The three King dogs are looking for a home. The county agent, with his family, is moving to Lubbock about May 1 and among the things the family accumulated while in Dimmitt, and which they can't take on to Lubbock with them, are three dogs, or that is one grown dog and two pups—they acquired the grown dog first. Raymond, Mrs. King and the children are fond of their dogs and would like to take them to Lubbock but they believe the dogs are entitled to a more wholesome environment than is offered at the South Plains city. If you would like to have a pet dog with an agricultural background the column would recommend that you contact the county agent immediately.

The year of 1951 will, in a measure, be the turning point in the history of Dimmitt and the county. To Dimmitt and community the construction of the modern grade school building and gymnasium will mark a milestone in the area's development. The outmoded facilities now in use were beginning to hamper the growth of our community, as they were already crowded to overflowing, and would-be newcomers no doubt would have been discouraged at the prospect of placing their children in the school under existing housing difficulties. The advent of the cotton gin in Dimmitt, and stepped up cotton acreage throughout the county, will be stimulant to the county's development as it will make a more highly diversified agricultural program possible. There are many new crops that could well be adapted to this area and in time it will be one of the state's largest multi-crop counties.

My chin takes a fit of itching everytime I see someone from Hereford. The things that men will do through civic loyalty sometimes borders on the farcical.

Mr. M. L. Simpson is going to have open house at his new modern Grade A Dairy Barn Sunday afternoon. I believe the occasion will be just the thing to make Swain Burkett and myself feel at ease at an open house. The only trouble is that the cows might take offense. Mr. Simpson is inviting everyone to take this opportunity of inspecting his new dairy facilities. Refreshments of sweet milk, buttermilk and clabber will be served.

Russell Buckmaster says that a fifteen pound catfish weighed forty-five pounds by the time the members of his fishing party got through talking about the catch. Just like some of my predictions only in reverse.

A letter, from a reader, published in the News last week has been the cause of a considerable amount of comment by a number of people of the community. In this particular case, however, the comment was favorable. The letter, by a sincere person with the interest of the community at heart, was deploring the fact that three of the churches of the town were conducting revival meetings simultaneously. The columnist had heard others comment on the matter previous to receiving the letter and was not surprised that the matter was called to public attention. It may not be practical for the various churches to arrange their revival meeting dates so that there won't be a conflict, but if it were at all possible there is no doubt that it would meet with the approval of all of the members of the churches involved.

Gift Makes Iron Lung Available to People of County

Through the generosity of Mr. Homer Bartlett, an iron lung has been made available for public use in Castro County free of cost. The iron lung recently purchased by Bartlett has been turned over to the custody of the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Department. The instrument will be kept at the city hall where it can be secured instantly by anyone needing its use.

The operation of the iron lung, delivered recently to the Fire Department by the salesman, has been explained fully to members of the department who will be available to operate it in emergencies upon request.

It has been pointed out that rules governing the use of the iron lung require that the borrower return it to the fire department just as soon as its services are not needed in order that it may be available for others who might need it. Its use is not restricted to any disease or circumstance, but rather its use is encouraged whenever and wherever needed with the only qualification being that it is returned promptly when it is no longer needed. It was further pointed out that there would be no charges whatever for the use of the iron lung, and that no charges could be made for its use by anyone.

Mr. Bartlett and the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Department are to be commended for their humanitarian act and deserve the support of everyone in the community in the upkeep and care of the would-be life saver.

The Simpsons have operated a dairy for the past thirty years and in addition to their dairy they operate an 870 acre farm which is located nine miles north and five miles east of Dimmitt.

George J. Schoeman Gives Pointers On Social Security

George J. Schoeman, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, reminded farm and household employees that they must report wages and pay Federal social security taxes on those farm and household employees who were brought into the old-age and survivors insurance system on January 1, 1951. Whether or not a farm or household employee's wages are subject to the taxes depends on the number of days worked for the employer and the amount of cash earnings. The Federal social security tax and information return for the quarterly period of January-February-March is due on or before April 30, 1951, together with payment of the taxes.

A farm employer should make a return on Form 941 reporting the cash wages paid to each employee who meets all three of the following tests:

(a) He is employed by the employer (whether or not doing farm work) continuously throughout the quarterly period of October-November-December, 1950, and

(b) He was employed by such employer in agricultural labor on a full-time basis for at least 60 days in the quarterly period of January-February-March, 1951, and

(c) His cash earnings for such agricultural labor are $50 or more.

