WE call your attention to this statement, and upon its merits solicit your business. We have the disposition and ability to handle any legitimate banking business coming to us through our friends. Our efforts to build up a strong financial institution along conservative lines, have, we believe, been successful. We pledge a continuation of our usual conservative principles, and solicit the accounts of individuals and firms desiring the services of a carefully managed bank. Our steady growth tells its own story

S. P. Moody has a nice line of Furniture.

Mrs. J. W. Osborn left last week to visit her sister at Thurbur, Texas.

See the nice folding beds at S. P. Moody's Furniture store.

Died, Mrs. W. Green, at her home near Bethel, Wednesday night, May 8th.

J. P. Stone returned the first of the week from Lipscomb, Texas, where he had been on court business.

Elmer Holloman arrived Wednesday from Paris, Texas, and will make improvements on his claim.

U. N. Hall came over Wednesday from Tolar where he is now living and conducting a livery, grain and coal business.

Misses Nannie and Nora Ramsey, who have claims about twelve miles south of Portales, left Sunday for Mangum, Oklahoma, to visit their parents.

Married, Mr. J. L. Rustin of Kiowa county, O. T., and Miss Dora Willis of this county, at Portales, Thursday, May 9, Elder W. M. Nickell officiating.

W. R. Harris and wife and A. L. Gupton and wife, from Boswell, Indian Territory, arrived Monday and are looking at the country with a view of locating.

Sheriff Joe Lang returned Wednesday from his trip, after being to Santa Fe with prisoners sentenced at the last term of court and then down in old Mexico.

W. E. Miller, the jeweler, has been sick the past two weeks at his home on his claim about four miles from town. At last reports Mr. Miller was better and able to be up some.

Mrs. J. P. Howard, of Mangum, Oklahoma, fled on a claim about thirty miles west of Portales last week. She returned to her home Monday and expects to move here and make settlement on her claim next month.

Mr. E. StClair arrived Wednesday from Perry, Oklahoma, to look after property here. He owns a deeded farm about three miles southeast of Portales. He returned again the last of the week to his home in Oklahoma.

G. W. Barnett, of Hewins, Kansas, arrived in Portales Wednesday to look at the country with a view to securing land here. Mr. Barnett is a well to do farmer with lots of energy and push and we would be glad to see him locate with us.

Mrs. J. P. Long and three children arrived in Portales Monday, from Amarillo, where they have been the past winter, the children attending school. Their home is about seventy miles south of here, near Bronco. They were met here by Mr. Long, who took them out to their home.

The family of Rev. S. M. Edwards, who have lately been living on their claim, about thirty-five miles west of here, came into town the first of the week. Mrs. Edwards remained here visiting this week and the sons returned to the claim. Mrs. Edwards got bit on the hand by something, they think a spider, and she has had a very bad hand.

See S. P. Moody for your Furniture and Undertakers goods.

Roosevelt county was treated to the best soaking this week it has had since the early part of the winter. It commenced raining about two o'clock Thursday morning and kept up the down pour most of the day. It was a fine warm rain too, and the farmers are feeling jubilant. A great deal of the corn is now planted and if the weather will continue warm the crops will come right along. The total precipitation as reported by the local weather observer at Portales is 1 1/4 inches.

The people of the Fowler neighborhood, about eight miles southwest of Portales, have secured a school building. That is in the Portales school district and the people there secured from the school board one of the small buildings which has been used in Portales for school purposes and moved it out in their neighborhood this week. They located their school house on the corner of Messrs. Britt, Sooter, Allison and Kuykendall's places, each donating one acre for the school grounds.

The Portales steam laundry started up Monday and reports doing a good business right from the start. They have a fine outfit of the best and latest improved machinery and have it located in a building they have lately put up for that purpose at the west corner of the square back of the room occupied by J. A. Hanna & Son, jewelers. The proprietors are Messrs. Dawson and Kitchen. Mr. Dawson has been operator at the Pecos Valley station at Portales, and Mr. Kitchen has lately come from Arkansas. This is a very good enterprise and we are proud to have it established here.

See S. P. Moody's new Furniture.

Meeting of Board of County Commissioners.

