MASON, TEXAS, THURSDAY MAY 10 1923.

EXPLANATION OF TAX ON GASOLINE; GULF REFINING COMPY.

Below is a brief explanation of the one cent tax on gasoline. This information has been furnished the News by the Gulf Refining Company, and no doubt will be of interest to dealers and the public in general:

"A law was passed to become effective on April 1st to tax the sale of Gasoline 1c per gallon and during the latter part of April the Attorney General made a ruling that this tax applied to every sale of Gasoline. In other words, instead of being a tax of only 1c per gallon his interpretation of the law is that the tax may be 1c, 2c, 3c or more, depending upon the number of times the gasoline is resold.

"When we sell gasoline to a customer for consumption in Texas we pay a tax of 1c per gallon. If our customer in turn resells it he is liable for a tax of 1c per gallon, therefore, you may advise all of your customers who resell gasoline that they are due the State of Texas 1c per gallon on all of their sales of Gasoline from April 1st. The law requires that a statement of sales accompanied by a remittance of 1c per gallon be made to the State Comptroller's office not later than the 25th of the month following that in which the sales were made. In other words, this statement of sales and remittance for April sales must be in the hands of the Comptroller not later than May 25th. Blanks for making this report will be furnished upon request by the State Comptroller.

"It is reported that a new Gasoline Tax Bill is to be introduced at the present special session of the Legislature. This bill so it is said, will repeal the present law and make it possible to tax Gasoline only once. This tax to be paid by the refiner, the shipper or important but so far as we know this bill has not been introduced and may not be, but if it should be introduced and finally passed and signed by the Governor it would be several months before it would become effective and customers who resell gasoline will be compelled to pay the tax for several months at least."

JIM ANDREWS BROUGHT IN NINE WOLF PUPS ON LAST FRIDAY

Last Friday, Jim Andrews, who is engaged in trapping for wolves on the ranch of J. W. White, brought in nine wolf pups which he secured from a den a few days before. He received a bounty of $10 each for the pups from C. D. McMillan, secretary of the Mason County Wolf Club.

The Mason County Wolf Club has recently paid out quite a large sum of money for bounties on wolf scalps and the past several weeks has been a record period in the history of the organization.

On several occasions wolf pup litters have been brought in and the number brought in each time would indicate this has been a very favorable year for wolves, as each litter ranges from seven to ten in number. Local authorities are proud of the success of the association and believe the membership of the Club will increase substantially as a result of the efficient work being done by the Club. That the Club is doing much to lessen the loss to stockmen and farmers from predatory animals is now a very evident fact and the land owners of the county who have heretofore held out skeptical ideas as to the efficiency of the organization should by this time realize the organization's importance and the beneficial work it is doing to the extent of becoming affiliated with the Club.

Miss Edith Boston, who for the past eight weeks has been confined to her bed because of heart trouble, is said to be showing slight improvement, but not as yet have physicians been able to pronounce her condition as normal. It is said this young lady has heart palpitation and the heart beats nearer normal when in a reposing position than at any other time.

Mrs. H. S. Wood and daughter, Mrs. K. M. Eckert and little daughter left last Friday for Allen, Oklahoma, to enjoy a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wood.

MASON COUNTY CLUB BOYS WIN CUP FOR THIRD TIME

Hurrah for "Bill" Marshall and the stock-judging team representing the Mason County Club Boys. They went to Brownwood last Thursday and attended the District meet and came back with the trophies. The team representing Mason County in this meet was composed of Carrol Herring, Ruben Weissemann and Robert Schmidt, with Elmer Brewer and Elmer Weidemann alternates on live stock judging. The livestock team won first place at the meet for the third consecutive time and thereby became permanent owners of the loving cup. The score made by the Mason County boys totaled 1592 1-2 points, with Herring and Weidemann being the two high point men.

Harold Schmidt and Malcom Jordan represented Mason County in the grain judging contest and were also awarded the loving cup in that department, but this cup does not yet become the permanent property of the team. In grain judging two contests had to be held, as the first contest resulted in a tie between Mills and Mason counties with a score of 492. In the run-off the Mason boys were easily the winners. The district in which this county is a participant is composed of seventeen counties, according to Mr. Marshall, and he reports twelve of the seventeen counties entered teams at the Brownwood meeting which was held Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Marshall accompanied Mr. Marshall on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kettner and daughter, Miss Edna, returned home from San Antonio Monday. Miss Verdine Kettner accompanied them to that city, but while away consented to an operation for appendicitis, which was performed Saturday morning by Dr. Herff. Miss Verdine will remain in a hospital there for a while and it is announced she now has her sister, Mrs. Stella Grossenbach, of Harper, with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulva Walker and baby, of Cherokee, arrived in Mason Saturday for a visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Boston.

Wm. Ellebracht arrived in Mason the first of the week from San Antonio for a short time on business. Mrs. Ellebracht accompanied him to Mason and will remain here for a visit during his absence in the western portion of the State.

CARDBOARD-BLOTTERS

The News has a good stock of cardboard in assorted colors; also have the large white blotters.

CLEAN-UP DAY

The News has been requested to announce that the Clean Town Club is anxious for the people of Mason to clean up their premises, and that Thursday and Friday, May 17th and 18th have been designated as hauling days, and parties having trash to be hauled will please assist the hauler by having their trash in a convenient place to be loaded.

FUNERAL OF MRS. COBB HELD AT GRIT ON LAST FRIDAY

Mrs. M. E. Cobb died last Friday morning in this city, following an illness of several months. She had been in bad health for some time, being afflicted with asthma, which with disabilities of advanced years, was the cause of her death.

