LAST NIGHT'S LYCEUM NUMBER POSTPONED; COMING LATER

The lyceum number which was to have been rendered last night at the Star Opera House under the auspices of the local Parent-Teachers' Association was not had. It is announced that the local authorities received word the first of the week from Bay City advising of the illness of the DeMarco-Aistrup entertainers with denque fever and saying they would be unable to fill the engagement at this place.

We are authorized to state this number of the lyceum course will be given here at a later date, but we are not in a position to say just what time. Announcement will appear in the News, however, in due time when the "make good date" will have been arranged.

RECORD KILL OF PREDATORY ANIMALS MADE BY TEXAN

Texas olds the record for the highest individual catch of predatory animals made by one hunter in one month, according to a report received by the United States Department of Agriculture. The hunter, who was working near Eagle Pass, in Maverick County, caught 104 coyotes and 10 bobcats in 24 days' actual trapping operations. This good work was a part of the effort of the Biological Survey to help ranchmen in the control of dangerous and destructive animals throughout the State. Previous to September, 1921, State funds were available for this purpose; but since that time only funds from the Federal appropriation, amounting to $15,100, have been available to carry on the work.

Even with this small fund, however, much has been done. Individual stockmen, or groups of stockmen in clubs who wish to obtain protection of their own interests, have agreed to pay two thirds of the salary of the hunters assigned to their various territories, and the other third is paid from Federal funds. In this way about 20 hunters can be retained on the force. This plan has been readily adopted in spite of a general shortage of money and a slump in the ranching business. Campaigns were started in different counties, with excellent results. In addition to trapping, shooting, and hunting with dogs, a great many predatory animals have been destroyed by means of poison baits.

Mrs. M. F. Carter was recently in receipt of a letter from Mrs. J. L. Tra-week, of Port Arthur, stating that she and her husband were run down by an automobile, but fortunately neither of them sustained any injury excepting for a severe shock at the immediate time.

C. B. Reeder, Jr., of Amarillo, died last week of blood poisoning. The family of this young man have many close acquaintances in Mason who will learn with much regret of the death of this young man. C. B. Reeder, Jr., is a first cousin of Mrs. Roscoe Runge of this city.

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL MEET ON NEXT MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Parent-Teachers' Association of this city will meet next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the High School Building. It is urged that all members be present at this meeting, as some very important business matters are to be brought before the Club.

EXCITING HORSE RACE THRILLS IN "WHAT WOMEN WILL DO"

A horse race as exciting as the famous one of last October, when Man o' War beat Sir Barton, was especially staged on the course at Jamaica, Long Island, for one of the many thrilling moments in "What Women Will Do," the all-star Edward Jose Production coming to the Star Theater Saturday night, November 18th.

Speed Star, the horse on which is centered the particular attention of several leading characters in the story, had been picked as the winner of the Derby, and the bets on him were very heavy. But two plotters doped a lump of sugar for the horse and then bet their all on him to lose.

The signal was given! They were off! The camera, after the manner of the new invention of photographing races, followed the speeding horses around and around the track, giving to the audiences of the motion picture a much better view than those seated in the grandstand.

Speed Star got off to a good start, then fell behind—the poison was taking effect! Then he sputtered ahead! Past one horse, then another, then—

But, whether Speed Star won or lost, and what the race meant to those interested we will leave for you to see in "What Women Will Do," in which Anna O. Nilsson heads a cast including Earl Metcalfe, Allan Forrest, George Majeroni, Riley Hatch and Jane Jennings.

Alfred Grosse and a party of friends arrived in Mason the first of this week from Barlett and were joined here by Robt. Hofmann, Alex Grosse and L. F. Eckert for an outing on the Eckert James River ranch, where several days will be enjoyed at hunting deer and wild turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mopeyhou and little son, Hilton, left the first of the week in their car for a trip overland to Houston, where they will spend a couple weeks visiting among relatives

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL CONTINUES

The revival at the Christian Church continues with interest and many expressions of appreciation from the attendants. The audiences have continued good, despite the unfavorable weather. Ten have come forward and confessed their faith in that "Jesus is the Christ the Son of God."

