DEATH OF FRANK S. GAGE.

Frank Sumner Gage, whose critical illness from paralysis has been noted in the Ledger, died in this city Thursday morning, Dec. 27th. He was first stricken with the disease about a year ago while in San Antonio, Texas, and suffered three attacks, the last on the 24th inst. Mr. Gage was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Oramore W. Gage, of this city. He was born in Fairfield, October 9, 1856, and lived here until 1871, when he entered the service of the Rock Island Railroad Company as telegraph operator at Egerton, Mo. He was engaged in railroad work for nearly twenty-five years following that period, and held many responsible positions in Iowa, Missouri, Texas and others of the western states. Four years ago he began the study of medicine at Kirksville, Mo. and completed a two years course in osteopathy. He opened offices for the practice of his profession in Chicago, but was compelled to return to Texas, where he had lived for several years, because of ill health. Since that time he has suffered almost continuously from disease, and finally relinquished all business cares and came to the home of his parents in this city, where he passed away. He was married April 12, 1888 to Miss Mathilde E. Keller, of Chicago, who survives him. Mr. Gage was an active and energetic man when in good health, soon acquired proficiency in whatever he undertook, and while in the employ of various railway companies commanded the esteem of his superiors and the friendship of those who were associated with him. There are many of his old boyhood friends in this city who will sincerely mourn his untimely death as a most excellent and useful man. The remains were interred in this city Friday afternoon, Dec. 28th. Mr. Gage was a Knight Templar, and Gettemane Commander of this city had charge of the funeral. Rev. H. O. Spellman conducted the usual religious services.—The Fairfield (Iowa) Ledger.

OBITUARY.

Laura A. Lee was born in Bienville Parish Louisiana April 29, 1851, was converted to christianity and joined the Liberty Hill Missionary Baptist church in September 1870; was married to L. L. Johnson Texas 12, 1872, moved to Southern Texas 1874. Notwithstanding moving brought her to Callahan county in 1883. She united with the Missionary Baptist church at Clyde 1886 and remained in full fellowship with same. She was called to help hold the face of Christ Dec. 14, 1900. A husband and three sons survive her. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Groves, of Baired.

If we did not know that the burying of her body in weakness was a warrant of its being raised in power on the Judgment morning, we could not live with the strong hope of meeting her with God and the Father, Abraham Isaac and Jacob and to live eternally with Christ and be like him.

All should say "Lord, thy will be done." It can not be that this sweet life of ours so grand, and so beautiful, so full of mighty promises, is but the cloak of blind and senseless atoms, and at last dissolves in empty nothingness! It cannot be that this bright, crystal stream runs sparkling to the deep of endless death, when every waive that moors the winding banks of the summer ashes from whence it came. No, dear sister, we will meet to part no more! Your death has been a local rather than a moral change.

REV. RICHMOND.

VIGO SNAPS

We have had merry, pleasant weather this week.

There is some smallpox in the county but Vigo has missed them so far.

Mr. H. B. Burge has gone to Denison to see his sister, who is very sick.

I wonder who Oscar Eastman is, and why he does not visit Vigo any more. I fear he has been kidnaped.

I wonder if a certain young man has found his horse and if his buggy is fixed.

Mr. Surges and Jim Miller were in Vigo Saturday, branding some of their cattle which they left here. They took dinner at the railroad house.

Misses Bertina and Allie Wylie went to Baired Saturday and while returning some their horse got scared and came very near ditching them. It was an act in which they proved themselves, however.

Miss Fannie Surges, of Baired, has been visiting at Mr. Bonard's this week.

Mr. Ross, of Vigo, has made considerable improvement on his place in the past three weeks.

I wonder why Brother Hendrix does not come back to preach for us again.

Mr. Crook's bridge gang is at Vigo. They are improving the bridge between Baired and Putnam.

Our school is progressing nicely.

Mr. H. B. Burge has fine Plymouth Rock eggs for sale at $1 per setting.