This three-part test of liability applies not only to agricultural workers but also to household employees in a private home on a farm which is operated for profit.

A different test, sometimes called the "$50-24-day test", should be used in determining whether or not the taxes apply to cash wages paid by an employer for household work in a private home which is not on a farm operated for profit. The employer should make a return reporting the cash wages for household work performed after 1950 paid to each employee (a) who received from such employer, during the quarterly period of January-February-March, 1951, $50 or more in cash wages for household work and (b) who performed work for such employer on 24 or more different days in that quarter or on 24 or more different days in the quarter of October-November-December, 1950. If the employer also pays wages to business employees whom he reports on Form 941, he may include the household employees on the same form.

Otherwise, the employer should report the household employees on a return Form 942.

Every farm employer or household employer who is required to file a return on or before April 30, 1951, but who does not have a blank return form to use for this purpose, should promptly request a form from the Collector of Internal Revenue for his district.

Health Talks . . .

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" might be applied in medical rhyme as "Virus, undesirous, how does your poison grow?"

The Virus germ, which is a sort of second cousin, once removed, from other bacteria, cannot always be seen, even with a microscope. It's there, but you know it's there only by action, not by sight.

Some viruses can be spotted but as a class they are distinguished by their invisibility, which makes the control of virus diseases more difficult than the other classifications of infectious diseases.

Chickenpox is one of the virus diseases, as are most of the childhood "school time" ailments. Chickenpox germs are believed to travel in the air from an infested person to a well one; they are breathed in and start to work from the breathing apparatus known as the respiratory tract. It takes about 10 or 20 days for the germ to get to the skin surface in the form of those red spots on the body; and about four days for the spots to fill with the fluid, break, and form a scab.

The spots keep breaking out usually for about four days, so in all the usual chickenpox case runs about eight days, sometimes more. And the spots itch. It is the itchiness which creates the danger of chickenpox, since the disease itself in a normal, healthy youngster seldom leads to complications. Scratching the blisters or scabs and getting them infected is the danger, so lotions which will keep the pockets from itching are usually advisable, plus a curtailment of the youngster's activities, of course.

Most virus diseases should be treated with bedrest. And the one for which rest in bed is the most important is the common cold. Instead of being used as a last resort, as it usually is, going to bed with a cold should be your first action.

You don't feel good, you're cranky, all out of sorts, anyway, and you're not likely to do your work properly when you have a cold; so if you would be treating yourself by the best possible medical method. If that doesn't make you better, then you need your doctor's advice as to the next step. But that doesn't count. . . . But many colds can be thrown off by just that simple routine, and it also has the advantage of keeping it from spreading to others.

One argument against that method is that you don't always know when you have a cold. That's quite true; but the rest and diet isn't going to hurt anything that you do have.

You don't always know when you have pinkeye, either. Colds, runny noses, pink and watery eyelids, and many other signs of diseases are frequently caused by hayfever or allergies of one sort or another. But the difference in them is that allergies aren't contagious, whereas colds and pink-eye are.

Contagious catarrhal conjunctivitis is the formal title of pink-eye, one of the most contagious of the virus diseases; it is an inflammation of the wet lining that forms the rims and underpart of the eyelid. It may come alone or with other diseases; the flu is usually associated with red-rimmed eyes. Gonorrhea also is frequently marked with an eyelid inflammation.

Since pinkeye can be mistaken for other much more serious diseases, it is always advisable to have it checked. Granulated eyelids, known as trachoma, is one of the more serious of the eyelid afflictions caused by a virus, and it, too, is contagious. Trachoma can even lead to blindness.

Instead of just a redness of the eyelids, trachoma is a roughness, the lids looking like grains of salt or sand dotted upon them. The inside of the eyelid is also dotted with those hard little bumps and they rub up and down against the cornea of the eye, that film in front of the eyeball.

As they scrape against that film, those bumps damage it, which in time can lead to partial or complete blindness.

Trachoma can also lead to disfiguring as an untreated case may pull the eyelid up unevenly, creating a deformity of the lid.