Deceased was past 80 years of age. The funeral services were held Friday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the Grit cemetery.

Below is a brief outline of Mrs. Cobb's life, as given by her sister, Mrs. N. E. Berry:

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Cobb was born in Panola County, Texas, April 25, 1843. She moved to Williamson county where she was married to Dan Mackey in 1868. To this union was born one child. She came to Mason in 1870 where she was left a widow in 1871.

In 1871 she was married to W. A. Cobb, and to them was born four children. She was again left a widow in 1890. She is survived by three children, A. A. Cobb, of Mason; R. R. Cobb, of Brown County; and Mrs. Nath Taylor, of San Saba County. She is also survived by twelve grand-children and one great-grandchild; also, one sister, Mrs. N. E. Berry, of McCulloch County.

She had been a member of the Church of Christ for about forty-five years.

HOFMANN FIRM SHIPPED ABOUT 24,000 POUNDS OF MOHAIR

Wm. Hofmann stated he shipped out 24,000 pounds of mohair recently which he purchased of the goat raisers of Mason County this season. He said the mohair clip was about all in now and his firm would not likely do any further buying at this time. Mr. Hofmann reported having shipped out the final lot on hand Wednesday, amounting to something like 8,000.

The price paid for the clip here ranged from 51 to 55 cents per pound and the biggest portion of it was shipped from here to Fredericksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pluenneke and baby have been visiting with relatives and friends in San Antonio this week.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO FINANCE EXPERIMENT ON BOLL WEEVIL

The Mason Commercial Club met at the court house Monday night in the County Judge's office. In the absence of President Hoerster, the meeting was called to order and presided over by W. I. Marshall.

One of the most important matters of the meeting was the body endorsed the experimental work being carried on by a number of farmers of the Katemcy section in an effort to exterminate the boll weevil by the Florida Weevil Control Method, under the supervision of the A. & M. Extension Department with the co-operation of our county demonstration agent. The club voted that it stand the expense of the poison these farmers will use in their experiments, the expense of which will amount to something like $40.

The secretary was instructed to order a lot of fish from the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner to be used in stocking the Llano River. He was also requested to write to the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner relative to the placing of a fish ladder in the dam at Llano, informing him that the people of Mason county are very anxious that this ladder be fixed according to the requirements of the law in regard to same.

Reports of several outstanding committees were heard and the committee appointed recently to investigate relative to securing land for a fair and exhibit site was continued with instructions that they have the secretary call a meeting as soon as they get any data for the club to take action upon.

Adjournment was taken shortly before 10 o'clock.

THE MASON COUNTY LIVE STOCK AND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

We are making good crops this season and this fall there will be some valuable prizes offered at the Show on all agricultural products. Keep several sheafs of oats, rye and wheat now and cure them bright so that they will show well.

Plant crops and vegetables now that will give you a good variety to win the individual farm exhibit prize.

We have prospects now of having the best dairy show we have ever had and really think it will be the best dairy show in any part of West Texas.

Plans are under way for getting a new site and buildings for the show this fall and if we will all keep something to exhibit this fall, Mason County will have the best Live Stock and Agricultural Show in West Texas.

CREAM STATION IS NOW IN OPERATION AT KATEMICY

On April 4th we met the local bankers of Mason and explained to them that we intended to organize a dairy club among the farmers of the Katemcy and Peters Prairie communities. After explaining this to them they offered us their support and further agreed to meet with us in those communities.

On the 10th we called the community leaders of that section to a meeting and explained the plan and told them what the bankers had said. On the 17th we had a general meeting at the Katemcy school house and organized a dairy club.

The Mistletoe Creameries had agreed to have a man present, but due to high water he did not come. He phoned the leader tho that they would be glad to establish a station there if enough cows were signed.

During the meeting which was attended by over thirty farmers the bankers were each called upon to give their opinion of the project. There was a representative present from each bank and these men each agreed to care for the money needs of all of their customers and also expressed their hearty approval of diversified farming.

The product of 36 cows was signed that night and ten of the farmers lined up to buy high grade or registered Jerseys.

We next wrote several letters trying to locate good jersey cows. We soon found a place where we could buy some registered cows at reasonable prices.

On the 20th we met with some of these men at Voca on Mr. Geo. Darley's farm where we assisted in selecting eleven registered jersey cows that were bought from $75 to $100 per head.

These cows will produce about four gallons of milk, testing from 5 per cent up. Since buying the first bunch five more cows have been bought and the farmers have been receiving cream checks from the Creamery which is now established. The Mistletoe Creamery now has this station in Katemcy and is receiving cream twice a week. A little later the members of the association intend to buy a good bull and then we think another good move towards diversified farming will be started.

The Creamery will receive cream on Tuesday and Friday of each week until further notice and we are informed, by the management, that they will be glad to have the people of this sections of the county send them their cream. Let us all push this movement, by selling them our surplus cream and thus improve our conditions by living at home as far as possible.

Yours very truly,
W. I. MARSHALL, Co. Ag't.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES TO BE HELD MAY 21

The graduating class of the Mason High School this term is one of the largest, if not the largest, class ever to finish in the history of the Mason school. The class is composed of eighteen and is made up of nine boys and nine girls.

It was stated yesterday the chances are very favorable for the entire class and little doubt is expressed for any one of the class to fail to complete the required amount of work.

Commencement exercises will be held on Monday evening, May 21st, at the auditorium and it is said the exercises are to begin at eight o'clock.