The meeting will continue through this week, possibly terminating Sunday night. It is hoped that much will be accomplished during the remaining days of the service.

Mrs. J. F. Schaeg is enjoying a visit this week in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. White.

Lindsay Murray arrived in Mason Wednesday from Waco for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Murray.

MASON HI DEFEATED LLANO HI FOOTBALL TEAM IN GAME SAT.

Last Saturday afternoon one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a football game on the local gridiron saw the local high school eleven trim the Llano high team in a hotly contested struggle. The final score was 3 to 0 in favor of Mason. The score was made in the last two minutes of play when Willmann kicked a field goal.

Saturday's victory over the Llano team is the second one for this season, and in both instances the score was 3 to 0.

The News regrets very much to chronicle the illness of our townsman, Mr. Thos. Murray. It is announced his condition shows but little, if any, improvement.

General Pershing Goes And Gets 'em

Gen. John J. Pershing would have been quite a boy in the front line trenches with a rifle—had he not been busy bossing our A. E. F. in France. Last week on the lower Mississippi he went duck hunting with Gov. Parker and Bernard Baruch, using a 10-gauge gun, dropping his first eight birds without a miss. Then he posed for this exclusive photo.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY PRES. HARDING

Washington, Nov. 3.—President Harding today issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to observe Thursday, Nov. 30, as Thanksgiving Day.

The President said that Thanksgiving Day, established by "the devout father" to give thanks for the "bounties and protection which divine providence had extended throughout the year," had come to be to him the "most characteristic of our national observances."

"As the season approaches for its annual return," he stated, in his proclamation, "it is fitting formally to direct attention to this ancient institution of our people and to call upon them to unite in its appropriate celebration."

"The year which now approaches its end has been marked, in the experience of our nation by a complexity of trials and of triumphs, which we must regard as our inevitable portion in such an epoch as that through which all mankind is moving. As we survey the experience of the passing 12 months we shall find that our estate presents very much to justify a nationwide and most sincere testimony of gratitude for the bounty which has been bestowed on us. Though we have lived in the shadow of the hard consequences of great conflict our country has been at peace and has been able to contribute toward the maintenance and perpetuation of peace in the world.

"We have seen the race of mankind make gratifying progress on the way to permanent peace, toward order and restored confidence in its high destiny.

"For the divine guidance which has enabled us, in growing fraternity with other peoples, to attain so much of progress; for the bounteous yield which has come to us from the resources of the soil and our industry; we owe our tribute of gratitude and with it our acknowledgment of the duty and obligation to our own people and to the unfortunate, the suffering, the distracted of other lands. Let us in all humility acknowledge how great is our debt to the providence which has generously dealt with us, and give devout assurance of unselfish purpose to play a helpful and ennobling part in human achievement.

Must Serve Humanity

"It is much to be desired that in rendering homage for the blessings which have come to us, we should earnestly testify our continued and increasing aims to make our own great fortune a means of helping and serving, as best we can, the cause of all humanity.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, do designate Thursday, the thirtieth day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving, simplification and devotion. I recommend that the people gather at their family altar and in their houses of worship to render thanks to God for the bounties they have enjoyed and to petition that these may be continued in the year before us."

SUNDAY SCHOOL DERELICTS

There are in the United States twenty-five million boys and girls who ought to be in the Sunday Schools, but who are not.

The Sunday School is one of the greatest agencies in America for the education—the moral education of the youth of this land.

Through that moral education they can be fitted for citizenship, for domestic responsibility, and for religious service. The Sunday School is the greatest agency in America today for the accomplishment of these purposes.

