

"Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." That this teaches "separation of church and state" is only a half-truth. It is clearly enforced upon us our obligations to the state which is needed lesson today.—GARY L. SMITH.

WTCC PAINTS GREAT PICTURE OF WEST TEXAS GROWTH IN ASKING STEP-UP OF RATIONING QUOTAS

Rationing quotas as a step in all-out war effort are desirable and necessary; but, as to West Texas, quota setting should take into account the region's tremendous population and business growth in the past year.

So contends the West Texas chamber of commerce in a comprehensive brief prepared for submission to the federal and state governments—and now on the way—as the statistically proven picture of West Texas growth and development in the period between November 1940 and 1941. It is understood that this is the period base selected by rationing authorities on which to allot food and other quotas in 1942.

The WTCC brief closes with the assertion: "It is our concluding and definite opinion that, in order to fairly quota and ration West Texas, at least 20 percent should be added to the 1940 figures for the entire territory, and that even a greater percentage should be added in many of our defense project centers."

Support of the WTCC's position on the part of its affiliates is asked in a news letter signed by J. Thos. Davis, president, and D. A. Barden, manager of the regional chamber. Copies of the brief have been sent to Gov. Coke Stevenson and to the entire West Texas delegation in the U. S. congress, who were asked to send a committee to see Donald Nelson, chief of the priorities allocation division of the office of production management, in support of the West Texas plea.

Supporting activity by WTCC affiliates was listed for competition in the organization's inter-community defense and preservation contest, in which 103 West Texas towns have made entry. This year-long competition will close next November, at the WTCC's Waco convention, with award of $500 in cash prizes.

The West Texas brief is the summation of a survey conducted by D. A. Barden. Among the sources used were the WTCC's own progressively maintained files; U. S. bureau of census reports; the bureau of business research of the University of Texas; and reports from principal West Texas cities procured in a telegraphic campaign. As set forth in the brief, the following increases were revealed between November, 1940, and November, 1941, for (1) Texas as a whole, and (2) for West Texas:

Percentage Increase
Texas W. T.
Employment	16 19
Payroll change	32
Postal receipts	6.6 18
Building permits	4.6 300
Defense Bonds, purchases	47 280
Rail sales, independent stores	7 16
Oil production	14 26
Agricultural income	30 42

The brief also asserted that, in utility meter installation, West Texas increased 5 1/2 to 11 percent against the long-time, all-state normal increase of 2.5 percent.

As to cotton production, it was asserted that the government ginning report for December 13 showed West Texas as having produced 57 percent of the entire Texas crop, exceeding 1940 production on the same date while the balance of Texas lost in production.

As to population, the West Texas 50-year increase was shown at 485 percent against 210 percent for the balance of the state and 144 percent for the United States. The brief asserts that to the permanent and normal population increases should be added the new influx resulting from locations in West Texas of fifteen defense projects and camps with personnel of 125,000 to 150,000 persons—not counting wives and children. It is argued that this added population greatly increases restaurant and all retail business in the area, and should be taken in consideration in quota fixing.

FIRST LADY WEARS FIRST CAMPAIGN PIN

Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt wears the first Infantile Paralysis Campaign Pin in the 1942 drive for funds. Campaign opens January 12 and will close on January 30. The President's sixtieth birthday has been officially declared the President's Diamond Jubilee Birthday Celebration, and the funds raised will be turned over by the Committee for the Celebration to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Half of the money raised from the sale of the pins and other campaign activities will be used by the National Foundation for scientific research, education and for epidemic aid. The other half will be turned over to the Foundation's chapters in the various communities to administer direct aid to victims.

COUNTY P.T.A. IN SPLENDID SESSION HERE

The Eastland County Parent-Teacher association met at the high school building in Cisco Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with the Grammar and West ward P-T.A.'s as hosts. Eleven schools were represented. Mrs. Josie K. Nix, president, of Morton Valley, was in charge of the meeting. After the roll call, the minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Nancy McCrea presented the following program: Reading, Betty Rowe Wilcox; piano selection, Nancy Cluck; "Me and My Pa," a reading by Jay Walton Warren; a play, "Dark Town Garden Party," directed by Mrs. James Moore, was the closing program number. Taking part were Sam Goad, Bobbye Jean Tullos, Patsy Lois McCrea, Harvey Haynie and Bobbie Joe McNeely.