The roll of the class is as follows:

Roy Bratton, Willie Mae Doell, Lorena Draper, Jessie Farmer, Ethel Gipson, Sam Hasse, Carrell Herring, Etta Marie Hofmann, Vera Koger, Murray Kyger, Milton Loeffler, Sam Leifeste, Allie Mae Lee, Claris Sanders, Gertrude Metzger, Thelma Wood, Alvin Zesch, Walter Willmann.

WILLIE WILLMANN WILL ACCEPT POSITION IN BRADY IN JUNE

Willie Willmann returned a few days ago from Brady where he has been assisting in the Brady Post Office during the illness of one of the postal clerks in the Brady office. Willie states he will return to Brady about the first of June to accept steady employment in the post office. Heretofore Mr. Willmann has been substitute clerk in the Brady office, but one of the employees contemplates giving up the work and he will be put on as a regular clerk.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says

COMMENCEMENT IS INVESTMENT TIME

Once more our schools and colleges come to commencement time. School is an outfit snap. It is where we get the tools with which to do our part of the world's work.

Graduation day is not a time to recall achievements but to plan them. It is not a day for reflection, but of prediction, a time for looking forward, not backward.

Education is the search for truth. Truth is progress.

The bud is a manifestation of the truth of nature. Because it is true to the laws of nature it does not remain a bud but unfolds into the flower. The seed laid in the clod finds its way to the light.

Light is truth. Be a light seeker. Truth is ever ahead, never behind. Keep pursuing it. You cannot serve truth and repose.

We seek education that we may know how to prosper, to serve; that in this world we may be live seed and not dead seed.

It is not what you know that gives you recognition in the world, but what you know how to do.

Commencement is not accounting time—it is investment time.

The intellectual miser is of no more use in the world than the money miser. The world never honors an idle intellect. There is but one nobility that lasts and that is the nobility of usefulness.

ness.

He who cannot USE that which he has acquired from his text books has labored in vain for his grad. We are measured by what we can GIVE, not by what we can GET.

Education is wasted time and effort unless it inspires us to test our strength rather than our weakness, to dare the impossible rather than complacently follow the line of least resistance.

The world has but little need of the man who can "do almost anything." But it has great use for the man who can DO SOMETHING.

Education, once looked upon as a luxury, is now regarded as a necessity. Once its influence was contemplative, now it is contributive.

In the dark ages people belonged to kings. When the light of education spread, kings belonged to the people.

Education emancipates. It is the advance guard of democracy. It demands that the rights of the many prevail above the rights of the few. It is altruistic, not individualistic.

If you are truly educated you are a friend of the masses. That is educated patriotism.

Education is a movement outward, not inward.

No day on the school calendar is so well named as Commencement. It is the beginning of work, not the end; it is the binding to duty, not the release from it.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

The country's got no patience with the old, back-number skate, but she allers holds a welcome for the one that's up-to-date. . . an' while my lot was east betwixt the tall grass an' the bresh—I've set my inner workin's to the task of keepin' fresh.

A NEW Of course we love the ladies, from our store AUTOMOBILE of southern pride—and you'll see us steppin' higher when there's one on either side,—and while we've got convictions that I hardly keer to state, in regards to shorter dresses—we admire 'em to date!

There's enough of disenchantment to abide by when we must—so we ostracize the flivver that's a pile of rags an' rust, and—ef taxes ever draps below the confiscation rate, you'll be apt to ketch me figgerin' on a boat that's up to date!

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923

Every morning when we wake up now, the sun is shining, and birds are chirping a welcome to the new-born day. Why not fall in line—arise and shine—smile and perk up at the call of this delightful Spring. If we want to grunt and moan of course we can do it, but the sun will shine just the same for those who have enough sense to enjoy it. Old Dame Nature has fixed things up so that there's no chance for the fellow who keeps out of step putting the whole procession on the blink. You might just as well bow to that old dame and march along. When a woman will she will, you may depend on't, and when she won't she won't, and there's an end on't.

BOY FOUND HANGING

(From Fredericksburg Standard)

Excitement ran high in the Luckenbach community when it became known that Ed Wunderlich, a youth of 16 years, was found hanging from a limb of a big tree in the pasture of his father's homestead Thursday afternoon. The peculiar position of the hanging body pointed more to crime than to suicide, therefore, Mr. Wunderlich sounded the alarm to the Fredericksburg authorities, which upon arrival and investigation, gave a verdict of suicide. After making the view of the officers his own, Mr. Wunderlich signed the following document:

By Ed. Wunderlich:
Deceased is my son, his age about

16 years, and his name is Edwin Wunderlich.

I did not notice that there was anything wrong with him. He left home this morning in good spirits to work in the field, and when he did not come to dinner I went to look for him, and after walking in the pasture a short distance from where he left the team in the field, I found him hanging to a

Entries in Our 1924 Presidential Derby

The post bugle has sounded and eight entries for the United States' four year classic, "The Presidential Derby," are already limbering up and jockeying for advantageous positions.

The four wearing "GOP" colors are headed by the favorite, President Harding. His opponents in the trial heat up to the National convention are Senator Hiram Johnson, of California; Senator Borah, of Idaho and Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, of California.

Wearers of Democratic colors are going to the post with Henry Ford, of Detroit, and William Randolph Hearst, of New York, slightly overruling Former Secretary of Treasury, William McAdoo, of New York, and Senator Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, as favorites to win in the national convention sprint.