Christianity is a personal touch and power because it deals with the individual. Salvation is a personal affair. Sin is a personal entity. Therefore, the Sunday School deals with the individual child, brings him to the knowledge of God's Word, presents to him Christ, teaches him Christian ideals; urges him to be loyal to the government, true to the flag; demands that he be temperate, sober, righteous, clean, industrious, and faithful to home, to church, and to God.

The Sunday School demands of all people undivided support, sympathy and encouragement.

The parents of this country do not seem to realize what a tremendous opportunity the Sunday School affords.

Every parent should accompany his child to the Sunday School every Sunday morning.

When the child neglects the Sunday School he fills the streets, he occupies seats in the motion picture house.

The twenty-five million boys and girls in this land who are neglecting the Sunday School are being put in a position of becoming the potential menaces of this country.

Out of that number of boys and girls will come your social wrecks, your domestic failures, your business bankrupts, your political cowards, and your official thieves.

Bring back to the Sunday School your wandering children.

This nation demands that the Sunday School be efficient, perfect, powerful. You can help make it such.

Richard Lloyd Jones tells About the Economic Grab Game

COMPARE the finest Oregon apple with a wild crab and you have a simple parallel of the unfolding refinements of political and economic institutions.

We found the apple wild and we tamed it. We took the seed of the best fruit and planted again. By replanting only the best, protecting the trees from the insect foes, giving battle to the wrecking worm, we have through a generation of trees produced marvelous fruit.

This is not an illogical picture to present in the consideration of railroads. A lot of people think that we are going to the dogs. Ex-Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, one of our brightest but most pessimistic public men, has recently written a book to tell us how topsy-turvy everything is and that we are headed for the bow-wows.

We are not going to the bow-wows. The good Senator is wrong. He points to the danger of combinations in business. The very danger that he fears is bringing into life the perfected fruit of government control with ultimate government ownership of the common carriers of the country. When we reach that good goal we are going to create out of those common carriers a revenue which will greatly reduce our tax burden.

It is a pruning process, a program of selection and development of that which brings promise of the better until we get the best.

We used to be afraid of railroad mergers. We used to pass laws to prevent them. We thought it a terrible system for small railroads to get together and organize one large system. Now we think it fine. We're encouraging it. The trouble is, a lot of fellows who were progressives in 1889 haven't yet got the progressive view of 1922.

Four big railroads, the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul are today talking merger. This is not a terrible contemplation. We should hope for its consummation. It is just making one fine, big apple out of four smaller ones. It's improving the fruit on our national economic and industrial tree.

If you want to see a line of old railroad crabs just look at any passing freight train. It's a kaleidoscopic picture of a monumental mix-up, a moving panorama of the inefficiency and waste of a lot of little crab roads.

On that passing freight train you will see cars marked New York Central, Southern Pacific, Boston and Maine, Denver & Rio Grande, Southern, Great Northern, Lackawanna, Illinois Central, Wabash, Florida East Coast, Soo Line, Texas and Pacific and so on to the caboose.

Every one of those cars has to be distributed back to the four corners of the continent until they get on their own little siding. Petty, little sour crabs, belonging to an ancient transportation tree.

The United States mail pouch is a mail pouch anywhere from Maine to Arizona. Any railroad car should be the same.

The more they merge the better and when we get one big merger of all railroads, the next step will be for the government to take them over, run them, acquire the profit and spend it in running the business of the government, thereby reducing the tax burden upon the tax payer.

Railroads, like apples, get better as they get bigger. It's a great and grand grafting game just like pruning up the trees for the finer product. We are going ahead, each day nearer to a more perfect product.