At the close of the program, the visitors were invited into the home economics room, where they were greeted by Mrs. E. L. Jackson and Mrs. R. L. Shaw. Miss Elsie Pulley, home economics teacher, was in charge.

CISCO SECURES $1,316.54 FOR THE RED CROSS

"Cisco has gone over the top in its second Red Cross roll call," said Edward Lee, city chairman.

The total amount now in the hands of James McCracken, treasurer, is $1,316.54. The quota was $1,250.

In this connection a letter received from G. A. Mabry of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., at Houston, will be of interest to Cisco people. Here it is:

January 5, 1942.
Mr. J. C. Hanrahan,
Cisco, Texas.

Dear Mr. Hanrahan: Attached is the Humble Oil & Refining company's check in amount of $100 which I would like you to present to the Cisco chapter, American Red Cross.

For your information, the Humble Oil & Refining company desired to make a substantial gift to the Red Cross in this emergency and felt it should allocate at least a part of the donation to the various Red Cross chapters located in communities where it carries on operations. This explains the rather liberal gift at Cisco and I hope you will be able to explain it to the Red Cross people there so that they do not get the idea it is the measurement of donations the company might make in the future.

Yours very truly,
G. A. MABRY.

Mrs. George P. Fee, director of the drive, wishes to extend sincere thanks to all contributors and also to the Cisco women who canvassed the city.

Here is a partial list of the workers: Mrs. W. C. Hogue, Mrs. Sutton Crofts, Mrs. Charles Sandler, Mrs. J. C. McAfee, Mrs. Alex. Spears, Mrs. Sam Kimmell, Mrs. I. J. Henson, Mrs. L. S. LEACH SELLS HIS FOUR STORES TO MOTT & CO. WHO OPERATE IN LUFKIN, DALLAS AND FT. WORTH

It was announced Saturday that W. J. Leach, owner and operator of the Leach stores, composed of the Leach Store, Economy Store and warehouse in Cisco, and the Leach Stores in Olney and Lampasas, had sold these stores to the E. B. Mott company, with headquarters in Lufkin and Dallas. The purchasers have had an option on the properties for some time, and took up the option on January 8, retroactive to January 1, 1942.

The personnel of the Mott company are old friends of Mr. Leach, some of the men are former holders in the Perry Bros. chain and were the same parties from whom Mr. Leach purchased the Economy store several years ago when this Texas chain of stores decided to retire from Cisco.

All of the new owners are young men, Mr. Leach states, and he is sure they will give Cisco stores second to none in service and operation. They operate suburban stores in Dallas and Fort Worth. Members of the group who handled the deal with Mr. Leach at the Laguna Thursday of this week were Roy Spears, chairman of the board; James Warren, secretary-treasurer, and James Peavley, legal advisor. Mr. Leach says he never dealt with a finer group of men.

W. J. LEACH.

Mr. Leach is gratified that he was able to arrange for the retention of all key employees of the stores, with as good or better position, and these persons will retain their seniority with the new ownership had not been disturbed.

Z. L. Blackburn will be retained in Cisco as district superintendent for the four-store group and manager of local Leach stores, with Mrs. Gregg Simpson as office supervisor. Mrs. Alton Roan will remain as manager of the Olney store, and Ronald Rhodes will go as manager of the Lampasas store.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach came to Cisco from Mart, Texas, in 1927, purchasing the Crest-Over store. Later he purchased the Olney and Lampasas stores, and the Economy store in Cisco, which was then Perry Bros. He established his warehouse at 108 Eighth street, Cisco, from which these stores are supplied.

Both have taken active interest in civic, church and social activities. Mr. and Mrs. Leach are members of the First Methodist church; he was chairman of the Lions club, on the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, and served on the city commission. Mrs. Leach has been equally as active in her sphere of usefulness.

They have one son, Jackie Leach, who is now in his senior year, one fact that will tie them to Cisco since they would not care to disturb his high school career.