HERE'S THE CORRECT "DOPE" ON WHEN TO FISH IF YOU WANT TO BE SURE OF A CATCH

(From Brady Sentinel)

For a long time the writer has been wanting to get a line on when to go fishing to be sure to catch fish. We have always heard that signs of the Zodiac had something to do with this, just as the moon has to do with when to plant Irish potatoes and to make soap, but somehow or other it seems that we have always gone fishing when the signs were wrong. Anyway we have consistently failed to bring home the fine strings that we hear so much about others landing.

Here is the "Dope" as given out by the Southwestern Sportsman, published by a large sporting goods firm in Dallas:

The days when the fish bite best—that is what every good fisherman wants to know.

Ira L. Stanley, of Dallas, has worked it out according to the Zodiac Signs in the calendar. And those who know Mr. Stanley know above all else that he is a wonderfully successful fisherman.

When you go fishing this spring, or summer, arrange your schedule according to Stanley's "Good Fishing Dates." You may have better luck than ever before.

You can work out your own good fishing dates from any calendar with the Zodiac Signs imprinted. Mr. Stanley's method is simple, but he declares it is none the less scientific. He goes through the calendar check-marking the sign of Fish wherever it occurs. Then he adds one or two days previous to the date as required to make a full week.

For the benefit of all good fishermen, he submits the following calendar of "Good Fishing Dates." Try your luck with it in 1923. Write and tell us what luck you have:

- May 9 to 16, inclusive.
- June 5 to 12, inclusive.
- July 2 to 9, inclusive.
- August 1 to 7, inclusive.
- August 26 to 31, inclusive.
- September 23 to 29, inclusive.
- October 19 to 24, inclusive.
- November 16 to 22, inclusive.
- December 12 to 19, inclusive.

A NEW USE FOR THE AUTO

Are you troubled with rats, especially around the chicken house, garage, barn, or vegetable garden? Fasten a length of hose on the end of the exhaust from your gasoline engine—whether it be a "divver" or a tractor—back the car up within reach of the rat burrow, and adjust the carburetor for a rich mixture. Pack damp earth around the hose at the entrance to the hole to seal it. Run the engine at a moderate speed for 10 minutes or more and the rats will be destroyed. This method is entirely practical, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, when there are only a small number of holes or the area to be fumigated is not too extensive. It may also be used successfully in destroying rats beneath floors or in other places where a concentration of the gas can be obtained.

Community effort is urged in getting rid of rats by the above means and also by cleaning up rubbish, spreading poison baits, setting traps, and rat proofing buildings. Individual properties from which rats are exterminated soon become reinfested if there are rats in the neighborhood. The Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, is willing to assist in organizing and carrying out antirrat campaigns wherever possible and will furnish upon application bulletins and detailed directions for poisoning with barium carbonate and setting traps.

A Town is No Greater Than the Faith of Its Staunchest Citizens

This Woman Started Something

The Virginia woman who pinned a note to a potato she had raised, reading: "I got 24 cents a bushel. What did you give?" started something, because the man who noticed the potato paid $1.20 a bushel, and the facts leaked out. Trust a woman to find an ingenious way to bring oppression to public notice. Also happily, trust the American man to change conditions when they assail the welfare of our womanhood.

One of these days we will bring into being a real commission of inquiry, one with vision, one with practical business sense, one with sound economic knowledge and finally one without self-interest and free from pull. An impossible combination? No, some day it will be found, and then a happier condition will arise as rapidly as the blood-suckers who live on the labor of their fellows fall by the wayside. Middlemen are necessary, of course, due to the great complexities of our modern civilization, but in the last twenty years the consumer has been removed so far from the producer that they have nothing in common.

Every day the strain is getting harder and harder to bear, and it will get worse before it gets better. Nature brings about man's advance by the lash. There seems to be no other way. One day, however, we will implant in the minds of our high-school boys and girls a love for economics—perhaps under a more attractive name—the Science of Human Freedom, for example. Then will arrive a generation that will not be fooled by the exploiters of mankind.

Let Down Bars; Let Labor In

Unless the government takes some action to ease up restrictions on immigration the American people will soon be digging into their bank accounts to meet the rising cost of living. Shortage of labor is growing more acute every day. This provides a temporary boom for the workingman. But prosperity based on present labor condition has the qualities of the boomerang. The workman is a buyer of commodities as well as the seller of his labor.

When the immigration laws were framed "for the protection of the American workingman," the people generally believed that at last we had found a means of establishing prosperity on a firmer basis. The statisticians figured that the excess of government employees thrown into the labor market would more than take care of the demands of growing domestic trade, and that we could get along very well without the foreigner. The situation, however, has not worked out that way. When the armistice was signed the government had on its pay roll 917,760 civilian employees. This list has been cut to 542,513. Within the four-year period the reduction has been approximately 40%, but the shortage of labor is acute. It is next to impossible to hire skilled workmen. Domestic servants are dictators of the household, and even with the stupendous wages it is next to impossible to get an honest day's work. Everyone, of course, is in sympathy with the American workingman, but the employer cannot be crushed between the nether millstones. The net result, of course, is rising prices, and the only solution lies in letting down of the immigration restriction bars.

DRIFTING HOMES

How about your home, Mr. Husband and Mrs. Wife? The average husband is a coward and the average wife a bully. Are you?

Many have either yielded to the spirit of the day and have permitted their wives to dominate the domestic circles to its disgrace, or they have practically abandoned their homes.

Consequently, they occupy one section of the city, namely, the business and the club sections, the saloon or the pool hall, while the wives take a similar direction in another part of the city: the home stands between these two factors in a neglected condition.