ONCE upon a time there was a man named Russell Sage. He died many times a millionaire. He never spent a penny he was not compelled to spend. He bought his summer underwear in the winter-time and his winter clothing in July. He paid fifty cents for straw hats, when merchants were throwing away their left overs in September. Thus he amassed a huge fortune, which two of his nephews are now spending. They buy in season with the money Sage left and enjoy the buying with the human touch Sage could not leave. He never knew it. Buying in seasons spells universal prosperity and human happiness. But buy early. The rush stimulates prices. Everything needed for Christmas is now in stock, and the early bird catches the worm. The worm may be foolish to get up, but he's up in every store. When now.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

If I was a woman—as sweet as a rose—attractin' admirers wherever she goes,—I'd exercise judgment and never would fret to marry the fust man I thought I could get. . . . It's powerful resky to marry too fast, an' fetch up in heart-breakin' tatters at last!

If I was a woman—I'd shorly object to masculine drivl that's short of respect. I'd gather a brick-bat, and throw it to hurt—at the two-legged varmint that called me a "skirt," and I'd knock the face off'n the perverted swain, that chucked all politeness, to call me a "Jane."

If I was a woman that pined fer a mate, I wouldn't step sideways to monkey with "fate." I wouldn't trust nothin' that couldn't be proved—till I fished up a jay that was fit to be loved.—An' I'd practice all virtues, an' live in restraint—if I was a woman,—but, golly, I ain't!

Take a Chance! Take a Chance!

Old Lady—"Here, my little man, is a penny for you."

Small Boy—"I'll match you, lady, whether yuh make a nickle or keep it."

She—"But, dear, haven't we been engaged long enough to get married?"

He—"Why, er—er—yes, dear. Too long. I haven't a cent left."

ESCAPED SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Last Sunday, Mr. R. R. Jaroszewski, owner of the Sun Grocery, met with an accident which could have proven serious.

En route to Mason in his automobile, as he drove down the hill on this side of the Llano river, a Mexican with his team, was stopped on the bridge close to the end.

Mr. Jaroszewski, seeing that he could not pass the team without hitting it, put on the breaks and whirled his car to the right, thereby running against the embankment with such force as to break the right front wheel all to pieces. —Fredericksburg Standard.

REPORT SHOWS BIG GINNING INCREASE

Texas Far in Lead with Total of 2,855,606 Bales to November 1.

Washington.—Cotton ginned prior to Nov. 1 amounted to 8,139,839 running bales counting 143,086 round bales as half bales and including 13,335 bales of American-Egyptian and 3,077 bales of Sea Island, the census bureau announced.

To Nov. 1 last year ginnings were 6,646,354 running bales, counting 110,981 round bales as half bales and including 11,812 bales of American-Egyptian and 1,816 bales of Sea Island.

Ginnings to Nov. 1 by states follow: Alabama, 700,929; Arizona, 16,649; Arkansas, 820,031; California, 8,349; Florida, 22,446; Georgia, 631,854; Louisiana, 318,892; Mississippi, 839, 331; Missouri, 90,379; North Carolina, 577, 008; Oklahoma, 540,801; South Carolina, 413,481; Tennessee, 280,745; Texas, 2,855,606; Virginia, 13,503; all other states, 7,158.

Zeppelin Building for U. S. Friedrichshafen, Germany—The keel has been laid for the giant Zeppelin to be built at Friedrichshafen for the United States government under the contract signed on June 26. A number of construction details are still awaiting decision following requests made by the commission of experts, to which the American government is understood to have assigned the supervisory duty. The dirigible is expected to be completed not earlier than August 1923.

HENS ARE OFTEN DISTURBED

Interference With Nervous System is Frequently Sufficient to Set Layers Back.

To a great many persons it will seem like going to extremes, but, nevertheless, it is true that interference with the nervous system is frequently great enough to cause a serious drain on the vitality of the laying hen, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Various things that interfere with the ordinary daily life of the fowls may be put in this class. Hens are often disturbed, especially those of the more nervous breeds, by the presence of strangers. Changing them about frequently from one pen to another is also a disturbing factor and will set the layers back, as will the mixing together of birds that have been separated for some time.

TREATMENT FOR SCALY LEG

Mix Kerosene and Lard Together and Thoroughly Brush into Covering on Feet.