The board of county commissioners met Monday, May 6, at the court house in Portales. Commissioners E. C. Price and W. H. Montgomery, and clerk B. F. Birdwell were present. Chairman J. B. Crawford was absent. E. C. Price was elected chairman, pro tem.

The road petition by H. J. Farnham and others was granted as prayed for and the road ordered to be opened within sixty days, the road to be sixty feet wide.

ACTING GOVERNOR RAYNOLDS

Since the retirement of Governor Hagerman, J. W. Reynolds, secretary of the territory, has been placed prominently in the public eye. Until the arrival of the new governor, Mr. Reynolds will have the duties of both, the office of governor and secretary to look after. It is said he will devote his time in the forenoon to the office of secretary and in the afternoon to the office of governor. The Santa Fe New Mexican published a sketch of Mr. Reynolds as follows:

"Acting Governor James Wallace Reynolds is a westerner by birth and the son of parents who are pioneers of the Southwest. He was born on March 23, 1873, at Pueblo, Colorado, then a town which gave little promise of its future greatness. Three years later the Reynolds family removed to Las Vegas, where Mr. Reynolds attended the public schools. Later he attended the schools of Canton, Ohio, the birthplace of his father, who was a close friend and neighbor of the martyred President William McKinley. From Canton, the young man went to Boston and there graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the degree of M. E. In December of the same year he was united in marriage to Miss Brownie Baum, of Omaha, a union which has resulted very happily and has been blessed with three sturdy boys. Mrs. Reynolds is deservedly esteemed and popular in local society circles in which she is a leader. When George H. Wallace was appointed secretary of the territory in 1897, Mr. Reynolds, although a very young man, was summoned to Santa Fe to assist in placing the office of the secretary of the territory on a business basis. After successfully accomplishing the task he returned to Las Vegas, where he accepted a position in the First National bank. In April, 1901, upon the death of Territorial Secretary Wallace, Mr. Reynolds was appointed to succeed him, and he has been twice re-appointed."

L. A. Hughes, who was appointed territorial treasurer by Gov. Hagerman and assumed the duties of the office April 20, resigned the office again on the retirement of Gov. Hagerman. Acting Governor J. W. Reynolds, last Saturday, appointed J. H. Vaughn, of Santa Fe, to fill the position. Mr. Vaughn is cashier of the First National bank of Santa Fe, has held the office of territorial treasurer for eight years just previous to Mr. Hughes' occupancy of the office and has a good record.

W. H. Andrews, New Mexico's delegate to congress, has returned to New Mexico, arriving at Santa Fe Monday. An enthusiastic reception was given him on his arrival at Santa Fe.

Crops are doing as well as could be expected, owing to the condition of the weather. A great deal of corn is up and some kafir corn. But most of the land is yet to be planted.

Ralph Gore carries the belt as the best broncho rider. He rode one of Jim Clevenger's natives last Sunday.
But reports say that if the horse had made one more jump Ralph would have
been thrown.

Mr. Clevenger is having very bad luck with his horses. Last Saturday night he and his brother were coming home from Elida and ran into a wire fence. One of the horses cut an artery
in his leg and it was with great difficulty the flow of blood was stopped.

The Upton store, southwest of Floyd,
is now completed and Mr. Crang stands behind the counter ready to sell any kind of goods he has in stock. The postoffice has not started yet, but application has been sent in and we expect to hear from it any time.

We are going to have a school house
too. The people seeing the need of a public building, met last Saturday night at the Upton store and elected three men, Messrs. Gore, Angel and Campbell, as a committee to solicit subscriptions. One hundred dollars was made up that night. The building is not to be exclusive for school house, but will be a public building
for church or such gatherings as may be called.

Fowler Facts.

BY E. J. S.
Sunday school was well attended at
Mr. Fowler's last Sunday.

J. W. Boyd's baby is sick with measles, but is getting along very well.

Curtis Page seems to be quite a frequent visitor over towards Doss school house.

Mr. Tinsley and family attended
Sunday school at Mr. Fowler's last Sunday.

Some corn and maize is up, but not doing very well, on account of the cool
weather.

K. A. Britt brought out a load of school desks Saturday for our school house. That means much for our community. There are nearly fifty scholars in reach of our school.

Sunday school will be held at the school house next Sunday, if they get
it out here in time. If not, it will be held at Mr. Page's. The school house will be at the corner of Mr. Britt's,
Mr. Kuykendall's and Mr. Sooter's places.