Three couples of young people from this place attended church at Adair Sunday.

A CRY FOR HELP.

Result of a Prompt Reply.—Two Letters from Mrs. Watson, Published by Special Permission.—For Women's Eyes Only.

To MRS. PINKHAM, LEVY, MASS.

"DEAR MADAM:—I am suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb, and have been for eighteen months. I have a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I am only free from pain when lying down, or sitting in an easy chair. When I stand I suffer with severe pain in my side and back. I believe my troubles were caused by over work and lifting some years ago.

"Life is a drag to me, and I sometimes feel like giving up ever being a well woman, have become careless and unconcerned about everything. I am in bed now. I have had several doctors, but they did not but little good.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been recommended to me by a friend, and I have made up my mind to give it a fair trial.

"I write this letter with the hope of hearing from you in regard to my case."—Mrs. S. J. WATSON, Hampton, Va.

MRS. S. J. WATSON.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to acknowledge to you the benefit that your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"I had been suffering with female troubles for some time, could walk but a short distance, had terrible bearing down pain in lower part of my bowels, backache, and pain in ovary. I used your medicine for four months and was so much better that I could walk three times the distance that I could before.

"I am today in better health than I have been for more than two years, and I know it is all due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I recommend your advice and medicine to all women who suffer."

—Mrs. S. J. WATSON, Hampton, Va.

This is positive proof that Mrs. Pinkham is more competent to advise sick women than any other person. Write her. It costs you nothing.

REPRINT.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of New York, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission to do so. In F. B. ROBERTS, Advertising Agent.

Her Way
A Glasgow servant girl went home a few evenings ago with her head wrapped in a cloth.
"Her young mistress asked her what ailed her, and was told that she was suffering from a bad attack of tooth-ache, brought on by sitting in the park."
"But you ought not to sit on such a cold, chilly night as this," said the mistress.
The girl looked at her a minute, and at once answered:
"You cannot cook right tonight; you must sit down."

Doing His Best
He was a poor but honest workman, and had been in a Broadway car. As the car proceeded downtown it was filled with passengers, and soon the aisle was crowded, some standing on the straps. The laborer got up from his seat, touched his hat and motioned to a well-dressed lady to sit.
"Don't let me deprive you of your seat, my poor man," she said.
He touched his hat and again replied: "Oh, take it; that's all right. No depravity at all, woman, no depravity at all," and he wondered why everybody smiled.—Louisville Courier.

Many Rabbits
At the Commercial sale rooms, Mingling Lane, there was a large gathering of country dealers, provision merchants and caterers, brought together by the offering of a huge quantity of Victoria frozen rabbits, Messrs. Auning & Co. offering for sale by auction 25,575 ears, containing no fewer than 515,000 rabbits; but as the owners had fixed a reserve price of 1s. 6d. per pair of rabbits there were but few bidders, and the total sales amounted to only 151 cart loads at 1s. one line of 25 crates made 3d. 6d.—Pall Mall Gazette of London.

Boast With What He Thought
If the story told by Mrs. Isabella Wood of Philadelphia to Macartney Thornton, is true, her husband is probably the most ungrateful of men, according to the Times.

Malcolm, she said, was formerly in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad. It was while working on the railroad that he injured his arm, and he said that it had to be amputated. Mrs. Malcolm saved some money and purchased him an artificial one. After she did this act of charity, she says, he frequently beat her, and one day struck her with the arm she bought for him.

Was a Stroke That Always
Capt. W. E. Chappell, is dead at his home at Petersburg, Ind. Capt. Chappell was one of the most prominent Masons in the state and had filled several offices. He retired from the army in 1864 and all during his life refused a pension, although his record as a soldier was a brilliant one. One of the peculiarities of Capt. Chappell was that he never wore a hat, and in winter as well as summer he could always be seen wearing a big, bushy beard.

The captain was always a winter traveler.

