lehman led the national and state tickets, winning the governorship over "Wild Bill" Donovan by nearly a million votes. Senator Robert F. Wagner easily won reelection. Among the well-known New York congressmen defeated were Fiorello La Guardia and Ruth Baker Pratt.

DEMOCRATS of Illinois, with the aid of thousands of Republicans, not only gave Roosevelt and Garner a handsome plurality but elected their entire state ticket. At its head was Judge Henry Horner of Chicago, who swamped Len Small in the race for the governorship. This was not surprising, for Small's record as state treasurer and governor was peculiarly open to attack, while the only argument against Horner was that his election would add strength to the powerful machine built up by Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago. Congressman William H. Dieterich was successful in displacing Senator Otis F. Glenn.

In Wisconsin the La Follette following, defeated in the primaries, threw its strength to the Democrats, and the conservative Republicans, led by Walter Kohler for governor, were defeated. A. G. Schmedeman of Madison was elected governor, and F. Ryan Duffy defeated young Editor Chapple for the senatorship. Senator Jim Watson's victorious opponent in Indiana was Frederick Van Nuys; and Paul V. McNutt was chosen governor of the Hoosier state. Henry Field, who whipped Senator Brookhart in the Iowa primaries, went down in the debacle, and Louis Murphy, wet Democrat, was elected senator. Brookhart, who ran as an independent, received a pitifully small vote.

Governor Roosevelt received the congratulations of President Hoover, and his promise to "dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort," by wire from Palo Alto. He calmly heard the rejoicings of his close associates in the campaign, and then went to Albany to take up the task of adjusting the New York state budget. A group of leading Democrats in the senate and house, as soon as his victory was assured, telegraphed him urging that he enunciate as soon as possible his program for combating the depression, and asking especially that he tell the country whether or not he planned to call a special session of congress immediately after his inauguration to deal with the tariff. It was intimated in Washington that Mr. Roosevelt might assume at once the leadership of his party and direct its doings in the final session of the Seventy-second congress during the winter. Since the nation's problems are so grave and really not partisan, it would be gratifying to the people to see the President-elect and his party co-operating sincerely with the administration of President Hoover in seeking their solution. With the election ended so decisively, this delightful dream might be realized.

MR. ROOSEVELT at least proposes to try to get his program for national recovery started during the coming short session of congress. He let it be known that he would invite the leaders of the present senate and house to a conference at his winter home at Warm Springs, Ga., where he will spend two weeks at Thanksgiving time, and will plan with them what can be done without waiting for his inauguration. Farm relief especially will be discussed. Mr. Roosevelt has plans to aid agriculture, by a domestic tariff to be levied on certain basic crops such as wheat, corn and cotton, which would be intended to give the farmers a better price for their products and strengthen their buying power.

It is likely, too, that a measure to legalize beer will be put through the lame duck session of congress if the plans of the wets work out, though the dries will fight it as long as they can, and they are still in the majority in both houses. Many of the states on election day voted to repeal their dry laws, and the next congress will be controlled by wets.

GREAT interest is now evinced in the makeup of Roosevelt's cabinet. Before the election he announced that he had made no commitments, and to date he has made known none of his selections. Political gossip is that Al Smith's reconciliation with Roosevelt was based on virtual assurance that the latter would not consider any of the independent Republicans for cabinet positions, and this was taken into consideration also by other conservative Democratic leaders who feared nothing else would so alarm business as the selection of radicals for positions of importance. It was not thought likely that Mr. Smith would himself accept a place in the cabinet but possibly he might be appointed chairman of a commission to reorganize the federal government.

Mention as possible cabinet members were John W. Davis or Newton D. Baker for secretary of state; Melvin A. Traylor or Owen D. Young for secretary of the treasury; National Chairman James Farley for postmaster general; Governor Ritchie, Senators Glass, Walsh of Montana and Harrison; former Gov. Harry Byrd of Virginia and Bernard Baruch.

ONE outstanding result of the election was the immediate launching of a general movement among the foreign debtors of the United States to obtain revision or cancellation of their debts. They seemed to think the change of administration would give them as well as the people of the United States a "new deal." It was said Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay informed the State department Great Britain could not continue its war debt payments without seriously dislocating her financial structure; and Washington received dispatches from several other nations saying they would have to default on the payments due in November and December. Under the war debt funding agreements the treasury can allow postponement of payment on principal for two years, but only congress can arrange for postponement of interest payments.