Congressman Rogers Gives Views On Impeachment of the President

My office has received approximately 100 telegrams signed by approximately 150,000 people. I have also received approximately 100 letters and about 15 personal telephone calls concerning the action of the President in relieving General MacArthur of his command. Out of all of these communications there were approximately five that approved the action of the President. Almost all of the others demanded the impeachment of the President, Dean Acheson and various other civil officers. These communications came from the 18th District. I had other communications from outside the District totalling approximately fifty. These were divided in approximately the same ratio. The offices of other congressmen have also been flooded by these communications, most of them expressing heated disapproval of the President's action in this respect. This overwhelming expression of the sentiment of the people affords an excellent opportunity for any man in public office to play politics and to appeal to the aroused emotions of the people. Many have succumbed to this temptation and are attempting to use this serious situation as a political football. This I cannot conscientiously do, as indignant as I might feel about the action and as aroused as my emotions might be under the circumstances. If there was ever a time in the history of this country when cool, calm and collected deliberation was needed in the Congress, it is now. I sincerely regret that the action was taken and I pray to God that our position and our way of life will not be jeopardized by it. General MacArthur is an outstanding military genius. This no one can deny, even the President. He was a military official, and under the Constitution and laws of our Government, he was and is subject to the orders of the civilian officials. However erroneous, however unsound or mistaken those orders might be, they are not grounds for impeachment. The American people are entitled to know the truth as it is written in the law and the Constitution. The provision of the Constitution providing for the impeachment of the President, Vice-President and other civil officers, Article II, Section 4, is as follows: "The President, Vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for the conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

The order of the President relieving MacArthur of his command was within his constitutional powers, and cannot, standing alone, constitute grounds for impeachment under the Constitution. If the President of the United States, or any other civil officer, is guilty of any act that comes within the provisions of the above Section of the Constitution, impeachment proceedings should be instituted without delay and prosecuted forthwith. I can tell you that every act of the President of the United States since his induction into office has been thoroughly and searchingly examined in an effort to discover grounds upon which impeachment proceedings could be instituted, and the same is true of Dean Acheson and the other public officials in the Administration. There is no doubt that such proceedings would have been instituted long ago had any evidence been uncovered that would meet the requirements of the Constitution. If there is a citizen of the United States anywhere who has any evidence upon which a public official could be impeached, it is his bounden duty as an American citizen to come forward with it and let the law take its course, let the chips fall where they may. At any time such information or evidence comes into my hands or to my knowledge I will consider it an honor to institute impeachment proceedings against the offending party, whatever he be, the President of the United States, or the lowest public official in our Government, regardless of his party affiliations. I have discussed the matter at length with members of both parties who have been in Congress for the past several years and who have done a great deal of work on this subject, and not one of them has furnished me with any evidences of any facts of this nature that would come within the purview of the Constitution, and they have stated to me that it is their opinion that the facts they have uncovered would not be sufficient upon which to base such a course of proceedings.

I shall cast my vote for a resolution inviting General MacArthur to appear before a joint meeting of congress, and will look forward to hearing a full discussion of his views. The Congress is entitled to this and the American people are entitled to it. This is no time for partisan politics. We are at a cross-roads, and the issue is clearly cut. It is Americanism versus Communism.