To Make It Attractive
Women who are the delighted possessors of large, low-ceilinged dining rooms, old oak furniture and precious china are the envy of their less fortunate sisters. A parlor never appeals to a woman as a dining room does, and she is always conscious of some whimsy by which her dining room can be made more homelike.

As the dining room is frequently the place in which it should receive all possible care. If it is fairly large, a hardwood floor and a deep window seat, it may be made a thing of beauty.

Fundamental Law
The fundamental law of good breeding is or of out of society in the golden rule. It is the golden rule of the true nature of a man. Society demands many sacrifices. A man who is a joy to society, is often a sorrow to his home folks, a tyrant, a self-seeker.

If a man gives society—the courtesy of good breeding, his home life of bitterness—concerns society to no degree. Men and women too are accepted in society at their face value, in good manners and are besting. They should live up to what they claim to be.

Truest Test
The following might be tried with benefit:

In one of our western countries I saw a young woman who was still fond of wearing large hats in the theater. They have been invited to try Christian science to get the effect of the head, while in reality it is the effect of the way on the lap. It has not taken the ladies long to suggest that a cruel sort of reference would be what the people who sit behind them do. They play imagine they can see what is going on the stage and thereby be happy.

The father of the thought should be wedded to Mother Wit.

More of us would climb the ladder of success if a builder was as well situated at the bottom.

There ought to be a hall of fame for the people who attend to their own affairs.

No one is to be blamed the recipient of a bombardment of bouquets.

Couples who quarrel before marriage are the most unfortunate.

Heads need to be fed as well as bodies.

Mrs. Frances M. Anderson

MISS FRANCES M. ANDERSON, daughter of HON. JUDGE ANDERSON, of Virginia, is at present in Washington, D. C., as Corresponding Secretary of the Higher Educational League, of that city. Curd of the gripe by Peruna.

MISS FRANCES M. ANDERSON, Corresponding Secretary of the Higher Educational League, of Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "About two months ago I was taken very ill with the gripe and was obliged to go to bed. I took three bottles of Peruna with very beneficial results, and was able to leave my bed in a week and regained my usual vigorous very soon."

"I have nothing but praise for Peruna, and recommend it to those similarly afflicted whenever I can."—Frances M. Anderson.

The gripe is, strictly speaking, epidemic catarrh—that is to say, a variety of acute catarrh which is so contagious and runs a course more or less definite, the same as scarlet fever, whooping cough, etc.

During the acute stages of the gripe it is not a very fatal disease, but the condition in which it leaves the system has caused the death of a countless number.

Indeed nearly every person who has had the gripe within the last three years has himself more or less endangered by the periodic effects of this disease. The majority of those who have escaped death had life scarcely worth living.

If the vast multitude of people could only know with what certainty and promptness Peruna would relieve them of all the bad effects which the gripe has brought upon them, what an untold amount of suffering would be averted! Thousands have already heard that this remedy will cure in these cases and are besting. They should live up to what they claim to be.

I highly recommend Peruna to all my neighbors and friends. Peruna is my favorite medicine. I shall always have Peruna in the house."—Miss Caroline J. Kahl, Ottumwa, Ind., writes as follows:

"Three years I had the gripe and pulmonary trouble. I was very sick. I had hemorrhages of the lungs nearly every day for a year, and three bottles of Peruna cured me. The doctor said I had consumption. I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

I highly recommend Peruna to all my neighbors and friends. Peruna is my favorite medicine. I shall always have Peruna in the house."—Miss Caroline J. Kahl, Ottumwa, Ind., writes as follows:

"If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis."—Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O., U. S. A.

PEACEFUL PASSING

Of Queen Victoria to the Realm of the Departed

AFTER NEARLY SIXTY-FOUR YEARS

As the Head of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Empress of India.

Cover, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23.—Queen Victoria is dead and Edward VII reigns. The greatest event in the memory of this generation, the most stupendous change in existing conditions that could possibly be imagined has taken place quietly, almost gently upon the anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria's father, the Duke of Kent.