The young folks enjoyed a singing at
Mr. Tinsley's last Sunday night. Those present were Misses Ruth and Maggie Butler, Bertie Roquemore, Rachel and Fannie Tinsley, Mrs. George Butler,
Messrs. Tillman and Pete Roquemore, Will Edmonson, Curtis Page, Jimmy Butler, George Butler and others.

Pleasant Valley Happenings

BY BOOMERANG
Dr. Hensley bought a fine Jersey cow last week for which he paid the sum of $75.

The weather has been fine during
the past week and the farmers have surely made good use of it.

There is a good deal of sickness in our valley lately and Dr. Hensley is kept pretty busy since he came here.

Walter Richardson leaves this week
for Roswell, N. M. We wish him the best of success but hate to lose one of our number.

Mr. and Mrs. Renner of this place moved their household goods to Portales last week, he having gone into business there.

James Tollett came in from Hereford, Texas, a few days ago to make settlement on his claim. We welcome
his family back in our midst.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Manes
twin boys. These have the distinction of being the first born in our valley
and if others do likewise we will soon have this territory well populated.

On May 5th the young ladies of Pleasant Valley gave Emil Schweik-hard a grand surprise, this being his 21st birthday, by gathering at the home of his parents with well filled baskets, it being a surprise on the whole family but they soon rallied and gave all a royal welcome. At the noon hour such a dinner as was spread

would grace the table of a king.
After all had partaken to their hearts
content they repaired to the parlor
where games and conversation were indulged in until 2:30 when all started
for Sunday school with a hearty invitation to return after Sabbath school
and help Emil make away with all those birthday cakes to which all did justice. Those who participated in this happy affair were: Misses Grace
and Della Givens, Minnie Schweik-
hard, Flora Sneed, Jessie Holcomb, Bertie and Bessie Dickbreder, Mary
Seal, Stella Renner and Messrs. Emil,
Jacob and William Schweikhard, Isaac
and Albert Armstrong, Boyd and
Chas. Givens, Stanton Holcomb, Mil-
lam Seal, Glenn Givens, Mr. and Mrs.
Schweikhard, G. A. Dickbreder, Mrs.
Sneed, and Mrs. Boydston. At about 11 p. m. all departed wishing Emil
many more such happy birthdays.

Bethel Budget.

BY ROMULUS
Billy Milling was out working some
on his homestead this week.

Most of the planting is done now
and if we have no more winter crops
will soon be growing nicely.

S. W. Smith has received a registered Poland China pig from near Lockney, Texas, and it's a beauty.

Nothing was lost by not planting
early this spring, as the late frosts
killed what little truck that was up.

Some familiar names over the phone
back of Geo. Smith's switch are "Big Bale", "Bowser", "Burpo" and "Tar Heel".

A petition is being circulated to establish a postoffice at the residence of
J. H. Crabtree, four miles northwest of Bethel.

Mrs. H. J. Farnham returned from Clairmont, Texas, last Saturday bringing her son, Tommie, with her. He is gaining strength rapidly.

Jim Green came in from near Monument last week. He sold his sheep and talks like he don't need any more for awhile. He expects to farm on his place.

T. M. Smith has traded his milch cows for sheep and now has 500 or 600
head. He contemplates going down near Monument and establishing a ranch.

Ben Smith has moved his house from the southwest corner of his place up near the center of the east side where he has set out a fine lot of fruit and shade trees.

Miss Lula Anderson came out from Portales last week accompanied by several young people who remained until after supper. Miss Lula has been teaching in the Portales public schools.

Roosevelt, New Mexico.

BY OLENE MORRIS
Oats are up pretty.

Prospectors continue to come from all over the United States.

People are still breaking sod and
think they will make a fine crop.

Arthur Morris and Lewis Pinkerton
left here for Bethel the other day.

There is a great deal of sickness reported in this part of the country.

It is certainly pretty in the breaks.
I have been there once since I come.

We understand there are church services held every first Sunday at the hotel.

Some have planted cane, maize and
such like while others have not planted yet.

The old maids and bachelors are as
thick up here as the grasshoppers
were that dry year.

We learn they will have five automobiles on the road by the 20th. Then we will have mail regular.