THE LAW AND YOU

by Rob't. (Bob) Kirk

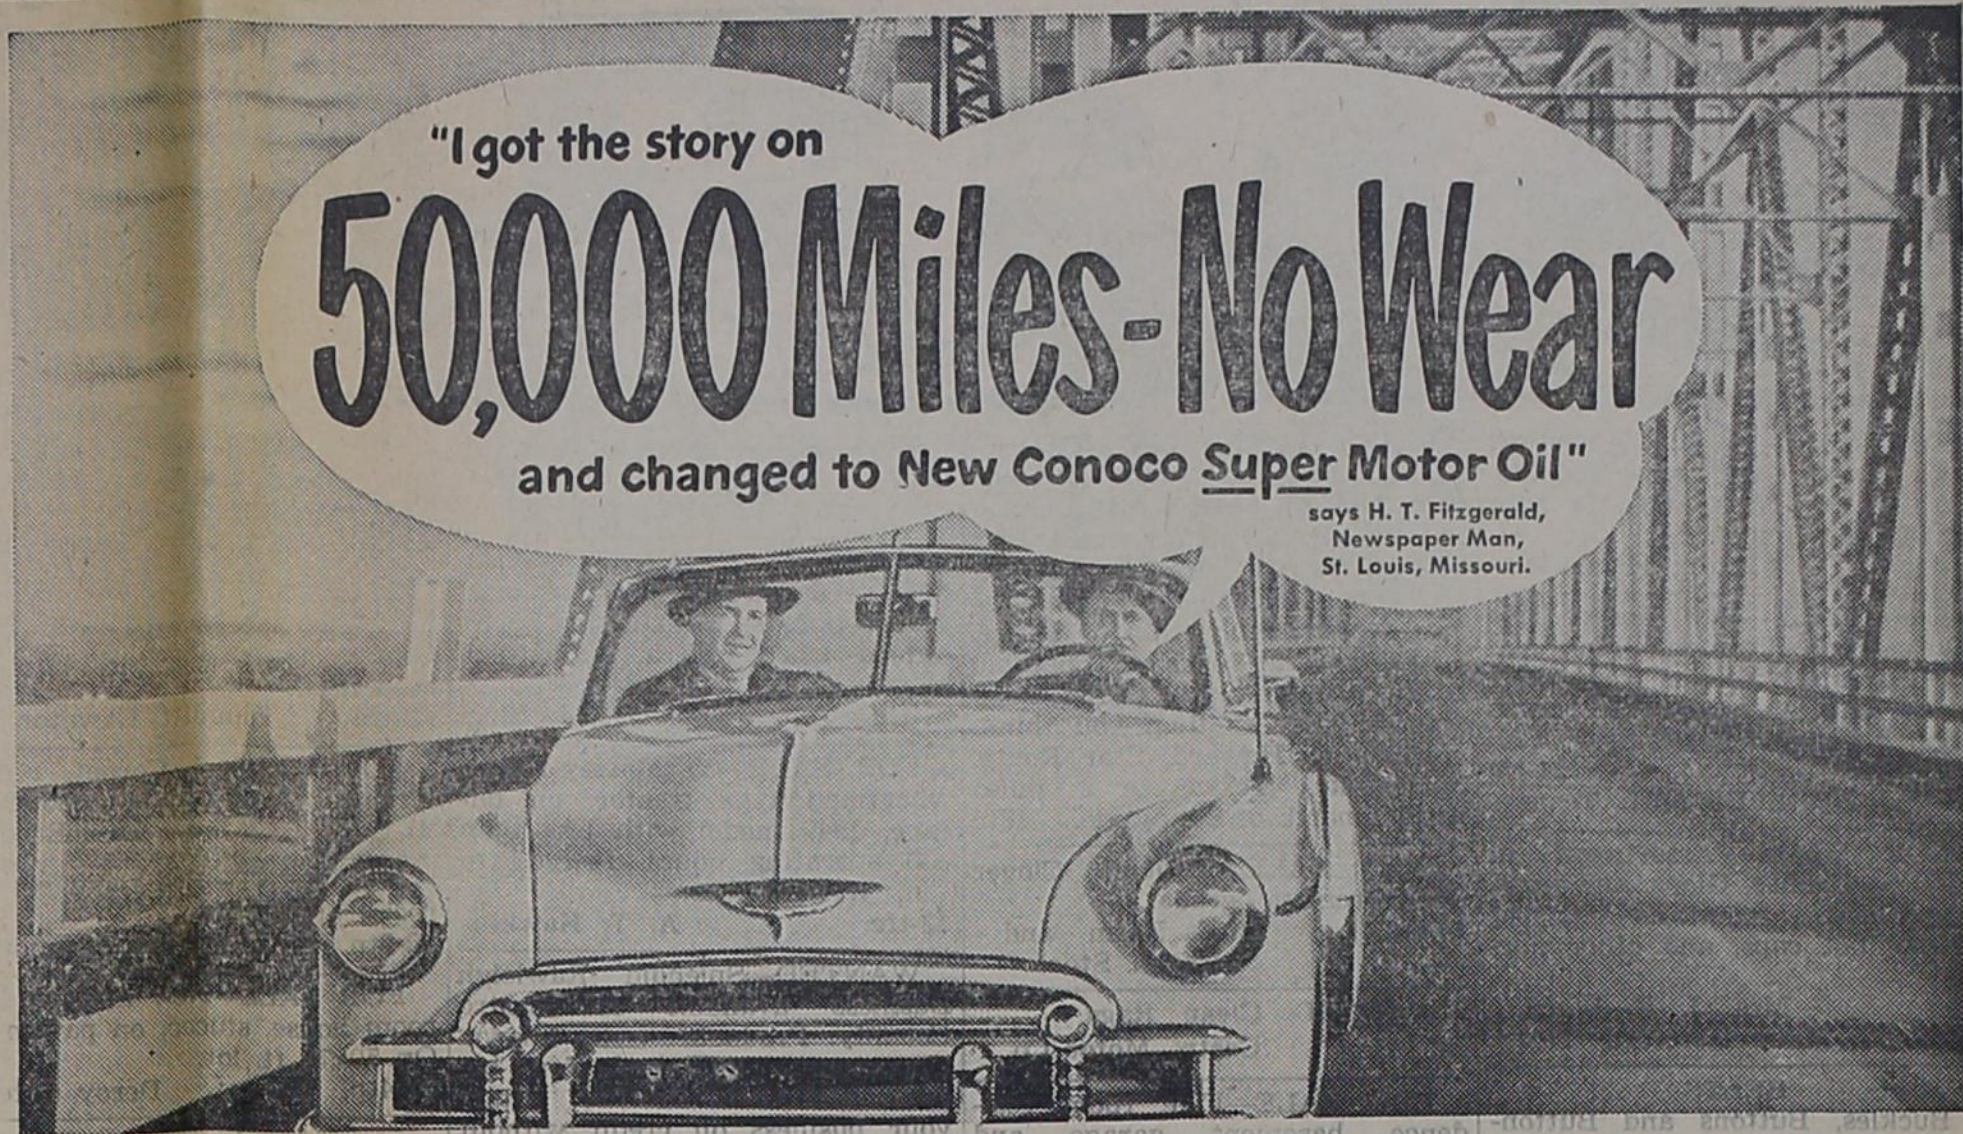

DO YOU KNOW what a "life estate" is?

A life estate is an interest in real estate which is effective for the period of the life of the party who holds the same. Such an estate may be created in a number of ways. It may be created by deed, will or operation of law. Such an estate may be created subject to various conditions.

Generally a life estate allows the individual who holds the same to enjoy the rents and revenues from property, so long as he shall live, and at his death the title passes to some other designated person.

A person owning a life estate in real estate may sell this interest, but the purchaser acquires no greater right than that held by seller. Upon the death of the seller, all of the purchaser's rights in the property would terminate as if still held by the original holder of the life estate. In some instances, when the life estate is created, the person given the life estate, also is given the authority to sell the land. In such a case title to the land passes completely to the purchaser. This authority must be definitely and affirmatively given to the holder of the life estate to be effective.

says H. T. Fitzgerald, Newspaper Man, St. Louis, Missouri.

"YOUR NEW '50,000 MILES—NO WEAR' OIL is the best we have ever used," says George M. James, Manager, Metro Motors, Ford Distributors, Murray, Utah. "We use Conoco Super in all our demonstrators and recommend it highly to new car buyers."

"I'VE USED MANY DIFFERENT BRANDS of oil, but was never satisfied until I heard the story of '50,000 Miles—No Wear' and changed to new Conoco Super," writes Ben F. Taylor, Traveling Salesman, Fort Worth, Texas. "Now I get greater savings in oil consumption and more gasoline miles to the gallon."