The end of this career, never equaled by any woman in the world's history, came in a simply furnished room in Osborne house. This one of the most magnificent of all women, living or dead, lay in a great four-posted bed and made a shrunken atom, whose feet and figure were a cruel mockery of the greatness which in 1837 began to rule over England.

Around her were gathered almost every descendant of her line. Well to do, the prince and princesses, and a portrait of the prince consort. It was he who designed the room, and every part of the castle. In scarcely a year the white and marble bishop of Winchester prayed beside her as he had often prayed with his sovereign, for he was her chaplain at Windsor.

The prince consort, the king consort, but not being able to him in the highest rank of 14, 1861, and his death was sincerely mourned by every one in the court and throughout the nation.

The queen could not create him king consort, but he was king in all intents and purposes. In April, 1876, an act of parliament authorized her to assume the title of empress of India. She was occasionally in later years has been present at the opening of the parliamentary session.

Princess Victoria Adelaide Maria Louisa, the queen's first child, was born on Nov. 21, 1841. This daughter married in 1858 Crown Prince Frederick of Prussia, shared with him the imperial crown of United Germany for a few months in 1888, and is the mother of the present emperor, William III.

Albert Edward, the Prince of Wales, was born in November, 1841, who was married to Princess Alexandra of England and empress of India. He married on March 19, 1863, the Princess Alexandra, eldest daughter of the King of Denmark. Seven other children were born to the queen as follows: Alice March Mary, born April 25, 1845, married July 1, 1862, to Louis IV, grand duke of Hesse and who died Dec. 14, 1871; Alfred Ernest Albert, duke of Edinburgh and Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, born Aug. 6, 1844, married to the Countess of the Grand Duchy of Russia; Helena Augusta Victoria, born May 25, 1846, and married July 9, 1862, to Prince Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein; Louise Caroline Alberta, born March 18, 1848, and married March 21, 1871, to John, marquis of Lorne; Arthur, duke of Connaught, born May 1, 1850, and married March 15, 1879, to the Princess Louise Margaret, daughter of the late Prince Frederick of Prussia; and the duke, duke of Albany, born April 7, 1852, and married April 27, 1872, to the Princess Helen, daughter of the late Prince George of Wales and who died March 28, 1881, and Beatrice Mary Victoria Fedora, who was born April 14, 1857, and married July 23, 1885, to Prince Henry Maurice of Battenberg.

The queen passed away quite peacefully. She suffered no pain. Those who were mourning went to their rooms. A few minutes later the inevitable element of materialism stepped into this pathetic chapter of international history, for the court ladies went busily to work ordering their mourning from London.

The wheels of the world were jarred when the announcement was made in this palace at Osborne everything pursued the usual course. Down in the kitchen they were cooking a huge dinner for an assembly, like of which has seldom been known in England.

London, Jan. 23.—The latest bulletin previous to the announcement of the queen's death, especially the message sent by the Prince of Wales, dispelled the last gleam of hope. The crowd's silent dispersal from in front of the palace, and the death of her bulletins was difficult by reason of the fact that excavations had been made in the course of the work of improving the streets.

Prince and Princess Louise of Battenberg arrived at Osborne just too late to see her majesty alive. London papers about its sole to the late queen.

Princess Louise of Battenberg, empress of India.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The announcement of the death of Queen Victoria, was recognized by the senate in the adoption of an appropriate resolution which was ordered to be printed and forwarded to the prime minister of Great Britain.

During sitting of senate in open session, the executive, legislative and judicial appropriation bill was completed so far as committee amendments were considered.

THE DEAD QUEEN.

A Brief Biography and Something of Her Children.