One of the most common remedies for scaly leg of fowls is to mix together kerosene and lard and thoroughly brush or rub this into the scales covering the foot and shank. It is rather harsh treatment, but will cure the trouble if repeated at intervals of a week. Some cases will be cured with two applications, while others may need several.

Probably the best remedy is oil of caraway. Mix one part of oil of caraway with five parts of vaseline. This material is very penetrating, but not nearly as irritating as kerosene. Rub the ointment in the leg and repeat every few days until signs of the disease disappear.

MITES ARE BLOOD SUCKERS

Pests Are Detrimental to Health of Fowls and Are Extremely Hard to Eradicate.

Mites feed on the birds, sucking their blood, during the night, but in the day retire to the dark crevices in the poultry house. Because of their blood sucking they are very detrimental to the health of the fowl. Thoroughly spray the house with some good disinfectant such as any of the cattle dips, crude oil, kerosene emulsion, etc. Care should be used to get the solution into the cracks and dark corners.

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Biloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes.

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless.

"I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good, warm tea and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5285 individual inspections are made on each car.

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.

LAW DEFINED ON PROHIBITION ACT

Judge Hutcheson Tells of Powers of Officers and Citizens' Rights.

Houston, Tex.—In no uncertain language Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson, Jr., Thursday in federal court at Houston defined the rights of search and seizure under the national prohibition act. His opinion covered fourteen pages.

An officer without a warrant can search an automobile or other vehicle if he has a bona fide belief that he has detected a violation of the law, the judge holds. He may then make an arrest.

No search of a private residence without the authority of a warrant can ever be justified under the federal laws, the judge holds. No general exploratory search or seizure of persons, houses or effects can ever be justified either with or without a warrant, he declares.

"A people which has guaranteed to them the right of the ballot," says the opinion, "and the right, individually and collectively, to manage their own affairs deserves to be and is protected against the prying impudence of a general search by persons merely because they have commissions as officers of the law.

"This protection is fully guaranteed, and no officer has the right upon mere suspicion to search the premises of any person for the evidence of the commission of any crime."

Concerning officers' rights, however, the opinion goes on:

"Congress, with reference to vehicles engaged in violation of the law, has treated them as personally committing crimes and has authorized officers to act toward them in the same manner they are authorized to act toward individuals in cases requiring arrests. Whatever of merit underlies the principle of common law that an offender may be arrested without a warrant to prevent escape applies in all its fullest vigor to swiftly moving vehicles, such as automobiles."

Summing up the situation, Judge Hutcheson holds:

1. That no general exploratory search and seizure of persons, houses or effects can ever be justified under the federal laws, either with or without a warrant.
2. As to private residences, no search can ever be justified under the federal laws without a warrant.
3. An arrest may be made without a warrant and evidence of crime seized without a warrant wherever a felony has been committed, either in the presence of the officer or as to which the officer has a belief induced by reasonable grounds, or a misdemeanor has been committed in the presence of the officer.
4. An automobile, like a person, is subject to arrest.
5. Under the Volstead act an express provision for seizure upon discovery of illegal transportation is made, and the term "discovery" is to be construed in the light of the principles of American and English common law defining when arrests can be made without warrants.
6. Officers should be very loath to interfere with the rights of citizens and should not arrest on mere suspicion.

A strong earthquake is sometimes, though not always, preceded by a few slight shocks, and it is invariably followed by numerous shocks of this character. The aftershocks sometimes continue for years. More than 3,000 aftershocks were registered by seismographs during the two years following the great Mino-Owari earthquake, in Japan, which occurred Oct. 28, 1891.

France might better forego payment from Germany than to be endangered by a new attack from a resuscitated country across the Rhine, Louis Lou-cheur, former minister of liberated regions, told the chamber of deputies at Paris recently.

Women had their inning in the senate Wednesday in Paris, France, when the first two speakers in the suffrage debate urged the granting of the vote to women, which the chamber approved three years ago, but the conservative senate opposed.