"50,000 MILES—NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

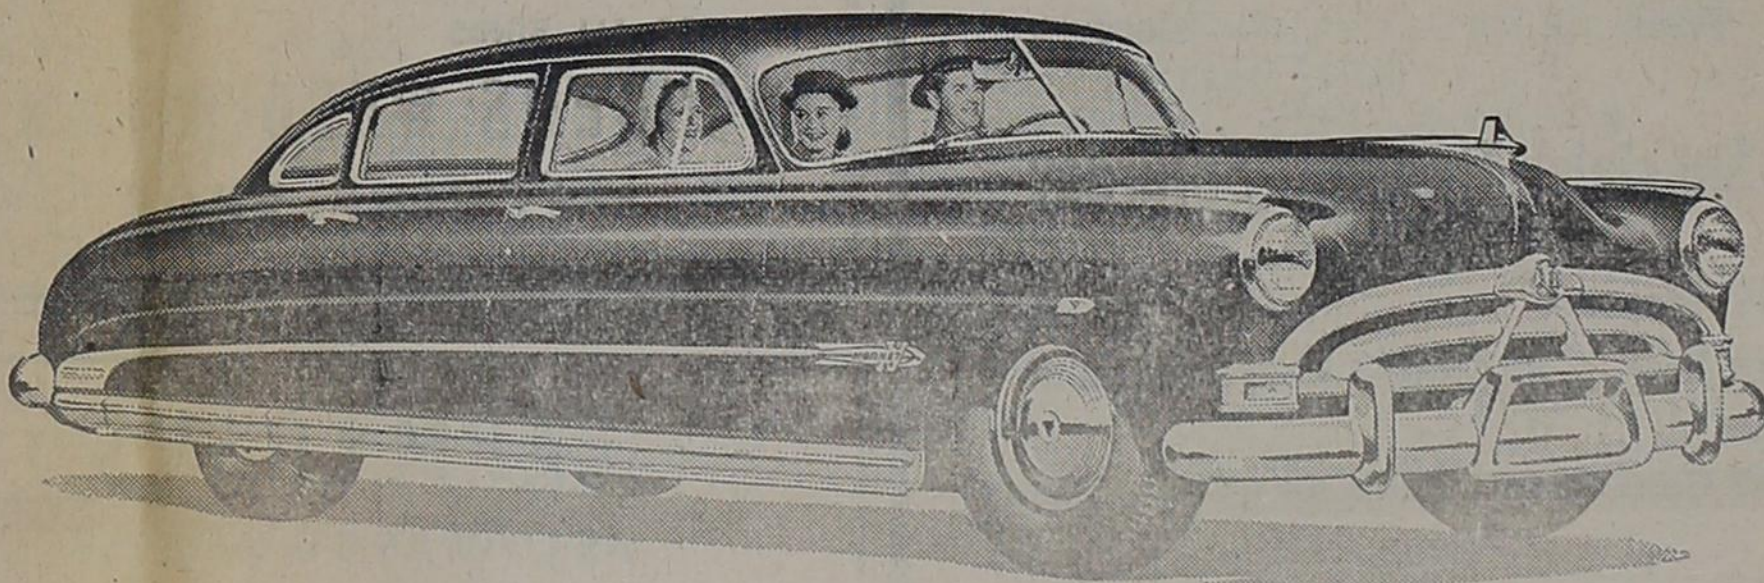

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

We'll Soon Know

Dimmitt High School enters as tough a Regional Track meet this week as has been staged in this region in some time, with very close competition in several events.

It is possible to place second or even third in the Regional Meet and still win State. If a team is weak in several events but very strong in several others, they can be outscored in the Region but come through in the state where the other team places seconds or thirds in their events.

We feel that we have an all-around strong team, but there are a few teams in the state (a couple of them in this region) that either have no field men but that have very good runners, or that have very good field men and no strong runners. In a meet where the competition is as great as it is in the Regional and State Meets, these teams (sometimes one man) may turn the tide and gain enough points in these two or three events to win the Regional or State Track Championship.

Sports writers have been shy of picking any of the three teams in this region to win the Regional Meet because of this. These three teams are the consistently strong teams in the region, Dimmitt, White Deer, and Farwell.

Naturally, we believe Dimmitt will win the Regional Championship. White Deer definitely has different ideas, and Farwell is probably hoping for Dimmitt and White Deer to be second and third. No one can definitely tell, for it is one of the hardest things in the world to predict track results on paper, but looking at the strength of the teams, we believe the Bobcats can do it.

Success

By Beth Hance

Where are you going in life? If you were asked this question, what would your answer be? Doubtless many would say, "I don't know, or "I haven't thought much about it." If you asked a football player carrying a ball, where he was going, his reply wouldn't be "I don't know." He would have a goal in mind and regardless of the obstacles he would try to reach it. Now is the time to decide what your goal is. If you decide now what your career will be, you will have the advantage of an early start in life. Regardless of what field you are interested in there are many occupations open to you. As you strive toward the goal, many obstacles will confront you. It is time to decide what you are going to be. Then don't just be it, but be the best.

The Senior class is beginning to really feel like seniors now. Friday the class attended Senior Day at Amarillo and Wayland College and got a view of campus life as well as a lot of fun and entertainment.