London, Jan. 23.—Alexandra Victoria, queen of Great Britain and empress of India, was born at Kensington palace May 24, 1819. She was the only child of Edward, duke of Kent, who was the fourth son of King George III. Her mother was Princess Victoria Mary Louisa of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. She was the thirty-seventh in descent from Robert, Augustus and first. Her father died Feb. 23, 1830. Neither George IV. nor his brothers, the duke of York and Clarence, had surviving legitimate issue, and she became the heir presumptive to the throne on the accession of her uncle, William IV, in 1830.

On the death of William without issue in June, 1837, the crown of England and Hanover, which had been worn by the same person since the coronation of George I. in 1714, were separated, the former devolving upon the Princess Victoria, and the latter by virtue of the Salic law falling to the duke of Cumberland, the late king's younger brother.

Queen Victoria was crowned at Westminster abbey June 27, 1837, with all the extravaganza ceremony and pageantry usually attending upon royal coronations. Feb. 10, 1840, she was married to her cousin, Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. This was a remarkable marriage, in that it was founded as purely upon affection as any union in the highest rank of life might have been.

Prince Albert died Dec. 14, 1861, and his death was sincerely mourned by every one in the court and throughout the nation.

The queen could not create him king consort, but he was king in all intents and purposes. In April, 1876, an act of parliament authorized her to assume the title of empress of India. She was occasionally in later years has been present at the opening of the parliamentary session.

IS ARRESTED AGAIN

Mrs. Nation and Other Women Smash Up Saloons

AND CAUSE MUCH EXCITEMENT.

Two Establishments are Most Vigorously Attacked and Nearly Two Thousand Dollars' Damage Done.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Carrie Nation came back to Wichita Monday after her recent incarceration and the result of ten minutes of her work that afternoon are two wrecked saloons, the pieces of which sold Monday night for souvenirs.

Mrs. Nation was assisted by Mrs. Julia Evans, Mrs. Lucy Wilbott and Mrs. Lydia Muntz of the Topeka W. C. T. U. With axes concealed under their clothes they entered John Burras saloon on Douglas avenue and did not leave a plate of glass in the place. In both cases liquors and cigars, as well as the plate-glass windows and doors, were broken. With lightning speed they ran to John Herrig's saloon and had everything in front of the room, including the plate-glass windows, broken when he appeared with a revolver, placed it at Mrs. Nation's head and said that he would blow out her brains if she did not desist. She yielded her pointed revolver and with her companions ran to the Cary hotel bar, where she made her first attack on the saloons of Wichita three weeks ago. There three policemen met her and she struck at Detective Sutton with a poker. He moved her aside and a young officer hit her in the face. A policeman struck the youth and knocked him down. The police then overpowered Mrs. Nation and her friends and took them to the city jail, on, followed by 2000 people. Mrs. Evans' little daughter pushed her way through the crowd, screaming and begging for the release of her mother, but the policemen were deaf to her entreaties.

Chief of Police Newton discharged the prisoners after they reached the jail and is heartily condemned by the citizens. Mrs. Evans' hand was badly cut by broken glass. After leaving the city building Mrs. Nation in the coolest manner began a street lecture to the crowd, who surrounded her in front of the building, saying she expected to begin saloon wrecking again at noon to-day, when her truce with the chief of police would expire.

"Men, this is the right arm of God, and I am destined to wreck every eye and ear that resides in this city," she cried. The women procured a wagon and rode through the streets in it, singing "Nearer My God, to Thee," and in 1844 she married to the Countess of the Grand Duchy of Russia; Helena Augusta Victoria, born May 25, 1846, and married July 9, 1862, to Prince Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein; Louise Caroline Alberta, born March 18, 1848, and married March 21, 1871, to John, marquis of Lorne; Arthur, duke of Connaught, born May 1, 1850, and married March 15, 1879, to the Princess Louise Margaret, daughter of the late Prince Frederick of Prussia; and the duke, duke of Albany, born April 7, 1852, and married April 27, 1872, to the Princess Helen, daughter of the late Prince George of Wales and who died March 28, 1881, and Beatrice Mary Victoria Fedora, who was born April 14, 1857, and married July 23, 1885, to Prince Henry Maurice of Battenberg.