There was an entertainment at the hotel the 27th. Old maids and bachelors had a special invitation. All had a nice time.

We are having pretty weather now
but we have had lots of rain and snow.
It snowed from the 19th till the 21st and by the 23rd it was all melted. It was seven inches deep on the level.

Not many people have their cattle
here, so milk and butter are scarce.
Butter is 35 cents per pound and
wouldn't have to send it to Montgomery, Ward & Co., to sell it, though lots
of people do send there for their goods.

ACTING GOVERNOR RAYNOLDS

Since the retirement of Governor Hagerman, J. W. Reynolds, secretary of the territory, has been placed prominently in the public eye. Until the arrival of the new governor, Mr. Reynolds will have the duties of both, the office of governor and secretary to look after. It is said he will devote his time in the forenoon to the office of secretary and in the afternoon to the office of governor. The Santa Fe New Mexican published a sketch of Mr. Reynolds as follows:

"Acting Governor James Wallace Reynolds is a westerner by birth and the son of parents who are pioneers of the Southwest. He was born on March 23, 1873, at Pueblo, Colorado, then a town which gave little promise of its future greatness. Three years later the Reynolds family removed to Las Vegas, where Mr. Reynolds attended the public schools. Later he attended the schools of Canton, Ohio, the birthplace of his father, who was a close friend and neighbor of the martyred President William McKinley. From Canton, the young man went to Boston and there graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the degree of M. E. In December of the same year he was united in marriage to Miss Brownie Baum, of Omaha, a union which has resulted very happily and has been blessed with three sturdy boys. Mrs. Reynolds is deservedly esteemed and popular in local society circles in which she is a leader. When George H. Wallace was appointed secretary of the territory in 1897, Mr. Reynolds, although a very young man, was summoned to Santa Fe to assist in placing the office of the secretary of the territory on a business basis. After successfully accomplishing the task he returned to Las Vegas, where he accepted a position in the First National bank. In April, 1901, upon the death of Territorial Secretary Wallace, Mr. Reynolds was appointed to succeed him, and he has been twice re-appointed."

L. A. Hughes, who was appointed territorial treasurer by Gov. Hagerman and assumed the duties of the office April 20, resigned the office again on the retirement of Gov. Hagerman. Acting Governor J. W. Reynolds, last Saturday, appointed J. H. Vaughn, of Santa Fe, to fill the position. Mr. Vaughn is cashier of the First National bank of Santa Fe, has held the office of territorial treasurer for eight years just previous to Mr. Hughes' occupancy of the office and has a good record.

W. H. Andrews, New Mexico's delegate to congress, has returned to New Mexico, arriving at Santa Fe Monday. An enthusiastic reception was given him on his arrival at Santa Fe.

Horseshoe Valley.

BY SAMSON.

Mr. Ford's baby is reported very sick.
Jim Clevenger found his strayed horse.

Crops are doing as well as could be expected, owing to the condition of the weather. A great deal of corn is up
and some kafir corn. But most of the land is yet to be planted.

Ralph Gore carries the belt as the best broncho rider. He rode one of
Jim Clevenger's natives last Sunday.
But reports say that if the horse had
been thrown.

Mr. Clevenger is having very bad luck with his horses. Last Saturday night he and his brother were coming
home from Elida and ran into a wire fence. One of the horses cut an artery
in his leg and it was with great difficulty the flow of blood was stopped.

The Upton store, southwest of Floyd,
is now completed and Mr. Crang stands
behind the counter ready to sell any kind of goods he has in stock. The
postoffice has not started yet, but application has been sent in and we expect to hear from it any time.

We are going to have a school house
too. The people seeing the need of a public building, met last Saturday
night at the Upton store and elected
three men, Messrs. Gore, Angel and Campbell, as a committee to solicit
subscriptions. One hundred dollars
was made up that night. The building is not to be exclusive for school
house, but will be a public building
for church or such gatherings as may
be called.

Fowler Facts.

BY E. J. S.

Sunday school was well attended at
Mr. Fowler's last Sunday.

J. W. Boyd's baby is sick with measles, but is getting along very well.

Curtis Page seems to be quite a frequent visitor over towards Doss school house.

Mr. Tinsley and family attended
Sunday school at Mr. Fowler's last Sunday.