Women have been thrown out into the world and seem to care more for the activities, excitements, gaieties and outside glares, than they do for the domestic drudgery, seclusion, responsibilities and glories of home.

Women ought to be forced to go home. But their husbands are too cowardly to force them, or they are too indifferent to their responsibility, or they would rather glide or travel the road of least resistance, and let the home drift.

The home is drifting; children are roaming; wives are gadding. Their husbands are practicing fraud and dishonesty on their families. They are cowardly.

The time has come to re-establish the home with the sovereignty of the federal head, the sacredness of domestic seclusion, and the proper adjustment of domestic duties.

The dark spot in the present civilization is the neglected home. Cowardly husbands are responsible for every phase of domestic decline.

Let the men awake, reassert themselves, re-establish their homes and build again the domestic—the national fortification—namely, a well-kept home in the circle.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Ben Jordan entertained Monday afternoon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. W. S. Banks, of Temple. It being Mrs. Banks' birthday, Mrs. Jordan planned her party accordingly and asked each guest to wear something suggestive of their birth month.

The home was beautifully arranged with spring blooms. Bowls and vases of roses and sweet peas, as well as some of the wild flowers with which the bill tops are now adorned, were placed in every available spot until the house seemed a veritable bower of flowers—pink and white being the dominant colors.

Much merriment and interest was evoked when the Birth Month Contest began. Mrs. John Lemburg was finally declared the winner and as a mark of honor (?) was called to center of room and asked to state her age. This she did in so gracious a manner that Mrs. Jordan presented her with a bouquet of gorgeous pink and white roses.

Another contest, "Things that were unknown or not in general use when you were a little girl" followed this. Mrs. Chas. Bierschwale proved the most successful interpreter in this instance and was given a jar of "toothsome sweet meats".

A most delicious tray of creamed chicken on toast, potato chips, olives, pear salad and iced tea was served. Later a Birthday Cake embossed in white and on which was a question mark outlined in pink candles, was brought in on a mat of ferns and sweet peas, and each lady was told to cut and try her fortune. Mrs. McCollum found the ring, thereby proving her to be the married flirt of the crowd. Mrs. John Lemburg found the thimble (the most thrifty); Mrs. Ed Smith, the dime, (the best spender); Mrs. J. W. White the button (showing she had better take care of the husband she has for she'll never get another).

The guests enjoying Mrs. Jordan's hospitality were Meses. Anna Martin, Bertha Todd, Belle Bridges, Sam McCollum, Ery Hamilton, Chas. Bierschwale, J. W. White, John Lemburg, Ed Smith, Jennie Reynolds and Mrs. W. S. Banks.

Woman's Missionary Society

Mrs. Jim Brown, assisted by Mrs. Will Land, very delightfully entertained at her home, the Woman's Missionary Society on Tuesday afternoon. The rooms in the parlors were beautiful in their profusion of spring flowers and ferns.

An interesting program that brought out the work being done in Korea was carried out.

Mrs. Carl Runge, leader, opened the meeting. She very ably read and discussed the Bible Lesson (John III 1-17).

Mrs. Barber read an instructive article on the Evangelistic work in Korea. Readings entitled "Life's Canvas" by Mrs. Ed Smith, and "The Happy Home" by Mrs. Otto Schmidt were splendidly given.

Mrs. Robt Hofmann told of many interesting incidents which occur during the visits of the itinerant workers.

A closing song was sung, after which Mrs. Williams closed the devotional meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Brown then gave several special selections on the Victrola, before entering into the business, which were indeed beautiful.

Letters were read from Lorene Walsh acknowledging two boxes which had been sent to her. A motion was made to clothe some needy children of our city. Mrs. Will Land and Mrs. Wm. Splittgerber were appointed as a committee to make the necessary purchases. It was voted to change the time of meeting from 3:00 to 4:00 p. m. for the summer months.

Mrs. Schroeder gave her name for membership.

Conversation and music on the Victrola were enjoyed during the social hour, and at the appointed time, plates on which were placed pineapple and Brown Stone Front cake, ice cream, and a dainty little plate favor of pink and white rose buds were passed to the following members and guests:

Mmes. Brockman, Williams, L. H. King, Ben Jordan, Robt. Hofmann, Albert Lee, Wm. Splittgerber, Ben King, Ed Smith, Howard Smith, Allan Murray, Otto Schmidt, Carl Runge, Robt. Lee, John Banks, Barber, Schroeder; Miss Marie Brockman. Guests: Meses. A. L. L. Strickland, Doyal, Saunders, Zesch, Rau, Harvey Land, Glenn Smith, Reardon, of Art; Misses Schuessler and Zella Wood.

Slumber Party

Last Friday evening the Spanish Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Clark for the purpose of having a slumber party.

After we arrived we first had a little "chat" and some music. Later, delicious refreshments were served, after which an "ice fight" took place.

We were having such a good time that we forgot there was anything like a clock to tell what time it was. At 12 o'clock we were all wide awake, so we kept going until after 1 o'clock, but do not think that we slumbered after we "hit" the bed; there was too many exciting things to happen.

We finally went to sleep and the first thing we knew, it was daylight, which meant that it was time for us to get a "move" on ourselves.

We told our hostess what a wonderful time we had and marched home, feeling a little sleepy, but happy, also.

Those present were Coralea Tinsley, Lucile Lange, Ella Mae Metzger, Willie Mae Bickenbach, Ella Doell, Ella Mae Probst and the hostess, Margaret Clark.