The affair created intense excitement and it is estimated that 5000 persons of both sexes and women, viewed the wrecks.

The grand jury of Williamson county, Texas, returned eight-six criminal indictments.

With Extraneous Victims. Austin, Tex., Jan. 22.—Resolving the matter of the invitation extended to the business men of New York to come to Texas and investigate her resources and examine her laws as they related to the saloons, Gov. Sawyer said Saturday in response to a query if he had heard whether any of these men were connected with King City, Tex. "I am going to attend to that just as soon as I can find time to show them around the state."

Against Truists. Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 22.—In the state senate Senator King of Sharp county introduced a bill to bar from office any saloon keeper in this state any corporation that is a member of a pool trust or a corporation that is a member of any part of the world. BANK BURGLARIED.

Vault Was Shown Open and a Large Amount Taken.

Walnut Springs, Tex., Jan. 21.—The store and bank of J. A. Rushing & Co. at this place was entered and the vault and safe blown open Sunday morning and robbed of between $3000 and $4000, all the money on hand. But one nickel was found in the safe. The entrance was effected by forcing the front door. Three or four explosions were heard, but no one seemed to think anything of it, though several of the men were there between three and four o'clock in the morning. Dynamite and nitroglycerine evidently were the agents used, as beeswax and cotton, probably used to cover the door cracks, were found, also a piece of fuse about six inches in length, and an empty two-ounce bottle supposed to have contained nitroglycerine.

The vault is unharmed, but the safe door and the steel vault door are literally torn to shreds. While working on the safe door the vault doors were closed, as holes through the vault doors had to have been made by pieces of steel being blown entirely through them.

UNUSUAL SADNESS

OWING TO THE QUEEN'S CONDITION

It Was With the Greatest Difficulty that Her Attendants Managed to Keep Her Majesty Awake.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 21.—So far as her immediate safety was concerned, the queen's extreme weakness caused almost more alarm than the paralysis. Much difficulty had been experienced in administering nourishment, for she appeared quite unable to masticate. To this weakness was probably due the long spells of unconsciousness through which she has been passing, although it is almost impossible to distinguish these from the insidious encroachments of paralysis.

At Osborne, heard around with intense sympathy, began with touching scenes. Amid the bright sunlight, in marked contrast to the gloomy skies of Saturday, there drew curtains from the palace grounds a carriage to distinguish these from the insidious encroachments of paralysis.

CHICAGO THE CITY

Where the Next Livestock Convention Meets.

SPRINGER IS AGAIN THE PRESIDENT

The Association Transacted a Great Deal of Business of Prime Importance to Its Membership.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 19.—It was a great day for Chicago, and a big victory for Texas and the cattlemen. The fight for the next convention was simply fierce from start to finish, and while it appeared that the Windy city would win out, no one knew absolutely what the result would be until the roll was called. Even pending the call, some of the delegates changed, and others did not cast their votes at all before the bottom was reached. Leonard, Charles Baker and Skinner sat at the head of the table, and then the assembly of the Pacific Northwest association began to fall in line and it was all over, Chicago receiving 87 and Kansas 13.

Senator C. W. Young, who supported Omaha, moved, before the vote was announced, that the selection be made unanimous. The motion carried mightly, and the band played while Skinner and Leonard fell into each other's arms. These two representatives concede that Conner and Kenzie had a big hand in it, and there is no doubt that the leading position played part.

In addition, the sheepmen have concluded that they want to be on good terms with the Texas cattlemen. Mr. Kenzie met several of his Scotch friends who are leading sheep, including Mr. Milan of Idaho, Cameron of Washington and Scott of Oregon, and they stood together for Texas and Chicago. Wilder, secretary of the association, was elected to the chair, and a dozen signed speeches were made and Chicago had the best of them. C. J. Pitkin, secretary of the Shorthorn Breeders' association, spoke for Chicago, contending that it was a matter of business for the convention to go to that city, as it had been so many several times. "It's like the man," he said, "who killed his wife first and then rushed across the street in his female neighbor. It's business before pleasure," he yelled, and the convention laughed and cheered for some minutes.