Some corn and maize is up, but not
doing very well, on account of the cool
weather.

K. A. Britt brought out a load of school desks Saturday for our school house. That means much for our community. There are nearly fifty scholars in reach of our school.

Sunday school will be held at the
school house next Sunday, if they get
it out here in time. If not, it will be held at Mr. Page's. The school house
will be at the corner of Mr. Britt's,
Mr. Kuykendall's and Mr. Sooter's
places.

The young folks enjoyed a singing at
Mr. Tinsley's last Sunday night. Those present were Misses Ruth and Maggie

Pleasant Valley Happenings

BY BOONERANG

Dr. Hensley bought a fine Jersey
cow last week for which he paid the sum of $75.

The weather has been fine during
the past week and the farmers have
surely made good use of it.

There is a good deal of sickness in our valley lately and Dr. Hensley is kept pretty busy since he came here.

Walter Richardson leaves this week
for Roswell, N. M. We wish him the
our number.

Mr. and Mrs. Renner of this place
moved their household goods to Por-
tales last week, he having gone into
business there.

James Tollett came in from Hereford, Texas, a few days ago to make
settlement on his claim. We welcome
his family back in our midst.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Manes
twin boys. These have the distinction
of being the first born in our valley
and if others do likewise we will soon
have this territory well populated.

On May 5th the young ladies of
Pleasant Valley gave Emil Schweik-
hard a grand surprise, this being his 21st birthday, by gathering at the

home of his parents with well filled
baskets, it being a surprise on the
whole family but they soon rallied and
gave all a royal welcome. At the
noon hour such a dinner as was spread
would grace the table of a king.
After all had partaken to their hearts
content they repaired to the parlor
where games and conversation were
indulged in until 2:30 when all started
for Sunday school with a hearty invitation to return after Sabbath school
and help Emil make away with all
those birthday cakes to which all did
justice. Those who participated in
this happy affair were: Misses Grace
and Della Givens, Minnie Schweik-
hard, Flora Sneed, Jessie Holcomb,
Bertie and Bessie Dickbreder, Mary
Seal, Stella Renner and Messrs. Emil,
Jacob and William Schweikhard, Isaac
and Albert Armstrong, Boyd and
Chas. Givens, Stanton Holcomb, Mil-
lam Seal, Glenn Givens, Mr. and Mrs.
Schweikhard, G. A. Dickbreder, Mrs.
Sneed, and Mrs. Boydston. At about 11 p. m. all departed wishing Emil
many more such happy birthdays.

Bethel Budget.

Billy Milling was out working some
on his homestead this week.

Most of the planting is done now
and if we have no more winter crops
will soon be growing nicely.

S. W. Smith has received a registered Poland China pig from near
Lockney, Texas, and it's a beauty.

Nothing was lost by not planting
early this spring, as the late frosts
killed what little truck that was up.

Some familiar names over the phone
back of Geo. Smith's switch are "Big Bale", "Bowser", "Burpo" and "Tar Heel".

A petition is being circulated to establish a postoffice at the residence of
J. H. Crabtree, four miles northwest
of Bethel.

Mrs. H. J. Farnham returned from Clairmont, Texas, last Saturday bringing her son, Tommie, with her. He is gaining strength rapidly.

Jim Green came in from near Monument last week. He sold his sheep and talks like he don't need any more for awhile. He expects to farm on his place.

T. M. Smith has traded his milch
cows for sheep and now has 500 or 600
head. He contemplates going down near Monument and establishing a ranch.

Ben Smith has moved his house from
the southwest corner of his place up
near the center of the east side where
he has set out a fine lot of fruit and
shade trees.

Miss Lula Anderson came out from Portales last week accompanied by
several young people who remained
until after supper. Miss Lula has been teaching in the Portales public
schools.

Oats are up pretty.

Prospectors continue to come from

People are still breaking sod and
think they will make a fine crop.

left here for Bethel the other day.

There is a great deal of sickness reported in this part of the country.

It is certainly pretty in the breaks.
I have been there once since I come.

We understand there are church
services held every first Sunday at the hotel.

Some have planted cane, maize and
such like while others have not planted yet.

The old maids and bachelors are as
thick up here as the grasshoppers
were that dry year.

We learn they will have five automobiles on the road by the 20th. Then
we will have mail regular.