GERMANY also had an election, and is struggling with the tangled condition resulting therefrom. It was held to choose members of the reichstag, for the fifth time in 1932, and was as indecisive as those preceding it. No political party won a majority in the assembly, but Chancellor Von Papen nevertheless declared his government would not relinquish power. The outstanding result of the election, in which 35,500,000 voters cast their ballots, was the loss sustained by Hitler's Nazis. They have only 100 deputies in the new reichstag instead of their 230 in the last chamber. On the other hand the Communists made big gains, electing 100 members. The Von Papen government can count on only about 60 votes in the assembly, and the opinion was expressed in Berlin that President Von Hindenburg would have to effect a reorganization that would retire the chancellor to private life.

Franz von Papen

CUBA suffered the greatest disaster in the history of the island when a tropical hurricane struck its southern shores. The entire province of Camaguey was devastated, the town of Santa Cruz del Sur was utterly wiped out and other places, including the city of Camaguey, were partly wrecked. The number of dead is uncertain at this writing but the mayor of Camaguey said his information was that it would reach at least 1,500. The first official figures at Havana were considerably less. Thousands of persons were injured and the property losses were immense. At Santa Cruz del Sur a wall of water described as being 20 feet high was driven five leagues inland by the terrific gale.

ARMISTICE day was selected as the date for the wedding of John D. Rockefeller III, heir to all the uncounted Rockefeller millions, and Miss Blanche Hooker. The ceremony was performed in Riverside church, New York city, by Rev. Harry E. Fosdick, the pastor. The bride, who is a daughter of the Elton Huntington Hookers of New York and Greenwich, had as her maid of honor her sister, Helen, and two other sisters, Barbara and Adelaide, were attendants. The bridesmaids were Mrs. H. Edward Bilkey and the Misses Mary French, Faith Rockefeller, Diantha Walker, and Virginia Furman.

J. D. Rockefeller III

Nelson A. Rockefeller was best man for his brother, and the ushers included a cousin of the bridegroom, Avery Rockefeller, as well as three brothers, David, Laurence and Winthrop Rockefeller, and a brother-in-law, David Milton.

MEASURES designed to save at least $800,000,000 annually in government expenditures for veterans and other purposes are recommended in a report made by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, of which Matthew S. Sloan is chairman. The committee believes that $400,000,000 a year at least can be saved in the veterans' administration.

The report has been sent to 1,500 business organizations throughout the country to synchronize the efforts of the commercial associations of the nation in a movement "for an aggressive renewal of the economy drive."

The committee declares that "at the rate we are going now, disbursements for veterans' relief will at least equal, if not surpass, the total cost of our expenditures during the World War, totaling $23,500,000,000." By 1950, the report continued, veterans' relief will reach a peak of $4,500,000,000 a year "if the present trend of legislation and interpretation is followed."

DIRECTOR of the Budget J. Lawson Rood is busy now with the work of reducing by at least $150,000,000 the estimates of expenditures for the 1934 fiscal year as submitted by the heads of government departments and independent establishments.

As a first move the budget director's office weeded all items of expenditure in the 1933 appropriations which will not recur this next year. These included some $60,000,000 expended for wheat for Red Cross distribution, around $200,000,000 slated for expenditures on public works under the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction bill, and about $90,000,000 in other items.

SENATOR BORAH of Idaho, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, went to Washington immediately after the election and began hearings on the treaty providing for joint construction of the St. Lawrence waterway by the United States and Canada. He will give a chance to all interested parties, and probably hearings will be held in both New York and Chicago.

Vigorous opposition to senate ratification of the treaty already has developed. Indications were that the opposition will be centered around the section permitting Canadian authority over Lake Michigan to the extent of limiting the Chicago water diversion, the power features of the $500,000,000 project, and the divisions of cost between the United States and Canada.

FOR three days the United States fleet held maneuvers off Los Angeles harbor under simulated battle conditions, with nearly one hundred vessels participating. The ships included three plane carriers, about sixty destroyers from the San Diego base, thirteen cruisers, four of the V-type submarines and ten auxiliary craft. In addition to the battleships now present in that area.