The B & P. W. Club hoped the Senior girls with a breakfast last Sunday morning. Time: 7:45; Place: Miss Merritt's home; Menu: scrambled eggs, bacon and sausage, biscuits and coffee.

The Chamber of Commerce held their annual Banquet Monday night. Our Bobbies were invited as guests of honor. This was really quite an affair.

Have you noticed anything new around D. H. S.? How about hair styles (boys), socks (odd mates), scarfs and flowers, suits and oh so many things. Keep your eyes open and you might see anything.

Choral Presented In Chapel

The Choral Club of Dimmitt High School presented the student body with an assembly program Thursday morning at 10:30. The songs that were sung were the selections to be used in the Choral contest Saturday. The selections were sung by the mixed chorus, boys chorus and the girls chorus.

Journalism Entries

Dimmitt will be represented in the Interscholastic League Meet Journalism Contest this year for the first time. Entrants to the contest will be Rae Hardy and Beth Hance. The contest will be held at Lubbock, April 21. The contest consists of writing news stories, editorials, feature stories, headlines, and copyreading. Six towns will be competing in this contest. The two individual winners will be eligible to go to the state contest, May 4 and 5.

Can You Imagine?

Patsy Rae and Mitzi in the Freshman class? School being almost out? Daila a baseball star? Nancy Lee behind in her history workbook? Don Nelson being speechless? Kenneth Bishop winning state in 220 yard dash? Mary DeLozier as Greer Garson? No more six weeks tests? The senior class in caps and gowns? Gene and Weldor conked with a vaulting pole? Getting a 90 average but no A. The 8th grade giving a play (good luck).

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ramey were called to Fort Worth Monday morning due to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Nancy Buchanan.

Eighth Grade To Present Play, "The Baby Sitter"

Have you ever had a job of baby sitting? It can run into many trials if the child happens to be a difficult one. The three-act comedy "The Baby Sitter", presents a problem of this kind. The main characters of the play are: Carrie—Darlene Cates; Bob—Edgar Dennis; Mrs. Ballard—Faye Conard; Mr. Ballard—David Honea. The other members of the class support them in this comedy. Mr. James Bates is directing the play. Curtain time will be 8:15. Proceeds of the play will go for the eighth grade banquet, May 5.

Mrs. Gunnells Is Speaker For F. H. A.

Thursday morning the 3rd year Homemaking girls met in the Homemaking room. There were about 16 members present and the sponsor, Miss Norman. The girls answer the roll with a household hint.

Mrs. Gunnells was the speaker. She spoke on flower arrangements. She made a very interesting speech.

Sandwiches, cookies and cokes were served by the hostess, Mae Nell Curtis.

A nice time was reported by everyone.

SET NEW RECORDS

In the Junior track Bud English set a new record of 4 ft. 11 inches in the high jump.

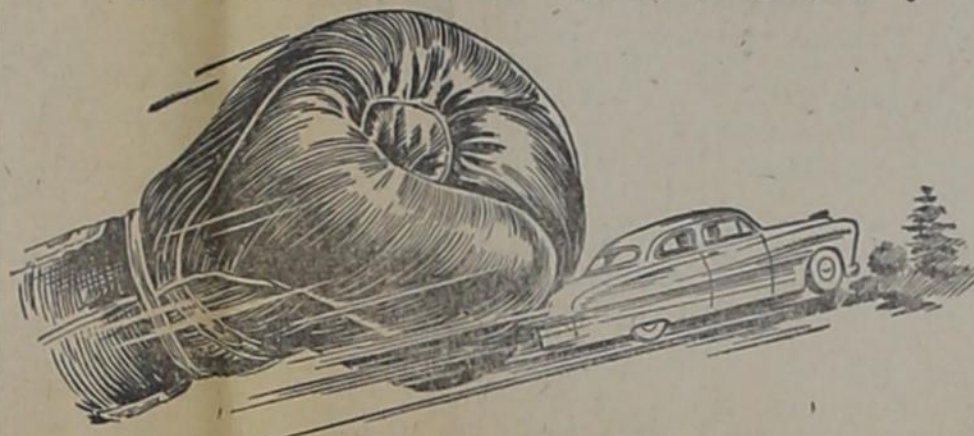

The girls have junior track too and Mitzi Wilson was the record jumper in the group. She broad jumped 15 ft. 5 inches for a new record and tied the 50 yd. dash in 6.5 seconds.