—A GUEST.

Bridge Club

Miss Julia Bierschwale was a delightful hostess Saturday afternoon to the members of the Bridge Club.

A very dainty lunch was served to the following with sweet peas as favors: Mesdames S. L. Baze, P. A. Bennett, Walter Lindsay, Elgin Eckert, Arch Metzger, John Lindsay, Joe Gresham, M. D. Loring and Misses Lois Reeves, Theresa Klapproth, Marie Brockman and Ruth Martin.

Next meeting of the Club will be with Mrs. P. A. Bennett.

HOUSE OF DREAMS

DOROTHY R. SCOVILLE

(©, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The villagers all wondered why anyone should want to build in such a lonely place. "But, then, them artists are queer folks, anyway," was their verdict when they saw Hall Crane and observed his ways.

The cozy little bungalow that came to nestle in the pine woods at Cauldron Cove was a good half mile from the little fishing village, and there was no one living nearby save old Mat Coles, who was deaf and a hermit and whom people rarely saw.

When the cottage was nearly finished, Rhea Lowe came to the village. She was slender and golden haired, with brooding gray eyes. She was tired of the city and its ways, and wished a quiet place to write and to rest. Shortly after she arrived the old schooner, hauled up on the edge of Cauldron Cove, by the pine grove, began to show signs of rehabilitation. The boat was made tight and warm. Cheery curtains showed through the portholes and smoke curled up from the tiny chimney. So the girl came to live in the schooner house. A gay little sign swung from the bowsprit one day. "Ship o' Dreams" it had been christened.

A few days after the christening Hall Crane came to live in his little place. And strangely enough a gay little sign appeared there also. "House o' Dreams" had come to life. The villagers smiled wisely and watched and waited.

One morning as Rhea Lowe was singing at her work a firm knock sounded at the door of the forward cabin. She admitted Hall Crane.

"Miss Lowe, I believe?" he said, with polite coolness.

"I believe you have the advantage," she suggested.

"Hall Crane. I own the bungalow up the beach," he answered. "I've come to make a business deal with you. I desire to be alone here and I do not want neighbors.

"Will you please name your price on this piece?" he asked with impersonal finality.

Miss Lowe's eyes gleamed dangerously. "I do not care to sell, and, furthermore, neither do I care to be troubled with neighbors. And at least you could be original with the name of your house," she added, with a flare of anger.

His eyes narrowed. "The name of my house was settled upon long before I observed yours." In the end they parted with mutual dislike.

Then one morning Hall Crane received a note from Rhea Lowe. "You may have my Ship o' Dreams" it read. "I won't need it any longer."

At first he gave a grunt of satisfaction. Then he began to wonder. Suddenly he put on his coat and went out of the house toward the Ship o' Dreams. He went quickly up the gangway and knocked. No answer. He pushed open the door. The cozy little cabin was empty. A cold fear gripped him as he came up on deck.

He instinctively looked toward the rock that hung over the cove. There, facing the sea, was a wind-blown figure. He ran up the beach and as she moved toward the edge of the rock he gave a shout of alarm.

"You mustn't do a thing like that. It's wrong," he rebuked sternly. She remained silent, but her lips curled with scorn. "Er—really, there's no reason for being so rash, and—" Then he kissed her.

"Mr. Crane!" she gasped. "Er—Rhea—please forgive me, Miss Lowe," he said stiffly.

She looked down at the sand to hide the lips of laughter in her eyes. "Yes, of course. It's really of no consequence, anyway. Nothing is," she finished in a discouraged voice.

He watched her, puzzled. "Oh, but there are worth while things in the world still!" he hastened to assure her. "There is love," he said in a low voice.

"Is there?" she mocked. "Well, some never find it."

"In a House o' Dreams they would."

"Perhaps."

They were at the ship now. "Good-by and thank you," she said as she went inside. He went away with a strange sense of having been cheated, of vague disappointment. He had forgotten to speak of her note. But that did not seem important to him now. Then he realized that his House o' Dreams was a failure.

On the boat Rhea was also thinking things over. She had not intended to jump off the rock at all. It was merely a place of vantage to watch the surf. But when she realized that he thought that she was about to jump, she let him believe so, in hope that it would awaken him, but the awakening had been of short duration.

He evidently was hopeless. And she really did like him. The city was such a huge, clamoring place. She didn't want to leave her Ship o' Dreams—and Hall Crane. Suddenly she felt discouraged and lonely. A tear crept down her cheek. At that moment the newly-awakened Hall Crane came in.

House o' Dreams has two tenants now and the villagers smile and say "I told you so." While back in New York the Art club members and the Writers' circle talk of how contented and happy the two cynics seem away out there—remote from everything.

On the Second Every Second

Human wants are constant and continuous. Food, clothing, shelter, and their infinite subdivisions are daily needs.

There is not a clock tick that does not register a million human desires.

The newspaper is the closest thing in the world to the people's daily wants. It is an expression of the ever-pressing desire for news.