There was an entertainment at the hotel the 27th. Old maids and bachelors had a special invitation. All had a nice time.

We are having pretty weather now
but we have had lots of rain and snow.
It snowed from the 19th til the 21st
and by the 23rd it was all melted. It
was seven inches deep on the level.

Not many people have their cattle
here, so milk and butter are scarce.
Butter is 35 cents per pound and
wouldn't have to send it to Montgomery, Ward & Co., to sell it, though lots
of people do send there for their goods.

BY G. V. JOHNSON,

THE HAGERMAN CASE.

The Santa Fe New Mexican in its issue of last Saturday published a concise statement covering the entire transaction between Ex-Governor Hagerman and the Pennsylvania Development Company. This statement was prepared by a well known attorney of Albuquerque, who is not a republican. The statement is said to be moderate in tone and gives the facts as they were, and the legal points connected therewith.

This is the transaction that caused the retirement of Mr. Hagerman from the office of governor, and that the readers of the Times may have a complete connected story of the affair we print the statement with a few unimportant paragraphs omitted, as follows:

The Pennsylvania Development Company entered into a contract with the Board of Public Lands for the purchase at $3 an acre of all the land owned by the Territory in two certain townships; amounting in all to about 11,200 acres. They further agreed not to enter upon the land or cut timber from it until it was paid for and the deeds delivered. Twelve entries of 160 acres each were made and the purchase price to-wit the sum of $5,760 paid and deeds were executed for the same. These deeds were not, however, delivered, but held by the Board of Public Lands as security for the faithful performance on the part of the Pennsylvania Development Company of the balance of their contract. Afterwards twenty-three other entries were made of 160 acres each, a part payment on the purchase price was made and the balance of the purchase price, which was in all $11,040, was represented by notes; twenty-three deeds were made out and perfected with the exception of the seals. These deeds were not delivered, but were held with the other twelve deeds as security for the notes and for the faithful performance on the part of the Pennsylvania Development Company of the balance of their contract, which required the entry of about 5,600 acres in addition and their payment at $3 per acre. The Board of Public Lands under which this contract was made was legislated out of existence in 1905—the Governor of the Territory had been at the head of the board. The legislature in 1905 constituted a Territorial Land Office and made its executive officer the commissioner of public lands and Mr. A. A. Keen was appointed as such commissioner. He was specifically made the custodian of all the records of the old board, including, of course, the seal, and was specifically authorized to enforce the contracts entered into by the old board. Under the law he was the only person who could use the seal of the old board or who had the right to carry out their contracts and agreements.

Such was the condition of affairs when Governor Hagerman was appointed. The Pennsylvania Development Company approached Mr. Keen and offered to pay their notes provided the thirty-five deeds were delivered to them. They were told that the deeds were held as security not only for the payment of the notes, but for the faithful performance of their agreement; that they must file applications for the balance of the lands belonging to the Territory in the two townships. This the company was unwilling to do as the balance of the land in those townships were not, in their judgment worth anything. Mr. Keen told them that they must comply with the terms of their agreement and take the poor land with the good land. This they were unwilling to do.

At this point the United States government through the interior department entered the field of controversy and introduced an entirely new factor which was, that the law contemplated the sale of lands to individuals not to exceed 160 acres to each person and that individual applications where it was the purpose of securing a larger quantity of land for any individual or corporation must be rejected as a manifest violation of the law and a fraud upon the government. This interference came about in this way: In 1904 Holt and his associates made application for a quantity of land. The applications were received and favorably acted upon and the land selected and nothing remained to be done but to deliver the deeds upon the payment of the agreed price. This contract was made under the Otero administration. Early in 1906 Mr. Holt went to Santa Fe with the money for the land and asked for the deeds. It happened that at that time there was in Santa Fe a special officer of the interior department. Mr. Keen went to him and talked over the Holt transaction and the officer expressed the opinion that the transaction was a violation of the law and advised Mr. Keen not to deliver the deeds. Mr. Keen informed Mr. Holt that he could not complete the transaction. Mr. Holt was quite indignant, declaring that the transaction was a complete one and Mr. Keen was merely called upon to perform a ministerial act. Mr. Holt then appealed to Governor Hagerman and perhaps because he did not specially interest the Governor that individual concurred with the decision of Mr. Keen and Mr. Holt very much to his annoyance was obliged to go without the deeds.