"I am not sure just what I will do in a business way, if anything at present," said Mr. Leach. "For the present we expect to remain in Cisco and that is as far as we see. We like the city, the climate and the people, so why should we move?" Mr. Leach continued.

WOMEN URGED TO REGARD 40 AND EAT LESS, AS HAPPY AGE AUTHOR WARNS

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Dr. Helen D. Bull of the New York State College of Home Economics believes the age of 40 should bring many valuable assets to women "if they will realize the possibilities open to make life profitable and happy."

Many more women today reach this period of good judgment, wide experience, and maturity of outlook than ever before, and should learn to enjoy the increasingly leisurely.

Dr. Bull advises a diet of fruits, vegetables, milk, meat and eggs with a reduced amount of breads, cakes, cereals, candy and sugars. Less sleep is needed, so one should plan for wakeful periods and plan to adjust habits to keep a balance between rest and work. "To stop when one is tired is the best way to save energy," the home economist says.

"Since elasticity of bone, tissue, and ligaments gradually decrease from childhood on, and the body becomes increasingly rigid, activity must be adjusted to it. Violent exercise, such as active sports and work that includes the lifting of heavy loads should be left behind," asserts Dr. Bull.

"On the other hand," she continues, "the body should be kept supple and in good condition by such exercises as gardening or general housework."

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Less sugar and more vitamins, less liquor and more milk, less bridge playing and more work for the community.

"That's how Americans can tighten their belts for 'the duration,'" according to David Cushman Coyle, Washington, D. C., engineer and author.

In the January issue of the National Parent - Teachers, official magazine of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Coyle writes:

"It is time for all free peoples to get over being soft in the head and one of the best preventions of softness is to sacrifice luxuries."

Coyle suggests for all Americans:

1. Eating and living habits focussed on health rather than on laziness and carelessness. We must learn how to eat, an incidental gain that may well outweigh all the war may cost us in other directions.

2. Economy in the use of metals. Americans are prone to use and waste metals on a large scale; now they must get along with what they have, even though it may be less efficient or less stylish than what they can afford to buy.

3. The serious danger of inflation must be met by both government and people who have money to spend. Every time someone decides to forego the purchase of an article that is rising in price, he or she can help hold the price down so that others are not squeezed.

THE WAR

SAN FRANCISCO—CBS today heard the Tokyo radio say that Kuala Lumpur, capital of the Federated Malay states, is now in Japanese hands. The broadcast added that it was indicated British forces had abandoned Kuala Lumpur defense lines; thus permitting "peaceful entry" of Jap forces into this key communications rubber city.

RANGOON—American-British fliers, renewing their attacks on the Thailand border, today boosted to 18 their total of Jap fighter planes known to have been destroyed in raids on enemy airbases.

CHUNGKING—Chinese airmen shot down seven Jap planes and damaged four others in a dogfight over the Changsha front, a Chinese war communiqué said today.

LONDON—Russian troops advancing in "successive waves" have broken through the German "wall of blood" at several points on the Eastern front, according to an official German radio broadcast heard by the United Press today.

KUIBYSHEV—Reports tonight asserted the Russian air force, striking at the German rear lines to prevent movement of reinforcements to the Central front, had smashed as many as 85 troop-laden enemy trains and 32 railroad stations, halting traffic on several main lines in the Baltic and western Russian sectors.

SINGAPORE—British defenders of Malaya fell back again before furious Japanese pressure on the Kuala Lumpur front today, and dispatches said it is questionable how long military headquarters could be maintained in this fighting zone 200 miles north of Singapore.

WTCC FIGHTS R. R. RATE-RAISE EFFORT

ABILENE, Jan. 9.—Intervention by the West Texas chamber of commerce in an Interstate Commerce commission hearing under way in St. Louis, Mo., in opposition to a petition by all Class 1 railroads for a 10 per cent blanket rate increase throughout the country, did not stop there.

Week-end announcement by the regional chamber said its traffic counselor, Ed P. Byars of Fort Worth, testifying in the St. Louis hearing, put into the record the WTCC's vehement opposition to any increase, blanket or otherwise, in rates on movements of agricultural products and livestock.