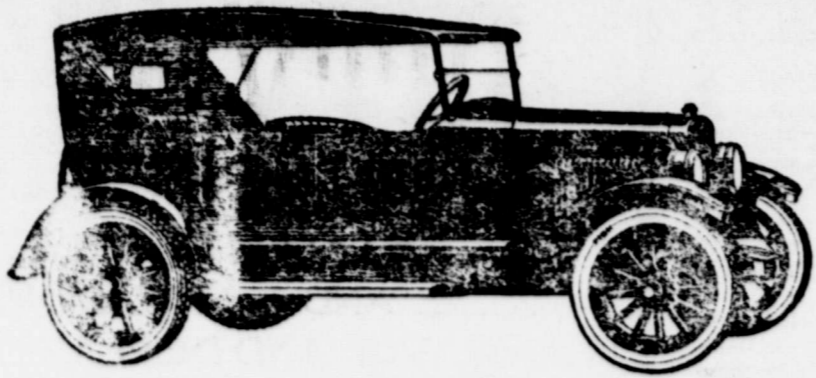

The advertiser who uses the weekly newspaper reaches people with his message at exactly the right moment.

Somewhere, with some person wanting something, newspaper advertising registers every second of the day.

It brings buyer and seller together because it brings the right message at the right time.

SUMMER COURSE OF EIGHT WEEKS FOR POWER FARMER

Preparations are being made by the A. & M. College of Texas for the opening of the Summer Course of the Eight Weeks Gas Engine, Automobile and Tractor Course, June 20. This course is designed for the power farmer or anyone using a gas engine, automobile or tractor. Definite results have been obtained from this course and thousands of dollars are being saved annually as a result. So necessary have the automobile and tractor become to the average farmer that the time is present when the farmer must have a practical working knowledge of these machines to successfully carry on his work. And, too, these machines are performing a great work in enabling the American youth to see the future of agriculture.

From information on file, it is shown that approximately 98 per cent of the students of this course return to the farm to become owners or operators, devotees of power farming. In addition, it is shown that of those entering with an avowed intention of leaving the farm and entering commercial work, 90 per cent have returned to the farm, determined to succeed where others have failed.

The Eight Weeks Course is outlined to give intensive training relative to the gas engine, automobile and tractor. Owners or prospective owners will make a profitable investment by attending this course. A special bulletin which may be had upon request, is being sent out by the Agricultural Engineering Department, A. & M. College, College Station, Texas.

BOERNE GIRL WINS HUNDRED DOLLARS IN NAME CONTEST

In announcing the winning name for the splendid new hotel soon to open in San Antonio, erey Tyrrell, well known throughout the United States as a hotel man and prominent in Texas as Manager of the Gunter Hotel has made a very happy choice.

Rob't E. Lee as a young officer in the United States Army, in the early days before the Civil War, was identified with Texas History to a much greater extent than most people realize.

Commemorating his name by bestowing it on the new hotel will awaken an interest in this early history, will call forth explanations and historical statements which every Texan should know.

The name Rob't E. Lee reawakens no sectional prejudice, nor does it bring to mind particularly any division of the North and the South for General Rob't E. Lee was generally beloved and today his name is revered throughout the nation.

The winning name was submitted by Miss Linda Coudon of Boerne, Texas and the award sent her just a few days after a decision was reached.

Thousands of names were submitted including Bluebonnet. The Texas, Trails End, many of them novel, many of them conventional. The interest created throughout the State and even in other sections of the country was very gratifying to the management and duly appreciated.

The new Rob't E. Lee Hotel is a strictly modern, ten story building with two hundred rooms. Fire proof and provided with every possible convenience, this hotel will add greatly to San Antonio's ability to take care of transient guests.

A commercial hotel in every sense of the word, the Rob't E. Lee will not provide sample rooms but will cater to that class of commercial traveler who does not need hotel space in which to display his wares.

Jack White, popular and efficient as assistant manager of The Gunter Hotel will become manager of the new Rob't E. Lee.

The management of the Rob't E. Lee is planning an opening some time around June first which will be far and away the most ambitious event ever staged in Texas upon the opening of a Hotel. It is expected that reservation for the opening day will fill the new Rob't E. Lee long before its doors are ready to open, but arrangements will be made to care for every guest who applies for accommodation on the opening day.

The management of the Rob't E. Lee will particularly welcome visiting Texans to this new Hotel and do their utmost to make their stay in San Antonio pleasant.

Both the City and the State are to be congratulated on the completion of the Rob't E. Lee as it marks a spirit of progress and paves the way for that growth of State and City which thru the years will reach proportions putting many another section of the Country behind.

John Sherwood was here Monday from the Katemey section and stated his section had a nice shower of rain the night previous.

SUGAR GLOSS ON BUTTER

A singular method of protecting butter from deterioration due to outside influences is said to be practiced in France. It consists simply in coating the butter with a glass of melted sugar, laid on with a soft brush. The surface of the butter is slightly melted and a protective varnish is formed. The process has also been introduced on a large scale in England.

MAY 1 GOAT REPORT FOR TEXAS

So many of our correspondents who are interested in the goat industry as well as in cattle and sheep have written asking why we do not also issue reports on this important form of stock-raising. In deference to these requests and because of the importance of the industry in the State, Texas having practically one-half of all the goats in the United States, we are submitting herewith the first statistical study of goat-raising in Texas.

From the small beginning made when Dr. J. B. Davis imported a few head of Angora goats into South Carolina in 1849 and when Col. W. W. Haupt of Hays County, brought the pure-bred herd of Col. Richard Peters, of Atlanta, to Texas, in 1858, (a) the industry has grown until today it represents approximately 1,665,000 head in Texas alone. According to the Census figures the number of goats in the United States has increased 85 per cent and in Texas 180 per cent during the past 20 years. At the present time the Angora goat industry in Texas is centered in 24 counties in the south central portion of the State. Of the total of 1,665,000 head, these counties contain in the neighborhood of 77 per cent. While many pure-bred goats are to be found in other counties, most of the breeding herds are in this main district. A large number of goats are used for keeping down brush in the east half of the State and practically every county has from a few hundred to several thousand of these thrifty animals.