SOVIET Russia, especially in Moscow, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of the October revolution, which by the standard calendar now in use there comes on November 7. The famous Red Square in the capital was the center of the ceremonies and a million persons took part in the demonstration of the nation's military and labor power. Dictator Stalin and his colleagues reviewed the proceedings from a stand on top of the massive Lenin mausoleum, and for many hours the red troops, the workers and the peasants marched by cheering and singing.

PROMISE BOYS RARE THRILLS

American Boy-Youth's Companion readers are due for a rare adventure thrill in 1933, according to word just received from America's favorite boy's magazine. Boys will welcome the news that a modern Robinson Crusoe story in which two boys and a man battle with savages and build a civilization with their bare hands, is on the way!

In this story the three heroes escape into the depths of the Amazon jungles; there they are stripped and left to die by hostile natives; and there, from their natural abundance of the jungles, they build their fortress. Fro advance notices, it's a story readers will never forget!

Other good things, we learn, are on the way in The American Boy-Youth's Companion for 1933. Adventures in all parts of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest The American Boy-Youth's Companion as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin and neighbor. It's a characterbuilding, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it. A REAL THANKSGIVING

THAT we have much cause for thankfulness this year is demonstrated by one point outside the realm of politics which President Hoover made in his acceptance speech last August. "I should like to digress for one moment," he said, "for an observation on the past three years which should exhilarate the faith of all Americans—that is the profound growth of the sense of social responsibility which this depression has demonstrated. . . . Despite hardships, the devotion of our men and women to those in distress is demonstrated by the national averages of infant mortality, general mortality, and sickness, which are less today than in times of prosperity."

There's something real to be thankful for—that in spite of depression and unemployment the national health has improved—and a reason why we should celebrate a real Thanksgiving this year! The President's brief digression was no claim for any political party, but a hearty acknowledgment to you and me, to the men and women of all political parties, that the sense of responsibility for the welfare of our neighbor is not dead in this glorious land. That is something not only to be thankful for, but to feel a personal pride in, too. So let's have a real Thanksgiving celebration this year, and eat to the point of repletion, for once in a way. There will be Thank-giving dinners for everyone. If we know our American public, but the one we are going to suggest is for the average American family which is celebrating this Day of Thanksgiving this year.

Make It Simple
Have a big dinner, by all means, but make it simple and inexpensive in order to have more to share with those for whom such dinners are an event, and to live up personally to the President's words of praise. It can be just as merry and appetizing as in other years, but keep in mind the matter of expense. Here's the sort of menu that we would suggest:

- Tomato Bouillon with Okra
- Bread Sticks
- Roast Turkey or Chicken with Sage Stuffing
- Dressed Sweet Potato Balls
- Asparagus Hollandaise
- Thanksgiving Ice
- Dressed Mixed Salad Greens
- Cranberry and Raisin Pie
- Coffee
- Puffed Wheat

If you keep your Thanksgiving dinner as simple as this, you'll have both plenty to eat and the further pleasure of having also plenty to share. Don't forget that there are many families which may have to do without Thanksgiving dinners if those who have more don't remember them. Here are the recipes for two of the dishes on this menu which you may not know how to make:

- The Recipes
- Tomato Bouillon with Okra: Combine the contents of a 12 1/2 ounce can tomato juice with one can of bouillon, and the liquor from a one-pound can of asparagus, reserving the tips to be used in the asparagus Hollandaise. Add one cup water, the contents of a 9-ounce can of okra, thinly sliced, salt and pepper to taste, and a few drops of lemon juice. Heat thoroughly and serve in cups. Serves eight.
- Thanksgiving Ice: Press the apricots from a No. 2 can through a sieve, and add one cup orange juice and four tablespoons lemon juice. Boil one-half cup sugar, three-fourths cup water and two tablespoons corn syrup for three or four minutes, and then dissolve in it two teaspoons gelatin soaked in four tablespoons cold water. Cool, add the fruit juices, and freeze in refrigerator trays, stirring often, or in a rotary freezer. Serve with the turkey or chicken. Serves eight.