Afterwards a special agent of the interior department was sent out to investigate and he made an elaborate report of the Holt transaction and decided that it was a gross violation of the law and recommended that it be not carried out. This report was made in March, 1906, and was transmitted by the Secretary of the Interior to Congress where the report was printed. The following month the same special agent made a report on the Pennsylvania Development Company transaction and came to the same conclusion and advised Mr. Keen not to deliver the deeds relating to it. This report was also transmitted to Congress. Governor Hagerman was well aware of the acts of this special agent and his reports and knew that the Interior Department looked upon the transaction as violation of the law. However, in an interview in a Roswell paper after the meeting of the last legislature he appeared to give the information that he had delivered the deeds to Mr. Hopewell only after he had been instructed to do so by the President and Secretary of the Interior. It is not difficult to understand the indignation felt by both President Roosevelt and Secretary Garfield when they read that interview and the extreme difficulty experienced by Governor Hagerman in his attempts to explain.

Fortified by this additional reason for refusing to comply with Mr. Hopewell's request to deliver the deeds on the payment of the notes, Mr. Keen could not be moved from the position he had taken.

Mr. Hopewell then appealed to Governor Hagerman. The Governor decided that the deeds should be delivered and made attempts to persuade Mr. Keen to deliver them on the payment of the notes. This Mr. Keen declined to do. So anxious was the Governor to accommodate Mr. Hopewell that during Mr. Keen's absence on business connected with the office, he sent to Mr. Keen's office and asked for the deeds and Mr. Keen's clerk delivered them to him under protest. He then found that twenty-three of the deeds lacked seals. He then sent to Mr. Keen's office, got the seal of the old land board (which was no longer in existence) and affixed the seal to the documents himself, Mr. Keen's clerk refusing to do so because he was not authorized to use the seal, and deliver the thirty-five deeds to Mr. Hopewell upon Mr. Hopewell paying the amount of the notes.

It will be seen from the above that the transaction was very far from being completed; in fact application had been made for only about one-half of the lands which the company had agreed to buy; in addition to that it is asserted that the company had also violated their agreement by entering upon some of the land and cutting timber.

There can be no question that Governor Hagerman did absolutely wrong in going into a man's office in his absence and undertaking to transact business which the law placed exclusively in that man's hands, especially when he knew that that man had declined to transact that business on the ground that he could not legally deliver the deeds simply on the payment of the notes.

There can be no question that Governor Hagerman did absolutely wrong in taking a seal which was under the law exclusively in Mr. Keen's possession and using the same as though he belonged to the land board and had a right to use the seal when he knew that the only person authorized by law to use that seal was Mr. Keen and Mr. Keen had declined to deliver the deeds and in consequence had declined to use the seal to make the deeds ready for delivery.

These conclusions would be true even if the transaction was completed as it is said; the consequences of the acts are of course more disastrous to the Territory because if the deeds are allowed to stand, the company will have taken the good land at $3 an acre and left the Territory with an equal amount of land not worth anything.

Governor Hagerman's friends say that even if the acts complained of were a little irregular, he obtained no personal benefit from the transaction and thought he was acting in the best interests of the people of the Territory and under the advice of his attorney general.

Mr. Hadden, one of his admirers, tells a Pittsburg paper that Governor Hagerman knew that the transaction was fraudulent and he did not want to complete it, but was compelled to do so against his will on account of the advice of the attorney general.

Governor Hagerman in his reply to the report of the legislative investigating committee said that he did it because he felt it to be his Christian duty to relieve the painful indecision of Mr. Keen. It is possible that it is because President Roosevelt has punished him for doing his "Christian duty" that the clergymen of the Territory and many good people are appealing for a mitigation of the punishment.

The papers said that on the Governor leaving the White House after the first explanation, he remarked that this transaction was a legacy from the Otero administration and that he was in no way responsible. As he has always contended that the Otero administration was tainted with fraud, does it not seem that he would have looked upon any legacy with decided suspicion and would not have carried out any contracts of that administration unless he had been forced to by a more puissant authority than an attorney general.

Summary of Dry Farming.