In this angle of the national case Byars was joined by witnesses from other states; and a strong, united front was organized early in the hearing, while the railroad's case was being heard.

The West Texas chamber and its affiliated Freight Rate Equality federation are not opposing a grant of additional revenues to the rail carriers for meeting their mounting operating expenses due to authorized wage increases. Opposition is to the formula of blanket increase in rates, by which, according to WTCC-FREEF contention, the present 60 per cent level of rates against Texas would be made even more discriminatory and would result in nullifying the Transportation Act of 1940. Avoiced objective of the act was to achieve equality in the nation's freight rate structure as between the various defined zones east, west, north, south—and southwest. Texas is in the last-named zone.

The ICC hearing opened last Monday and continued all week, with oral argument announced for Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 12 and 13.

There's one consolation. The commonest foods, if cooked right, taste a lot better than the fancy ones.

23 MEN INSPECT TIRES

The Eastland County Tire Rationing Board—Jack Frost, Eastland; E. A. Ringold, Ranger; O. J. Russell, Cisco—have organized with Mr. Frost as chairman and Mr. Russell as secretary.

The board will meet Tuesday afternoon and Friday afternoon of each week, on the second floor of the courthouse. Hours: 2 until 5 o'clock.

During the interim those desiring special information may contact either of the board members at their places of business in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger.

Secretary Russell says the board has already passed on some applications for tires, but that owing to lack of certain official form blanks, no permits had been issued early Saturday.

Mayor G. P. Mitcham has named twenty-three Cisco men as tire inspectors for this area. Local folk desiring tires are requested to call on any of these individuals for the blank forms that must be filled out in each and every case. The inspector will forward the application for tires to the county board.

48 GOVERNORS ENLIST IN PARALYSIS FIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Governors of the 48 United States have pledged their full support to the 1942 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign and urged millions of Americans to express their solidarity and faith in the wartime leadership of President Roosevelt by celebrating the President's Diamond Jubilee birthday on January 30.

In messages to Keith Morgan, national chairman of the committee for the celebration of the President's Birthday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the governors sounded a keynote of national unity in the face of national emergency.

Commenting on this solidarity, Mr. Morgan said:

"All divisions of opinion have vanished in the light of our one and only objective, Victory.

"In these momentous days we all want to support the President in the terrific effort which lies ahead.

"Let us give him something besides our dimes and dollars. Let us give him our hearts. Let us show him through our contributions, which are our participation in his Diamond Jubilee Birthday Celebration that we stand solidly in our welfare against the disease of viciousness abroad and the disease Infantile Paralysis at home."

Dr. F. E. Clark was elected president of the group, with Dr. Charles Hale as secretary. They will meet again at the call of the chairman.

Names of Cisco physicians are F. E. Clark, E. L. Graham, W. P. Lee, G. M. Stephenson, Charles Hale, D. Ball, Pearl B. Waddell and J. E. Griffin, all of whom were present at the meeting except Dr. Griffin.

DALLAS, Jan. 10.—A. F. Anding, East Texas oil man, will have until January 31 to turn over to the government $80,000 in a compromise settlement of an income tax case. Federal District Judge T. Whit Davidson extended the time Friday after the court was informed that Anding has disposed of sufficient holdings to cover the payment, but that the purchasers have not completed examination of title.

BILL EXCLUDES WAGES FROM CONTROL FIELD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The United States senate today passed a price control bill authorizing the fixing of ceilings on commodity prices by the price administrator, but placed numerous restrictions on his power over farm prices.

The vote was 83 to 1, with only Senator Gerald Nye, North Dakota Republican, voting nay.

Bill excludes wages from the field of control, but permits the fixing of rents in all defense areas.

It also permits the administrator to buy, store, use or sell commodities -- with the exception of strategic war material -- in order to prevent price increases inconsistent with the objective of the bill.

HEALTH BOARD ORGANIZED AS HEALTH NEED

A revival of the city ordinance passed December 8, 1924, calling for a city health board, was invoked by Mayor G. P. Mitcham Friday night, when he called the physicians of the city together to organize in order to make a strong defense group to give closer supervision of the health of the city, in compliance with state and national suggestions.