Omaha charged that the Chicago fat stock show overhauled and swallowed up the convention.

The Chicago delegation promises the greatest event in its history of the livestock industry when the convention meets and the second international livestock exposition is held.

Springer was enthusiastically re-elected president. Charles Martin of Denver, who represented the Associated Press in that city, was elected vice president, and George J. Gooling of Colorado treasurer.

No deals of any importance were made, for the reason that the buyers from the northwest have not yet been little too early yet, and besides, they could not buy stuff above the quarantine line, and they did it was too high.

Forward to the Home.

Atlanta, Tex., Jan. 19.—About 12 o'clock Friday a fire was discovered by a neighbor of Mrs. M. C. Taylor, an old lady. The bill by Messrs. Hanger, Wayland and Sawyer, authorizing the International and Great Northern Railway company to absorb the Calvert, Waco and Brazos Valley, pending on third reading, was raised finally.

Ridling, a faithful servant of his people, a distinguished citizen of Texas, and a member of the legislature, representative of his people; therefore be it Resolved, By the house of representatives, the senate concurring, that in the death of Hon. W. R. Ridling, a worthy and noble citizen has gone, the house has lost an able member and Texas one of her patriots.

Resolved, That the committee on the death of this member, three from the senate and six from the house, be appointed to take charge of the body and accredit to it the place of final resting. Signed by Messrs. Evans, Mulkey, Stele, Wells of Grayson, Kennedy of Imberton, Boyd, Hemphill of Dallas, and C. C. Smith, Smith. Adopted by a rising vote.

Lord Napanofe death has been made for the reason that the buyers from the northwest have not yet been little too early yet, and besides, they could not buy stuff above the quarantine line, and they did it was too high.

Mr. Bryan decided to give the contract to the Western Newspaper Union, being influenced to a certain extent by the fact that this establishment is not only perfectly well equipped to handle the work, but also because of its reputation for honest and square dealing, and the further fact that it treats its employes with consideration and pays high wages.

SLAZED THE SHERIFF

By Hon. Mrs. E. A. and Nearly Filled the Apprehensions.

Whitida, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Nation caused a new sensation Monday night by slaying Sheriff Simon, and taking hold of his ears and giving him a rough handling generally. Mrs. Nation was at the union station in the act of waiting for a train to leave when Sheriff Simon called at her door, saying: "You are my prisoner, madam."

Mrs. Nation turned around and seeing Sheriff Simon gave him a violent slap across the face. She followed this up by taking hold of his ears with her two hands and wringing them viciously. The union station was filled with women, who began screaming and crying, and the sheriff, who is a very small man, struggled with his powerful antagonist. A policeman came to his rescue, and with the aid of some bystanders, they succeeded in picking up the woman in their arms and placing her in a cab, which was driven rapidly to the county jail. She resisted every effort to get into the private room for women, but Sheriff Simon put her in a cell in the jail.

At 10 o'clock Mrs. Without was arrested at her home without making any resistance. She was taken to the county jail, where she was also placed in a cell in the steel rotary next to that of Mrs. Nation. When Mrs. Without was arrested she was followed by a crowd of curious onlookers. She was arrested at her home, but owing to the condition of her wounded arm she was given the jailer's comfortable room.

Mrs. Without could not be found when the officers called at her home. It is stated that a complaint of insanity will be lodged against Mrs. Nation, and if that fails the man holding in insurance on the plate glass doors and windows will prosecute her. The constant stream of people going through the wrecked saloons shows no abatement. It is estimated 1000 women have seen the inside of a saloon for the first time in their lives.