Due to the heavy losses in goats and kids during the spring of 1922, the number on hand on January 1, 1923, was almost 100,000 head less than on Jan. 1, 1920, the date of the last Census. The results of the drought of last winter and early spring were so severe that in many cases no kids whatever were saved. This year, however, 83 per cent of the kids were saved and the industry is again on a firm foundation. But for the cold rains during the last days of March following shearing and a hail storm which killed many kids, the losses would have been very slight.

At present most of the goats are becoming fat on the excellent range to be found everywhere and the mohair clip is turning out very well with prices quoted around 60 cents a pound. While the average weight of fleece has not been ascertained yet, a number of reports indicate 2 1/2 pounds for the spring clip; the fall clip will begin in late August. Mohair sales are not active yet and very few goats are being marketed.

Actual sales of mohair range from 52 1/2 to 61 cents with one report on kid hair at 75 cents. There is little trading in goats, altho chevons are selling to local butchers at from $2.50 to $5. The prices for does range from $3 to $5; for chevons, (muttons) from $2.25 to $3.75; and kids, from $1.50 to $2.50 for September delivery.

The condition of the goat range on May 1 was given as 104 per cent, a figure 8 points above that of cattle and 1 point better than the sheep range. The hard freeze in March severely retarded the growth of brush and weeds, but the abundant rains since then have given them a renewed start. The condition of goats and sheep was reported as 98 per cent which compares favorably with the 92 per cent given as the average condition of cattle.

During the twelve-months period ending April 30, the losses of goats and kids were but nominal and much below those of the year preceding. It is estimated that 63 goats and 95 kids per thousand were lost from all causes during the year just ended. While only 46 per cent of the kids dropped during the first four months of 1922 were saved due to the untoward conditions prevailing, during the same period of this year 83 per cent were saved. There are instances where none of the kids was lost and in a few cases only two-thirds were saved.

Early in 1926, the Census enumerators found 1,753,000 goats in Texas which number had increased by 12 per cent a year later. On January 1, 1922, however, the number had decreased 9 per cent from what it was the year before and a further decrease of 5 per cent was noted on January 1, of this year. It is estimated that there were 1,665,000 goats in the State on January 1, 1923, or 9 per cent of the number on January 1, 1920. With a continuation of fair prices for mohair and a popularization of the use of chevon, the Angora goat industry in Texas will become increasingly important and one of the most valuable assets of the State.

MAY REMAKE HISTORIC SPOT

Original White House in Philadelphia to Be Swept Away, but Not Entirely Forgotten.

Senator Pepper and Mr. Vaulain have mentioned a plan to remake that block opposite Independence hall between Chestnut and Market, Fifth and Sixth streets.

That square contains one site which thousands pass daily without knowing its significance. On the south side of Market street just east of Sixth street stood the original White House of the United States, Girard writes in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It was a fine old home which was occupied by George Washington when he was president. The general was addicted to sorrel horses for riding, but he had a six-horse team of cream-colored coach horses that were the talk of the town.

On ordinary occasions when the President wished to go about he drove four horses, but for state ceremonies the six-horse team would draw his fine carriage from his home on Market street down to Independence hall.

If there is to be any remaking of that historic section, I fancy that a suitable marker will indicate where dwelt our first president.

NOT UNIVERSAL

Not many weeks ago Cuttle was a member of a motoring party touring in the extreme southern part of Missouri. The country, from their point of view, was very "back-woodsy," and they amused themselves by poking fun at the natives and their surroundings. One day the party stopped at a farmhouse to get some water. They were waited upon by a man who wore only enough clothes to comply with the law. The touring party thought his bare feet especially odd.

"Do all men go barefoot down here?" Cuttle asked.

The man eyed his toes thoughtfully, wriggled them extensively, and replied:

"Nope. Part of us do, an' th' rest tend to their own business."—Kansas City Star.

EXOTIC PETS IN LONDON

The dog is threatened with eclipse in London as a street companion of fashionable women of the ultra-fashionable set. Monkeys, marmosets, mongooses, foxes and chimpanzees, all come in for a share of attention. At a lawn party a guest carried a sunshade with a curiously twisted handle, which proved to be a beautifully marked snake. It is to be hoped that such novelties will never be imported here, as a snake out of captivity frightens and disgusts many people.—Scientific American.

MASON TIGERS WIN SLUGFEST FROM PONTOTOC LAST FRIDAY

In a game of baseball between the Mason Tigers and Pontotoc on the local diamond Friday afternoon, the locals won out by a score of 15 to 14. The game was a regular batting bee and the score board shows a slight margin in Pontotoc's favor as the visitors out-hit the Tigers and also outfielded them. Pluenecke started the game for the Tigers and worked four innings, allowing ten hits which yielded eight runs. He was relieved by R. Zesch in the fifth who was touched for four hits and four runs in that stanza and for two hits in the sixth. M. Zesch took the mound for the Tigers in the sixth with one man away and men on second and third bases. He retired the side without yielding a run and worked the remaining three innings, allowing but one hit which came in the eighth inning. Two scores were counted on him in the ninth when he hit a batter and a succession of three errors by his team mates occurred. Yoe started the twirling for the visitors and lasted four innings, being touched for 11 hits and a total of 13 runs. G. Hillmann relieved him in the fifth and allowed but three hits in the remaining innings, but two scores were registered off him.