The ordinance has been neglected, said Mayor Mitcham, and only one city health officer has been mindful of the public health. Dr. W. P. Lee is the present appointee.

Dr. F. E. Clark was elected president of the group, with Dr. Charles Hale as secretary. They will meet again at the call of the chairman.

AMERICANIZED WORLD.

"Until every nation is prosperous, no nation is prosperous," says Henry Ford in an interview. It isn't literally true, but the tendency is that way.

So he wants to extend the American system to Europe, giving every country political and economic freedom and "the same chance our 48 states have," with access to raw materials and ability to choose their own lines of development.

"If Europe adopted the American system," he declares, "no country would have to give up self-government. All that is needed is that, like our states, the countries of Europe begin to pull together. We can help the world to get on its feet again if it settles down."

So we find in this industrial genius the same spirit that he showed in the last war, when he chartered his "peace ship" and went over to persuade the warring nations to lay down their arms and work together.

He found then that none of the warring countries wanted his help, and he came back sad and perplexed, with nothing accomplished. It isn't likely that he will repeat that effort. But his words will carry across the sea and interest people in many countries.

It seems an awfully big job, though, to persuade the nations even after this war to share their resources and give each other a square deal all round. That may be the way of salvation, but nations often seem to prefer destruction—in the name of patriotism.

STANDING THE GAFF.

Many centuries ago Hannibal the Carthaginian destroyed a great Roman army and approached so near to Rome itself that his camp fires could be plainly seen from the city walls. Yet in the land sales of the market-place, the site of his camp was bought and sold more than once. So great was Roman staunchness in defeat.

This bravery against the enemy knew no politics. The Roman senate was politically opposed to Varro, the beaten general. When he lost his army in an overwhelming defeat at Cannae, the senate did not try for factional advantage out of the nation's misfortune. Instead it formally thanked the luckless Varro (perhaps on the only ground on which he deserved thanks) because he "had not despaired of the republic."

This patriotism won through. So will it for us if we prove as steadfast as the ancient Romans.

HEALTH GAINS.

One city lists among health gains for the year 1941 that diphtheria, pneumonia, scarlet fever and typhoid fell below their normal expectancy. This is good to contemplate, but might be accidental. More important is the fact that more cases of tuberculosis were discovered in their early stages than ever before. That means better chance of recovery, shorter time required for it and less expense, public and private, for sanitarium care.

The maternal mortality rate goes down, slightly but steadily. Once it was somewhere around ten percent. Now, in that city, it's about 2.6 percent, with every effort being made to lower it still further.

Eastland, Texas, Jan. 9, 1942. Cisco Daily News, Cisco, Texas.

Dear Sirs: On January 7, 1942, Frank Scofield, state administrator for the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps, notified me that the minimum allotment for the citizens of Eastland county to purchase of Defense Bonds and Savings Stamps for the year 1942 is $1,322,600.

The official census for 1940 shows Eastland county to have a population of 30,345. This means that every man, woman and child in Eastland county will have to buy $40 worth of Bonds and Stamps to meet the minimum quota allotted to us. Of course, many will not be able to buy such an amount and this means that those who are more able will have to buy large amounts if Eastland county secures her quota.

In the last World War Eastland county over-subscribed every allotted quota. I feel sure citizens of this county will not be content to do less this time.

So let each and every one of us begin today to do our part in the purchase of these Bonds and Stamps. As county chairman I will appreciate it if you will carry this letter in your valuable paper.

Very kindly yours, CYRUS B. FROST, Chairman Eastland County Defense Savings Committee.

SCHOOL READER WITH LINDBERGH CHAPTER OKED

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—Suggested revision of a reader for use of sixth grade pupils in Texas public schools because the reader carried the story of Charles A. Lindbergh's early life and trans-Atlantic flight has caused a flurry in the state board of education.

Revisions were discussed by the board at its January meeting after reporters and others had been excluded from the session. It was ascertained, however, that the board's committee on revisions had given an OK to the chapter.

The chapter on Lindbergh is entitled "The Lone Eagle." It is adapted from accounts of the flight by Irving Crump. It tells of Lindbergh's early life how he rode a motorcycle to San Antonio to enter the army's flying school there; his subsequent air pilot career; and the flight to Paris. It stops there. There is no reference to his later disagreement with the policies of the national administration.