The bulletin recently published by the Agricultural Experiment Station of New Mexico, written by Prof. J. J. Vernon, contains the following valuable summary:

1 The term "Dry Farming" is a misnomer, but its meaning is now well understood and its use is now almost universal.

2 "Dry Farming" practices include the following:

a. Deep plowing before the rainy season sets in, in order to provide in the soil a capacious water storage reservoir and an ample space for root development.

b. Light, deep even seeding or planting in a well prepared moist soil.

c. Frequent, thorough, level cultivation before as well as after sowing or planting.

d. The use of seed bred and selected for the conditions prevailing.

e. The use of machinery of large capacity.

f. The adoption of methods for the concentration of crops.

3 Fall seeding of cereals is preferable to spring seeding wherever the conditions will permit for the following reasons:

a. The work is distributed over a long period.

b. The root system of the crop becomes well developed so that spring growth is more rapid.

c. The growth above the surface of the ground, though sometimes small, serves a valuable purpose by modifying the windsweep at a time when its effects are most marked, thus preventing, in a measure at least, the blowing of the soil from around the roots of the plants, and at the same time, holding the snow fall upon the ground until it melts.

d. The crop covers the ground earlier in the spring, thus reducing the loss of moisture through surface evaporation.

e. The crop usually ripens earlier, a feature that is important for two reasons: First, the work of preparing the ground for the next crop can be begun earlier, and second, the crop may escape frost more frequently in sections having short seasons.

4. It is important to retain the snow upon the land, especially in sections where it forms a large part of the total precipitation. The snow fall may be retained in several ways: First, by leaving the ground rough when the plowing is done late in the fall; second, by throwing up borders across the field at right angles with the prevailing winds as winter approaches; and, third, by planting hedge rows or shrubbery across the fields at short intervals. The last named method is preferable wherever possible.

5. Usually less seed should be planted per acre under dry farming conditions than is used in humid sections. The less the precipitation the smaller should be the amount of seed planted.

6. The yields in dry farming belts may be and sometimes are very large, but it is not best to expect as large yields in dry farming belts as are secured in humid sections, unless the cultural methods are very much superior.

On Saturday night quite a number gathered at Grandpa Hensleys to help celebrate his birthday. All report a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schmidt, the first of the week, moved into their new house they have just had built, south of the school house.

M. R. Russell, of the firm of Brantley, Russell & Co., drove over from his home at Blacktown Tuesday on a brief business trip to Portales.

H. J. Light, of Waurika, Oklahoma, and I. H. Edmonson, of Hastings, Oklahoma, arrived the first of the week to look after property interests here.

Mrs. Mary McCollister is having a very neat four or five room house built south of Mr. Cox's new house. The house is almost ready for occupancy.

M. O'Connell, a brother of Ed O'Connell, arrived Sunday from Mangum, Oklahoma, and is looking at the country with a view of locating here.

P. M. Rigdon, the eye specialist, will be at Pearce & Dobbs' drug store, Saturday, May 18, one day only. Those needing glasses correctly fitted will do well to call on him on that date. His work gives satisfaction.

Ira Smith, editor of the Lackney Beacon, and Barlow Hill arrived at Portales Sunday, coming across by team, a distance of about 150 miles. They have been looking at the country with a view of securing claims.

CONTEST NOTICE.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Roswell, N. M., March 11, 1907.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Maggie Hood, contestant, against homestead entry No. 8713, made August 16, 1906, for southwest quarter of section 22, township 5 south, range 35 east, by Charles C. Hood, contestee, in which it is alleged that said Charles C. Hood has wholly abandoned said tract, that he has changed his residence therefrom for more than six months since making said entry and next prior to the date of said affidavit; that said tract is not settled upon and cultivated by said party as required by law; that his said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the navy or marine corps of the United States in time of war; said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m., on June 3, 1907, before W. G. J. Gregg was appointed deputy clerk of the court to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. A. Fairly. The appointment was made by Judge Pope here last Saturday. Mr. Gregg has many friends, and while the office is not a very lucrative one, we are glad he has secured the place.

Through misunderstanding and lack of acquaintance on the part of the editor we made quite a mistake in an item last week. The result rather embarrassing to our genial telephone manager, G. E. Anyway Mr. Williams is all right and knows how to manage a telephone and is very accommodating to the patrons.