President Max T. Junker of the board declined to make public any information about the board's discussion, other than an announcement that all revisions were put off until the February meeting, when a full attendance of board members is expected.

One of the defenders of the Lindbergh chapter is Board Member Mace Stewart of Galveston, who was the first student of the University of Texas to enlist when the United States and Germany went to war in 1917. He commanded a flying unit on the Belgian front.

Former Board President Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls raised the question of whether the book should be revised. The vote for its adoption as a school text was five to four with Oneal one of the five voting for it. He said he suggested that the board consider revision because he had voted for the book and had learned that another book classing Lindbergh as a national hero had been excluded two years ago by the board. Reported quotations from letters said to have been exchanged by board members are the only information available so long as the board keeps to its policy of secret sessions.

Differences in the board are healthy, Oneal said, in turning over its presidency. Oneal thanked members for their services while he was president. "We haven't always been unanimous, but I believe we have been harmonious," he said. "If the board ever becomes unanimous somebody ought to start an investigation."

Oneal remains a member of the board although he no longer is its president. Members are appointed for six years and the board elects its president annually from among members. Both Oneal and the new president, Junker, were appointed by Former Gov. James

Lovely Shower Honors Mrs. W. D. Isenhower

Mrs. Bruce Younger, Misses Lucille Clark, Noma King and Inka Sherman were hostesses at a shower given Thursday evening in the King home, complimenting Mrs. Weldon Isenhower, a recent bride. A pink-and-green color scheme was carried out in all decorations and appointments. Miss Inka Sherman presided at the bride's book. The dining table held a centerpiece of pink pampas grass in a large crystal bowl. Tall pink tapers in crystal holders graced each table end.

Miss King greeted the guests informally as they arrived and after registering they were served coffee and a refreshment plate of pink-and-green open-face sandwiches, mints of pink and green colors and salted pecans. Plate favors were tiny green cellophane bags of rice. The group played a number of interesting games which were concluded with one in which the guests were told to follow the pink yarn string. Mrs. Weldon Isenhower was the lucky guest and found an array of pretty and useful gifts, which were opened for inspection.

The invited guest list included Mrs. Weldon Isenhower, Mrs. Frank Allyn, Mrs. Wm Isenhower, Misses Geneva and Dorothy Isenhower, Mrs. Modena Dulin, Mrs. W. R. New Classes Are Planned For RC Workers

Request is made by Mrs. W. W. Wallace, co-chairman of Red Cross work in Eastland county, that all sweaters in the making be finished by January 20.

New knitting classes are to be formed of school children and students of Cisco Junior college, for which there is a demand for teachers two or three mornings each week. A suitable schedule will be worked out. The school children will make Afghan squares and wash rags. Any one wishing to do so may make donations of thread or knitting needles, as there are children who would like to help who cannot purchase materials. Any donation will be gratefully received. Volunteer teachers who can find time to take a class will please call Mrs. H. R. Miller, telephone 665, or Mrs. W. W. Wallace at 435. The children are anxious to learn.

In response to the request for night knitting classes for business women and teachers, next Monday evening has been designated as the time to begin. Anyone wishing to learn may come to the Red Cross room at 7 o'clock and enroll in the class. The teachers will be on hand and two hours will be given to the work.

Besides making sweaters and socks for the soldiers, another phase of Red Cross work is the war relief work, which consists of making quilts and garments to be used in government hospitals or wherever needed at home. Many women are helping in this worthy task.

Mrs. Wallace further stated that shipment has been made of yarns for sweaters and other garments for the navy, and is expected to arrive at once.

MERGING OF SCHOOLS IS CALLED OFF

SHERMAN, Jan. 10.—Plans for the long proposed merger of Trinity University at Waxahachie and Austin College at Sherman were in the discard Saturday due to difficulties arising from the war. Dr. E. B. Tucker, president of Austin College, announced that the Northern and Southern Presbyterian synods decided to discontinue plans for a merger after representatives of the two denominations held an all-day session and voted abandonment of further action.

A. AND M. TO HAVE ALL-YEAR MILITARY WORK

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 10.—Climaxing a two-year program of all-out cooperation with the federal government in National Defense efforts, the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college today launched a far-reaching, streamlined, war-time program of mass defense education. The new program will serve a two-fold purpose, its founders believe, in producing both college graduates and commissioned officers at a rate more greatly accelerated than ever before attempted.

F. M. Law, of Houston, president of the board of directors, announced the program at the conclusion of a directors' meeting to consider recommendations of President T. O. Walton and the faculty academic council. Recommendations of President Walton and the A. and M. faculty were approved and the board authorized early completion of the present semester to put the plan in effect at once. Final examinations will be cancelled this term.

Beginning January 26, the college will enter upon the program of year-round classwork and military instruction. Three semesters of 16 weeks duration, with one week of recess between semesters and an extra week for Christmas holidays, will be the new year-round schedule at Texas A. and M. college. It was pointed out that the new plan will enable freshmen to complete the entire four-year course in two years and eight months of study, with no time out for the usual three-month summer vacation period.

At the same time it was announced that a special effort will be made to enroll the largest freshman class on next June 1 in the history of this 65-year-old land grant institution of higher learning. The record-breaking freshman class of September 1941 numbered 2533.

School officials pointed out that Texas high schools will graduate approximately 25,000 boys on or before June 1, 1942. The average age of boy graduates of Texas high schools is 17 years and three months. The new program at Texas A. & M. College will enable these boys to enter college on June 1, 1942 and by attending eight consecutive semesters, to graduate during the month of January, 1945, several months prior to their 20th birthday, the age at which all boys become eligible for a selective service military training. "To carry out the plan," says Dr.

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS BE PUT TO WORK

AUSTIN, Jan. 10.—Local draft boards over the state Saturday observed a new rule by making no distinction between men over and under 28 years of age in the classification process. State Selective Service Director J. Watt Page Friday said the old class I-H, deferring men over 28, had been abolished and that local boards had been instructed to reclassify such registrants immediately. Registrants in class IV-E-H, who are conscientious objectors to combatant and non-combatant service but were deferred by reason of age, also will be eligible for orders to report for work of national importance.

HELP FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Cisco fire department, says W. W. Sledge, is still anxious to secure all the waste paper possible. The government is sending out reminders weekly to save all paper—that extra care be taken from now on in that respect. Mr. Sledge suggests that paper be placed in sacks or boxes and at intervals telephone 538 and the department will pick it up at once. So far, the Cisco fire department has baled and shipped approximately 40,000 pounds of paper.

PRIVATE JOE PALOOKA SAYS-

HOGS STRONGER

The small Saturday supply of cattle and calves on the Fort Worth stock yards sold at prices about in line with Friday's market. Hogs were steady to 10c higher at a top of $11.60. The limited supply in the sheep yards found a steady outlet.

A load of choice 879-pound steer yearlings brought $11.75 and two loads of common steers cashed at $8.50. Very few other steers and yearlings were included in the week-end offering.

Good beef cows were scarce. Butcher offerings sold at $7.25 to $8 with canners and cutters at $5 to $7. Most of the bulls turned at $7 to $8.

Good and choice killing calves ranged from $10 to $11.50 with plain and medium lots at $7.75 to $9.75 and runnies at $7.50 down.

Not enough stockers were in the yards to test values but steady prices were indicated in the nominal trade.

The hog market was steady to 10c above Friday's levels with the week-end top $11.60. Most of the good and choice 180 to 280-pound butchers sold at $11.50 or $11.60 while good 150-pound averages sold down to $10.70. Packing sows brought $10 to $10.25 and pigs $9 down. Good butchers were 25c to 50c higher than a week earlier.

Receipts in the sheep yards were mostly shorn killing classes with PLENTY SUGAR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—An authorized increase of 20 cents a hundred pounds in the refined price of sugar should have no immediate effect on the retail price, in the opinion of Price Administrator Leon Henderson. He said wholesale prices were being adjusted proportionately, but expressed the belief that retailers could "be depended upon to delay any price increase until their present stocks on hand are exhausted."
